<sup>26</sup> Then he answered me, and said, if you be alive you shall see, and if you live <sup>z</sup> long, you shall marvel; for the world hastens fast to pass away. <sup>27</sup> For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: for this world is full of sadness and infirmities. <sup>28</sup> For the evil <sup>a</sup> whereof you asked me is sown, but the gathering thereof is not yet come. <sup>29</sup> If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, there can't come the field where the good is sown. <sup>30</sup> For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness has it brought forth to this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth until the <sup>b</sup> time of threshing come! <sup>31</sup> Ponder now by yourself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil seed has brought forth. <sup>32</sup> When the ears which are without number shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

<sup>34</sup> And he answered me, and said, You do not hasten more than the Most High: for your haste is <sup>d</sup> for your own self, but he that is above hastens on behalf of many. <sup>35</sup> Did not the souls of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long <sup>e</sup> are we here? when comes the fruit of the <sup>f</sup> threshing time of our reward? <sup>36</sup> And to them Jeremiel the archangel gave answer, and said, Even when the number is fulfilled of them that are like to you. For he has weighed the world in the balance; <sup>37</sup> and by measure has he measured the times, and by number has he numbered the seasons; and he shall not <sup>g</sup> move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

<sup>38</sup> Then answered I and said, O Lord that bear rule, yet even we all are full of impiety: <sup>39</sup> and for our sakes perhaps it is that the <sup>h</sup> threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth. <sup>40</sup> So he answered me, and said, Go your way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she has fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

And he said to me, in the grave the chambers of souls are like the womb: <sup>42</sup> for like as a woman that travails makes haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed to them from the beginning. <sup>43</sup> Then shall it be showed you concerning those things which you desire to see.

<sup>44</sup> Then answered I and said, if I have found favor in your sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, <sup>45</sup> show me this also, whether there be more to come than is past, or whether the more part is gone over us. <sup>46</sup> For what is gone I know, but what is for to come I know not.

<sup>47</sup> And he said to me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude to you.

<sup>48</sup> so I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. <sup>49</sup> After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

<sup>50</sup> Then said he to me, Consider with yourself; as the rain is more than the drops, and the fire is greater than the smoke, so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

<sup>51</sup> Then I prayed, and said, May I live, think you, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

<sup>52</sup> He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof you asked me, I may tell you of them in part: but as touching your life, I am not sent to show you; for I do not know it.

Sodomite sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but all shall hear the voice thereof.<sup>8</sup> There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be often sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters:<sup>9</sup> and salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber;<sup>10</sup> and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found: and unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth.<sup>11</sup> One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that does righteousness, gone through you? And it shall say, No.<sup>12</sup> And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain: they shall labor, but their ways shall not prosper.<sup>13</sup> To show you such tokens I have leave; and if you will pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, you shall hear yet greater things than these.

<sup>14</sup> Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted.<sup>15</sup> So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.<sup>16</sup> And in the second night it came to pass, that <sup>1</sup> Phaltiel the captain of the people came to me, saying, Where have you been? and why is your countenance sad?<sup>17</sup> or know you not that Israel is committed to you in the land of their captivity?<sup>18</sup> Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaves in the hands of cruel wolves.<sup>19</sup>

Then said I to him, Go your ways from me, and come not near me for seven days, and then shall you come to me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

<sup>20</sup> And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.<sup>21</sup> And after seven days, so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous to me again,<sup>22</sup> and my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to speak words before the Most High again,<sup>23</sup> and said, O Lord that bear rule, of all the woods of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, you have chosen you one vine:<sup>24</sup> and of all the lands of the world you have chosen you one <sup>m</sup> country: and of all the flowers of the world you have chosen you one lily:<sup>25</sup> and of all the depths of the sea you have filled you one river: and of all builded cities you have hallowed Sion to yourself:<sup>26</sup> and of all the fowls that are created you have named you one dove: and of all the cattle that are made you have provided you one sheep:<sup>27</sup> and among all the multitudes of peoples you have gotten you one people: and to this people, whom you loved, you gave a law that is approved of all.<sup>28</sup> And now, O Lord, why have you given this one people over to many, and <sup>n</sup> have dishonored the one root above others, and have scattered your only one among many?<sup>29</sup> And they which did gainsay your promises have trodden them down that believed your covenants.<sup>30</sup> If you do so much hate your people, they should be punished with your own hands.

<sup>31</sup> Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night before was sent to me,<sup>32</sup> and said to me, Hear me, and I will instruct you; hearken to me, and I shall tell you more.

<sup>33</sup> And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he to me, You are sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: love you that people better than he that made them?

<sup>34</sup> And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labor to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

<sup>35</sup> And he said to me, You can not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

<sup>36</sup> And he said to me, Number me them that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, <sup>37</sup> open me the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or show me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to you the travail that you asked to see.

<sup>38</sup> And I said, O Lord that bear rule, who may know these things, but he that has not his dwelling with men? <sup>39</sup> As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof you asked me?

<sup>40</sup> Then said he to me, Like as you can do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so can you not find out my judgement, or the end of the love that I have promised to my people.

<sup>41</sup> And I said, But, behold, O Lord, you have made the promise to them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?

<sup>42</sup> And he said to me, I will liken my judgement to a ring: like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

<sup>43</sup> So I answered and said, Coudest you not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; that you might show your judgment the sooner?

<sup>44</sup> Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

<sup>45</sup> And I said, How have you said to your servant, that <sup>o</sup> you will surely make alive at once the creature that you have created? <sup>p</sup> If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

<sup>46</sup> And he said to me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say to her, If you bring forth ten children, why do you it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

<sup>47</sup> And I said, she can't: but must do it by distance of time.

<sup>48</sup> Then said he to me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. <sup>49</sup> For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

<sup>50</sup> And I asked, and said, Seeing you have now showed me the way, I will speak before you: Is our mother, of whom you have told me, still young? or does she now draw near to age?

<sup>51</sup> He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that bears children, and she shall tell you. <sup>52</sup> Say to her, wherefore are not they whom you have now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? <sup>53</sup> And she also shall answer you, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb fails, are otherwise. <sup>54</sup> Consider therefore you also, how that you<sup>33</sup> are less of stature than those that were before you. <sup>55</sup> And so are they that come after you less than you<sup>33</sup>, as born of the creature which now begins to be old, and is past the strength of youth.

<sup>1</sup> And he said to me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, <sup>2</sup> before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid, <sup>3</sup> before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before the innumerable hosts of angels were gathered together, <sup>4</sup> or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the footstool of Sion <sup>q</sup> was established, <sup>5</sup> and ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure: <sup>6</sup> then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

<sup>7</sup> Then answered I and said, what shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that follows?

<sup>11</sup> I answered then and said, O Lord that bear rule, If I have found favor in your sight, <sup>12</sup> I beseech you, show your servant the end of your tokens, whereof you showed me part the last night.

<sup>13</sup> So he answered and said to me, Stand up upon your feet, and you shall hear a mighty sounding voice; <sup>14</sup> and if the place whereon you stand be greatly moved, <sup>15</sup> when it speaks be you not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth shall understand, <sup>16</sup> that the speech is of them: they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

<sup>17</sup> And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, there was a voice that spoke, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters. <sup>18</sup> And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw near to visit them that dwell upon the earth,

<sup>19</sup> and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, <sup>20</sup> and when the seal shall be set upon the world that is to pass away, then will I show these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: <sup>21</sup> and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and they shall live, and dance. <sup>22</sup> And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: <sup>23</sup> and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man hears, they shall be suddenly afraid. <sup>24</sup> At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not run. <sup>25</sup> And it shall be that whoever remains after all these things that I have told you of, he shall be saved, and shall see my salvation, and the end of my world. <sup>26</sup> And they shall see the men that have been taken up, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. <sup>27</sup> For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; <sup>28</sup> and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which has been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

night. <sup>31</sup> If therefore you will pray yet again, and fast seven days more, I shall yet <sup>w</sup> tell you greater things than these. <sup>32</sup> For your voice has surely been heard before the Most High: for the Mighty has seen your righteous dealing, he has seen aforetime also your chastity, which you have had ever since your youth. <sup>33</sup> And therefore has he sent me to show you all these things, and to say to you, Be of good comfort, and fear not. <sup>34</sup> And be not hasty in regard of the former times, to think vain things, that you may not hasten in the latter times.

<sup>35</sup> And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. <sup>36</sup> And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High. <sup>37</sup> For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. <sup>38</sup> And I said, O Lord, of a truth you spoke at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and said thus; Let heaven and earth be made; and your word perfected the work. <sup>39</sup> And then was the spirit hovering, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet <sup>x</sup> . <sup>40</sup> Then command you a ray of light to be brought forth of your treasures, that then your works might appear. <sup>41</sup> Upon the second day again you made the spirit of the firmament and commanded it to part asunder, and to make a division between the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath. <sup>42</sup> Upon the third day you did command that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth: six parts did you dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might serve before you. <sup>43</sup> For as soom as your word went forth the work was done. <sup>44</sup> For immediately there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and flowers of inimitable color, and odors of most exquisite smell: and this was done the third day. <sup>45</sup> Upon the fourth day you commanded that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their order: <sup>46</sup> and gave them a charge to do service to man, that was to be made. <sup>47</sup> Upon the fifth day you said to the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass, <sup>48</sup> that the dumb water and without life brought forth living things as it was bidden, that the peoples might therefore praise your wondrous works. <sup>49</sup> Then did you preserve two living creatures, the one you calledst Behemoth, and the other you calledst Leviathan: <sup>50</sup> and you did separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. <sup>51</sup> To Behemoth you gave one part, which was dried up on the third day, that he should dwell in the same, wherein are a thousand hills: <sup>52</sup> but to Leviathan you gave the seventh part, namely, the moist; and you have kept them to be devoured of whom you will, and when. <sup>53</sup> But upon the sixth day you gave commandment to the earth, that it should bring forth before you cattle, beasts, and creeping things: <sup>54</sup> and over these Adam, whom you ordain lord over all the works that you have made: of him come

we all, the people whom you have chosen. <sup>55</sup> All this have I spoken before you, O Lord, because you have said that for our sakes you made <sup>y</sup> this world. <sup>56</sup> As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, you have said that they are nothing, and are like to spittle: and you have likened the abundance of them to a drop that falls from a vessel. <sup>57</sup> And now, O Lord, behold these nations, which are reputed as nothing, be lords over us, and devour us. <sup>58</sup> But we your people, whom you have called your firstborn, your only begotten, and your fervent lover, are given into their hands. <sup>59</sup> If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? How long shall this endure?

7

<sup>1</sup> And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent to me the angel which had been sent to me the nights before: <sup>2</sup> and he said to me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell you. <sup>3</sup> And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then he said to me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be <sup>z</sup> broad and vast. <sup>4</sup> But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; <sup>5</sup> whoso then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad? <sup>6</sup> Another thing also: There is a city builded and set in a plain country, and full of all good things; <sup>7</sup> but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, having a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water: <sup>8</sup> and there is one only path between them

both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once. <sup>9</sup> If this city now be given to a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger before him, how shall he receive his inheritance? <sup>10</sup> And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he to me, Even so also is Israel's portion. <sup>11</sup> Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done. <sup>12</sup> Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and charged with great toils. <sup>13</sup> For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth fruit of immortality. <sup>14</sup> If then they that live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore why you disquiet yourself, seeing you are but a corruptible man? and why are you moved, whereas you are but mortal? <sup>16</sup> and why have you not considered in your mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? <sup>17</sup> Then answered I and said, O Lord that bear rule, behold, you have ordained in your law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. <sup>18</sup> The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but they that have done wickedly <sup>a</sup> have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. <sup>19</sup> And he said to me, <sup>b</sup> You are not a judge above God, neither have you understanding above the Most High. <sup>20</sup> Yes, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which is set before them be despised. <sup>21</sup> For God

straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. <sup>22</sup> Nevertheless they were not obedient to him; but spoke against him, and imagined for themselves vain things; <sup>23</sup> and framed cunning devices of wickedness; and said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways: <sup>24</sup> but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works. <sup>25</sup> Therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. <sup>26</sup> For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, when these tokens, of which I told you before, shall come to pass, that the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth. <sup>27</sup> And whoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders. <sup>28</sup> For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred years. <sup>29</sup> After these years shall my son Christ die of them that , and all that have the breath of <sup>c</sup> life. <sup>30</sup> And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man shall remain. <sup>31</sup> And after seven days the world, that yet awakens not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. <sup>32</sup> And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the <sup>d</sup> secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed to them. <sup>33</sup> And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement <sup>e</sup>, and compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering shall be withdrawn: <sup>34</sup> but judgement only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong: <sup>35</sup> and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be showed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. <sup>f</sup><sup>36</sup> And the <sup>g</sup> pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of <sup>h</sup> shall be showed, and over against it the paradise of delight. <sup>37</sup> And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See you<sup>38</sup> and understand whom you<sup>39</sup> have denied, or whom you<sup>40</sup> have not served, or whose commandments you<sup>41</sup> have despised. <sup>38</sup> Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. Thus <sup>i</sup> shall he speak to them in the day of judgement: <sup>39</sup> This is a day that has neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, <sup>40</sup> neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor air, neither darkness, nor evening, nor morning, <sup>41</sup> neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor <sup>j</sup> winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor hail, nor rain, nor dew, <sup>42</sup> neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, save only the splendor of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them: <sup>43</sup> for it shall endure as it were a week of years. <sup>44</sup> This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof; but to you only have I showed these things.

<sup>45</sup> And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: blessed are they that be now alive and keep the statutes ordained of you. <sup>46</sup> But as touching them for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? for who is there of them that be alive that has not sinned, and who of the sons of men that has not transgressed your covenant? <sup>47</sup> And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments to many. <sup>48</sup> For an evil heart has grown up in us, which has led us astray from these statutes, and has brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, has showed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well near all that have been created.

<sup>49</sup> And he answered me, and said, Hearken to me, and I will instruct you; and I will admonish you yet again: <sup>50</sup> for this cause the Most High has not made one world, but two. <sup>51</sup> For whereas you have said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer thereto. <sup>52</sup> If you has choice stones exceeding few, <sup>k</sup> will you set for you over against them according to their number things of lead and clay?

<sup>54</sup> And he said to me, Not only this, but ask the earth, and she shall tell you; entreat her, and she shall declare to you. <sup>55</sup> For you shall say to her, You bring forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: <sup>56</sup> but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. <sup>57</sup> Judge you therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

<sup>59</sup> And he answered me, and said, <sup>l</sup> Weigh within yourself the things that you have thought, for he that has what is hard to get rejoices over him that has what is plentiful. <sup>60</sup> So also is the <sup>m</sup> judgement which I have promised: for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as these are they that have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom my name is now named. <sup>61</sup> And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for these are they that are now like to vapor, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

<sup>62</sup> And I answered and said, O you earth, wherefore have you brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust, like as all other created things? <sup>63</sup> For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might not have been made therefrom. <sup>64</sup> But now the mind grows with us, and by reason of this we are tormented, because we perish and know it. <sup>65</sup> Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the four-footed beasts and the cattle rejoice. <sup>66</sup> For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised to them after death. <sup>67</sup> For what does it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but yet be afflicted with torment? <sup>68</sup> For all that are born are <sup>n</sup> defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: <sup>69</sup> and if after death we were not to come into judgement, perhaps it had been better for us.

<sup>70</sup> And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first prepared the Judgement and the things that pertain to the judgement. <sup>71</sup> And now understand from your own words, for you have said that the mind grows with us. <sup>72</sup> They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, that having understanding they have wrought iniquity, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. <sup>73</sup> What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? <sup>74</sup> For how great a time has the Most High been longsuffering with them that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he has foreordained!

<sup>75</sup> And I answered and said, if I have found grace in your sight, O Lord, show this also to your servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us gives up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, in which you shall renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

<sup>76</sup> And he answered me, and said, I will show you this also; but join not yourself with them that are scorers, nor number yourself with them that are tormented. <sup>77</sup> For you have a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be showed you until the last times. <sup>78</sup> For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence has gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaves the body to return again to him who gave it, it adores the glory of the Most

High first of all. <sup>79</sup> And if it be one of those that have been scorers and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that fear <sup>o</sup> God, <sup>80</sup> these spirits shall not enter into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. <sup>81</sup> The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. <sup>82</sup> The second way, because they can't now make a good returning that they may live. <sup>83</sup> The third way, they shall see the reward laid up for them that have believed the covenants of the Most High. <sup>84</sup> The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. <sup>85</sup> The fifth way, they shall see the dwelling places of the others guarded by angels, with great quietness. <sup>86</sup> The sixth way, they shall see <sup>p</sup> how forthwith some of them shall pass into torment. <sup>87</sup> The seventh way, which is <sup>q</sup> more grievous than all the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with <sup>r</sup> shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned while living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. <sup>88</sup> Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible vessel. <sup>89</sup> In the time <sup>s</sup> that they lived therein they painfully served the Most High, and were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of the lawgiver perfectly. <sup>90</sup> Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: <sup>91</sup> First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who takes them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. <sup>92</sup> The first order, because they have striven with great labor to overcome the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. <sup>93</sup> The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and the punishment that awaits them. <sup>94</sup> The third order, they see the witness which he that fashioned them bears concerning them, that while they lived they kept the law which was given them in trust. <sup>95</sup> The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaits them in the last days. <sup>96</sup> The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover the straitness and the <sup>t</sup> painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality. <sup>97</sup> The sixth order, when it is showed to them how their face shall shine as the sun, and how they shall be made like to the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. <sup>98</sup> The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom they shall receive their reward in glory. <sup>99</sup> This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth <sup>u</sup> is announcer to them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. <sup>100</sup> And I answered and said, shall time therefore be given to the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof you have spoken to me? <sup>101</sup> And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof you have been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together in their habitations. <sup>102</sup> And I answered and said, if I have found favor in your sight, show further to me your servant whether in the day of judgment the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to entreat the Most High for them, <sup>103</sup> whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or <sup>v</sup> friends for them that are most dear. <sup>104</sup> And he answered me, and said, Since you have found favor in my sight, I will show you this also: The day of judgement is <sup>w</sup> a day of decision, and displays to all the seal of truth; even as now a father sends not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a <sup>x</sup> friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may <sup>y</sup> be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: <sup>105</sup> so never shall anyone pray for another <sup>z</sup> in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, for then shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

Joshua after him for Israel in the days of <sup>a</sup> Achar: <sup>108</sup> and Samuel <sup>b</sup> in the days of Saul; and David for the plague: and Solomon for them that should worship in the sanctuary: <sup>109</sup> and Elijah for those that received rain; and for the dead, that he might live: <sup>110</sup> and Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib: and many for many? <sup>111</sup> If therefore now, when corruption is grown up, and unrighteousness increased, the righteous have prayed for the ungodly, wherefore shall it not be so then also?

<sup>116</sup> I answered then and said, this is my first and last saying, that it had been better that the earth had not given you Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. <sup>117</sup> For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? <sup>118</sup> O you Adam, what have you done? For though it was you that sinned, the evil is not fallen on you alone, but upon all of us that come of you.

<sup>119</sup> For what profit is it to us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death? <sup>120</sup> And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? <sup>121</sup> And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? <sup>122</sup> And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? <sup>123</sup> And that there shall be showed a paradise, whose fruit endures without decay, wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not enter into it, <sup>124</sup> for we have walked in unpleasant places? <sup>125</sup> And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness? <sup>126</sup> For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

<sup>127</sup> Then he answered and said, This is the <sup>e</sup> condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; <sup>128</sup> that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as you have said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. <sup>129</sup> For this is the way whereof Moses spoke to the people while he lived, saying, Choose you life, that you may live. <sup>130</sup> Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken to them; <sup>131</sup> so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

merciful, in that he has mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world; <sup>133</sup> and compassionate, in that he has compassion upon those that turn to his law; <sup>134</sup> and longsuffering, for that he long suffers those that have sinned, as his creatures; <sup>135</sup> and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; <sup>136</sup> and of great mercy, for that he multiplies more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come; <sup>137</sup> ( for if he multiplied not his mercies, the world would not continue with them that dwell therein;) <sup>138</sup> and one that forgives, for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain living; <sup>139</sup> and a judge, for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and blot out the multitude of <sup>f</sup> offences, <sup>140</sup> there would perhaps be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

<sup>1</sup> And he answered me, and said, The Most High has made this world for many, but the world to come for few. <sup>2</sup> I will tell you now a similitude, Esdras; As when you asks the earth, it shall say to you, that it gives very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold comes of: even so is the course of the present world. <sup>3</sup> There be many created, but few shall be saved.

<sup>4</sup> And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. <sup>5</sup> For you <sup>g</sup> are come here without your will, and depart when you would not: for there is given you

no longer space than only to live a short time. <sup>6</sup> O Lord, that are over us, suffer your servant, that we may pray before you, and give us seed to our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who bears the <sup>h</sup> likeness of a man. <sup>7</sup> For you are alone, and we all one workmanship of your hands, like as you have said. <sup>8</sup> Forasmuch as you quicken the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and give it members, your creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months does your workmanship endure your creature which is created in her. <sup>9</sup> But that which keeps and that which is kept shall both be kept <sup>i</sup> by your keeping: and when the womb gives up again that which has grown in it, <sup>10</sup> you have commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, <sup>11</sup> that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards you shall order it in your mercy. <sup>12</sup> Yes, you have brought it up in your righteousness, and nurtured it in your law, and corrected it with your judgement. <sup>13</sup> And you shall mortify it as your creature, and quicken it as your work. <sup>14</sup> If therefore you shall <sup>j</sup> lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labor was fashioned by your commandment, to what purpose was he made? <sup>15</sup> Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, you know best; but touching your people will I speak, for whose sake I am sorry; <sup>16</sup> and for your inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; <sup>17</sup> therefore will I begin to pray before you for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; <sup>18</sup> but I have heard the swiftness of the judgment which is to come. <sup>19</sup> Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before you.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up. And he said,

clearly taught your law. <sup>30</sup> Take you no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that have always put their trust in your glory. <sup>31</sup> For we and our fathers have <sup>n</sup> passed our lives in <sup>o</sup> ways that bring death: but you because of us sinners <sup>p</sup> are called merciful. <sup>32</sup> For if you have a desire to have mercy upon us, then shall you be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of righteousness. <sup>33</sup> For the just, which have many good works laid up with you, shall for their own deeds receive reward. <sup>34</sup> For what is man, that you should take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that you should be so bitter toward it? <sup>35</sup> For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he has dealt wickedly; and among them <sup>q</sup> that have lived there is none which have not done amiss. <sup>36</sup> For in this, O Lord, your righteousness and your goodness shall be declared, if you be merciful to them which have no store of good works.

<sup>37</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Some things have you spoken aright, and according to your words so shall it come to pass. <sup>38</sup> For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction; <sup>39</sup> but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have. <sup>40</sup> Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be. <sup>41</sup> For as the husbandman sows much seed upon the ground, and plants many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall <sup>r</sup> come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world shall not all be saved.

<sup>42</sup> I answered then and said, if I have found favor, let me speak before you. <sup>43</sup> Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it has not received your rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, <sup>s</sup> so perishes; <sup>44</sup> likewise man, which is formed with your hands, and is called your own image, because he is made like to you, for whose sake you have formed all things, even him have you made like to the husbandman's seed. <sup>45</sup> Be not angry with us, but spare your people, and have mercy upon your inheritance; for you have mercy upon your own creation.

<sup>46</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for them that now be, and things to come for such as shall be hereafter. <sup>47</sup> For you come far short that you should be able to love my creature more than I. But you have brought yourself full near to the unrighteous. Let this never be. <sup>48</sup> Yet in this shall you be admirable to the Most High; <sup>49</sup> in that you have humbled yourself, as it becomes you, and have not judged yourself worthy to be among the righteous, so as to be much glorified. <sup>50</sup> For many grievous miseries shall befall them that in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride. <sup>51</sup> But understand you for yourself, and of such as be like you seek out the glory. <sup>52</sup> For to you is paradise opened, the tree of life planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is <sup>t</sup> allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom being perfect beforehand.<sup>53</sup> The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness is done away from you, and <sup>u</sup> [death] is hidden; hell and corruption are fled into forgetfulness:<sup>54</sup> sorrows are passed away, and in the end it showed the treasure of immortality.<sup>55</sup> Therefore ask you no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.<sup>56</sup> For when they had received liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.<sup>57</sup> Moreover they have trodden down his righteous,<sup>58</sup> and said in their heart, that there is no God; yes, and that knowing they must die.<sup>59</sup> For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain which are prepared shall receive them: for the Most High willed not that men should come to nothing:<sup>60</sup> but they which be created have themselves defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful to him which prepared life for them.<sup>61</sup> And therefore is my judgement now at hand,<sup>62</sup> which I have not showed to all men, but to you, and a few like you.

Then answered I and said,<sup>63</sup> Behold, O Lord, now have you showed me the multitude of the wonders, which you will do in the last times: but at what time, you have not showed me.

9

<sup>1</sup> And he answered me, and said, Measure you diligently within yourself: and when you see that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told you beforehand,<sup>2</sup> then shall you understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High will visit

the world which was made by him.<sup>3</sup> And when there shall be seen in the world earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, devices of nations, wavering of leaders, disquietude of princes,<sup>4</sup> then shall you understand, that the Most High spoke of these things from the days that were aforetime from the beginning.<sup>5</sup> For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning <sup>v</sup> is evident, and the end manifest;<sup>6</sup> so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in effects and signs.<sup>7</sup> And everyone that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, or by faith, whereby he has believed,<sup>8</sup> shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders, which I have sanctified for me from the beginning.<sup>9</sup> Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments.<sup>10</sup> For as many as in their life have received benefits, and yet have not known me;<sup>11</sup> and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and, when as yet place of repentance was open to them, understood not, but despised <sup>w</sup> it;<sup>12</sup> the same must know <sup>x</sup> it after death by torment.<sup>13</sup> And therefore be you no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, <sup>y</sup> they whose the world is, and for whom the world was created.

<sup>14</sup> And I answered and said,<sup>15</sup> I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that there be more of them which perish, than of the which will be saved: <sup>16</sup> like as a wave is greater than a drop.

<sup>17</sup> And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so also the seed; and as the flowers be, such are the colors also; and such as the work is, such also is the <sup>z</sup> judgement thereon; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing floor also. For there was a time in the world, <sup>18</sup> even then when I was preparing for them that now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spoke against me, <sup>19</sup> for <sup>a</sup> there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both <sup>b</sup> with a table that fails not, and a law which is unsearchable, are corrupted in their manners. <sup>20</sup> So I considered my world, and, behold, it was destroyed, and my earth, and, behold, it was in peril, because of the devices that were come into it. <sup>21</sup> And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and a plant out of <sup>c</sup> a great forest. <sup>22</sup> Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labor have I made them perfect. <sup>23</sup> Nevertheless if you will cease yet seven days more, (howbeit you shall not fast in them, <sup>24</sup> but shall go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only of the flowers of the field; and you shall taste no flesh, and shall drink no wine, but shall eat flowers only;) <sup>25</sup> and pray to the Most High continually, then will I come and talk with you.

flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me. <sup>27</sup> And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, and my heart was vexed again, like as before: <sup>28</sup> and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before the Lord Most High, and said, <sup>29</sup> O Lord, you did show yourself among us, to our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, where no man treadeth and that bears no fruit; <sup>30</sup> and you did say, Hear me, you Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. <sup>31</sup> For, behold, I sowed my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and you<sup>33</sup> shall be glorified in it for ever. <sup>32</sup> But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could it, for it was your; <sup>33</sup> yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. <sup>34</sup> And, behold, it is a custom, that when the ground has received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it comes to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, <sup>35</sup> or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it has not happened so. <sup>36</sup> For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. <sup>37</sup> Notwithstanding the law perishes not, but remains in its honor.

<sup>38</sup> And when I spoke these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and her clothes were tore, and she had ashes upon her head. <sup>39</sup> Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, and turned me to her, <sup>40</sup> and said to her, Why do you weep? and why are you grieved in your mind?

<sup>41</sup> And she said to me, Let me alone, my Lord, that I may bewail myself, and add to my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

<sup>42</sup> And I said to her, What aileth you? Tell me. <sup>43</sup> She said to me, I your servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years. <sup>44</sup> And every hour and every day these thirty years did I make my prayer to the Most High day and night. <sup>45</sup> And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me your handmaid, and looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and all my <sup>e</sup> neighbors: and we gave great honor to the Mighty. <sup>46</sup> And I nourished him with great travail. <sup>47</sup> So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, I made him a feast day.

<sup>1</sup> And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. <sup>2</sup> Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my <sup>f</sup> neighbors rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet to the second day at night. <sup>3</sup> And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as you see. <sup>4</sup> And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

<sup>5</sup> Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and answered her in anger, and said, <sup>6</sup> You foolish woman above all other, see you not our mourning, and what has happened to us? <sup>7</sup> how that Sion the mother of us all is full of sorrow, and much humbled. <sup>8</sup> <sup>g</sup> It is right now to mourn very sore, seeing we all mourn, and to be sorrowful, seeing we are all in sorrow, but you sorrowest for one son. <sup>9</sup> For ask the earth, and she shall tell you, that it is she which ought to mourn for so many that grow upon her. <sup>10</sup> For out of her all had their beginnings, and others shall come; and, behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them is utterly rooted out. <sup>11</sup> Who then should make more mourning, <sup>h</sup> she, that has lost so great a multitude, or you, which are grieved but for one? <sup>12</sup> but if you say to me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: <sup>13</sup> but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: <sup>14</sup> then say I to you, Like as you have brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also has given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning to him that made her. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore keep your sorrow to yourself, and bear with a good courage the adversities which have befallen you. <sup>16</sup> For if you shall acknowledge the decree of God to be just, you shall both receive your son in time, and shall be praised among women. <sup>17</sup> Go your way then into the city to your husband.

<sup>18</sup> And she said to me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

<sup>19</sup> So I proceeded to speak further to her, and said, <sup>20</sup> Do not so, but suffer yourself to be prevailed on by reason of the adversities of Sion; and be comforted by reason of the sorrow of Jerusalem. <sup>21</sup> For you see that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed; <sup>22</sup> our lute is brought low, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end; the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are despitefully treated, our priests are burned, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, our young men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weak; <sup>23</sup> and, what is more than all, the seal of Sion - for she has now lost the seal of her honor, and is delivered into the hands of them that hate us. <sup>24</sup> You therefore shake off your great heaviness, and put away from you the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful to you again, and the Most High may give you rest, even ease from your travails.

earth shook at the noise. <sup>27</sup> And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared to me no more, but there was a city builded, and a place showed itself from large foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, <sup>28</sup> Where is Uriel the angel, who came to me at the first? for he has caused me to fall into this great trance, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. <sup>29</sup> And as I was speaking these words, behold, the angel who had come to me at the first came to me, and he looked upon me: <sup>30</sup> and, behold, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said to me, <sup>31</sup> What aileth you? and why are you so disquieted? and why is your understanding troubled, and the thoughts of your heart? <sup>32</sup> And I said, Because you have forsaken me: yet I did according to your words, and went into the field, and, behold, I have seen, and yet see, that which I am not able to express. <sup>33</sup> And he said to me, Stand up like a man, and I will advise you. <sup>34</sup> Then said I, Speak on, my Lord; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope. <sup>35</sup> For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know. <sup>36</sup> Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream? <sup>37</sup> Now therefore I beseech you to show your servant concerning this trance.

<sup>38</sup> And he answered me, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform you, and tell you concerning the things whereof you are afraid: For the Most High has revealed many secret things to you. <sup>39</sup> He has seen that your way is right: for that you sorrowest continually for your people, and make great lamentation for Sion. <sup>40</sup> This therefore is the meaning of the vision. <sup>41</sup> The woman which appeared to you a little while ago, whom you saw mourning, and began to comfort her: <sup>42</sup> but now see you the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared to you a city in building: <sup>43</sup> and whereas she told you of the death of her son, this is the solution: <sup>44</sup> This woman, whom you saw, is <sup>j</sup> Sion, <sup>k</sup> whom you now see as a city builded; <sup>45</sup> and whereas she said to you, that she has been thirty years barren, it is, because there were three <sup>l</sup> thousand years in the world wherein there was no offering as yet offered in her. <sup>46</sup> And it came to pass after three <sup>m</sup> thousand years that Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings: then it was that the barren bare a son. <sup>47</sup> And whereas she told you that she nourished him with travail: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> And whereas she said to you, My son coming into his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. <sup>49</sup> And, behold, you saw her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and you began to comfort her for what has befallen her; <sup>n</sup> these were the things to be opened to you. <sup>50</sup> For now the Most High, seeing that you are grieved unfeignedly, and suffer from your whole heart for her, has showed you the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty: <sup>51</sup> and therefore I bade you remain in the field where no house was builded: <sup>52</sup> for I knew that the Most High would show this to you. <sup>53</sup> Therefore I commanded you to come into the field, where no foundation of any building was. <sup>54</sup> For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be showed, the work of no man's building could stand. <sup>55</sup> Therefore fear you not, nor let your heart be affrighted, but go your way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as your eyes be able to see: <sup>56</sup> and then shall you hear as much as your ears may comprehend. <sup>57</sup> For you are blessed above many, and with the Most High are called by name, like as but few. <sup>58</sup> But to-morrow at night you shall remain here; <sup>59</sup> and so shall the Most High show you those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do to them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

and no man spoke against her, no, not one creature upon earth. <sup>7</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her wings, saying, <sup>8</sup> Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course: <sup>9</sup> but let the heads be preserved for the last. <sup>10</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body. <sup>11</sup> And I numbered <sup>p</sup> her wings that were over against the other, and, behold, there were eight of them. <sup>12</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, on the right side there arose one wing, and reigned over all the earth; <sup>13</sup> and so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and it appeared not, so that the place thereof appeared no more: and the next following rose up, and reigned, and it bare rule a great time; <sup>14</sup> and it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, so that it appeared no more, like as the first. <sup>15</sup> And, behold, there came a voice to it, and said, <sup>16</sup> Hear you that have borne rule over the earth all this time: this I proclaim to you, before you shall appear no more, <sup>17</sup> There shall none after you attain to your time, neither to the half thereof. <sup>18</sup> Then arose the third, and had the rule as the others before, and it also appeared no more. <sup>19</sup> So went it with all the wings one after another, as that every one bare rule, and then appeared no more. <sup>20</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, in process of time the <sup>q</sup> wings that followed were set up upon the <sup>r</sup> right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more: <sup>21</sup> some also of them were set up, but ruled not. <sup>22</sup> After this I [*]saw, and, behold, the twelve wings appeared no more, nor two of the little wings: <sup>23</sup> and there was no more left upon the eagle's body, but the three heads that rested, and six little wings. <sup>24</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, two little wings divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: but four remained in their place. <sup>25</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, these <sup>s</sup> under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. <sup>26</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more. <sup>27</sup> A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. <sup>28</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: <sup>29</sup> and while they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads. <sup>30</sup> And I [*]saw how that it joined the two other heads with it. <sup>31</sup> And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two <sup>t</sup> under wings that thought to have reigned. <sup>32</sup> But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. <sup>33</sup> And after this I [*]saw, and, behold, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. <sup>34</sup> But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. <sup>35</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, the

<sup>36</sup> Then I heard a voice, which said to me, Look before you, and consider the thing that you see. <sup>37</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, as it were a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice to the eagle, and spoke, saying, <sup>38</sup> Hear you, I will talk with you, and the Most High shall say to you, <sup>39</sup> Are not you it that remain of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through them? <sup>40</sup> And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth with grievous oppression; and so long time lived he upon the earth with deceit. <sup>41</sup> And you have judged the earth, but not with truth. <sup>42</sup> For you have afflicted the meek, you have hurt the peaceful, you have hated them that speak truth, you have loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and cast down the walls of such as did you no harm. <sup>43</sup> Therefore is your insolent dealing come up to the Most High, and your pride to the Mighty. <sup>44</sup> The Most High also has looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. <sup>45</sup> And therefore appear no more, you eagle, nor your horrible wings, nor your evil little wings, nor your cruel heads, nor your hurtful talons, nor all your vain body: <sup>46</sup> that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from your violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, whiles the lion spoke these words to the eagle, I [*]saw, <sup>2</sup> and, behold, the head that remained appeared no more, and <sup>u</sup> the two wings which went over to it arose and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. <sup>3</sup> And I [*]saw, and, behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burned, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said to my spirit, <sup>4</sup> Behold, this have you done to me, in that you search out the ways of the Most High. <sup>5</sup> Behold, I am yet weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night. <sup>6</sup> Therefore will I now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me to the end. <sup>7</sup> And I said, O Lord that bear rule, if I have found favor in your sight, and if I am justified with you above many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before your face; <sup>8</sup> strengthen me then, and show me your servant the interpretation and plain meaning of this fearful vision, that you may perfectly comfort my soul. <sup>9</sup> For you have judged me worthy to show me the end of time and the last times.

<sup>11</sup> The eagle, whom you saw come up from the sea, is the fourth kingdom which appeared in vision to your brother Daniel. <sup>12</sup> But it was not expounded to him, as I now expound it to you or have expounded it. <sup>13</sup> Behold, the days come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. <sup>14</sup> In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another: <sup>15</sup> whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have a longer time than any of the twelve. <sup>16</sup> This is the interpretation of the twelve wings, which you saw. <sup>17</sup> And whereas you heard a voice which spoke, not going out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: <sup>18</sup> That <sup>v</sup> after the time of that kingdom there shall arise no small contentions, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to its first estate. <sup>19</sup> And whereas you saw the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: <sup>20</sup> That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. <sup>21</sup> And two of them shall perish, when the middle time approacheth: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: but two shall be kept to the end. <sup>22</sup> And whereas you saw three heads resting, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup> In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three <sup>w</sup> kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, <sup>24</sup> and over those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. <sup>25</sup> For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. <sup>26</sup> And whereas you saw that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. <sup>27</sup> But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. <sup>28</sup> For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. <sup>29</sup> And whereas you saw two under wings passing <sup>x</sup> over to the head that is on the right side, <sup>30</sup> this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High has kept to his end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as you saw. <sup>31</sup> And the lion, whom you saw rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words which you have heard; <sup>32</sup> this is the anointed one, whom the Most High has kept to the end <sup>y</sup> [of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] to them and reprove them for their wickedness and unrighteousness, and shall <sup>z</sup> heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. <sup>33</sup> For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he has reproved them, he shall destroy them. <sup>34</sup> For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken to you from the beginning. <sup>35</sup> This is the dream that you saw, and this is the interpretation thereof: <sup>36</sup> and you only have been meet to know the secret of the Most High. <sup>37</sup> Therefore write all these things that you have seen in a book, and put them in a secret place: <sup>38</sup> and you shall teach them to the wise of your people, whose hearts you know are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. <sup>39</sup> But wait you here yourself yet seven days more, that there may be showed to you whatever it pleases the Most High to show you. And he departed from me.

<sup>40</sup> And it came to pass, when all the people <sup>a</sup> saw that the seven days were past, and I had not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least to the greatest, and came to me, and spoke to me, saying, <sup>41</sup> What have we offended you? and what evil have we done against you, that you have utterly forsaken us, and sit in this place? <sup>42</sup> For of all the prophets you only are left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a lamp in a dark place, and as a haven for a ship saved from the tempest. <sup>43</sup> Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? <sup>44</sup> If you shall forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed in the burning of Sion! <sup>45</sup> For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, <sup>46</sup> Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, you house of Jacob: <sup>47</sup> for the Most High has you in remembrance, and the Mighty has not forgotten you <sup>b</sup> for ever. <sup>48</sup> As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary. <sup>49</sup> And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days will I come to you. <sup>50</sup> So the people went their way into the city, like as I said to them: <sup>51</sup> but I sat in the field seven days, as the angel commanded me; and in those days I did eat

great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was amazed. <sup>12</sup> Afterward I [*]saw the same man come down from the mountain, and call to him another multitude which was peaceful. <sup>13</sup> And there came <sup>g</sup> much people to him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed to the Most High, and said, <sup>14</sup> You have showed your servant these wonders from the beginning, and have counted me worthy that you should receive my prayer: <sup>15</sup> and now show me moreover the interpretation of this dream. <sup>16</sup> For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe to them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe to them that are not left! <sup>17</sup> for they that were not left shall be in heaviness, <sup>18</sup> understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but not attaining to them. <sup>19</sup> But woe to them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare. <sup>20</sup> Yet is it <sup>h</sup> better for one to be in peril and to come into <sup>i</sup> these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that <sup>j</sup> shall happen in the last days.

And he answered to me, and said, <sup>21</sup> The interpretation of the vision shall I tell you, and I will also open to you the things whereof you have made mention. <sup>22</sup>

Whereas you have spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup> He that shall <sup>k</sup> endure the peril in that time shall keep them that be fallen into danger, even such as have works, and faith toward the Almighty. <sup>24</sup> Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead. <sup>25</sup> These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas you saw a man coming up from the midst of the sea, <sup>26</sup> the same is he whom the Most High has kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind. <sup>27</sup> And whereas you saw, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm; <sup>28</sup> and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this is the interpretation: <sup>29</sup> Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth. <sup>30</sup> And there shall come astonishment of mind upon them that dwell on the earth. <sup>31</sup> And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>32</sup> And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I showed you before, then shall my Son be revealed, whom you saw as a man ascending. <sup>33</sup> And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one against another. <sup>34</sup> And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as you saw, desiring to come, and to fight against him.

<sup>35</sup> But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. <sup>36</sup> And Sion shall come, and shall be showed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as you saw the mountain graven without hands. <sup>37</sup> And this my Son shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with plagues that are like to a tempest; <sup>38</sup> and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, which are likened to a flame: and he shall destroy them without labor by the law, which is likened to fire. <sup>39</sup> And whereas you saw that he gathered to him another multitude that was peaceful; <sup>40</sup> these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmananser the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. <sup>41</sup> But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind lived, <sup>42</sup> that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. <sup>43</sup> And they entered by the narrow passages of the river Euphrates. <sup>44</sup> For the Most High then wrought signs for them, and stayed the springs of the River, till they were passed over. <sup>45</sup> For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called <sup>1</sup> Arzaeth. <sup>46</sup> Then lived they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come again, <sup>47</sup> the Most High stays the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore saw you the multitude gathered together with peace. <sup>48</sup> But those that be left behind of your people are they that are found within my holy border. <sup>49</sup> It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remain. <sup>50</sup> And then shall he show them very many wonders.

<sup>51</sup> Then said I, O Lord that bear rule, show me this: wherefore I have seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea. <sup>52</sup> And he said to me, like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the time of <sup>m</sup> his day. <sup>53</sup> This is the interpretation of the dream which you saw, and for this you only are enlightened herein. <sup>54</sup> For you have forsaken your own ways, and applied your diligence to mine, and have sought out my law. <sup>55</sup> Your life have you ordered in wisdom, and have called understanding your mother. <sup>56</sup> And therefore have I showed you this; for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, after other three days I will speak other things to you, and declare to you mighty and wondrous things. <sup>57</sup> Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly to the Most High because of his wonders, which he did from time to time; <sup>58</sup> and because he governs the time, and such things as fall in their seasons. And there I sat three days.

I, Lord. And I stood up upon my feet. <sup>3</sup> Then said he to me, In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself, and talked with Moses, when my people were in bondage in Egypt: <sup>4</sup> and I sent him, and <sup>n</sup> he led my people out of Egypt; and I brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me for many days; <sup>5</sup> and told him many wondrous things, and showed him the secrets of the times, and the end of the seasons; and commanded him, saying, <sup>6</sup> These words shall you publish openly, and these shall you hide. <sup>7</sup> And now I say to you, <sup>8</sup> Lay up in your heart the signs that I have showed, and the dreams that you have seen, and the interpretations which you have heard: <sup>9</sup> for you shall be taken away from men, and from henceforth you shall remain with my Son, and with such as be like you, until the times be ended. <sup>10</sup> For the world has lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. <sup>11</sup> <sup>o</sup> For the world is divided into twelve parts, and ten parts of it are gone already, <sup>p</sup> even the half of the tenth part: <sup>12</sup> and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. <sup>13</sup> Now therefore set your house in order, and reprove your people, comfort the lowly among them, <sup>q</sup> and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life that is corruptible, <sup>14</sup> and let go from the mortal thoughts, cast away from you the burdens of man, put off now your weak nature, <sup>15</sup> and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous to you, and haste you to remove from these times. <sup>16</sup> For yet worse evils than those which you have seen happen shall be done hereafter. <sup>17</sup> For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein. <sup>18</sup> For the truth shall withdraw itself further off, and leasing be hard at hand: for now hastens <sup>r</sup> the eagle to come, which you saw in vision.

<sup>19</sup> Then answered I and said, <sup>s</sup> I will speak before you, O Lord. <sup>20</sup> Behold, I will go, as you have commanded me, and reprove the people that now be: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. <sup>21</sup> For your law is burned, therefore no man knows the things that are done of you, or the works that shall be done. <sup>22</sup> But if I have found favor before you, send the Holy Spirit to me, and I shall write all that has been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in your law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. <sup>23</sup> And he answered me and said, Go your way, gather the people together, and say to them, that they seek you not for forty days. <sup>24</sup> But look you prepare you many tablets, and take with you Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to write swiftly; <sup>25</sup> and come here, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in your heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which you shall write. <sup>26</sup> And when you have done, some things shall you publish openly, and some things shall you deliver in secret to the wise: tomorrow this hour shall you begin to write.

27 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Hear these words, O Israel. 29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, 30 and received the law of life, which they kept not, which you<sup>33</sup> also have transgressed after them. 31 Then was <sup>t</sup> the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but you<sup>33</sup> yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 32 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 33 And now you<sup>33</sup> are here, and your brethren are among you. 34 Therefore if so be that you<sup>33</sup> will rule over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, you<sup>33</sup> shall be kept alive, and after death you<sup>33</sup> shall obtain mercy. 35 For after death shall the judgement come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 36 Let no man therefore come to me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 37 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 38 And it came to pass on the morrow that, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, open your mouth, and drink that I give you to drink. 39 Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, there was reached to me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the color of it was like fire. 40 And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit retained its memory: 41 and my mouth was opened, and shut no more. 42 The Most High gave understanding to the five men, and they wrote by course the things that were told them, in <sup>u</sup> characters which they knew not, and they sat forty days: now they wrote in the day-time, and at night they ate bread. 43 As for me, I spoke in the day, and by night I held not my tongue. 44 So in forty days were written <sup>v</sup> fourscore and fourteen books. 45 And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Most High spoke to me, saying, The first that you have written publish openly, and let the worthy and unworthy read it: 46 but keep the seventy last, that you may deliver them to such as be wise among your people: 47 for in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and the stream of knowledge. 48 And I did so.

1 Behold, speak you in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in your mouth, says the Lord: 2 and cause you them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true. 3 Fear not their imaginations against you, let not the unbelief of them that speak against you trouble you. 4 For all the unbelievers shall die in their unbelief.

5 Behold, says the Lord, I bring evils upon the whole earth; sword and famine, and death and destruction. 6 For wickedness has prevailed over every land, and their hurtful works are come to the full. 7 Therefore says the Lord, 8 I will hold my peace no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in these things, which they wickedly practise: behold, the innocent and righteous blood cries to me, and the souls of the righteous cry out continually. <sup>9</sup> I will surely avenge them, says the Lord, and will receive to me all the innocent blood from among them. <sup>10</sup> Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt: <sup>11</sup> but I will bring them out with a mighty hand and with a high arm, and will strike Egypt with plagues, as aforetime, and will destroy all the land thereof. <sup>12</sup> Let Egypt mourn, and the foundations thereof, for the plague of the chastisement and the punishment that God shall bring upon it. <sup>13</sup> Let the husbandmen that till the ground mourn: for their seeds shall fail and their trees shall be laid waste through the blasting and hail, and a terrible star. <sup>14</sup> Woe to the world and them that dwell therein! <sup>15</sup> for the sword and their destruction draweth near, and nation shall rise up against nation to battle with weapons in their hands. <sup>16</sup> For there shall be sedition among men; and waxing strong one against another, they shall not regard their king nor the chief of their great ones, in their might. <sup>17</sup> For a man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able. <sup>18</sup> For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid. <sup>19</sup> A man shall have no pity upon his neighbor, but shall make an assault on their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

<sup>20</sup> Behold, says God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them. <sup>21</sup> Like as they do yet this day to my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus says the Lord God: <sup>22</sup> My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth. <sup>23</sup> And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and has consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled. <sup>24</sup> Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! says the Lord. <sup>25</sup> I will not spare them: go your way, you<sup>23</sup> rebellious children, defile not my sanctuary. <sup>26</sup> For the Lord knows all them that trespass against him, therefore has he delivered them to death and destruction. <sup>27</sup> For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and you<sup>23</sup> shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because you<sup>23</sup> have sinned against him.

<sup>28</sup> Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east! <sup>29</sup> And the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. <sup>30</sup> Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their teeth. <sup>31</sup> And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering

their <sup>w</sup> nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, <sup>32</sup> then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall turn and flee. <sup>33</sup> And from the land of the Assyrians shall the liege in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and sedition against their kings. <sup>34</sup> Behold, clouds from the east and from the north to the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm. <sup>35</sup> They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful <sup>x</sup> storm upon the earth, even their own star; and there shall be blood from the sword to the horse's belly, <sup>36</sup> and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's hough. <sup>37</sup> And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold upon them. <sup>38</sup> And after this shall there be stirred up great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west. <sup>39</sup> And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised up in wrath; and the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven toward the south and west. <sup>40</sup> And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one a terrible star, <sup>41</sup> fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of those waters. <sup>42</sup> And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn. <sup>43</sup> And they shall go on stedfastly to Babylon, and destroy her. <sup>44</sup> They shall come to her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up to the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail her. <sup>45</sup> And they that remain shall do service to them that have put her in fear.

<sup>46</sup> And you, Asia, that are partaker in the beauty of Babylon, and in the glory of her person: <sup>47</sup> woe to you, you wretch, because you have made yourself like to her; you have decked your daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in your lovers, which have always desired you to commit whoredom withal! <sup>48</sup> You have followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions: therefore says God, <sup>49</sup> I will send evils upon you; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste your houses to destruction and death. <sup>50</sup> And the glory of your power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over you. <sup>51</sup> You shall be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastened with wounds, so that your mighty ones and your lovers you shall not be able to receive. <sup>52</sup> Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against you, says the Lord, <sup>53</sup> if you had not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of your hands, and saying over their <sup>y</sup> dead, when you were drunken, <sup>54</sup> Set forth the beauty of your countenance? <sup>55</sup> The reward of a harlot shall be in your bosom, therefore shall you receive recompense. <sup>56</sup> Like as you shall do to my chosen, says the Lord, even so shall God do to you, and shall deliver you into mischief. <sup>57</sup> And your children shall die of hunger, and you shall fall by the sword: and your cities shall be broken down, and all your shall perish by the sword in the field. <sup>58</sup> And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. <sup>59</sup> You unhappy above all shall come and shall again receive evils. <sup>60</sup> And in the passage they shall rush on the <sup>z</sup> idle city, and shall destroy some portion of your land, and mar part of your glory, and shall return again to Babylon that was destroyed. <sup>61</sup> And you shall be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be to you as fire; <sup>62</sup> and shall devour you, and your cities, your land, and your mountains; all your woods and your fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire. <sup>63</sup> They shall carry your children away captive, and shall spoil your wealth, and mar the glory of your face.

drive them away? <sup>9</sup> A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it? <sup>10</sup> He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not tremble? <sup>11</sup> The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces at his presence? <sup>12</sup> The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea arises up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it shall be troubled, and the fishes thereof also, at the presence of the Lord, and before the glory of his power: <sup>13</sup> for strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world. <sup>14</sup> Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth. <sup>15</sup> The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth. <sup>16</sup> Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returns not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth shall not return again. <sup>17</sup> Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion. <sup>22</sup> For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy. <sup>23</sup> And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down. <sup>24</sup> There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it. <sup>25</sup> The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them? <sup>26</sup> The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: <sup>27</sup> for one man shall desire to see another, or to hear his voice. <sup>28</sup> For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks. <sup>29</sup> As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be left three or four olives, <sup>30</sup> or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by them that diligently seek through the vineyard; <sup>31</sup> even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword. <sup>32</sup> And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for briers, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall pass therethrough. <sup>33</sup> The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers. <sup>34</sup> In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

speaks. <sup>37</sup> Behold, the evils draw near, and are not slack. <sup>38</sup> Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doleful pains compass her womb, and when the child comes forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for a moment: <sup>39</sup> even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows shall take hold of it on every side. <sup>40</sup> O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth. <sup>41</sup> He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buys, as one that will lose: <sup>42</sup> he that occupieth merchandise, as he that has no profit by it: and he that builds, as he that shall not dwell therein: <sup>43</sup> he that sows, as if he should not reap: so also he that pruneth the vines, as he that shall not gather the grapes: <sup>44</sup> they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. <sup>45</sup> Inasmuch as they that labor labor in vain; <sup>46</sup> for strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget their children: <sup>47</sup> and they that traffick traffick to become a spoil: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons, <sup>48</sup> the more will I hate them for their sins, says the Lord. <sup>49</sup> Like as a right honest and virtuous woman hates a harlot, <sup>50</sup> so shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he comes that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.

iniquities shall stand as your accusers in that day. <sup>66</sup> What will you<sup>23</sup> do? or how will you<sup>23</sup> hide your sins before God and his angels? <sup>67</sup> Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all tribulation.

<sup>68</sup> For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you with that which is slain to idols. <sup>69</sup> And they that consent to them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden under foot of them. <sup>70</sup> For there shall be <sup>a</sup> in various places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord. <sup>71</sup> They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying them that still fear the Lord. <sup>72</sup> For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses. <sup>73</sup> Then shall be manifest the trial of mine elect; even as the gold that is tried in the fire. <sup>74</sup> Hear, O you<sup>23</sup> mine elect, says the Lord: behold, the days of tribulation are at hand, and I will deliver you from them. <sup>75</sup> Be you<sup>23</sup> not afraid, neither doubt; for God is your guide: <sup>76</sup> and you<sup>23</sup> who keep my commandments and precepts, says the Lord God, let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves. <sup>77</sup> Woe to them that are fast bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is fast bound with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through! <sup>78</sup> <sup>b</sup> It is even shut off, and given up to be consumed of fire. ,

Jerusalem, and had put in the house of his gods; <sup>8</sup> even those, Cyrus king of Persia brought out by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, and counted them out to Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah. <sup>9</sup> This is the number of them: thirty platters of gold, one thousand platters of silver, twenty-nine knives, <sup>10</sup> thirty bowls of gold, four hundred ten silver bowls of a second sort, and one thousand other vessels. <sup>11</sup> All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand four hundred. Sheshbazzar brought all these up when the captives were brought up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

willingly for God's house to set it up in its place.<sup>69</sup> They gave according to their ability into the treasury of the work sixty-one thousand darics of gold,<sup>d</sup> and five thousand minas<sup>e</sup> of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.<sup>70</sup> So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, the singers, the porters, and the temple servants, lived in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

<sup>1</sup> When the seventh month had come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves together as one man to Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> Then Jeshua the son of Jozadak stood up with his brothers the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and his brothers, and built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.<sup>3</sup> In spite of their fear because of the peoples of the surrounding lands, they set the altar on its base; and they offered burnt offerings on it to Yahweh, even burnt offerings morning and evening.<sup>4</sup> They kept the feast of tents, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the ordinance, as the duty of every day required;<sup>5</sup> and afterward the continual burnt offering, the offerings of the new moons, of all the set feasts of Yahweh that were consecrated, and of everyone who willingly offered a freewill offering to Yahweh.<sup>6</sup> From the first day of the seventh month, they began to offer burnt offerings to Yahweh; but the foundation of Yahweh's temple was not yet laid.<sup>7</sup> They also gave money to the masons, and to the carpenters. They also gave food, drink, and oil to the people of Sidon and Tyre, to bring cedar trees from Lebanon to the sea, to Joppa, according to the grant that they had from Cyrus King of Persia.

<sup>8</sup> Now in the second year of their coming to God's house at Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the rest of their brothers the priests and the Levites, and all those who had come out of the captivity to Jerusalem, began the work and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to have the oversight of the work of Yahweh's house. <sup>9</sup> Then Jeshua stood with his sons and his brothers, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, together, to have the oversight of the workmen in God's house: the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brothers the Levites. <sup>10</sup> When the builders laid the foundation of Yahweh's temple, they set the priests in their clothing with trumpets, with the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise Yahweh, according to the directions of David king of Israel. <sup>11</sup> They sang to one another in praising and giving thanks to Yahweh, "For he is good, for his loving kindness endures forever toward Israel." All the people shouted with a great shout, when they praised Yahweh, because the foundation of Yahweh's house had been laid.

<sup>12</sup> But many of the priests and Levites and heads of fathers' households, the old men who had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice. Many also shouted aloud for joy, <sup>13</sup> so that the people could not discern the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people; for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard far away.

4

<sup>1</sup> Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity were building a temple to Yahweh, the God of Israel; <sup>2</sup> they came near to Zerubbabel, and to the heads of fathers' households, and said to them, "Let us build with you; for we seek your God, as you do; and we have been sacrificing to him since the days of Esar Haddon king of Assyria, who brought us up here."

<sup>3</sup> But Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the heads of fathers' households of Israel, said to them, "You have nothing to do with us in building a house to our God; but we ourselves together will build to Yahweh, the God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia has commanded us."

Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions, the Dinaites, and the Apharsathchites, the Tarpelites, the Apharsites, the Archevites, the Babylonians, the Shushanchites, the Dehaites, the Elamites, <sup>10</sup> and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnappar brought over, and set in the city of Samaria, and in the rest of the country beyond the River, and so forth, wrote. <sup>11</sup> This is the copy of the letter that they sent:

To King Artaxerxes,
From your servants the men beyond the River.

<sup>12</sup> Be it known to the king that the Jews who came up from you have come to us to Jerusalem. They are building the rebellious and bad city, and have finished the walls, and repaired the foundations. <sup>13</sup> Be it known now to the king that if this city is built and the walls finished, they will not pay tribute, custom, or toll, and in the end it will be hurtful to the kings. <sup>14</sup> Now because we eat the salt of the palace, and it is not appropriate for us to see the king's dishonor, therefore we have sent and informed the king, <sup>15</sup> that search may be made in the book of the records of your fathers. You will see in the book of the records, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful to kings and provinces, and that they have started rebellions within it in the past. That is why this city was destroyed. <sup>16</sup> We inform the king that, if this city is built and the walls finished, then you will have no possession beyond the River.

<sup>17</sup> Then the king sent an answer to Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions who live in Samaria, and in the rest of the country beyond the River:

Peace.

<sup>18</sup> The letter which you sent to us has been plainly read before me. <sup>19</sup> I decreed, and search has been made, and it was found that this city has made insurrection against kings in the past, and that rebellion and revolts have been made in it. <sup>20</sup> There have also been mighty kings over Jerusalem, who have ruled over all the country beyond the River; and tribute, custom, and toll, was paid to them. <sup>21</sup> Make a decree now to cause these men to cease, and that this city not be built, until a decree is made by me. <sup>22</sup> Be careful that you not be slack doing so. Why should damage grow to the hurt of the kings?

<sup>23</sup> Then when the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rehum, Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went in haste to Jerusalem to the Jews, and made them to cease by force of arms. <sup>24</sup> Then work stopped on God's house which is at Jerusalem. It stopped until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

<sup>1</sup> Now the prophets, Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews who were in Judah and Jerusalem. They prophesied to them in the name of the God of Israel. <sup>2</sup> Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak rose up and began to build God's house which is at Jerusalem; and with them were the prophets of God, helping them. <sup>3</sup> At the same time Tattenai, the governor beyond the River came to them, with Shetharbozenai, and their companions, and asked them, "Who gave you a decree to build this house, and to finish this wall?" <sup>4</sup> They also asked for the names of the men who were making this building. <sup>5</sup> But the eye of their God was on the elders of the Jews, and they did not make them cease, until the matter should come to Darius, and an answer should be returned by letter concerning it.

<sup>6</sup> The copy of the letter that Tattenai, the governor beyond the River, and Shetharbozenai, and his companions the Apharsachites, who were beyond the River, sent to Darius the king follows. <sup>7</sup> They sent a letter to him, in which was written:

To Darius the king, all peace.

<sup>8</sup> Be it known to the king that we went into the province of Judah, to the house of the great God, which is built with great stones, and timber is laid in the walls. This work goes on with diligence and prospers in their hands. <sup>9</sup> Then we asked those elders, and said to them thus, "Who gave you a decree to build this house, and to finish this wall?" <sup>10</sup> We asked them their names also, to inform you that we might write the names of the men who were at their head. <sup>11</sup> Thus they returned us answer, saying, "We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and are building the house that was built these many years ago, which a great king of Israel built and finished. <sup>12</sup> But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven to wrath, he gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house, and carried the people away into Babylon. <sup>13</sup> But in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, Cyrus the king made a decree to build this house of God. <sup>14</sup> The gold and silver vessels of God's house, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought into the temple of Babylon, those Cyrus the king also took out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered to one whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor. <sup>15</sup> He said to him, "Take these vessels, go, put them in the temple that is in Jerusalem, and let God's house be built in its place." <sup>16</sup> Then the same Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of God's house which is in Jerusalem. Since that time even until now has it been in building, and yet it is not completed.

<sup>17</sup> Now therefore, if it seems good to the king, let a search be made in the king's treasure house, which is there at Babylon, whether it is so, that a decree was made of Cyrus the king to build this house of God at Jerusalem; and let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter."

<sup>1</sup> Then Darius the king made a decree, and the house of the archives, where the treasures were laid up in Babylon, was searched. <sup>2</sup> A scroll was found at Achmetha, in the palace that is in the province of Media, and in it this was written for a record:

they have need of, including young bulls, rams, and lambs, for burnt offerings to the God of heaven; also wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the word of the priests who are at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail; <sup>10</sup> that they may offer sacrifices of pleasant aroma to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his sons. <sup>11</sup> I have also made a decree that whoever alters this message, let a beam be pulled out from his house, and let him be lifted up and fastened on it; and let his house be made a dunghill for this. <sup>12</sup> May the God who has caused his name to dwell there overthrow all kings and peoples who stretch out their hand to alter the same, to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree. Let it be done with all diligence.

<sup>14</sup> The elders of the Jews built and prospered, through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. They built and finished it, according to the commandment of the God of Israel, and according to the decree of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia. <sup>15</sup> This house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king. <sup>16</sup> The children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of this house of God with joy. <sup>17</sup> They offered at the dedication of this house of God one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin offering for all Israel, twelve male goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel. <sup>18</sup> They set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their courses, for the service of God, which is at Jerusalem, as it is written in the book of Moses.

Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest; <sup>6</sup> this Ezra went up from Babylon. He was a skilled scribe in the law of Moses, which Yahweh, the God of Israel, had given; and the king granted him all his request, according to Yahweh his God's hand on him. <sup>7</sup> Some of the children of Israel, including some of the priests, the Levites, the singers, the porters, and the temple servants went up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the king. <sup>8</sup> He came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king. <sup>9</sup> For on the first day of the first month he began to go up from Babylon; and on the first day of the fifth month he came to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God on him. <sup>10</sup> For Ezra had set his heart to seek Yahweh's law, and to do it, and to teach statutes and ordinances in Israel. <sup>11</sup> Now this is the copy of the letter that the king Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest, the scribe, even the scribe of the words of Yahweh's commandments, and of his statutes to Israel:

To Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the perfect God of heaven.

Now <sup>13</sup> I make a decree, that all those of the people of Israel, and their priests and the Levites, in my realm, who intend of their own free will to go to Jerusalem, go with you.

<sup>14</sup> Because you are sent by the king and his seven counselors, to inquire concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of your God which is in your hand, <sup>15</sup> and to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counselors have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem, <sup>16</sup> and all the silver and gold that you will find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offering of the people, and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God which is in Jerusalem; <sup>17</sup> therefore you shall with all diligence buy with this money bulls, rams, lambs, with their meal offerings and their drink offerings, and shall offer them on the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem. <sup>18</sup> Whatever seems good to you and to your brothers to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, do that according to the will of your God. <sup>19</sup> The vessels that are given to you for the service of the house of your God, deliver before the God of Jerusalem. <sup>20</sup> Whatever more will be needed for the house of your God, which you may have occasion to give, give it out of the king's treasure house.

of heaven, let it be done exactly for the house of the God of heaven; for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?

<sup>24</sup> Also we inform you that it shall not be lawful to impose tribute, custom, or toll, on any of the priests, Levites, singers, porters, temple servants, or laborers of this house of God.

<sup>25</sup> You, Ezra, according to the wisdom of your God that is in your hand, appoint magistrates and judges, who may judge all the people who are beyond the River, who all know the laws of your God; and teach him who doesn't know them. <sup>26</sup> Whoever will not do the law of your God and the law of the king, let judgment be executed on him with all diligence, whether it is to death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

<sup>27</sup> Blessed be Yahweh, the God of our fathers, who has put such a thing as this in the king's heart, to beautify Yahweh's house which is in Jerusalem; <sup>28</sup> and has extended loving kindness to me before the king and his counselors, and before all the king's mighty princes. I was strengthened according to Yahweh my God's hand on me, and I gathered together chief men out of Israel to go up with me.

those who went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king:

Of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel.

Of the sons of David, Hattush.

<sup>3</sup> Of the sons of Shecaniah, of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah; and with him were listed by genealogy of the males one hundred fifty.

<sup>15</sup> I gathered them together to the river that runs to Ahava; and there we encamped three days: and I looked around at the people the priests, and found there were none of the sons of Levi. <sup>16</sup> Then sent I for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Shemaiah, for Elnathan, for Jarib, for Elnathan, for Nathan, for Zechariah, and for Meshullam, chief men; also for Joiarib and for Elnathan, who were teachers. <sup>17</sup> I sent them out to Iddo the chief at the place Casiphia; and I told them what they should tell Iddo, and his brothers the temple servants, at the place Casiphia, that they should bring to us ministers for the house of our God. <sup>18</sup> According to the good hand of our God on us they brought us a man of discretion, of the sons of Mahli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel; and Sherebiah, with his sons and his brothers, eighteen; <sup>19</sup> and Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiiah of the sons of Merari, his brothers and their sons, twenty; <sup>20</sup> and of the temple servants, whom David and the princes had given for the service of the Levites, two hundred twenty temple servants. All of them were mentioned by name. <sup>21</sup> Then I proclaimed a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek from him a straight way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our possessions. <sup>22</sup> For I was ashamed to ask of the king a band of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy on the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, “The hand of our God is on all those who seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath is against all those who forsake him.”<sup>23</sup> So we fasted and begged our God for this: and he granted our request.

<sup>30</sup> So the priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem to the house of our God.<sup>31</sup> Then we departed from the river Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was on us, and he delivered us from the hand of the enemy and the bandit by the way.<sup>32</sup> We came to Jerusalem, and stayed there three days.<sup>33</sup>

On the fourth day the silver and the gold and the vessels were weighed in the house of our God into the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriah the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, the Levite;<sup>34</sup> everything by number and by weight; and all the weight was written at that time.<sup>35</sup> The children of the captivity, who had come out of exile, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel, twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve male goats for a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to Yahweh.<sup>36</sup> They delivered the king’s commissions to the king’s satraps, and to the governors beyond the River. So they supported the people and God’s house.

trembled at the words of the God of Israel were assembled to me, because of their trespass of the captivity; and I sat confounded until the evening offering. <sup>5</sup> At the evening offering I arose up from my humiliation, even with my garment and my robe torn; and I fell on my knees, and spread out my hands to Yahweh my God; <sup>6</sup> and I said, “My God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to you, my God; for our iniquities have increased over our head, and our guiltiness has grown up to the heavens. <sup>7</sup> Since the days of our fathers we have been exceeding guilty to this day; and for our iniquities we, our kings, and our priests, have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, to plunder, and to confusion of face, as it is this day. <sup>8</sup> Now for a little moment grace has been shown from Yahweh our God, to leave us a remnant to escape, and to give us a nail in his holy place, that our God may lighten our eyes, and revived us a little in our bondage. <sup>9</sup> For we are bondservants; yet our God has not forsaken us in our bondage, but has extended loving kindness to us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to revive us, to set up the house of our God, and to repair its ruins, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> “Now, our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken your commandments, <sup>11</sup> which you have commanded by your servants the prophets, saying, ‘The land, to which you go to possess it, is an unclean land through the uncleanness of the peoples of the lands, through their abominations, which have filled it from one end to another with their filthiness. <sup>12</sup> Now therefore don’t give your daughters to their sons. Don’t take their daughters to your sons, nor seek their peace or their prosperity forever; that you may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.’

<sup>13</sup> “After all that has come on us for our evil deeds, and for our great guilt, since you, our God, have punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and have given us such a remnant, <sup>14</sup> shall we again break your commandments, and join in affinity with the peoples that do these abominations? Wouldn’t you be angry with us until you had consumed us, so that there would be no remnant, nor any to escape? <sup>15</sup> Yahweh, the God of Israel, you are righteous; for we are left a remnant that has escaped, as it is today. Behold,<sup>m</sup> we are before you in our guiltiness; for no one can stand before you because of this.”

10

commandment of our God. Let it be done according to the law. <sup>4</sup> Arise; for the matter belongs to you, and we are with you. Be courageous, and do it.”

<sup>5</sup> Then Ezra arose, and made the chiefs of the priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would do according to this word. So they swore. <sup>6</sup> Then Ezra rose up from before God’s house, and went into the room of Jehohanan the son of Eliashib. When he came there, he ate no bread, nor drank water; for he mourned because of their trespass of the captivity. <sup>7</sup> They made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity, that they should gather themselves together to Jerusalem; <sup>8</sup> and that whoever didn’t come within three days, according to the counsel of the princes and the elders, all his possessions should be forfeited, and himself separated from the assembly of the captivity. <sup>9</sup> Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themselves together to Jerusalem within the three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month; and all the people sat in the wide place in front of God’s house, trembling because of this matter, and because of the great rain.

<sup>12</sup> Then all the assembly answered with a loud voice, “As you have said concerning us, so must we do. <sup>13</sup> But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand outside. This is not a work of one day or two, for we have greatly transgressed in this matter. <sup>14</sup> Now let our princes be appointed for all the assembly, and let all those who are in our cities who have married foreign women come at appointed times, and with them the elders of every city, and its judges, until the fierce wrath of our God is turned from us, until this matter is resolved.”

of the sons of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and his brothers, Maaseiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

- <sup>23</sup> Of the Levites: Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah (also called Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.
- <sup>24</sup> Of the singers: Eliashib. Of the porters: Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.
- <sup>25</sup> Of Israel: Of the sons of Parosh: Ramiah, and Izziah, and Malchijah, and Mijamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.
- <sup>26</sup> Of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Elijah.
- <sup>27</sup> Of the sons of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.
- <sup>28</sup> Of the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, Athlai.
- <sup>29</sup> Of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Jashub, and Sheal, Jeremoth.
- <sup>30</sup> Of the sons of Pahathmoab: Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.
- <sup>31</sup> Of the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Isshijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, <sup>32</sup> Benjamin, Malluch, Shemariah.
- <sup>33</sup> Of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, Shimei.
- <sup>34</sup> Of the sons of Bani: Maadai, Amram, and Uel, <sup>35</sup> Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluhi, <sup>36</sup> Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib, <sup>37</sup> Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasu, <sup>38</sup> and Bani, and Binnui, Shimei, <sup>39</sup> and Shelemiah, and Nathan, and Adaiah, <sup>40</sup> Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai, <sup>41</sup> Azarel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah, <sup>42</sup> Shallum, Amariah, Joseph.
- <sup>43</sup> Of the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Iddo, and Joel, Benaiah.
- <sup>44</sup> All these had taken foreign wives; and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

1

<sup>1</sup> The words of Nehemiah the son of Hacaliah. Now in the month Chisleu, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace, <sup>2</sup> Hanani, one of my brothers, came, he and certain men out of Judah; and I asked them about the Jews who had escaped, who were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup> They said to me, “The remnant who are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach. The wall of Jerusalem is also broken down, and its gates are burned with fire.” <sup>4</sup> When I heard these words, I sat down and wept, and mourned several days; and I fasted and prayed before the God<sup>a</sup> of heaven, <sup>5</sup> and said, “I beg you, Yahweh,<sup>b</sup> the God of heaven, the great and awesome God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness with those who love him and keep his commandments: <sup>6</sup> Let your ear now be attentive, and your eyes open, that you may listen to the prayer of your servant, which I pray before you at this time, day and night, for the children of Israel your servants while I confess the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against you. Yes, I and my father’s house have sinned. <sup>7</sup> We have dealt very corruptly against you, and have not kept the commandments, nor the statutes, nor the ordinances, which you commanded your servant Moses.

saying, ‘If you trespass, I will scatter you among the peoples; <sup>9</sup> but if you return to me, and keep my commandments and do them, though your outcasts were in the uttermost part of the heavens, yet I will gather them from there, and will bring them to the place that I have chosen, to cause my name to dwell there.’

<sup>10</sup> “Now these are your servants and your people, whom you have redeemed by your great power, and by your strong hand. <sup>11</sup> Lord,<sup>c</sup> I beg you, let your ear be attentive now to the prayer of your servant, and to the prayer of your servants, who delight to fear your name; and please prosper your servant today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man.”

Now I was cup bearer to the king.

2

<sup>1</sup> In the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, when wine was before him, I picked up the wine, and gave it to the king. Now I had not been sad before in his presence. <sup>2</sup> The king said to me, “Why is your face sad, since you are not sick? This is nothing else but sorrow of heart.”

Then I was very much afraid. <sup>3</sup> I said to the king, “Let the king live forever! Why shouldn’t my face be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers’ tombs, lies waste, and its gates have been consumed with fire?”

So I prayed to the God of heaven. <sup>5</sup> I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, that you would send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers’ tombs, that I may build it.”

<sup>6</sup> The king said to me (the queen was also sitting by him), “How long will your journey be? When will you return?”

So it pleased the king to send me, and I set a time for he. <sup>7</sup> Moreover I said to the king, “If it pleases the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the River, that they may let me pass through until I come to Judah; <sup>8</sup> and a letter to Asaph the keeper of the king’s forest, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the citadel by the temple, for the wall of the city, and for the house that I will occupy.”

The king granted my requests, because of the good hand of my God on me. <sup>9</sup> Then I came to the governors beyond the River, and gave them the king’s letters. Now the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me. <sup>10</sup> When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly, because a man had come to seek the welfare of the children of Israel. <sup>11</sup> So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days. <sup>12</sup> I arose in the night, I and a few men with me. I didn’t tell anyone what my God put into my heart to do for Jerusalem. There wasn’t any animal with me, except the animal that I rode on. <sup>13</sup> I went out by night by the valley gate, even toward the jackal’s well, then to the dung gate, and inspected the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and its gates were consumed with fire. <sup>14</sup> Then I went on to the spring gate and to the king’s pool, but there was no place for the animal that was under me to pass. <sup>15</sup> Then went I up in the night by the brook, and inspected the wall; and I turned back, and entered by the valley gate, and so returned. <sup>16</sup> The rulers didn’t know where I went, or what I did. I had not as yet told it to the Jews, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest who did the work. <sup>17</sup> Then I said to them, “You see the bad situation that we are in, how Jerusalem lies waste, and its gates are burned with fire. Come, let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we won’t be disgraced.” <sup>18</sup> I told them of the hand of my God which was good on me, as also of the king’s words that he had spoken to me.

They said, “Let’s rise up and build.” So they strengthened their hands for the good work.

<sup>19</sup> But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite servant, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they ridiculed us, and despised us, and said, “What is this thing that you are doing? Will you rebel against the king?”

<sup>20</sup> Then I answered them, and said to them, “The God of heaven will prosper us. Therefore we, his servants, will arise and build; but you have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.”

3

Hananel.<sup>2</sup> Next to him the men of Jericho built. Next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.<sup>3</sup> The sons of Hassenaah built the fish gate. They laid its beams, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars.<sup>4</sup> Next to them, Meremoth the son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz made repairs. Next to them, Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel made repairs. Next to them, Zadok the son of Baana made repairs.<sup>5</sup> Next to them, the Tekoites made repairs; but their nobles didn't put their necks to the Lord's work.<sup>6</sup> Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the old gate. They laid its beams, and set up its doors, and its bolts, and its bars.<sup>7</sup> Next to them, Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Meronothite, the men of Gibeon and of Mizpah, repaired the residence of the governor beyond the River.<sup>8</sup> Next to him, Uzziel the son of Harhiah, goldsmiths, made repairs. Next to him, Hananiah, one of the perfumers, made repairs, and they fortified Jerusalem even to the wide wall.<sup>9</sup> Next to them, Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, made repairs.<sup>10</sup> Next to them, Jedaiah the son of Harumaph made repairs across from his house. Next to him, Hattush the son of Hashabneiah made repairs.<sup>11</sup> Malchijah the son of Harim, and Hasshub the son of Pahathmoab, repaired another portion, and the tower of the furnaces.<sup>12</sup> Next to him, Shallum the son of Hallohesh, the ruler of half the district of Jerusalem, he and his daughters, made repairs.<sup>13</sup> Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the valley gate. They built it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars, and one thousand cubits<sup>d</sup> of the wall to the dung gate.<sup>14</sup> Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of the district of Beth Haccherem repaired the dung gate. He built it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars.<sup>15</sup> Shallun the son of Colhozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah repaired the spring gate. He built it, and covered it, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars, and the wall of the pool of Shelah by the king's garden, even to the stairs that go down from David's city.<sup>16</sup> After him, Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, the ruler of half the district of Beth Zur, made repairs to the place opposite the tombs of David, and to the pool that was made, and to the house of the mighty men.<sup>17</sup> After him, the Levites, Rehum the son of Bani made repairs. Next to him, Hashabiah, the ruler of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district.<sup>18</sup> After him, their brothers, Bavvai the son of Henadad, the ruler of half the district of Keilah made repairs.<sup>19</sup> Next to him, Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, repaired another portion, across from the ascent to the armory at the turning of the wall.<sup>20</sup> After him, Baruch the son of Zabbai earnestly repaired another portion, from the turning of the wall to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.<sup>21</sup> After him, Meremoth the son of Uriah the son of Hakkoz repaired another portion, from the door of the house of Eliashib even to the end of the house of Eliashib.<sup>22</sup> After him, the priests, the men of the Plain made repairs.<sup>23</sup> After them, Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs across from their house. After them, Azariah the son of Maaseiah the son of Ananiah made repairs beside his own house.<sup>24</sup> After him, Binnui the son of Henadad repaired another portion, from the house of Azariah to the turning of the wall, and to the corner. <sup>25</sup> Palal the son of Uzai made repairs opposite the turning of the wall, and the tower that stands out from the upper house of the king, which is by the court of the guard. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh made repairs. <sup>26</sup> (Now the temple servants lived in Ophel, to the place over against the water gate toward the east, and the tower that stands out.) <sup>27</sup> After him the Tekoites repaired another portion, over against the great tower that stands out, and to the wall of Ophel. <sup>28</sup> Above the horse gate, the priests made repairs, everyone across from his own house. <sup>29</sup> After them, Zadok the son of Immer made repairs across from his own house. After him, Shemaiah the son of Shecaniah, the keeper of the east gate made repairs. <sup>30</sup> After him, Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph, repaired another portion. After him, Meshullam the son of Berechiah made repairs across from his room. <sup>31</sup> After him, Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths to the house of the temple servants, and of the merchants, made repairs opposite the gate of Hammiphkad, and to the ascent of the corner. <sup>32</sup> Between the ascent of the corner and the sheep gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants made repairs.

<sup>1</sup> But when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry, and was very indignant, and mocked the Jews. <sup>2</sup> He spoke before his brothers and the army of Samaria, and said, "What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they fortify themselves? Will they sacrifice? Will they finish in a day? Will they revive the stones out of the heaps of rubbish, since they are burned?"

<sup>6</sup> So we built the wall; and all the wall was joined together to half its height: for the people had a mind to work. <sup>7</sup> But when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabians, the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the repairing of the walls of Jerusalem went forward, and that the breaches began to be filled, they were very angry; <sup>8</sup> and they all conspired together to come and fight against Jerusalem, and to cause confusion among us. <sup>9</sup> But we made our prayer to our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them. <sup>10</sup> Judah said, "The strength of the bearers of burdens is fading, and there is much rubble; so that we are not able to build the wall." <sup>11</sup> Our adversaries said, "They will not know or see, until we come in among them and kill them, and cause the work to cease."

their bows. <sup>14</sup> I looked, and rose up, and said to the nobles, to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, “Don’t be afraid of them! Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your houses.”

<sup>15</sup> When our enemies heard that it was known to us, and God had brought their counsel to nothing, all of us returned to the wall, everyone to his work. <sup>16</sup> From that time forth, half of my servants did the work, and half of them held the spears, the shields, the bows, and the coats of mail; and the rulers were behind all the house of Judah. <sup>17</sup> They all built the wall, and those who bore burdens loaded themselves; everyone with one of his hands did the work, and with the other held his weapon. <sup>18</sup> Among the builders, everyone wore his sword at his side, and so built. He who sounded the trumpet was by me. <sup>19</sup> I said to the nobles, and to the rulers and to the rest of the people, “The work is great and large, and we are separated on the wall, one far from one another. <sup>20</sup> Wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, rally there to us. Our God will fight for us.”

<sup>21</sup> So we did the work. Half of the people held the spears from the rising of the morning until the stars appeared. <sup>22</sup> Likewise at the same time said I to the people, “Let everyone with his servant lodge within Jerusalem, that in the night they may be a guard to us, and may labor in the day.” <sup>23</sup> So neither I, nor my brothers, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard who followed me, none of us took off our clothes. Everyone took his weapon to the water.

<sup>1</sup> Then there arose a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brothers the Jews. <sup>2</sup> For there were that said, “We, our sons and our daughters, are many. Let us get grain, that we may eat and live.” <sup>3</sup> There were also some that said, “We are mortgaging our fields, and our vineyards, and our houses. Let us get grain, because of the famine.” <sup>4</sup> There were also some who said, “We have borrowed money for the king’s tribute using our fields and our vineyards as collateral. <sup>5</sup> Yet now our flesh is as the flesh of our brothers, our children as their children. Behold,<sup>e</sup> we bring our sons and our daughters into bondage to be servants, and some of our daughters have been brought into bondage. It is also not in our power to help it, because other men have our fields and our vineyards.”

<sup>6</sup> I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words. <sup>7</sup> Then I consulted with myself, and contended with the nobles and the rulers, and said to them, “You exact usury, everyone of his brother.” I held a great assembly against them. <sup>8</sup> I said to them, “We, after our ability, have redeemed our brothers the Jews that were sold to the nations; and would you even sell your brothers, and should they be sold to us?” Then they held their peace, and found not a word to say. <sup>9</sup> Also I said, “The thing that you do is not good. Shouldn’t you walk in the fear of our God, because of the reproach of the nations our enemies? <sup>10</sup> I likewise, my brothers and my servants, lend them money and grain. Please let us stop this usury. <sup>11</sup> Please restore to them, even today, their fields, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, that you are charging them.”

<sup>12</sup> Then they said, “We will restore them, and will require nothing of them. We will do so, even as you say.”

Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they would do according to this promise. <sup>13</sup> Also I shook out my lap, and said, “So may God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that doesn’t perform this promise; even be he shaken out, and emptied like this.”

All the assembly said, “Amen,” and praised Yahweh. The people did according to this promise.

<sup>14</sup> Moreover from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, that is, twelve years, I and my brothers have not eaten the bread of the governor. <sup>15</sup> But the former governors who were before me were supported by the people, and took bread and wine from them, plus forty shekels<sup>f</sup> of silver; yes, even their servants ruled over the people; but I didn’t do so, because of the fear of God. <sup>16</sup> Yes, I also continued in the work of this wall. We didn’t buy any land. All my servants were gathered there to the work. <sup>17</sup> Moreover there were at my table, of the Jews and the rulers, one hundred fifty men, besides those who came to us from among the nations that were around us. <sup>18</sup> Now that which was prepared for one day was one ox and six choice sheep. Also fowls were prepared for me, and once in ten days a store of all sorts of wine. Yet for all this, I didn’t demand the governor’s pay, because the bondage was heavy on this people. <sup>19</sup> Remember to me, my God, for good, all that I have done for this people.

<sup>1</sup> Now when it was reported to Sanballat, Tobiah, and to Geshem the Arabian, and to the rest of our enemies, that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left in it; (though even to that time I had not set up the doors in the gates;) <sup>2</sup> Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, “Come, let us meet together in the villages in the plain of Ono.” But they intended to harm me.

<sup>3</sup> I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work, so that I can’t come down. Why should the work cease, while I leave it, and come down to you?” <sup>4</sup> They sent to me four times like this; and I answered them the same way. <sup>5</sup> Then Sanballat sent his servant to me the same way the fifth time with an open letter in his hand, <sup>6</sup> in which was written, “It is reported among the nations, and Gashmu says it, that you and the Jews intend to rebel. Because of that, you are building the wall. You would be their king, according to these words. <sup>7</sup> You have also appointed prophets to proclaim of you at Jerusalem, saying, ‘There is a king in Judah!’ Now it will be reported to the king according to these words. Come now therefore, and let us take counsel together.”

<sup>8</sup> Then I sent to him, saying, “There are no such things done as you say, but you imagine them out of your own heart.” <sup>9</sup> For they all would have made us afraid, saying,

“Their hands will be weakened from the work, that it not be done.” But now, strengthen my hands.

<sup>10</sup> I went to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, who was shut in at his home; and he said, “Let us meet together in God’s house, within the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple; for they will come to kill you. Yes, in the night will they come to kill you.”

<sup>11</sup> I said, “Should a man like me flee? Who is there that, being such as I, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.” <sup>12</sup> I discerned, and behold, God had not sent him; but he pronounced this prophecy against me. Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. <sup>13</sup> He hired so that I would be afraid, do so, and sin, and that they might have material for an evil report, that they might reproach me. <sup>14</sup> “Remember, my God, Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and also the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets, that would have put me in fear.”

<sup>15</sup> So the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth day of Elul, in fifty-two days. <sup>16</sup> When all our enemies heard of it, all the nations that were around us were afraid, and they lost their confidence; for they perceived that this work was done by our God. <sup>17</sup> Moreover in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah’s letters came to them. <sup>18</sup> For there were many in Judah sworn to him, because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah the son of Arah; and his son Jehohanan had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah as wife. <sup>19</sup> Also they spoke of his good deeds before me, and reported my words to him. Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

<sup>4</sup> Now the city was wide and large; but the people were few therein, and the houses were not built. <sup>5</sup> My God put into my heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might be listed by genealogy. I found the book of the genealogy of those who came up at the first, and I found this written in it:

- 11 The children of Pahathmoab, of the children of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred eighteen.
- 12 The children of Elam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four.
- 13 The children of Zattu, eight hundred forty-five.
- 14 The children of Zaccai, seven hundred sixty.
- 15 The children of Binnui, six hundred forty-eight.
- 16 The children of Bebai, six hundred twenty-eight.
- 17 The children of Azgad, two thousand three hundred twenty-two.
- 18 The children of Adonikam, six hundred sixty-seven.
- 19 The children of Bigvai, two thousand sixty-seven.
- 20 The children of Adin, six hundred fifty-five.
- 21 The children of Ater, of Hezekiah, ninety-eight.
- 22 The children of Hashum, three hundred Twenty-eight.
- 23 The children of Bezai, three hundred twenty-four.
- 24 The children of Hariph, one hundred twelve.
- 25 The children of Gibeon, ninety-five.
- 26 The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, one hundred eighty-eight.
- 27 The men of Anathoth, one hundred twenty-eight.
- 28 The men of Beth Azmaveth, forty-two.
- 29 The men of Kiriath Jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred forty-three.
- 30 The men of Ramah and Geba, six hundred twenty-one.
- 31 The men of Michmas, one hundred twenty-two.
- 32 The men of Bethel and Ai, one hundred twenty-three.
- 33 The men of the other Nebo, fifty-two.
- 34 The children of the other Elam, one thousand two hundred fifty-four.
- 35 The children of Harim, three hundred twenty.
- 36 The children of Jericho, three hundred forty-five.
- 37 The children of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred twenty-one.
- 38 The children of Senaah, three thousand nine hundred thirty.
- 39 The priests: The children of Jedaiah, of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred seventy-three.
- 40 The children of Immer, one thousand fifty-two.
- 41 The children of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred forty-seven.
- 42 The children of Harim, one thousand seventeen.
- 43 The Levites: the children of Jeshua, of Kadmiel, of the children of Hodevah, seventy-four.

These were those who went up from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer; but they could not show their fathers' houses, nor their offspring,<sup>g</sup> whether they were of Israel:

and two thousand two hundred minas<sup>i</sup> of silver. <sup>72</sup> That which the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand darics of gold, plus two thousand minas of silver, and sixty-seven priests' garments. <sup>73</sup> So the priests, the Levites, the porters, the singers, some of the people, the temple servants, and all Israel, lived in their cities. When the seventh month had come, the children of Israel were in their cities.

<sup>1</sup> All the people gathered themselves together as one man into the wide place that was in front of the water gate; and they spoke to Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which Yahweh had commanded to Israel. <sup>2</sup> Ezra the priest brought the law before the assembly, both men and women, and all who could hear with understanding, on the first day of the seventh month. <sup>3</sup> He read from it before the wide place that was in front of the water gate from early morning until midday, in the presence of the men and the women, and of those who could understand. The ears of all the people were attentive to the book of the law. <sup>4</sup> Ezra the scribe stood on a pulpit of wood, which they had made for the purpose; and beside him stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiiah, Uriah, Hilkiah, and Maaseiah, on his right hand; and on his left hand, Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam. <sup>5</sup> Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up. <sup>6</sup> Then Ezra blessed Yahweh, the great God.

All the people answered, "Amen, Amen," with the lifting up of their hands. They bowed their heads, and worshiped Yahweh with their faces to the ground. <sup>7</sup> Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites, caused the people to understand the law; and the people stayed in their place. <sup>8</sup> They read in the book, in the law of God, distinctly; and they gave the sense, so that they understood the reading. <sup>9</sup> Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people, said to all the people, "Today is holy to Yahweh your God. Don't mourn, nor weep." For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law. <sup>10</sup> Then he said to them, "Go your way. Eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared, for today is holy to our Lord. Don't be grieved, for the joy of Yahweh is your strength."

<sup>12</sup> All the people went their way to eat, to drink, to send portions, and to celebrate, because they had understood the words that were declared to them. <sup>13</sup> On the second day, the heads of fathers' households of all the people, the priests, and the Levites were gathered together to Ezra the scribe, to study the words of the law. <sup>14</sup> They found written in the law how Yahweh had commanded by Moses that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month; <sup>15</sup> and that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, "Go out to the mountain, and get olive branches, branches of wild olive, myrtle branches, palm branches, and branches of thick trees, to make temporary shelters,<sup>j</sup> as it is written.”

Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, said, “Stand up and bless Yahweh your God from everlasting to everlasting! Blessed be your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise! <sup>6</sup> You are Yahweh, even you alone. You have made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their army, the earth and all things that are on it, the seas and all that is in them, and you preserve them all. The army of heaven worships you. <sup>7</sup> You are Yahweh, the God who chose Abram, brought him out of Ur of the Chaldees, gave him the name of Abraham, <sup>8</sup> found his heart faithful before you, and made a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Girgashite, to give it to his offspring,<sup>n</sup> and have performed your words; for you are righteous.

and commanded them commandments, statutes, and a law, by Moses your servant,<sup>15</sup> and gave them bread from the sky for their hunger, and brought water out of the rock for them for their thirst, and commanded them that they should go in to possess the land which you had sworn to give them.

<sup>16</sup> “But they and our fathers dealt proudly and hardened their neck, didn’t listen to your commandments,<sup>17</sup> and refused to obey. They weren’t mindful of your wonders that you did among them, but hardened their neck, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage. But you are a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and didn’t forsake them.<sup>18</sup> Yes, when they had made themselves a molten calf, and said, ‘This is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,’ and had committed awful blasphemies;<sup>19</sup> yet you in your manifold mercies didn’t forsake them in the wilderness. The pillar of cloud didn’t depart from over them by day, to lead them in the way; neither did the pillar of fire by night, to show them light, and the way in which they should go.<sup>20</sup> You gave also your good Spirit to instruct them, and didn’t withhold your manna from their mouth, and gave them water for their thirst.

their children as the stars of the sky, and brought them into the land concerning which you said to their fathers, that they should go in to possess it.

<sup>24</sup> “So the children went in and possessed the land, and you subdued before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hands, with their kings and the peoples of the land, that they might do with them as they pleased.<sup>25</sup> They took fortified cities and a rich land, and possessed houses full of all good things, cisterns dug out, vineyards, and olive groves, and fruit trees in abundance. So they ate, were filled, became fat, and delighted themselves in your great goodness.

shall live in them), turned their backs, stiffened their neck, and would not hear.<sup>30</sup> Yet many years you put up with them, and testified against them by your Spirit through your prophets. Yet would they not give ear. Therefore you gave them into the hand of the peoples of the lands.

<sup>31</sup> “Nevertheless in your manifold mercies you did not make a full end of them, nor forsake them; for you are a gracious and merciful God.<sup>32</sup> Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness, don’t let all the travail seem little before you, that has come on us, on our kings, on our princes, on our priests, on our prophets, on our fathers, and on all your people, since the time of the kings of Assyria to this day.<sup>33</sup> However you are just in all that has come on us; for you have dealt truly, but we have done wickedly.<sup>34</sup> Also our kings, our princes, our priests, and our fathers have not kept your law, nor listened to your commandments and your testimonies with which you testified against them.<sup>35</sup> For they have not served you in their kingdom, and in your great goodness that you gave them, and in the large and rich land which you gave before them. They did not turn from their wicked works.

<sup>36</sup> “Behold, we are servants today, and as for the land that you gave to our fathers to eat its fruit and its good, behold, we are servants in it.<sup>37</sup> It yields much increase to the kings whom you have set over us because of our sins. Also they have power over our bodies and over our livestock, at their pleasure, and we are in great distress.

covenant, and write it; and our princes, our Levites, and our priests, seal it.”

given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of Yahweh our Lord, and his ordinances and his statutes;<sup>30</sup> and that we would not give our daughters to the peoples of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons;<sup>31</sup> and if the peoples of the land bring wares or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, that we would not buy from them on the Sabbath, or on a holy day; and that we would forego the seventh year, and the exaction of every debt.<sup>32</sup> Also we made ordinances for ourselves, to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel<sup>o</sup> for the service of the house of our God;<sup>33</sup> for the show bread, for the continual meal offering, for the continual burnt offering, for the Sabbaths, for the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.<sup>34</sup> We cast lots, the priests, the Levites, and the people, for the wood offering, to bring it into the house of our God, according to our fathers' houses, at times appointed, year by year, to burn on Yahweh our God's altar, as it is written in the law;<sup>35</sup> and to bring the first fruits of our ground, and the first fruits of all fruit of all kinds of trees, year by year, to Yahweh's house;<sup>36</sup> also the firstborn of our sons, and of our livestock, as it is written in the law, and the firstborn of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God;<sup>37</sup> and that we should bring the first fruits of our dough, our wave offerings, the fruit of all kinds of trees, and the new wine and the oil, to the priests, to the rooms of the house of our God; and the tithes of our ground to the Levites; for they, the Levites, take the tithes in all the cities of our tillage.<sup>38</sup> The priest the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites, when the Levites take tithes. The Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the rooms, into the treasure house.<sup>39</sup> For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the wave offering of the grain, of the new wine, and of the oil, to the rooms, where the vessels of the sanctuary are, and the priests who minister, with the porters and the singers. We will not forsake the house of our God.

in Jerusalem were four hundred sixty-eight valiant men. <sup>7</sup> These are the sons of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, the son of Joed, the son of Pedaiah, the son of Kolaiah, the son of Maaseiah, the son of Ithiel, the son of Jeshaiiah. <sup>8</sup> After him Gabbai, Sallai, nine hundred twenty-eight. <sup>9</sup> Joel the son of Zichri was their overseer; and Judah the son of Hassenuah was second over the city. <sup>10</sup> Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin, <sup>11</sup> Seraiah the son of Hilkiyah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the ruler of God's house, <sup>12</sup> and their brothers who did the work of the house, eight hundred twenty-two; and Adaiah the son of Jeroham, the son of Pelaliah, the son of Amzi, the son of Zechariah, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malchijah, <sup>13</sup> and his brothers, chiefs of fathers' households, two hundred forty-two; and Amashsai the son of Azarel, the son of Ahzai, the son of Meshillemoth, the son of Immer, <sup>14</sup> and their brothers, mighty men of valor, one hundred twenty-eight; and their overseer was Zabdiel, the son of Haggadolim. <sup>15</sup> Of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Bunni; <sup>16</sup> and Shabbethai and Jozabad, of the chiefs of the Levites, who had the oversight of the outward business of God's house; <sup>17</sup> and Mattaniah the son of Mica, the son of Zabdi, the son of Asaph, who was the chief to begin the thanksgiving in prayer, and Bakbukiah, the second among his brothers; and Abda the son of Shammua, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun. <sup>18</sup> All the Levites in the holy city were two hundred eighty-four. <sup>19</sup> Moreover the porters, Akkub, Talmon, and their brothers, who kept watch at the gates, were one hundred seventy-two. <sup>20</sup> The residue of Israel, of the priests, the Levites, were in all the cities of Judah, everyone in his inheritance. <sup>21</sup> But the temple servants lived in Ophel: and Ziha and Gishpa were over the temple servants. <sup>22</sup> The overseer also of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers, over the business of God's house. <sup>23</sup> For there was a commandment from the king concerning them, and a settled provision for the singers, as every day required. <sup>24</sup> Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the children of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king's hand in all matters concerning the people. <sup>25</sup> As for the villages, with their fields, some of the children of Judah lived in Kiriath Arba and its towns, in Dibon and its towns, in Jekabzeel and its villages, <sup>26</sup> in Jeshua, in Moladah, Beth Pelet, <sup>27</sup> in Hazar Shual, in Beersheba and its towns, <sup>28</sup> in Ziklag, in Meconah and in its towns, <sup>29</sup> in En Rimmon, in Zorah, in Jarmuth, <sup>30</sup> Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and its fields, and Azekah and its towns. So they encamped from Beersheba to the valley of Hinnom. <sup>31</sup> The children of Benjamin also lived from Geba onward, at Michmash and Aija, and at Bethel and its towns, <sup>32</sup> at Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, <sup>33</sup> Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim, <sup>34</sup> Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat, <sup>35</sup> Lod, and Ono, the valley of craftsmen. <sup>36</sup> Of the Levites, certain divisions in Judah settled in Benjamin's territory.

Darius the Persian. <sup>23</sup> The sons of Levi, heads of fathers' households, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib. <sup>24</sup> The chiefs of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brothers close to them, to praise and give thanks, according to the commandment of David the man of God, watch next to watch. <sup>25</sup> Mattaniah, and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, Akkub, were porters keeping the watch at the storehouses of the gates. <sup>26</sup> These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest and scribe. <sup>27</sup> At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, both with giving thanks, and with singing, with cymbals, stringed instruments, and with harps. <sup>28</sup> The sons of the singers gathered themselves together, both out of the plain around Jerusalem and from the villages of the Netophathites; <sup>29</sup> also from Beth Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth: for the singers had built themselves villages around Jerusalem. <sup>30</sup> The priests and the Levites purified themselves; and they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall. <sup>31</sup> Then I brought up the princes of Judah on the wall, and appointed two great companies who gave thanks and went in procession. One went on the right hand on the wall toward the dung gate; <sup>32</sup> and after them went Hoshaiiah, with half of the princes of Judah, <sup>33</sup> and Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam, <sup>34</sup> Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah,

Jeremiah, <sup>35</sup> and some of the priests' sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph; <sup>36</sup> and his brothers, Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God; and Ezra the scribe was before them. <sup>37</sup> By the spring gate, and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of David's city, at the ascent of the wall, above David's house, even to the water gate eastward. <sup>38</sup> The other company of those who gave thanks went to meet them, and I after them, with the half of the people, on the wall, above the tower of the furnaces, even to the wide wall, <sup>39</sup> and above the gate of Ephraim, and by the old gate, and by the fish gate, and the tower of Hananel, and the tower of Hammeah, even to the sheep gate: and they stood still in the gate of the guard. <sup>40</sup> So the two companies of those who gave thanks in God's house stood, and I, and the half of the rulers with me; <sup>41</sup> and the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, with trumpets; <sup>42</sup> and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam, and Ezer. The singers sang loud, with Jezrahiah their overseer. <sup>43</sup> They offered great sacrifices that day, and rejoiced; for God had made them rejoice with great joy; and the women and the children also rejoiced; so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even far away. <sup>44</sup> On that day were men appointed over the rooms for the treasures, for the wave offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them, according to the fields of the cities, the portions appointed by the law for the priests and Levites; for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites who waited. <sup>45</sup> They performed the duty of their God, and the duty of the purification, and so did the singers and the porters, according to the commandment of David, and of Solomon his son. <sup>46</sup> For in the days of David and Asaph of old there was a chief of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving to God. <sup>47</sup> All Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, as every day required; and they set apart that which was for the Levites; and the Levites set apart that which was for the sons of Aaron.

<sup>1</sup> On that day they read in the book of Moses in the hearing of the people; and it was found written in it that an Ammonite and a Moabite should not enter into the assembly of God forever, <sup>2</sup> because they didn't meet the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, to curse them; however our God turned the curse into a blessing. <sup>3</sup> It came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated all the mixed multitude from Israel. <sup>4</sup> Now before this, Eliashib the priest, who was appointed over the rooms of the house of our God, being allied to Tobiah, <sup>5</sup> had prepared for him a great room, where before they laid the meal offerings, the frankincense, the vessels, and the tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, which were given by commandment to the Levites, the singers, and the porters; and the wave offerings for the priests. <sup>6</sup> But in all this, I was not at Jerusalem; for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I went to the king; and after some days I asked leave of the king, <sup>7</sup> and I came to Jerusalem, and understood the evil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in preparing him a room in the courts of God's house. <sup>8</sup> It grieved me severely. Therefore I threw all Tobiah's household stuff out of the room. <sup>9</sup> Then I commanded, and they cleansed the rooms. I brought into them the vessels of God's house, with the meal offerings and the frankincense again. <sup>10</sup> I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given them; so that the Levites and the singers, who did the work, had each fled to his field. <sup>11</sup> Then I contended with the rulers, and said, "Why is God's house forsaken?" I gathered them together, and set them in their place. <sup>12</sup> Then all Judah brought the tithe of the grain, the new wine, and the oil to the treasuries. <sup>13</sup> I made treasurers over the treasuries, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaiah: and next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah; for they were counted faithful, and their business was to distribute to their brothers.

kinds of wares, and sold on the Sabbath to the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. <sup>17</sup> Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said to them, "What evil thing is this that you do, and profane the Sabbath day? <sup>18</sup> Didn't your fathers do thus, and didn't our God bring all this evil on us, and on this city? Yet you bring more wrath on Israel by profaning the Sabbath."

<sup>19</sup> It came to pass that when the gates of Jerusalem began to be dark before the Sabbath, I commanded that the doors should be shut, and commanded that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. I set some of my servants over the gates, so that no burden should be brought in on the Sabbath day. <sup>20</sup> So the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares camped outside of Jerusalem once or twice. <sup>21</sup> Then I testified against them, and said to them, "Why do you stay around the wall? If you do so again, I will lay hands on you." From that time on, they didn't come on the Sabbath. <sup>22</sup> I commanded the Levites that they should purify themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember to me, my God, this also, and spare me according to the greatness of your loving kindness. <sup>23</sup> In those days I also saw the Jews who had married women of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab; <sup>24</sup> and their children spoke half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people. <sup>25</sup> I contended with them, and cursed them, and struck certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, "You shall not give your daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons, or for yourselves. <sup>26</sup> Didn't Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? Yet among many nations was there no king like him, and he was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Nevertheless foreign women caused even him to sin.<sup>27</sup> Shall we then listen to you to do all this great evil, to trespass against our God in marrying foreign women?"

Sanballat the Horonite; therefore I chased him from me.<sup>29</sup> Remember them, my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood and of the Levites.<sup>30</sup> Thus I cleansed them from all foreigners, and appointed duties for the priests and for the Levites, everyone in his work;<sup>31</sup> and for the wood offering, at times appointed, and for the first fruits. Remember me, my God, for good.

1

<sup>3</sup> I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many alms deeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. <sup>4</sup> And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. <sup>5</sup> And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. <sup>6</sup> And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it has been ordained to all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the first fruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. <sup>7</sup> The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: <sup>8</sup> and the third I gave to them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. <sup>9</sup> And when I became a man, I took as wife Anna of the seed of our own family, and of her I became the father of Tobias. <sup>10</sup> And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles: <sup>11</sup> but I kept myself from eating, <sup>12</sup> because I remembered God with all my soul. <sup>13</sup> And the Most High gave me grace and <sup>b</sup> favor in the sight of Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. <sup>14</sup> And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left to me, save my wife Anna and my son Tobias. <sup>21</sup> And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. And <sup>e</sup> Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anael's son. <sup>22</sup> And Achiacharus made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him next to himself: but he was my brother's son.

<sup>1</sup> Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored to me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. <sup>2</sup> And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever you shall find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and behold, I wait for you. <sup>3</sup> And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. <sup>4</sup> And before I had tasted anything, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. <sup>5</sup> And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, <sup>6</sup> and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

mourning,
And all your mirth into lamentation.

<sup>7</sup> And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, and buried him. <sup>8</sup> And my neighbors mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet he fled away: and, behold, he buries the dead again. <sup>9</sup> And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was uncovered: <sup>10</sup> and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but Achiacharus did nourish me, <sup>f</sup> until I went into Elymais.

<sup>2</sup> O Lord, you are righteous, and all your works and all your ways are mercy and truth, and you judge true and righteous judgement for ever. <sup>3</sup> Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before you: <sup>4</sup> for they disobeyed your commandments; and you gave us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. <sup>5</sup> And now many are your judgments, true are they; that you should deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep your commandments, for we walked not in truth before you. <sup>6</sup> And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in your sight, command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not your face away from me.

be a reproach to him, and I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to <sup>i</sup> the grave.

<sup>11</sup> And she prayed by the window, and said, Blessed are you, O Lord my God, and blessed is your holy and honorable name for ever: let all your works praise you for ever. <sup>12</sup> And now, Lord, I have set mine eyes and my face toward you: <sup>13</sup> command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. <sup>14</sup> You know, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, <sup>15</sup> and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he has no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife to him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleases you not to kill me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

<sup>16</sup> And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. <sup>17</sup> Raphael also was sent to heal them both, to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodaeus the evil <sup>j</sup> spirit; because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may show to him of the money before I die? <sup>3</sup> And he called him, and said,

My child, <sup>k</sup> when I die, bury me: and despise not your mother; honor her all the days of your life, and do that which is pleasing to her, and grieve her not. <sup>4</sup> Remember, my child, that she has seen many dangers for you, when you were in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. <sup>5</sup> My child, be mindful of the Lord our God all your days, and let not your will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of your life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. <sup>6</sup> For if you do the truth, your doings shall prosperously succeed to you, and to all them that do righteousness. <sup>7</sup> Give alms of your substance; and when you give alms, let not your eye be envious: turn not away your face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from you. <sup>8</sup> As your substance is, give alms of it according to your abundance: if you have little, be not afraid to give alms according to that little: <sup>9</sup> for you lay up a good treasure for yourself against the day of necessity: <sup>10</sup> because alms delivers from death, and suffers not to come into darkness. <sup>11</sup> Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. <sup>12</sup> Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of your fathers, and take not a strange wife, which is not of your father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. <sup>13</sup> And now, my child, love your brethren, and scorn not in your heart your brethren, and the sons and the daughters of your people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great lack: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. <sup>14</sup> Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for you, wait with you, but render it to him out of hand: and if you serve God, recompense shall be made to you. Take heed to yourself, my child, in all your works, and be discreet in all your behavior. <sup>15</sup> And what you yourself hate, do to no man. Drink not wine to drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with you on your way. <sup>16</sup> Give of your bread to the hungry, and of your garments to them that are naked: of all your abundance give alms; and let not your eye be envious when you give alms. <sup>17</sup> Pour out your bread on the <sup>l</sup> burial of the just, and give nothing to sinners. <sup>18</sup> Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. <sup>19</sup> And bless the Lord your God at all times, and ask of him that your ways may be made straight, and that all your paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation has not counsel; but the Lord himself gives all good things, and he humbles whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of your mind. <sup>20</sup> And now I show you of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media. <sup>21</sup> And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: you have much wealth, if you fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5

<sup>1</sup> And Tobias answered and said to him, Father, I will do all things, whatever you have commanded me: <sup>2</sup> but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? <sup>3</sup> And he gave him the handwriting, and said to him, Seek you a man which shall go with you, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. <sup>4</sup> And he went to seek a man, and found Raphael which was an angel; <sup>5</sup> and he knew it not; and he said to him, Can I go with you to Rages of Media? and know you the places well? <sup>6</sup> And the angel said to him, I will go with you, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. <sup>7</sup> And Tobias said to him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. <sup>8</sup> And he said to him, Go, and wait not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him to me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with you.

<sup>9</sup> And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. <sup>10</sup> And Tobit said to him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family are you? Show me. <sup>11</sup> And he said to him, Seek you a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with your son? And Tobit said to him, I would know, brother, your kindred and your name. <sup>12</sup> And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of your brethren. <sup>13</sup> And he said to him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know your tribe and family: and you are my brother, of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray in the error of our brethren: my brother, you are of a great stock. <sup>14</sup> But tell me, what wages shall I give you? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for you, as to my son? <sup>15</sup> And moreover, if you return safe and sound, I will add something to your wages. <sup>16</sup> And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare yourself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said to him, Go you with this man; but God, which dwells in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.

<sup>1</sup> Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river Tigris, and they lodged there. <sup>2</sup> But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. <sup>3</sup> But the angel said to him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. <sup>4</sup> And the angel said to him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. <sup>5</sup> And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatana. <sup>6</sup> And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? <sup>7</sup> And he said to him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a <sup>m</sup> devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. <sup>8</sup> But as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that has white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

<sup>9</sup> But when they drew near to Rages, <sup>10</sup> the angel said to the young man, Brother, today we shall lodge with Raguel, and he is your kinsman; and he has an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given you for a wife. <sup>11</sup> For to you does the inheritance of her appertain, and you only are of her kindred: <sup>12</sup> and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he shall be liable to death, because it appertains to you to take the inheritance, rather than any other. <sup>13</sup> Then the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid has been given to seven men, and that they all perished in the bride-chamber. <sup>14</sup> And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a <sup>n</sup> devil loves her, which hurts no man, but those which come to her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. <sup>15</sup> But the angel said to him, Do you not remember the words which your father commanded you, that you should take a wife of your own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be your wife; and make you no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given you to wife. <sup>16</sup> And <sup>o</sup> when you shall come into the bride-chamber, you shall take the ashes of incense, and shall lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shall make a smoke therewith: <sup>17</sup> and the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when you go near to her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for you from the beginning; and you shall save her, and she shall go with you. And I suppose that you shall have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

<sup>1</sup> And they came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them, and they her; and she brought them into the house. <sup>2</sup> And he said to Edna his wife, How like is the young man to Tobit my cousin. <sup>3</sup> And Raguel asked them, From whence are you<sup>63</sup>, brethren? And they said to him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, which are captives in Nineveh. <sup>4</sup> And he said to them, Know you<sup>63</sup> Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said to them, Is he in good health? <sup>5</sup> But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father. <sup>6</sup> And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and wept, <sup>7</sup> and blessed him, and said to him, You are the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; <sup>8</sup> and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which you did talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. <sup>9</sup> And he communicated the thing to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: <sup>10</sup> for it appertains to you to take my child. Howbeit I will show you the truth. <sup>11</sup> I have given my child to seven men, and whenever they came in to her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until you<sup>63</sup> make covenant and enter into covenant with me. <sup>12</sup> And Raguel said, Take her to yourself from henceforth according to the manner:

you are her brother, and she is your: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. <sup>13</sup> And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to yourself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to your father. And he blessed them; <sup>14</sup> And he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. <sup>15</sup> And they began to eat.

8

You made Adam, and gave him Eve his wife for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: you did say, it is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like to him. <sup>7</sup> And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. <sup>8</sup> And she said with him, Amen. And they slept both that night.

Blessed are you, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let your saints bless you, and all your creatures; and let all your angels and your elect bless you for ever. <sup>16</sup> Blessed are you, because you have made me glad; and it has not befallen me as I suspected; but you have dealt with us according to your great mercy. <sup>17</sup> Blessed are you, because you have had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: show them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

<sup>18</sup> But he commanded his servants to fill the grave. <sup>19</sup> And he kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. <sup>20</sup> And before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware to him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; <sup>21</sup> and that then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when I and my wife shall die.

9

<sup>1</sup> And Tobias called Raphael, and said to him, <sup>2</sup> Brother Azarias, take with you a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast: <sup>3</sup> because Raguel has sworn that I shall not depart; <sup>4</sup> and my father counts the days; and if I wait long, he will be sorely grieved. <sup>5</sup> And Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: but he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. <sup>6</sup> And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

10

they went, and did eat no bread in the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said to Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. <sup>8</sup> But his father in law said to him, Abide with me, and I will send to your father, and they shall declare to him how things go with you. <sup>9</sup> And Tobias says, No; but send me away to my father. <sup>10</sup> But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; <sup>11</sup> and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. <sup>12</sup> And he said to his daughter, Honor your father and your mother in law; they are now your parents; let me hear a good report of you. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore you, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see your children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter to you in special trust: vex her not.

them. <sup>5</sup> And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. <sup>6</sup> And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, your son comes, and the man that went with him. <sup>7</sup> And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that your father will open his eyes. <sup>8</sup> Do you therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see you.

<sup>9</sup> And Anna ran to him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said to him, I have seen you, my child; from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. <sup>10</sup> And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran to him, <sup>11</sup> and took hold of his father: and he struck the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. <sup>12</sup> But when his eyes began to hurt, he rubbed them; <sup>13</sup> and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck. <sup>14</sup> And he wept, and said, Blessed are you, O God, and blessed is your name for ever, and blessed are all your holy angels; <sup>15</sup> for you did scourge, and did have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

<sup>16</sup> And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marveled, because he had received his sight. <sup>17</sup> And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had showed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which has brought you to us, and blessed are your father and your mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh. <sup>18</sup> And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: <sup>19</sup> and Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

<sup>1</sup> And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said to him, See, my child, that the man which went with you have his wages, and you must give him more. <sup>2</sup> And he said to him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought: <sup>3</sup> for he has led me for you in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured you. <sup>4</sup> And the old man said, It is due to him. <sup>5</sup> And he called the angel, and said to him, Take the half of all that you<sup>23</sup> have brought. <sup>6</sup> Then he called them both privily, and said to them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he has done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, showing forth with honor the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. <sup>7</sup> It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil shall not find you. <sup>8</sup> Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: <sup>9</sup> alms does deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; <sup>10</sup> but they that sin are enemies to their own life. <sup>11</sup> Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. <sup>12</sup> And now, when you did pray, and Sarah your daughter in law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when you did bury the dead, I was with you likewise. <sup>13</sup> And when you did not delay to rise up, and leave your dinner, that you might go and cover the dead, your good deed was not hid from me: but I was with you. <sup>14</sup> And now God did send me to heal you and Sarah your daughter in law. <sup>15</sup> I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

Blessed is God that lives for ever,
And blessed is his kingdom.

He leads down to <sup>t</sup> the grave, and brings
up again:
And there is none that shall escape his
hand.

<sup>3</sup> Give thanks to him before the Gentiles, you<sup>63</sup> children of Israel:

For he has scattered us among them.

<sup>4</sup> There declare his greatness,
And extol him before all the living:
Because he is our Lord,
And God is our Father for ever.

<sup>5</sup> And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again
show mercy,
And will gather us out of all the nations
among whom you<sup>63</sup> are scattered.

heart and with your whole
soul,
To do truth before him,
Then will he turn to you,
And will not hide his face from you.
And see what he will do with you,
And give him thanks with your whole
mouth,
And bless the Lord of righteousness,
And exalt the everlasting King.
I in the land of my captivity give him
thanks,
And show his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.
Turn, you<sup>63</sup> sinners, and do righteousness before him:
Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

<sup>7</sup> I exalt my God,
And my soul does exalt the King of
heaven,

And it shall rejoice in his greatness.

<sup>8</sup> Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks in Jerusalem.

<sup>9</sup> O Jerusalem, the holy city,
He will scourge you for the works of your sons,
And will again have mercy on the sons
of the righteous.

<sup>10</sup> Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,
And bless the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded in
you again with joy,
And that he may make glad in you
those that are captives,
And love in you for ever those that are miserable.

<sup>11</sup> Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God With gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; Generations of generations shall praise
you,
And sing songs of rejoicing.

<sup>12</sup> Cursed are all they that hate you;
Blessed shall be all they that love you
for ever.

<sup>13</sup> Rejoice and be exceeding glad for the sons of the righteous:
For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the
righteous.

<sup>14</sup> O blessed are they that love you;
They shall rejoice for your peace:
Blessed are all they that sorrowed for
all your scourges:
Because they shall rejoice for you,

When they have seen all your glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.

<sup>15</sup> Let my soul bless God the great King.

sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;
Your walls and towers and battlements
with pure gold.

<sup>17</sup> And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Ophir.

<sup>18</sup> And all her streets shall say,
Hallelujah, and give praise, Saying, Blessed is God, which has exalted you for ever.

<sup>1</sup> And Tobit made an end of giving thanks. <sup>2</sup> And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again: and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks to him.

<sup>3</sup> Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said to
him,

My child, take your sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. <sup>4</sup> Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah
the prophet spoke of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time;
<sup>5</sup> and God shall again have mercy on them,
and bring them back into the land, and they shall build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honor, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spoke concerning it. <sup>6</sup> And all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols. <sup>7</sup> And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks to God, and the Lord shall exalt

his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, showing mercy to our brethren. <sup>8</sup>
And now, my child, depart from Nineveh,
because those things which the prophet
Jonah spoke shall surely come to pass. <sup>9</sup>
But keep you the law and the ordinances,
and show yourself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with you. <sup>10</sup> And bury me decently, and your mother with me; and dwell you no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Achiacharus that nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. <sup>11</sup> And now, my children, consider what alms does, and how righteousness does deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him magnificently. <sup>12</sup> And when Anna died, he buried her with his father.
But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana to Raguel his father in law, <sup>13</sup> and he grew old in honor, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. <sup>14</sup> And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. <sup>15</sup> And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

1

<sup>1</sup> IN the twelfth year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned over the Assyrians in Nineveh, the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, who reigned over the Medes in Ecbatana, <sup>2</sup> and built at Ecbatana and round about it walls of hewn stones three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits; <sup>3</sup> and set the towers thereof at the gates thereof, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits; <sup>4</sup> and made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty hosts, and the setting in array of his footmen: <sup>5</sup> even in those days king Nebuchadnezzar made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain: this plain is in the borders of Ragau. <sup>6</sup> And there came to meet him all that lived in the hill country, and all that lived by Euphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and in the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymaeans; and many nations of the sons of Chelod assembled themselves to the battle.

<sup>7</sup> And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent to all that lived in Persia, and to all that lived westward, to those that lived in Cilicia and Damascus and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that lived over against the sea coast, <sup>8</sup> and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the great plain of Esdraelon, <sup>9</sup> and to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond

Jordan to Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kadesh, and the river of Egypt, and Tahpanhes, and Rameses, and all the land of Goshen, <sup>10</sup> until you come above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that lived in Egypt, until you come to the borders of Ethiopia. <sup>11</sup> And all they that lived in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace.

<sup>12</sup> And Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding angry with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would kill with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judaea, and all that were in Egypt, until you come to the borders of the two seas. <sup>13</sup> And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; <sup>14</sup> and he became master of his cities, and he came even to Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. <sup>15</sup> And he took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and struck him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, to this day. <sup>16</sup> And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war,

<sup>1</sup> And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spoke. <sup>2</sup> And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his own mouth. <sup>3</sup> And they decreed to destroy all flesh which followed not the word of his mouth. <sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, which was next after himself, and said to him,

near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia. <sup>22</sup> And he took all his host, his footmen and horsemen and chariots, and went away from thence into the hill country, <sup>23</sup> and destroyed Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of Ishmael, which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chellians. <sup>24</sup> And he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until you come to the sea. <sup>25</sup> And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia. <sup>26</sup> And he compassed about all the children of Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled their sheepcotes. <sup>27</sup> And he went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and struck all their young men with the edge of the sword.

<sup>28</sup> And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that lived on the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that lived in Sur and Ocina, and all that lived in Jemnaan; and they that lived in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

our country, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheepcotes of our tents, lie before your face: use them as it may please you. <sup>4</sup> Behold, even our cities and they that dwell in them are your servants: come and deal with them as it is good in your eyes. <sup>5</sup> And the men came to Holofernes, and declared to him according to these words.

<sup>6</sup> And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. <sup>7</sup> And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. <sup>8</sup> And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given to him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes should call upon him as god. <sup>9</sup> And he came towards Esdraelon near to Dotaea, which is over against the great ridge of Judaea. <sup>10</sup> And he encamped between Geba and Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

captivity, and all the people of Judaea were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

<sup>4</sup> And they sent into every coast of Samaria, and to Konae, and to Beth-horon, and Belmaim, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Aesora, and to the valley of Salem; <sup>5</sup> and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: for their fields were newly reaped. <sup>6</sup> And Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that lived in Bethulia, and Betomesthaim, which is over against Esdraelon toward the plain that is near to Dothaim, <sup>7</sup> charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judaea, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. <sup>8</sup> And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which lived at Jerusalem.

consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. <sup>13</sup> And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judaea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. <sup>14</sup> And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered to the Lord, had their loins girded about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; <sup>15</sup> and they had ashes on their mitres: and they cried to the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of your servant, and I will tell you the truth concerning this people, which dwells in this hill country, near to the place where you dwell: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of your servant. <sup>6</sup> This people are descended of the Chaldeans: <sup>7</sup> and they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the Chaldeans. <sup>8</sup> And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. <sup>9</sup> And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they lived there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. <sup>10</sup> And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. <sup>11</sup> And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, <sup>b</sup> and brought them low, making them to labor in brick, and made them slaves. <sup>12</sup> And they cried to their God, and he struck all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. <sup>13</sup> And God dried up the Red sea before them, <sup>14</sup> and brought them into the way of Sinai, and Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that lived in the wilderness. <sup>15</sup> And they lived in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country. <sup>16</sup> And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they lived in that country many days. <sup>17</sup> And while they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hates iniquity was with them. <sup>18</sup> But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. <sup>19</sup> And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. <sup>20</sup> And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. <sup>21</sup> But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

<sup>22</sup> And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that lived by the sea side, and in Moab, spoke that he should kill him. <sup>23</sup> For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: for, behold, it is a people that has no power nor might

to make the battle strong. <sup>24</sup> Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all your army, lord Holofernes.

<sup>1</sup> And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said to Achior and to all the children of <sup>c</sup> Moab before all the people of the aliens,

<sup>2</sup> And who are you, Achior, and the hirelings of <sup>d</sup> Ephraim, that you have prophesied among us as today, and have said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? <sup>3</sup> He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall strike them as one man; and they shall not sustain the might of our horses. <sup>4</sup> For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, says king Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that <sup>e</sup> I have spoken shall not be in vain. <sup>5</sup> But you, Achior, hireling of Ammon, which have spoken these words in the day of your iniquity, shall see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. <sup>6</sup> And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through your sides, and you shall fall among their slain, when I shall return. <sup>7</sup> And my servants shall bring you back into the hill country, and shall set you in one of the cities of the ascents: <sup>8</sup> and you shall not perish, till you be destroyed with them. <sup>9</sup> And if you hope in your heart that they shall not be taken, let not your countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words shall fall to the ground. <sup>10</sup> And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him back to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel. <sup>11</sup> And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came to the fountains that were under Bethulia. <sup>12</sup> And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against them. <sup>13</sup> And they got them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away to their lord. <sup>14</sup> But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city; <sup>15</sup> which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. <sup>16</sup> And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had happened: <sup>17</sup> and he answered and declared to them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. <sup>18</sup> And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, <sup>19</sup> O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified to you this day. <sup>20</sup> And they comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. <sup>21</sup> And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

<sup>4</sup> But the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were troubled exceedingly, and said every one to his neighbor, Now shall these men lick up the face of all the earth; and neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, shall be able to bear their weight. <sup>5</sup> And every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

<sup>8</sup> And there came to him all the rulers of the children of Esau, and all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said,

<sup>9</sup> Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in your host. <sup>10</sup> For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains. <sup>11</sup> And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of your people perish. <sup>12</sup> Remain in your camp, and keep safe every man of your host, and let your servants get possession of the fountain of water, which issues forth of the foot of the mountain: <sup>13</sup> because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. <sup>14</sup> And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. <sup>15</sup> And you shall render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not your face in peace.

men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. <sup>23</sup> And all the people were gathered together against Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

<sup>24</sup> God be judge between you and us: because you<sup>63</sup> have done us great wrong, in that you<sup>63</sup> have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. <sup>25</sup> And now we have no helper: but God has sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. <sup>26</sup> And now call them to you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. <sup>27</sup> For it is better for us to be made a spoil to them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death. <sup>28</sup> We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punishes us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

8

<sup>1</sup> And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadai, the son of Israel. <sup>2</sup> And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in the days of barley harvest. <sup>3</sup> For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothaim and Balamon. <sup>4</sup> And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. <sup>5</sup> And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of her widowhood were upon her. <sup>6</sup> And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the Sabbaths, and the Sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. <sup>7</sup> And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. <sup>8</sup> And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard all the words that Ozias spoke to them, how he sware to them that he would deliver the city to the Assyrians after five days. <sup>10</sup> And she sent her maid, that was over all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the elders of her city. <sup>11</sup> And they came to her, and she said to them,

Hear me now, O you<sup>23</sup> rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that you<sup>23</sup> have spoken before the people this day is not right, and you<sup>23</sup> have set the oath which you<sup>23</sup> have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. <sup>12</sup> And now who are you<sup>23</sup> that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? <sup>13</sup> And now try the Lord Almighty, and you<sup>23</sup> shall never know anything. <sup>14</sup> For you<sup>23</sup> shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and you<sup>23</sup> shall not perceive the things that he thinks: and how shall you<sup>23</sup> search out God, which has made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger. <sup>15</sup> For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he has power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. <sup>16</sup> But do not you<sup>23</sup> pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by entreaty. <sup>17</sup> Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that comes from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him. <sup>18</sup> For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us today, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; <sup>19</sup> for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. <sup>20</sup> But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. <sup>21</sup> For if we be taken so, all Judaea shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. <sup>22</sup> And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wherever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. <sup>23</sup> For our bondage shall not be ordered to favor: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonor. <sup>24</sup> And now, brethren, let us show an example to our brethren, because their soul hangs upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. <sup>25</sup> Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which tries us, even as he did our fathers also. <sup>26</sup> Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. <sup>27</sup> For he has not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither has he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord does scourge them that come near to him, to admonish them.

<sup>28</sup> And Ozias said to her, All that you have spoken have you spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay your words. <sup>29</sup> For this is not the first day wherein your wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of your days all the people have known your understanding, because the disposition of your heart is good. <sup>30</sup> But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spoke to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. <sup>31</sup> And now pray you for us, because you are a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. <sup>32</sup> And Judith said to them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. <sup>33</sup> You<sup>33</sup> shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which you<sup>33</sup> said that you<sup>33</sup> would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. <sup>34</sup> But you<sup>33</sup> shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it to you, till the things be finished that I do. <sup>35</sup> And Ozias and the rulers said to her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before you, to take vengeance on our enemies. <sup>36</sup> And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

9

<sup>1</sup> But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried to the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

profaned the womb to her reproach; for you said, It shall not be so; and they did so: <sup>3</sup> wherefore you gave their rulers to be slain, and their bed, <sup>f</sup> which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and struck the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; <sup>4</sup> and gave their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among your dear children; which were moved with zeal for you, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon you for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. <sup>5</sup> For you wrought the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and you did devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which you did devise came to pass; <sup>6</sup> yes, the things which you did determine stood before you, and said, Behold, we are here: for all your ways are prepared, and your judgement is with foreknowledge. <sup>7</sup> For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the <sup>g</sup> strength of their footmen; they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that you are the Lord that breaks the battles: the Lord is your name. <sup>8</sup> Dash you down their strength in your power, and bring down their force in your wrath: for they have purposed to profane your sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where your glorious name rests, and to cast down with the sword the horn of your altar. <sup>9</sup> Look upon their pride, and send your wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. <sup>10</sup> Strike by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman. <sup>11</sup> For your power stands not in multitude, nor your might in strong men: but you are a God of the afflicted, you are a helper of the <sup>h</sup> oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a savior of them that are without hope. <sup>12</sup> Yes, yes, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth. Creator of the waters, King <sup>i</sup> of every creature, hear you my prayer: <sup>13</sup> and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed hard things against your covenant, and your hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of your children. <sup>14</sup> And make every nation and tribe of your to know that you are God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protects the race of Israel but you.

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry to the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, <sup>2</sup> that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she was wont to abide on the Sabbath days and on her feast days, <sup>3</sup> and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of

Manasses her husband. <sup>4</sup> And she took sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to decieve the eyes of all men that should see her. <sup>5</sup> And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn and lumps of figs and <sup>j</sup> fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

<sup>6</sup> And they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing thereby Ozias, and the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis. <sup>7</sup> But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said to her, <sup>8</sup> The God of our fathers give you favor, and accomplish your purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. And she worshipped God, <sup>9</sup> and said to them, Command that they open to me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things whereof you <sup>k</sup> spoke with me. And they commanded the young men to open to her, as she had spoken: <sup>10</sup> and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. <sup>11</sup> And they went straight onward in the valley: and the watch of the Assyrians met her; <sup>12</sup> and they took her, and asked her, Of what people are you? and whence come you? and whither go you? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; because they are about to be given you to be consumed: <sup>13</sup> and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will show before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. <sup>14</sup> Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceeding marvelous in their eyes, and they said to her, <sup>15</sup> You have saved your life, in that you have hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct you, until they shall deliver you into his hands. <sup>16</sup> But <sup>k</sup> when you stand before him, be not afraid in your heart, but declare to him according to your words; and he shall entreat you well. <sup>17</sup> And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. <sup>22</sup> And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. <sup>23</sup> But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marveled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence to him: and his servants raised her up.

<sup>1</sup> And Holofernes said to her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in your heart: for I never hurt any that has chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of all the earth. <sup>2</sup> And now, if your people that dwells in the hill country had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. <sup>3</sup> And now tell me wherefore you did flee from them, and came to us: for you are come to save yourself; be of good comfort, you shall live this night, and hereafter: <sup>4</sup> for there is none that shall wrong you, but all shall entreat you well, as is done to the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. <sup>5</sup> And Judith said to him,

Receive the words of your servant, and let your handmaid speak in your presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night. <sup>6</sup> And if you shall follow the words of your handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with you; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. <sup>7</sup> As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth lives, and as his power lives, who has sent you for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by you, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through your strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. <sup>8</sup> For we have heard of your wisdom and the subtil devices of your soul, and it has been reported in all the earth, that you only are brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. <sup>9</sup> And now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in your council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared to them all that he had spoken before you. <sup>10</sup> Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word; but lay it up in your heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. <sup>11</sup> And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin has overtaken them, wherewith they shall provoke their God to anger, whenever they shall do wickedness. <sup>12</sup> Since their food failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: <sup>13</sup> and they are resolved to spend the first fruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. <sup>14</sup> And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from the senate. <sup>15</sup> And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given you to be destroyed the same day. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore I your servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with you, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. <sup>17</sup> For your servant is religious, and serves the God of heaven day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with you, and your servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray to God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: <sup>18</sup> and I will come and show it also to you; and you shall go forth with all your host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist you. <sup>19</sup> And I will lead you through the midst of Judaea, until you come over against Jerusalem; and I will set your seat in the midst thereof; and you shall drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before you: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared to me, and I was sent to tell you.

<sup>1</sup> And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. <sup>2</sup> And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. <sup>3</sup> And Holofernes said to her, But if the things that be with you should fail, whence shall we be able to give you the like? for there is none of your race with us. <sup>4</sup> And Judith said to him, As your soul lives, my lord, your servant shall not spend those things that be with me, until the Lord work by my hand the things that he has determined. <sup>5</sup> And the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, <sup>6</sup> and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer your servant to go forth to prayer. <sup>7</sup> And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself at the fountain of water in the camp. <sup>8</sup> And when she came up, she implored the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of his people. <sup>9</sup> And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with you, that she come to us, and eat and drink with us. <sup>12</sup> For, behold, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not to us, she shall laugh us to scorn. <sup>13</sup> And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honored in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>14</sup> And Judith said to him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy to the day of my death. <sup>15</sup> And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. <sup>16</sup> And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. <sup>17</sup> And Holofernes said to her, Drink now, and be merry with us. <sup>18</sup> And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. <sup>19</sup> And she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. <sup>20</sup> And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

<sup>1</sup> But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. <sup>2</sup> But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was overflowed with wine. <sup>3</sup> And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayer; and she spoke to Bagoas according to the same words. <sup>4</sup> And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> For now is the time to help your inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. <sup>6</sup> And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his scimitar from thence; <sup>7</sup> And she drew near to the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. <sup>8</sup> And she struck twice upon his neck with all her might, and took away his head from him, <sup>9</sup> and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; <sup>10</sup> and she put it in her bag of food: and they twain went forth together to prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

<sup>11</sup> And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to show his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he has done even this day. <sup>12</sup> And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together the elders of the city. <sup>13</sup> And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange to them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. <sup>14</sup> And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who has not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but has destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. <sup>15</sup> And she took forth the head out of the bag, and showed it, and said to them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord struck him by the hand of a woman. <sup>16</sup> And as the Lord lives, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. <sup>17</sup> And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed are you, O our God, which have this day brought to nothing the enemies of your people. <sup>18</sup> And Ozias said to her, Blessed are you, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord

God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed you to the striking of the head of the prince of our enemies. <sup>19</sup> For your hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. <sup>20</sup> And God turn these things to you for a perpetual praise, to visit you with good things, because you did not spare your life by reason of the affliction of our race, but did avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

<sup>1</sup> And Judith said to them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement of your wall. <sup>2</sup> And it shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, you<sup>23</sup> shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and you<sup>23</sup> shall set a captain over them, as though you<sup>23</sup> would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; and you<sup>23</sup> shall not go down. <sup>3</sup> And these shall take up their panopies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: and fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face. <sup>4</sup> And you<sup>23</sup>, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go. <sup>5</sup> But before you<sup>23</sup> do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to death.

head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit failed. <sup>7</sup> But when <sup>1</sup> they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and did reverence to her, and said, Blessed are you in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing your name shall be troubled. <sup>8</sup> And now tell me all the things that you have done in these days. And Judith declared to him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time that she spoke to them. <sup>9</sup> But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. <sup>10</sup> But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined to the house of Israel, to this day.

<sup>11</sup> But as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands to the ascents of the mountain. <sup>12</sup> But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and there to their leaders; but they went to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers. <sup>13</sup> And they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed. <sup>14</sup> And Bagoas went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with Judith. <sup>15</sup> But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from

him. <sup>16</sup> And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and tore his garments. <sup>17</sup> And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud, <sup>18</sup> The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews has brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes lies upon the ground, and his head is not on him. <sup>19</sup> But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they tore their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the borders thereof. <sup>6</sup> But the residue, that lived at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, and were enriched exceedingly. <sup>7</sup> But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and got possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

<sup>8</sup> And Joakim the high priest, and the senate of the children of Israel that lived in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had showed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her. <sup>9</sup> But when they came to her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said to her, You are the exaltation of Jerusalem, you are the great glory of Israel, you are the great rejoicing of our race: <sup>10</sup> you have done all these things by your hand: you have done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be you with the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it. <sup>11</sup> And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave to Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

<sup>12</sup> And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took <sup>m</sup> branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. <sup>13</sup> And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armor with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

16

Begin to my God with timbrels,
Sing to my Lord with cymbals:
Tune to him psalm and praise:
Exalt him, and call upon his name.

<sup>3</sup> For the Lord is the God that breaks the battles:
For in his armies in the midst of the
people
He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

<sup>4</sup> Asshur came out of the mountains
from the north,
He came with ten thousands of his host,
The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,
And their horsemen covered the hills.

<sup>5</sup> He said that he would burn up my borders,
And kill my young men with the sword,
And throw my sucking children to the
ground,
And give mine infants for a prey,
And make my virgins a spoil.

nothing by the hand of a woman.

 young men,
 Neither did sons of the Titans strike
 him.
 Nor did high giants set upon him:
 But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

<sup>8</sup> For she put off the apparel of her widowhood
 For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,
 She anointed her face with ointment,
 And bound her hair in a tire,
 And took a linen garment to deceive
 him.

<sup>9</sup> Her sandal ravished his eye,
 And her beauty took his soul prisoner:
 The scimitar passed through his neck.

 And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

<sup>11</sup> Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,
 And my weak ones were terrified and
 crouched for fear:
 They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

<sup>12</sup> The sons of damsels pierced them
 through,
 And wounded them as runagates'
 children;
 They perished by the battle of my Lord.

<sup>13</sup> I will sing to my God a new song:
 O Lord, you are great and glorious,
 Marvelous in strength, invincible.

<sup>14</sup> Let all your creation serve you:
 For you spoke, and they were made,
 You did send forth your spirit, and it
 builded them,
 And there is none that shall resist your
 voice.

<sup>15</sup> For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with
 the waters,
 And the rocks shall melt as wax at your
 presence:
 But you are yet merciful to them that
 fear you.

<sup>16</sup> For all sacrifice is little for a sweet
 savor,
 And all the fat is very little for a whole
 burnt offering to you:
 But he that fears the Lord is great
 continually.

<sup>17</sup> Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:
 The Lord Almighty will take vengeance
 of them in the day of
 judgement,
 To put fire and worms in their flesh;
 And they shall weep and feel their pain
 for ever.

<sup>18</sup> Now when they came to Jerusalem,
 they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their free will offerings, and their gifts. <sup>19</sup> And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift to the Lord. <sup>20</sup>
 And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. <sup>21</sup> But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honorable in her time in all the land. <sup>22</sup> And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life, from the day that

Manasses her husband died and was gathered to his people. <sup>23</sup> And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, to a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free: and she died in Bethulia; and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses. <sup>24</sup> And the house of Israel mourned for her seven days: and she distributed her goods before she died to all them that were nearest of kin to Manasses her husband, and to them that were nearest of her own kindred. <sup>25</sup> And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

The Book of

1

<sup>10</sup> On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcass, the seven eunuchs who served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king, <sup>11</sup> to bring Vashti the queen before the king with the royal crown, to show the people and the princes her beauty; for she was beautiful. <sup>12</sup> But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by the eunuchs. Therefore the king was very angry, and his anger burned in him. <sup>13</sup> Then the king said to the wise men, who knew the times, (for it was the king's custom to consult those who knew law and judgment; <sup>14</sup> and the next to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who saw the king's face, and sat first in the kingdom), <sup>15</sup> "What shall we do to the queen Vashti according to law, because she has not done the bidding of the King Ahasuerus by the eunuchs?"

heard of the queen's deed will tell all the king's princes. This will cause much contempt and wrath.

<sup>19</sup> "If it please the king, let a royal commandment go from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, so that it cannot be altered, that Vashti may never again come before King Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate to another who is better than she. <sup>20</sup> When the king's decree which he shall make is published throughout all his kingdom (for it is great), all the wives will give their husbands honor, both great and small."

<sup>5</sup> There was a certain Jew in the citadel of Susa, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite, <sup>6</sup> who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captives who had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away. <sup>7</sup> He brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter; for she had neither father nor mother. The maiden was fair and beautiful; and when her father and mother were dead, Mordecai took her for his own daughter. <sup>8</sup> So, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together to the citadel of Susa, to the custody of Hegai, Esther was taken into the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women. <sup>9</sup> The maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness from him. He quickly gave her cosmetics and her portions of food, and the seven choice maidens who were to be given her out of the king's house. He moved her and her maidens to the best place in the women's house. <sup>10</sup> Esther had not made known her people nor her relatives, because Mordecai had instructed her that she should not make it known. <sup>11</sup> Mordecai walked every day in front of the court of the women's house, to find out how Esther was doing, and what would become of her.

she desired was given her to go with her out of the women's house to the king's house.<sup>14</sup> In the evening she went, and on the next day she returned into the second women's house, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch, who kept the concubines. She came in to the king no more, unless the king delighted in her, and she was called by name.<sup>15</sup> Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, came to go in to the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's eunuch, the keeper of the women, advised. Esther obtained favor in the sight of all those who looked at her.<sup>16</sup> So Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus into his royal house in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.<sup>17</sup> The king loved Esther more than all the women, and she obtained favor and kindness in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown on her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

<sup>18</sup> Then the king made a great feast for all his princes and his servants, even Esther's feast; and he proclaimed a holiday in the provinces, and gave gifts according to the king's bounty.

hands on the King Ahasuerus.<sup>22</sup> This thing became known to Mordecai, who informed Esther the queen; and Esther informed the king in Mordecai's name.<sup>23</sup> When this matter was investigated, and it was found to be so, they were both hanged on a tree; and it was written in the book of the chronicles in the king's presence.

3

said to King Ahasuerus, “There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom, and their laws are different than other people’s. They don’t keep the king’s laws. Therefore it is not for the king’s profit to allow them to remain. <sup>9</sup> If it pleases the king, let it be written that they be destroyed; and I will pay ten thousand talents<sup>a</sup> of silver into the hands of those who are in charge of the king’s business, to bring it into the king’s treasuries.”

<sup>10</sup> The king took his ring from his hand, and gave it to Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews’ enemy. <sup>11</sup> The king said to Haman, “The silver is given to you, the people also, to do with them as it seems good to you.” <sup>12</sup> Then the king’s scribes were called in on the first month, on the thirteenth day of the month; and all that Haman commanded was written to the king’s satraps, and to the governors who were over every province, and to the princes of every people, to every province according to its writing, and to every people in their language. It was written in the name of King Ahasuerus, and it was sealed with the king’s ring. <sup>13</sup> Letters were sent by couriers into all the king’s provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to plunder their possessions. <sup>14</sup> A copy of the letter, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, that they should be ready against that day. <sup>15</sup> The couriers went out in haste by the king’s commandment, and the decree was given out in the citadel of Susa. The king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

<sup>9</sup> Hathach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai. <sup>10</sup> Then Esther spoke to Hathach, and gave him a message to Mordecai: <sup>11</sup> “All the king’s servants, and the people of the king’s provinces, know, that whoever, whether man or woman, comes to the king into the inner court without being called, there is one law for him, that he be put to death, except those to whom the king might hold out the golden scepter, that he may live. I have not been called to come in to the king these thirty days.”

<sup>13</sup> Then Mordecai asked them return answer to Esther, “Don’t think to yourself that you will escape in the king’s house any more than all the Jews. <sup>14</sup> For if you remain silent now, then relief and deliverance will come to the Jews from another place, but you and your father’s house will perish. Who knows if you haven’t come to the kingdom for such a time as this?”

<sup>15</sup> Then Esther asked them to answer Mordecai, <sup>16</sup> “Go, gather together all the Jews who are present in Shushan, and fast for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day. I and my maidens will also fast the same way. Then I will go in to the king, which is against the law; and if I perish, I perish.” <sup>17</sup> So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

<sup>1</sup> Now on the third day, Esther put on her royal clothing, and stood in the inner court of the king’s house, next to the king’s house. The king sat on his royal throne in the royal house, next to the entrance of the house. <sup>2</sup> When the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, she obtained favor in his sight; and the king held out to Esther the golden scepter that was in his hand. So Esther came near, and touched the top of the scepter. <sup>3</sup> Then the king asked her, “What would you like, queen Esther? What is your request? It shall be given you even to the half of the kingdom.”

<sup>5</sup> Then the king said, “Bring Haman quickly, so that it may be done as Esther has said.” So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

<sup>7</sup> Then Esther answered and said, “My petition and my request is this. <sup>8</sup> If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I will prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow as the king has said.”

<sup>9</sup> Then Haman went out that day joyful and glad of heart, but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king’s gate, that he didn’t stand up nor move for him, he was filled with wrath against Mordecai. <sup>10</sup> Nevertheless Haman restrained himself, and went home. There, he sent and called for his friends and Zeresh his wife. <sup>11</sup> Haman recounted to them the glory of his riches, the multitude of his children, all the things in which the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king. <sup>12</sup> Haman

also said, “Yes, Esther the queen let no man come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and tomorrow I am also invited by her together with the king. <sup>13</sup> Yet all this avails me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king’s gate.”

<sup>14</sup> Then Zeresh his wife and all his friends said to him, “Let a gallows be made fifty cubits<sup>b</sup> high, and in the morning speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on it. Then go in merrily with the king to the banquet.” This pleased Haman, so he had the gallows made.

6

<sup>1</sup> On that night, the king couldn’t sleep. He commanded the book of records of the chronicles to be brought, and they were read to the king. <sup>2</sup> It was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king’s eunuchs, who were doorkeepers, who had tried to lay hands on the King Ahasuerus. <sup>3</sup> The king said, “What honor and dignity has been given to Mordecai for this?”

Then the king’s servants who attended him said, “Nothing has been done for him.”

<sup>4</sup> The king said, “Who is in the court?” Now Haman had come into the outer court of the king’s house, to speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.

The king said, “Let him come in.” <sup>6</sup> So Haman came in. The king said to him, “What shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor?”

Now Haman said in his heart, “Who would the king delight to honor more than myself?” <sup>7</sup> Haman said to the king, “For the man whom the king delights to honor, <sup>8</sup> let royal clothing be brought which the king uses to wear, and the horse that the king rides on, and on the head of which a crown royal is set. <sup>9</sup> Let the clothing and the horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king’s most noble princes, that they may array the man whom the king delights to honor with them, and have him ride on horseback through the city square, and proclaim before him, ‘Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor!’”

<sup>10</sup> Then the king said to Haman, “Hurry and take the clothing and the horse, as you have said, and do this for Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king’s gate. Let nothing fail of all that you have spoken.”

<sup>11</sup> Then Haman took the clothing and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and had him ride through the city square, and proclaimed before him, “Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delights to honor!”

<sup>12</sup> Mordecai came back to the king’s gate, but Haman hurried to his house, mourning and having his head covered. <sup>13</sup> Haman recounted to Zeresh his wife and all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his wise men and Zeresh his wife said to him, “If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of Jewish descent, you will not prevail against him, but you will surely fall before him.” <sup>14</sup> While they were yet talking with him, the king’s eunuchs came, and hurried to bring Haman to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7

<sup>3</sup> Then Esther the queen answered, "If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request. <sup>4</sup> For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for male and female slaves, I would have held my peace, although the adversary could not have compensated for the king's loss."

<sup>5</sup> Then King Ahasuerus said to Esther the queen, "Who is he, and where is he who dared presume in his heart to do so?"

Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen. <sup>7</sup> The king arose in his wrath from the banquet of wine and went into the palace garden. Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king. <sup>8</sup> Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman had fallen on the couch where Esther was. Then the king said, "Will he even assault the queen in front of me in the house?" As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.

The king said, "Hang him on it!"

<sup>10</sup> So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

8

<sup>4</sup> Then the king held out to Esther the golden scepter. So Esther arose, and stood before the king. <sup>5</sup> She said, "If it pleases the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and the thing seem right to the king, and I am pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman, the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews who are in all the king's provinces. <sup>6</sup> For how can I endure to see the evil that would come to my people? How can I endure to see the destruction of my relatives?"

have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged on the gallows, because he laid his hand on the Jews.<sup>8</sup> Write also to the Jews, as it pleases you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring; for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may not be reversed by any man."

<sup>9</sup> Then the king's scribes were called at that time, in the third month Sivan, on the twenty-third day of the month; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded to the Jews, and to the satraps, and the governors and princes of the provinces which are from India to Ethiopia, one hundred twenty-seven provinces, to every province according to its writing, and to every people in their language, and to the Jews in their writing, and in their language.<sup>10</sup> He wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by courier on horseback, riding on royal horses that were bred from swift steeds.<sup>11</sup> In those letters, the king granted the Jews who were in every city to gather themselves together, and to defend their life, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, their little ones and women, and to plunder their possessions,<sup>12</sup> on one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.<sup>13</sup> A copy of the letter, that the decree should be given out in every province, was published to all the peoples, that the Jews should be ready for that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.<sup>14</sup> So the couriers who rode on royal horses went out, hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment. The decree was given out in the citadel of Susa.

<sup>1</sup> Now in the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the month, when the king's commandment and his decree came near to be put in execution, on the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to conquer them, (but it was turned out the opposite happened, that the Jews conquered those who hated them),<sup>2</sup> the Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hands on those who wanted to harm them. No one could withstand them, because the fear of them had fallen on all the people.<sup>3</sup> All the princes of the provinces, the satraps, the governors, and those who did the king's business helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai had fallen on them.<sup>4</sup> For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces; for the man Mordecai grew greater and greater.<sup>5</sup> The Jews struck all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and with slaughter and destruction, and did what they wanted to those who hated them. <sup>6</sup> In the citadel of Susa, the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men. <sup>7</sup> They killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha, <sup>8</sup> Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha, <sup>9</sup> Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha, <sup>10</sup> the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Jew's enemy, but they didn't lay their hand on the plunder. <sup>11</sup> On that day, the number of those who were slain in the citadel of Susa was brought before the king. <sup>12</sup> The king said to Esther the queen, "The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in the citadel of Susa, including the ten sons of Haman; what then have they done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now what is your petition? It shall be granted you. What is your further request? It shall be done."

<sup>13</sup> Then Esther said, "If it pleases the king, let it be granted to the Jews who are in Shushan to do tomorrow also according to today's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged on the gallows."

were in Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth and on the fourteenth days of the month; and on the fifteenth day of that month, they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness. <sup>19</sup> Therefore the Jews of the villages, who live in the unwallied towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, a good day, and a day of sending presents of food to one another. <sup>20</sup> Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters to all the Jews who were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both near and far, <sup>21</sup> to enjoin them that they should keep the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month Adar yearly, <sup>22</sup> as the days in which the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was turned to them from sorrow to gladness, and from mourning into a good day; that they should make them days of feasting and gladness, and of sending presents of food to one another, and gifts to the needy. <sup>23</sup> The Jews accepted the custom that they had begun, as Mordecai had written to them; <sup>24</sup> because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast "Pur", that is the lot, to consume them, and to destroy them; <sup>25</sup> but when this became known to the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return on his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. <sup>26</sup> Therefore they called these days "Purim",<sup>e</sup> from the word "Pur." Therefore because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and that which had come to them, <sup>27</sup> the Jews established, and imposed on themselves, and on their descendants, and on all those who joined themselves to them, so that it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to what was written, and according to its appointed time, every year; <sup>28</sup> and that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor their memory perish from their offspring,<sup>f</sup>

Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had decreed, and as they had imposed upon themselves and their descendants, in the matter of the fastings and their cry. <sup>32</sup> The commandment of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

<sup>1</sup> AND it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and struck Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had struck him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over <sup>a</sup> Greece. <sup>2</sup> And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and killed the kings of the earth, <sup>3</sup> and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, <sup>4</sup> and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary to him. <sup>5</sup> And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. <sup>6</sup> And he called his servants, which were honorable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided to them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. <sup>7</sup> And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. <sup>8</sup> And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. <sup>9</sup> And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in <sup>b</sup> the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

<sup>11</sup> In those days came there forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, let us go and make a covenant with the <sup>c</sup> Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. <sup>12</sup> And the saying was good in their eyes. <sup>13</sup> And certain of the people were forward herein and went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the <sup>d</sup> Gentiles. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>e</sup> they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the <sup>f</sup> Gentiles; <sup>15</sup> and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the <sup>g</sup> Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. <sup>32</sup> And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. <sup>33</sup> And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became to them a citadel. <sup>34</sup> And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. <sup>35</sup> And they stored up arms and food, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: <sup>36</sup> and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel continually. <sup>37</sup> And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. <sup>38</sup> And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. <sup>39</sup> Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, <sup>o</sup> her feasts were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproach, her honor into contempt. <sup>40</sup> According to her glory, so was her dishonor multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

messengers to Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, <sup>45</sup> and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the Sabbaths and feasts, <sup>46</sup> and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; <sup>47</sup> that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: <sup>48</sup> and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; <sup>49</sup> so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. <sup>50</sup> And whoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. <sup>51</sup> According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. <sup>52</sup> And from the people were gathered together to them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; <sup>53</sup> and they made israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. <sup>58</sup> Thus did they in their might to Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. <sup>59</sup> And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol <sup>s</sup> altar of God. <sup>60</sup> And <sup>t</sup> the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. <sup>61</sup> And they hanged their babes about their necks, and destroyed their houses, and them that had circumcised them. <sup>62</sup> And many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat unclean things. <sup>63</sup> And <sup>u</sup> they chose to die, that they might not be defiled with the meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: and they died. <sup>64</sup> And there came exceeding great wrath uponn Israel.

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? <sup>8</sup> Her temple is become as a man <sup>w</sup> that was glorious: <sup>9</sup> her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. <sup>10</sup> What nation has not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? <sup>11</sup> her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman she is become a bond woman: <sup>12</sup> and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. <sup>13</sup> Wherefore should we live any longer?

<sup>15</sup> And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city Modin to sacrifice. <sup>16</sup> And many of Israel came to them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. <sup>17</sup> And the king's officers answered and spoke to Mattathias, saying, You are a ruler and an honorable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: <sup>18</sup> now therefore come you first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and you and your house shall be in the number of the king's * Friends, and you and your sons shall be honored with silver and gold and many gifts. <sup>19</sup> And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken to him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, <sup>20</sup> yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. <sup>21</sup> <sup>x</sup> Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. <sup>22</sup> We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, on the right hand, or on the left. <sup>23</sup> And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's commandment. <sup>24</sup> And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his reins trembled, and he showed forth his wrath according to judgement, and ran, and killed him upon the altar. <sup>25</sup> And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. <sup>26</sup> And he was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas did to Zimri the son of Salu. <sup>27</sup> And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintains the covenant, let him come forth after me. <sup>28</sup> And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

<sup>29</sup> Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, <sup>30</sup> they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. <sup>31</sup> And it was told the king's officers, and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness; <sup>32</sup> and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the Sabbath day. <sup>33</sup> And they said to them, Thus far. Come forth, and do

according to the word of the king, and you<sup>63</sup> shall live. <sup>34</sup> And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, to profane the Sabbath day. <sup>35</sup> And they hastened to give them battle. <sup>36</sup> And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places, <sup>37</sup> saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that you<sup>63</sup> put us to death without trial. <sup>38</sup> And they rose up against them in battle on the Sabbath, and they died, they and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand <sup>y</sup> souls.

<sup>39</sup> And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. <sup>40</sup> And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. <sup>41</sup> And they took counsel on that day, saying, whoever shall come against us to battle on the Sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in the secret places. <sup>42</sup> Then were gathered together to them a company of <sup>z</sup> Hasidaeans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. <sup>43</sup> And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay to them. <sup>44</sup> And they mustered a host, and struck sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. <sup>45</sup> And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; <sup>46</sup> and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. <sup>47</sup> And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. <sup>48</sup> And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither <sup>a</sup> suffered they the sinner to triumph.

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. <sup>50</sup> And now, my children, be you<sup>63</sup> zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. <sup>51</sup> And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. <sup>52</sup> Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reckoned to him for righteousness? <sup>53</sup> Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. <sup>54</sup> Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. <sup>55</sup> Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. <sup>56</sup> Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land. <sup>57</sup> David for being merciful inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. <sup>58</sup> Elijah, for that he was exceeding zealous for the law, was taken up into heaven. <sup>59</sup> Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, believed, and were saved out of the flame. <sup>60</sup> Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions. <sup>61</sup> And thus consider you<sup>63</sup> from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in him shall lack for strength. <sup>62</sup> And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. <sup>63</sup> To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned to his dust, and his thought is perished. <sup>64</sup> And you<sup>33</sup>, my children, be strong, and show yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall you<sup>33</sup> obtain glory. <sup>65</sup> And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear to him always: he shall be a father to you. <sup>66</sup> And Judas Maccabaeus, he has been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and <sup>b</sup> shall fight the battle of the people. <sup>67</sup> And take you<sup>33</sup> to you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. <sup>68</sup> Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law. <sup>69</sup> And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. <sup>70</sup> And he died in <sup>c</sup> the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

troubled his people. <sup>6</sup> And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his hand. <sup>7</sup> And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever. <sup>8</sup> And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly <sup>d</sup> out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel: <sup>9</sup> and he was renowned to the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

<sup>13</sup> And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; <sup>14</sup> And he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nothing the word of the king. <sup>15</sup> And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

<sup>16</sup> And he came near to the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. <sup>17</sup> But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said to Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. <sup>18</sup> And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with <sup>e</sup> heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: <sup>19</sup> for victory in battle stands not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. <sup>20</sup> They come to us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: <sup>21</sup> but we fight for our lives and our laws. <sup>22</sup> And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be you <sup>23</sup> not afraid of them.

<sup>23</sup> Now when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and Seron and his army were discomfited before him. <sup>24</sup> And they pursued them in the going down of Bethhoron to the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

<sup>27</sup> But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. <sup>28</sup> And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. <sup>29</sup> And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; <sup>30</sup> and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts

which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him. <sup>31</sup> And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. <sup>32</sup> And he left Lysias, an honorable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates to the borders of Egypt, <sup>33</sup> and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. <sup>34</sup> And he delivered to him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that lived in Judaea and in Jerusalem, <sup>35</sup> that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place; <sup>36</sup> And that he should make strangers to dwell on all their coasts, and should divide their land to them by lot. <sup>37</sup> And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, <sup>f</sup> the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

fetters, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added to them the forces of Syria and of the land of the <sup>i</sup> Philistines.

<sup>42</sup> And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; <sup>43</sup> and they said each man to his neighbor, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. <sup>44</sup> And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. <sup>45</sup> And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. <sup>46</sup> And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for Israel. <sup>47</sup> And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, and tore their clothes, <sup>48</sup> and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. <sup>49</sup> And they brought the priests' garments, and the first fruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazarites, who had accomplished their days. <sup>50</sup> And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? <sup>51</sup> And your holy place is trodden down and profaned, and your priests are in heaviness and brought low. <sup>52</sup> And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: you know what things they imagine against us. <sup>53</sup> How shall we be able to stand before them, except you be our help? <sup>54</sup> And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

<sup>55</sup> And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. <sup>56</sup> And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. <sup>57</sup> And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. <sup>58</sup> And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that you<sup>33</sup> may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: <sup>59</sup> for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. <sup>60</sup> Nevertheless, as may be the will in heaven, so shall he do.

dispersed from the camp. <sup>5</sup> And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. <sup>6</sup> And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armor nor swords to their minds. <sup>7</sup> And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. <sup>8</sup> And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear you<sup>g</sup> not their multitude, neither be you<sup>g</sup> afraid of their onset. <sup>9</sup> Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. <sup>10</sup> And now let us cry to heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face today: <sup>11</sup> and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saves Israel. <sup>12</sup> And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: <sup>13</sup> and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets, <sup>14</sup> and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. <sup>15</sup> But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them to <sup>j</sup> Gazara, and to the plains of Idumaea and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. <sup>16</sup> And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, <sup>17</sup> and he said to the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; <sup>18</sup> and Gorgias and his host are near to us in the mountain. But stand you<sup>g</sup> now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. <sup>19</sup> While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: <sup>20</sup> and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. <sup>21</sup> But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, <sup>22</sup> they fled all of them into the land of the <sup>k</sup> Philistines. <sup>23</sup> And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. <sup>24</sup> And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise <sup>l</sup> to heaven; because his mercy is good, because his mercy endures for ever. <sup>25</sup> And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

<sup>26</sup> But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the things that had happened: <sup>27</sup> but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done to Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

Blessed are you, O Saviour of Israel, who did quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of your servant David, and did deliver the army of the <sup>m</sup> Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armor bearer: <sup>31</sup> shut up this army in the hand of your people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: <sup>32</sup> give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction: <sup>33</sup> cast them down with the sword of them that love you, and let all that know your name praise you with thanksgiving.

<sup>35</sup> But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judaea with even a greater company.

against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

<sup>44</sup> And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they should do with it: <sup>45</sup> and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, <sup>46</sup> and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. <sup>47</sup> And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; <sup>48</sup> and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they hallowed the courts. <sup>49</sup> And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, into the temple. <sup>50</sup> And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. <sup>51</sup> And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. <sup>55</sup> And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and <sup>q</sup> gave praise to heaven, which had given them good success. <sup>56</sup> And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burned offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. <sup>57</sup> And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. <sup>58</sup> And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. <sup>59</sup> And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislev, with gladness and joy. <sup>60</sup> And at that season they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. <sup>61</sup> And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumaea.

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding angry. <sup>2</sup> And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to kill and destroy among the people. <sup>3</sup> And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumaea at Akrabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he struck them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. <sup>4</sup> And he remembered the wickedness of the children of <sup>r</sup> Baean, who were to the people a snare and a stumbling block, lying in wait for them in the ways. <sup>5</sup> And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. <sup>6</sup> And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timotheus for their leader. <sup>7</sup> And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he struck them, <sup>8</sup> and got possession of Jazer, and the <sup>s</sup> villages thereof, and returned again into Judaea.

<sup>9</sup> And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathema, <sup>10</sup> and sent letters to Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: <sup>11</sup> and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. <sup>12</sup> Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. <sup>13</sup> And all our brethren that were in the land of <sup>t</sup> Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. <sup>14</sup> While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes tore, bringing a report after this wise, <sup>15</sup> saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the <sup>u</sup> Gentiles to consume them. <sup>16</sup> Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. <sup>17</sup> And Judas said to Simon his brother, Choose you out men, and go and deliver your brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the land of Gilead. <sup>18</sup> And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judaea, for to keep it. <sup>19</sup> And he gave commandment to them, saying, Take you <sup>z</sup> the charge of this people, and fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. <sup>20</sup> And to Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but to Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.

and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; <sup>25</sup> and they met with the Nabathaeans, and these met them in a peaceful manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren in the land of Gilead: <sup>26</sup> and how that many of them were shut up in Bosora, and Bosor, and Alema, <sup>v</sup> Casphor, Maked, and <sup>w</sup> Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great: <sup>27</sup> and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that tomorrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day. <sup>28</sup> And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness to Bosora; and he took the city, and killed all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire. <sup>29</sup> And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to the stronghold. <sup>30</sup> And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. <sup>31</sup> And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, <sup>32</sup> and he said to the men of his host, Fight this day for your brethren. <sup>33</sup> And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. <sup>34</sup> And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabaeus, and they fled from before him: and he struck them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men.

could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

<sup>45</sup> And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least to the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. <sup>46</sup> And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. <sup>47</sup> And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. <sup>48</sup> And Judas sent to them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through your land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open to him. <sup>49</sup> And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. <sup>50</sup> And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands; <sup>51</sup> and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. <sup>52</sup> And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Bethshan. <sup>53</sup> And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. <sup>54</sup> And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

<sup>55</sup> And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, <sup>56</sup> Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done; <sup>57</sup> and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the Gentiles that are round about us. <sup>58</sup> And they gave charge to the men of the host that was with them, and went toward Jamnia. <sup>59</sup> And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. <sup>60</sup> And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued to the borders of Judaea; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men. <sup>61</sup> And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not to Judas and his brethren, thinking to do some exploit. <sup>62</sup> But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given to Israel.

exploits there, were slain in battle, when as <sup>c</sup> he went out to battle unadvisedly. <sup>68</sup> And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the <sup>d</sup> Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

<sup>1</sup> And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; <sup>2</sup> and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. <sup>3</sup> And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, <sup>4</sup> and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return to Babylon.

before, and Bethsura, his city. <sup>8</sup> And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly: and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. <sup>9</sup> And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. <sup>10</sup> And he called for all his <sup>e</sup> Friends, and said to them, Sleep departs from mine eyes, and my heart fails for care. <sup>11</sup> And I said in my heart, To what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. <sup>12</sup> But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. <sup>13</sup> I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. <sup>14</sup> And he called for Philip, one of his <sup>f</sup> Friends, and set him over all his kingdom, <sup>15</sup> and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. <sup>16</sup> And king Antiochus died there in <sup>g</sup> the hundred and forty and ninth year. <sup>17</sup> And Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator.

people together to besiege them. <sup>20</sup> And they were gathered together, and besieged them in <sup>h</sup> the hundred and fifties year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. <sup>21</sup> And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined to them certain ungodly men of Israel. <sup>22</sup> And they went to the king, and said, How long will you not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? <sup>23</sup> We were willing to serve your father, and to walk after his words, and to follow his commandments; <sup>24</sup> and for this cause the children of our people besieged <sup>i</sup> the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on they killed, and spoiled our inheritances. <sup>25</sup> And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. <sup>26</sup> And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Bethsura have they fortified. <sup>27</sup> And if you <sup>j</sup> are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and you shall not be able to control them.

many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. <sup>32</sup> And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. <sup>33</sup> And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army <sup>k</sup> at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. <sup>34</sup> And they showed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. <sup>35</sup> And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. <sup>36</sup> These were ready beforehand, wherever the beast was; and wherever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. <sup>37</sup> And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girded fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian <sup>38</sup> (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. <sup>39</sup> Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. <sup>40</sup> And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. <sup>41</sup> And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. <sup>42</sup> And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. <sup>43</sup> And Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; <sup>44</sup> and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him an everlasting name; <sup>45</sup> and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and killed on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. <sup>46</sup> And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and killed him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. <sup>47</sup> And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

<sup>48</sup> But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judaea, and toward mount Sion. <sup>49</sup> And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a Sabbath to the land. <sup>50</sup> And the king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. <sup>51</sup> And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. <sup>52</sup> And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. <sup>53</sup> But there were no food in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judaea from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; <sup>54</sup> and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

<sup>55</sup> And Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, <sup>56</sup> was returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take to him the government. <sup>57</sup> And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: <sup>58</sup> now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, <sup>59</sup> and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. <sup>60</sup> And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent to them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. <sup>61</sup> And the king and the princes sware to them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. <sup>62</sup> And the king entered into mount Sion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nothing the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about. <sup>63</sup> And he removed in haste, and returned to Antioch, and found Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

Alcimus and Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. <sup>13</sup> And the <sup>n</sup> Hasidaeans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; <sup>14</sup> for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. <sup>15</sup> And he spoke with them words of peace, and sware to them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. <sup>16</sup> And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and killed them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote,

cast out,

And their blood did they shed round
about Jerusalem;

And there was no man to bury them.

<sup>18</sup> And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they sware. <sup>19</sup> And Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took away many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he killed them, and cast them into the great pit. <sup>20</sup> And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away to the king.

went out into all the coasts of Judaea round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. <sup>25</sup> But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and he went out in a great rage. <sup>36</sup> And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they wept, and said, <sup>37</sup> You did choose this house to be called by your name, to be a house of prayer and supplication for your people: <sup>38</sup> take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

one of them left. <sup>47</sup> And they took the spoils, and the booty, and they struck off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so haughtily, and brought them, and <sup>v</sup> hanged them up beside Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> And the people were exceeding glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness. <sup>49</sup> And <sup>w</sup> they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth day of Adar. <sup>50</sup> And the land of Judah had rest <sup>x</sup> a little while.

<sup>1</sup> And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves to them, and make amity with all such as come to them, <sup>2</sup> and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tribute; <sup>3</sup> and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were there; <sup>4</sup> and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and struck them very sore; and how the rest give them tribute year by year: <sup>5</sup> and Philip, and Perseus, king of Chittim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them: <sup>6</sup> Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and

chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, <sup>7</sup> and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, <sup>8</sup> the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: <sup>9</sup> and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; <sup>10</sup> and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into bondage to this day: <sup>11</sup> and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; <sup>12</sup> but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were near and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: <sup>13</sup> moreover, whoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: <sup>14</sup> and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: <sup>15</sup> and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting always for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: <sup>16</sup> and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

<sup>17</sup> And Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, <sup>18</sup> and that they should take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. <sup>19</sup> And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said, <sup>20</sup> Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us to you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: <sup>28</sup> and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it has seemed good to Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. <sup>29</sup> According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. <sup>30</sup> But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatever they shall add or take away shall be established. <sup>31</sup> And as touching the evils which king Demetrius does to them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore have you made your yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews? <sup>32</sup> If therefore they plead any more against you, we will do them justice, and fight with you by sea and by land.

they were many, and they feared exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. <sup>7</sup> And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. <sup>8</sup> And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if perhaps we may be able to fight with them. <sup>9</sup> And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. <sup>10</sup> And Judas said, let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. <sup>11</sup> And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. <sup>12</sup> But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. <sup>13</sup> And the men of Judas' side, even they sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. <sup>14</sup> And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, <sup>15</sup> and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them to the mount Azotus. <sup>16</sup> And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: <sup>17</sup> and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. <sup>18</sup> And Judas fell, and the rest fled. <sup>19</sup> And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Modin. <sup>20</sup> And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, <sup>21</sup> How is the mighty fallen, the savior of Israel! <sup>22</sup> And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many.

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up <sup>24</sup> (in those days there was an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. <sup>25</sup> And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. <sup>26</sup> And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. <sup>27</sup> And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that no prophet appeared to them. <sup>28</sup> And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said to Jonathan, <sup>29</sup> Since your brother Judas has died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that hate us. <sup>30</sup> Now therefore we have chosen you this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that you may fight our battles. <sup>31</sup> And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

<sup>32</sup> And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to kill him. <sup>33</sup> And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoah, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphar. <sup>34</sup> And Bacchides knew it on the Sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over Jordan. <sup>35</sup> And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and implored his friends the Nabathaeans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. <sup>36</sup> And the children of Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan

<sup>43</sup> And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the Sabbath day to the banks of Jordan with a great host. <sup>44</sup> And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us today, as yesterday and the day before. <sup>45</sup> For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. <sup>46</sup> Now therefore cry to heaven, that you may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. <sup>47</sup> And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to strike Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. <sup>48</sup> And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. <sup>49</sup> And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; <sup>50</sup> and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judaea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. <sup>51</sup> And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. <sup>52</sup> And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of food. <sup>53</sup> And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. <sup>56</sup> And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. <sup>57</sup> And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah had rest two years.

<sup>58</sup> And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. <sup>59</sup> And they went and consulted with him. <sup>60</sup> And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judaea, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known to them. <sup>61</sup> And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he killed them. <sup>62</sup> And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. <sup>63</sup> And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judaea. <sup>64</sup> And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. <sup>65</sup> And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. <sup>66</sup> And he struck Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. <sup>67</sup> And they began to strike them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, <sup>68</sup> and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. <sup>69</sup> And they were very angry with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they killed many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. <sup>70</sup> And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors to him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore to them the captives. <sup>71</sup> And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware to him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. <sup>72</sup> And he restored to him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. <sup>73</sup> And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan lived at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

10

<sup>4</sup> For he said, let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: <sup>5</sup> for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and to his brethren and to his nation. <sup>6</sup> And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

<sup>7</sup> And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the citadel: <sup>8</sup> and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. <sup>9</sup> And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages to Jonathan, and he restored them to their parents. <sup>10</sup> And Jonathan lived in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. <sup>11</sup> And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with <sup>b</sup> square stones for defence; and they did so. <sup>12</sup> And the strangers, that were in the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; <sup>13</sup> and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. <sup>14</sup> Only at Bethsura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge to them.

<sup>15</sup> And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent to Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; <sup>16</sup> And he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our <sup>c</sup> Friend and confederate. <sup>17</sup>

And he wrote letters, and sent them to him, according to these words, saying, <sup>18</sup> King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting: <sup>19</sup> We have heard of you, that you are a mighty man of valour, and meet to be our <sup>d</sup> Friend. <sup>20</sup> And now we have appointed you this day to be high priest of your nation, and to be called the king's <sup>e</sup> Friend (and he sent to him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

<sup>22</sup> And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, <sup>23</sup> What is this that we have done, that Alexander has been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? <sup>24</sup> I also will write to them words of encouragement and of honor and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. <sup>25</sup> And he sent to them according to these words:

King Demetrius to the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>26</sup> Forasmuch as you<sup>g</sup> have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. <sup>27</sup> And now continue you<sup>g</sup> still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense to you good things in return for your dealings with us, <sup>28</sup> and will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. <sup>29</sup> And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from the crowns. <sup>30</sup>

And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falls to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added thereto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. <sup>31</sup> And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tenths and the tolls also. <sup>32</sup> I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. <sup>33</sup> And every soul of the Jews, that has been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. <sup>34</sup> And all the feasts, and the Sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. <sup>35</sup> And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. <sup>36</sup> And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given to them, as belongs to all the king's forces. <sup>37</sup> And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king has commanded in the land of Judah. <sup>38</sup> And the three governments that have been added to Judaea from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judaea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. <sup>39</sup> As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. <sup>40</sup> And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. <sup>41</sup> And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. <sup>42</sup> And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertains to the priests that minister. <sup>43</sup> And whoever shall flee to the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. <sup>44</sup> And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. <sup>45</sup> And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judaea.

<sup>46</sup> Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence to them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. <sup>47</sup> And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spoke words of peace to them, and they were confederate with him always. <sup>48</sup> And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. <sup>49</sup> And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. <sup>50</sup> And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

<sup>51</sup> And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, <sup>52</sup> Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; <sup>53</sup> yes, I joined the battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: <sup>54</sup> now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now your daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with you, and will give both you and her gifts worthy of you. <sup>55</sup> And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein you did return into the land of your fathers, and did sit on the throne of their kingdom. <sup>56</sup> And now will I do to you, as you have written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with you, even as you have said. <sup>57</sup> And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came to Ptolemais in <sup>g</sup> the hundred and threescore and second year: <sup>58</sup> and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at

Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

<sup>59</sup> And king Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. <sup>60</sup> And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their <sup>h</sup> Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favor in their sight. <sup>61</sup> And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. <sup>62</sup> And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. <sup>63</sup> And the king made him sit with him, and said to his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. <sup>64</sup> And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. <sup>65</sup> And the king gave him honor, and wrote him among his <sup>i</sup> Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. <sup>66</sup> And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

great host, and encamped in Jamnia, and sent to Jonathan the high priest, saying,

<sup>70</sup> You alone lift up yourself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of you. And why do you vaunt your power against us in the mountains? <sup>71</sup> Now therefore, if you trust in your forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. <sup>72</sup> Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot can't stand before our face; for your fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. <sup>73</sup> And now you shall not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee to.

<sup>74</sup> Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to help him. <sup>75</sup> And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: <sup>76</sup> and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened to him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. <sup>77</sup> And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. <sup>78</sup> And he pursued after him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle<sup>k</sup>. <sup>79</sup> And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. <sup>80</sup> And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: <sup>81</sup> but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. <sup>82</sup> And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. <sup>83</sup> And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. <sup>84</sup> And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, and them that fled into it, he burned with fire. <sup>85</sup> And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. <sup>86</sup> And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. <sup>87</sup> And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>88</sup> And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honored Jonathan yet more; <sup>89</sup> and he sent to him a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

him, because he was his father in law. <sup>3</sup> Now as he entered into the cities of Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. <sup>4</sup> But when he came near to Azotus, they showed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. <sup>5</sup> And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. <sup>6</sup> And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. <sup>7</sup> And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. <sup>8</sup> But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, to Selucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. <sup>9</sup> And he sent ambassadors to king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give you my daughter whom Alexander has, and you shall reign over your father's kingdom; <sup>10</sup> for I have repented that I gave my daughter to him, for he sought to kill me. <sup>11</sup> And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. <sup>12</sup> And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. <sup>13</sup> And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of Asia; and he put two diadems upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. <sup>14</sup> But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. <sup>15</sup> And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. <sup>16</sup> And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted. <sup>17</sup> And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. <sup>18</sup> And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. <sup>19</sup> And Demetrius reigned in <sup>l</sup> the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

<sup>20</sup> In those days Jonathan gathered together them of Judaea, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. <sup>21</sup> And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went to the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. <sup>22</sup> And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote to Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed. <sup>23</sup> But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, <sup>24</sup> and taking silver and gold and raiment and various presents besides, went to Ptolemais to the king. And he found favor in his sight. <sup>25</sup> And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, <sup>26</sup> and the king did to him even as his predecessors had done to him, and exalted him in the sight of all his <sup>m</sup> Friends, <sup>27</sup> and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honors that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his <sup>n</sup> Chief Friends. <sup>28</sup> And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judaea free from tribute, and the three <sup>o</sup> provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. <sup>29</sup> And the king consented, and wrote letters to Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

<sup>30</sup> King Demetrius to his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>31</sup> The copy of the letter which we wrote to Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also to you, that you  may see it. <sup>32</sup> King Demetrius to Lasthenes his father, greeting: <sup>33</sup> We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. <sup>34</sup> We have confirmed therefore to them the borders of Judaea, and also the three governments of Aphaerema and Lydda and Ramathaim (these were added to Judaea from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining to them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. <sup>35</sup> And as for the other things that pertain to us from henceforth, of the tenths and the tolls that pertain to us, and the saltpits, and the crowns that pertain to us, all these we will bestow upon them. <sup>36</sup> And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. <sup>37</sup> Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given to Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

<sup>41</sup> And Jonathan sent to king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them of the citadel, and them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. <sup>42</sup> And Demetrius sent to Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for you and your nation, but I will greatly honor you and your nation, if I find fair occasion. <sup>43</sup> Now therefore you shall do well, if you send me men who shall fight for me; for all my forces are revolted. <sup>44</sup> And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men to Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. <sup>45</sup> And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to kill the king. <sup>46</sup> And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. <sup>47</sup>

And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together to him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and killed that day to the number of a hundred thousand. <sup>48</sup> And they set the city on fire, and got many spoils that day, and saved the king. <sup>49</sup> And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, <sup>50</sup> Give us your right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. <sup>51</sup> And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>52</sup> And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him. <sup>53</sup> And he lied in all that he spoke, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a golden buckle. <sup>59</sup> And his brother Simon he made captain from the Ladder of Tyre to the borders of Egypt. <sup>60</sup> And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves to him for to be his confederates. And he came to Ascalon, and they of the city met him honorably. <sup>61</sup> And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege to it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. <sup>62</sup> And they of Gaza made request to Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

were of Jonathan's side fled: <sup>70</sup> not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. <sup>71</sup> And Jonathan tore his clothes, and put earth upon his head, and prayed. <sup>72</sup> And he turned again to them in battle, and put them to the rout, and they fled. <sup>73</sup> And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned to him, and pursued with him to Kedesh to their camp, and they encamped there. <sup>74</sup> And there fell of the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

<sup>1</sup> And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them. <sup>2</sup> And to the Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. <sup>3</sup> And they went to Rome, and entered into the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, as in former time. <sup>4</sup> And they gave them letters to the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. <sup>5</sup> And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

Onias entreated honorably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and friendship. <sup>9</sup> Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, <sup>10</sup> have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since you<sup>23</sup> sent to us. <sup>11</sup> We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren: <sup>12</sup> and moreover are glad for your glory. <sup>13</sup> But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have fought against us. <sup>14</sup> We were not minded therefore to be troublesome to you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars; <sup>15</sup> for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been brought low. <sup>16</sup> We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them to the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. <sup>17</sup> We commanded them therefore to go also to you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. <sup>18</sup> And now you<sup>23</sup> shall do well if you<sup>23</sup> give us an answer thereto.

<sup>20</sup> Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: <sup>21</sup> It has been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham: <sup>22</sup> and now, since this is come to our knowledge, you<sup>23</sup> shall do well to write to us of your <sup>r</sup> prosperity. <sup>23</sup> And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report to you on this wise.

thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. <sup>33</sup> And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near to it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and took possession of it; <sup>34</sup> for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold to the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

<sup>35</sup> And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build strongholds in Judaea, <sup>36</sup> and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither buy nor sell. <sup>37</sup> And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. <sup>38</sup> And Simon also built Adida in the <sup>t</sup> plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient to him, as to himself. <sup>44</sup> And he said to Jonathan, Why have you put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war between us? <sup>45</sup> And now send them away to their homes, but choose for yourself a few men who shall be with you, and come you with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to you, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. <sup>46</sup> And he put his trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. <sup>47</sup> But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. <sup>48</sup> Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they killed with the sword. <sup>49</sup> And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. <sup>50</sup> And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. <sup>51</sup> And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. <sup>52</sup> And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. <sup>53</sup> And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us

13

<sup>1</sup> And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and destroy it utterly. <sup>2</sup> And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; <sup>3</sup> and he encouraged them, and said to them, You yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: <sup>4</sup> by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. <sup>5</sup> And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; for I am not better than my brethren. <sup>6</sup> Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very hatred. <sup>7</sup> And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. <sup>8</sup> And they answered with a loud voice, saying, You are our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan your brother. <sup>9</sup> Fight you our battles, and all that you shall say to us, that will we do. <sup>10</sup> And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. <sup>11</sup> And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great host, to Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it

Judah, and Jonathan was with him in ward.

The golden crown, and the palm branch, which you<sup>z</sup> sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a <sup>y</sup> steadfast peace with you, yes, and to write to our officers, to grant immunities to you. <sup>38</sup> And whatever things we confirmed to you, they are confirmed; and the strongholds, which you<sup>z</sup> have builded, let them be your own. <sup>39</sup> As for any oversights and faults committed to this day, we forgive them, and the crown which you<sup>z</sup> owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be exacted no longer. <sup>40</sup> And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace between us.

idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. <sup>48</sup> And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

into his borders, and he sent one of his princes to take him alive: <sup>3</sup> and he went and struck the army of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces; and he put him in ward.

<sup>4</sup> And the land had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. <sup>5</sup> And amid all his glory he took Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; <sup>6</sup> and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and got possession of the country; <sup>7</sup> and he gathered together a great number of captives, and got the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the citadel, and he took away from it its uncleanness; and there was none that resisted him. <sup>8</sup> And they tilled their land in peace, and the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. <sup>9</sup> The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. <sup>10</sup> He provided food for the cities, and furnished them with <sup>e</sup> all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named to the end of the earth. <sup>11</sup> He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: <sup>12</sup> and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: <sup>13</sup> and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. <sup>14</sup> And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. <sup>15</sup> He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, to Simon the high priest, and to the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, greeting: <sup>21</sup> The ambassadors that were sent to our people made report to us of your glory and honor: and we were glad for their coming, <sup>22</sup> and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the <sup>f</sup> public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came to us to renew the friendship they had with us. <sup>23</sup> And it pleased the people to entertain the men honorably, and to put the copy of their words in the <sup>g</sup> public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things to Simon the high priest.

give to Simon and his sons? <sup>26</sup> for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to <sup>h</sup> Israel. <sup>27</sup> And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in <sup>i</sup> the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of Simon the high priest, <sup>28</sup> <sup>j</sup> in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, <sup>k</sup> was it notified to us: <sup>29</sup> Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: <sup>30</sup> and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: <sup>31</sup> and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: <sup>32</sup> then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages: <sup>33</sup> and he fortified the cities of Judaea, and Bethsura that lies upon the borders of Judaea, where the arms of the enemies were aforetime, and set there a garrison of Jews: <sup>34</sup> and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies lived aforetime, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation thereof: <sup>35</sup> and the people saw the <sup>l</sup> faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring to his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people: <sup>36</sup> and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt to its purity; <sup>37</sup> and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem: <sup>38</sup> and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, <sup>39</sup> and made him one of his <sup>m</sup> Friends, and honored him with great honor; <sup>40</sup> for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honorably; <sup>41</sup> and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; <sup>42</sup> and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, <sup>43</sup> and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; <sup>44</sup> and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nothing any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold; <sup>45</sup> but whoever should do otherwise, or set at nothing any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. <sup>46</sup> All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; <sup>47</sup> and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and <sup>n</sup> governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and <sup>p</sup> governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>3</sup> Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; <sup>4</sup> moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: <sup>5</sup> Now therefore I confirm to you all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted to you, and whatever gifts besides they remitted to you: <sup>6</sup> and I give you leave to coin money for your country with your own stamp, <sup>7</sup> but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that you have prepared, and the strongholds that you have built, which you have in your possession, let them remain to you: <sup>8</sup> and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted to you: <sup>9</sup> moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify you and your nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

<sup>22</sup> And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, <sup>23</sup> and to all the countries, and to <sup>s</sup> Sampsames, and to the Spartans, and to Delos, and to Myndos, and to Sicyon, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodes, and to Phaselis, and to Cos, and to Side, and to Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene. <sup>24</sup> But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

engines of war, and he shut up Tryphon from going in or out. <sup>26</sup> And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. <sup>27</sup> And he would not receive them, but set at nothing all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from him. <sup>28</sup> And he sent to him Athenobius, one of his <sup>t</sup> Friends, to commune with him, saying,

You<sup>23</sup> hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. <sup>29</sup> The borders thereof you<sup>23</sup> have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. <sup>30</sup> Now therefore deliver up the cities which you<sup>23</sup> have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof you<sup>23</sup> have gotten dominion without the borders of Judaea: <sup>31</sup> or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that you<sup>23</sup> have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

<sup>32</sup> And Athenobius the king's <sup>u</sup> Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. <sup>33</sup> And Simon answered, and said to him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertains to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time. <sup>34</sup> But we, having opportunity, hold fast the inheritance of our fathers. <sup>35</sup>

But as touching Joppa and Gazara, which you demand, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, <sup>36</sup> but returned in a rage to the king, and reported to him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was exceeding angry. <sup>37</sup> But Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

<sup>1</sup> And John went up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebaeus was doing. <sup>2</sup> And Simon called his two oldest sons, Judas and John, and said to them, I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even to this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. <sup>3</sup> But now I am old, and you<sup>23</sup> moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be you<sup>23</sup> instead of me and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you. <sup>4</sup> And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against Cendebaeus, and slept at Modin. <sup>5</sup> And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook between them. <sup>6</sup> And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw him, and passed over after him. <sup>7</sup> And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. <sup>8</sup> And they sounded with the trumpets; and Cendebaeus and his army were put to the rout, and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled to the stronghold: <sup>9</sup> at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came to Kidron, which Cendebaeus had built; <sup>10</sup> and they fled to the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judaea in peace.

<sup>11</sup> And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for the plain of Jericho, and he had much silver and gold; <sup>12</sup> for he was the high priest's son in law. <sup>13</sup> And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. <sup>14</sup> Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in <sup>v</sup> the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month Sebat: <sup>15</sup> and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. <sup>16</sup> And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and killed him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants. <sup>17</sup> And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. <sup>18</sup> And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. <sup>19</sup> And he sent others to Gazara to make away with John: and to the captains of thousands he sent letters to come to him, that he might give them silver and gold and gifts. <sup>20</sup> And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple. <sup>21</sup> And one ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he has sent to kill you also. <sup>22</sup> And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and killed them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

<sup>1</sup> THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judaea, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: <sup>2</sup> and may God do good to you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; <sup>3</sup> and give you all a heart to worship him and do his <sup>a</sup> pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; <sup>4</sup> and open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, <sup>5</sup> and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. <sup>6</sup> And now we here are praying for you. <sup>7</sup> In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written to you in the tribulation and in the extremity that has come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom, <sup>8</sup> and set the <sup>b</sup> gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we implored the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the <sup>c</sup> show bread. <sup>9</sup> And now see that you <sup>d</sup> keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of the month Chisleu. <sup>10</sup> Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judaea and the senate and Judas, to Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. <sup>11</sup> Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. <sup>12</sup> For himself cast forth into Persia them that arrayed themselves against us in the holy city. <sup>13</sup> For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanaea by the treachery of Nanaea's priests. <sup>14</sup> For Antiochus, on the pretense that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his <sup>d</sup> Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. <sup>15</sup> And when the priests of Nanaea's temple had set <sup>e</sup> the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: <sup>16</sup> and opening the secret door of the panelled cieling, they threw stones and <sup>f</sup> struck down the prince, and they hewed <sup>g</sup> him and his company in pieces, and struck off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. <sup>17</sup> Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

that <sup>h</sup> you<sup>33</sup> also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the temple and the altar. <sup>19</sup> For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. <sup>20</sup> Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, <sup>21</sup> he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when <sup>i</sup> the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon. <sup>22</sup> And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marveled. <sup>23</sup> And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. <sup>24</sup> And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who are terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone are King and gracious, <sup>25</sup> who alone suppliest every need, who alone are righteous and almighty and eternal, you that save Israel out of all evil, who made the fathers your chosen, and did sanctify them: <sup>26</sup> accept the sacrifice for all your people Israel, and guard your own portion, and consecrate it. <sup>27</sup> Gather together our Dispersion, set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that you are our God. <sup>28</sup> Torment them that oppress us and in arrogancy shamefully entreat us. <sup>29</sup> Plant your people in your holy place, even as Moses said.

<sup>1</sup> It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, as has been signified above: <sup>2</sup> and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. <sup>3</sup> And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. <sup>4</sup> And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, <sup>m</sup> when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and [*]saw the heritage of God. <sup>5</sup> And Jeremiah came and found <sup>n</sup> a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. <sup>6</sup> And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. <sup>7</sup> But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, yes and the place shall be unknown until God <sup>o</sup> gather the people again together, and mercy come: <sup>8</sup> and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the <sup>p</sup> cloud.

As also it was showed with Moses; as also Solomon implored that the place might be consecrated greatly, <sup>9</sup> and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. <sup>10</sup> As Moses prayed to the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; <sup>11</sup> (<sup>q</sup> and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) <sup>12</sup> and Solomon kept the eight days.

with one another in manful deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they <sup>v</sup> rescued the whole country, and chased the barbarous multitudes, <sup>22</sup> and recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became <sup>w</sup> gracious to them with all forbearance: <sup>23</sup> these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one work. <sup>24</sup> For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the <sup>x</sup> difficulty which awaits them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, <sup>25</sup> we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall <sup>y</sup> what we have written, and that all readers may have profit. <sup>26</sup> And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labor of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching <sup>27</sup> (even as it is no light thing to him that prepares a banquet, and seeks the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labor, <sup>28</sup> leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again <sup>z</sup> having no strength to <sup>a</sup> fill in the outlines of our abridgement. <sup>29</sup> For as the masterbuilder of a new house must care for the whole <sup>b</sup> structure, and again he that undertakes to <sup>c</sup> decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adorning thereof; even so I think it is also with us. <sup>30</sup> To occupy the ground, and to <sup>d</sup> indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becomes the first author of the history: <sup>31</sup> but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a writing into a new form. <sup>32</sup> Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which has been already <sup>e</sup> said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

power. <sup>7</sup> And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. <sup>8</sup> So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a color of visiting the cities of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. <sup>9</sup> And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest <sup>h</sup> of the city, he laid before <sup>i</sup> them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so. <sup>10</sup> And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of widows and orphans, <sup>11</sup> and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, <sup>j</sup> and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; <sup>12</sup> and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done to them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honored over all the world. <sup>13</sup> But <sup>k</sup> Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

<sup>14</sup> So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. <sup>15</sup> And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. <sup>16</sup> And whoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his color betrayed the distress of his soul. <sup>17</sup> For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him. <sup>18</sup> And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. <sup>19</sup> And the women, girded with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some to the <sup>l</sup> gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. <sup>20</sup> And all, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. <sup>21</sup> Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. <sup>25</sup> For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and struck at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete armor of gold. <sup>26</sup> Two other also appeared to him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. <sup>27</sup> And when he had fallen suddenly to the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him up and put him into a litter, <sup>28</sup> and carried him, him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognize the sovereignty of God. <sup>29</sup> And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, <sup>30</sup> they blessed the Lord, that made marvelous his own place; and the temple, which a little before was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord has granted you life; <sup>34</sup> and do you, since you have been scourged from heaven, publish to all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. <sup>35</sup> So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice to the Lord and vowed <sup>o</sup> great vows to him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. <sup>36</sup> And he testified to all men the works of the <sup>p</sup> great God which he had [*]saw with his eyes.

<sup>37</sup> And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, <sup>38</sup> If you have any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him there, and you shall receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power of God. <sup>39</sup> For he that has his dwelling in heaven himself has his eyes upon that place, and helps it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroys.

the state. <sup>3</sup> But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of <sup>q</sup> Simon's trusted followers, <sup>4</sup> Onias, seeing the <sup>r</sup> danger of the contention, and that <sup>s</sup> Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, was increasing Simon's malice, <sup>5</sup> betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the <sup>t</sup> people, both public and private; <sup>6</sup> for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his madness.

<sup>7</sup> But when Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, <sup>8</sup> having promised to the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents; <sup>9</sup> and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him <sup>u</sup> through the king's authority to set him up a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch. <sup>10</sup> And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. <sup>11</sup> And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favor to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the embassy to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: <sup>12</sup> for he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. <sup>13</sup> And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; <sup>14</sup> so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to <sup>v</sup> enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palaestra, after the summons <sup>w</sup> of the discus; <sup>15</sup> making of no account the honors of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. <sup>16</sup> By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and to whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them. <sup>17</sup> For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God: but <sup>x</sup> these things the time following shall declare.

And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of <sup>a</sup> present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

<sup>30</sup> Now while such was the state of things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. <sup>31</sup> The king therefore came to Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his <sup>i</sup> deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. <sup>32</sup> And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about. <sup>33</sup> And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reprov'd him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lies by Antioch. <sup>34</sup> Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him <sup>j</sup> to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and <sup>k</sup> being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he <sup>l</sup> despatched him without regard of justice. <sup>35</sup> For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. <sup>36</sup> And when the king was come back again from the places in Cilicia, the Jews that were <sup>m</sup> in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. <sup>37</sup> Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; <sup>38</sup> and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and <sup>n</sup> tore off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city to that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

<sup>43</sup> But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. <sup>44</sup> And when the king was come to Tyre, the three men that were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him. <sup>45</sup> But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. <sup>46</sup> Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: <sup>47</sup> and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but these hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. <sup>48</sup> Soon then did they that were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. <sup>49</sup> For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. <sup>50</sup> But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, <sup>o</sup> cleaving to wickedness, <sup>p</sup> as a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; <sup>3</sup> and drawing of swords; and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and <sup>4</sup> pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armor. <sup>4</sup> Wherefore all men implored that the <sup>r</sup> vision might have been given for good.

<sup>5</sup> But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly <sup>s</sup> made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well near taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. <sup>6</sup> But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. <sup>7</sup> The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. <sup>8</sup> At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been <sup>t</sup> shut up at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; <sup>9</sup> and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to the Lacedaemonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were <sup>u</sup> near of kin; <sup>10</sup> and he that had cast out a multitude unburied had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

<sup>11</sup> Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judaea was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, <sup>12</sup> and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to kill such as went up upon the houses; <sup>13</sup> and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. <sup>14</sup> And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain.

<sup>15</sup> But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), <sup>16</sup> even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honor of the place. <sup>17</sup> And Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that lived in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was then turned away from the place. <sup>18</sup> But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. <sup>19</sup> Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, but

the place for the nation's sake. <sup>20</sup> Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory. <sup>21</sup> As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste to Antioch, weening in his arrogance to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because his heart was lifted up. <sup>22</sup> And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; <sup>23</sup> and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind <sup>v</sup> toward the Jews <sup>w</sup> whom he had made his citizens, <sup>24</sup> he sent that <sup>x</sup> lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to kill all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. <sup>25</sup> And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the Sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. <sup>26</sup> And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he killed great multitudes. <sup>27</sup> But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on <sup>y</sup> such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

of the sacrifices; <sup>9</sup> and that they should kill such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: <sup>10</sup> for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. <sup>11</sup> And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burned together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honor of that most solemn day.

<sup>12</sup> I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. <sup>13</sup> For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. <sup>14</sup> For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord does with longsuffering forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained to the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, <sup>15</sup> that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, <sup>h</sup> when we be come to the <sup>i</sup> height of our sins. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore he never withdraws his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet does he not forsake his own people. <sup>17</sup> Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

pollution and a stain of mine old age. <sup>26</sup> For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will show myself worthy of mine old age, <sup>28</sup> and <sup>o</sup> leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. <sup>29</sup> <sup>p</sup> And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because <sup>q</sup> these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, <sup>30</sup> and when he was at the point to die with the <sup>r</sup> stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that has the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. <sup>31</sup> So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

<sup>1</sup> And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the abominable swine's flesh. <sup>2</sup> But one of them made himself the spokesman and said, What would you ask and learn of us? for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. <sup>3</sup> And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to

heat pans and caldrons: <sup>4</sup> and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. <sup>5</sup> And when he was utterly <sup>s</sup> maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapor of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: <sup>6</sup> The Lord God sees, and in truth is <sup>t</sup> entreated for us, as Moses declared in <sup>u</sup> his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be <sup>v</sup> entreated for his servants.

<sup>7</sup> And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt you eat, before your body be punished in every limb? <sup>8</sup> But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. <sup>9</sup> And when he was at the last gasp, he said, You, miscreant, do release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, to an eternal renewal of life.

<sup>10</sup> And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, <sup>11</sup> and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I contemn these; and from him I hope to receive these back again: <sup>12</sup> insomuch that the king himself and they

that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

<sup>13</sup> And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. <sup>14</sup> And being come near to death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for you, you shall have no resurrection to life.

<sup>18</sup> And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvelous things are come to pass; <sup>19</sup> but think not you that you shall be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

them, <sup>22</sup> I know not how you<sup>z</sup> came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your <sup>x</sup> spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. <sup>23</sup> Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the <sup>y</sup> generation of man and devised the <sup>z</sup> generation of all things, in mercy gives back to you again both your <sup>a</sup> spirit and your life, as you<sup>z</sup> now contemn your own selves for his laws' sake. <sup>24</sup> But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, while the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and <sup>b</sup> raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his <sup>c</sup> Friend and intrust him with affairs. <sup>25</sup> But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called to him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. <sup>26</sup> And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. <sup>27</sup> But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spoke thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried you nine months in my womb, and gave you suck three years, and nourished and brought you up to this age, and sustained you. <sup>28</sup> I beseech you, my child, to lift your eyes to the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognize that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise comes into being. <sup>29</sup> Fear not this butcher, but, proving yourself worthy of your brethren, accept your death, that in the mercy of God I may receive you again with your brethren.

<sup>30</sup> But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait you<sup>33</sup> for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. <sup>31</sup> But you, that have devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shall in no wise escape the hands of God. <sup>32</sup> For we are suffering because of our own sins; <sup>33</sup> and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord has been angered a little while, yet shall he again be reconciled with his own servants. <sup>34</sup> But you, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in your wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising your hand against the heavenly children; <sup>35</sup> For not yet have you escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that sees all things. <sup>36</sup> For these our brethren, having endured a <sup>d</sup> short pain that brings everlasting life, have now <sup>e</sup> died under God's covenant; But you, through the judgement of God, shall receive in just measure the penalties of your arrogance. <sup>37</sup> But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become <sup>f</sup> gracious to the nation; and that you amidst trials and plagues may confess that he alone is God; <sup>38</sup> and that in me and my brethren <sup>g</sup> you may stay the wrath of the Almighty, which has been justly brought upon our whole race. <sup>39</sup> But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. <sup>40</sup> So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

<sup>1</sup> But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called to them their kinsfolk; and taking to them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. <sup>2</sup> And they called upon the Lord, beseeking him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; <sup>3</sup> and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried to him; <sup>4</sup> and to remember also the lawless <sup>h</sup> slaughter of the innocent infants, and <sup>i</sup> the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to show his hatred of wickedness. <sup>5</sup> And when Maccabaeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. <sup>6</sup> <sup>j</sup> And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

<sup>8</sup> But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote to Ptolemy, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, that he should support the king's cause. <sup>9</sup> And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's <sup>k</sup> Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judaea; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. <sup>10</sup> And Nicanor <sup>l</sup> undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. <sup>11</sup> And immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish <sup>m</sup> slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten <sup>n</sup> slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

his reverend and glorious name. <sup>16</sup> And Maccabaeus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, <sup>17</sup> setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. <sup>18</sup> For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. <sup>19</sup> And moreover he recounted to them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, <sup>20</sup> and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against the <sup>p</sup> Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the <sup>q</sup> six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. <sup>21</sup> And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; <sup>22</sup> <sup>r</sup> appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, <sup>23</sup> and

moreover Eleazer also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle with Nicanor. <sup>24</sup> And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they killed of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and <sup>s</sup> disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee: <sup>25</sup> and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some <sup>t</sup> distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; <sup>26</sup> for it was the day before the Sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. <sup>27</sup> <sup>u</sup> And when they had gathered <sup>v</sup> the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the Sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them to this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. <sup>28</sup> And after the Sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the <sup>w</sup> maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. <sup>29</sup> And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they implored the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

<sup>30</sup> And having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the <sup>x</sup> maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. <sup>31</sup> <sup>y</sup> And when they had gathered the arms <sup>z</sup> of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem. <sup>32</sup> And they killed the <sup>a</sup> phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. <sup>33</sup> <sup>b</sup> And as they kept the feast of victory in the <sup>c</sup> city of their fathers, they burned those that had set the sacred <sup>d</sup> gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into <sup>e</sup> an outhouse; and so they received the meet reward of their impiety.

along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. <sup>8</sup> And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, <sup>n</sup> showing to all that the power was manifestly God's; <sup>9</sup> so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. <sup>10</sup> And the man that a little before supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. <sup>11</sup> Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogancy, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. <sup>12</sup> And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject to God, and that one who is mortal should not <sup>o</sup> be minded arrogantly. <sup>13</sup> And the vile man vowed to the sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: <sup>14</sup> that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to <sup>p</sup> make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; <sup>15</sup> and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; <sup>16</sup> and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; <sup>17</sup> and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. <sup>18</sup> But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote to the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening to the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. <sup>26</sup> I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. <sup>27</sup> For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered to blaspheming and barbarous heathen. <sup>5</sup> Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Chislev. <sup>6</sup> And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that <sup>s</sup> not long before, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. <sup>7</sup> Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. <sup>8</sup> They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>t</sup> such was the end of Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes. <sup>10</sup> But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named <sup>u</sup> Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the <sup>v</sup> successive evils of the wars. <sup>11</sup> For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>12</sup> For Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done to them, endeavoured to <sup>w</sup> conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms. <sup>13</sup> Whereupon being accused by the king's <sup>x</sup> Friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself to Antiochus called Epiphanes, and <sup>y</sup> failing to uphold the honor of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

<sup>14</sup> But Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. <sup>15</sup> And together with him the Idumaeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving to them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. <sup>16</sup> But Maccabaeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and implored God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumaeans; <sup>17</sup> and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and killed those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. <sup>18</sup> And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for a seige, <sup>19</sup> Maccabaeus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zacchaeus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself to places where he was most needed. <sup>20</sup> But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them slip away. <sup>21</sup> But when word was brought to Maccabaeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. <sup>22</sup> So he killed these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. <sup>23</sup> And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.

the midst of them, and covering him with their own armor, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. <sup>31</sup> And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

had mercy on them. <sup>11</sup> And hurling themselves like lions upon the enemy, they killed of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. <sup>12</sup> But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. <sup>13</sup> But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again to them, <sup>14</sup> and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and <sup>k</sup> promised that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. <sup>15</sup> And Maccabaeus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatever requests Maccabaeus delivered in writing to Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. <sup>16</sup> For the letters written to the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greeting. <sup>23</sup> Seeing that our father passed to the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom <sup>p</sup> should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, <sup>24</sup> we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them to the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed to them,— <sup>25</sup> choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from <sup>q</sup> disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. <sup>26</sup> You will therefore do well to send messengers to them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. <sup>28</sup> If you<sup>23</sup> fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. <sup>29</sup> Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. <sup>30</sup> They therefore that depart home up to the thirties day of Xanthicus shall have our <sup>r</sup> friendship, with full permission <sup>31</sup> that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. <sup>32</sup> Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. <sup>33</sup> Fare you<sup>23</sup> well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus. <sup>34</sup> And the Romans also sent to them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting. <sup>35</sup> In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. <sup>36</sup> But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after you<sup>23</sup> have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. <sup>37</sup> Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. <sup>38</sup> <sup>s</sup> Farewell. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus.

among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will towards them; <sup>4</sup> and when <sup>t</sup> the Jews, <sup>u</sup> relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred. <sup>5</sup> But when Judas heard of the cruelty done to his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him <sup>6</sup> and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burned the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled there. <sup>7</sup> But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. <sup>8</sup> But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner to the Jews that sojourned among them, <sup>9</sup> he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed to their tents. <sup>13</sup> And he also fell upon a certain city <sup>w</sup> Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of various nations; and it was named Caspin. <sup>14</sup> But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. <sup>15</sup> But Judas and his company, calling upon the great sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; <sup>16</sup> and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. <sup>21</sup> But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called <sup>z</sup> Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. <sup>22</sup> But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because the manifestation of him who sees all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. <sup>23</sup> And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. <sup>24</sup> But Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, implored them with much <sup>a</sup> crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some: <sup>b</sup> otherwise, said he, little regard will <sup>c</sup> be shewn to these. <sup>25</sup> So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed <sup>f</sup> on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. <sup>28</sup> But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaks in pieces the <sup>g</sup> strength of <sup>h</sup> the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and killed as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. <sup>29</sup> And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. <sup>30</sup> But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortune, <sup>31</sup> they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close to hand.

were with Esdris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to show himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; <sup>37</sup> and then in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

that he took thought for a resurrection. <sup>44</sup> For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. <sup>45</sup> (And if he did it looking to an honorable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that <sup>o</sup> die <sup>p</sup> in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

guilty of sacrilege, or has attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they <sup>v</sup> all push forward into destruction. <sup>7</sup> By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and that right justly; <sup>8</sup> for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins <sup>w</sup> against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

<sup>3</sup> But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access to the holy altar, <sup>4</sup> came to king Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fifties year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; <sup>5</sup> but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereto. <sup>6</sup> Those of the Jews that he called <sup>l</sup> Hasidaeans, whose leader is Judas Maccabaeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. <sup>7</sup> Wherefore, having laid aside mine ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come <sup>m</sup> hither; <sup>8</sup> first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spoke before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. <sup>9</sup> But do you, O king, having informed yourself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which <sup>n</sup> is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which you receive all. <sup>10</sup> For as long as Judas remains alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. <sup>11</sup> And when he had spoken such words as these, at once <sup>o</sup> the rest of the king's <sup>p</sup> Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. <sup>12</sup> And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judaea, he sent him forth, <sup>13</sup> giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the <sup>q</sup> great temple. <sup>14</sup> And <sup>r</sup> those in Judaea that <sup>s</sup> had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

<sup>15</sup> But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own portion. <sup>16</sup> <sup>t</sup> And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway sets out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Lessau. <sup>17</sup> But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, <sup>u</sup> yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

<sup>18</sup> Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. <sup>19</sup> Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. <sup>20</sup> So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the <sup>v</sup> troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. <sup>21</sup> And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; <sup>22</sup> Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. <sup>23</sup> Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. <sup>24</sup> And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; <sup>25</sup> he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

<sup>26</sup> But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was between them, <sup>w</sup> and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came to Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. <sup>27</sup> And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabaeus prisoner to Antioch in all haste. <sup>28</sup> And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; <sup>29</sup> but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. <sup>30</sup> But Maccabaeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruler in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, <sup>33</sup> he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If you<sup>g</sup> will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this <sup>a</sup> temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple to <sup>b</sup> Bacchus for all to see. <sup>34</sup> And having said this, he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fights for our nation, in these words: <sup>35</sup> You, <sup>c</sup> O Lord of the universe, who in yourself have need of nothing, was well pleased that a sanctuary of your <sup>d</sup> habitation should be set among us; <sup>36</sup> so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house that has been lately cleansed.

fell upon his sword, <sup>42</sup> choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: <sup>43</sup> but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. <sup>44</sup> But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of <sup>g</sup> his side. <sup>45</sup> And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, <sup>46</sup> when as his blood was now well near spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of <sup>h</sup> the life and the <sup>i</sup> spirit to restore him <sup>j</sup> these again, he thus died.

<sup>1</sup> But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. <sup>2</sup> And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that sees all things has <sup>k</sup> honored and hallowed above other days; <sup>3</sup> then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the Sabbath day. <sup>4</sup> And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; <sup>5</sup> then says the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, <sup>1</sup> who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his <sup>m</sup> cruel purpose.

child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: <sup>13</sup> thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: <sup>14</sup> and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prays much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of God: <sup>15</sup> and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, <sup>16</sup> Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith you shall strike down the adversaries.

<sup>17</sup> And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite to virtue and to stir the souls of the young to manly courage, they determined <sup>r</sup> not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. <sup>18</sup> For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. <sup>19</sup> And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

Maccabaeus, perceiving the presence of the <sup>v</sup> troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the <sup>w</sup> elephants, holding up his hands to heaven called upon the Lord that works wonders, recognising that success comes not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are worthy. <sup>22</sup> And calling upon God he said after this manner: You, O Sovereign Lord, did send your angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judaea, and he killed of the <sup>x</sup> host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; <sup>23</sup> so now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: <sup>24</sup> through the greatness of your arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come here against your holy people. And as he ended with these words, <sup>25</sup> Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and paeans; <sup>26</sup> but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. <sup>27</sup> And contending with their hands, and praying to God with their hearts, they killed no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad by the manifestation of God.

countrymen, commanded to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. <sup>31</sup> And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were in the citadel; <sup>32</sup> and showing the head of the vile Nicanor, and the hand of that profane man, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty, <sup>33</sup> and cutting out the tongue of the impious Nicanor, he said that he would give <sup>z</sup> it by pieces to the birds, and hang up the <sup>a</sup> rewards of his madness over against the sanctuary. <sup>34</sup> And they all looking up to heaven blessed <sup>b</sup> the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, Blessed be he that has preserved his own place undefiled. <sup>35</sup> And he hanged Nicanor's head and shoulder from the citadel, a sign, evident to all and manifest, of the help of the Lord. <sup>36</sup> And they all ordained with a common decree in no wise to let this day pass undistinguished, but to mark with honor the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (it is called Adar in the Syrian tongue), the day before the day of Mordecai.

<sup>37</sup> THIS then having been the issue of the attempt of Nicanor, and the city having from those times been held by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my book. <sup>38</sup> And if I have written well and to the point in my story, this is what I myself desired; but if meanly and indifferently, this is all I could attain to. <sup>39</sup> For as it is <sup>c</sup> distasteful to drink wine alone and in like manner again to drink water alone, <sup>d</sup> while the mingling of wine with

THE THIRD BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

1

<sup>1</sup> Now Philopater, on learning from those who came back that Antiochus had made himself master of the places which belonged to himself, sent orders to all his footmen and horsemen, took with him his sister Arsinoe, and marched out as far as the parts of Raphia, where Antiochus and his forces encamped. <sup>2</sup> And one Theodotus, intending to carry out his design, took with him the bravest of the armed men who had been before committed to his trust by Ptolemy, and got through at night to the tent of Ptolemy, to kill him on his own responsibility, and so to end the war. <sup>3</sup> But Dositheus, called the son of Drimulus, by birth a Jew, afterward a renegade from the laws and observances of his country, conveyed Ptolemy away, and made an obscure person lie down in his stead in the tent. It befell this man to receive the fate which was meant for the other. <sup>4</sup> A fierce battle then took place; and the men of Antiochus prevailing, Arsinoe continually went up and down the ranks, and with dishevelled hair, with tears and entreaties, begged the soldiers to fight manfully for themselves, their children, and wives; and promised that if they proved conquerors, she would give them two minas of gold apiece. <sup>5</sup> It thus fell out that their enemies were defeated in hand-to-hand encounter, and that many of them were taken prisoners. <sup>6</sup> Having vanquished this attempt, the king then decided to proceed to the neighbouring cities, and encourage them. <sup>7</sup> By doing this, and by making donations to their temples, he inspired his subjects with confidence. <sup>8</sup> The Jews sent some of their council and of their elders to him. The greetings, guest-gifts, and congratulations of the past, bestowed by them, filled him with the greater eagerness to visit their city. <sup>9</sup> Having arrived at Jerusalem, sacrificed, and offered thank-offerings to the Greatest God, and done whatever else was suitable to the sanctity of the place, and entered the inner court, <sup>10</sup> he was so struck with the magnificence of the place, and so wondered at the orderly arrangements of the temple, that he considered entering the sanctuary itself. <sup>11</sup> And when they told him that this was not permissible, none of the nation, no, nor even the priests in general, but only the supreme high priest of all, and he only once in a year, being allowed to go in, he would by no means give way. <sup>12</sup> Then they read the law to him; but he persisted in obtruding himself, exclaiming, that he ought to be allowed: and saying Be it that they were deprived of this honor, I ought not to be. <sup>13</sup> And he put the question, Why, when he entered all the temples, none of the priests who were present forbad him? <sup>14</sup> He was thoroughly answered by some one, That he did wrong to boast of this. <sup>15</sup> Well; since I have done this, said he, be the cause what it may, shall I not enter with or without your consent? <sup>16</sup> And when the priests fell down in their sacred vestments imploring the Greatest God to come and help in time of need, and to avert the violence of the fierce aggressor, and when they filled the temple with lamentations and tears, <sup>17</sup> then those who had been left behind in the city were scared, and rushed forth, uncertain of the event. <sup>18</sup> Virgins, who had been shut up within their chambers, came out with their mothers, scattering dust and ashes on their heads, and filling the streets with outcries. <sup>19</sup> Women, but recently separated off, left their bridal chambers, left the reserve that befitted them, and ran about the city in a disorderly manner. <sup>20</sup> New-born babes were deserted by the mothers or nurses who waited upon them; some here, some there, in houses, or in fields; these now, with an ardour which could not be checked, swarmed into the Most High temple. <sup>21</sup> Various were the prayers offered up by those who assembled in this place, on account of the unholy attempt of the king. <sup>22</sup> Along with these there were some of the citizens who took courage, and would not submit to his obstinacy, and his intention of carrying out his purpose. <sup>23</sup> Calling out to arms, and to die bravely in defence of the law of their fathers, they created a great uproar in the place, and were with difficulty brought back by the aged and the elders to the station of prayer which they had occupied before. <sup>24</sup> During this time the multitude kept on praying. <sup>25</sup> The elders who surrounded the king strove in many ways to divert his haughty mind from the design which he had formed. <sup>26</sup> He, in his hardened mood, insensible to all persuasion, was going onwards with the view of carrying out this design. <sup>27</sup> Yet even his own officers, when they saw this, joined the Jews in an appeal to Him who has all power, to aid in the present crisis, and not wink at such overweening lawlessness. <sup>28</sup> Such was the frequency and the vehemence of the cry of the assembled crowd, that an indescribable noise ensued. <sup>29</sup> Not the men only, but the very walls and floor seemed to sound forth; all things preferring dissolution rather than to see the place defiled.

You, O King, when you created the illimitable and measureless earth, did choose out this city: you did make this place sacred to your name, albeit you need nothing: you did glorify it with your illustrious presence, after constructing it to the glory of your great and honorable name. <sup>10</sup> And you did promise, out of love to the people of Israel, that should we fall away from you, and become afflicted, and then come to this house and pray, you would hear our prayer. <sup>11</sup> Verily you are faithful and true. <sup>12</sup> And when you did often aid our fathers when hard pressed, and in low estate, and delivered them out of gret dangers, <sup>13</sup> see now, holy King, how through our many and great sins we are borne down, and made subject to our enemies, and are become weak and powerless. <sup>14</sup> We being in this low condition, this bold and profane man seeks to dishonor this your holy place, consecrated out of the earth to the name of your Majesty. <sup>15</sup> Your dwelling place, the heaven of heavens, is indeed unapproachable to men. <sup>16</sup> But since it seemed good to you to exhibit your glory among your people Israel, you did sanctify this place. <sup>17</sup> Punish us not by means of the uncleanness of their men, nor chastise us by means of their profanity; lest the lawless ones should boast in their rage, and exult in exuberant pride of speech, and say, <sup>18</sup> We have trampled upon the holy house, as idolatrous houses are trampled upon. <sup>19</sup> Blot out our iniquities, and do away with our errors, and show forth your compassion in this hour. <sup>20</sup> Let your mercies quickly go before us. Grant us peace, that the cast down and broken hearted may praise you with their mouth. <sup>21</sup> At that time God, who sees all things, who is beyond all Holy among the holy, heard that prayer, so suitable; and scourged the man greatly uplifted with scorn and insolence. <sup>22</sup> Shaking him to and fro as a reed is shaken with the wind, he cast him upon the pavement, powerless, with limbs paralyzed; by a righteous judgment deprived of the faculty of speech. <sup>23</sup> His friends and bodyguards, beholding the swift recompense which had suddenly overtaken him, struck with exceeding terror, and fearing that he would die, speedily removed him. <sup>24</sup> When in course of time he had come to himself, this severe check caused no repentance within him, but he departed with bitter threatenings. <sup>25</sup> He proceeded to Egypt, grew worse in wickedness through his before mentioned companions in wine, who were lost to all goodness; <sup>26</sup> and not satisfied with countless acts of impiety, his audacity so increased that he raised evil reports there, and many of his friends, watching his purpose attentively, joined in furthering his will. <sup>27</sup> His purpose was to indict a public stigma upon our race; wherefore he erected a pillar at the tower-porch, and caused the following inscription to be engraved upon it: <sup>28</sup> That entrance to their own temple was to be refused to all those who would not sacrifice; that all the Jews were to be registered among the common people; that those who resisted were to be forcibly seized and put to death; <sup>29</sup> that those who were thus registered, were to be marked on their persons by the ivy-leaf symbol of Dionysus, and to be set apart with these limited rights. <sup>30</sup> To do away with the appearance of hating them all, he had it written underneath, that if any of them should elect to enter the community of those initiated in the rites, these should have equal rights with the Alexandrians.<sup>31</sup> Some of those who were over the city, therefore, abhorring any approach to the city of piety, unhesitatingly gave in to the king, and expected to derive some great honor from a future connection with him.<sup>32</sup> A nobler spirit, however, prompted the majority to cling to their religious observances, and by paying money that they might live unmolested, these sought to escape the registration:<sup>33</sup> cheerfully looking forward to future aid, they abhorred their own apostates, considering them to be national foes, and debarring them from the common usages of social intercourse.

righteousness, they had established themselves in the good opinion of the world.<sup>6</sup> What all the rest of mankind said, was, however, made of no account by the foreigners;<sup>7</sup> who said much of the exclusiveness of the Jews with regard to their worship and meats; they alleged that they were men unsociable, hostile to the king's interests, refusing to associate with him or his troops. By this way of speaking, they brought much odium upon them.<sup>8</sup> Nor was this unexpected uproar and sudden conflux of people unobserved by the Greeks who lived in the city, concerning men who had never harmed them: yet to aid them was not in their power, since all was oppression around; but they encouraged them in their troubles, and expected a favourable turn of affairs:<sup>9</sup> He who knows all things, will not, said they, disregard so great a people.<sup>10</sup> Some of the neighbors, friends, and fellow dealers of the Jews, even called them secretly to an interview, pledged them their assistance, and promised to do their very utmost for them.<sup>11</sup> Now the king, elated with his prosperous fortune, and not regarding the superior power of God, but thinking to persevere in his present purpose, wrote the following letter to the prejudice of the Jews.<sup>12</sup> King Ptolemy Philopater, to the commanders and soldiers in Egypt, and in all places, health and happiness!<sup>13</sup> I am right well; and so, too, are my affairs.<sup>14</sup> Since our Asiatic campaign, the particulars of which you know, and which by the aid of the gods, not lightly given, and by our own vigour, has been brought to a successful issue according to our expectation,<sup>15</sup> we resolved, not with strength of spear, but with gentleness and much humanity, as it were to nurse the inhabitants of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, and to be their willing benefactors. <sup>16</sup> So, having bestowed considerable sums of money upon the temples of the several cities, we proceeded even as far as Jerusalem; and went up to honor the temple of these wretched beings who never cease from their folly. <sup>17</sup> To outward appearance they received us willingly; but belied that appearance by their deeds. When we were eager to enter their temple, and to honor it with the most beautiful and exquisite gifts, <sup>18</sup> they were so carried away by their old arrogance, as to forbid us the entrance; while we, out of our forbearance toward all men, refrained from exercising our power upon them. <sup>19</sup> And thus, exhibiting their enmity against us, they alone among the nations lift up their heads against kings and benefactors, as men unwilling to submit to any thing reasonable. <sup>20</sup> We then, having endeavoured to make allowance for the madness of these persons, and on our victorious return treating all people in Egypt courteously, acted in a manner which was befitting. <sup>21</sup> Accordingly, bearing no ill-will against their kinsmen at Jerusalem, but rather remembering our connection with them, and the numerous matters with sincere heart from a remote period entrusted to them, we wished to venture a total alteration of their state, by bestowing upon them the rights of citizens of Alexandria, and to admit them to the everlasting rites of our solemnities. <sup>22</sup> All this, however, they have taken in a very different spirit. With their innate malignity, they have spurned the fair offer; and constantly inclining to evil, <sup>23</sup> have rejected the inestimable rights. Not only so, but by using speech, and by refraining from speech, they abhor the few among them who are heartily disposed towards us; ever deeming that their ignoble course of procedure will force us to do away with our reform. <sup>24</sup> Having then, received certain proofs that these Jews bear us every sort of ill-will, we must look forward to the possibility of some sudden tumult among ourselves, when these impious men may turn traitors and barbarous enemies. <sup>25</sup> As soon, therefore, as the contents of this letter become known to you, in that same hour we order those Jews who dwell among you, with wives and children, to be sent to us, vilified and abused, in chains of iron, to undergo a death, cruel and ignominious, suitable to men disaffected. <sup>26</sup> For by the punishment of them in one body we perceive that we have found the only means of establishing our affairs for the future on a firm and satisfactory basis. <sup>27</sup> Whosoever shall shield a Jew, whether it be old man, child, or suckling, shall with his whole house be tortured to death. <sup>28</sup> Whoever shall inform against the Jews, besides receiving the property of the person charged, shall be presented with two thousand drachmas from the royal treasury, shall be made free, and shall be crowned. <sup>29</sup> Whatever place shall shelter a Jew, shall, when he is hunted forth, be put under the ban of fire, and be for ever rendered useless to every living being for all time to come. <sup>30</sup> Such was the purport of the king's letter.

hatred, were now to show itself openly. <sup>2</sup> The Jews suffered great throes of sorrow, and wept much; while their hearts, all things around being lamentable, were set on fire as they bewailed the sudden destruction which was decreed against them. <sup>3</sup> What home, or city, or place at all inhabited, or what streets were there, which their condition did not fill with wailing and lamentation? <sup>4</sup> They were sent out unanimously by the generals in the several cities, with such stern and pitiless feeling, that the exceptional nature of the infliction moved even some of their enemies. These, influenced by sentiments of common humanity, and reflecting upon the uncertain issue of life, shed tears at this their miserable expulsion. <sup>5</sup> A multitude of aged hoary-haired old men, were driven along with halting bending feet, urged onward by the impulse of a violent, shameless force to quick speed. <sup>6</sup> Girls who had entered the bridal chamber quite lately, to enjoy the partnership of marriage, exchanged pleasure for misery; and with dust scattered upon their myrrh-anointed heads, were hurried along unveiled; and, in the midst of outlandish insults, set up with one accord a lamentable cry in lieu of the marriage hymn. <sup>7</sup> Bound, and exposed to public gaze, they were hurried violently on board ship. <sup>8</sup> The husbands of these, in the prime of their youthful vigour, instead of crowns wore halters round their necks; instead of feasting and youthful jollity, spent the rest of their nuptial days in wailings, and saw only the grave at hand. <sup>9</sup> They were dragged along by unyielding chains, like wild beasts: of these, some had their necks thrust into the benches of the rowers; while the feet of others were enclosed in hard fetters. <sup>10</sup> The planks of the deck above them barred out the light, and shut out the day on every side, so that they might be treated like traitors during the whole voyage. <sup>11</sup> They were conveyed accordingly in this vessel, and at the end of it arrived at Schedia. The king had ordered them to be cast into the vast hippodrome, which was built in front of the city. This place was well adapted by its situation to expose them to the gaze of all comers into the city, and of those who went from the city into the country. Thus they could hold no communication with his forces; nay, were deemed unworthy of any civilized accommodation. <sup>12</sup> When this was done, the king, hearing that their brethren in the city often went out and lamented the melancholy distress of these victims, <sup>13</sup> was full of rage, and commanded that they should be carefully subjected to the same (and not one whit milder) treatment. <sup>14</sup> The whole nation was now to be registered. Every individual was to be specified by name; not for that hard servitude of labor which we have a little before mentioned, but that he might expose them to the before-mentioned tortures; and finally, in the short space of a day, might extirpate them by his cruelties. <sup>15</sup> The registering of these men was carried on cruelly, zealously, assiduously, from the rising of the sun to its going down, and was not brought to an end in forty days. <sup>16</sup> The king was filled with great and constant joy, and celebrated banquets before the temple idols. His erring heart, far from the truth, and his profane mouth, gave glory to idols, deaf and incapable of speaking or aiding, and uttered unworthy speech against the Greatest God.

<sup>1</sup> Then he called Hermon, who had charge of the elephants. Full of rage, altogether fixed in his furious design, <sup>2</sup> he commanded him, with a quantity of unmixed wine and handfuls of incense infused to drug the elephants early on the following day. These five hundred elephants were, when infuriated by the copious draughts of frankincense, to be led up to the execution of death upon the Jews. <sup>3</sup> The king, after issuing these orders, went to his feasting, and gathered together all those of his friends and of the army who hated the Jews the most. <sup>4</sup> The master of the elephants, Hermon, fulfilled his commission punctually. <sup>5</sup> The underlings appointed for the purpose went out about eventide and bound the hands of the miserable victims, and took other precautions for their security at night,

thinking that the whole race would perish together. <sup>6</sup> The heathen believed the Jews to be destitute of all protection; for chains fettered them about. <sup>7</sup> they invoked the Almighty Lord, and ceaselessly implored with tears their merciful God and Father, Ruler of all, Lord of every power, <sup>8</sup> to overthrow the evil purpose which was gone out against them, and to deliver them by extraordinary manifestation from that death which was in store for them. <sup>9</sup> Their litany so earnest went up to heaven. <sup>10</sup> Then Hermon, who had filled his merciless elephants with copious draughts of mingled wine and frankincense, came early to the palace to certify the kind thereof. <sup>11</sup> He, however, who has sent his good creature sleep from all time by night or by day thus gratifying whom he wills, diffused a portion thereof now upon the king. <sup>12</sup> By this sweet and profound influence of the Lord he was held fast, and thus his unjust purpose was quite frustrated, and his unflinching resolve greatly falsified. <sup>13</sup> But the Jews, having escaped the hour which had been fixed, praised their holy God, and again prayed him who is easily reconciled to display the power of his powerful hand to the overweening Gentiles. <sup>14</sup> The middle of the tenth hour had well near arrived, when the master-bidder, seeing the guests who were bidden collected, came and shook the king. <sup>15</sup> He gained his attention with difficulty, and hinting that the mealtime was getting past, talked the matter over with him. <sup>16</sup> The king listened to this, and then turning aside to his potations, commanded the guests to sit down before him. <sup>17</sup> This done, he asked them to enjoy themselves, and to indulge in mirth at this somewhat late hour of the banquet. <sup>18</sup> Conversation grew on, and the king sent for Hermon, and enquired of him, with fierce denunciations, why the Jews had been allowed to outlive that day. <sup>19</sup> Hermon explained that he had done his bidding over night; and in this he was confirmed by his friends. <sup>20</sup> The king, then, with a barbarity exceeding that of Phalaris, said, That they might thank his sleep of that day. Lose no time, and get ready the elephants against tomorrow, as you did before, for the destruction of these accursed Jews. <sup>21</sup> When the king said this, the company present were glad, and approved; and then each man went to his own home. <sup>22</sup> Nor did they employ the night in sleep, so much as in contriving cruel mockeries for those deemed miserable. <sup>23</sup> The morning cock had just crowed, and Hermon, having harnessed the brutes, was stimulating them in the great colonnade. <sup>24</sup> The city crowds were collected together to see the hideous spectacle, and waited impatiently for the dawn. <sup>25</sup> The Jews, breathless with momentary suspense, stretched forth their hands, and prayed the Greatest God, in mournful strains, again to help them speedily. <sup>26</sup> The sun's rays were not yet shed abroad, and the king was waiting for his friends, when Hermon came to him, calling him out, and saying, That his desires could now be realized. <sup>27</sup> The king, receiving him, was astonished at his unwonted exit; and, overwhelmed with a spirit of oblivion about everything, enquired the object of this earnest preparation. <sup>28</sup> But this was the working of that Almighty God who had made him forget all his purpose. <sup>29</sup> Hermon, and all his friends, pointed out the preparation of the animals. They are ready, O king, according to your own strict injunction. <sup>30</sup> The king was filled with fierce anger at these words; for, by the Providence of God regarding these things, his mind had become entirely confused. He looked hard at Hermon, and threatened him as follows: <sup>31</sup> Your parents, or your children, were they here, to these wild beasts a large repast they should have furnished; not these innocent Jews, who me and my forefathers loyally have served. <sup>32</sup> Had it not been for familiar friendship, and the claims of your office, your life should have gone for theirs. <sup>33</sup> Hermon, being threatened in this unexpected and alarming manner, was troubled in visage, and depressed in countenance. <sup>34</sup> The friends, too, stole out one by one, and dismissed the assembled multitudes to their respective occupations. <sup>35</sup> The Jews, having heard of these events, praised the glorious God and King of kings, because they had obtained this help, too, from him. <sup>36</sup> Now the king arranged another banquet after the same manner, and proclaimed an invitation to mirth. <sup>37</sup> And he summoned Hermon to his presence, and said, with threats, How often, O wretch, must I repeat my orders to you about these same persons? <sup>38</sup> Once more, arm the elephants against the morrow for the extermination of the Jews. <sup>39</sup> His kinsmen, who were reclining with him, wondered at his instability, and thus expressed themselves: <sup>40</sup> O king, how long do you make trial of us, as of men bereft of reason? This is the third time that you have ordered their destruction. When the thing is to be done, you change your mind, and recall your instructions. <sup>41</sup> For this cause the feeling of expectation causes tumult in the city: it swarms with factions; and is continually on the point of being plundered. <sup>42</sup> The king, just like another Phalaris, a prey to thoughtlessness, made no account of the changes which his own mind had undergone, issuing in the deliverance of the Jews. He swore a fruitless oath, and determined forthwith to send them to hades, crushed by the knees and feet of the elephants. <sup>43</sup> He would also invade Judea, and level its towns with fire and the sword; and destroy that temple which the heathen might not enter, and prevent sacrifices ever after being offered up there. <sup>44</sup> Joyfully his friends broke up, together with his kinsmen; and, trusting in his determination, arranged their forces in guard at the most convenient places of the city. <sup>45</sup> And the master of the elephants urged the beasts into an almost maniacal state, drenched them with incense and wine, and decked them with frightful instruments. <sup>46</sup> About early morning, when the city was now filled with an immense number of people at the hippodrome, he entered the palace, and called the king to the business in hand. <sup>47</sup> The king's heart teemed with impious rage; and he rushed forth with the mass, along with the elephants. With feelings unsoftened, and eyes pitiless, he longed to gaze at the hard and wretched doom of the above-mentioned Jews. <sup>48</sup> But the Jews, when the elephants went out at the gate, followed by the armed force; and when they saw the dust raised by the throng, and heard the loud cries of the crowd, <sup>49</sup> thought that they had come to the last moment of their lives, to the end of what they had tremblingly expected. They gave way, therefore, to lamentations and moans: they kissed each other: those nearest of kin to each other hung about one another's necks: fathers about their sons, mother their daughters: other women held their infants to their breasts, which drew what seemed their last milk. <sup>50</sup> Nevertheless, when they reflected upon the succour before granted them from heaven, they prostrated themselves with one accord; removed even the sucking children from the breasts, and <sup>51</sup> sent up an exceeding great cry entreating the Lord of all power to reveal himself, and have mercy upon those who now lay at the gates of hades.

<sup>1</sup> And Eleazar, an illustrious priest of the country, who had attained to length of days, and whose life had been adorned with virtue, caused the presbyters who were about him to cease to cry out to the holy God, and prayed thus: <sup>2</sup> O king, mighty in power, most high, Almighty God, who regulates the whole creation with your tender mercy, <sup>3</sup> look upon the seed of Abraham, upon the children of the sanctified Jacob, your sanctified inheritance, O Father, now being wrongfully destroyed as strangers in a strange land. <sup>4</sup> You destroyed Pharaoh, with his hosts of chariots, when that lord of this same Egypt was uplifted with lawless hardihood and loud-sounding tongue. Shedding the beams of your mercy upon the race of Israel, you did overwhelm him with his proud army. <sup>5</sup> When Sennacherim, the grievous king of the Assyrians, glorying in his countless hosts, had subdued the whole land with his spear, and was lifting himself against your holy city, with boastings grievous to be endured, you, O Lord, did demolish him and did show forth your might to many nations. <sup>6</sup> When the three friends in the land of Babylon of their own will exposed their lives to the fire rather than serve vain things, you did send a dewy coolness through the fiery furnace, and bring the fire upon all their adversaries. <sup>7</sup> It was you who, when Daniel was hurled, through slander and envy, as a prey to lions down below, did bring him back against unhurt to light. <sup>8</sup> When Jonah was pining away in the belly of the sea-bred monster, you did look upon him, O Father, and recover him to the sight of his own. <sup>9</sup> And now, you who hate insolence; you who do abound in mercy; you who are the protector of all things; appear quickly to those of the race of Israel, who are insulted by abhorred, lawless gentiles. <sup>10</sup> If our life has during our exile been stained with iniquity, deliver us from the hand of the enemy, and destroy us, O Lord, by the death which you prefer. <sup>11</sup> Let not the vain-minded congratulate vain idols at the destruction of your beloved, saying, Neither did their god deliver them. <sup>12</sup> You, who are All-powerful and Almighty, O Eternal One, behold! have mercy upon us who are being withdrawn from life, like traitors, by the unreasoning insolence of lawless men. <sup>13</sup> Let the heathen cower before your invincible might today, O glorious One, who have all power to save the race of Jacob. <sup>14</sup> The whole band of infants and their parents with tears beseech you. <sup>15</sup> Let it be shewn to all the nations that you are with us, O Lord, and have not turned your face away from us; but as you said that you would not forget them even in the land of their enemies, so do you fulfil this saying, O Lord. <sup>16</sup> Now, at the time that Eleazar had ended his prayer, the king came along to the hippodrome, with the wild beasts, and with his tumultuous power. <sup>17</sup> When the Jews saw this, they uttered a loud cry to heaven, so that the adjacent valleys resounded, and caused an irrepressible lamentation throughout the army. <sup>18</sup> Then the all-glorious, all-powerful, and true God, displayed his holy countenance, and opened the gates of heaven, from which two angels, dreadful of form, came down and were visible to all but the Jews. <sup>19</sup> And they stood opposite, and filled the enemies' host with confusion and cowardice; and bound them with immoveable fetters. <sup>20</sup> And a cold shudder came over the person of the king, and oblivion paralysed the vehemence of his spirit. <sup>21</sup> They turned back the animals upon the armed forces which followed them; and the animals trod them down, and destroyed them. <sup>22</sup> The king's wrath was converted into compassion; and he wept at his own machinations. <sup>23</sup> For when he heard the cry, and saw them all on the verge of destruction, with tears he angrily threatened his friends, saying, <sup>24</sup> You<sup>23</sup> have governed badly; and have exceeded tyrants in cruelty; and me your benefactor you<sup>23</sup> have laboured to deprive at once of my dominion and my life, by secretly devising measures injurious to the kingdom. <sup>25</sup> Who has gathered here, unreasonably removing each from his home, those who, in fidelity to us, had held the fortresses of the country? <sup>26</sup> Who has thus consigned to unmerited punishments those who in good will towards us from the beginning have in all things surpassed all nations, and who often have engaged in the most dangerous undertakings? <sup>27</sup> Loose, loose the unjust bonds; send them to their homes in peace, and deprecate what has been done. <sup>28</sup> Release the sons of the almighty living God of heaven, who from our ancestors' times until now has granted a glorious and uninterrupted prosperity to our affairs. <sup>29</sup> These things he said; and they, released the same moment, having now escaped death, praised God their holy Saviour. <sup>30</sup> The king then departed to the city, and called his financier to him, and bade him provide a seven days' quantity of wine and other materials for feasting for the Jews. He decided that they should keep a gladsome festival of deliverance in the very place in which they expected to meet with their destruction. <sup>31</sup> Then they who were before despised and near to hades, yes, rather advanced into it, partook of the cup of salvation, instead of a grievous and lamentable death. Full of exultation, they parted out the place intended for their fall and burial into banqueting booths. <sup>32</sup> Ceasing their miserable strain of woe, they took up the subject of their fatherland, hymning in praise God their wonder-working Saviour. All groans, all wailing, were laid aside: they formed dances in token of serene joy. <sup>33</sup> So, also, the king collected a number of guests for the occasion, and returned unceasing thanks with much magnificence for the unexpected deliverance afforded him. <sup>34</sup> Those who had marked them out as for death and for carrion, and had registered them with joy, howled aloud, and were clothed with shame, and had the fire of their rage ingloriously put out. <sup>35</sup> But the Jews, as we just said, instituted a dance, and then gave themselves up to feasting, glad thanksgivings, and psalms. <sup>36</sup> They made a public ordinance to commemorate these things for generations to come, as long as they should be sojourners. They thus established these days as days of mirth, not for the purpose of drinking or luxury, but because God had saved them. <sup>37</sup> They requested the king to send them back to their homes. <sup>38</sup> They were being enrolled from the twenty-fifth of Pachon to the fourth of Epiphi, a period of forty days: the measures taken for their destruction lasted from the fifth of Epiphi till the seventh, that is, three days. <sup>39</sup> The Ruler over all did during this time manifest forth his mercy gloriously, and did deliver them all together unharmed. <sup>40</sup> They feasted upon the king's provision up to the fourteenth day, and then asked to be sent away. <sup>41</sup> The king commended them, and wrote the subjoined letter, of magnanimous import for them, to the commanders of every city.

they endeavoured to annihilate them. They buckled themselves with a savage cruelty, worse than Scythian custom. <sup>6</sup> For this cause we severely threatened them; yet, with the clemency which we are wont to extend to all men, we at length permitted them to live. Finding that the God of heaven cast a shield of protection over the Jews so as to preserve them, and that he fought for them as a father always fights for his sons; <sup>7</sup> and taking into consideration their constancy and fidelity towards us and towards our ancestors, we have, as we ought, acquitted them of every sort of charge. <sup>8</sup> And we have dismissed them to their several homes; bidding all men everywhere to do them no wrong, or unrighteously revile them about the past. <sup>9</sup> For know you, that should we conceive any evil design, or in any way aggrieve them, we shall ever have as our opposite, not man, but the highest God, the ruler of all might. From Him there will be no escape, as the avenger of such deeds. Fare you well. <sup>10</sup> When they had received this letter, they were not forward to depart immediately. They petitioned the king to be allowed to inflict fitting punishment upon those of their race who had willingly transgressed the holy god, and the law of God. <sup>11</sup> They alleged that men who had for their bellies' sake transgressed the ordinances of God, would never be faithful to the interests of the king. <sup>12</sup> The king admitted the truth of this reasoning, and commended them. Full power was given them, without warrant or special commission, to destroy those who had transgressed the law of God boldly in every part of the king's dominions. <sup>13</sup> Their priests, then, as it was meet, saluted him with good wishes, and all the people echoed with the Hallelujah. They then joyfully departed. <sup>14</sup> Then they punished and destroyed with ignominy every polluted Jew that fell in their way; <sup>15</sup> slaying thus, in that day, above three hundred men, and esteeming this destruction of the wicked a season of joy. <sup>16</sup> They themselves having held fast their God to death, and having enjoyed a full deliverance, departed from the city garlanded with sweet-flowered wreaths of every kind. Uttering exclamations of joy, with songs of praise, and melodious hymns they thanked the God of their fathers, the eternal Saviour of Israel. <sup>17</sup> Having arrived at Ptolemais, called from the specialty of that district Rose-bearing, where the fleet, in accordance with the general wish, waited for them seven days, <sup>18</sup> they partook of a banquet of deliverance, for the king generously granted them severally the means of securing a return home. <sup>19</sup> They were accordingly brought back in peace, while they gave utterance to becoming thanks; and they determined to keep these days during their sojourn as days of joyfulness. <sup>20</sup> These they registered as sacred upon a pillar, when they had dedicated the place of their festivity to be one of prayer. They departed unharmed, free, abundant in joy, preserved by the king's command, by land, by sea, and by river, each to his own home. <sup>21</sup> They had more weight than before among their enemies; and were honored and feared, and no one in any way robbed them of their goods. <sup>22</sup> Every man received back his own, according to inventory; those who had obtained their goods, giving them up with the greatest terror. For the greatest

God wrought with perfectness wonders for their salvation. <sup>23</sup> Blessed be the Redeemer of Israel to everlasting. Amen.

THE FOURTH BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

1

<sup>1</sup> As I am going to demonstrate a most philosophical proposition, namely, that religious reasoning is absolute master of the passions, I would willingly advise you to give the utmost heed to philosophy. <sup>2</sup> For reason is necessary to every one as a step to science: and more especially does it embrace the praise of prudence, the highest virtue. <sup>3</sup> If, then, reasoning appears to hold the mastery over the passions which stand in the way of temperance, such as gluttony and lust, <sup>4</sup> it surely also and manifestly has the rule over the affections which are contrary to justice, such as malice; and of those which are hindrances to manliness, as wrath, and pain, and fear. <sup>5</sup> How, then, is it, perhaps some may say, that reasoning, if it rule the affections, is not also master of forgetfulness and ignorance? They attempt a ridiculous argument. <sup>6</sup> For reasoning does not rule over its own affections, but over such as are contrary to justice, and manliness and temperance, and prudence; and yet over these, so as to withstand, without destroying them. <sup>7</sup> I might prove to you, from many other considerations, that religious reasoning is sole master of the passions; <sup>8</sup> but I shall prove it with the greatest force from the fortitude of Eleazar, and seven brethren, and their mother, who suffered death in defence of virtue. <sup>9</sup> For all these, contemning pains even to death, by this contempt, demonstrated that reasoning has command over the passions. <sup>10</sup> For their virtues, then, it is right that I should commend those men who died with their mother at this time in behalf of rectitude; and for their honors, I may count them happy. <sup>11</sup> For they, winning admiration not only from men in general, but even from the persecutors, for their manliness and endurance, became the means of the destruction of the tyranny against their nation, having conquered the tyrant by their endurance, so that by them their country was purified. <sup>12</sup> But we may now at once enter upon the question, having commenced, as is our wont, with laying down the doctrine, and so proceed to the account of these persons, giving glory to the all wise God. <sup>13</sup> The question, therefore, is, whether reasoning be absolute master of the passions. <sup>14</sup> Let us determine, then, What is reasoning? and what passion? and how many forms of the passions? and whether reasoning bears sway over all of these? <sup>15</sup> Reasoning is, then, intellect accompanied by a life of rectitude, putting foremost the consideration of wisdom. <sup>16</sup> And wisdom is a knowledge of divine and human things, and of their causes. <sup>17</sup> And this is contained in the education of the law; by means of which we learn divine things reverently, and human things profitably. <sup>18</sup> And the forms of wisdom are prudence, and justice, and manliness, and temperance. <sup>19</sup> The leading one of these is prudence; by whose means, indeed, it is that reasoning bears rule over the passions. <sup>20</sup> Of the passions, pleasure and pain are the two most comprehensive; and they also by nature refer to the soul. <sup>21</sup> And there are many attendant affections surrounding pleasure and pain. <sup>22</sup> Before pleasure is lust; and after pleasure, joy. <sup>23</sup> And before pain is fear; and after pain is sorrow. <sup>24</sup> Wrath is an affection, common to pleasure and to pain, if any one will pay attention when it comes upon him. <sup>25</sup> And there exists in pleasure a malicious disposition, which is the most multiform of all the affections. <sup>26</sup> In the soul it is arrogance, and love of money, and vaingloriousness, and contention, and faithlessness, and the evil eye. <sup>27</sup> In the body it is greediness and gormandizing, and solitary gluttony. <sup>28</sup> As pleasure and pain are, therefore, two growth of the body and the soul, so there are many offshoots of these passions. <sup>29</sup> And reasoning, the universal husbandman, purging, and pruning these severally, and binding round, and watering, and transplanting, in every way improves the materials of the morals and affections. <sup>30</sup> For reasoning is the leader of the virtues, but it is the sole ruler of the passions. Observe then first, through the very things which stand in the way of temperance, that reasoning is absolute ruler of the passions. <sup>31</sup> Now temperance consists of a command over the lusts. <sup>32</sup> But of the lusts, some belong to the soul, others to the body: and over each of these classes the reasoning appears to bear sway. <sup>33</sup> For whence is it, otherwise, that when urged on to forbidden meats, we reject the gratification which would ensue from them? Is it not because reasoning is able to command the appetites? I believe so. <sup>34</sup> Hence it is, then, that when lusting after water-animals and birds, and four-footed beasts, and all kinds of food which are forbidden us by the law, we withhold ourselves through the mastery of reasoning. <sup>35</sup> For the affections of our appetites are resisted by the temperate understanding, and bent back again, and all the impulses of the body are reined in by reasoning.

<sup>1</sup> And what wonder? if the lusts of the soul, after participation with what is beautiful, are frustrated, <sup>2</sup> on this ground, therefore, the temperate Joseph is praised in that by reasoning, he subdued, on reflection, the indulgence of sense. <sup>3</sup> For, although young, and ripe for sexual intercourse, he abrogated by reasoning the stimulus of his passions. <sup>4</sup> And it is not merely the stimulus of sensual indulgence, but that of every desire, that reasoning is able to master. <sup>5</sup> For instance, the law says, You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, nor anything that belongs to your neighbor. <sup>6</sup> Now, then, since it is the law which has forbidden us to desire, I shall much the more easily persuade you, that reasoning is able to govern our lusts, just as it does the affections which are impediments to justice. <sup>7</sup> Since in what way is a solitary eater, and a glutton, and a drunkard reclaimed, unless it be clear that reasoning is lord of the passions? <sup>8</sup> A man, therefore, who regulates his course by the law, even if he be a lover of money, straightway puts force upon his own disposition; lending to the needy without interest, and cancelling the debt of the incoming Sabbath. <sup>9</sup> And should a man be parsimonious, he is ruled by the law acting through reasoning; so that he does not glean his harvest crops, nor vintage: and in reference to other points we may perceive that it is reasoning that conquers his passions. <sup>10</sup> For the law conquers even affection toward parents, not surrendering virtue on their account.<sup>11</sup> And it prevails over marriage love, condemning it when transgressing law.<sup>12</sup> And it lords it over the love of parents toward their children, for they punish them for vice; and it domineers over the intimacy of friends, reproving them when wicked.<sup>13</sup> And think it not a strange assertion that reasoning can in behalf of the law conquer even enmity.<sup>14</sup> It allows not to cut down the cultivated herbage of an enemy, but preserves it from the destroyers, and collects their fallen ruins.<sup>15</sup> And reason appears to be master of the more violent passions, as love of empire and empty boasting, and slander.<sup>16</sup> For the temperate understanding repels all these malignant passions, as it does wrath: for it masters even this.<sup>17</sup> Thus Moses, when angered against Dathan and Abiram, did nothing to them in wrath, but regulated his anger by reasoning.<sup>18</sup> For the temperate mind is able, as I said, to be superior to the passions, and to transfer some, and destroy others.<sup>19</sup> For why, else, does our most wise father Jacob blame Simeon and Levi for having irrationally slain the whole race of the Shechemites, saying, Cursed be their anger.<sup>20</sup> For if reasoning did not possess the power of subduing angry affections, he would not have spoken thus.<sup>21</sup> For at the time when God created man, He implanted within him his passions and moral nature.<sup>22</sup> And at that time He enthroned above all the holy leader mind, through the medium of the senses.<sup>23</sup> And He gave a law to this mind, by living according to which it will maintain a temperate, and just, and good, and manly reign.<sup>24</sup> How, then, a man may say, if reasoning be master of the passions,

has it no control over forgetfulness and ignorance?

<sup>1</sup> The argument is exceedingly ridiculous: for reasoning does not appear to bear sway over its own affections, but over those of the body,<sup>2</sup> in such a way as that any one of you may not be able to root out desire, but reasoning will enable you to avoid being enslaved to it.<sup>3</sup> One may not be able to root out anger from the soul, but it is possible to withstand anger.<sup>4</sup> Any one of you may not be able to eradicate malice, but reasoning has force to work with you to prevent you yielding to malice.<sup>5</sup> For reasoning is not an eradicator, but an antagonist of the passions.<sup>6</sup> And this may be more clearly comprehended from the thirst of king David.<sup>7</sup> For after David had been attacking the Philistines the whole day, he with the soldiers of his nation killed many of them;<sup>8</sup> then when evening came, sweating and very weary, he came to the royal tent, about which the entire host of our ancestors was encamped.<sup>9</sup> Now all the rest of them were at supper;<sup>10</sup> but the king, being very much thirsty, although he had numerous springs, could not by their means quench his thirst;<sup>11</sup> but a certain irrational longing for the water in the enemy's camp grew stronger and fiercer upon him, and consumed him with languish.<sup>12</sup> Wherefore his bodyguards being troubled at this longing of the king, two valiant young soldiers, reverencing the desire of the king, put on their panoplies, and taking a pitcher, got over the ramparts of the enemies:<sup>13</sup> and unperceived by the guardians of the gate, they went throughout the whole camp

of the enemy in quest. <sup>14</sup> And having boldly discovered the fountain, they filled out of it the draught for the king. <sup>15</sup> But he, though parched with thirst, reasoned that a draught reputed of equal value to blood, would be terribly dangerous to his soul. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore, setting up reasoning in opposition to his desire, he poured out the draught to God. <sup>17</sup> For the temperate mind has power to conquer the pressure of the passions, and to quench the fires of excitement, <sup>18</sup> and to wrestle down the pains of the body, however excessive; and, through the excellency of reasoning, to abominate all the assaults of the passions. <sup>19</sup> But the occasion now invites us to give an illustration of temperate reasoning from history. <sup>20</sup> For at a time when our fathers were in possession of undisturbed peace through obedience to the law, and were prosperous, so that Seleucus Nicanor, the king of Asia, both assigned them money for divine service, and accepted their form of government, <sup>21</sup> then certain persons, bringing in new things contrary to the general unanimity, in various ways fell into calamities.

<sup>1</sup> For a certain man named Simon, who was in opposition to Onias, who once held the high priesthood for life, and was an honorable and good man, after that by slandering him in every way, he could not injure him with the people, went away as an exile, with the intention of betraying his country. <sup>2</sup> Whence coming to Apollonius, the military governor of Syria, and Phoenicia, and Cilicia, he said, <sup>3</sup> Having good will to the king's affairs, I am come to inform you that infinite private wealth is laid up in the treasuries of Jerusalem which do not belong to the temple, but pertain to king Seleucus. <sup>4</sup> Apollonius, acquainting himself with the particulars of this, praised Simon for his care of the king's interests, and going up to Seleucus informed him of the treasure; <sup>5</sup> and getting authority about it, and quickly advancing into our country with the accursed Simon and a very heavy force, <sup>6</sup> he said that he came with the commands of the king that he should take the private money of the treasure. <sup>7</sup> And the nation, indignant at this proclamation, and replying to the effect that it was extremely unfair that those who had committed deposits to the sacred treasury should be deprived of them, resisted as well as they could. <sup>8</sup> But Appolonius went away with threats into the temple. <sup>9</sup> And the priests, with the women and children, having supplicated God to throw his shield over the holy, despised place, <sup>10</sup> and Appolonius going up with his armed force to the seizure of the treasure, —there appeared from heaven angels riding on horseback, all radiant in armor, filling them with much fear and trembling. <sup>11</sup> And Apollonius fell half dead upon the court which is open to all nations, and extended his hands to heaven, and implored the Hebrews, with tears, to pray for him, and propitiate the heavenly host. <sup>12</sup> For he said that he had sinned, so as to be consequently worthy of death; and that if he were saved, he would celebrate to all men the blessedness of the holy place. <sup>13</sup> Onias the high priest, induced by these words, although for other reasons anxious that king Seleucus should not suppose that Apollonius was slain by human device and not by Divine punishment, prayed for him; <sup>14</sup> and he being thus unexpectedly saved, departed to manifest to the king what had happened to him. <sup>15</sup> But on the death of Seleucus the king, his son Antiochus Epiphanes succeeds to the kingdom: a man of haughty pride and terrible. <sup>16</sup> Who having deposed Onias from the high priesthood, appointed his brother Jason to be high priest: <sup>17</sup> who had made a covenant, if he would give him this authority, to pay yearly three thousand six hundred and sixty talents. <sup>18</sup> And he committed to him the high priesthood and rulership over the nation. <sup>19</sup> And he both changed the manner of living of the people, and perverted their civil customs into all lawlessness. <sup>20</sup> So that he not only erected a gymnasium on the very citadel of our country, but neglected the guardianship of the temple. <sup>21</sup> At which Divine vengeance being grieved, instigated Antiochus himself against them. <sup>22</sup> For being at war with Ptolemy in Egypt, he heard that on a report of his death being spread abroad, the inhabitants of Jerusalem had exceedingly rejoiced, and he quickly marched against them. <sup>23</sup> And having subdued them, he established a decree that if any of them lived according to the laws of his country he should die. <sup>24</sup> And when he could by no means destroy by his decrees the obedience to the law of the nation, but saw all his threats and punishments without effect, <sup>25</sup> for even women, because they continued to circumcise their children, were flung down a precipice along with them, knowing beforehand of the punishment. <sup>26</sup> When, therefore, his decrees were disregarded by the people, he himself compelled by means of tortures every one of this race, by tasting forbidden meats, to abjure the Jewish religion.

an expedient course? <sup>12</sup> and, reverencing my kindly admonition, have pity upon your own years? <sup>13</sup> For, bear in mind, that if there be any power which watches over this religion of yours, it will pardon you for all transgressions of the law which you commit through compulsion. <sup>14</sup> While the tyrant incited him in this manner to the unlawful eating of flesh, Eleazar begged permission to speak. <sup>15</sup> And having received power to speak, he began thus to deliver himself: <sup>16</sup> We, O Antiochus, who are persuaded that we live under a divine law, consider no compulsion to be so forcible as obedience to that law; <sup>17</sup> wherefore we consider that we ought not in any point to transgress the law. <sup>18</sup> And indeed, were our law (as you suppose) not truly divine, and if we wrongly think it divine, we should have no right even in that case to destroy our sense of religion. <sup>19</sup> think not eating the unclean, then, a trifling offense. <sup>20</sup> For transgression of the law, whether in small or great matters, is of equal moment; <sup>21</sup> for in either case the law is equally slighted. <sup>22</sup> But you deride our philosophy, as though we lived irrationally in it. <sup>23</sup> Yet it instructs us in temperance, so that we are superior to all pleasures and lusts; and it exercises us in manliness, so that we cheerfully undergo every grievance. <sup>24</sup> And it instructs us in justice, so that in all our dealings we render what is due; and it teaches us piety, so that we worship the one only God becomingly. <sup>25</sup> Wherefore it is that we eat not the unclean; for believing that the law was established by God, we are convinced that the Creator of the world, in giving his laws, sympathizes with our nature. <sup>26</sup> Those things which are convenient to our souls, he has directed us to eat; but those which are repugnant to them, he has interdicted. <sup>27</sup> But, tyrant-like, you not only force us to break the law, but also to eat, that you may ridicule us as we thus profanely eat: <sup>28</sup> but you shall not have this cause of laughter against me; <sup>29</sup> nor will I transgress the sacred oaths of my forefathers to keep the law. <sup>30</sup> No, not if you pluck out my eyes, and consume my entrails. <sup>31</sup> I am not so old, and void of manliness, but that my rational powers are youthful in defence of my religion. <sup>32</sup> Now then; prepare your wheels, and kindle a fiercer flame. <sup>33</sup> I will not so compassionate my old age, as on my account to break the law of my country. <sup>34</sup> I will not belie you, O law, my instructor! or forsake you, O beloved self-control! <sup>35</sup> I will not put you to shame, O philosopher Reason; or deny you, O honored priesthood, and science of the law. <sup>36</sup> Mouth! you shall not pollute my old age, nor the full stature of a perfect life. <sup>37</sup> My fathers shall receive me pure, not having quailed before your compulsion, though to death. <sup>38</sup> For over the ungodly you shall tyrannize; but you shall not lord it over my thoughts about religion, either by your arguments, or through deeds.

herald opposite crying out, Obey the commands of the king. <sup>5</sup> But Eleazar, the high-minded and truly noble, as one tortured in a dream, regarded it not all. <sup>6</sup> But raising his eyes on high to heaven, the old man's flesh was stripped off by the scourges, and his blood streamed down, and his sides were pierced through. <sup>7</sup> And falling upon the ground, from his body having no power to support the pains, he yet kept his reasoning upright and unbending. <sup>8</sup> then one of the harsh spearbearers leaped upon his belly as he was falling, to force him upright. <sup>9</sup> But he endured the pains, and despised the cruelty, and persevered through the indignities; <sup>10</sup> and like a noble athlete, the old man, when struck, vanquished his torturers. <sup>11</sup> His countenance sweating, and he panting for breath, he was admired by the very torturers for his courage. <sup>12</sup> Wherefore, partly in pity for his old age, <sup>13</sup> partly from the sympathy of acquaintance, and partly in admiration of his endurance, some of the attendants of the king said, <sup>14</sup> Why do you unreasonably destroy yourself, O Eleazar, with these miseries? <sup>15</sup> We will bring you some meat cooked by yourself, and do you save yourself by pretending that you have eaten swine's flesh. <sup>16</sup> And Eleazar, as though the advice more painfully tortured him, cried out, <sup>17</sup> Let not us who are children of Abraham be so evil advised as by giving way to make use of an unbecoming pretense; <sup>18</sup> for it were irrational, if having lived up to old age in all truth, and having scrupulously guarded our character for it, we should now turn back, <sup>19</sup> and ourselves should become a pattern of impiety to the young, as being an example of pollution eating. <sup>20</sup> It would be disgraceful if we should live on some short time, and that scorned by all men for cowardice, <sup>21</sup> and be condemned by the tyrant for unmanliness, by not contending to the death for our divine law. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore do you, O children of Abraham, die nobly for your religion. <sup>23</sup> You spearbearers of the tyrant, why do you linger? <sup>24</sup> Beholding him so high-minded against misery, and not changing at their pity, they led him to the fire: <sup>25</sup> then with their wickedly contrived instruments they burned him on the fire, and poured stinking fluids down into his nostrils. <sup>26</sup> And he being at length burned down to the bones, and about to expire, raised his eyes Godward, and said, <sup>27</sup> You know, O God, that when I might have been saved, I am slain for the sake of the law by tortures of fire. <sup>28</sup> Be merciful to your people, and be satisfied with the punishment of me on their account. <sup>29</sup> Let my blood be a purification for them, and take my life in recompense for theirs. <sup>30</sup> Thus speaking, the holy man departed, noble in his torments, and even to the agonies of death resisted in his reasoning for the sake of the law. <sup>31</sup> Confessedly, therefore, religious reasoning is master of the passions. <sup>32</sup> For had the passions been superior to reasoning, I would have given them the witness of this mastery. <sup>33</sup> But now, since reasoning conquered the passions, we befittingly awarded it the authority of first place. <sup>34</sup> And it is but fair that we should allow, that the power belongs to reasoning, since it masters external miseries. <sup>35</sup> Ridiculous would it be were it not so; and I prove that reasoning has not only mastered pains, but that it is also superior to the pleasures, and withstands them.

vanquished the flame-bearing angel, <sup>12</sup> so, Eleazar, the descendant of Aaron, wasted away by the fire, did not give up his reasoning. <sup>13</sup> And, what is most wonderful, though an old man, though the labors of his body were now spent, and his fibres were relaxed, and his sinews worn out, he recovered youth. <sup>14</sup> By the spirit of reasoning, and the reasoning of Isaac, he rendered powerless the many-headed instrument. <sup>15</sup> O blessed old age, and reverend hoar head, and life obedient to the law, which the faithful seal of death perfected. <sup>16</sup> If, then, an old man, through religion, despised tortures even to death, confessedly religious reasoning is ruler of the passions. <sup>17</sup> But perhaps some might say, It is not all who conquer passions, as all do not possess wise reasoning. <sup>18</sup> But they who have meditated upon religion with their whole heart, these alone can master the passions of the flesh; <sup>19</sup> they who believe that to God they die not; for, as our forefathers, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, they live to God. <sup>20</sup> This circumstance, then, is by no means an objection, that some who have weak reasoning, are governed by their passions: <sup>21</sup> since what person, walking religiously by the whole rule of philosophy, and believing in God, <sup>22</sup> and knowing that it is a blessed thing to endure all kinds of hardships for virtue, would not, for the sake of religion, master his passion? <sup>23</sup> For the wise and brave man only is lord over his passions. <sup>24</sup> Whence it is, that even boys, imbued with the philosophy of religious reasoning, have conquered still more bitter tortures: <sup>25</sup> for when the tyrant was manifestly vanquished

in his first attempt, in being unable to force the old man to eat the unclean thing,-

8

<sup>1</sup> Then, indeed, vehemently swayed with passion, he commanded to bring others of the adult Hebrews, and if they would eat of the unclean thing, to let them go when they had eaten; but if they objected, to torment them more grievously. <sup>2</sup> The tyrant having given this charge, seven brethren were brought into his presence, along with their aged mother, handsome, and modest, and well-born, and altogether comely. <sup>3</sup> Whom, when the tyrant [*]saw, encircling their mother as in a dance, he was pleased at them; and being struck with their becoming and ingenuous mien, smiled upon them, and calling them near, said: <sup>4</sup> O youths, with favourable feelings, I admire the beauty of each of you; and greatly honouring so numerous a band of brethren, I not only counsel you not to share the madness of the old man who has been tortured before, <sup>5</sup> but I do beg you to yield, and to enjoy my friendship; for I possess the power, not only of punishing those who disobey my commands, but of doing good to those who obey them. <sup>6</sup> Put confidence in me, then, and you shall receive places of authority in my government, if you forsake your national ordinance, <sup>7</sup> and, conforming to the Greek mode of life, alter your rule, and revel in youth's delights. <sup>8</sup> For if you provoke me by your disobedience, you will compel me to destroy you, every one, with terrible punishments by tortures. <sup>9</sup> Have mercy, then, upon your own selves, whom I, although an enemy, compassionate for your age and comeliness. <sup>10</sup> Will you not reason upon this—that if you disobey, there will be nothing left for you but to die in tortures? <sup>11</sup> Thus speaking, he ordered the instruments of torture to be brought forward, that very fear might prevail upon them to eat unclean meat. <sup>12</sup> And when the spearman brought forward the wheels, and the racks, and the hooks, and catapults, and caldrons, pans, and finger-racks, and iron hands and wedges, and bellows, the tyrant continue: <sup>13</sup> Fear, young men, and the righteousness which you worship will be merciful to you if you err from compulsion. <sup>14</sup> Now they having listened to these words of persuasion, and seeing the fearful instruments, not only were not afraid, but even answered the arguments of the tyrant, and through their good reasoning destroyed his power. <sup>15</sup> Now let us consider the matter: had any of them been weak-spirited and cowardly among them, what reasonings would they have employed but these? <sup>16</sup> O wretched that we are, and exceeding senseless! when the king exhorts us, and calls us to his bounty, should we not obey him? <sup>17</sup> Why do we cheer ourselves with vain counsels, and venture upon a disobedience bringing death? <sup>18</sup> Shall we not fear, O brethren, the instruments of torture and weigh the threatenings of torment and shun this vain-glory and destructive pride? <sup>19</sup> Let us have compassion upon our age and relent over the years of our mother. <sup>20</sup> And let us bear in mind that we shall be dying as rebels. <sup>21</sup> And Divine Justice will pardon us if we fear the king through necessity. <sup>22</sup> Why withdraw ourselves from a most sweet life, and deprive ourselves of this pleasant world? <sup>23</sup> Let us not oppose necessity, nor seek vain-glory by our own excruciation. <sup>24</sup>

The law itself is not forward to put us to death, if we dread torture. <sup>25</sup> Whence has such angry zeal taken root in us, and such fatal obstinacy approved itself to us, when we might live unmolested by the king? <sup>26</sup> But nothing of this kind did the young men say or think when about to be tortured. <sup>27</sup> For they were well aware of the sufferings, and masters of the pains. So that as soon as the tyrant had ceased counselling them to eat the unclean, they altogether with one voice, as from the same heart said:

<sup>1</sup> Why delay you, O tyrant? for we are readier to die than to transgress the injunctions of our fathers. <sup>2</sup> And we should be disgracing our fathers if we did not obey the law, and take knowledge for our guide. <sup>3</sup> O tyrant, counsellor of law-breaking, do not, hating us as you do, pity us more than we pity ourselves. <sup>4</sup> For we account escape to be worse than death. <sup>5</sup> And you think to scare us, by threatening us with death by tortures, as though you had learned nothing by the death of Eleazar. <sup>6</sup> But if aged men of the Hebrews have died in the cause of religion after enduring torture, more rightly should we younger men die, scorning your cruel tortures, which our aged instructor overcame. <sup>7</sup> Make the attempt, then, O tyrant; and if you put us to death for our religion, think not that you harm us by torturing us. <sup>8</sup> For we through this ill-treatment and endurance shall bear off the rewards of virtue. <sup>9</sup> But you, for the wicked and despotic slaughter of us, shall, from the Divine vengeance, endure eternal torture by fire. <sup>10</sup> When they had thus spoken, the tyrant was not only exasperated against them as being refractory, but enraged with them as being ungrateful. <sup>11</sup> So that, at his bidding, the torturers brought forth the oldest of them, and tearing through his tunic, bound his hands and arms on each side with thongs. <sup>12</sup> And when they had laboured hard without effect in scourging him, they hurled him upon the wheel. <sup>13</sup> And the noble youth, extended upon this, became dislocated. <sup>14</sup> And with every member disjoined, he exclaimed in expostulation, <sup>15</sup> O most accursed tyrant, and enemy of heavenly justice, and cruel-hearted, I am no murderer, nor sacrilegious man, whom you thus ill-usest; but a defender of the Divine law. <sup>16</sup> And when the spearmen said, Consent to eat, that you may be released from your tortures,— <sup>17</sup> he answered, Not so powerful, O accursed ministers, is your wheel, as to stifle my reasoning; cut my limbs, and burn my flesh, and twist my joints. <sup>18</sup> For through all my torments I will convince you that the children of the Hebrews are alone unconquered in behalf of virtue. <sup>19</sup> While he was saying this, they heaped up fuel, and setting fire to it, strained him upon the wheel still more. <sup>20</sup> And the wheel was defiled all over with blood, and the hot ashes were quenched by the droppings of gore, and pieces of flesh were scattered about the axles of the machine. <sup>21</sup> And although the framework of his bones was now destroyed the high-minded and Abrahamic youth did not groan. <sup>22</sup> But, as though transformed by fire into immortality, he nobly endured the rackings, saying <sup>23</sup> Imitate me, O brethren, nor ever desert your station, nor abjure my brotherhood in courage: fight the holy and honorable fight of religion; <sup>24</sup> by which means our just and paternal Providence, becoming merciful to the nation, will punish the pestilent tyrant. <sup>25</sup> And saying this, the revered youth abruptly closed his life. <sup>26</sup> And when all admired his courageous soul, the spearmen brought forward him who was second in point of age, and having put on iron hands, bound him with pointed hooks to the catapult. <sup>27</sup> And when, on enquiring whether he would eat before he was tortured, they heard his noble sentiment, <sup>28</sup> after they with the iron hands had violently dragged all the flesh from the neck to the chin, the panther-like beasts tore off the very skin of his head: but he, bearing with firmness this misery, said, <sup>29</sup> How sweet is every form of death for the religion of our fathers! and he said to the tyrant, <sup>30</sup> Thinkest you not, most cruel of all tyrants, that you are now tortured more than I, finding your overweening conception of tyranny conquered by our patience in behalf of our religion? <sup>31</sup> For I lighten my suffering by the pleasures which are connected with virtue. <sup>32</sup> But you are tortured with threatenings for impiety; and you shall not escape, most corrupt tyrant, the vengeance of Divine wrath.

<sup>1</sup> Now this one, having endured this praiseworthy death, the third was brought along, and exhorted by many to taste and save his life. <sup>2</sup> But he cried out and said, Know you <sup>3</sup> not, that the father of those who are dead, became the father of me also; and that the same mother bare me; and that I was brought up in the same tenets? <sup>3</sup> I abjure not the noble relationship of my brethren. <sup>4</sup> Now then, whatever instrument of vengeance you <sup>5</sup> have, apply it to my body, for you <sup>6</sup> are not able to touch, even if you <sup>7</sup> wish it, my soul. <sup>5</sup> But they, highly incensed at his boldness of speech, dislocated his hands and feet with racking engines, and wrenching them from their sockets, dismembered him. <sup>6</sup> And they dragged round his fingers, and his arms, and his legs, and his ankles. <sup>7</sup> And not being able by any means to strangle him, they tore off his skin, together with the extreme tips of his fingers, flayed him, and then haled him to the wheel; <sup>8</sup> around which his vertebral joints were loosened, and he saw his own flesh torn to shreds, and streams of blood flowing from his entrails. <sup>9</sup> And when about to die, he said, <sup>10</sup> We, O accursed tyrant, suffer this for the sake of Divine education and virtue. <sup>11</sup> But you, for your impiety and blood shedding, shall endure indissoluble torments. <sup>12</sup> And thus having died worthily of his brethren, they dragged forward the fourth, saying, <sup>13</sup> Do not you share the madness of your brethren: but give regard to the king, and save yourself. <sup>14</sup> But he said to them, You have not a fire so scorching as to make me play the coward. <sup>15</sup> By the blessed death of my brethren, and the eternal punishment of the tyrant, and the glorious life of the pious, I will not repudiate the noble brotherhood. <sup>16</sup> Invent, O tyrant, tortures; that you may learn, even through them, that I am the brother of those tormented before. <sup>17</sup> When he had said this, the blood-thirsty, and murderous, and unhallowed Antiochus ordered his tongue to be cut out. <sup>18</sup> But he said, Even if you take away the organ of speech, yet God hears the silent. <sup>19</sup> Behold, my tongue is extended, cut it off; for not for that halt you extirpate our reasoning. <sup>20</sup> Gladly do we lose our limbs in behalf of God. <sup>21</sup> But God shall speedily find you, since you cut off the tongue, the instrument of divine melody.

said, <sup>14</sup> I am indeed younger than my brothers, but in understanding I am as old; <sup>15</sup> for having been born and reared to the same end, we are bound to die also in behalf of the same cause. <sup>16</sup> So that if you think proper to torment us for not eating the unclean;—torment! <sup>17</sup> As he said this, they brought him to the wheel. <sup>18</sup> Extended upon which, with limbs racked and dislocated, he was gradually roasted from beneath. <sup>19</sup> And having heated sharp spits, they approached them to his back; and having transfixed his sides, they burned away his entrails. <sup>20</sup> And he, while tormented, said, O period good and holy, in which, for the sake of religion, we brethren have been called to the contest of pain, and have not been conquered. <sup>21</sup> For religious understanding, O tyrant, is unconquered. <sup>22</sup> Armed with upright virtue, I also shall depart with my brethren. <sup>23</sup> I, too, bearing with me a great avenger, O deviser of tortures, and enemy of the truly pious. <sup>24</sup> We six youths have destroyed your tyranny. <sup>25</sup> For is not your inability to overrule our reasoning, and to compel us to eat the unclean, your destruction? <sup>26</sup> Your fire is cold to us, your catapults are painless, and your violence harmless. <sup>27</sup> For the guards not of a tyrant but of a divine law are our defenders: through this we keep our reasoning unconquered.

seeing him already encompassed with chains, had him brought nearer, and endeavoured to counsel him, saying, <sup>4</sup> You see the end of the madness of your brethren: for they have died in torture through disobedience; and you, if disobedient, having been miserably tormented, will yourself perish prematurely. <sup>5</sup> But if you obey, you shall be my friend, and have a charge over the affairs of the kingdom. <sup>6</sup> And having thus exhorted him, he sent for the mother of the boy; that, by condoling with her for the loss of so many sons, he might incline her, through the hope of safety, to render the survivor obedient. <sup>7</sup> And he, after his mother had urged him on in the Hebrew tongue, (as we shall soon relate) says, <sup>8</sup> Release me that I may speak to the king and all his friends. <sup>9</sup> And they, rejoicing exceedingly at the promise of the youth, quickly let him go. <sup>10</sup> And he, running up to the pans, said, <sup>11</sup> Impious tyrant, and most blasphemous man, were you not ashamed, having received prosperity and a kingdom from God, to kill His servants, and to rack the doers of godliness? <sup>12</sup> Wherefore the divine vengeance is reserving you for eternal fire and torments, which shall cling to you for all time. <sup>13</sup> Were you not ashamed, man as you are, yet most savage, to cut out the tongues of men of like feeling and origin, and having thus abused to torture them? <sup>14</sup> But they, bravely dying, fulfilled their religion towards God. <sup>15</sup> But you shall groan according to your deserts for having slain without cause the champions of virtue. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore, he continued, I myself, being about to die, <sup>17</sup> will not forsake my brethren. <sup>18</sup> And I call upon the God of my fathers to be merciful to my race. <sup>19</sup> But you, both living and dead, he will punish. <sup>20</sup> Thus having prayed, he hurled himself into the pans; and so expired.

<sup>1</sup> If then, the seven brethren despised troubles even to death, it is confessed on all sides that righteous reasoning is absolute master over the passions. <sup>2</sup> For just as if, had they as slaves to the passions, eaten of the unholy, we should have said that they had been conquered by the; <sup>3</sup> now it is not so: but by means of the reasoning which is praised by God, they mastered their passions. <sup>4</sup> And it is impossible to overlook the leadership of reflection: for it gained the victory over both passions and troubles. <sup>5</sup> How, then, can we avoid according to these men mastery of passion through right reasoning, since they drew not back from the pains of fire? <sup>6</sup> For just as by means of towers projecting in front of harbors men break the threatening waves, and thus assure a still course to vessels entering port, <sup>7</sup> so that seven-towered right-reasoning of the young men, securing the harbour of religion, conquered the interperance of passions. <sup>8</sup> For having arranged a holy choir of piety, they encouraged one another, saying, <sup>9</sup> Brothers, may we die brotherly for the law. Let us imitate the three young men in Assyria who despised the equally afflicting furnace. <sup>10</sup> Let us not be cowards in the manifestation of piety. <sup>11</sup> And one said, Courage, brother; and another, Nobly endure. <sup>12</sup> And another, Remember of what stock you  are; and by the hand of our father Isaac endured to be

slain for the sake of piety. <sup>13</sup> And one and all, looking on each other serene and confident, said, Let us sacrifice with all our heart our souls to God who gave them, and employ our bodies for the keeping of the law. <sup>14</sup> Let us not fear him who thinks he kills; <sup>15</sup> for great is the trial of soul and danger of eternal torment laid up for those who transgress the commandment of God. <sup>16</sup> Let us arm ourselves, therefore, in the abnegation of the divine reasoning. <sup>17</sup> If we suffer thus, Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob will receive us, and all the fathers will commend us. <sup>18</sup> And as each one of the brethren was haled away, the rest exclaimed, Disgrace us not, O brother, nor falsify those who died before you. <sup>19</sup> Now you are not ignorant of the charm of brotherhood, which the Divine and all wise Providence has imparted through fathers to children, and has engendered through the mother's womb. <sup>20</sup> In which these brothers having remained an equal time, and having been formed for the same period, and been increased by the same blood, and having been perfected through the same principle of life, <sup>21</sup> and having been brought forth at equal intervals, and having sucked milk from the same fountains, hence their brotherly souls are reared up lovingly together; <sup>22</sup> and increase the more powerfully by reason of this simultaneous rearing, and by daily intercourse, and by other education, and exercise in the law of God. <sup>23</sup> Brotherly love being thus sympathetically constituted, the seven brethren had a more sympathetic mutual harmony. <sup>24</sup> For being educated in the same law, and practising the same virtues, and reared up in a just course of life, they increased this harmony with each other. <sup>25</sup> For a like ardour for what is right and honorable increased their fellow-feeling towards each other. <sup>26</sup> For it acting along with religion, made their brotherly feeling more desirable to them. <sup>27</sup> And yet, although nature and intercourse and virtuous morals increased their brotherly love those who were left endured to behold their brethren, who were ill-used for their religion, tortured even to death.

<sup>1</sup> And more that this, they even urged them on to this ill-treatment; so that they not only despised pains themselves, but they even got the better of their affections of brotherly love. <sup>2</sup> O reasonings more royal than a king, and freer than freemen! <sup>3</sup> Sacred and harmonious concert of the seven brethren as concerning piety! <sup>4</sup> None of the seven youths turned cowardly, or shrank back from death. <sup>5</sup> But all of them, as though running the road to immortality, hastened on to death through tortures. <sup>6</sup> For just as hands and feet are moved sympathetically with the directions of the soul, so those holy youths agreed to death for religion's sake, as through the immortal soul of religion. <sup>7</sup> O holy seven of harmonious brethren! for as the seven days of creation, about religion, <sup>8</sup> so the youths, circling around the number seven, annulled the fear of torments. <sup>9</sup> We now shudder at the recital of the affliction of those young men; but they not only [*]saw, and not only heard the immediate execution of the threat, but undergoing it, persevered; and that through the pains of fire. <sup>10</sup> And what could be more painful? for the power of fire, being sharp and quick, speedily dissolved their bodies. <sup>11</sup> And think it not wonderful that reasoning bore rule over those men in their torments, when even a woman's mind despised more manifold pains. <sup>12</sup> For the mother of those seven youths endured the rackings of each of her children. <sup>13</sup> And consider how comprehensive is the love of offspring, which draws every one to sympathy of affection, <sup>14</sup> where irrational animals possess a similar sympathy and love for their offspring with men. <sup>15</sup> The tame birds frequenting the roofs of our houses, defend their fledglings. <sup>16</sup> Others build their nests, and hatch their young, in the tops of mountains and in the precipices of valleys, and the holes and tops of trees, and keep off the intruder. <sup>17</sup> And if not able to do this, they fly circling round them in agony of affection, calling out in their own note, and save their offspring in whatever manner they are able. <sup>18</sup> But why should we point attention to the sympathy toward children shewn by irrational animals? <sup>19</sup> The very bees, at the season of honey-making, attack all who approach; and pierce with their sting, as with a sword, those who draw near their hive, and repel them even to death. <sup>20</sup> But sympathy with her children did not turn aside the mother of the young men, who had a spirit kindred with that of Abraham.

15

on the conditional promise of a tyrant, <sup>3</sup> rather elected the religion which according to God preserves to eternal life. <sup>4</sup> O in what way can I describe ethically the affections of parents toward their children, the resemblance of soul and of form engrafted into the small type of a child in a wonderful manner, especially through the greater sympathy of mothers with the feelings of those born of them! <sup>5</sup> for by how much mothers are by nature weak in disposition and prolific in offspring, by so much the fonder they are of children. <sup>6</sup> And of all mothers the mother of the seven was the fondest of children, who in seven childbirths had deeply engendered love toward them; <sup>7</sup> and through her many pains undergone in connection with each one, was compelled to feel sympathy with them; <sup>8</sup> yet, through fear of God, she neglected the temporary salvation of her children. <sup>9</sup> Not but that, on account of the excellent disposition to the law, her maternal affection toward them was increased. <sup>10</sup> For they were both just and temperate, and manly, and high-minded, and fond of their brethren, and so fond of their mother that even to death they obeyed her by observing the law. <sup>11</sup> And yet, though there were so many circumstances connected with love of children to draw on a mother to sympathy, in the case of none of them were the various tortures able to pervert her principle. <sup>12</sup> But she inclined each one separately and all together to death for religion. <sup>13</sup> O holy nature and parental feeling, and reward of bringing up children, and unconquerable maternal affection! <sup>14</sup> At the racking and roasting of each one of them, the observant mother was prevented

by religion from changing. <sup>15</sup> She [*]saw her children's flesh dissolving around the fire; and their extremities quivering on the ground, and the flesh of their heads dropped forwards down to their beards, like masks. <sup>16</sup> O you mother, who was tried at this time with bitterer pangs than those of parturition! <sup>17</sup> O you only woman who have brought forth perfect holiness! <sup>18</sup> Your firstborn, expiring, turned you not; nor the second, looking miserable in his torments; nor the third, breathing out his soul. <sup>19</sup> Nor when you did behold the eyes of each of them looking sternly upon their tortures, and their nostrils foreboding death, did you weep! <sup>20</sup> When you did see children's flesh heaped upon children's flesh that had been torn off, heads decapitated upon heads, dead falling upon the dead, and a choir of children turned through torture into a burying ground, you lamented not. <sup>21</sup> Not so do siren melodies, or songs of swans, attract the hearers to listening, O voices of children calling upon your mother in the midst of torments! <sup>22</sup> With what and what manner of torments was the mother herself tortured, as her sons were undergoing the wheel and the fires! <sup>23</sup> But religious reasoning, having strengthened her courage in the midst of sufferings, enabled her to forego, for the time, parental love. <sup>24</sup> Although beholding the destruction of seven children, the noble mother, after one embrace, stripped off her feelings through faith in God. <sup>25</sup> For just as in a council-room, beholding in her own soul vehement counselors, nature and parentage and love of her children, and the racking of her children, <sup>26</sup> she holding two votes, one for the death, the other for the preservation of her children, <sup>27</sup> did not lean to that which would have saved her children for the safety of a brief space. <sup>28</sup> But this daughter of Abraham remembered his holy fortitude. <sup>29</sup> O holy mother of a nation avenger of the law, and defender of religion, and prime bearer in the battle of the affections! <sup>30</sup> O you nobler in endurance than males, and more manly than men in patience! <sup>31</sup> For as the ark of Noah, bearing the world in the world-filling flood, bore up against the waves, <sup>32</sup> so you, the guardian of the law, when surrounded on every side by the flood of passions, and straitened by violent storms which were the torments of they children, did bear up nobly against the storms against religion.

<sup>1</sup> If, then, even a woman, and that an aged one, and the mother of seven children, endured to see her children's torments even to death, confessedly religious reasoning is master even of the passions. <sup>2</sup> I have proved, then, that not only men have obtained the mastery of their passions, but also that a woman despised the greatest torments. <sup>3</sup> And not so fierce were the lions round Daniel, nor the furnace of Misael burning with most vehement fires as that natural love of children burned within her, when she [*]saw her seven sons tortured. <sup>4</sup> But with the reasoning of religion the mother quenched passions so great and powerful. <sup>5</sup> For we must consider also this: that, had the woman been faint hearted, as being their other, she would have lamented over them; and perhaps might have spoken thus: <sup>6</sup> Ah! wretched I, and many times

miserable; who having born seven sons, have become the mother of none. <sup>7</sup> O seven useless childbirths, and seven profitless periods of labor, and fruitless givings of suck, and miserable nursings at the breast. <sup>8</sup> Vainly, for your sakes, O sons, have I endured many pangs, and the more difficult anxieties of rearing. <sup>9</sup> Alas, of my children, some of you unmarried, and some who have married to no profit, I shall not see your children, nor be felicitated as a grandmother. <sup>10</sup> Ah, that I who had many and fair children, should be a lone widow full of sorrows! <sup>11</sup> Nor, should I die, shall I have a son to bury me. But with such a lament as this the holy and God-fearing mother bewailed none of them. <sup>12</sup> Nor did she divert any of them from death, nor grieve for them as for the dead. <sup>13</sup> But as one possessed with an adamant mind, and as one bringing forth again her full number of sons to immortality, she rather with supplication exhorted them to death in behalf of religion. <sup>14</sup> O woman, soldier of God for religion, you, aged and a female, have conquered through endurance even a tyrant; and though but weak, have been found more powerful in deeds and words. <sup>15</sup> For when you were seized along with your children, you stood looking upon Eleazar in torments, and said to your sons in the Hebrew tongue, <sup>16</sup> O sons, noble is the contest; to which you being called as a witness for the nation, strive zealously for the laws of your country. <sup>17</sup> For it were disgraceful that this old man should endure pains for the sake of righteousness, and that you who are younger should be afraid of the tortures. <sup>18</sup> Remember that through God you☩ obtained existence, and have enjoyed

it. <sup>19</sup> And on this second account you☩ ought to bear every affliction because of God. <sup>20</sup> For whom also our father Abraham was forward to sacrifice Isaac our progenitor, and shuddered not at the sight of his own paternal hand descending down with the sword upon him. <sup>21</sup> And the righteous Daniel was cast to the lions; and Ananias, and Azarias, and Misael, were slung out into a furnace of fire; yet they endured through God. <sup>22</sup> You, then, having the same faith towards God, be not troubled. <sup>23</sup> For it is unreasonable that they who know religion should not stand up against troubles. <sup>24</sup> With these arguments, the mother of seven, exhorting each of her sons, over-persuaded them from transgressing the commandment of God. <sup>25</sup> And they saw this, too, that they who die for God, live to God; as Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the patriarchs.

before God, and fixed in the firmament with your sons who you did illuminate with religion to the stars. <sup>6</sup> For your bearing of children was after the fashion of a child of Abraham. <sup>7</sup> And, were it lawful for us to paint as on a tablet the religion of your story, the spectators would not shudder at beholding the mother of seven children enduring for the sake of religion various tortures even to death. <sup>8</sup> And it had been a worth thing to have inscribed upon the tomb itself these words as a memorial to those of the nation, <sup>9</sup> Here an aged priest, and an aged woman, and seven sons, are buried through the violence of a tyrant, who wished to destroy the polity of the Hebrews. <sup>10</sup> These also avenged their nation, looking to God, and enduring torments to death. <sup>11</sup> For it was truly a divine contest which was carried through by them. <sup>12</sup> For at that time virtue presided over the contest, approving the victory through endurance, namely, immortality, eternal life. <sup>13</sup> Eleazar was the first to contend: and the mother of the seven children entered the contest; and the brethren contended. <sup>14</sup> The tyrant was the opposite; and the world and living men were the spectators. <sup>15</sup> And reverence for God conquered, and crowned her own athletes. <sup>16</sup> Who did not admire those champions of true legislation? who were not astonished? <sup>17</sup> The tyrant himself, and all their council, admired their endurance; <sup>18</sup> through which, also, they now stand beside the divine throne, and live a blessed life. <sup>19</sup> For Moses says, And all the saints are under your hands. <sup>20</sup> These, therefore, having been sanctified through God, have been honored not only with this honor, but that also by their means the enemy did not overcome our nation; <sup>21</sup> and that the tyrant was punished, and their country purified. <sup>22</sup> For they became the ransom to the sin of the nation; and the Divine Providence saved Israel, aforetime afflicted, by the blood of those pious ones, and the propitiatory death. <sup>23</sup> For the tyrant Antiochus, looking to their manly virtue, and to their endurance in torture, proclaimed that endurance as an example to his soldiers. <sup>24</sup> And they proved to be to him noble and brave for land battles and for sieges; and he conquered and stormed the towns of all his enemies.

of the built-up rib. <sup>8</sup> No destroyer of the desert, or ravisher of the plain, injured me; nor did the destructive, deceitful snake, make spoil of my chaste virginity; and I remained with my husband during the period of my prime. <sup>9</sup> And these my children, having arrived at maturity, their father died: blessed was he! for having sought out a life of fertility in children, he was not grieved with a period of loss of children. <sup>10</sup> And he used to teach you, when yet with you, the law and the prophets. <sup>11</sup> He used to read to you the slaying of Abel by Cain, and the offering up of Isaac, and the imprisonment of Joseph. <sup>12</sup> And he used to tell you of the zealous Phinehas; and informed you of Ananias and Azarias, and Misael in the fire. <sup>13</sup> And he used to glorify Daniel, who was in the den of lions, and pronounce him blessed. <sup>14</sup> And he used to put you in mind of the scripture of Esaias, which says, Even if you pass through the fire, it shall not burn you. <sup>15</sup> He chanted to you David, the hymn-writer, who says, Many are the afflictions of the just. <sup>16</sup> He declared the proverbs of Solomon, who says, He is a tree of life to all those who do His will. <sup>17</sup> He used to verify Ezekiel, who said, Shall these dry bones live? <sup>18</sup> For he did not forget the song which Moses taught, proclaiming, I will kill, and I will make to live. <sup>19</sup> This is our life, and the length of our days. <sup>20</sup> O that bitter, and yet not bitter, day when the bitter tyrant of the Greeks, quenching fire with fire in his cruel caldrons, brought with boiling rage the seven sons of the daughter of Abraham to the catapult, and to all his torments! <sup>21</sup> He pierced the balls of their eyes, and cut out their tongues, and put them to death with varied tortures. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore divine retribution pursued and will pursue the pestilent wretch. <sup>23</sup> But the children of Abraham, with their victorious mother, are assembled together to the choir of their father; having received pure and immortal souls from God. <sup>24</sup> To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed is the man who doesn't walk
in the counsel of the wicked,
nor stand on the path of sinners,
nor sit in the seat of scoffers;
<sup>2</sup> but his delight is in Yahweh's<sup>a</sup> law.
On his law he meditates day and
night.
<sup>3</sup> He will be like a tree planted by the streams of water,
that produces its fruit in its season,
whose leaf also does not wither.
Whatever he does shall prosper.
<sup>4</sup> The wicked are not so,
but are like the chaff which the wind drives away.
<sup>5</sup> Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment,
nor sinners in the congregation of
the righteous.
<sup>6</sup> For Yahweh knows the way of the
righteous,
but the way of the wicked shall
perish.

2

- <sup>1</sup> Why do the nations rage,
and the peoples plot a vain thing?
<sup>2</sup> The kings of the earth take a stand,
and the rulers take counsel together,
against Yahweh, and against his Anointed,<sup>b</sup> saying, <sup>3</sup> "Let's break their bonds apart,
and cast their cords from us."
<sup>4</sup> He who sits in the heavens will laugh.
The Lord<sup>c</sup> will have them in derision.
<sup>5</sup> Then he will speak to them in his
anger,
and terrify them in his wrath:
<sup>6</sup> "Yet I have set my King on my holy hill of Zion."
<sup>7</sup> I will tell of the decree.
Yahweh said to me, "You are my son.
Today I have become your father.
<sup>8</sup> Ask of me, and I will give the nations
for your inheritance,
the uttermost parts of the earth for your possession.
<sup>9</sup> You shall break them with a rod of iron.
You shall dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."
<sup>10</sup> Now therefore be wise, you kings.
Be instructed, you judges of the
earth.
<sup>11</sup> Serve Yahweh with fear,
and rejoice with trembling.
<sup>12</sup> Give sincere homage to the Son,<sup>d</sup> lest
he be angry, and you perish
on the way,
for his wrath will soon be kindled.
Blessed are all those who take refuge in him.

3

A Psalm by David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, how my adversaries have increased!
Many are those who rise up against me.
- <sup>2</sup> Many there are who say of my soul,
“There is no help for him in God.”<sup>e</sup>
Selah.
- <sup>3</sup> But you, Yahweh, are a shield around me,
my glory, and the one who lifts up my head.
- <sup>4</sup> I cry to Yahweh with my voice,
and he answers me out of his holy hill.
Selah.
- <sup>5</sup> I laid myself down and slept.
I awakened; for Yahweh sustains me.
- <sup>6</sup> I will not be afraid of tens of thousands of people who have set themselves against me on every side.
- <sup>7</sup> Arise, Yahweh!
Save me, my God!
For you have struck all of my enemies on the cheek bone.
You have broken the teeth of the wicked.
- <sup>8</sup> Salvation belongs to Yahweh.
Your blessing be on your people.

4

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Answer me when I call, God of my righteousness.
Give me relief from my distress.
Have mercy on me, and hear my prayer.
- <sup>2</sup> You sons of men, how long shall my glory be turned into dishonor?
Will you love vanity, and seek after falsehood?
Selah.
- <sup>3</sup> But know that Yahweh has set apart for himself him who is godly:
Yahweh will hear when I call to him.
- <sup>4</sup> Stand in awe, and don't sin.
Search your own heart on your bed, and be still.
Selah.
- <sup>5</sup> Offer the sacrifices of righteousness.
Put your trust in Yahweh.
- <sup>6</sup> Many say, “Who will show us any good?”
Yahweh, let the light of your face shine on us.
- <sup>7</sup> You have put gladness in my heart,
more than when their grain and their new wine are increased.
- <sup>8</sup> In peace I will both lay myself down and sleep,
for you, Yahweh alone, make me live in safety.

5

For the Chief Musician, with the flutes. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Give ear to my words, Yahweh.
Consider my meditation.
- <sup>2</sup> Listen to the voice of my cry, my King
and my God;
for to you do I pray.
- <sup>3</sup> Yahweh, in the morning you shall hear
my voice.
In the morning I will lay my requests before you, and will watch expectantly.
- <sup>4</sup> For you are not a God who has
pleasure in wickedness.
Evil can't live with you.
- <sup>5</sup> The arrogant shall not stand in your
sight.
You hate all workers of iniquity.
- <sup>6</sup> You will destroy those who speak lies.
Yahweh abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.
- <sup>7</sup> But as for me, in the abundance of your loving kindness I will come into your house.
I will bow toward your holy temple
in reverence of you.
- <sup>8</sup> Lead me, Yahweh, in your righteousness because of my
enemies.
Make your way straight before my
face.
- <sup>9</sup> For there is no faithfulness in their
mouth.
Their heart is destruction.
Their throat is an open tomb.
They flatter with their tongue.
- <sup>10</sup> Hold them guilty, God.

<sup>f</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

Let them fall by their own counsels;
Thrust them out in the multitude of their
transgressions,

for they have rebelled against you.

<sup>11</sup> But let all those who take refuge in you rejoice,

Let them always shout for joy,
because you defend them.

Let them also who love your name be joyful in you.

<sup>12</sup> For you will bless the righteous.
Yahweh, you will surround him with favor as with a shield.

6

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, upon the eight-stringed lyre. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, don't rebuke me in your
anger,
neither discipline me in your wrath.
- <sup>2</sup> Have mercy on me, Yahweh, for I am faint.
Yahweh, heal me, for my bones are troubled.
- <sup>3</sup> My soul is also in great anguish.
But you, Yahweh—how long?
- <sup>4</sup> Return, Yahweh. Deliver my soul, and save me for your loving kindness' sake.
- <sup>5</sup> For in death there is no memory of
you.
In Sheol,<sup>f</sup> who shall give you
thanks?
- <sup>6</sup> I am weary with my groaning.
Every night I flood my bed.
I drench my couch with my tears.
- <sup>7</sup> My eye wastes away because of grief.

It grows old because of all my
adversaries.

<sup>8</sup> Depart from me, all you workers of
iniquity,
for Yahweh has heard the voice of my weeping.

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh has heard my supplication.
Yahweh accepts my prayer.

<sup>10</sup> May all my enemies be ashamed and dismayed.
They shall turn back, they shall be disgraced suddenly.

7

A meditation by David, which he sang to Yahweh, concerning the words of Cush, the Benjamite.

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh, my God, I take refuge in you.
Save me from all those who pursue
me, and deliver me,

<sup>2</sup> lest they tear apart my soul like a lion, ripping it in pieces, while there is no one to deliver.

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh, my God, if I have done this,
if there is iniquity in my hands,

<sup>4</sup> if I have rewarded evil to him who was at peace with me (yes, if I have delivered him who without cause was my adversary),

<sup>5</sup> let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it;
yes, let him tread my life down to the
earth,
and lay my glory in the dust.
Selah.

<sup>6</sup> Arise, Yahweh, in your anger.
Lift up yourself against the rage of
my adversaries.

Awake for me. You have commanded
judgment.

<sup>7</sup> Let the congregation of the peoples surround you.
Rule over them on high.

<sup>8</sup> Yahweh administers judgment to the
peoples.

Judge me, Yahweh, according to my righteousness,
and to my integrity that is in me.

<sup>9</sup> Oh let the wickedness of the wicked
come to an end,
but establish the righteous;
their minds and hearts are searched
by the righteous God.

<sup>10</sup> My shield is with God,
who saves the upright in heart.

<sup>11</sup> God is a righteous judge,
yes, a God who has indignation
every day.

<sup>12</sup> If a man doesn't relent, he will sharpen his sword;
he has bent and strung his bow.

<sup>13</sup> He has also prepared for himself the instruments of death.
He makes ready his flaming arrows.

Yes, he has conceived mischief,
and brought out falsehood.

<sup>15</sup> He has dug a hole, and has fallen into the pit which he made.

<sup>16</sup> The trouble he causes shall return to his own head.
His violence shall come down on the crown of his own head.

<sup>17</sup> I will give thanks to Yahweh
according to his
righteousness,

<sup>g</sup> "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

and will sing praise to the name of Yahweh Most High.

8

*For the Chief Musician; on an instrument
of Gath. A Psalm by David.*

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth,
who has set your glory above the
heavens!
- <sup>2</sup> From the lips of babes and infants you have established strength, because of your adversaries, that you might silence the enemy and the avenger.
- <sup>3</sup> When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers,
the moon and the stars, which you have ordained;
- <sup>4</sup> what is man, that you think of him?
What is the son of man, that you care for him?
- <sup>5</sup> For you have made him a little lower than God,<sup>h</sup>
and crowned him with glory and
honor.
- <sup>6</sup> You make him ruler over the works of
your hands.
You have put all things under his
feet:
- <sup>7</sup> All sheep and cattle,
yes, and the animals of the field, <sup>8</sup> The birds of the sky, the fish of
the sea,
and whatever passes through the paths of the seas.

- <sup>9</sup> Yahweh, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth!

9

For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Death of the Son." A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> I will give thanks to Yahweh with my whole heart.
I will tell of all your marvelous
works.
- <sup>2</sup> I will be glad and rejoice in you.
I will sing praise to your name, O
Most High.
- <sup>3</sup> When my enemies turn back,
they stumble and perish in your
presence.
- <sup>4</sup> For you have maintained my just cause.
You sit on the throne judging
righteously.
- <sup>5</sup> You have rebuked the nations.
You have destroyed the wicked.
You have blotted out their name
forever and ever.
- <sup>6</sup> The enemy is overtaken by endless
ruin.
The very memory of the cities
which you have overthrown
has perished.
- <sup>7</sup> But Yahweh reigns forever.
He has prepared his throne for
judgment.
- <sup>8</sup> He will judge the world in
righteousness.
He will administer judgment to the peoples in uprightness.

<sup>h</sup> Hebrew: Elohim. The word Elohim, used here, usually means "God", but can also mean "gods", "princes", or "angels". The Septuagint reads "angels" here.

- <sup>9</sup> Yahweh will also be a high tower for the oppressed;
a high tower in times of trouble.
- <sup>10</sup> Those who know your name will put their trust in you,
for you, Yahweh, have not forsaken
those who seek you.
- <sup>11</sup> Sing praises to Yahweh, who dwells
in Zion,
and declare among the people what
he has done.
- <sup>12</sup> For he who avenges blood remembers
them.
He doesn't forget the cry of the
afflicted.
- <sup>13</sup> Have mercy on me, Yahweh.
See my affliction by those who hate
me,
and lift me up from the gates of death;
<sup>14</sup> that I may show all of your praise.
In the gates of the daughter of Zion,
I will rejoice in your
salvation.
- <sup>15</sup> The nations have sunk down in the pit
that they made.
In the net which they hid, their own foot is taken.
- <sup>16</sup> Yahweh has made himself known.
He has executed judgment.
The wicked is snared by the work
of his own hands.
Meditation. Selah.
- <sup>17</sup> The wicked shall be turned back to Sheol,<sup>i</sup>
even all the nations that forget God.
- <sup>18</sup> For the needy shall not always be forgotten,
nor the hope of the poor perish
forever.

- <sup>19</sup> Arise, Yahweh! Don't let man
prevail.
Let the nations be judged in your
sight.
- <sup>20</sup> Put them in fear, Yahweh.
Let the nations know that they are only men.
Selah.

10

- <sup>1</sup> Why do you stand far off, Yahweh?
Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?
- <sup>2</sup> In arrogance, the wicked hunt down
the weak.
They are caught in the schemes that they devise.
- <sup>3</sup> For the wicked boasts of his heart's cravings.
He blesses the greedy, and condemns Yahweh.
- <sup>4</sup> The wicked, in the pride of his face,
has no room in his thoughts for
God.
- <sup>5</sup> His ways are prosperous at all times.
He is haughty, and your laws are far from his sight.
As for all his adversaries, he sneers at
them.
- <sup>6</sup> He says in his heart, "I shall not be shaken.
For generations I shall have no
trouble."
- <sup>7</sup> His mouth is full of cursing, deceit,
and oppression.
Under his tongue is mischief and
iniquity.
- <sup>8</sup> He lies in wait near the villages.
From ambushes, he murders the
innocent.

<sup>i</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

His eyes are secretly set against the helpless.

<sup>9</sup> He lurks in secret as a lion in his ambush.
He lies in wait to catch the helpless.
He catches the helpless, when he draws him in his net.

<sup>10</sup> The helpless are crushed.
They collapse.
They fall under his strength.

<sup>11</sup> He says in his heart, "God has forgotten.
He hides his face.
He will never see it."

God, lift up your hand!
Don't forget the helpless.

<sup>13</sup> Why does the wicked person condemn God,
and say in his heart, "God won't
call me into account?"

<sup>14</sup> But you do see trouble and grief.
You consider it to take it into your
hand.
You help the victim and the
fatherless.

<sup>15</sup> Break the arm of the wicked.
As for the evil man, seek out his wickedness until you find none.

The nations will perish out of his
land.

<sup>17</sup> Yahweh, you have heard the desire of the humble.
You will prepare their heart.
You will cause your ear to hear, <sup>18</sup> to judge the fatherless and the oppressed,
that man who is of the earth may terrify no more.

11

For the Chief Musician. By David.

<sup>1</sup> In Yahweh, I take refuge.
How can you say to my soul, "Flee
as a bird to your mountain!"

<sup>2</sup> For, behold, the wicked bend their bows.
They set their arrows on the strings,
that they may shoot in darkness at
the upright in heart.

<sup>3</sup> If the foundations are destroyed,
what can the righteous do?

Yahweh is on his throne in heaven.
His eyes observe.
His eyes examine the children of
men.

<sup>5</sup> Yahweh examines the righteous,
but the wicked and him who loves violence his soul hates.

<sup>6</sup> On the wicked he will rain blazing
coals;
fire, sulfur, and scorching wind
shall be the portion of their
cup.

He loves righteousness.
The upright shall see his face.

12

For the Chief Musician; upon an eightstringed lyre. A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> Help, Yahweh; for the godly man
ceases.
For the faithful fail from among the
children of men.

They speak with flattering lips, and with a double heart.
<sup>3</sup> May Yahweh cut off all flattering lips,
and the tongue that boasts,
<sup>4</sup> who have said, "With our tongue we will prevail.
Our lips are our own.
Who is lord over us?"
<sup>5</sup> "Because of the oppression of the weak and because of the groaning of the needy,
I will now arise," says Yahweh;
"I will set him in safety from those who malign him."
<sup>6</sup> Yahweh's words are flawless words,
as silver refined in a clay furnace,
purified seven times.
<sup>7</sup> You will keep them, Yahweh.
You will preserve them from this generation forever.
<sup>8</sup> The wicked walk on every side, when what is vile is exalted among
the sons of men.

13

<sup>1</sup> How long, Yahweh?
Will you forget me forever?
How long will you hide your face
from me?
<sup>2</sup> How long shall I take counsel in my
soul,
having sorrow in my heart every
day?
How long shall my enemy triumph
over me?
<sup>3</sup> Behold, and answer me, Yahweh, my
God.

Give light to my eyes, lest I sleep in
death;
<sup>4</sup> Lest my enemy say, "I have prevailed against him"; Lest my adversaries rejoice when I
fall.
<sup>5</sup> But I trust in your loving kindness.
My heart rejoices in your salvation.
<sup>6</sup> I will sing to Yahweh,
because he has been good to me.

14

For the Chief Musician. By David.

<sup>1</sup> The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God."
They are corrupt.
They have done abominable deeds.
There is no one who does good.
<sup>2</sup> Yahweh looked down from heaven on
the children of men,
to see if there were any who
understood,
who sought after God.
<sup>3</sup> They have all gone aside.
They have together become corrupt.
There is no one who does good, no,
not one.
<sup>4</sup> Have all the workers of iniquity no
knowledge,
who eat up my people as they eat
bread,
and don't call on Yahweh?
<sup>5</sup> There they were in great fear,
for God is in the generation of the
righteous.
<sup>6</sup> You frustrate the plan of the poor,
because Yahweh is his refuge.
<sup>7</sup> Oh that the salvation of Israel would come out of Zion!

When Yahweh restores the fortunes
of his people,
then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel
shall be glad.

15

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, who shall dwell in your
sanctuary?
Who shall live on your holy hill?
<sup>2</sup> He who walks blamelessly does what is right,
and speaks truth in his heart;
<sup>3</sup> He who doesn't slander with his
tongue,
nor does evil to his friend,
nor casts slurs against his fellow
man;
<sup>4</sup> In whose eyes a vile man is despised,
but who honors those who fear
Yahweh;
he who keeps an oath even when it
hurts, and doesn't change;
<sup>5</sup> he who doesn't lend out his money for usury,
nor take a bribe against the
innocent.
He who does these things shall never be shaken.

16

- <sup>1</sup> Preserve me, God, for in you do I take
refuge.

- <sup>2</sup> My soul, you have said to Yahweh,
"You are my Lord.
Apart from you I have no good
thing."
<sup>3</sup> As for the saints who are in the earth,
they are the excellent ones in whom is all my delight.
<sup>4</sup> Their sorrows shall be multiplied who give gifts to another god.
Their drink offerings of blood I will not offer,
nor take their names on my lips.
<sup>5</sup> Yahweh assigned my portion and my
cup.
You made my lot secure.
<sup>6</sup> The lines have fallen to me in pleasant
places.
Yes, I have a good inheritance.
<sup>7</sup> I will bless Yahweh, who has given me
counsel.
Yes, my heart instructs me in the night seasons.
<sup>8</sup> I have set Yahweh always before me.
Because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
<sup>9</sup> Therefore my heart is glad, and my tongue rejoices.
My body shall also dwell in safety.
<sup>10</sup> For you will not leave my soul in Sheol,<sup>j</sup>
neither will you allow your holy
one to see corruption.
<sup>11</sup> You will show me the path of life.
In your presence is fullness of joy.
In your right hand there are pleasures
forever more.

17

- <sup>1</sup> Hear, Yahweh, my righteous plea; Give ear to my prayer, that doesn't go out of deceitful lips.
- <sup>2</sup> Let my sentence come out of your
presence.
Let your eyes look on equity.
- <sup>3</sup> You have proved my heart.
You have visited me in the night.
You have tried me, and found
nothing.
I have resolved that my mouth shall not disobey.
- <sup>4</sup> As for the deeds of men, by the word
of your lips,
I have kept myself from the ways of the violent.
- <sup>5</sup> My steps have held fast to your paths.
My feet have not slipped.
- <sup>6</sup> I have called on you, for you will answer me, God.
Turn your ear to me.
Hear my speech.
- <sup>7</sup> Show your marvelous loving kindness,
you who save those who take refuge by your right hand
from their enemies.
- <sup>8</sup> Keep me as the apple of your eye.
Hide me under the shadow of your wings,
- <sup>9</sup> from the wicked who oppress me,
my deadly enemies, who surround
me.
- <sup>10</sup> They close up their callous hearts.
With their mouth they speak proudly.

- <sup>11</sup> They have now surrounded us in our steps.
They set their eyes to cast us down
to the earth.
- <sup>12</sup> He is like a lion that is greedy of his
prey,
as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.
- <sup>13</sup> Arise, Yahweh, confront him.
Cast him down.
Deliver my soul from the wicked by your sword;
- <sup>14</sup> from men by your hand,
Yahweh,
from men of the world, whose portion is
in this life.
You fill the belly of your cherished
ones.
Your sons have plenty,
and they store up wealth for their
children.
- <sup>15</sup> As for me, I shall see your face in
righteousness.
I shall be satisfied, when I awake,
with seeing your form.

18

*For the Chief Musician. By David the servant of Yahweh, who spoke to Yahweh
the words of this song in the day that Yahweh delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. He said,*

- <sup>1</sup> I love you, Yahweh, my strength.
- <sup>2</sup> Yahweh is my rock, my fortress, and
my deliverer;
my God, my rock, in whom I take
refuge;
my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.

<sup>3</sup> I call on Yahweh, who is worthy to be praised;
 and I am saved from my enemies.
<sup>4</sup> The cords of death surrounded me.
 The floods of ungodliness made me
 afraid.
<sup>5</sup> The cords of Sheol<sup>k</sup> were around me.
 The snares of death came on me.
<sup>6</sup> In my distress I called on Yahweh,
 and cried to my God.
 He heard my voice out of his temple.
 My cry before him came into his ears.
<sup>7</sup> Then the earth shook and trembled.
 The foundations also of the mountains quaked and were
 shaken,
 because he was angry.
<sup>8</sup> Smoke went out of his nostrils.
 Consuming fire came out of his
 mouth.
 Coals were kindled by it.
<sup>9</sup> He bowed the heavens also, and came down.
 Thick darkness was under his feet.
<sup>10</sup> He rode on a cherub, and flew.
 Yes, he soared on the wings of the wind.
<sup>11</sup> He made darkness his hiding place,
 his pavilion around him,
 darkness of waters, thick clouds of
 the skies.
<sup>12</sup> At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed,
 hailstones and coals of fire.
<sup>13</sup> Yahweh also thundered in the sky.
 The Most High uttered his voice:
 hailstones and coals of fire.
<sup>14</sup> He sent out his arrows, and scattered
 them;

Yes, great lightning bolts, and routed them.
<sup>15</sup> Then the channels of waters appeared.
 The foundations of the world were laid bare at your rebuke,
 Yahweh,
 at the blast of the breath of your
 nostrils.
<sup>16</sup> He sent from on high.
 He took me.
 He drew me out of many waters.
<sup>17</sup> He delivered me from my strong
 enemy,
 from those who hated me; for they were too mighty for me.
<sup>18</sup> They came on me in the day of my calamity,
 but Yahweh was my support.
<sup>19</sup> He brought me out also into a large
 place.
 He delivered me, because he delighted in me.
<sup>20</sup> Yahweh has rewarded me according to my righteousness.
 According to the cleanness of my hands has he recompensed
 me.
<sup>21</sup> For I have kept the ways of Yahweh,
 and have not wickedly departed
 from my God.
<sup>22</sup> For all his ordinances were before me.
 I didn't put away his statutes from
 me.
<sup>23</sup> I was also blameless with him.
 I kept myself from my iniquity.
<sup>24</sup> Therefore Yahweh has rewarded me
 according to my
 righteousness,
 according to the cleanness of my
 hands in his eyesight.

<sup>k</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 25 With the merciful you will show yourself merciful.
With the perfect man, you will show yourself perfect.
- 26 With the pure, you will show yourself pure.
With the crooked you will show yourself shrewd.
- 27 For you will save the afflicted people,
but the haughty eyes you will bring down.
- 28 For you will light my lamp, Yahweh.
My God will light up my darkness.
- 29 For by you, I advance through a troop.
By my God, I leap over a wall.
- 30 As for God, his way is perfect.
Yahweh's word is tried.
He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.
- 31 For who is God, except Yahweh?
Who is a rock, besides our God,
32 the God who arms me with strength, and makes my way perfect?
- 33 He makes my feet like deer's feet,
and sets me on my high places.
- 34 He teaches my hands to war,
so that my arms bend a bow of bronze.
- 35 You have also given me the shield of your salvation.
Your right hand sustains me.
Your gentleness has made me great.
- 36 You have enlarged my steps under me,
My feet have not slipped.
- 37 I will pursue my enemies, and overtake them.
- Neither will I turn again until they are consumed.
- 38 I will strike them through, so that they will not be able to rise.
They shall fall under my feet.
- 39 For you have armed me with strength to the battle.
You have subdued under me those who rose up against me.
- 40 You have also made my enemies turn their backs to me,
that I might cut off those who hate me.
- 41 They cried, but there was no one to save;
even to Yahweh, but he didn't answer them.
- 42 Then I beat them small as the dust before the wind.
I cast them out as the mire of the streets.
- 43 You have delivered me from the strivings of the people.
You have made me the head of the nations.
A people whom I have not known shall serve me.
- 44 As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me.
The foreigners shall submit themselves to me.
- 45 The foreigners shall fade away,
and shall come trembling out of their close places.
- 46 Yahweh lives; and blessed be my rock.
Exalted be the God of my salvation,
47 even the God who executes vengeance for me,
and subdues peoples under me.

- 48 He rescues me from my enemies.
 Yes, you lift me up above those who rise up against me.
 You deliver me from the violent
 man.
- 49 Therefore I will give thanks to you,
 Yahweh, among the nations,
 and will sing praises to your name.
- 50 He gives great deliverance to his king,
 and shows loving kindness to his
 anointed,
 to David and to his offspring,<sup>1</sup>
 forever more.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> The heavens declare the glory of God.
 The expanse shows his handiwork.
- <sup>2</sup> Day after day they pour out speech,
 and night after night they display
 knowledge.
- <sup>3</sup> There is no speech nor language,
 where their voice is not heard.
- <sup>4</sup> Their voice has gone out through all
 the earth,
 their words to the end of the world.
 In them he has set a tent for the sun, <sup>5</sup> which is as a bridegroom coming out of his room,
 like a strong man rejoicing to run
 his course.
- <sup>6</sup> His going out is from the end of the
 heavens,
 his circuit to its ends;
 There is nothing hidden from its heat.
- <sup>7</sup> Yahweh's law is perfect, restoring the
 soul.

<sup>1</sup> or, seed

- Yahweh's testimony is sure,
 making wise the simple.
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh's precepts are right, rejoicing
 the heart.
 Yahweh's commandment is pure,
 enlightening the eyes.
- <sup>9</sup> The fear of Yahweh is clean, enduring
 forever.
 Yahweh's ordinances are true, and righteous altogether.
- <sup>10</sup> More to be desired are they than gold,
 yes, than much fine gold;
 sweeter also than honey and the extract of the honeycomb.
- <sup>11</sup> Moreover by them is your servant
 warned.
 In keeping them there is great
 reward.
- <sup>12</sup> Who can discern his errors?
 Forgive me from hidden errors.
- <sup>13</sup> Keep back your servant also from presumptuous sins.
 Let them not have dominion over
 me.
 Then I will be upright.
 I will be blameless and innocent of great transgression.
- <sup>14</sup> Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart
 be acceptable in your sight, Yahweh, my rock, and my redeemer.

20

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> May Yahweh answer you in the day of
 trouble.
 May the name of the God of Jacob
 set you up on high,

- <sup>2</sup> send you help from the sanctuary,
grant you support from Zion, <sup>3</sup> remember all your offerings,
and accept your burned sacrifice.
Selah.
- <sup>4</sup> May He grant you your heart's desire,
and fulfill all your counsel.
- <sup>5</sup> We will triumph in your salvation.
In the name of our God, we will set up our banners.
May Yahweh grant all your requests.
- <sup>6</sup> Now I know that Yahweh saves his
anointed.
He will answer him from his holy
heaven,
with the saving strength of his right
hand.
- <sup>7</sup> Some trust in chariots, and some in
horses,
but we trust the name of Yahweh
our God.
- <sup>8</sup> They are bowed down and fallen,
but we rise up, and stand upright.
- <sup>9</sup> Save, Yahweh!
Let the King answer us when we call!

21

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> The king rejoices in your strength,
Yahweh!
How greatly he rejoices in your
salvation!
- <sup>2</sup> You have given him his heart's desire,
and have not withheld the request of his lips.
Selah.
- <sup>3</sup> For you meet him with the blessings of
goodness.
You set a crown of fine gold on his
head.
- <sup>4</sup> He asked life of you, you gave it to
him,
even length of days forever and
ever.
- <sup>5</sup> His glory is great in your salvation.
You lay honor and majesty on him.
- <sup>6</sup> For you make him most blessed
forever.
You make him glad with joy in
your presence.
- <sup>7</sup> For the king trusts in Yahweh.
Through the loving kindness of the Most High, he shall not be moved.
- <sup>8</sup> Your hand will find out all of your
enemies.
Your right hand will find out those who hate you.
- <sup>9</sup> You will make them as a fiery furnace
in the time of your anger.
Yahweh will swallow them up in
his wrath.
The fire shall devour them.
- <sup>10</sup> You will destroy their descendants
from the earth,
their posterity from among the
children of men.
- <sup>11</sup> For they intended evil against you.
They plotted evil against you which cannot succeed.
- <sup>12</sup> For you will make them turn their
back,
when you aim drawn bows at their
face.
- <sup>13</sup> Be exalted, Yahweh, in your strength,

so we will sing and praise your power.

22

For the Chief Musician; set to "The Doe of the Morning." A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?
Why are you so far from helping me, and from the words of my groaning?
- <sup>2</sup> My God, I cry in the daytime, but you don't answer;
in the night season, and am not
silent.
- <sup>3</sup> But you are holy,
you who inhabit the praises of Israel.
- <sup>4</sup> Our fathers trusted in you.
They trusted, and you delivered
them.
- <sup>5</sup> They cried to you, and were delivered.
They trusted in you, and were not
disappointed.
- <sup>6</sup> But I am a worm, and no man;
a reproach of men, and despised by
the people.
- <sup>7</sup> All those who see me mock me.
They insult me with their lips. They shake their heads, saying,
- <sup>8</sup> "He trusts in Yahweh;
let him deliver him.
Let him rescue him, since he
delights in him."
- <sup>9</sup> But you brought me out of the womb.
You made me trust at my mother's breasts.
- <sup>10</sup> I was thrown on you from my mother's womb.

You are my God since my mother
bore me.

- <sup>11</sup> Don't be far from me, for trouble is near.
For there is no one to help.
- <sup>12</sup> Many bulls have surrounded me.
Strong bulls of Bashan have encircled me.
- <sup>13</sup> They open their mouths wide against
me,
lions tearing prey and roaring.
- <sup>14</sup> I am poured out like water.
All my bones are out of joint.
My heart is like wax;
it is melted within me.
- <sup>15</sup> My strength is dried up like a potsherd.
My tongue sticks to the roof of my
mouth.
You have brought me into the dust of
death.
- <sup>16</sup> For dogs have surrounded me.
A company of evildoers have enclosed me.
They have pierced my hands and feet.<sup>m</sup>
- <sup>17</sup> I can count all of my bones.
They look and stare at me.
- <sup>18</sup> They divide my garments among
them.
They cast lots for my clothing.
- <sup>19</sup> But don't be far off, Yahweh.
You are my help: hurry to help me.
- <sup>20</sup> Deliver my soul from the sword,
my precious life from the power of the dog.
- <sup>21</sup> Save me from the lion's mouth!
Yes, from the horns of the wild oxen, you have answered
me.

<sup>m</sup> So Dead Sea Scrolls. Masoretic Text reads, "Like a lion, they pin my hands and feet."

- 22 I will declare your name to my brothers.
Among the assembly, I will praise
you.
- 23 You who fear Yahweh, praise him!
All you descendants of Jacob,
glorify him!
Stand in awe of him, all you descendants of Israel!
- 24 For he has not despised nor abhorred
the affliction of the afflicted, Neither has he hidden his face from
him;
but when he cried to him, he heard.
- 25 Of you comes my praise in the great assembly.
I will pay my vows before those
who fear him.
- 26 The humble shall eat and be satisfied.
They shall praise Yahweh who seek
after him.
Let your hearts live forever.
- 27 All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to
Yahweh.
All the relatives of the nations shall worship before you.
- 28 For the kingdom is Yahweh's.
He is the ruler over the nations.
- 29 All the rich ones of the earth shall eat
and worship.
All those who go down to the dust
shall bow before him,
even he who can't keep his soul
alive.
- 30 Posterity shall serve him.
Future generations shall be told about the Lord.
- 31 They shall come and shall declare his righteousness to a people that shall be born,

for he has done it.

A Psalm by David.

- 1 Yahweh is my shepherd:
I shall lack nothing.
- 2 He makes me lie down in green pastures.
He leads me beside still waters.
- 3 He restores my soul.
He guides me in the paths of righteousness for his name's
sake.
- 4 Even though I walk through the valley
of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil, for you are with
me.
Your rod and your staff,
they comfort me.
- 5 You prepare a table before me
in the presence of my enemies.
You anoint my head with oil.
My cup runs over.
- 6 Surely goodness and loving kindness shall follow me all the days
of my life,
and I will dwell in Yahweh's house
forever.

24

A Psalm by David.

- 1 The earth is Yahweh's, with its fullness;
the world, and those who dwell
therein.
- 2 For he has founded it on the seas,
and established it on the floods.
- 3 Who may ascend to Yahweh's hill?

Who may stand in his holy place?
<sup>4</sup> He who has clean hands and a pure heart;
 who has not lifted up his soul to falsehood,
 and has not sworn deceitfully.
<sup>5</sup> He shall receive a blessing from Yahweh, righteousness from the God of his salvation.
<sup>6</sup> This is the generation of those who seek Him,
 who seek your face—even Jacob.
Selah.
<sup>7</sup> Lift up your heads, you gates!
 Be lifted up, you everlasting doors,
 and the King of glory will come in.
<sup>8</sup> Who is the King of glory?
 Yahweh strong and mighty,
 Yahweh mighty in battle.
<sup>9</sup> Lift up your heads, you gates;
 yes, lift them up, you everlasting doors,
 and the King of glory will come in.
<sup>10</sup> Who is this King of glory?
 Yahweh of Armies is the King of glory!

By David.

<sup>2</sup> My God, I have trusted in you.
 Don't let me be shamed.
 Don't let my enemies triumph over me.
<sup>3</sup> Yes, no one who waits for you shall be shamed.

They shall be shamed who deal treacherously without cause.
<sup>4</sup> Show me your ways, Yahweh.
 Teach me your paths.
<sup>5</sup> Guide me in your truth, and teach me,
 For you are the God of my salvation,
 I wait for you all day long.
<sup>6</sup> Yahweh, remember your tender mercies and your loving kindness, for they are from old times.
<sup>7</sup> Don't remember the sins of my youth,
 nor my transgressions.
 Remember me according to your loving kindness,
 for your goodness' sake, Yahweh.
<sup>8</sup> Good and upright is Yahweh,
 therefore he will instruct sinners in the way.
<sup>9</sup> He will guide the humble in justice.
 He will teach the humble his way.
<sup>10</sup> All the paths of Yahweh are loving kindness and truth to such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.
<sup>11</sup> For your name's sake, Yahweh, pardon my iniquity, for it is great.
<sup>12</sup> What man is he who fears Yahweh?
 He shall instruct him in the way that he shall choose.
<sup>13</sup> His soul shall dwell at ease.
 His offspring<sup>n</sup> shall inherit the land.
<sup>14</sup> The friendship of Yahweh is with those who fear him.
 He will show them his covenant.
<sup>15</sup> My eyes are ever on Yahweh,
 for he will pluck my feet out of the net.

<sup>n</sup> or, seed

- <sup>16</sup> Turn to me, and have mercy on me,
 for I am desolate and afflicted.
<sup>17</sup> The troubles of my heart are enlarged.
 Oh bring me out of my distresses.
<sup>18</sup> Consider my affliction and my travail.
 Forgive all my sins.
<sup>19</sup> Consider my enemies, for they are many.
 They hate me with cruel hatred.
<sup>20</sup> Oh keep my soul, and deliver me.
 Let me not be disappointed, for I take refuge in you.
<sup>21</sup> Let integrity and uprightness preserve
 me,
 for I wait for you.
<sup>22</sup> Redeem Israel, God,
 out of all of his troubles.

26

By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Judge me, Yahweh, for I have walked
 in my integrity.
 I have trusted also in Yahweh
 without wavering.
<sup>2</sup> Examine me, Yahweh, and prove me.
 Try my heart and my mind.
<sup>3</sup> For your loving kindness is before my
 eyes.
 I have walked in your truth.
<sup>4</sup> I have not sat with deceitful men,
 neither will I go in with hypocrites.
<sup>5</sup> I hate the assembly of evildoers,
 and will not sit with the wicked.
<sup>6</sup> I will wash my hands in innocence,
 so I will go about your altar,
 Yahweh;
<sup>7</sup> that I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard,
 and tell of all your wondrous deeds.

- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh, I love the habitation of your house,
 the place where your glory dwells.
<sup>9</sup> Don't gather my soul with sinners,
 nor my life with bloodthirsty men;
<sup>10</sup> in whose hands is wickedness,
 their right hand is full of bribes.
<sup>11</sup> But as for me, I will walk in my
 integrity.
 Redeem me, and be merciful to me.
<sup>12</sup> My foot stands in an even place.
 In the congregations I will bless Yahweh.

27

By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh is my light and my salvation.
 Whom shall I fear?
 Yahweh is the strength of my life.
 Of whom shall I be afraid?
<sup>2</sup> When evildoers came at me to eat up
 my flesh,
 even my adversaries and my foes,
 they stumbled and fell.
<sup>3</sup> Though an army should encamp
 against me,
 my heart shall not fear.
 Though war should rise against me,
 even then I will be confident.
<sup>4</sup> One thing I have asked of Yahweh,
 that I will seek after,
 that I may dwell in Yahweh's house
 all the days of my life,
 to see Yahweh's beauty,
 and to inquire in his temple.
<sup>5</sup> For in the day of trouble he will keep me secretly in his pavilion.
 In the covert of his tabernacle he will hide me.

He will lift me up on a rock.
<sup>6</sup> Now my head will be lifted up above
 my enemies around me.
 I will offer sacrifices of joy in his tent.
 I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to
 Yahweh.
<sup>7</sup> Hear, Yahweh, when I cry with my
 voice.
 Have mercy also on me, and answer
 me.
<sup>8</sup> When you said, "Seek my face,"
 my heart said to you, "I will seek your face, Yahweh."
<sup>9</sup> Don't hide your face from me.
 Don't put your servant away in
 anger.
 You have been my help.
 Don't abandon me,
 neither forsake me, God of my
 salvation.
<sup>10</sup> When my father and my mother
 forsake me,
 then Yahweh will take me up.
<sup>11</sup> Teach me your way, Yahweh.
 Lead me in a straight path, because of my enemies.
<sup>12</sup> Don't deliver me over to the desire of
 my adversaries,
 for false witnesses have risen up
 against me,
 such as breathe out cruelty.
<sup>13</sup> I am still confident of this:
 I will see the goodness of Yahweh
 in the land of the living.
<sup>14</sup> Wait for Yahweh.
 Be strong, and let your heart take courage.
 Yes, wait for Yahweh.

28

By David.

<sup>1</sup> To you, Yahweh, I call.
 My rock, don't be deaf to me;
 lest, if you are silent to me,
 I would become like those who go down into the pit.
<sup>2</sup> Hear the voice of my petitions, when I cry to you,
 when I lift up my hands toward your Most Holy Place.
<sup>3</sup> Don't draw me away with the wicked,
 with the workers of iniquity who speak peace with their neighbors,
 but mischief is in their hearts.
<sup>4</sup> Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness
 of their doings.
 Give them according to the operation of their hands.
 Bring back on them what they deserve.
<sup>5</sup> Because they don't respect the works
 of Yahweh,
 nor the operation of his hands,
 he will break them down and not build them up.
<sup>6</sup> Blessed be Yahweh,
 because he has heard the voice of my petitions.
<sup>7</sup> Yahweh is my strength and my shield.
 My heart has trusted in him, and I am helped.
 Therefore my heart greatly rejoices.
 With my song I will thank him.
<sup>8</sup> Yahweh is their strength.
 He is a stronghold of salvation to his anointed.

<sup>9</sup> Save your people,
and bless your inheritance.
Be their shepherd also,
and bear them up forever.

29

<sup>1</sup> Ascribe to Yahweh, you sons of the mighty,
ascribe to Yahweh glory and
strength.
<sup>2</sup> Ascribe to Yahweh the glory due to his
name.
Worship Yahweh in holy array.
<sup>3</sup> Yahweh's voice is on the waters.
The God of glory thunders, even Yahweh on many waters.
<sup>4</sup> Yahweh's voice is powerful.
Yahweh's voice is full of majesty.
<sup>5</sup> Yahweh's voice breaks the cedars.
Yes, Yahweh breaks in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
<sup>6</sup> He makes them also to skip like a calf;
Lebanon and Sirion like a young,
wild ox.
<sup>7</sup> Yahweh's voice strikes with flashes of lightning.
<sup>8</sup> Yahweh's voice shakes the
wilderness.
Yahweh shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.
<sup>9</sup> Yahweh's voice makes the deer calve,
and strips the forests bare.
In his temple everything says,
"Glory!"
<sup>10</sup> Yahweh sat enthroned at the Flood.
Yes, Yahweh sits as King forever.

<sup>11</sup> Yahweh will give strength to his
people.
Yahweh will bless his people with
peace.

A Psalm. A Song for the Dedication of the Temple. By David.

<sup>1</sup> I will extol you, Yahweh, for you have raised me up,
and have not made my foes to rejoice over me.
<sup>2</sup> Yahweh my God, I cried to you,
and you have healed me.
<sup>3</sup> Yahweh, you have brought up my soul from Sheol.<sup>o</sup>
You have kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.
<sup>4</sup> Sing praise to Yahweh, you saints of his.
Give thanks to his holy name.
<sup>5</sup> For his anger is but for a moment.
His favor is for a lifetime.
Weeping may stay for the night,
but joy comes in the morning.
<sup>6</sup> As for me, I said in my prosperity,
"I shall never be moved."
<sup>7</sup> You, Yahweh, when you favored me, made my mountain stand
strong;
but when you hid your face, I was
troubled.
<sup>8</sup> I cried to you, Yahweh.
To Yahweh I made supplication:
<sup>9</sup> "What profit is there in my destruction,
if I go down to the pit?
Shall the dust praise you?"

<sup>o</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

Shall it declare your truth?
<sup>10</sup> Hear, Yahweh, and have mercy on
 me.
 Yahweh, be my helper.”
<sup>11</sup> You have turned my mourning into dancing for me.
 You have removed my sackcloth,
 and clothed me with
 gladness,
<sup>12</sup> To the end that my heart may sing praise to you, and not be silent.
 Yahweh my God, I will give thanks to you forever!

31

<sup>1</sup> In you, Yahweh, I take refuge.
 Let me never be disappointed.
 Deliver me in your righteousness.
<sup>2</sup> Bow down your ear to me.
 Deliver me speedily.
 Be to me a strong rock,
 a house of defense to save me.
<sup>3</sup> For you are my rock and my fortress,
 therefore for your name's sake lead
 me and guide me.
<sup>4</sup> Pluck me out of the net that they have laid secretly for me,
 for you are my stronghold.
<sup>5</sup> Into your hand I commend my spirit.
 You redeem me, Yahweh, God of truth.
<sup>6</sup> I hate those who regard lying vanities,
 but I trust in Yahweh.
<sup>7</sup> I will be glad and rejoice in your
 loving kindness,
 for you have seen my affliction.

You have known my soul in adversities.
<sup>8</sup> You have not shut me up into the hand of the enemy.
 You have set my feet in a large
 place.
<sup>9</sup> Have mercy on me, Yahweh, for I am
 in distress.
 My eye, my soul, and my body
 waste away with grief.
<sup>10</sup> For my life is spent with sorrow,
 my years with sighing.
 My strength fails because of my
 iniquity.
 My bones are wasted away.
<sup>11</sup> Because of all my adversaries I have become utterly contemptible
 to my neighbors,
 A fear to my acquaintances.
 Those who saw me on the street
 fled from me.
<sup>12</sup> I am forgotten from their hearts like a dead man.
 I am like broken pottery.
<sup>13</sup> For I have heard the slander of many,
 terror on every side,
 while they conspire together against
 me,
 they plot to take away my life.
<sup>14</sup> But I trust in you, Yahweh.
 I said, “You are my God.”
<sup>15</sup> My times are in your hand.
 Deliver me from the hand of my enemies, and from those who persecute me.
<sup>16</sup> Make your face to shine on your
 servant.
 Save me in your loving kindness.
<sup>17</sup> Let me not be disappointed, Yahweh,
 for I have called on you.
 Let the wicked be disappointed.

Let them be silent in Sheol.<sup>P</sup>

<sup>18</sup> Let the lying lips be mute,
which speak against the righteous insolently, with pride and contempt.

<sup>19</sup> Oh how great is your goodness,
which you have laid up for those who fear you,
which you have worked for those who take refuge in you,
before the sons of men!

<sup>20</sup> In the shelter of your presence you will hide them from the plotting of man.
You will keep them secretly in a dwelling away from the strife of tongues.

<sup>21</sup> Praise be to Yahweh,
for he has shown me his marvelous loving kindness in a strong
city.

<sup>22</sup> As for me, I said in my haste, "I am cut off from before your
eyes."
Nevertheless you heard the voice of my petitions when I cried to
you.

<sup>23</sup> Oh love Yahweh, all you his saints!
Yahweh preserves the faithful,
and fully recompenses him who behaves
arrogantly.

<sup>24</sup> Be strong, and let your heart take
courage,
all you who hope in Yahweh.

32

By David. A contemplative psalm.

<sup>1</sup> Blessed is he whose disobedience is
forgiven,

<sup>2</sup> Blessed is the man to whom Yahweh
doesn't impute iniquity,
in whose spirit there is no deceit.

<sup>3</sup> When I kept silence, my bones wasted away through my groaning
all day long.

<sup>4</sup> For day and night your hand was heavy on me.
My strength was sapped in the heat
of summer.
Selah.

<sup>5</sup> I acknowledged my sin to you.
I didn't hide my iniquity.
I said, I will confess my transgressions
to Yahweh,
and you forgave the iniquity of my
sin.
Selah.

<sup>6</sup> For this, let everyone who is godly pray to you in a time when you may be found.
Surely when the great waters overflow, they shall not reach to him.

<sup>7</sup> You are my hiding place.
You will preserve me from trouble.
You will surround me with songs of deliverance.
Selah.

<sup>8</sup> I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you shall go.
I will counsel you with my eye on
you.

<sup>9</sup> Don't be like the horse, or like the mule, which have no
understanding,
who are controlled by bit and bridle, or else they will not come near to you.

- <sup>10</sup> Many sorrows come to the wicked,
but loving kindness shall surround
him who trusts in Yahweh.
- <sup>11</sup> Be glad in Yahweh, and rejoice, you
righteous!
Shout for joy, all you who are upright in heart!

33

- <sup>1</sup> Rejoice in Yahweh, you righteous!
Praise is fitting for the upright.
- <sup>2</sup> Give thanks to Yahweh with the lyre.
Sing praises to him with the harp of ten strings.
- <sup>3</sup> Sing to him a new song.
Play skillfully with a shout of joy!
- <sup>4</sup> For Yahweh's word is right.
All his work is done in faithfulness.
- <sup>5</sup> He loves righteousness and justice.
The earth is full of the loving kindness of Yahweh.
- <sup>6</sup> By Yahweh's word, the heavens were
made;
all their army by the breath of his
mouth.
- <sup>7</sup> He gathers the waters of the sea
together as a heap.
He lays up the deeps in storehouses.
- <sup>8</sup> Let all the earth fear Yahweh.
Let all the inhabitants of the world
stand in awe of him.
- <sup>9</sup> For he spoke, and it was done.
He commanded, and it stood firm.
- <sup>10</sup> Yahweh brings the counsel of the nations to nothing.
He makes the thoughts of the peoples to be of no effect.
- <sup>11</sup> The counsel of Yahweh stands fast
forever,
the thoughts of his heart to all
generations.
- <sup>12</sup> Blessed is the nation whose God is Yahweh,
the people whom he has chosen for his own inheritance.
- <sup>13</sup> Yahweh looks from heaven.
He sees all the sons of men.
- <sup>14</sup> From the place of his habitation he looks out on all the inhabitants of the earth, <sup>15</sup> he who fashions all of their hearts;
and he considers all of their works.
- <sup>16</sup> There is no king saved by the multitude of an army.
A mighty man is not delivered by great strength.
- <sup>17</sup> A horse is a vain thing for safety, neither does he deliver any by his great power.
- <sup>18</sup> Behold, Yahweh's eye is on those
who fear him,
on those who hope in his loving
kindness;
<sup>19</sup> to deliver their soul from death,
to keep them alive in famine.
- <sup>20</sup> Our soul has waited for Yahweh.
He is our help and our shield.
- <sup>21</sup> For our heart rejoices in him,
because we have trusted in his holy
name.
- <sup>22</sup> Let your loving kindness be on us,
Yahweh,
since we have hoped in you.

34

*By David; when he pretended to be insane
before Abimelech, who drove him away,
and he departed.*

<sup>1</sup> <sup>q</sup> I will bless Yahweh at all times.
His praise will always be in my
mouth.

<sup>2</sup> My soul shall boast in Yahweh.
The humble shall hear of it, and be glad.

Let us exalt his name together.

<sup>4</sup> I sought Yahweh, and he answered me,
and delivered me from all my fears.

<sup>5</sup> They looked to him, and were radiant.
Their faces shall never be covered
with shame.

<sup>6</sup> This poor man cried, and Yahweh
heard him,
and saved him out of all his
troubles.

<sup>7</sup> Yahweh's angel encamps around those
who fear him,
and delivers them.

<sup>8</sup> Oh taste and see that Yahweh is good.
Blessed is the man who takes
refuge in him.

<sup>9</sup> Oh fear Yahweh, you his saints, for there is no lack with those who fear him.

<sup>10</sup> The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger,
but those who seek Yahweh shall not lack any good thing.

<sup>11</sup> Come, you children, listen to me.
I will teach you the fear of Yahweh.

<sup>12</sup> Who is someone who desires life,
and loves many days, that he may see good?

<sup>13</sup> Keep your tongue from evil,
and your lips from speaking lies.

seek peace, and pursue it.

<sup>15</sup> Yahweh's eyes are toward the
righteous.
His ears listen to their cry.

<sup>16</sup> Yahweh's face is against those who do evil,
to cut off their memory from the
earth.

<sup>17</sup> The righteous cry, and Yahweh hears,
and delivers them out of all their
troubles.

<sup>18</sup> Yahweh is near to those who have a broken heart,
and saves those who have a crushed
spirit.

<sup>19</sup> Many are the afflictions of the
righteous,
but Yahweh delivers him out of them all.

<sup>20</sup> He protects all of his bones.
Not one of them is broken.

Those who hate the righteous shall be condemned.

<sup>22</sup> Yahweh redeems the soul of his servants.
None of those who take refuge in him shall be condemned.

<sup>q</sup> Psalm 34 is an acrostic poem, with each verse starting with a letter of the alphabet (ordered from Alef to Tav).

By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Contend, Yahweh, with those who contend with me.
Fight against those who fight against me.
- <sup>2</sup> Take hold of shield and buckler,
and stand up for my help.
- <sup>3</sup> Brandish the spear and block those who pursue me.
Tell my soul, "I am your salvation."
- <sup>4</sup> Let those who seek after my soul be disappointed and brought to dishonor.
Let those who plot my ruin be turned back and confounded.
- <sup>5</sup> Let them be as chaff before the wind, Yahweh's angel driving them on.
- <sup>6</sup> Let their way be dark and slippery,
Yahweh's angel pursuing them.
- <sup>7</sup> For without cause they have hidden their net in a pit for me.
Without cause they have dug a pit for my soul.
- <sup>8</sup> Let destruction come on him unawares.
Let his net that he has hidden catch himself.
Let him fall into that destruction.
- <sup>9</sup> My soul shall be joyful in Yahweh.
It shall rejoice in his salvation.
- <sup>10</sup> All my bones shall say, "Yahweh, who is like you,
who delivers the poor from him who is too strong for him;
yes, the poor and the needy from him who robs him?"
- <sup>11</sup> Unrighteous witnesses rise up.
They ask me about things that I don't know about.
- <sup>12</sup> They reward me evil for good,
to the bereaving of my soul.
- <sup>13</sup> But as for me, when they were sick,
my clothing was sackcloth.
I afflicted my soul with fasting.
My prayer returned into my own bosom.
- <sup>14</sup> I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother.
I bowed down mourning, as one who mourns his mother.
- <sup>15</sup> But in my adversity, they rejoiced,
and gathered themselves together.
The attackers gathered themselves together against me, and I didn't know it.
They tore at me, and didn't cease.
- <sup>16</sup> Like the profane mockers in feasts,
they gnashed their teeth at me.
- <sup>17</sup> Lord, how long will you look on?
Rescue my soul from their destruction,
my precious life from the lions.
- <sup>18</sup> I will give you thanks in the great assembly.
I will praise you among many people.
- <sup>19</sup> Don't let those who are my enemies wrongfully rejoice over me;
neither let those who hate me without a cause wink their eyes.
- <sup>20</sup> For they don't speak peace,
but they devise deceitful words against those who are quiet in the land.

- 21 Yes, they opened their mouth wide
against me.
They said, "Aha! Aha! Our eye has seen it!"
- 22 You have seen it, Yahweh. Don't keep silent.
Lord, don't be far from me.
- 23 Wake up! Rise up to defend me, my
God!
My Lord, contend for me!
- 24 Vindicate me, Yahweh my God,
according to your
righteousness.
Don't let them gloat over me.
- 25 Don't let them say in their heart,
"Aha! That's the way we want it!"
Don't let them say, "We have swallowed him up!"
- 26 Let them be disappointed and confounded together who rejoice at my calamity.
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me.
- 27 Let them shout for joy and be glad,
who favor my righteous
cause.
Yes, let them say continually,
"Yahweh be magnified,
who has pleasure in the prosperity
of his servant!"
- 28 My tongue shall talk about your righteousness and about your praise all day long.

36

For the Chief Musician. By David, the servant of Yahweh.

- 1 An inner sanctuary is within my heart
about the disobedience of the
wicked:
"There is no fear of God before his
eyes."
- 2 For he flatters himself in his own eyes,
too much to detect and hate his sin.
- 3 The words of his mouth are iniquity
and deceit.
He has ceased to be wise and to do
good.
- 4 He plots iniquity on his bed.
He sets himself in a way that is not
good.
He doesn't abhor evil.
- 5 Your loving kindness, Yahweh, is in
the heavens.
Your faithfulness reaches to the
skies.
- 6 Your righteousness is like the mountains of God.
Your judgments are like a great
deep.
Yahweh, you preserve man and animal.
- 7 How precious is your loving kindness,
God!
The children of men take refuge
under the shadow of your wings.
- 8 They shall be abundantly satisfied with the abundance of your house.
You will make them drink of the river of your pleasures.
- 9 For with you is the spring of life.

In your light shall we see light.
<sup>10</sup> Oh continue your loving kindness to those who know you,
 your righteousness to the upright in
 heart.
<sup>11</sup> Don't let the foot of pride come
 against me.
 Don't let the hand of the wicked
 drive me away.
<sup>12</sup> There the workers of iniquity are fallen.
 They are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

37

By David.

<sup>1</sup> Don't fret because of evildoers, neither be envious against those who work unrighteousness.
<sup>2</sup> For they shall soon be cut down like
 the grass,
 and wither like the green herb.
<sup>3</sup> Trust in Yahweh, and do good.
 Dwell in the land, and enjoy safe
 pasture.
<sup>4</sup> Also delight yourself in Yahweh,
 and he will give you the desires of
 your heart.
<sup>5</sup> Commit your way to Yahweh.
 Trust also in him, and he will do
 this:
<sup>6</sup> he will make your righteousness go out
 as the light,
 and your justice as the noon day
 sun.
<sup>7</sup> Rest in Yahweh, and wait patiently for
 him.
 Don't fret because of him who prospers in his way,

because of the man who makes wicked plots happen.
<sup>8</sup> Cease from anger, and forsake wrath.
 Don't fret, it leads only to evildoing.
<sup>9</sup> For evildoers shall be cut off,
 but those who wait for Yahweh
 shall inherit the land.
<sup>10</sup> For yet a little while, and the wicked
 will be no more.
 Yes, though you look for his place,
 he isn't there.
<sup>11</sup> But the humble shall inherit the land, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
<sup>12</sup> The wicked plots against the just,
 and gnashes at him with his teeth.
<sup>13</sup> The Lord will laugh at him,
 for he sees that his day is coming.
<sup>14</sup> The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow,
 to cast down the poor and needy,
 to kill those who are upright on the path.
<sup>15</sup> Their sword shall enter into their own
 heart.
 Their bows shall be broken.
<sup>16</sup> Better is a little that the righteous has,
 than the abundance of many
 wicked.
<sup>17</sup> For the arms of the wicked shall be broken,
 but Yahweh upholds the righteous.
<sup>18</sup> Yahweh knows the days of the perfect.
 Their inheritance shall be forever.
<sup>19</sup> They shall not be disappointed in the time of evil.

- In the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
- 20 But the wicked shall perish.
The enemies of Yahweh shall be like the beauty of the fields.
They will vanish—
vanish like smoke.
- 21 The wicked borrow, and don't pay back,
but the righteous give generously.
- 22 For such as are blessed by him shall inherit the land.
Those who are cursed by him shall be cut off.
- 23 A man's goings are established by Yahweh.
He delights in his way.
- 24 Though he stumble, he shall not fall,
for Yahweh holds him up with his hand.
- 25 I have been young, and now am old,
yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken,
nor his children begging for bread.
- 26 All day long he deals graciously, and lends.
His offspring<sup>r</sup> is blessed.
- 27 Depart from evil, and do good.
Live securely forever.
- 28 For Yahweh loves justice,
and doesn't forsake his saints.
They are preserved forever,
but the children of the wicked shall be cut off.
- 29 The righteous shall inherit the land,
and live in it forever.
- 30 The mouth of the righteous talks of wisdom.
His tongue speaks justice.
- 31 The law of his God is in his heart.
None of his steps shall slide.
- 32 The wicked watches the righteous,
and seeks to kill him.
- 33 Yahweh will not leave him in his hand,
nor condemn him when he is judged.
- 34 Wait for Yahweh, and keep his way,
and he will exalt you to inherit the land.
When the wicked are cut off, you shall see it.
- 35 I have seen the wicked in great power,
spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.
- 36 But he passed away, and behold, he was not.
Yes, I sought him, but he could not be found.
- 37 Mark the perfect man, and see the upright,
for there is a future for the man of peace.
- 38 As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together.
The future of the wicked shall be cut off.
- 39 But the salvation of the righteous is from Yahweh.
He is their stronghold in the time of trouble.
- 40 Yahweh helps them, and rescues them.
He rescues them from the wicked,
and saves them,
Because they have taken refuge in him.

A Psalm by David, for a memorial.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, don't rebuke me in your wrath,
neither chasten me in your hot displeasure.
- <sup>2</sup> For your arrows have pierced me,
your hand presses hard on me.
- <sup>3</sup> There is no soundness in my flesh
because of your indignation,
neither is there any health in my bones
because of my sin.
- <sup>4</sup> For my iniquities have gone over my head.
As a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me.
- <sup>5</sup> My wounds are loathsome and corrupt,
because of my foolishness.
- <sup>6</sup> I am pained and bowed down greatly.
I go mourning all day long.
- <sup>7</sup> For my waist is filled with burning.
There is no soundness in my flesh.
- <sup>8</sup> I am faint and severely bruised.
I have groaned by reason of the anguish of my heart.
- <sup>9</sup> Lord, all my desire is before you.
My groaning is not hidden from you.
- <sup>10</sup> My heart throbs.
My strength fails me.
As for the light of my eyes, it has also left me.
- <sup>11</sup> My lovers and my friends stand aloof
from my plague.
My kinsmen stand far away.
- <sup>12</sup> They also who seek after my life lay snares.

- Those who seek my hurt speak mischievous things,
and meditate deceits all day long.
- <sup>13</sup> But I, as a deaf man, don't hear.
I am as a mute man who doesn't open his mouth.
- <sup>14</sup> Yes, I am as a man who doesn't hear,
in whose mouth are no reproofs.
- <sup>15</sup> For in you, Yahweh, do I hope.
You will answer, Lord my God.
- <sup>16</sup> For I said, "Don't let them gloat over me, or exalt themselves over me when my foot slips."
- <sup>17</sup> For I am ready to fall.
My pain is continually before me.
- <sup>18</sup> For I will declare my iniquity.
I will be sorry for my sin.
- <sup>19</sup> But my enemies are vigorous and many.
Those who hate me without reason are numerous.
- <sup>20</sup> They who also render evil for good are adversaries to me, because I follow what is good.
- <sup>21</sup> Don't forsake me, Yahweh.
My God, don't be far from me.
- <sup>22</sup> Hurry to help me,
Lord, my salvation.

39

For the Chief Musician. For Jeduthun. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> I said, "I will watch my ways, so that I don't sin with my tongue.
I will keep my mouth with a bridle while the wicked is before me."
- <sup>2</sup> I was mute with silence.

I held my peace, even from good.
 My sorrow was stirred.
<sup>3</sup> My heart was hot within me.
 While I meditated, the fire burned:
 I spoke with my tongue:
<sup>4</sup> “Yahweh, show me my end,
 what is the measure of my days.
 Let me know how frail I am.
<sup>5</sup> Behold, you have made my days hand widths.
 My lifetime is as nothing before
 you.
 Surely every man stands as a breath.”
Selah.
<sup>6</sup> “Surely every man walks like a shadow.
 Surely they busy themselves in
 vain.
 He heaps up, and doesn’t know
 who shall gather.
<sup>7</sup> Now, Lord, what do I wait for?
 My hope is in you.
<sup>8</sup> Deliver me from all my transgressions.
 Don’t make me the reproach of the foolish.
<sup>9</sup> I was mute.
 I didn’t open my mouth,
 because you did it.
<sup>10</sup> Remove your scourge away from me.
 I am overcome by the blow of your
 hand.
<sup>11</sup> When you rebuke and correct man for
 iniquity,
 You consume his wealth like a
 moth.
 Surely every man is but a breath.”
Selah.
<sup>12</sup> “Hear my prayer, Yahweh, and give ear to my cry.
 Don’t be silent at my tears.

For I am a stranger with you,
 a foreigner, as all my fathers were.
<sup>13</sup> Oh spare me, that I may recover
 strength,
 before I go away, and exist no
 more.”

40

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

<sup>1</sup> I waited patiently for Yahweh.
 He turned to me, and heard my cry.
<sup>2</sup> He brought me up also out of a horrible pit,
 out of the miry clay.
 He set my feet on a rock,
 and gave me a firm place to stand.
<sup>3</sup> He has put a new song in my mouth,
 even praise to our God.
 Many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in Yahweh.
<sup>4</sup> Blessed is the man who makes Yahweh his trust,
 and doesn’t respect the proud, nor
 such as turn aside to lies.
<sup>5</sup> Many, Yahweh, my God, are the wonderful works which you have done,
 and your thoughts which are toward
 us.
 They can’t be declared back to you.
 If I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.
<sup>6</sup> Sacrifice and offering you didn’t desire.
 You have opened my ears.
 You have not required burnt offering and sin offering.
<sup>7</sup> Then I said, “Behold, I have come.

It is written about me in the book in the scroll.

<sup>8</sup> I delight to do your will, my God.
Yes, your law is within my heart.”

<sup>9</sup> I have proclaimed glad news of righteousness in the great
assembly.
Behold, I will not seal my lips,
Yahweh, you know.

<sup>10</sup> I have not hidden your righteousness
within my heart.
I have declared your faithfulness
and your salvation.
I have not concealed your loving kindness and your truth from the great assembly.

<sup>11</sup> Don't withhold your tender mercies
from me, Yahweh.
Let your loving kindness and your truth continually preserve
me.

<sup>12</sup> For innumerable evils have surrounded me.
My iniquities have overtaken me,
so that I am not able to look
up.
They are more than the hairs of my
head.
My heart has failed me.

<sup>13</sup> Be pleased, Yahweh, to deliver me.
Hurry to help me, Yahweh.

<sup>14</sup> Let them be disappointed and
confounded together who seek after my soul to destroy
it.
Let them be turned backward and brought to dishonor who delight in my hurt.

<sup>15</sup> Let them be desolate by reason of their shame that tell me, “Aha! Aha!”

<sup>16</sup> Let all those who seek you rejoice and
be glad in you.
Let such as love your salvation say continually, “Let Yahweh be exalted!”

<sup>17</sup> But I am poor and needy.
May the Lord think about me.
You are my help and my deliverer.
Don't delay, my God.

41

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

<sup>1</sup> Blessed is he who considers the poor.
Yahweh will deliver him in the day
of evil.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh will preserve him, and keep him alive.
He shall be blessed on the earth,
and he will not surrender him to the will of his enemies.

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh will sustain him on his sickbed,
and restore him from his bed of illness.

<sup>4</sup> I said, “Yahweh, have mercy on me!
Heal me, for I have sinned against
you.”

<sup>5</sup> My enemies speak evil against me:
“When will he die, and his name
perish?”

<sup>6</sup> If he comes to see me, he speaks falsehood.
His heart gathers iniquity to itself.
When he goes abroad, he tells it.

<sup>7</sup> All who hate me whisper together
against me.
They imagine the worst for me.

<sup>8</sup> “An evil disease”, they say, “has afflicted him.”

- Now that he lies he shall rise up no more.”
- <sup>9</sup> Yes, my own familiar friend, in whom I trusted,
who ate bread with me,
has lifted up his heel against me.
- <sup>10</sup> But you, Yahweh, have mercy on me,
and raise me up,
that I may repay them.
- <sup>11</sup> By this I know that you delight in me,

- because my enemy doesn't triumph over me.
- <sup>12</sup> As for me, you uphold me in my integrity,
and set me in your presence forever.
- <sup>13</sup> Blessed be Yahweh, the God of Israel,
from everlasting and to everlasting!
Amen and amen.

BOOK 2

42

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by the sons of Korah.

- <sup>1</sup> As the deer pants for the water brooks,
so my soul pants after you, God.<sup>s</sup>
- <sup>2</sup> My soul thirsts for God, for the living God.
When shall I come and appear before God?
- <sup>3</sup> My tears have been my food day and night,
while they continually ask me,
“Where is your God?”
- <sup>4</sup> These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me,
how I used to go with the crowd,
and led them to God's house,
with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping a holy day.
- <sup>5</sup> Why are you in despair, my soul?
Why are you disturbed within me?
Hope in God!

- For I shall still praise him for the saving help of his presence.
- <sup>6</sup> My God, my soul is in despair within me.
Therefore I remember you from the land of the Jordan,
the heights of Hermon, from the hill Mizar.
- <sup>7</sup> Deep calls to deep at the noise of your waterfalls.
All your waves and your billows have swept over me.
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh<sup>t</sup> will command his loving kindness in the daytime.
In the night his song shall be with me:
a prayer to the God of my life.
- <sup>9</sup> I will ask God, my rock, “Why have you forgotten me?
Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?”
- <sup>10</sup> As with a sword in my bones, my adversaries reproach me,
while they continually ask me,
“Where is your God?”
- <sup>11</sup> Why are you in despair, my soul?

Why are you disturbed within me?
 Hope in God! For I shall still praise him,
 the saving help of my countenance,
 and my God.

43

<sup>1</sup> Vindicate me, God, and plead my cause against an ungodly
 nation.
 Oh, deliver me from deceitful and
 wicked men.

<sup>2</sup> For you are the God of my strength.
 Why have you rejected me?
 Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

<sup>3</sup> Oh, send out your light and your truth.
 Let them lead me.
 Let them bring me to your holy hill,
 To your tents.

<sup>4</sup> Then I will go to the altar of God,
 to God, my exceeding joy.
 I will praise you on the harp, God, my
 God.

<sup>5</sup> Why are you in despair, my soul?
 Why are you disturbed within me?
 Hope in God!
 For I shall still praise him:
 my Savior, my helper, and my God.

44

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. A contemplative psalm.

<sup>1</sup> We have heard with our ears, God;
 our fathers have told us,
 what work you did in their days,
 in the days of old.

<sup>2</sup> You drove out the nations with your
 hand,

but you planted them.
 You afflicted the peoples,
 but you spread them abroad.

<sup>3</sup> For they didn't get the land in possession by their own
 sword,
 neither did their own arm save
 them;
 but your right hand, and your arm, and
 the light of your face,
 because you were favorable to
 them.

<sup>4</sup> You are my King, God.
 Command victories for Jacob!

<sup>5</sup> Through you, will we push down our
 adversaries.
 Through your name, will we tread
 them under who rise up against us.

<sup>6</sup> For I will not trust in my bow,
 neither shall my sword save me.

<sup>7</sup> But you have saved us from our
 adversaries,
 and have shamed those who hate
 us.

<sup>8</sup> In God we have made our boast all day
 long,
 we will give thanks to your name
 forever.

Selah.

<sup>9</sup> But now you rejected us, and brought us to dishonor,
 and don't go out with our armies.

<sup>10</sup> You make us turn back from the adversary.
 Those who hate us take plunder for
 themselves.

<sup>11</sup> You have made us like sheep for food,
 and have scattered us among the
 nations.

- 12 You sell your people for nothing,
and have gained nothing from their sale.
- 13 You make us a reproach to our
neighbors,
a scoffing and a derision to those who are around us.
- 14 You make us a byword among the
nations,
a shaking of the head among the
peoples.
- 15 All day long my dishonor is before
me,
and shame covers my face, 16 At the taunt of one who reproaches and verbally abuses,
because of the enemy and the avenger.
- 17 All this has come on us,
yet have we not forgotten you, Neither have we been false to your
covenant.
- 18 Our heart has not turned back, neither have our steps strayed from
your path, 19 Though you have crushed us in the haunt of jackals,
and covered us with the shadow of
death.
- 20 If we have forgotten the name of our
God,
or spread out our hands to a strange
god;
21 won't God search this out?
For he knows the secrets of the
heart.
- 22 Yes, for your sake we are killed all
day long.

- We are regarded as sheep for the slaughter.
- 23 Wake up!
Why do you sleep, Lord?<sup>u</sup>
Arise!
Don't reject us forever.
- 24 Why do you hide your face,
and forget our affliction and our oppression?
- 25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust.
Our body clings to the earth.
- 26 Rise up to help us.
Redeem us for your loving kindness' sake.

45

For the Chief Musician. Set to "The Lilies." A contemplation by the sons of Korah. A wedding song.

- 1 My heart overflows with a noble
theme.
I recite my verses for the king.
My tongue is like the pen of a skillful writer.
- 2 You are the most excellent of the sons
of men.
Grace has anointed your lips,
therefore God has blessed you
forever.
- 3 Strap your sword on your thigh,
mighty one:
your splendor and your majesty.
- 4 In your majesty ride on victoriously on behalf of truth, humility, and
righteousness.
Let your right hand display
awesome deeds.
- 5 Your arrows are sharp.

- The nations fall under you, with arrows in the heart of the king's enemies.
- <sup>6</sup> Your throne, God, is forever and ever.
A scepter of equity is the scepter of your kingdom.
- <sup>7</sup> You have loved righteousness, and hated wickedness.
Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows.
- <sup>8</sup> All your garments smell like myrrh,
aloes, and cassia.
Out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made you
glad.
- <sup>9</sup> Kings' daughters are among your honorable women.
At your right hand the queen stands
in gold of Ophir.
- <sup>10</sup> Listen, daughter, consider, and turn your ear.
Forget your own people, and also your father's house.
- <sup>11</sup> So the king will desire your
beauty,
honor him, for he is your lord.
- <sup>12</sup> The daughter of Tyre comes with a gift.
The rich among the people entreat
your favor.
- <sup>13</sup> The princess inside is all glorious.
Her clothing is interwoven with
gold.
- <sup>14</sup> She shall be led to the king in embroidered work.
The virgins, her companions who follow her, shall be brought
to you.

- <sup>15</sup> With gladness and rejoicing they shall be led.
They shall enter into the king's palace.
- <sup>16</sup> Your sons will take the place of your
fathers.
You shall make them princes in all
the earth.
- <sup>17</sup> I will make your name to be remembered in all
generations.
Therefore the peoples shall give you thanks forever and ever.

46

For the Chief Musician. By the sons of Korah. According to Alamoth. <sup>v</sup>

- <sup>1</sup> God is our refuge and strength,
a very present help in trouble.
- <sup>2</sup> Therefore we won't be afraid, though
the earth changes,
though the mountains are shaken
into the heart of the seas;
<sup>3</sup> though its waters roar and are
troubled,
though the mountains tremble with
their swelling.
Selah.
- <sup>4</sup> There is a river, the streams of which make the city of God glad,
the holy place of the tents of the Most High.
- <sup>5</sup> God is within her. She shall not be moved.
God will help her at dawn.
- <sup>6</sup> The nations raged. The kingdoms were moved.
He lifted his voice, and the earth
melted.

- <sup>7</sup> Yahweh of Armies is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge.
Selah.
- <sup>8</sup> Come, see Yahweh's works,
what desolations he has made in the
earth.
- <sup>9</sup> He makes wars cease to the end of the
earth.
He breaks the bow, and shatters the
spear.
He burns the chariots in the fire.
- <sup>10</sup> "Be still, and know that I am God.
I will be exalted among the nations.
I will be exalted in the earth."
- <sup>11</sup> Yahweh of Armies is with us.
The God of Jacob is our refuge.
Selah.

47

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- <sup>1</sup> Oh clap your hands, all you nations.
Shout to God with the voice of triumph!
- <sup>2</sup> For Yahweh Most High is awesome.
He is a great King over all the
earth.
- <sup>3</sup> He subdues nations under us,
and peoples under our feet.
- <sup>4</sup> He chooses our inheritance for us,
the glory of Jacob whom he loved.
Selah.
- <sup>5</sup> God has gone up with a shout, Yahweh with the sound of a trumpet.
- <sup>6</sup> Sing praise to God, sing praises.
Sing praises to our King, sing
praises.
- <sup>7</sup> For God is the King of all the earth.

- Sing praises with understanding.
- <sup>8</sup> God reigns over the nations.
God sits on his holy throne.
- <sup>9</sup> The princes of the peoples are gathered
together,
the people of the God of Abraham.
For the shields of the earth belong
to God.
He is greatly exalted!

48

A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- <sup>1</sup> Great is Yahweh, and greatly to be praised,
in the city of our God, in his holy
mountain.
- <sup>2</sup> Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the
whole earth,
is Mount Zion, on the north sides,
the city of the great King.
- <sup>3</sup> God has shown himself in her citadels
as a refuge.
- <sup>4</sup> For, behold, the kings assembled
themselves,
they passed by together.
- <sup>5</sup> They saw it, then they were amazed.
They were dismayed.
They hurried away.
- <sup>6</sup> Trembling took hold of them there,
pain, as of a woman in travail.
- <sup>7</sup> With the east wind, you break the ships of Tarshish.
- <sup>8</sup> As we have heard, so we have seen, in the city of Yahweh of Armies, in the city of our God.
God will establish it forever.
Selah.
- <sup>9</sup> We have thought about your loving kindness, God,

in the middle of your temple.
<sup>10</sup> As is your name, God,
 so is your praise to the ends of the
 earth.
 Your right hand is full of
 righteousness.
<sup>11</sup> Let Mount Zion be glad!
 Let the daughters of Judah rejoice,
 Because of your judgments.
<sup>12</sup> Walk about Zion, and go around her.
 Number its towers.
<sup>13</sup> Mark well her bulwarks.
 Consider her palaces,
 that you may tell it to the next
 generation.
<sup>14</sup> For this God is our God forever and
 ever.
 He will be our guide even to death.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

<sup>1</sup> Hear this, all you peoples.
 Listen, all you inhabitants of the world,
<sup>2</sup> both low and high,
 rich and poor together.
<sup>3</sup> My mouth will speak words of
 wisdom.
 My heart shall utter understanding.
<sup>4</sup> I will incline my ear to a proverb.
 I will open my riddle on the harp.
<sup>5</sup> Why should I fear in the days of evil,
 when iniquity at my heels
 surrounds me?
<sup>6</sup> Those who trust in their wealth, and boast in the multitude of their
 riches—

<sup>7</sup> none of them can by any means redeem his brother,
 nor give God a ransom for him.
<sup>8</sup> For the redemption of their life is costly,
 no payment is ever enough, <sup>9</sup> That he should live on forever,
 that he should not see corruption.
<sup>10</sup> For he sees that wise men die;
 likewise the fool and the senseless
 perish,
 and leave their wealth to others.
<sup>11</sup> Their inward thought is that their houses will endure forever,
 and their dwelling places to all
 generations.
 They name their lands after
 themselves.
<sup>12</sup> But man, despite his riches, doesn't endure.
 He is like the animals that perish.
<sup>13</sup> This is the destiny of those who are
 foolish,
 and of those who approve their sayings.
Selah.
<sup>14</sup> They are appointed as a flock for Sheol.<sup>w</sup>
 Death shall be their shepherd.
 The upright shall have dominion over them in the morning.
 Their beauty shall decay in Sheol,<sup>x</sup>
 far from their mansion.
<sup>15</sup> But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol,<sup>y</sup>
 for he will receive me.
Selah.
<sup>16</sup> Don't be afraid when a man is made
 rich,

<sup>w</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead. <sup>x</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead. <sup>y</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

when the glory of his house is increased.

<sup>17</sup> For when he dies he shall carry nothing away.
His glory shall not descend after
him.

<sup>18</sup> Though while he lived he blessed his
soul—
and men praise you when you do well for yourself—
<sup>19</sup> he shall go to the generation of his fathers.
They shall never see the light.

<sup>20</sup> A man who has riches without
understanding,
is like the animals that perish.

50

A Psalm by Asaph.

<sup>1</sup> The Mighty One, God, Yahweh, speaks,
and calls the earth from sunrise to sunset.

<sup>2</sup> Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
God shines out.

<sup>3</sup> Our God comes, and does not keep silent.
A fire devours before him.
It is very stormy around him.

<sup>4</sup> He calls to the heavens above,
to the earth, that he may judge his
people:

<sup>5</sup> “Gather my saints together to me,
those who have made a covenant
with me by sacrifice.”

<sup>6</sup> The heavens shall declare his
righteousness,
for God himself is judge.

Selah.

<sup>7</sup> “Hear, my people, and I will speak;
Israel, and I will testify against you.
I am God, your God.

<sup>8</sup> I don’t rebuke you for your sacrifices.
Your burnt offerings are continually
before me.

<sup>9</sup> I have no need for a bull from your stall,
nor male goats from your pens.

<sup>10</sup> For every animal of the forest is mine,
and the livestock on a thousand hills.

<sup>11</sup> I know all the birds of the mountains.
The wild animals of the field are
mine.

<sup>12</sup> If I were hungry, I would not tell you,
for the world is mine, and all that is
in it.

<sup>13</sup> Will I eat the flesh of bulls,
or drink the blood of goats?

<sup>14</sup> Offer to God the sacrifice of thanksgiving.
Pay your vows to the Most High.

<sup>15</sup> Call on me in the day of trouble.
I will deliver you, and you will honor me.”

<sup>16</sup> But to the wicked God says,
“What right do you have to declare
my statutes,
that you have taken my covenant on
your lips,
<sup>17</sup> since you hate instruction,
and throw my words behind you?”

<sup>18</sup> When you saw a thief, you consented
with him,
and have participated with adulterers.

<sup>19</sup> “You give your mouth to evil.
Your tongue frames deceit.

- <sup>20</sup> You sit and speak against your brother.
You slander your own mother's
son.
- <sup>21</sup> You have done these things, and I kept silent.
You thought that I was just like
you.
I will rebuke you, and accuse you in front of your eyes.
- <sup>22</sup> "Now consider this, you who forget
God,
lest I tear you into pieces, and there
be no one to deliver.
- <sup>23</sup> Whoever offers the sacrifice of thanksgiving glorifies me,
and prepares his way so that I will show God's salvation to
him."

51

*For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David,
when Nathan the prophet came to him,
after he had gone in to Bathsheba.*

- <sup>1</sup> Have mercy on me, God, according to your loving kindness.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.
- <sup>2</sup> Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity.
Cleanse me from my sin.
- <sup>3</sup> For I know my transgressions.
My sin is constantly before me.
- <sup>4</sup> Against you, and you only, have I
sinned,
and done that which is evil in your
sight;
that you may be proved right when you
speak,

- and justified when you judge.
- <sup>5</sup> Behold, I was born in iniquity.
In sin my mother conceived me.
- <sup>6</sup> Behold, you desire truth in the inward
parts.
You teach me wisdom in the inmost
place.
- <sup>7</sup> Purify me with hyssop, and I will be clean.
Wash me, and I will be whiter than
snow.
- <sup>8</sup> Let me hear joy and gladness,
That the bones which you have broken may rejoice.
- <sup>9</sup> Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all of my iniquities.
- <sup>10</sup> Create in me a clean heart, O God.
Renew a right spirit within me.
- <sup>11</sup> Don't throw me from your presence,
and don't take your holy Spirit from
me.
- <sup>12</sup> Restore to me the joy of your
salvation.
Uphold me with a willing spirit.
- <sup>13</sup> Then I will teach transgressors your
ways.
Sinners shall be converted to you.
- <sup>14</sup> Deliver me from the guilt of bloodshed, O God, the God of my salvation.
My tongue shall sing aloud of your
righteousness.
- <sup>15</sup> Lord, open my lips.
My mouth shall declare your praise.
- <sup>16</sup> For you don't delight in sacrifice, or else I would give it.
You have no pleasure in burnt offering.
- <sup>17</sup> The sacrifices of God are a broken
spirit.

A broken and contrite heart, O God,
 you will not despise.
<sup>18</sup> Do well in your good pleasure to Zion.
 Build the walls of Jerusalem.
<sup>19</sup> Then you will delight in the sacrifices
 of righteousness,
 in burnt offerings and in whole
 burnt offerings.
 Then they will offer bulls on your altar.

52

For the Chief Musician. A contemplation by David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, "David has come to Abimelech's house."

<sup>1</sup> Why do you boast of mischief, mighty
 man?
 God's loving kindness endures
 continually.
<sup>2</sup> Your tongue plots destruction,
 like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
<sup>3</sup> You love evil more than good,
 lying rather than speaking the truth.
Selah.
<sup>4</sup> You love all devouring words,
 you deceitful tongue.
<sup>5</sup> God will likewise destroy you forever.
 He will take you up, and pluck you
 out of your tent,
 and root you out of the land of the living.
Selah.
<sup>6</sup> The righteous also will see it, and fear,
 and laugh at him, saying, <sup>7</sup> "Behold, this is the man who didn't make God his strength,

but trusted in the abundance of his
 riches,
 and strengthened himself in his
 wickedness."
<sup>8</sup> But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in God's house.
 I trust in God's loving kindness
 forever and ever.
<sup>9</sup> I will give you thanks forever, because you have done it.
 I will hope in your name, for it is
 good,
 in the presence of your saints.

53

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Mahalath." A contemplation by David.

<sup>1</sup> The fool has said in his heart, "There is
 no God."
 They are corrupt, and have done
 abominable iniquity.
 There is no one who does good.
<sup>2</sup> God looks down from heaven on the
 children of men,
 to see if there are any who
 understood,
 who seek after God.
<sup>3</sup> Every one of them has gone back.
 They have become filthy together.
 There is no one who does good, no,
 not one.
<sup>4</sup> Have the workers of iniquity no
 knowledge,
 who eat up my people as they eat
 bread,
 and don't call on God?
<sup>5</sup> There they were in great fear, where no fear was,

for God has scattered the bones of him who encamps against
you.
You have put them to shame,
because God has rejected them.
<sup>6</sup> Oh that the salvation of Israel would
come out of Zion!
When God brings back his people
from captivity,
then Jacob shall rejoice,
and Israel shall be glad.

54

*For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A contemplation by David,
when the Ziphites came and said to Saul,
"Isn't David hiding himself among us?"*

<sup>1</sup> Save me, God, by your name.
Vindicate me in your might.
<sup>2</sup> Hear my prayer, God.
Listen to the words of my mouth.
<sup>3</sup> For strangers have risen up against me.
Violent men have sought after my
soul.
They haven't set God before them.
Selah.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, God is my helper.
The Lord is the one who sustains
my soul.
<sup>5</sup> He will repay the evil to my enemies.
Destroy them in your truth.
<sup>6</sup> With a free will offering, I will sacrifice to you.
I will give thanks to your name,
Yahweh, for it is good.
<sup>7</sup> For he has delivered me out of all
trouble.
My eye has seen triumph over my
enemies.

55

*For the Chief Musician. On stringed
instruments. A contemplation by David.*

<sup>1</sup> Listen to my prayer, God.
Don't hide yourself from my supplication.
<sup>2</sup> Attend to me, and answer me.
I am restless in my complaint, and moan,
<sup>3</sup> Because of the voice of the
enemy,
Because of the oppression of the
wicked.
For they bring suffering on me.
In anger they hold a grudge against
me.
<sup>4</sup> My heart is severely pained within me.
The terrors of death have fallen on
me.
<sup>5</sup> Fearfulness and trembling have come
on me.
Horror has overwhelmed me.
<sup>6</sup> I said, "Oh that I had wings like a dove!
Then I would fly away, and be at
rest.
<sup>7</sup> Behold, then I would wander far off.
I would lodge in the wilderness."
Selah.
<sup>8</sup> "I would hurry to a shelter from the stormy wind and storm."
<sup>9</sup> Confuse them, Lord, and confound
their language,
for I have seen violence and strife
in the city.
<sup>10</sup> Day and night they prowl around on its walls.

Malice and abuse are also within her.

<sup>11</sup> Destructive forces are within her.
Threats and lies don't depart from her streets.

<sup>12</sup> For it was not an enemy who insulted me,
then I could have endured it.
Neither was it he who hated me who raised himself up against me,
then I would have hidden myself from him.

<sup>13</sup> But it was you, a man like me,
my companion, and my familiar friend.

<sup>14</sup> We took sweet fellowship together.
We walked in God's house with company.

<sup>15</sup> Let death come suddenly on them.
Let them go down alive into Sheol.<sup>z</sup>
For wickedness is among them, in their dwelling.

<sup>16</sup> As for me, I will call on God.
Yahweh will save me.

<sup>17</sup> Evening, morning, and at noon, I will cry out in distress.
He will hear my voice.

<sup>18</sup> He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me,
although there are many who oppose me.

<sup>19</sup> God, who is enthroned forever,
will hear, and answer them.
Selah.
They never change,
who don't fear God.

<sup>20</sup> He raises his hands against his friends.
He has violated his covenant.

<sup>21</sup> His mouth was smooth as butter,
but his heart was war.
His words were softer than oil,
yet they were drawn swords.

<sup>22</sup> Cast your burden on Yahweh, and he will sustain you.
He will never allow the righteous to be moved.

<sup>23</sup> But you, God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction.
Bloodthirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days,
but I will trust in you.

56

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Silent Dove in Distant Lands." A poem by David, when the Philistines seized him in Gath.

<sup>1</sup> Be merciful to me, God, for man wants to swallow me up.
All day long, he attacks and oppresses me.

<sup>2</sup> My enemies want to swallow me up all day long,
for they are many who fight proudly against me.

<sup>3</sup> When I am afraid,
I will put my trust in you.

<sup>4</sup> In God, I praise his word.
In God, I put my trust.
I will not be afraid.
What can flesh do to me?

<sup>5</sup> All day long they twist my words.
All their thoughts are against me for evil.

<sup>z</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

watching my steps, they are eager to take my life.
<sup>7</sup> Shall they escape by iniquity?
 In anger cast down the peoples,
 God.
<sup>8</sup> You number my wanderings.
 You put my tears into your bottle.
 Aren't they in your book?
<sup>9</sup> Then my enemies shall turn back in the day that I call.
 I know this, that God is for me.
<sup>10</sup> In God, I will praise his word.
 In Yahweh, I will praise his word.
<sup>11</sup> I have put my trust in God.
 I will not be afraid.
 What can man do to me?
<sup>12</sup> Your vows are on me, God.
 I will give thank offerings to you.
<sup>13</sup> For you have delivered my soul from
 death,
 and prevented my feet from falling,
 that I may walk before God in the light of the living.

57

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David, when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

<sup>1</sup> Be merciful to me, God, be merciful to
 me,
 for my soul takes refuge in you.
 Yes, in the shadow of your wings, I will take refuge,
 until disaster has passed.
<sup>2</sup> I cry out to God Most High,
 to God who accomplishes my requests
 for me.

<sup>3</sup> He will send from heaven, and save
 me,
 he rebukes the one who is pursuing
 me.
Selah.
 God will send out his loving kindness
 and his truth.
<sup>4</sup> My soul is among lions.
 I lie among those who are set on
 fire,
 even the sons of men, whose teeth
 are spears and arrows,
 and their tongue a sharp sword.
<sup>5</sup> Be exalted, God, above the heavens!
 Let your glory be above all the
 earth!
<sup>6</sup> They have prepared a net for my steps.
 My soul is bowed down.
 They dig a pit before me.
 They fall into the middle of it
 themselves.
Selah.
<sup>7</sup> My heart is steadfast, God, my heart is steadfast.
 I will sing, yes, I will sing praises.
<sup>8</sup> Wake up, my glory! Wake up, lute and harp!
 I will wake up the dawn.
<sup>9</sup> I will give thanks to you, Lord, among
 the peoples.
 I will sing praises to you among the
 nations.
<sup>10</sup> For your great loving kindness
 reaches to the heavens,
 and your truth to the skies.
<sup>11</sup> Be exalted, God, above the heavens.
 Let your glory be over all the earth.

58

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Do you indeed speak righteousness, silent ones?
Do you judge blamelessly, you sons
of men?
- <sup>2</sup> No, in your heart you plot injustice.
You measure out the violence of your hands in the earth.
- <sup>3</sup> The wicked go astray from the womb.
They are wayward as soon as they are born, speaking lies.
- <sup>4</sup> Their poison is like the poison of a snake;
like a deaf cobra that stops its ear,
<sup>5</sup> which doesn't listen to the voice
of charmers,
no matter how skillful the charmer
may be.
- <sup>6</sup> Break their teeth, God, in their mouth.
Break out the great teeth of the young lions, Yahweh.
- <sup>7</sup> Let them vanish like water that flows
away.
When they draw the bow, let their arrows be made blunt.
- <sup>8</sup> Let them be like a snail which melts
and passes away,
like the stillborn child, who has not seen the sun.
- <sup>9</sup> Before your pots can feel the heat of the thorns,
he will sweep away the green and
the burning alike.
- <sup>10</sup> The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance.

He shall wash his feet in the blood
of the wicked;

- <sup>11</sup> so that men shall say, "Most certainly there is a reward for the
righteous.

Most certainly there is a God who judges the earth."

59

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A poem by David, when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

- <sup>1</sup> Deliver me from my enemies, my God.
Set me on high from those who rise up against me.
- <sup>2</sup> Deliver me from the workers of
iniquity.
Save me from the bloodthirsty men.
- <sup>3</sup> For, behold, they lie in wait for my
soul.
The mighty gather themselves
together against me,
not for my disobedience, nor for my sin, Yahweh.
- <sup>4</sup> I have done no wrong, yet they are ready to attack me.
Rise up, behold, and help me!
- <sup>5</sup> You, Yahweh God of Armies, the God
of Israel,
rouse yourself to punish the nations.
Show no mercy to the wicked
traitors.
Selah.
- <sup>6</sup> They return at evening, howling like dogs,
and prowl around the city.
- <sup>7</sup> Behold, they spew with their mouth.
Swords are in their lips,

“For”, they say, “who hears us?”
<sup>8</sup> But you, Yahweh, laugh at them.
 You scoff at all the nations.
<sup>9</sup> Oh, my Strength, I watch for you,
 for God is my high tower.
<sup>10</sup> My God will go before me with his
 loving kindness.
 God will let me look at my enemies
 in triumph.
<sup>11</sup> Don’t kill them, or my people may forget.
 Scatter them by your power, and bring them down, Lord our shield.
<sup>12</sup> For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips,
 let them be caught in their pride,
 for the curses and lies which they utter.
<sup>13</sup> Consume them in wrath.
 Consume them, and they will be no
 more.
 Let them know that God rules in Jacob,
 to the ends of the earth.
Selah.
<sup>14</sup> At evening let them return.
 Let them howl like a dog, and go around the city.
<sup>15</sup> They shall wander up and down for
 food,
 and wait all night if they aren’t
 satisfied.
<sup>16</sup> But I will sing of your strength.
 Yes, I will sing aloud of your loving kindness in the morning.
 For you have been my high tower,
 a refuge in the day of my distress.
<sup>17</sup> To you, my strength, I will sing
 praises.

For God is my high tower, the God
 of my mercy.

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of “The Lily of the Covenant.” A teaching poem by David, when he fought with Aram Naharaim and with Aram Zobah, and Joab returned, and killed twelve thousand of Edom in the Valley of Salt.

<sup>1</sup> God, you have rejected us.
 You have broken us down.
 You have been angry.
 Restore us, again.
<sup>2</sup> You have made the land tremble.
 You have torn it.
 Mend its fractures,
 for it quakes.
<sup>3</sup> You have shown your people hard
 things.
 You have made us drink the wine
 that makes us stagger.
<sup>4</sup> You have given a banner to those who
 fear you,
 that it may be displayed because of the truth.
Selah.
<sup>5</sup> So that your beloved may be delivered,
 save with your right hand, and
 answer us.
<sup>6</sup> God has spoken from his sanctuary:
 “I will triumph.
 I will divide Shechem,
 and measure out the valley of Succoth.
<sup>7</sup> Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine.
 Ephraim also is the defense of my
 head.
 Judah is my scepter.

- <sup>8</sup> Moab is my wash basin.
I will throw my shoe on Edom.
I shout in triumph over Philistia.”
- <sup>9</sup> Who will bring me into the strong
city?
Who has led me to Edom?
- <sup>10</sup> Haven't you, God, rejected us?
You don't go out with our armies,
God.
- <sup>11</sup> Give us help against the adversary,
for the help of man is vain.
- <sup>12</sup> Through God we shall do valiantly,
for it is he who will tread down our
adversaries.

61

For the Chief Musician. For a stringed instrument. By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my cry, God.
Listen to my prayer.
- <sup>2</sup> From the end of the earth, I will call to you, when my heart is overwhelmed.
Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.
- <sup>3</sup> For you have been a refuge for me,
a strong tower from the enemy.
- <sup>4</sup> I will dwell in your tent forever.
I will take refuge in the shelter of your wings.
Selah.
- <sup>5</sup> For you, God, have heard my vows.
You have given me the heritage of those who fear your name.
- <sup>6</sup> You will prolong the king's life;
his years shall be for generations.
- <sup>7</sup> He shall be enthroned in God's presence forever.

Appoint your loving kindness and truth, that they may preserve
him.

- <sup>8</sup> So I will sing praise to your name
forever,
that I may fulfill my vows daily.

62

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthan. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> My soul rests in God alone.
My salvation is from him.
- <sup>2</sup> He alone is my rock and my salvation,
my fortress—
I will never be greatly shaken.
- <sup>3</sup> How long will you assault a man,
would all of you throw him down,
Like a leaning wall, like a tottering fence?
- <sup>4</sup> They fully intend to throw him down
from his lofty place.
They delight in lies.
They bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly.
Selah.
- <sup>5</sup> My soul, wait in silence for God alone,
for my expectation is from him.
- <sup>6</sup> He alone is my rock and my salvation,
my fortress.
I will not be shaken.
- <sup>7</sup> With God is my salvation and my
honor.
The rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.
- <sup>8</sup> Trust in him at all times, you people.
Pour out your heart before him.
God is a refuge for us.
Selah.

<sup>9</sup> Surely men of low degree are just a breath,
and men of high degree are a lie.
In the balances they will go up.
They are together lighter than a
breath.

<sup>10</sup> Don't trust in oppression.
Don't become vain in robbery.
If riches increase,
don't set your heart on them.

<sup>11</sup> God has spoken once;
twice I have heard this,
that power belongs to God.

<sup>12</sup> Also to you, Lord, belongs loving
kindness,
for you reward every man
according to his work.

63

A Psalm by David, when he was in the desert of Judah.

<sup>1</sup> God, you are my God.
I will earnestly seek you.
My soul thirsts for you.
My flesh longs for you,
in a dry and weary land, where there is no water.

<sup>2</sup> So I have seen you in the sanctuary, watching your power and your
glory.

<sup>3</sup> Because your loving kindness is better than life,
my lips shall praise you.

<sup>4</sup> So I will bless you while I live.
I will lift up my hands in your
name.

<sup>5</sup> My soul shall be satisfied as with the richest food.

My mouth shall praise you with joyful lips,
<sup>6</sup> when I remember you on my bed,
and think about you in the night
watches.

<sup>7</sup> For you have been my help.
I will rejoice in the shadow of your wings.

<sup>8</sup> My soul stays close to you.
Your right hand holds me up.

<sup>9</sup> But those who seek my soul, to destroy
it,
shall go into the lower parts of the
earth.

<sup>10</sup> They shall be given over to the power of the sword.
They shall be jackal food.

<sup>11</sup> But the king shall rejoice in God.
Everyone who swears by him will praise him,
for the mouth of those who speak
lies shall be silenced.

64

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

<sup>1</sup> Hear my voice, God, in my complaint.
Preserve my life from fear of the
enemy.

<sup>2</sup> Hide me from the conspiracy of the
wicked,
from the noisy crowd of the ones
doing evil;

<sup>3</sup> who sharpen their tongue like a sword,
and aim their arrows, deadly words, <sup>4</sup> to shoot innocent men from ambushes.
They shoot at him suddenly and fearlessly.

- <sup>5</sup> They encourage themselves in evil plans.
They talk about laying snares secretly.
They say, “Who will see them?”
- <sup>6</sup> They plot injustice, saying, “We have made a perfect plan!”
Surely man’s mind and heart are cunning.
- <sup>7</sup> But God will shoot at them.
They will be suddenly struck down with an arrow.
- <sup>8</sup> Their own tongues shall ruin them.
All who see them will shake their heads.
- <sup>9</sup> All mankind shall be afraid.
They shall declare the work of God,
and shall wisely ponder what he has done.
- <sup>10</sup> The righteous shall be glad in Yahweh,
and shall take refuge in him.
All the upright in heart shall praise him!

65

*For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.
A song.*

- <sup>1</sup> Praise waits for you, God, in Zion.
To you shall vows be performed.
- <sup>2</sup> You who hear prayer,
to you all men will come.
- <sup>3</sup> Sins overwhelmed me,
but you atoned for our transgressions.
- <sup>4</sup> Blessed is one whom you choose, and cause to come near,
that he may live in your courts.

- We will be filled with the goodness
of your house,
your holy temple.
- <sup>5</sup> By awesome deeds of righteousness,
you answer us,
God of our salvation.
You who are the hope of all the ends of
the earth,
of those who are far away on the
sea;
- <sup>6</sup> Who by his power forms the
mountains,
having armed yourself with
strength;
- <sup>7</sup> who stills the roaring of the seas,
the roaring of their waves,
and the turmoil of the nations.
- <sup>8</sup> They also who dwell in faraway places
are afraid at your wonders.
You call the morning’s dawn and the evening with songs of joy.
- <sup>9</sup> You visit the earth, and water it.
You greatly enrich it.
The river of God is full of water.
You provide them grain, for so you have ordained it.
- <sup>10</sup> You drench its furrows.
You level its ridges.
You soften it with showers.
You bless it with a crop.
- <sup>11</sup> You crown the year with your bounty.
Your carts overflow with abundance.
- <sup>12</sup> The wilderness grasslands overflow.
The hills are clothed with gladness.
- <sup>13</sup> The pastures are covered with flocks.
The valleys also are clothed with grain.
They shout for joy!
They also sing.

66

For the Chief Musician. A song. A Psalm.

- <sup>1</sup> Make a joyful shout to God, all the earth!
<sup>2</sup> Sing to the glory of his name!
 Offer glory and praise!
<sup>3</sup> Tell God, “How awesome are your deeds!
 Through the greatness of your power, your enemies submit themselves to you.
<sup>4</sup> All the earth will worship you,
 and will sing to you;
 they will sing to your name.”
Selah.
<sup>5</sup> Come, and see God’s deeds—
 awesome work on behalf of the children of men.
<sup>6</sup> He turned the sea into dry land.
 They went through the river on foot.
 There, we rejoiced in him.
<sup>7</sup> He rules by his might forever.
 His eyes watch the nations.
 Don’t let the rebellious rise up against him.
Selah.
<sup>8</sup> Praise our God, you peoples!
 Make the sound of his praise heard, <sup>9</sup> who preserves our life among the living,
 and doesn’t allow our feet to be moved.
<sup>10</sup> For you, God, have tested us.
 You have refined us, as silver is refined.
<sup>11</sup> You brought us into prison.
 You laid a burden on our backs.

- <sup>12</sup> You allowed men to ride over our heads.
 We went through fire and through water,
 but you brought us to the place of abundance.
<sup>13</sup> I will come into your temple with burnt offerings.
 I will pay my vows to you, <sup>14</sup> which my lips promised,
 and my mouth spoke, when I was in distress.
<sup>15</sup> I will offer to you burnt offerings of fat animals,
 with the offering of rams,
 I will offer bulls with goats.
Selah.
<sup>16</sup> Come, and hear, all you who fear God.
 I will declare what he has done for my soul.
<sup>17</sup> I cried to him with my mouth.
 He was extolled with my tongue.
<sup>18</sup> If I cherished sin in my heart,
 the Lord wouldn’t have listened.
<sup>19</sup> But most certainly, God has listened.
 He has heard the voice of my prayer.
<sup>20</sup> Blessed be God, who has not turned away my prayer,
 nor his loving kindness from me.

67

For the Chief Musician. With stringed instruments. A Psalm. A song.

- <sup>1</sup> May God be merciful to us, bless us,
 and cause his face to shine on us.
Selah.
<sup>2</sup> That your way may be known on earth,

and your salvation among all
nations,
<sup>3</sup> let the peoples praise you, God.
Let all the peoples praise you.
<sup>4</sup> Oh let the nations be glad and sing for
joy,
for you will judge the peoples with
equity,
and govern the nations on earth.
Selah.
<sup>5</sup> Let the peoples praise you, God.
Let all the peoples praise you.
<sup>6</sup> The earth has yielded its increase.
God, even our own God, will bless
us.
<sup>7</sup> God will bless us.
All the ends of the earth shall fear
him.

68

*For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.
A song.*

Let his enemies be scattered!
Let them who hate him also flee
before him.
<sup>2</sup> As smoke is driven away,
so drive them away.
As wax melts before the fire,
so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.
<sup>3</sup> But let the righteous be glad.
Let them rejoice before God.
Yes, let them rejoice with gladness.
<sup>4</sup> Sing to God! Sing praises to his name!
Extol him who rides on the clouds:
to Yah, his name!
Rejoice before him!

<sup>5</sup> A father of the fatherless, and a defender of the widows,
is God in his holy habitation.
<sup>6</sup> God sets the lonely in families.
He brings out the prisoners with singing,
but the rebellious dwell in a sun-
scorched land.
<sup>7</sup> God, when you went out before your
people,
when you marched through the
wilderness...
Selah.
<sup>8</sup> The earth trembled.
The sky also poured down rain at the presence of the God of Sinai—
at the presence of God, the God of Israel.
<sup>9</sup> You, God, sent a plentiful rain.
You confirmed your inheritance,
when it was weary.
<sup>10</sup> Your congregation lived therein.
You, God, prepared your goodness
for the poor.
<sup>11</sup> The Lord announced the word.
The ones who proclaim it are a great company.
<sup>12</sup> “Kings of armies flee! They flee!”
She who waits at home divides the plunder,
<sup>13</sup> while you sleep among the camp
fires,
the wings of a dove sheathed with
silver,
her feathers with shining gold.
<sup>14</sup> When the Almighty scattered kings in
her,
it snowed on Zalmon.
<sup>15</sup> The mountains of Bashan are majestic
mountains.

- The mountains of Bashan are rugged.
- <sup>16</sup> Why do you look in envy, you rugged
mountains,
at the mountain where God chooses
to reign?
Yes, Yahweh will dwell there
forever.
- <sup>17</sup> The chariots of God are tens of thousands and thousands of thousands.
The Lord is among them, from Sinai, into the sanctuary.
- <sup>18</sup> You have ascended on high.
You have led away captives.
You have received gifts among men,
yes, among the rebellious also, that Yah God might dwell there.
- <sup>19</sup> Blessed be the Lord, who daily bears
our burdens,
even the God who is our salvation.
Selah.
- <sup>20</sup> God is to us a God of deliverance.
To Yahweh, the Lord, belongs escape from death.
- <sup>21</sup> But God will strike through the head
of his enemies,
the hairy scalp of such a one as still continues in his guiltiness.
- <sup>22</sup> The Lord said, "I will bring you again
from Bashan,
I will bring you again from the depths of the sea;
- <sup>23</sup> That you may crush them, dipping
your foot in blood,
that the tongues of your dogs may have their portion from your
enemies."
- <sup>24</sup> They have seen your processions,
God,
even the processions of my God,
my King, into the sanctuary.
- <sup>25</sup> The singers went before, the minstrels followed after,
among the ladies playing with tambourines,
- <sup>26</sup> "Bless God in the congregations, even the Lord in the assembly of Israel!"
- <sup>27</sup> There is little Benjamin, their ruler,
the princes of Judah, their council,
the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.
- <sup>28</sup> Your God has commanded your
strength.
Strengthen, God, that which you have done for us.
- <sup>29</sup> Because of your temple at Jerusalem,
kings shall bring presents to you.
- <sup>30</sup> Rebuke the wild animal of the reeds,
the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples.
Being humbled, may it bring bars of
silver.
Scatter the nations that delight in
war.
- <sup>31</sup> Princes shall come out of Egypt.
Ethiopia shall hurry to stretch out her hands to God.
- <sup>32</sup> Sing to God, you kingdoms of the
earth!
Sing praises to the Lord!
Selah.
- <sup>33</sup> To him who rides on the heaven of heavens, which are of old;
behold, he utters his voice, a mighty
voice.
- <sup>34</sup> Ascribe strength to God!
His excellency is over Israel,
his strength is in the skies.

<sup>35</sup> You are awesome, God, in your sanctuaries.
The God of Israel gives strength and power to his people.
Praise be to God!

69

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Lilies." By David.

<sup>1</sup> Save me, God,
for the waters have come up to my neck!
<sup>2</sup> I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold.
I have come into deep waters,
where the floods overflow me.
<sup>3</sup> I am weary with my crying.
My throat is dry.
My eyes fail, looking for my God.
<sup>4</sup> Those who hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head.
Those who want to cut me off,
being my enemies wrongfully, are mighty.
I have to restore what I didn't take away.
<sup>5</sup> God, you know my foolishness.
My sins aren't hidden from you.
<sup>6</sup> Don't let those who wait for you be shamed through me, Lord Yahweh of Armies.
Don't let those who seek you be brought to dishonor through me, God of Israel.
<sup>7</sup> Because for your sake, I have borne reproach.
Shame has covered my face.

<sup>8</sup> I have become a stranger to my brothers,
an alien to my mother's children.
<sup>9</sup> For the zeal of your house consumes me.
The reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me.
<sup>10</sup> When I wept and I fasted,
that was to my reproach.
<sup>11</sup> When I made sackcloth my clothing,
I became a byword to them.
<sup>12</sup> Those who sit in the gate talk about me.
I am the song of the drunkards.
<sup>13</sup> But as for me, my prayer is to you, Yahweh, in an acceptable time.
God, in the abundance of your loving kindness, answer me in the truth of your salvation.
<sup>14</sup> Deliver me out of the mire, and don't let me sink.
Let me be delivered from those who hate me, and out of the deep waters.
<sup>15</sup> Don't let the flood waters overwhelm me,
neither let the deep swallow me up.
Don't let the pit shut its mouth on me.
<sup>16</sup> Answer me, Yahweh, for your loving kindness is good.
According to the multitude of your tender mercies, turn to me.
<sup>17</sup> Don't hide your face from your servant,
for I am in distress.
Answer me speedily!
<sup>18</sup> Draw near to my soul, and redeem it.

Ransom me because of my
enemies.

<sup>19</sup> You know my reproach, my shame,
and my dishonor.
My adversaries are all before you.

<sup>20</sup> Reproach has broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness.
I looked for some to take pity, but there was none;
for comforters, but I found none.

<sup>21</sup> They also gave me gall for my food.
In my thirst, they gave me vinegar
to drink.

<sup>22</sup> Let their table before them become a
snare.
May it become a retribution and a trap.

<sup>23</sup> Let their eyes be darkened, so that they can't see.
Let their backs be continually bent.

<sup>24</sup> Pour out your indignation on them.
Let the fierceness of your anger overtake them.

<sup>25</sup> Let their habitation be desolate.
Let no one dwell in their tents.

<sup>26</sup> For they persecute him whom you have wounded.
They tell of the sorrow of those whom you have hurt.

<sup>27</sup> Charge them with crime upon crime.
Don't let them come into your
righteousness.

<sup>28</sup> Let them be blotted out of the book of
life,
and not be written with the
righteous.

<sup>29</sup> But I am in pain and distress.
Let your salvation, God, protect me.

<sup>30</sup> I will praise the name of God with a song,

and will magnify him with
thanksgiving.

<sup>31</sup> It will please Yahweh better than an
ox,
or a bull that has horns and hoofs.

<sup>32</sup> The humble have seen it, and are
glad.
You who seek after God, let your heart live.

<sup>33</sup> For Yahweh hears the needy,
and doesn't despise his captive
people.

<sup>34</sup> Let heaven and earth praise him;
the seas, and everything that moves
therein!

<sup>35</sup> For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah.
They shall settle there, and own it.

<sup>36</sup> The children also of his servants shall inherit it.
Those who love his name shall dwell therein.

70

For the Chief Musician. By David. A reminder.

<sup>1</sup> Hurry, God, to deliver me.
Come quickly to help me, Yahweh.

<sup>2</sup> Let them be disappointed and confounded who seek my
soul.
Let those who desire my ruin be turned back in disgrace.

<sup>3</sup> Let them be turned because of their shame
Who say, "Aha! Aha!"

<sup>4</sup> Let all those who seek you rejoice and
be glad in you.

Let those who love your salvation
continually say,
“Let God be exalted!”

<sup>5</sup> But I am poor and needy.
Come to me quickly, God.
You are my help and my deliverer.
Yahweh, don't delay.

71

<sup>1</sup> In you, Yahweh, I take refuge.
Never let me be disappointed.
<sup>2</sup> Deliver me in your righteousness, and rescue me.
Turn your ear to me, and save me.
<sup>3</sup> Be to me a rock of refuge to which I may always go.
Give the command to save me,
for you are my rock and my
fortress.
<sup>4</sup> Rescue me, my God, from the hand of
the wicked,
from the hand of the unrighteous
and cruel man.
<sup>5</sup> For you are my hope, Lord Yahweh;
my confidence from my youth.
<sup>6</sup> I have relied on you from the womb.
You are he who took me out of my
mother's womb.
I will always praise you.
<sup>7</sup> I am a marvel to many,
but you are my strong refuge.
<sup>8</sup> My mouth shall be filled with your
praise,
with your honor all the day.
<sup>9</sup> Don't reject me in my old age.
Don't forsake me when my strength fails.
<sup>10</sup> For my enemies talk about me.
Those who watch for my soul
conspire together,

<sup>11</sup> saying, “God has forsaken him.
Pursue and take him, for no one will rescue him.”
<sup>12</sup> God, don't be far from me.
My God, hurry to help me.
<sup>13</sup> Let my accusers be disappointed and consumed.
Let them be covered with disgrace
and scorn who want to harm
me.
<sup>14</sup> But I will always hope,
and will add to all of your praise.
<sup>15</sup> My mouth will tell about your
righteousness,
and of your salvation all day,
though I don't know its full
measure.
<sup>16</sup> I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord Yahweh.
I will make mention of your righteousness, even of yours
alone.
<sup>17</sup> God, you have taught me from my
youth.
Until now, I have declared your
wondrous works.
<sup>18</sup> Yes, even when I am old and gray-haired, God, don't forsake
me,
until I have declared your strength
to the next generation,
your might to everyone who is to come.
<sup>19</sup> Your righteousness also, God, reaches to the heavens;
you have done great things.
God, who is like you?
<sup>20</sup> You, who have shown us many and bitter troubles,
you will let me live.

You will bring us up again from the depths of the earth.

<sup>21</sup> Increase my honor,
and comfort me again.

<sup>22</sup> I will also praise you with the harp for your faithfulness, my God.
I sing praises to you with the lyre,
Holy One of Israel.

<sup>23</sup> My lips shall shout for joy!
My soul, which you have redeemed, sings praises to
you!

<sup>24</sup> My tongue will also talk about your righteousness all day long,
for they are disappointed, and they are confounded,
who want to harm me.

72

By Solomon.

<sup>1</sup> God, give the king your justice;
your righteousness to the royal son.

<sup>2</sup> He will judge your people with
righteousness,
and your poor with justice.

<sup>3</sup> The mountains shall bring prosperity
to the people.
The hills bring the fruit of
righteousness.

<sup>4</sup> He will judge the poor of the people.
He will save the children of the
needy,
and will break the oppressor in
pieces.

<sup>5</sup> They shall fear you while the sun endures;
and as long as the moon,
throughout all generations.

<sup>6</sup> He will come down like rain on the mown grass,
as showers that water the earth.

<sup>7</sup> In his days, the righteous shall flourish,
and abundance of peace, until the moon is no more.

<sup>8</sup> He shall have dominion also from sea
to sea,
from the River to the ends of the
earth.

<sup>9</sup> Those who dwell in the wilderness
shall bow before him.
His enemies shall lick the dust.

<sup>10</sup> The kings of Tarshish and of the islands will bring tribute.
The kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

<sup>11</sup> Yes, all kings shall fall down before
him.
All nations shall serve him.

<sup>12</sup> For he will deliver the needy when he cries;
the poor, who has no helper.

<sup>13</sup> He will have pity on the poor and
needy.
He will save the souls of the needy.

<sup>14</sup> He will redeem their soul from oppression and violence.
Their blood will be precious in his
sight.

<sup>15</sup> They shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba.
Men shall pray for him continually.
They shall bless him all day long.

<sup>16</sup> Abundance of grain shall be throughout the land.
Its fruit sways like Lebanon.
Let it flourish, thriving like the grass of the field.

<sup>17</sup> His name endures forever.
 His name continues as long as the
 sun.
 Men shall be blessed by him.
 All nations will call him blessed.
<sup>18</sup> Praise be to Yahweh God, the God of Israel,
 who alone does marvelous deeds.

<sup>19</sup> Blessed be his glorious name forever!
 Let the whole earth be filled with
 his glory!
 Amen and amen.
<sup>20</sup> This ends the prayers by David, the son of Jesse.

BOOK 3

73

<sup>1</sup> Surely God<sup>a</sup> is good to Israel,
 to those who are pure in heart.
<sup>2</sup> But as for me, my feet were almost gone.
 My steps had nearly slipped.
<sup>3</sup> For I was envious of the arrogant, when I saw the prosperity of the
 wicked.
<sup>4</sup> For there are no struggles in their
 death,
 but their strength is firm.
<sup>5</sup> They are free from burdens of men, neither are they plagued like other
 men.
<sup>6</sup> Therefore pride is like a chain around their neck.
 Violence covers them like a
 garment.
<sup>7</sup> Their eyes bulge with fat.
 Their minds pass the limits of conceit.
<sup>8</sup> They scoff and speak with malice.
 In arrogance, they threaten oppression.

<sup>9</sup> They have set their mouth in the
 heavens.
 Their tongue walks through the
 earth.
<sup>10</sup> Therefore their people return to them,
 and they drink up waters of
 abundance.
<sup>11</sup> They say, “How does God know?
 Is there knowledge in the Most
 High?”
<sup>12</sup> Behold, these are the wicked.
 Being always at ease, they increase in riches.
<sup>13</sup> Surely in vain I have cleansed my
 heart,
 and washed my hands in innocence,
<sup>14</sup> For all day long have I been plagued,
 and punished every morning.
<sup>15</sup> If I had said, “I will speak thus”;
 behold, I would have betrayed the generation of your children.
<sup>16</sup> When I tried to understand this,
 it was too painful for me;
<sup>17</sup> Until I entered God’s sanctuary,
 and considered their latter end.
<sup>18</sup> Surely you set them in slippery
 places.
 You throw them down to
 destruction.

<sup>19</sup> How they are suddenly destroyed!
 They are completely swept away
 with terrors.
<sup>20</sup> As a dream when one wakes up,
 so, Lord,<sup>b</sup> when you awake, you will despise their fantasies.
<sup>21</sup> For my soul was grieved.
 I was embittered in my heart.
<sup>22</sup> I was so senseless and ignorant.
 I was a brute beast before you.
<sup>23</sup> Nevertheless, I am continually with
 you.
 You have held my right hand.
<sup>24</sup> You will guide me with your counsel,
 and afterward receive me to glory.
<sup>25</sup> Whom do I have in heaven?
 There is no one on earth whom I desire besides you.
<sup>26</sup> My flesh and my heart fails,
 but God is the strength of my heart
 and my portion forever.
<sup>27</sup> For, behold, those who are far from you shall perish.
 You have destroyed all those who are unfaithful to you.
<sup>28</sup> But it is good for me to come close to
 God.
 I have made the Lord Yahweh<sup>c</sup> my
 refuge,
 that I may tell of all your works.

<sup>1</sup> God, why have you rejected us
 forever?

Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your
 pasture?
<sup>2</sup> Remember your congregation, which you purchased of old,
 which you have redeemed to be the tribe of your inheritance;
 Mount Zion, in which you have lived.
<sup>3</sup> Lift up your feet to the perpetual ruins,
 all the evil that the enemy has done
 in the sanctuary.
<sup>4</sup> Your adversaries have roared in the middle of your assembly.
 They have set up their standards as signs.
<sup>5</sup> They behaved like men wielding axes,
 cutting through a thicket of trees.
<sup>6</sup> Now they break all its carved work down with hatchet and hammers.
<sup>7</sup> They have burned your sanctuary
 to the ground.
 They have profaned the dwelling place of your Name.
<sup>8</sup> They said in their heart, "We will crush them completely."
 They have burned up all the places
 in the land where God was worshiped.
<sup>9</sup> We see no miraculous signs.
 There is no longer any prophet,
 neither is there among us anyone who knows how long.
<sup>10</sup> How long, God, shall the adversary
 reproach?
 Shall the enemy blaspheme your name forever?

<sup>b</sup> The word translated "Lord" is "Adonai." <sup>c</sup> "Yahweh" is God's proper Name, sometimes rendered "LORD" (all caps) in other translations.

- 11 Why do you draw back your hand,
even your right hand?
Take it out of your pocket and consume them!
- 12 Yet God is my King of old, working salvation throughout the
earth.
- 13 You divided the sea by your strength.
You broke the heads of the sea
monsters in the waters.
- 14 You broke the heads of Leviathan in
pieces.
You gave him as food to people and desert creatures.
- 15 You opened up spring and stream.
You dried up mighty rivers.
- 16 The day is yours, the night is also
yours.
You have prepared the light and the
sun.
- 17 You have set all the boundaries of the
earth.
You have made summer and winter.
- 18 Remember this, that the enemy has mocked you, Yahweh.
Foolish people have blasphemed
your name.
- 19 Don't deliver the soul of your dove to wild beasts.
Don't forget the life of your poor
forever.
- 20 Honor your covenant,
for haunts of violence fill the dark places of the earth.
- 21 Don't let the oppressed return
ashamed.
Let the poor and needy praise your
name.
- 22 Arise, God! Plead your own cause.

Remember how the foolish man
mocks you all day.

- 23 Don't forget the voice of your
adversaries.
The tumult of those who rise up against you ascends
continually.

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "Do Not Destroy." A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

- 1 We give thanks to you, God.
We give thanks, for your Name is
near.
Men tell about your wondrous
works.
- 2 When I choose the appointed time,
I will judge blamelessly.
- 3 The earth and all its inhabitants quake.
I firmly hold its pillars.
Selah.
- 4 I said to the arrogant, "Don't boast!"
I said to the wicked, "Don't lift up
the horn.
- 5 Don't lift up your horn on high.
Don't speak with a stiff neck."
- 6 For neither from the east, nor from the west,
nor yet from the south, comes exaltation.
- 7 But God is the judge.
He puts down one, and lifts up
another.
- 8 For in Yahweh's hand there is a cup,
full of foaming wine mixed with spices.
He pours it out.
Indeed the wicked of the earth drink
and drink it to its very dregs.

- <sup>9</sup> But I will declare this forever:
I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
- <sup>10</sup> I will cut off all the horns of the
wicked,
but the horns of the righteous shall
be lifted up.

For the Chief Musician. On stringed instruments. A Psalm by Asaph. A song.

- <sup>1</sup> In Judah, God is known.
His name is great in Israel.
- <sup>2</sup> His tabernacle is also in Salem;
His dwelling place in Zion.
- <sup>3</sup> There he broke the flaming arrows of
the bow,
the shield, and the sword, and the weapons of war.
Selah.
- <sup>4</sup> Glorious are you, and excellent,
more than mountains of game.
- <sup>5</sup> Valiant men lie plundered,
they have slept their last sleep.
None of the men of war can lift
their hands.
- <sup>6</sup> At your rebuke, God of Jacob,
both chariot and horse are cast into a deep sleep.
- <sup>7</sup> You, even you, are to be feared.
Who can stand in your sight when you are angry?
- <sup>8</sup> You pronounced judgment from
heaven.
The earth feared, and was silent,
<sup>9</sup> when God arose to judgment,
to save all the afflicted ones of the
earth.

Selah.

- <sup>10</sup> Surely the wrath of man praises you.
The survivors of your wrath are restrained.
- <sup>11</sup> Make vows to Yahweh your God, and fulfill them!
Let all of his neighbors bring presents to him who is to be feared.
- <sup>12</sup> He will cut off the spirit of princes.
He is feared by the kings of the
earth.

For the Chief Musician. To Jeduthun. A Psalm by Asaph.

- <sup>1</sup> My cry goes to God!
Indeed, I cry to God for help,
and for him to listen to me.
- <sup>2</sup> In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord.
My hand was stretched out in the night, and didn't get tired.
My soul refused to be comforted.
- <sup>3</sup> I remember God, and I groan.
I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed.
Selah.
- <sup>4</sup> You hold my eyelids open.
I am so troubled that I can't speak.
- <sup>5</sup> I have considered the days of old,
the years of ancient times.
- <sup>6</sup> I remember my song in the night.
I consider in my own heart;
my spirit diligently inquires:
- <sup>7</sup> "Will the Lord reject us forever?
Will he be favorable no more?"
- <sup>8</sup> Has his loving kindness vanished
forever?

Does his promise fail for
generations?

<sup>9</sup> Has God forgotten to be gracious?
Has he, in anger, withheld his compassion?"
Selah.

<sup>10</sup> Then I thought, "I will appeal to this:
the years of the right hand of the Most High."

<sup>11</sup> I will remember Yah's deeds;
for I will remember your wonders
of old.

<sup>12</sup> I will also meditate on all your work,
and consider your doings.

<sup>13</sup> Your way, God, is in the sanctuary.
What god is great like God?

<sup>14</sup> You are the God who does wonders.
You have made your strength
known among the peoples.

<sup>15</sup> You have redeemed your people with your arm,
the sons of Jacob and Joseph.
Selah.

<sup>16</sup> The waters saw you, God.
The waters saw you, and they writhed.
The depths also convulsed.

<sup>17</sup> The clouds poured out water.
The skies resounded with thunder.
Your arrows also flashed around.

<sup>18</sup> The voice of your thunder was in the whirlwind.
The lightnings lit up the world.
The earth trembled and shook.

<sup>19</sup> Your way was through the sea;
your paths through the great waters.
Your footsteps were not known.

<sup>20</sup> You led your people like a flock,
by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

78

A contemplation by Asaph.

<sup>1</sup> Hear my teaching, my people.
Turn your ears to the words of my
mouth.

<sup>2</sup> I will open my mouth in a parable.
I will utter dark sayings of old,
<sup>3</sup> Which we have heard and known,
and our fathers have told us.

<sup>4</sup> We will not hide them from their
children,
telling to the generation to come the praises of Yahweh,
his strength, and his wondrous
deeds that he has done.

<sup>5</sup> For he established a testimony in Jacob,
and appointed a teaching in Israel,
which he commanded our fathers,
that they should make them known
to their children;

<sup>6</sup> that the generation to come might know, even the children who should be born;
who should arise and tell their
children,

<sup>7</sup> that they might set their hope in God,
and not forget God's deeds,
but keep his commandments,
<sup>8</sup> and might not be as their fathers,
a stubborn and rebellious
generation,
a generation that didn't make their hearts loyal,
whose spirit was not steadfast with
God.

<sup>9</sup> The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows,

- turned back in the day of battle.
- <sup>10</sup> They didn't keep God's covenant,
and refused to walk in his law.
- <sup>11</sup> They forgot his doings,
his wondrous deeds that he had shown them.
- <sup>12</sup> He did marvelous things in the sight
of their fathers,
in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
- <sup>13</sup> He split the sea, and caused them to pass through.
He made the waters stand as a heap.
- <sup>14</sup> In the daytime he also led them with a
cloud,
and all night with a light of fire.
- <sup>15</sup> He split rocks in the wilderness,
and gave them drink abundantly as
out of the depths.
- <sup>16</sup> He brought streams also out of the rock,
and caused waters to run down like
rivers.
- <sup>17</sup> Yet they still went on to sin against
him,
to rebel against the Most High in the desert.
- <sup>18</sup> They tempted God in their heart
by asking food according to their desire.
- <sup>19</sup> Yes, they spoke against God.
They said, "Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?"
- <sup>20</sup> Behold, he struck the rock, so that
waters gushed out,
and streams overflowed.
Can he give bread also?
Will he provide flesh for his
people?"
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore Yahweh heard, and was angry.
A fire was kindled against Jacob,
anger also went up against Israel, <sup>22</sup> because they didn't believe in God,
and didn't trust in his salvation.
- <sup>23</sup> Yet he commanded the skies above,
and opened the doors of heaven.
- <sup>24</sup> He rained down manna on them to eat,
and gave them food from the sky.
- <sup>25</sup> Man ate the bread of angels.
He sent them food to the full.
- <sup>26</sup> He caused the east wind to blow in
the sky.
By his power he guided the south
wind.
- <sup>27</sup> He rained also flesh on them as the
dust;
winged birds as the sand of the seas.
- <sup>28</sup> He let them fall in the middle of their camp,
around their habitations.
- <sup>29</sup> So they ate, and were well filled.
He gave them their own desire.
- <sup>30</sup> They didn't turn from their cravings.
Their food was yet in their mouths,
<sup>31</sup> when the anger of God went up
against them,
killed some of their fattest,
and struck down the young men of Israel.
- <sup>32</sup> For all this they still sinned,
and didn't believe in his wondrous
works.
- <sup>33</sup> Therefore he consumed their days in vanity,
and their years in terror.

- 34 When he killed them, then they inquired after him.
They returned and sought God
earnestly.
- 35 They remembered that God was their
rock,
the Most High God, their redeemer.
- 36 But they flattered him with their
mouth,
and lied to him with their tongue.
- 37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they faithful in his
covenant.
- 38 But he, being merciful, forgave iniquity, and didn't destroy
them.
Yes, many times he turned his anger away,
and didn't stir up all his wrath.
- 39 He remembered that they were but
flesh,
a wind that passes away, and doesn't come again.
- 40 How often they rebelled against him
in the wilderness,
and grieved him in the desert!
- 41 They turned again and tempted God,
and provoked the Holy One of Israel.
- 42 They didn't remember his hand,
nor the day when he redeemed them
from the adversary;
- 43 how he set his signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the field of Zoan,
- 44 he turned their rivers into blood,
and their streams, so that they could not drink.
- 45 He sent among them swarms of flies,
which devoured them;
and frogs, which destroyed them.
- 46 He gave also their increase to the caterpillar,
and their labor to the locust.
- 47 He destroyed their vines with hail,
their sycamore fig trees with frost.
- 48 He gave over their livestock also to
the hail,
and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
- 49 He threw on them the fierceness of
his anger,
wrath, indignation, and trouble,
and a band of angels of evil.
- 50 He made a path for his anger.
He didn't spare their soul from
death,
but gave their life over to the pestilence,
- 51 and struck all the firstborn in Egypt,
the chief of their strength in the tents of Ham.
- 52 But he led out his own people like
sheep,
and guided them in the wilderness
like a flock.
- 53 He led them safely, so that they weren't afraid,
but the sea overwhelmed their
enemies.
- 54 He brought them to the border of his
sanctuary,
to this mountain, which his right hand had taken.
- 55 He also drove out the nations before
them,
allotted them for an inheritance by
line,
and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
- 56 Yet they tempted and rebelled against
the Most High God,

and didn't keep his testimonies; <sup>57</sup> but turned back, and dealt treacherously like their
 fathers.
 They were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
<sup>58</sup> For they provoked him to anger with their high places,
 and moved him to jealousy with their engraved images.
<sup>59</sup> When God heard this, he was angry,
 and greatly abhorred Israel;
<sup>60</sup> So that he abandoned the tent of Shiloh,
 the tent which he placed among
 men;
<sup>61</sup> and delivered his strength into captivity,
 his glory into the adversary's hand.
<sup>62</sup> He also gave his people over to the
 sword,
 and was angry with his inheritance.
<sup>63</sup> Fire devoured their young men.
 Their virgins had no wedding song.
<sup>64</sup> Their priests fell by the sword,
 and their widows couldn't weep.
<sup>65</sup> Then the Lord awakened as one out of sleep,
 like a mighty man who shouts by reason of wine.
<sup>66</sup> He struck his adversaries backward.
 He put them to a perpetual
 reproach.
<sup>67</sup> Moreover he rejected the tent of Joseph,
 and didn't choose the tribe of Ephraim,
<sup>68</sup> But chose the tribe of Judah,
 Mount Zion which he loved.
<sup>69</sup> He built his sanctuary like the heights,

like the earth which he has established forever.
<sup>70</sup> He also chose David his servant,
 and took him from the sheepfolds; <sup>71</sup> from following the ewes that have their young,
 he brought him to be the shepherd
 of Jacob, his people,
 and Israel, his inheritance.
<sup>72</sup> So he was their shepherd according to the integrity of his heart,
 and guided them by the skillfulness
 of his hands.

A Psalm by Asaph.

<sup>1</sup> God, the nations have come into your
 inheritance.
 They have defiled your holy
 temple.
 They have laid Jerusalem in heaps.
<sup>2</sup> They have given the dead bodies of your servants to be food for
 the birds of the sky,
 the flesh of your saints to the animals of the earth.
<sup>3</sup> Their blood they have shed like water around Jerusalem.
 There was no one to bury them.
<sup>4</sup> We have become a reproach to our
 neighbors,
 a scoffing and derision to those who are around us.
<sup>5</sup> How long, Yahweh?
 Will you be angry forever?
 Will your jealousy burn like fire?
<sup>6</sup> Pour out your wrath on the nations that don't know you;

on the kingdoms that don't call on
your name;

<sup>7</sup> For they have devoured Jacob,
and destroyed his homeland.

<sup>8</sup> Don't hold the iniquities of our forefathers against us.
Let your tender mercies speedily
meet us,
for we are in desperate need.

<sup>9</sup> Help us, God of our salvation, for the glory of your name.
Deliver us, and forgive our sins, for your name's sake.

<sup>10</sup> Why should the nations say, "Where is their God?"
Let it be known among the nations,
before our eyes,
that vengeance for your servants'
blood is being poured out.

<sup>11</sup> Let the sighing of the prisoner come
before you.
According to the greatness of your power, preserve those who are sentenced to death.

<sup>12</sup> Pay back to our neighbors seven times into their bosom their reproach with which they have reproached you, Lord.

<sup>13</sup> So we, your people and sheep of your
pasture,
will give you thanks forever.
We will praise you forever, to all
generations.

For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Lilies of the Covenant." A Psalm by Asaph.

<sup>1</sup> Hear us, Shepherd of Israel,

you who lead Joseph like a flock,
you who sit above the cherubim,
shine out.

<sup>2</sup> Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up your might!
Come to save us!

<sup>3</sup> Turn us again, God.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.

<sup>4</sup> Yahweh God of Armies,
How long will you be angry against
the prayer of your people?

<sup>5</sup> You have fed them with the bread of tears,
and given them tears to drink in large measure.

<sup>6</sup> You make us a source of contention to our neighbors.
Our enemies laugh among
themselves.

<sup>7</sup> Turn us again, God of Armies.
Cause your face to shine,
and we will be saved.

<sup>8</sup> You brought a vine out of Egypt.
You drove out the nations, and planted it.

<sup>9</sup> You cleared the ground for it.
It took deep root, and filled the
land.

<sup>10</sup> The mountains were covered with its
shadow.
Its boughs were like God's cedars.

<sup>11</sup> It sent out its branches to the sea,
Its shoots to the River.

<sup>12</sup> Why have you broken down its walls,
so that all those who pass by the way pluck it?

<sup>13</sup> The boar out of the wood ravages it.

The wild animals of the field feed
on it.

<sup>14</sup> Turn again, we beg you, God of Armies.
Look down from heaven, and see,
and visit this vine,

<sup>15</sup> the stock which your right hand
planted,
the branch that you made strong for
yourself.

<sup>16</sup> It's burned with fire.
It's cut down.
They perish at your rebuke.

<sup>17</sup> Let your hand be on the man of your
right hand,
on the son of man whom you made strong for yourself.

<sup>18</sup> So we will not turn away from you.
Revive us, and we will call on your
name.

<sup>19</sup> Turn us again, Yahweh God of Armies.
Cause your face to shine, and we will be saved.

81

*For the Chief Musician. On an instrument
of Gath. By Asaph.*

<sup>1</sup> Sing aloud to God, our strength!
Make a joyful shout to the God of
Jacob!

<sup>2</sup> Raise a song, and bring here the tambourine,
the pleasant lyre with the harp.

<sup>3</sup> Blow the trumpet at the New Moon,
at the full moon, on our feast day.

<sup>4</sup> For it is a statute for Israel,
an ordinance of the God of Jacob.

<sup>5</sup> He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony,
when he went out over the land of Egypt,
I heard a language that I didn't
know.

<sup>6</sup> "I removed his shoulder from the burden.
His hands were freed from the basket.

<sup>7</sup> You called in trouble, and I delivered
you.
I answered you in the secret place
of thunder.
I tested you at the waters of Meribah."
Selah.

<sup>8</sup> "Hear, my people, and I will testify to
you,
Israel, if you would listen to me!

<sup>9</sup> There shall be no strange god in you, neither shall you worship any foreign god.

<sup>10</sup> I am Yahweh, your God,
who brought you up out of the land
of Egypt.
Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

<sup>11</sup> But my people didn't listen to my
voice.
Israel desired none of me.

<sup>12</sup> So I let them go after the stubbornness of their hearts,
that they might walk in their own
counsels.

<sup>13</sup> Oh that my people would listen to me,
that Israel would walk in my ways!

<sup>14</sup> I would soon subdue their enemies,
and turn my hand against their
adversaries.

- <sup>15</sup> The haters of Yahweh would cringe
before him,
and their punishment would last
forever.
- <sup>16</sup> But he would have also fed them with the finest of the wheat.
I will satisfy you with honey out of the rock.”

82

A Psalm by Asaph.

- <sup>1</sup> God presides in the great assembly.
He judges among the gods.
- <sup>2</sup> “How long will you judge unjustly,
and show partiality to the wicked?”
Selah.
- <sup>3</sup> “Defend the weak, the poor, and the
fatherless.
Maintain the rights of the poor and
oppressed.
- <sup>4</sup> Rescue the weak and needy.
Deliver them out of the hand of the
wicked.”
- <sup>5</sup> They don’t know, neither do they understand.
They walk back and forth in
darkness.
All the foundations of the earth are
shaken.
- <sup>6</sup> I said, “You are gods,
all of you are sons of the Most
High.
- <sup>7</sup> Nevertheless you shall die like men,
and fall like one of the rulers.”
- <sup>8</sup> Arise, God, judge the earth,
for you inherit all of the nations.

83

A song. A Psalm by Asaph.

- <sup>1</sup> God, don’t keep silent.
Don’t keep silent,
and don’t be still, God.
- <sup>2</sup> For, behold, your enemies are stirred
up.
Those who hate you have lifted up their heads.
- <sup>3</sup> They conspire with cunning against your people.
They plot against your cherished
ones.
- <sup>4</sup> “Come,” they say, “let’s destroy them
as a nation,
that the name of Israel may be remembered no more.”
- <sup>5</sup> For they have conspired together with one mind.
They form an alliance against you.
- <sup>6</sup> The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites;
Moab, and the Hagrites;
- <sup>7</sup> Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek; Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre;
- <sup>8</sup> Assyria also is joined with them.
They have helped the children of Lot.
Selah.
- <sup>9</sup> Do to them as you did to Midian,
as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon;
- <sup>10</sup> who perished at Endor,
who became as dung for the earth.
- <sup>11</sup> Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb;
yes, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna;

- <sup>12</sup> who said, "Let us take possession of God's pasture lands."
<sup>13</sup> My God, make them like tumbleweed;
like chaff before the wind.
<sup>14</sup> As the fire that burns the forest,
as the flame that sets the mountains
on fire, <sup>15</sup> so pursue them with your
tempest,
and terrify them with your storm.
<sup>16</sup> Fill their faces with confusion,
that they may seek your name,
Yahweh.
<sup>17</sup> Let them be disappointed and dismayed forever.
Yes, let them be confounded and
perish;
<sup>18</sup> that they may know that you alone,
whose name is Yahweh,
are the Most High over all the earth.

*For the Chief Musician. On an instrument
of Gath. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.*

- <sup>1</sup> How lovely are your dwellings, Yahweh of Armies!
<sup>2</sup> My soul longs, and even faints for the courts of Yahweh.
My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
<sup>3</sup> Yes, the sparrow has found a home,
and the swallow a nest for herself,
where she may have her
young,

- near your altars, Yahweh of Armies, my King, and my
God.
<sup>4</sup> Blessed are those who dwell in your
house.
They are always praising you.
Selah.
<sup>5</sup> Blessed are those whose strength is in
you;
who have set their hearts on a pilgrimage.
<sup>6</sup> Passing through the valley of Weeping, they make it a place of springs.
Yes, the autumn rain covers it with blessings.
<sup>7</sup> They go from strength to strength.
Everyone of them appears before God in Zion.
<sup>8</sup> Yahweh, God of Armies, hear my prayer.
Listen, God of Jacob.
Selah.
<sup>9</sup> Behold, God our shield,
look at the face of your anointed.
<sup>10</sup> For a day in your courts is better than a thousand.
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God,
than to dwell in the tents of
wickedness.
<sup>11</sup> For Yahweh God is a sun and a shield.
Yahweh will give grace and glory.
He withholds no good thing from those who walk blamelessly.
<sup>12</sup> Yahweh of Armies,
blessed is the man who trusts in you.

85

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by the sons of Korah.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, you have been favorable to your land.
You have restored the fortunes of Jacob.
- <sup>2</sup> You have forgiven the iniquity of your
people.
You have covered all their sin.
Selah.
- <sup>3</sup> You have taken away all your wrath.
You have turned from the fierceness of your anger.
- <sup>4</sup> Turn us, God of our salvation,
and cause your indignation toward us to cease.
- <sup>5</sup> Will you be angry with us forever?
Will you draw out your anger to all
generations?
- <sup>6</sup> Won't you revive us again,
that your people may rejoice in
you?
- <sup>7</sup> Show us your loving kindness,
Yahweh.
Grant us your salvation.
- <sup>8</sup> I will hear what God, Yahweh, will
speak,
for he will speak peace to his
people, his saints;
but let them not turn again to folly.
- <sup>9</sup> Surely his salvation is near those who
fear him,
that glory may dwell in our land.
- <sup>10</sup> Mercy and truth meet together.
Righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- <sup>11</sup> Truth springs out of the earth.

Righteousness has looked down
from heaven.

- <sup>12</sup> Yes, Yahweh will give that which is
good.
Our land will yield its increase.
- <sup>13</sup> Righteousness goes before him,
And prepares the way for his steps.

86

A Prayer by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Hear, Yahweh, and answer me,
for I am poor and needy.
- <sup>2</sup> Preserve my soul, for I am godly.
You, my God, save your servant
who trusts in you.
- <sup>3</sup> Be merciful to me, Lord,
for I call to you all day long.
- <sup>4</sup> Bring joy to the soul of your servant,
for to you, Lord, do I lift up my
soul.
- <sup>5</sup> For you, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive;
abundant in loving kindness to all those who call on you.
- <sup>6</sup> Hear, Yahweh, my prayer.
Listen to the voice of my petitions.
- <sup>7</sup> In the day of my trouble I will call on
you,
for you will answer me.
- <sup>8</sup> There is no one like you among the gods, Lord,
nor any deeds like your deeds.
- <sup>9</sup> All nations you have made will come
and worship before you,
Lord.
They shall glorify your name.
- <sup>10</sup> For you are great, and do wondrous
things.
You are God alone.

- <sup>11</sup> Teach me your way, Yahweh.
I will walk in your truth.
Make my heart undivided to fear
your name.
- <sup>12</sup> I will praise you, Lord my God, with
my whole heart.
I will glorify your name forever
more.
- <sup>13</sup> For your loving kindness is great
toward me.
You have delivered my soul from the lowest Sheol.<sup>d</sup>
- <sup>14</sup> God, the proud have risen up against
me.
A company of violent men have sought after my soul,
and they don't hold regard for you
before them.
- <sup>15</sup> But you, Lord, are a merciful and gracious God,
slow to anger, and abundant in
loving kindness and truth.
- <sup>16</sup> Turn to me, and have mercy on me!
Give your strength to your servant.
Save the son of your servant.
- <sup>17</sup> Show me a sign of your goodness,
that those who hate me may see it,
and be shamed,
because you, Yahweh, have helped me, and comforted me.

87

A Psalm by the sons of Korah; a Song.

- <sup>1</sup> His foundation is in the holy
mountains.
- <sup>2</sup> Yahweh loves the gates of Zion
more than all the dwellings
of Jacob.

- <sup>3</sup> Glorious things are spoken about you,
city of God.
Selah.
- <sup>4</sup> I will record Rahab<sup>e</sup> and Babylon
among those who acknowledge me.
Behold, Philistia, Tyre, and also Ethiopia:
"This one was born there."
- <sup>5</sup> Yes, of Zion it will be said, "This one
and that one was born in
her";
the Most High himself will establish her.
- <sup>6</sup> Yahweh will count, when he writes up
the peoples,
"This one was born there."
Selah.
- <sup>7</sup> Those who sing as well as those who dance say,
"All my springs are in you."

88

A Song. A Psalm by the sons of Korah. For the Chief Musician. To the tune of "The Suffering of Affliction." A contemplation by Heman, the Ezrahite.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, the God of my salvation,
I have cried day and night before
you.
- <sup>2</sup> Let my prayer enter into your
presence.
Turn your ear to my cry.
- <sup>3</sup> For my soul is full of troubles.
My life draws near to Sheol.<sup>f</sup>
- <sup>4</sup> I am counted among those who go
down into the pit.

I am like a man who has no help,
<sup>5</sup> set apart among the dead,
 like the slain who lie in the grave,
 whom you remember no more.
 They are cut off from your hand.

<sup>6</sup> You have laid me in the lowest pit,
 in the darkest depths.

<sup>7</sup> Your wrath lies heavily on me.
 You have afflicted me with all your waves.
Selah.

<sup>8</sup> You have taken my friends from me.
 You have made me an abomination
 to them.
 I am confined, and I can't escape.

<sup>9</sup> My eyes are dim from grief.
 I have called on you daily, Yahweh.
 I have spread out my hands to you.

<sup>10</sup> Do you show wonders to the dead?
 Do the departed spirits rise up and praise you?
Selah.

<sup>11</sup> Is your loving kindness declared in the grave?
 Or your faithfulness in Destruction?

<sup>12</sup> Are your wonders made known in the dark?
 Or your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

<sup>13</sup> But to you, Yahweh, I have cried.
 In the morning, my prayer comes
 before you.

<sup>14</sup> Yahweh, why do you reject my soul?
 Why do you hide your face from
 me?

<sup>15</sup> I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up.
 While I suffer your terrors, I am distracted.

<sup>16</sup> Your fierce wrath has gone over me.

<sup>8</sup> or, seed

Your terrors have cut me off.
<sup>17</sup> They came around me like water all
 day long.
 They completely engulfed me.

<sup>18</sup> You have put lover and friend far
 from me,
 and my friends into darkness.

89

<sup>1</sup> I will sing of the loving kindness of Yahweh forever.
 With my mouth, I will make known your faithfulness to all
 generations.

<sup>2</sup> I indeed declare, "Love stands firm
 forever.
 You established the heavens.
 Your faithfulness is in them."

<sup>3</sup> "I have made a covenant with my chosen one,
 I have sworn to David, my servant,

<sup>4</sup> 'I will establish your offspring<sup>g</sup>
 forever,
 and build up your throne to all generations.'" Selah.

<sup>5</sup> The heavens will praise your wonders,
 Yahweh;
 your faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

<sup>6</sup> For who in the skies can be compared to Yahweh?
 Who among the sons of the heavenly beings is like
 Yahweh,

<sup>7</sup> a very awesome God in the council of the holy ones,

- to be feared above all those who are around him?
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh, God of Armies, who is a mighty one, like you?
Yah, your faithfulness is around
you.
- <sup>9</sup> You rule the pride of the sea.
When its waves rise up, you calm
them.
- <sup>10</sup> You have broken Rahab in pieces,
like one of the slain.
You have scattered your enemies
with your mighty arm.
- <sup>11</sup> The heavens are yours.
The earth also is yours;
the world and its fullness.
You have founded them.
- <sup>12</sup> The north and the south, you have created them.
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in your
name.
- <sup>13</sup> You have a mighty arm.
Your hand is strong, and your right hand is exalted.
- <sup>14</sup> Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne.
Loving kindness and truth go before your face.
- <sup>15</sup> Blessed are the people who learn to acclaim you.
They walk in the light of your presence, Yahweh.
- <sup>16</sup> In your name they rejoice all day.
In your righteousness, they are
exalted.
- <sup>17</sup> For you are the glory of their strength.
In your favor, our horn will be
exalted.
- <sup>18</sup> For our shield belongs to Yahweh;
our king to the Holy One of Israel.
- <sup>19</sup> Then you spoke in vision to your saints,
and said, "I have given strength to the warrior.
I have exalted a young man from
the people.
- <sup>20</sup> I have found David, my servant.
I have anointed him with my holy
oil,
- <sup>21</sup> with whom my hand shall be established.
My arm will also strengthen him.
- <sup>22</sup> No enemy will tax him.
No wicked man will oppress him.
- <sup>23</sup> I will beat down his adversaries
before him,
and strike those who hate him.
- <sup>24</sup> But my faithfulness and my loving kindness will be with him.
In my name, his horn will be
exalted.
- <sup>25</sup> I will set his hand also on the sea,
and his right hand on the rivers.
- <sup>26</sup> He will call to me, 'You are my Father,
my God, and the rock of my
salvation!'
- <sup>27</sup> I will also appoint him my firstborn,
the highest of the kings of the earth.
- <sup>28</sup> I will keep my loving kindness for him forever more.
My covenant will stand firm with
him.
- <sup>29</sup> I will also make his offspring<sup>h</sup> endure
forever,
and his throne as the days of
heaven.
- <sup>30</sup> If his children forsake my law,
and don't walk in my ordinances;
- <sup>31</sup> if they break my statutes,

<sup>h</sup> or, seed

- and don't keep my commandments;
 32 then I will punish their sin with the rod,
     and their iniquity with stripes.
 33 But I will not completely take my loving kindness from him,
     nor allow my faithfulness to fail.
 34 I will not break my covenant,
     nor alter what my lips have uttered.
 35 Once have I sworn by my holiness,
     I will not lie to David.
 36 His offspring<sup>i</sup> will endure forever,
     his throne like the sun before me.
 37 It will be established forever like the moon,
     the faithful witness in the sky.”
     Selah.
 38 But you have rejected and spurned.
     You have been angry with your
     anointed.
 39 You have renounced the covenant of your servant.
     You have defiled his crown in the
     dust.
 40 You have broken down all his hedges.
     You have brought his strongholds
     to ruin.
 41 All who pass by the way rob him.
     He has become a reproach to his neighbors.
 42 You have exalted the right hand of his
     adversaries.
     You have made all of his enemies
     rejoice.
- 43 Yes, you turn back the edge of his
     sword,
     and haven't supported him in battle.
 44 You have ended his splendor, and thrown his throne down to the
     ground.
 45 You have shortened the days of his
     youth.
     You have covered him with shame.
     Selah.
 46 How long, Yahweh?
     Will you hide yourself forever?
     Will your wrath burn like fire?
 47 Remember how short my time is!
     For what vanity have you created
     all the children of men!
 48 What man is he who shall live and not see death,
     who shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?<sup>j</sup>
     Selah.
 49 Lord, where are your former loving kindnesses,
     which you swore to David in your faithfulness?
 50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of your servants,
     how I bear in my heart the taunts of
     all the mighty peoples, 51 With which your enemies have mocked, Yahweh,
     with which they have mocked the footsteps of your anointed
     one.
 52 Blessed be Yahweh forever more.
     Amen, and Amen.

BOOK 4

90

<sup>i</sup> or, seed    <sup>j</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

A Prayer by Moses, the man of God.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Lord,<sup>1</sup> you have been our dwelling place for all generations.

- <sup>2</sup> Before the mountains were born,
before you had formed the earth
and the world,
even from everlasting to everlasting, you are God.
- <sup>3</sup> You turn man to destruction, saying, “Return, you children of men.”
- <sup>4</sup> For a thousand years in your sight are just like yesterday when it is past,
like a watch in the night.
- <sup>5</sup> You sweep them away as they sleep.
In the morning they sprout like new grass.
- <sup>6</sup> In the morning it sprouts and springs
up.
By evening, it is withered and dry.
- <sup>7</sup> For we are consumed in your anger.
We are troubled in your wrath.
- <sup>8</sup> You have set our iniquities before you,
our secret sins in the light of your
presence.
- <sup>9</sup> For all our days have passed away in your wrath.
We bring our years to an end as a sigh.
- <sup>10</sup> The days of our years are seventy,
or even by reason of strength eighty
years;
yet their pride is but labor and
sorrow,
for it passes quickly, and we fly
away.
- <sup>11</sup> Who knows the power of your anger,
your wrath according to the fear
that is due to you?
- <sup>12</sup> So teach us to number our days,
that we may gain a heart of
wisdom.
- <sup>13</sup> Relent, Yahweh!<sup>m</sup>

- How long?
Have compassion on your servants!
- <sup>14</sup> Satisfy us in the morning with your
loving kindness,
that we may rejoice and be glad all
our days.
- <sup>15</sup> Make us glad for as many days as you have afflicted us,
for as many years as we have seen
evil.
- <sup>16</sup> Let your work appear to your
servants;
your glory to their children.
- <sup>17</sup> Let the favor of the Lord our God be
on us;
establish the work of our hands for
us;
yes, establish the work of our hands.

91

- <sup>1</sup> He who dwells in the secret place of
the Most High
will rest in the shadow of the Almighty.
- <sup>2</sup> I will say of Yahweh, “He is my refuge
and my fortress;
my God, in whom I trust.”
- <sup>3</sup> For he will deliver you from the snare
of the fowler,
and from the deadly pestilence.
- <sup>4</sup> He will cover you with his feathers.
Under his wings you will take
refuge.
His faithfulness is your shield and rampart.
- <sup>5</sup> You shall not be afraid of the terror by
night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day;
<sup>6</sup> nor of the pestilence that walks in
darkness,

<sup>m</sup> “Yahweh” is God’s proper Name, sometimes rendered “LORD” (all caps) in other translations.

nor of the destruction that wastes at noonday.
<sup>7</sup> A thousand may fall at your side,
 and ten thousand at your right hand;
 but it will not come near you.
<sup>8</sup> You will only look with your eyes,
 and see the recompense of the
 wicked.
<sup>9</sup> Because you have made Yahweh your
 refuge,
 and the Most High your dwelling
 place,
<sup>10</sup> no evil shall happen to you, neither shall any plague come near your dwelling.
<sup>11</sup> For he will put his angels in charge of
 you,
 to guard you in all your ways.
<sup>12</sup> They will bear you up in their hands,
 so that you won't dash your foot
 against a stone.
<sup>13</sup> You will tread on the lion and cobra.
 You will trample the young lion
 and the serpent underfoot.
<sup>14</sup> "Because he has set his love on me,
 therefore I will deliver him.
 I will set him on high, because he has known my name.
<sup>15</sup> He will call on me, and I will answer
 him.
 I will be with him in trouble.
 I will deliver him, and honor him.
<sup>16</sup> I will satisfy him with long life,
 and show him my salvation."

92

A Psalm. A song for the Sabbath day.

<sup>1</sup> It is a good thing to give thanks to Yahweh,

to sing praises to your name, Most
 High; <sup>2</sup> to proclaim your loving kindness in the
 morning,
 and your faithfulness every night, <sup>3</sup> with the ten-stringed lute, with the
 harp,
 and with the melody of the lyre.
<sup>4</sup> For you, Yahweh, have made me glad through your work.
 I will triumph in the works of your
 hands.
<sup>5</sup> How great are your works, Yahweh!
 Your thoughts are very deep.
<sup>6</sup> A senseless man doesn't know,
 neither does a fool understand this:
<sup>7</sup> though the wicked spring up as the
 grass,
 and all the evildoers flourish,
 they will be destroyed forever.
<sup>8</sup> But you, Yahweh, are on high forever
 more.
<sup>9</sup> For, behold, your enemies, Yahweh,
 for, behold, your enemies shall
 perish.
 All the evildoers will be scattered.
<sup>10</sup> But you have exalted my horn like that of the wild ox.
 I am anointed with fresh oil.
<sup>11</sup> My eye has also seen my enemies.
 My ears have heard of the wicked enemies who rise up against
 me.
<sup>12</sup> The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree.
 He will grow like a cedar in Lebanon.
<sup>13</sup> They are planted in Yahweh's house.
 They will flourish in our God's courts.

<sup>14</sup> They will still produce fruit in old age.
They will be full of sap and green,
<sup>15</sup> to show that Yahweh is upright.
He is my rock,
and there is no unrighteousness in
him.

93

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh reigns!
He is clothed with majesty!
Yahweh is armed with strength.
The world also is established.
It can't be moved.
<sup>2</sup> Your throne is established from long ago.
You are from everlasting.
<sup>3</sup> The floods have lifted up, Yahweh,
the floods have lifted up their voice.
The floods lift up their waves.
<sup>4</sup> Above the voices of many waters,
the mighty breakers of the sea,
Yahweh on high is mighty.
<sup>5</sup> Your statutes stand firm.
Holiness adorns your house,
Yahweh, forever more.

94

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh, you God to whom vengeance
belongs,
you God to whom vengeance
belongs, shine out.
<sup>2</sup> Rise up, you judge of the earth.
Pay back the proud what they
deserve.
<sup>3</sup> Yahweh, how long will the wicked,
how long will the wicked triumph?
<sup>4</sup> They pour out arrogant words.
All the evildoers boast.
<sup>5</sup> They break your people in pieces,
Yahweh,

and afflict your heritage.
<sup>6</sup> They kill the widow and the alien,
and murder the fatherless.
<sup>7</sup> They say, "Yah will not see,
neither will Jacob's God consider." <sup>8</sup> Consider, you senseless among the
people;
you fools, when will you be wise?
<sup>9</sup> He who implanted the ear, won't he hear?
He who formed the eye, won't he
see?
<sup>10</sup> He who disciplines the nations, won't he punish?
He who teaches man knows.
<sup>11</sup> Yahweh knows the thoughts of man,
that they are futile.
<sup>12</sup> Blessed is the man whom you discipline, Yah,
and teach out of your law;
<sup>13</sup> that you may give him rest from the days of adversity,
until the pit is dug for the wicked.
<sup>14</sup> For Yahweh won't reject his people, neither will he forsake his
inheritance.
<sup>15</sup> For judgment will return to
righteousness.
All the upright in heart shall follow
it.
<sup>16</sup> Who will rise up for me against the
wicked?
Who will stand up for me against the evildoers?
<sup>17</sup> Unless Yahweh had been my help, my soul would have soon lived in silence.
<sup>18</sup> When I said, "My foot is slipping!"
Your loving kindness, Yahweh,
held me up.

<sup>19</sup> In the multitude of my thoughts
     within me,
     your comforts delight my soul.
<sup>20</sup> Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with you,
     which brings about mischief by
     statute?
<sup>21</sup> They gather themselves together against the soul of the
     righteous,
     and condemn the innocent blood.
<sup>22</sup> But Yahweh has been my high tower,
     my God, the rock of my refuge.
<sup>23</sup> He has brought on them their own
     iniquity,
     and will cut them off in their own
     wickedness.
     Yahweh, our God, will cut them off.

95

<sup>1</sup> Oh come, let's sing to Yahweh.
     Let's shout aloud to the rock of our
     salvation!
<sup>2</sup> Let's come before his presence with
     thanksgiving.
     Let's extol him with songs!
<sup>3</sup> For Yahweh is a great God,
     a great King above all gods.
<sup>4</sup> In his hand are the deep places of the
     earth.
     The heights of the mountains are also his.
<sup>5</sup> The sea is his, and he made it.
     His hands formed the dry land.
<sup>6</sup> Oh come, let's worship and bow down.
     Let's kneel before Yahweh, our Maker,
<sup>7</sup> for he is our God.
     We are the people of his pasture,

    and the sheep in his care.
 Today, oh that you would hear his
     voice!
<sup>8</sup> Don't harden your heart, as at Meribah,
     as in the day of Massah in the
     wilderness,
<sup>9</sup> when your fathers tempted me,
     tested me, and saw my work.
<sup>10</sup> Forty long years I was grieved with that generation,
     and said, "It is a people that errs in their heart.
     They have not known my ways."
<sup>11</sup> Therefore I swore in my wrath,
     "They won't enter into my rest."

96

<sup>1</sup> Sing to Yahweh a new song!
     Sing to Yahweh, all the earth.
<sup>2</sup> Sing to Yahweh!
     Bless his name!
     Proclaim his salvation from day to
     day!
<sup>3</sup> Declare his glory among the nations,
     his marvelous works among all the
     peoples.
<sup>4</sup> For great is Yahweh, and greatly to be praised!
     He is to be feared above all gods.
<sup>5</sup> For all the gods of the peoples are idols,
     but Yahweh made the heavens.
<sup>6</sup> Honor and majesty are before him.
     Strength and beauty are in his
     sanctuary.
<sup>7</sup> Ascribe to Yahweh, you families of
     nations,
     ascribe to Yahweh glory and
     strength.

- <sup>8</sup> Ascribe to Yahweh the glory due to his name.
Bring an offering, and come into his courts.
- <sup>9</sup> Worship Yahweh in holy array.
Tremble before him, all the earth.
- <sup>10</sup> Say among the nations, "Yahweh reigns."
The world is also established.
It can't be moved.
He will judge the peoples with equity.
- <sup>11</sup> Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice.
Let the sea roar, and its fullness!
- <sup>12</sup> Let the field and all that is in it exult!
Then all the trees of the woods shall sing for joy
- <sup>13</sup> before Yahweh; for he comes, for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with righteousness,
the peoples with his truth.

97

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh reigns!
Let the earth rejoice!
Let the multitude of islands be glad!
- <sup>2</sup> Clouds and darkness are around him.
Righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne.
- <sup>3</sup> A fire goes before him,
and burns up his adversaries on every side.
- <sup>4</sup> His lightning lights up the world.
The earth sees, and trembles.

- <sup>5</sup> The mountains melt like wax at the presence of Yahweh,
at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
- <sup>6</sup> The heavens declare his righteousness.
All the peoples have seen his glory.
- <sup>7</sup> Let all them be shamed who serve engraved images,
who boast in their idols.
Worship him, all you gods!<sup>n</sup>
- <sup>8</sup> Zion heard and was glad.
The daughters of Judah rejoiced,
because of your judgments,
Yahweh.
- <sup>9</sup> For you, Yahweh, are most high above all the earth.
You are exalted far above all gods.
- <sup>10</sup> You who love Yahweh, hate evil.
He preserves the souls of his saints.
He delivers them out of the hand of the wicked.
- <sup>11</sup> Light is sown for the righteous,
and gladness for the upright in heart.
- <sup>12</sup> Be glad in Yahweh, you righteous people!
Give thanks to his holy Name.

98

A Psalm.

- <sup>1</sup> Sing to Yahweh a new song,
for he has done marvelous things!
His right hand, and his holy arm,
have worked salvation for him.
- <sup>2</sup> Yahweh has made known his salvation.

He has openly shown his righteousness in the sight of
 the nations.

<sup>3</sup> He has remembered his loving kindness and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel.
 All the ends of the earth have seen
 the salvation of our God.

<sup>4</sup> Make a joyful noise to Yahweh, all the
 earth!
 Burst out and sing for joy, yes, sing
 praises!

<sup>5</sup> Sing praises to Yahweh with the harp,
 with the harp and the voice of melody.

<sup>6</sup> With trumpets and sound of the ram's horn,
 make a joyful noise before the King, Yahweh.

<sup>7</sup> Let the sea roar with its fullness;
 the world, and those who dwell
 therein.

<sup>8</sup> Let the rivers clap their hands.
 Let the mountains sing for joy
 together.

<sup>9</sup> Let them sing before Yahweh,
 for he comes to judge the earth.
 He will judge the world with
 righteousness,
 and the peoples with equity.

99

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh reigns! Let the peoples
 tremble.
 He sits enthroned among the cherubim.
 Let the earth be moved.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh is great in Zion.
 He is high above all the peoples.

<sup>3</sup> Let them praise your great and awesome name.

He is Holy!

<sup>4</sup> The King's strength also loves justice.
 You do establish equity.
 You execute justice and righteousness in Jacob.

<sup>5</sup> Exalt Yahweh our God.
 Worship at his footstool.
 He is Holy!

<sup>6</sup> Moses and Aaron were among his priests,
 Samuel among those who call on
 his name;
 they called on Yahweh, and he answered them.

<sup>7</sup> He spoke to them in the pillar of cloud.
 They kept his testimonies,
 the statute that he gave them.

<sup>8</sup> You answered them, Yahweh our God.
 You are a God who forgave them,
 although you took vengeance for their doings.

<sup>9</sup> Exalt Yahweh, our God.
 Worship at his holy hill,
 for Yahweh, our God, is holy!

100

<sup>1</sup> Shout for joy to Yahweh, all you lands!

<sup>2</sup> Serve Yahweh with gladness.
 Come before his presence with singing.

<sup>3</sup> Know that Yahweh, he is God.
 It is he who has made us, and we are his.
 We are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

<sup>4</sup> Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,
 into his courts with praise.

Give thanks to him, and bless his
name.

- <sup>5</sup> For Yahweh is good.
His loving kindness endures
forever,
his faithfulness to all generations.

101

A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> I will sing of loving kindness and
justice.
To you, Yahweh, I will sing
praises.
- <sup>2</sup> I will be careful to live a blameless
life.
When will you come to me?
I will walk within my house with a blameless heart.
- <sup>3</sup> I will set no vile thing before my eyes.
I hate the deeds of faithless men.
They will not cling to me.
- <sup>4</sup> A perverse heart will be far from me.
I will have nothing to do with evil.
- <sup>5</sup> I will silence whoever secretly slanders
his neighbor.
I won't tolerate one who is haughty
and conceited.
- <sup>6</sup> My eyes will be on the faithful of the
land,
that they may dwell with me.
He who walks in a perfect way,
he will serve me.
- <sup>7</sup> He who practices deceit won't dwell
within my house.
He who speaks falsehood won't be established before my eyes.
- <sup>8</sup> Morning by morning, I will destroy all
the wicked of the land;

to cut off all the workers of iniquity
from Yahweh's city.

102

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before Yahweh.

- <sup>1</sup> Hear my prayer, Yahweh!
Let my cry come to you.
- <sup>2</sup> Don't hide your face from me in the day of my distress.
Turn your ear to me.
Answer me quickly in the day when I call.
- <sup>3</sup> For my days consume away like
smoke.
My bones are burned as a torch.
- <sup>4</sup> My heart is blighted like grass, and
withered,
for I forget to eat my bread.
- <sup>5</sup> By reason of the voice of my groaning,
my bones stick to my skin.
- <sup>6</sup> I am like a pelican of the wilderness.
I have become as an owl of the waste places.
- <sup>7</sup> I watch, and have become like a sparrow that is alone on the housetop.
- <sup>8</sup> My enemies reproach me all day.
Those who are mad at me use my name as a curse.
- <sup>9</sup> For I have eaten ashes like bread,
and mixed my drink with tears,
- <sup>10</sup> Because of your indignation and your
wrath,
for you have taken me up, and thrown me away.
- <sup>11</sup> My days are like a long shadow.
I have withered like grass.

12 But you, Yahweh, will remain
     forever;
     your renown endures to all
     generations.
 13 You will arise and have mercy on
     Zion;
     for it is time to have pity on her.
     Yes, the set time has come.
 14 For your servants take pleasure in her
     stones,
     and have pity on her dust.
 15 So the nations will fear Yahweh's
     name;
     all the kings of the earth your glory.
 16 For Yahweh has built up Zion.
     He has appeared in his glory.
 17 He has responded to the prayer of the destitute,
     and has not despised their prayer.
 18 This will be written for the generation
     to come.
     A people which will be created will
     praise Yah.
 19 For he has looked down from the height of his sanctuary.
     From heaven, Yahweh saw the
     earth;
 20 to hear the groans of the prisoner;
     to free those who are condemned to
     death;
 21 that men may declare Yahweh's name
     in Zion,
     and his praise in Jerusalem;
 22 when the peoples are gathered
     together,
     the kingdoms, to serve Yahweh.
 23 He weakened my strength along the course.
     He shortened my days.

24 I said, "My God, don't take me away
     in the middle of my days.
     Your years are throughout all
     generations.
 25 Of old, you laid the foundation of the
     earth.
     The heavens are the work of your
     hands.
 26 They will perish, but you will endure.
     Yes, all of them will wear out like a
     garment.
     You will change them like a cloak,
     and they will be changed.
 27 But you are the same.
     Your years will have no end.
 28 The children of your servants will continue.
     Their offspring<sup>o</sup> will be established
     before you."

103

By David.

1 Praise Yahweh, my soul!
     All that is within me, praise his
     holy name!
 2 Praise Yahweh, my soul,
     and don't forget all his benefits;
 3 who forgives all your sins;
     who heals all your diseases;
 4 who redeems your life from
     destruction;
     who crowns you with loving kindness and tender mercies;
 5 who satisfies your desire with good
     things,
     so that your youth is renewed like
     the eagle's.
 6 Yahweh executes righteous acts,

<sup>o</sup> or, seed

- and justice for all who are
oppressed.
- <sup>7</sup> He made known his ways to Moses,
his deeds to the children of Israel.
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh is merciful and gracious,
slow to anger, and abundant in
loving kindness.
- <sup>9</sup> He will not always accuse;
neither will he stay angry forever.
- <sup>10</sup> He has not dealt with us according to our sins,
nor repaid us for our iniquities.
- <sup>11</sup> For as the heavens are high above the
earth,
so great is his loving kindness
toward those who fear him.
- <sup>12</sup> As far as the east is from the west,
so far has he removed our transgressions from us.
- <sup>13</sup> Like a father has compassion on his
children,
so Yahweh has compassion on those who fear him.
- <sup>14</sup> For he knows how we are made.
He remembers that we are dust.
- <sup>15</sup> As for man, his days are like grass.
As a flower of the field, so he flourishes.
- <sup>16</sup> For the wind passes over it, and it is
gone.
Its place remembers it no more.
- <sup>17</sup> But Yahweh's loving kindness is from everlasting to everlasting with those who
fear him,
his righteousness to children's
children;
- <sup>18</sup> to those who keep his covenant,
to those who remember to obey his precepts.

- <sup>19</sup> Yahweh has established his throne in
the heavens.
His kingdom rules over all.
- <sup>20</sup> Praise Yahweh, you angels of his,
who are mighty in strength, who fulfill his word,
obeying the voice of his word.
- <sup>21</sup> Praise Yahweh, all you armies of his,
you servants of his, who do his pleasure.
- <sup>22</sup> Praise Yahweh, all you works of his,
in all places of his dominion.
Praise Yahweh, my soul!

104

- <sup>1</sup> Bless Yahweh, my soul.
Yahweh, my God, you are very
great.
You are clothed with honor and
majesty.
- <sup>2</sup> He covers himself with light as with a
garment.
He stretches out the heavens like a curtain.
- <sup>3</sup> He lays the beams of his rooms in the waters.
He makes the clouds his chariot.
He walks on the wings of the wind.
- <sup>4</sup> He makes his messengers<sup>p</sup> winds;
his servants flames of fire.
- <sup>5</sup> He laid the foundations of the earth,
that it should not be moved forever.
- <sup>6</sup> You covered it with the deep as with a cloak.
The waters stood above the
mountains.
- <sup>7</sup> At your rebuke they fled.
At the voice of your thunder they hurried away.
- <sup>8</sup> The mountains rose,

<sup>p</sup> or, angels

- the valleys sank down,
to the place which you had assigned
to them.
- <sup>9</sup> You have set a boundary that they may not pass over;
that they don't turn again to cover
the earth.
- <sup>10</sup> He sends springs into the valleys.
They run among the mountains.
- <sup>11</sup> They give drink to every animal of
the field.
The wild donkeys quench their
thirst.
- <sup>12</sup> The birds of the sky nest by them.
They sing among the branches.
- <sup>13</sup> He waters the mountains from his rooms.
The earth is filled with the fruit of your works.
- <sup>14</sup> He causes the grass to grow for the livestock,
and plants for man to cultivate,
that he may produce food out of the
earth:
- <sup>15</sup> wine that makes glad the heart of
man,
oil to make his face to shine,
and bread that strengthens man's
heart.
- <sup>16</sup> Yahweh's trees are well watered,
the cedars of Lebanon, which he has planted;
- <sup>17</sup> where the birds make their nests.
The stork makes its home in the cypress trees.
- <sup>18</sup> The high mountains are for the wild goats.
The rocks are a refuge for the rock
badgers.
- <sup>19</sup> He appointed the moon for seasons.
- The sun knows when to set.
- <sup>20</sup> You make darkness, and it is night,
in which all the animals of the forest prowl.
- <sup>21</sup> The young lions roar after their prey,
and seek their food from God.
- <sup>22</sup> The sun rises, and they steal away,
and lay down in their dens.
- <sup>23</sup> Man goes out to his work,
to his labor until the evening.
- <sup>24</sup> Yahweh, how many are your works!
In wisdom have you made them all.
The earth is full of your riches.
- <sup>25</sup> There is the sea, great and wide,
in which are innumerable living
things,
both small and large animals.
- <sup>26</sup> There the ships go,
and leviathan, whom you formed to play there.
- <sup>27</sup> These all wait for you,
that you may give them their food
in due season.
- <sup>28</sup> You give to them; they gather.
You open your hand; they are satisfied with good.
- <sup>29</sup> You hide your face: they are troubled;
you take away their breath: they die, and return to the dust.
- <sup>30</sup> You send out your Spirit and they are created.
You renew the face of the ground.
- <sup>31</sup> Let Yahweh's glory endure forever.
Let Yahweh rejoice in his works.
- <sup>32</sup> He looks at the earth, and it trembles.
He touches the mountains, and they
smoke.
- <sup>33</sup> I will sing to Yahweh as long as I live.

I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.

<sup>34</sup> Let your meditation be sweet to him.
I will rejoice in Yahweh.

<sup>35</sup> Let sinners be consumed out of the
earth.

Let the wicked be no more.
Bless Yahweh, my soul.
Praise Yah!

105

<sup>1</sup> Give thanks to Yahweh! Call on his
name!
Make his doings known among the
peoples.

<sup>2</sup> Sing to him, sing praises to him!
Tell of all his marvelous works.

<sup>3</sup> Glory in his holy name.
Let the heart of those who seek Yahweh rejoice.

<sup>4</sup> Seek Yahweh and his strength.
Seek his face forever more.

<sup>5</sup> Remember his marvelous works that
he has done;
his wonders, and the judgments of
his mouth,

<sup>6</sup> you offspring<sup>q</sup> of Abraham, his
servant,
you children of Jacob, his chosen
ones.

<sup>7</sup> He is Yahweh, our God.
His judgments are in all the earth.

<sup>8</sup> He has remembered his covenant
forever,
the word which he commanded to a thousand generations,

<sup>9</sup> the covenant which he made with Abraham,
his oath to Isaac,

<sup>10</sup> and confirmed the same to Jacob for a statute;

to Israel for an everlasting
covenant,

<sup>11</sup> saying, "To you I will give the land of Canaan,
the lot of your inheritance";

<sup>12</sup> when they were but a few men in number,
yes, very few, and foreigners in it.

<sup>13</sup> They went about from nation to
nation,
from one kingdom to another
people.

<sup>14</sup> He allowed no one to do them wrong.
Yes, he reprov'd kings for their
sakes,

<sup>15</sup> "Don't touch my anointed ones!
Do my prophets no harm!"

<sup>16</sup> He called for a famine on the land.
He destroyed the food supplies.

<sup>17</sup> He sent a man before them.
Joseph was sold for a slave.

<sup>18</sup> They bruised his feet with shackles.
His neck was locked in irons,

<sup>19</sup> until the time that his word happened,
and Yahweh's word proved him
true.

<sup>20</sup> The king sent and freed him;
even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.

<sup>21</sup> He made him lord of his house,
and ruler of all of his possessions;

<sup>22</sup> to discipline his princes at his
pleasure,
and to teach his elders wisdom.

<sup>23</sup> Israel also came into Egypt.
Jacob lived in the land of Ham.

<sup>q</sup> or, seed

and made them stronger than their
adversaries.

25 He turned their heart to hate his
people,
to conspire against his servants.

26 He sent Moses, his servant,
and Aaron, whom he had chosen.

27 They performed miracles among
them,
and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkness, and made it dark.
They didn't rebel against his words.

29 He turned their waters into blood,
and killed their fish.

30 Their land swarmed with frogs,
even in the rooms of their kings.

31 He spoke, and swarms of flies came,
and lice in all their borders.

32 He gave them hail for rain,
with lightning in their land.

33 He struck their vines and also their fig
trees,
and shattered the trees of their country.

34 He spoke, and the locusts came,
and the grasshoppers, without
number,
ate up every plant in their land;
and ate up the fruit of their ground.

36 He struck also all the firstborn in their
land,
the first fruits of all their manhood.

37 He brought them out with silver and
gold.
There was not one feeble person
among his tribes.

38 Egypt was glad when they departed, for the fear of them had fallen on
them.

39 He spread a cloud for a covering,
fire to give light in the night.

40 They asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of
the sky.

41 He opened the rock, and waters
gushed out.
They ran as a river in the dry
places.

42 For he remembered his holy word,
and Abraham, his servant.

43 He brought his people out with joy,
his chosen with singing.

44 He gave them the lands of the nations.
They took the labor of the peoples
in possession, 45 that they might keep his statutes,
and observe his laws.
Praise Yah!

106

1 Praise Yahweh!
Give thanks to Yahweh, for he is
good,
for his loving kindness endures
forever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of
Yahweh,
or fully declare all his praise?

3 Blessed are those who keep justice.
Blessed is one who does what is right at all times.

4 Remember me, Yahweh, with the favor that you show to your
people.
Visit me with your salvation,
5 that I may see the prosperity of your
chosen,
that I may rejoice in the gladness of
your nation,

- that I may glory with your inheritance.
- <sup>6</sup> We have sinned with our fathers.
We have committed iniquity.
We have done wickedly.
- <sup>7</sup> Our fathers didn't understand your wonders in Egypt.
They didn't remember the multitude of your loving kindnesses,
but were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.
- <sup>8</sup> Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake,
that he might make his mighty power known.
- <sup>9</sup> He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up;
so he led them through the depths, as through a desert.
- <sup>10</sup> He saved them from the hand of him who hated them,
and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
- <sup>11</sup> The waters covered their adversaries.
There was not one of them left.
- <sup>12</sup> Then they believed his words.
They sang his praise.
- <sup>13</sup> They soon forgot his works.
They didn't wait for his counsel,
<sup>14</sup> but gave in to craving in the desert,
and tested God in the wasteland.
- <sup>15</sup> He gave them their request,
but sent leanness into their soul.
- <sup>16</sup> They envied Moses also in the camp,
and Aaron, Yahweh's saint.
- <sup>17</sup> The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan,
and covered the company of Abiram.
- <sup>18</sup> A fire was kindled in their company.
The flame burned up the wicked.
- <sup>19</sup> They made a calf in Horeb,
and worshiped a molten image.
- <sup>20</sup> Thus they exchanged their glory for an image of a bull that eats grass.
- <sup>21</sup> They forgot God, their Savior,
who had done great things in Egypt, <sup>22</sup> Wondrous works in the land of Ham,
and awesome things by the Red Sea.
- <sup>23</sup> Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had Moses, his chosen, not stood before him in the breach,
to turn away his wrath, so that he wouldn't destroy them.
- <sup>24</sup> Yes, they despised the pleasant land.
They didn't believe his word,
<sup>25</sup> but murmured in their tents,
and didn't listen to Yahweh's voice.
- <sup>26</sup> Therefore he swore to them
that he would overthrow them in the wilderness, <sup>27</sup> that he would overthrow their offspring<sup>r</sup> among the nations,
and scatter them in the lands.
- <sup>28</sup> They joined themselves also to Baal Peor,
and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
- <sup>29</sup> Thus they provoked him to anger with their deeds.
The plague broke in on them.

<sup>r</sup> or, seed

30 Then Phinehas stood up, and executed
     judgment,
     so the plague was stopped.
 31 That was credited to him for
     righteousness,
     for all generations to come.
 32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah,
     so that Moses was troubled for their
     sakes;
 33 because they were rebellious against his spirit,
     he spoke rashly with his lips.
 34 They didn't destroy the peoples,
     as Yahweh commanded them, 35 but mixed themselves with the
     nations,
     and learned their works.
 36 They served their idols,
     which became a snare to them.
 37 Yes, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.
     38 They shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters,
     whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan.
     The land was polluted with blood.
 39 Thus were they defiled with their
     works,
     and prostituted themselves in their
     deeds.
 40 Therefore Yahweh burned with anger
     against his people.

    He abhorred his inheritance.
 41 He gave them into the hand of the
     nations.
     Those who hated them ruled over
     them.
 42 Their enemies also oppressed them.
     They were brought into subjection
     under their hand.
 43 Many times he delivered them,
     but they were rebellious in their
     counsel,
     and were brought low in their
     iniquity.
 44 Nevertheless he regarded their distress,
     when he heard their cry.
 45 He remembered for them his
     covenant,
     and repented according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
 46 He made them also to be pitied
     by all those who carried them
     captive.
 47 Save us, Yahweh, our God,
     gather us from among the nations,
     to give thanks to your holy name,
     to triumph in your praise!
 48 Blessed be Yahweh, the God of Israel,
     from everlasting even to
     everlasting!
 Let all the people say, "Amen."
 Praise Yah!

BOOK 5

107

<sup>1</sup> Give thanks to Yahweh,<sup>s</sup>

    for he is good,
     for his loving kindness endures forever.

- whom he has redeemed from the hand of the adversary,
- <sup>3</sup> And gathered out of the lands,
from the east and from the west,
from the north and from the south.
- <sup>4</sup> They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way.
They found no city to live in.
- <sup>5</sup> Hungry and thirsty,
their soul fainted in them.
- <sup>6</sup> Then they cried to Yahweh in their
trouble,
and he delivered them out of their
distresses,
- <sup>7</sup> he led them also by a straight way,
that they might go to a city to live
in.
- <sup>8</sup> Let them praise Yahweh for his loving
kindness,
for his wonderful deeds to the
children of men!
- <sup>9</sup> For he satisfies the longing soul.
He fills the hungry soul with good.
- <sup>10</sup> Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death,
being bound in affliction and iron,
- <sup>11</sup> because they rebelled against the words of God,<sup>t</sup>
and condemned the counsel of the Most High.
- <sup>12</sup> Therefore he brought down their heart
with labor.
They fell down, and there was no
one to help.
- <sup>13</sup> Then they cried to Yahweh in their
trouble,
and he saved them out of their
distresses.
- <sup>14</sup> He brought them out of darkness and
the shadow of death,
- and broke away their chains.
- <sup>15</sup> Let them praise Yahweh for his
loving kindness,
for his wonderful deeds to the
children of men!
- <sup>16</sup> For he has broken the gates of brass,
and cut through bars of iron.
- <sup>17</sup> Fools are afflicted because of their
disobedience,
and because of their iniquities.
- <sup>18</sup> Their soul abhors all kinds of food.
They draw near to the gates of
death.
- <sup>19</sup> Then they cry to Yahweh in their
trouble,
he saves them out of their
distresses.
- <sup>20</sup> He sends his word, and heals them,
and delivers them from their graves.
- <sup>21</sup> Let them praise Yahweh for his
loving kindness,
for his wonderful deeds to the
children of men!
- <sup>22</sup> Let them offer the sacrifices of
thanksgiving,
and declare his deeds with singing.
- <sup>23</sup> Those who go down to the sea in ships,
who do business in great waters;
- <sup>24</sup> These see Yahweh's deeds,
and his wonders in the deep.
- <sup>25</sup> For he commands, and raises the stormy wind,
which lifts up its waves.
- <sup>26</sup> They mount up to the sky; they go down again to the depths.
Their soul melts away because of
trouble.

<sup>27</sup> They reel back and forth, and stagger
 like a drunken man,
 and are at their wits' end.
<sup>28</sup> Then they cry to Yahweh in their
 trouble,
 and he brings them out of their
 distress.
<sup>29</sup> He makes the storm a calm,
 so that its waves are still.
<sup>30</sup> Then they are glad because it is calm,
 so he brings them to their desired
 haven.
<sup>31</sup> Let them praise Yahweh for his
 loving kindness,
 for his wonderful deeds for the
 children of men!
<sup>32</sup> Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people,
 and praise him in the seat of the elders.
<sup>33</sup> He turns rivers into a desert,
 water springs into a thirsty ground, <sup>34</sup> and a fruitful land into a salt
 waste,
 for the wickedness of those who dwell in it.
<sup>35</sup> He turns a desert into a pool of water,
 and a dry land into water springs.
<sup>36</sup> There he makes the hungry live,
 that they may prepare a city to live
 in,
<sup>37</sup> sow fields, plant vineyards,
 and reap the fruits of increase.
<sup>38</sup> He blesses them also, so that they are multiplied greatly.
 He doesn't allow their livestock to decrease.
<sup>39</sup> Again, they are diminished and
 bowed down

through oppression, trouble, and
 sorrow.
<sup>40</sup> He pours contempt on princes,
 and causes them to wander in a trackless waste.
<sup>41</sup> Yet he lifts the needy out of their
 affliction,
 and increases their families like a
 flock.
<sup>42</sup> The upright will see it, and be glad.
 All the wicked will shut their mouths.
<sup>43</sup> Whoever is wise will pay attention to
 these things.
 They will consider the loving kindnesses of Yahweh.

108

A Song. A Psalm by David.

<sup>1</sup> My heart is steadfast, God.
 I will sing and I will make music
 with my soul.
<sup>2</sup> Wake up, harp and lyre!
 I will wake up the dawn.
<sup>3</sup> I will give thanks to you, Yahweh,
 among the nations.
 I will sing praises to you among the
 peoples.
<sup>4</sup> For your loving kindness is great
 above the heavens.
 Your faithfulness reaches to the
 skies.
<sup>5</sup> Be exalted, God, above the heavens!
 Let your glory be over all the earth.
<sup>6</sup> That your beloved may be delivered,
 save with your right hand, and
 answer us.
<sup>7</sup> God has spoken from his sanctuary:
 "In triumph,

I will divide Shechem, and measure
 out the valley of Succoth.
<sup>8</sup> Gilead is mine. Manasseh is mine.
 Ephraim also is my helmet.
 Judah is my scepter.
<sup>9</sup> Moab is my wash pot.
 I will toss my sandal on Edom.
 I will shout over Philistia.”
<sup>10</sup> Who will bring me into the fortified
 city?
 Who has led me to Edom?
<sup>11</sup> Haven't you rejected us, God?
 You don't go out, God, with our
 armies.
<sup>12</sup> Give us help against the enemy,
 for the help of man is vain.
<sup>13</sup> Through God, we will do valiantly.
 For it is he who will tread down our
 enemies.

109

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

<sup>1</sup> God of my praise, don't remain silent, <sup>2</sup> for they have opened the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit against me.
 They have spoken to me with a lying tongue.
<sup>3</sup> They have also surrounded me with words of hatred,
 and fought against me without a
 cause.
<sup>4</sup> In return for my love, they are my
 adversaries;
 but I am in prayer.
<sup>5</sup> They have rewarded me evil for good,
 and hatred for my love.
<sup>6</sup> Set a wicked man over him.

Let an adversary stand at his right
 hand.
<sup>7</sup> When he is judged, let him come out guilty.
 Let his prayer be turned into sin.
<sup>8</sup> Let his days be few.
 Let another take his office.
<sup>9</sup> Let his children be fatherless,
 and his wife a widow.
<sup>10</sup> Let his children be wandering
 beggars.
 Let them be sought from their ruins.
<sup>11</sup> Let the creditor seize all that he has.
 Let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor.
<sup>12</sup> Let there be no one to extend kindness to him,
 neither let there be anyone to have pity on his fatherless
 children.
<sup>13</sup> Let his posterity be cut off.
 In the generation following let their name be blotted out.
<sup>14</sup> Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered by Yahweh.
 Don't let the sin of his mother be
 blotted out.
<sup>15</sup> Let them be before Yahweh
 continually,
 that he may cut off their memory
 from the earth;
<sup>16</sup> because he didn't remember to show
 kindness,
 but persecuted the poor and needy
 man,
 the broken in heart, to kill them.
<sup>17</sup> Yes, he loved cursing, and it came to
 him.
 He didn't delight in blessing, and it was far from him.

- 18 He clothed himself also with cursing
as with his garment.
It came into his inward parts like
water,
like oil into his bones.
- 19 Let it be to him as the clothing with which he covers himself,
for the belt that is always around
him.
- 20 This is the reward of my adversaries
from Yahweh,
of those who speak evil against my
soul.
- 21 But deal with me, Yahweh the Lord,<sup>u</sup>
for your name's sake,
because your loving kindness is
good, deliver me;
22 for I am poor and needy.
My heart is wounded within me.
- 23 I fade away like an evening shadow.
I am shaken off like a locust.
- 24 My knees are weak through fasting.
My body is thin and lacks fat.
- 25 I have also become a reproach to
them.
When they see me, they shake their
head.
- 26 Help me, Yahweh, my God.
Save me according to your loving
kindness;
- 27 that they may know that this is your
hand;
that you, Yahweh, have done it.
- 28 They may curse, but you bless.
When they arise, they will be shamed,
but your servant shall rejoice.
- 29 Let my adversaries be clothed with dishonor.

Let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a robe.

- 30 I will give great thanks to Yahweh
with my mouth.
Yes, I will praise him among the multitude.
- 31 For he will stand at the right hand of
the needy,
to save him from those who judge
his soul.

110

A Psalm by David.

- 1 Yahweh says to my Lord, "Sit at my
right hand,
until I make your enemies your footstool for your feet."
- 2 Yahweh will send out the rod of your strength out of Zion.
Rule among your enemies.
- 3 Your people offer themselves willingly
in the day of your power, in holy array.
Out of the womb of the morning,
you have the dew of your
youth.
- 4 Yahweh has sworn, and will not change his mind:
"You are a priest forever in the order of Melchizedek."
- 5 The Lord is at your right hand.
He will crush kings in the day of his
wrath.
- 6 He will judge among the nations.
He will heap up dead bodies.
He will crush the ruler of the whole
earth.
- 7 He will drink of the brook on the way;

therefore he will lift up his head.

111

I will give thanks to Yahweh with
my whole heart,
in the council of the upright, and in
the congregation.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh's works are great,
pondered by all those who delight
in them.

<sup>3</sup> His work is honor and majesty.
His righteousness endures forever.

<sup>4</sup> He has caused his wonderful works to be remembered.
Yahweh is gracious and merciful.

<sup>5</sup> He has given food to those who fear
him.
He always remembers his covenant.

<sup>6</sup> He has shown his people the power of his works,
in giving them the heritage of the
nations.

<sup>7</sup> The works of his hands are truth and
justice.
All his precepts are sure.

<sup>8</sup> They are established forever and ever.
They are done in truth and uprightness.

<sup>9</sup> He has sent redemption to his people.
He has ordained his covenant
forever.
His name is holy and awesome!

<sup>10</sup> The fear of Yahweh is the beginning of wisdom.
All those who do his work have a good understanding.

His praise endures forever!

112

<sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!<sup>w</sup>

Blessed is the man who fears
Yahweh,
who delights greatly in his
commandments.

<sup>2</sup> His offspring<sup>x</sup> will be mighty in the
land.
The generation of the upright will be blessed.

<sup>3</sup> Wealth and riches are in his house.
His righteousness endures forever.

<sup>4</sup> Light dawns in the darkness for the upright,
gracious, merciful, and righteous.

<sup>5</sup> It is well with the man who deals graciously and lends.
He will maintain his cause in
judgment.

<sup>6</sup> For he will never be shaken.
The righteous will be remembered
forever.

<sup>7</sup> He will not be afraid of evil news.
His heart is steadfast, trusting in
Yahweh.

<sup>8</sup> His heart is established.
He will not be afraid in the end
when he sees his
adversaries.

<sup>9</sup> He has dispersed, he has given to the poor.
His righteousness endures forever.
His horn will be exalted with honor.

<sup>10</sup> The wicked will see it, and be grieved.
He shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away.
The desire of the wicked will perish.

113

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!
 Praise, you servants of Yahweh,
 praise Yahweh's name.
- <sup>2</sup> Blessed be Yahweh's name,
 from this time forward and forever
 more.
- <sup>3</sup> From the rising of the sun to the going down of the same,
 Yahweh's name is to be praised.
- <sup>4</sup> Yahweh is high above all nations,
 his glory above the heavens.
- <sup>5</sup> Who is like Yahweh, our God,
 who has his seat on high, <sup>6</sup> Who stoops down to see in heaven and in the earth?
- <sup>7</sup> He raises up the poor out of the dust.
 Lifts up the needy from the ash
 heap;
- <sup>8</sup> that he may set him with princes,
 even with the princes of his people.
- <sup>9</sup> He settles the barren woman in her
 home,
 as a joyful mother of children.
 Praise Yah!

114

- <sup>1</sup> When Israel went out of Egypt,
 the house of Jacob from a people of foreign language;
- <sup>2</sup> Judah became his sanctuary,
 Israel his dominion.
- <sup>3</sup> The sea saw it, and fled.
 The Jordan was driven back.
- <sup>4</sup> The mountains skipped like rams,
 the little hills like lambs.
- <sup>5</sup> What was it, you sea, that you fled?
 You Jordan, that you turned back?

- <sup>6</sup> You mountains, that you skipped like rams;
 you little hills, like lambs?
- <sup>7</sup> Tremble, you earth, at the presence of
 the Lord,
 at the presence of the God of Jacob,
- <sup>8</sup> who turned the rock into a pool of
 water,
 the flint into a spring of waters.

115

- <sup>1</sup> Not to us, Yahweh, not to us,
 but to your name give glory,
 for your loving kindness, and for your truth's sake.
- <sup>2</sup> Why should the nations say,
 "Where is their God, now?"
- <sup>3</sup> But our God is in the heavens.
 He does whatever he pleases.
- <sup>4</sup> Their idols are silver and gold,
 the work of men's hands.
- <sup>5</sup> They have mouths, but they don't
 speak.
 They have eyes, but they don't see.
- <sup>6</sup> They have ears, but they don't hear.
 They have noses, but they don't smell.
- <sup>7</sup> They have hands, but they don't feel.
 They have feet, but they don't walk, neither do they speak through their throat.
- <sup>8</sup> Those who make them will be like
 them;
 yes, everyone who trusts in them.
- <sup>9</sup> Israel, trust in Yahweh!
 He is their help and their shield.
- <sup>10</sup> House of Aaron, trust in Yahweh!
 He is their help and their shield.
- <sup>11</sup> You who fear Yahweh, trust in Yahweh!

He is their help and their shield.
<sup>12</sup> Yahweh remembers us. He will bless
 us.
 He will bless the house of Israel.
 He will bless the house of Aaron.
<sup>13</sup> He will bless those who fear Yahweh,
 both small and great.
<sup>14</sup> May Yahweh increase you more and
 more,
 you and your children.
<sup>15</sup> Blessed are you by Yahweh,
 who made heaven and earth.
<sup>16</sup> The heavens are the heavens of Yahweh;
 but the earth has he given to the
 children of men.
<sup>17</sup> The dead don't praise Yah, neither any who go down into
 silence;
<sup>18</sup> But we will bless Yah,
 from this time forward and forever
 more.
 Praise Yah!

116

<sup>1</sup> I love Yahweh, because he listens to
 my voice,
 and my cries for mercy.
<sup>2</sup> Because he has turned his ear to me,
 therefore I will call on him as long as I live.
<sup>3</sup> The cords of death surrounded me,
 the pains of Sheol<sup>y</sup> got a hold of
 me.
 I found trouble and sorrow.
<sup>4</sup> Then I called on Yahweh's name:
 "Yahweh, I beg you, deliver my
 soul."
<sup>5</sup> Yahweh is Gracious and righteous.

Yes, our God is merciful.
<sup>6</sup> Yahweh preserves the simple.
 I was brought low, and he saved
 me.
<sup>7</sup> Return to your rest, my soul,
 for Yahweh has dealt bountifully
 with you.
<sup>8</sup> For you have delivered my soul from
 death,
 my eyes from tears,
 and my feet from falling.
<sup>9</sup> I will walk before Yahweh in the land
 of the living.
<sup>10</sup> I believed, therefore I said,
 "I was greatly afflicted."
<sup>11</sup> I said in my haste,
 "All men are liars."
<sup>12</sup> What will I give to Yahweh for all his benefits toward me?
<sup>13</sup> I will take the cup of salvation,
 and call on Yahweh's name.
<sup>14</sup> I will pay my vows to Yahweh,
 yes, in the presence of all his
 people.
<sup>15</sup> Precious in Yahweh's sight is the death of his saints.
<sup>16</sup> Yahweh, truly I am your servant.
 I am your servant, the son of your
 servant.
 You have freed me from my chains.
<sup>17</sup> I will offer to you the sacrifice of
 thanksgiving,
 and will call on Yahweh's name.
<sup>18</sup> I will pay my vows to Yahweh,
 yes, in the presence of all his
 people,
<sup>19</sup> in the courts of Yahweh's house,
 in the middle of you, Jerusalem.
 Praise Yah!

<sup>y</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

117

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yahweh, all you nations!
Extol him, all you peoples!
- <sup>2</sup> For his loving kindness is great toward
us.
Yahweh's faithfulness endures
forever.
- Praise Yah!

118

- <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to Yahweh, for he is good,
for his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>2</sup> Let Israel now say
that his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>3</sup> Let the house of Aaron now say
that his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>4</sup> Now let those who fear Yahweh say
that his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>5</sup> Out of my distress, I called on Yah.
Yah answered me with freedom.
- <sup>6</sup> Yahweh is on my side. I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?
- <sup>7</sup> Yahweh is on my side among those who help me.
Therefore I will look in triumph at those who hate me.
- <sup>8</sup> It is better to take refuge in Yahweh,
than to put confidence in man.
- <sup>9</sup> It is better to take refuge in Yahweh,
than to put confidence in princes.
- <sup>10</sup> All the nations surrounded me,
but in Yahweh's name, I cut them
off.
- <sup>11</sup> They surrounded me, yes, they
surrounded me.

- In Yahweh's name I indeed cut them off.
- <sup>12</sup> They surrounded me like bees.
They are quenched like the burning thorns.
In Yahweh's name I cut them off.
- <sup>13</sup> You pushed me back hard, to make me fall,
but Yahweh helped me.
- <sup>14</sup> Yah is my strength and song.
He has become my salvation.
- <sup>15</sup> The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous.
"The right hand of Yahweh does
valiantly.
- <sup>16</sup> The right hand of Yahweh is exalted!
The right hand of Yahweh does
valiantly!"
- <sup>17</sup> I will not die, but live,
and declare Yah's works.
- <sup>18</sup> Yah has punished me severely,
but he has not given me over to
death.
- <sup>19</sup> Open to me the gates of
righteousness.
I will enter into them.
I will give thanks to Yah.
- <sup>20</sup> This is the gate of Yahweh;
the righteous will enter into it.
- <sup>21</sup> I will give thanks to you, for you have
answered me,
and have become my salvation.
- <sup>22</sup> The stone which the builders rejected
has become the head of the corner.
- <sup>23</sup> This is Yahweh's doing.
It is marvelous in our eyes.
- <sup>24</sup> This is the day that Yahweh has
made.
We will rejoice and be glad in it!

- 25 Save us now, we beg you, Yahweh!
Yahweh, we beg you, send prosperity now.
- 26 Blessed is he who comes in Yahweh's
name!
We have blessed you out of Yahweh's house.
- 27 Yahweh is God, and he has given us
light.
Bind the sacrifice with cords, even to the horns of the altar.
- 28 You are my God, and I will give thanks to you.
You are my God, I will exalt you.
- 29 Oh give thanks to Yahweh, for he is
good,
for his loving kindness endures
forever.

ALEPH

- 1 Blessed are those whose ways are blameless,
who walk according to Yahweh's
law.
- 2 Blessed are those who keep his
statutes,
who seek him with their whole
heart.
- 3 Yes, they do nothing wrong.
They walk in his ways.
- 4 You have commanded your precepts,
that we should fully obey them.
- 5 Oh that my ways were steadfast to obey your statutes!
- 6 Then I wouldn't be disappointed,
when I consider all of your
commandments.

- 7 I will give thanks to you with uprightness of heart,
when I learn your righteous judgments.

- 8 I will observe your statutes.
Don't utterly forsake me.

BET

- 9 How can a young man keep his way
pure?

By living according to your word.

- 10 With my whole heart, I have sought
you.

Don't let me wander from your
commandments.

- 11 I have hidden your word in my heart,
that I might not sin against you.

- 12 Blessed are you, Yahweh.
Teach me your statutes.

- 13 With my lips,
I have declared all the ordinances of
your mouth.

- 14 I have rejoiced in the way of your
testimonies,
as much as in all riches.

- 15 I will meditate on your precepts,
and consider your ways.

- 16 I will delight myself in your statutes.
I will not forget your word.

GIMEL

- 17 Do good to your servant.
I will live and I will obey your
word.

- 18 Open my eyes,
that I may see wondrous things out of your law.

- 19 I am a stranger on the earth.

Don't hide your commandments
from me.

- 20 My soul is consumed with longing for your ordinances at all times.
- 21 You have rebuked the proud who are cursed,
who wander from your
commandments.
- 22 Take reproach and contempt away
from me,
for I have kept your statutes.
- 23 Though princes sit and slander me,
your servant will meditate on your
statutes.
- 24 Indeed your statutes are my delight,
and my counselors.

DALED

- 25 My soul is laid low in the dust.
Revive me according to your word!
- 26 I declared my ways, and you
answered me.
Teach me your statutes.
- 27 Let me understand the teaching of your precepts!
Then I will meditate on your
wondrous works.
- 28 My soul is weary with sorrow:
strengthen me according to your
word.
- 29 Keep me from the way of deceit.
Grant me your law graciously!
- 30 I have chosen the way of truth.
I have set your ordinances before
me.
- 31 I cling to your statutes, Yahweh.
Don't let me be disappointed.
- 32 I run in the path of your
commandments,
for you have set my heart free.

HEY

- 33 Teach me, Yahweh, the way of your
statutes.
I will keep them to the end.
- 34 Give me understanding, and I will keep your law.
Yes, I will obey it with my whole
heart.
- 35 Direct me in the path of your
commandments,
for I delight in them.
- 36 Turn my heart toward your statutes,
not toward selfish gain.
- 37 Turn my eyes away from looking at worthless things.
Revive me in your ways.
- 38 Fulfill your promise to your servant,
that you may be feared.
- 39 Take away my disgrace that I dread,
for your ordinances are good.
- 40 Behold, I long for your precepts!
Revive me in your righteousness.

WAW

- 41 Let your loving kindness also come to me, Yahweh,
your salvation, according to your
word.
- 42 So I will have an answer for him who reproaches me,
for I trust in your word.
- 43 Don't snatch the word of truth out of my mouth,
for I put my hope in your
ordinances.
- 44 So I will obey your law continually,
forever and ever.
- 45 I will walk in liberty,
for I have sought your precepts.

- 46 I will also speak of your statutes
before kings,
and will not be disappointed.
- 47 I will delight myself in your
commandments,
because I love them.
- 48 I reach out my hands for your commandments, which I
love.
I will meditate on your statutes.

ZAYIN

- 49 Remember your word to your servant,
because you gave me hope.
- 50 This is my comfort in my affliction,
for your word has revived me.
- 51 The arrogant mock me excessively,
but I don't swerve from your law.
- 52 I remember your ordinances of old,
Yahweh,
and have comforted myself.
- 53 Indignation has taken hold on me,
because of the wicked who forsake
your law.
- 54 Your statutes have been my songs,
in the house where I live.
- 55 I have remembered your name, Yahweh, in the night,
and I obey your law.
- 56 This is my way,
that I keep your precepts.

CHET

- 57 Yahweh is my portion.
I promised to obey your words.
- 58 I sought your favor with my whole
heart.
Be merciful to me according to your word.

- 59 I considered my ways,
and turned my steps to your
statutes.
- 60 I will hurry, and not delay,
to obey your commandments.
- 61 The ropes of the wicked bind me,
but I won't forget your law.
- 62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks
to you,
because of your righteous
ordinances.
- 63 I am a friend of all those who fear
you,
of those who observe your precepts.
- 64 The earth is full of your loving kindness, Yahweh.
Teach me your statutes.

TET

- 65 Do good to your servant,
according to your word, Yahweh.
- 66 Teach me good judgment and
knowledge,
for I believe in your
commandments.
- 67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray;
but now I observe your word.
- 68 You are good, and do good.
Teach me your statutes.
- 69 The proud have smeared a lie upon
me.
With my whole heart, I will keep
your precepts.
- 70 Their heart is as callous as the fat,
but I delight in your law.
- 71 It is good for me that I have been
afflicted,
that I may learn your statutes.

72 The law of your mouth is better to me than thousands of pieces of gold and silver.

YUD

73 Your hands have made me and formed me.
Give me understanding, that I may learn your commandments.

74 Those who fear you will see me and
be glad,
because I have put my hope in your
word.

75 Yahweh, I know that your judgments
are righteous,
that in faithfulness you have
afflicted me.

76 Please let your loving kindness be for my comfort,
according to your word to your
servant.

77 Let your tender mercies come to me,
that I may live;
for your law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be disappointed, for they have overthrown me
wrongfully.
I will meditate on your precepts.

79 Let those who fear you turn to me.
They will know your statutes.

80 Let my heart be blameless toward your decrees,
that I may not be disappointed.

KAF

81 My soul faints for your salvation.
I hope in your word.

82 My eyes fail for your word.

I say, "When will you comfort
me?"

83 For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke.
I don't forget your statutes.

84 How many are the days of your
servant?
When will you execute judgment
on those who persecute me?

85 The proud have dug pits for me,
contrary to your law.

86 All of your commandments are faithful.
They persecute me wrongfully.
Help me!

87 They had almost wiped me from the
earth,
but I didn't forsake your precepts.

88 Preserve my life according to your
loving kindness,
so I will obey the statutes of your
mouth.

LAMED

89 Yahweh, your word is settled in heaven forever.

90 Your faithfulness is to all generations.
You have established the earth, and it remains.

91 Your laws remain to this day,
for all things serve you.

92 Unless your law had been my delight,
I would have perished in my
affliction.

93 I will never forget your precepts,
for with them, you have revived
me.

94 I am yours.
Save me, for I have sought your
precepts.

- <sup>95</sup> The wicked have waited for me, to destroy me.
I will consider your statutes.
<sup>96</sup> I have seen a limit to all perfection,
but your commands are boundless.

MEM

- <sup>97</sup> How I love your law!
It is my meditation all day.
<sup>98</sup> Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies,
for your commandments are always
with me.
<sup>99</sup> I have more understanding than all
my teachers,
for your testimonies are my meditation.
<sup>100</sup> I understand more than the aged,
because I have kept your precepts.
<sup>101</sup> I have kept my feet from every evil
way,
that I might observe your word.
<sup>102</sup> I have not turned aside from your
ordinances,
for you have taught me.
<sup>103</sup> How sweet are your promises to my taste,
more than honey to my mouth!
<sup>104</sup> Through your precepts, I get
understanding;
therefore I hate every false way.

NUN

- <sup>105</sup> Your word is a lamp to my feet,
and a light for my path.
<sup>106</sup> I have sworn, and have confirmed it,
that I will obey your righteous
ordinances.
<sup>107</sup> I am afflicted very much.

Revive me, Yahweh, according to
your word.

- <sup>108</sup> Accept, I beg you, the willing offerings of my mouth.
Yahweh, teach me your ordinances.
<sup>109</sup> My soul is continually in my hand,
yet I won't forget your law.
<sup>110</sup> The wicked have laid a snare for me, yet I haven't gone astray from your
precepts.
<sup>111</sup> I have taken your testimonies as a heritage forever,
for they are the joy of my heart.
<sup>112</sup> I have set my heart to perform your statutes forever,
even to the end.

SAMEKH

- <sup>113</sup> I hate double-minded men,
but I love your law.
<sup>114</sup> You are my hiding place and my shield.
I hope in your word.
<sup>115</sup> Depart from me, you evildoers,
that I may keep the commandments
of my God.
<sup>116</sup> Uphold me according to your word,
that I may live.
Let me not be ashamed of my hope.
<sup>117</sup> Hold me up, and I will be safe,
and will have respect for your statutes continually.
<sup>118</sup> You reject all those who stray from your statutes,
for their deceit is in vain.
<sup>119</sup> You put away all the wicked of the earth like dross.
Therefore I love your testimonies.
<sup>120</sup> My flesh trembles for fear of you.
I am afraid of your judgments.

AYIN

- 121 I have done what is just and
righteous.
Don't leave me to my oppressors.
- 122 Ensure your servant's well-being.
Don't let the proud oppress me.
- 123 My eyes fail looking for your
salvation,
for your righteous word.
- 124 Deal with your servant according to
your loving kindness.
Teach me your statutes.
- 125 I am your servant. Give me
understanding,
that I may know your testimonies.
- 126 It is time to act, Yahweh,
for they break your law.
- 127 Therefore I love your commandments more than
gold,
yes, more than pure gold.
- 128 Therefore I consider all of your precepts to be right.
I hate every false way.

PEY

- 129 Your testimonies are wonderful,
therefore my soul keeps them.
- 130 The entrance of your words gives
light.
It gives understanding to the simple.
- 131 I opened my mouth wide and panted,
for I longed for your
commandments.
- 132 Turn to me, and have mercy on me,
as you always do to those who love
your name.

- 133 Establish my footsteps in your word.
Don't let any iniquity have dominion over me.
- 134 Redeem me from the oppression of
man,
so I will observe your precepts.
- 135 Make your face shine on your
servant.
Teach me your statutes.
- 136 Streams of tears run down my eyes,
because they don't observe your
law.

TZADI

- 137 You are righteous, Yahweh.
Your judgments are upright.
- 138 You have commanded your statutes
in righteousness.
They are fully trustworthy.
- 139 My zeal wears me out, because my enemies ignore your
words.
- 140 Your promises have been thoroughly tested,
and your servant loves them.
- 141 I am small and despised.
I don't forget your precepts.
- 142 Your righteousness is an everlasting
righteousness.
Your law is truth.
- 143 Trouble and anguish have taken hold
of me.
Your commandments are my
delight.
- 144 Your testimonies are righteous
forever.
Give me understanding, that I may
live.

KUF

- 145 I have called with my whole heart.
 Answer me, Yahweh!
 I will keep your statutes.
- 146 I have called to you. Save me!
 I will obey your statutes.
- 147 I rise before dawn and cry for help.
 I put my hope in your words.
- 148 My eyes stay open through the night
 watches,
 that I might meditate on your word.
- 149 Hear my voice according to your
 loving kindness.
 Revive me, Yahweh, according to
 your ordinances.
- 150 They draw near who follow after
 wickedness.
 They are far from your law.
- 151 You are near, Yahweh.
 All your commandments are truth.
- 152 Of old I have known from your
 testimonies,
 that you have founded them
 forever.

RESH

- 153 Consider my affliction, and deliver
 me,
 for I don't forget your law.
- 154 Plead my cause, and redeem me!
 Revive me according to your promise.
- 155 Salvation is far from the wicked,
 for they don't seek your statutes.
- 156 Great are your tender mercies,
 Yahweh.
 Revive me according to your
 ordinances.

- 157 Many are my persecutors and my
 adversaries.
 I haven't swerved from your
 testimonies.
- 158 I look at the faithless with loathing,
 because they don't observe your
 word.
- 159 Consider how I love your precepts.
 Revive me, Yahweh, according to
 your loving kindness.
- 160 All of your words are truth.
 Every one of your righteous ordinances endures forever.

SIN AND SHIN

- 161 Princes have persecuted me without
 a cause,
 but my heart stands in awe of your
 words.
- 162 I rejoice at your word,
 as one who finds great plunder.
- 163 I hate and abhor falsehood.
 I love your law.
- 164 Seven times a day, I praise you,
 because of your righteous
 ordinances.
- 165 Those who love your law have great
 peace.
 Nothing causes them to stumble.
- 166 I have hoped for your salvation,
 Yahweh.
 I have done your commandments.
- 167 My soul has observed your
 testimonies.
 I love them exceedingly.
- 168 I have obeyed your precepts and your testimonies,
 for all my ways are before you.

TAV

- 169 Let my cry come before you,
Yahweh.
Give me understanding according to your word.
- 170 Let my supplication come before
you.
Deliver me according to your word.
- 171 Let my lips utter praise,
for you teach me your statutes.
- 172 Let my tongue sing of your word,
for all your commandments are
righteousness.
- 173 Let your hand be ready to help me,
for I have chosen your precepts.
- 174 I have longed for your salvation,
Yahweh.
Your law is my delight.
- 175 Let my soul live, that I may praise
you.
Let your ordinances help me.
- 176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep.
Seek your servant, for I don't forget your commandments.

120

A Song of Ascents.

- 1 In my distress, I cried to Yahweh.
He answered me.
- 2 Deliver my soul, Yahweh, from lying
lips,
from a deceitful tongue.
- 3 What will be given to you, and what will be done more to you,
you deceitful tongue?
- 4 Sharp arrows of the mighty,
with coals of juniper.

- 5 Woe is me, that I live in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar!
- 6 My soul has had her dwelling too long
with him who hates peace.
- 7 I am for peace,
but when I speak, they are for war.

121

A Song of Ascents.

- 1 I will lift up my eyes to the hills.
Where does my help come from?
- 2 My help comes from Yahweh,
who made heaven and earth.
- 3 He will not allow your foot to be moved.
He who keeps you will not slumber.
- 4 Behold, he who keeps Israel
will neither slumber nor sleep.
- 5 Yahweh is your keeper.
Yahweh is your shade on your right
hand.
- 6 The sun will not harm you by day,
nor the moon by night.
- 7 Yahweh will keep you from all evil.
He will keep your soul.
- 8 Yahweh will keep your going out and your coming in,
from this time forward, and forever
more.

122

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- 1 I was glad when they said to me,
"Let's go to Yahweh's house!"
- 2 Our feet are standing within your gates, Jerusalem;

- <sup>3</sup> Jerusalem, that is built as a city
that is compact together;
<sup>4</sup> where the tribes go up, even Yah's tribes,
according to an ordinance for Israel,
to give thanks to Yahweh's name.
<sup>5</sup> For there are set thrones for judgment,
the thrones of David's house.
<sup>6</sup> Pray for the peace of Jerusalem.
Those who love you will prosper.
<sup>7</sup> Peace be within your walls,
and prosperity within your palaces.
<sup>8</sup> For my brothers' and companions'
sakes,
I will now say, "Peace be within
you."
<sup>9</sup> For the sake of the house of Yahweh
our God,
I will seek your good.

123

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> To you I do lift up my eyes,
you who sit in the heavens.
<sup>2</sup> Behold, as the eyes of servants look to the hand of their master,
as the eyes of a maid to the hand of
her mistress;
so our eyes look to Yahweh, our
God,
until he has mercy on us.
<sup>3</sup> Have mercy on us, Yahweh, have mercy on us,
for we have endured much
contempt.
<sup>4</sup> Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scoffing of those who are at ease,

with the contempt of the proud.

124

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- <sup>1</sup> If it had not been Yahweh who was on
our side,
let Israel now say,
<sup>2</sup> if it had not been Yahweh who was on
our side,
when men rose up against us;
<sup>3</sup> then they would have swallowed us up
alive,
when their wrath was kindled
against us;
<sup>4</sup> then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
the stream would have gone over
our soul;
<sup>5</sup> then the proud waters would have gone
over our soul.
<sup>6</sup> Blessed be Yahweh,
who has not given us as a prey to their teeth.
<sup>7</sup> Our soul has escaped like a bird out of the fowler's snare.
The snare is broken, and we have escaped.
<sup>8</sup> Our help is in Yahweh's name,
who made heaven and earth.

125

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Those who trust in Yahweh are as Mount Zion,
which can't be moved, but remains
forever.
<sup>2</sup> As the mountains surround Jerusalem,

so Yahweh surrounds his people
from this time forward and forever more.

- <sup>3</sup> For the scepter of wickedness won't remain over the allotment of
the righteous;
so that the righteous won't use their hands to do evil.
- <sup>4</sup> Do good, Yahweh, to those who are
good,
to those who are upright in their hearts.
- <sup>5</sup> But as for those who turn aside to their crooked ways, Yahweh will lead them away with the workers of iniquity.
- Peace be on Israel.

126

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> When Yahweh brought back those who returned to Zion,
we were like those who dream.
- <sup>2</sup> Then our mouth was filled with
laughter,
and our tongue with singing.
Then they said among the nations,
"Yahweh has done great things for
them."
- <sup>3</sup> Yahweh has done great things for us,
and we are glad.
- <sup>4</sup> Restore our fortunes again, Yahweh,
like the streams in the Negev.
- <sup>5</sup> Those who sow in tears will reap in
joy.
- <sup>6</sup> He who goes out weeping,
carrying seed for sowing,
will certainly come again with joy,
carrying his sheaves.

127

A Song of Ascents. By Solomon.

- <sup>1</sup> Unless Yahweh builds the house,
they labor in vain who build it.
Unless Yahweh watches over the city,
the watchman guards it in vain.
- <sup>2</sup> It is vain for you to rise up early,
to stay up late,
eating the bread of toil;
for he gives sleep to his loved ones.
- <sup>3</sup> Behold, children are a heritage of
Yahweh.
The fruit of the womb is his reward.
- <sup>4</sup> As arrows in the hand of a mighty
man,
so are the children of youth.
- <sup>5</sup> Happy is the man who has his quiver
full of them.
They won't be disappointed when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed is everyone who fears
Yahweh,
who walks in his ways.
- <sup>2</sup> For you will eat the labor of your
hands.
You will be happy, and it will be well with you.
- <sup>3</sup> Your wife will be as a fruitful vine,
in the innermost parts of your
house;
your children like olive plants,
around your table.

- <sup>4</sup> Behold, thus is the man blessed who fears Yahweh.
<sup>5</sup> May Yahweh bless you out of Zion,
and may you see the good of Jerusalem all the days of your life.
<sup>6</sup> Yes, may you see your children's
children.
Peace be upon Israel.

129

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Many times they have afflicted me
from my youth up.
Let Israel now say,
<sup>2</sup> many times they have afflicted me
from my youth up,
yet they have not prevailed against
me.
<sup>3</sup> The plowers plowed on my back.
They made their furrows long.
<sup>4</sup> Yahweh is righteous.
He has cut apart the cords of the
wicked.
<sup>5</sup> Let them be disappointed and turned backward,
all those who hate Zion.
<sup>6</sup> Let them be as the grass on the housetops,
which withers before it grows up;
<sup>7</sup> with which the reaper doesn't fill his
hand,
nor he who binds sheaves, his
bosom.
<sup>8</sup> Neither do those who go by say,
"The blessing of Yahweh be on
you.
We bless you in Yahweh's name."

130

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Out of the depths I have cried to you,
Yahweh.
<sup>2</sup> Lord, hear my voice.
Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my petitions.
<sup>3</sup> If you, Yah, kept a record of sins,
Lord, who could stand?
<sup>4</sup> But there is forgiveness with you,
therefore you are feared.
<sup>5</sup> I wait for Yahweh.
My soul waits.
I hope in his word.
<sup>6</sup> My soul longs for the Lord more than watchmen long for the
morning;
more than watchmen for the
morning.
<sup>7</sup> Israel, hope in Yahweh,
for with Yahweh there is loving
kindness.
With him is abundant redemption.
<sup>8</sup> He will redeem Israel from all their sins.

131

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, my heart isn't haughty, nor
my eyes lofty;
nor do I concern myself with great
matters,
or things too wonderful for me.
<sup>2</sup> Surely I have stilled and quieted my
soul,
like a weaned child with his
mother,

like a weaned child is my soul
within me.

- <sup>3</sup> Israel, hope in Yahweh,
from this time forward and forever
more.

132

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, remember David and all his
affliction,
<sup>2</sup> how he swore to Yahweh,
and vowed to the Mighty One of
Jacob:
<sup>3</sup> “Surely I will not come into the structure of my house,
nor go up into my bed;
<sup>4</sup> I will not give sleep to my eyes,
or slumber to my eyelids;
<sup>5</sup> until I find out a place for Yahweh,
a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob.”
<sup>6</sup> Behold, we heard of it in Ephrathah.
We found it in the field of Jaar:
<sup>7</sup> “We will go into his dwelling place.
We will worship at his footstool.
<sup>8</sup> Arise, Yahweh, into your resting place;
you, and the ark of your strength.
<sup>9</sup> Let your priest be clothed with
righteousness.
Let your saints shout for joy!”
<sup>10</sup> For your servant David’s sake, don’t turn away the face of your anointed one.
<sup>11</sup> Yahweh has sworn to David in truth.
He will not turn from it:
“I will set the fruit of your body on your throne.

- <sup>12</sup> If your children will keep my
covenant,
my testimony that I will teach them,
their children also will sit on your throne forever more.”

- <sup>13</sup> For Yahweh has chosen Zion.
He has desired it for his habitation.

- <sup>14</sup> “This is my resting place forever.
Here I will live, for I have desired
it.

- <sup>15</sup> I will abundantly bless her provision.
I will satisfy her poor with bread.

- <sup>16</sup> Her priests I will also clothe with
salvation.
Her saints will shout aloud for joy.

- <sup>17</sup> There I will make the horn of David to bud.
I have ordained a lamp for my
anointed.

- <sup>18</sup> I will clothe his enemies with shame,
but on himself, his crown will be resplendent.”

133

A Song of Ascents. By David.

- <sup>1</sup> See how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to live together in unity!
<sup>2</sup> It is like the precious oil on the head,
that ran down on the beard,
even Aaron’s beard;
that came down on the edge of his robes;
<sup>3</sup> like the dew of Hermon,
that comes down on the hills of Zion:
for there Yahweh gives the
blessing,
even life forever more.

134

A Song of Ascents.

- <sup>1</sup> Look! Praise Yahweh, all you servants
of Yahweh,
who stand by night in Yahweh's
house!
- <sup>2</sup> Lift up your hands in the sanctuary.
Praise Yahweh!
- <sup>3</sup> May Yahweh bless you from Zion;
even he who made heaven and earth.

135

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!
Praise Yahweh's name!
Praise him, you servants of
Yahweh,
- <sup>2</sup> you who stand in Yahweh's house,
in the courts of our God's house.
- <sup>3</sup> Praise Yah, for Yahweh is good.
Sing praises to his name, for that is pleasant.
- <sup>4</sup> For Yah has chosen Jacob for himself;
Israel for his own possession.
- <sup>5</sup> For I know that Yahweh is great,
that our Lord is above all gods.
- <sup>6</sup> Whatever Yahweh pleased, that he has done,
in heaven and in earth, in the seas
and in all deeps;
- <sup>7</sup> who causes the clouds to rise from the
ends of the earth;
who makes lightnings with the rain;
who brings the wind out of his
treasuries;
- <sup>8</sup> Who struck the firstborn of Egypt,
both of man and animal;
- <sup>9</sup> Who sent signs and wonders into the middle of you, Egypt,

- on Pharaoh, and on all his servants;
<sup>10</sup> who struck many nations,
and killed mighty kings,
- <sup>11</sup> Sihon king of the Amorites,
Og king of Bashan,
and all the kingdoms of Canaan,
- <sup>12</sup> and gave their land for a heritage,
a heritage to Israel, his people.
- <sup>13</sup> Your name, Yahweh, endures forever;
your renown, Yahweh, throughout
all generations.
- <sup>14</sup> For Yahweh will judge his people,
and have compassion on his
servants.
- <sup>15</sup> The idols of the nations are silver and
gold,
the work of men's hands.
- <sup>16</sup> They have mouths, but they can't
speak.
They have eyes, but they can't see.
- <sup>17</sup> They have ears, but they can't hear;
neither is there any breath in their
mouths.
- <sup>18</sup> Those who make them will be like
them;
yes, everyone who trusts in them.
- <sup>19</sup> House of Israel, praise Yahweh!
House of Aaron, praise Yahweh!
- <sup>20</sup> House of Levi, praise Yahweh!
You who fear Yahweh, praise
Yahweh!
- <sup>21</sup> Blessed be Yahweh from Zion,
Who dwells at Jerusalem.
Praise Yah!

136

- <sup>1</sup> Give thanks to Yahweh, for he is good;
for his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>2</sup> Give thanks to the God of gods;

- for his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>3</sup> Give thanks to the Lord of lords;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>4</sup> To him who alone does great wonders;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>5</sup> To him who by understanding made
the heavens;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>6</sup> To him who spread out the earth above
the waters;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>7</sup> To him who made the great lights;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>8</sup> The sun to rule by day;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>9</sup> The moon and stars to rule by night;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>10</sup> To him who struck down the Egyptian firstborn;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>11</sup> And brought out Israel from among
them;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>12</sup> With a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>13</sup> To him who divided the Red Sea
apart;
- for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>14</sup> And made Israel to pass through the middle of it;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>15</sup> But overthrew Pharaoh and his army
in the Red Sea;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>16</sup> To him who led his people through
the wilderness;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>17</sup> To him who struck great kings;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>18</sup> And killed mighty kings;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>19</sup> Sihon king of the Amorites;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>20</sup> Og king of Bashan;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>21</sup> And gave their land as an inheritance;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>22</sup> Even a heritage to Israel his servant;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:
- <sup>23</sup> Who remembered us in our low
estate;
for his loving kindness endures
forever;
- <sup>24</sup> And has delivered us from our
adversaries;
for his loving kindness endures
forever:

- <sup>25</sup> Who gives food to every creature;
for his loving kindness endures
forever.
- <sup>26</sup> Oh give thanks to the God of heaven;
for his loving kindness endures
forever.

137

- <sup>1</sup> By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat
down.
Yes, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
- <sup>2</sup> On the willows in that land,
we hung up our harps.
- <sup>3</sup> For there, those who led us captive
asked us for songs.
Those who tormented us demanded
songs of joy:
“Sing us one of the songs of Zion!”
- <sup>4</sup> How can we sing Yahweh’s song in a foreign land?
- <sup>5</sup> If I forget you, Jerusalem,
let my right hand forget its skill.
- <sup>6</sup> Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth if I don’t remember
you;
if I don’t prefer Jerusalem above
my chief joy.
- <sup>7</sup> Remember, Yahweh, against the children of Edom,
the day of Jerusalem;
who said, “Raze it!
Raze it even to its foundation!”
- <sup>8</sup> Daughter of Babylon, doomed to
destruction,
he will be happy who rewards you,
as you have served us.
- <sup>9</sup> Happy shall he be,
who takes and dashes your little ones against the rock.

138

By David.

- <sup>1</sup> I will give you thanks with my whole
heart.
Before the gods,<sup>z</sup> I will sing praises
to you.
- <sup>2</sup> I will bow down toward your holy
temple,
and give thanks to your Name for your loving kindness and for your truth;
for you have exalted your Name
and your Word above all.
- <sup>3</sup> In the day that I called, you answered
me.
You encouraged me with strength
in my soul.
- <sup>4</sup> All the kings of the earth will give you
thanks, Yahweh,
for they have heard the words of
your mouth.
- <sup>5</sup> Yes, they will sing of the ways of Yahweh;
for great is Yahweh’s glory.
- <sup>6</sup> For though Yahweh is high, yet he looks after the lowly;
but the proud, he knows from afar.
- <sup>7</sup> Though I walk in the middle of trouble, you will revive me.
You will stretch out your hand against the wrath of my
enemies.
Your right hand will save me.
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh will fulfill that which concerns me;
your loving kindness, Yahweh,
endures forever.

<sup>z</sup> The word elohim, used here, usually means “God” but can also mean “gods”, “princes”, or “angels”.

Don't forsake the works of your own hands.

139

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, you have searched me,
and you know me.
- <sup>2</sup> You know my sitting down and my rising up.
You perceive my thoughts from afar.
- <sup>3</sup> You search out my path and my lying
down,
and are acquainted with all my
ways.
- <sup>4</sup> For there is not a word on my tongue,
but, behold, Yahweh, you know it altogether.
- <sup>5</sup> You hem me in behind and before.
You laid your hand on me.
- <sup>6</sup> This knowledge is beyond me.
It's lofty.
I can't attain it.
- <sup>7</sup> Where could I go from your Spirit?
Or where could I flee from your
presence?
- <sup>8</sup> If I ascend up into heaven, you are
there.
If I make my bed in Sheol,<sup>a</sup> behold,
you are there!
- <sup>9</sup> If I take the wings of the dawn,
and settle in the uttermost parts of
the sea;
- <sup>10</sup> Even there your hand will lead me,
and your right hand will hold me.
- <sup>11</sup> If I say, "Surely the darkness will overwhelm me;
the light around me will be night";

- <sup>12</sup> even the darkness doesn't hide from
you,
but the night shines as the day.
The darkness is like light to you.
- <sup>13</sup> For you formed my inmost being.
You knit me together in my
mother's womb.
- <sup>14</sup> I will give thanks to you,
for I am fearfully and wonderfully
made.
Your works are wonderful.
My soul knows that very well.
- <sup>15</sup> My frame wasn't hidden from you,
when I was made in secret,
woven together in the depths of the
earth.
- <sup>16</sup> Your eyes saw my body.
In your book they were all written,
the days that were ordained for me,
when as yet there were none of
them.
- <sup>17</sup> How precious to me are your thoughts, God!
How vast is their sum!
- <sup>18</sup> If I would count them, they are more
in number than the sand.
When I wake up, I am still with
you.
- <sup>19</sup> If only you, God, would kill the
wicked.
Get away from me, you
bloodthirsty men!
- <sup>20</sup> For they speak against you wickedly.
Your enemies take your name in
vain.
- <sup>21</sup> Yahweh, don't I hate those who hate
you?
Am I not grieved with those who rise up against you?
- <sup>22</sup> I hate them with perfect hatred.

<sup>a</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- They have become my enemies.
<sup>23</sup> Search me, God, and know my heart.
 Try me, and know my thoughts.
<sup>24</sup> See if there is any wicked way in me,
 and lead me in the everlasting way.

140

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Deliver me, Yahweh, from the evil
 man.
 Preserve me from the violent man;
<sup>2</sup> those who devise mischief in their hearts.
 They continually gather themselves
 together for war.
<sup>3</sup> They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent.
 Viper's poison is under their lips.
Selah.
<sup>4</sup> Yahweh, keep me from the hands of
 the wicked.
 Preserve me from the violent men who have determined to trip
 my feet.
<sup>5</sup> The proud have hidden a snare for me,
 they have spread the cords of a net
 by the path.
 They have set traps for me.
Selah.
<sup>6</sup> I said to Yahweh, "You are my God."
 Listen to the cry of my petitions,
 Yahweh.
<sup>7</sup> Yahweh, the Lord, the strength of my
 salvation,
 you have covered my head in the day of battle.
<sup>8</sup> Yahweh, don't grant the desires of the
 wicked.

Don't let their evil plans succeed,
 or they will become proud.

Selah.

- <sup>9</sup> As for the head of those who surround
 me,
 let the mischief of their own lips
 cover them.
<sup>10</sup> Let burning coals fall on them.
 Let them be thrown into the fire,
 into miry pits, from where they never rise.
<sup>11</sup> An evil speaker won't be established in the earth.
 Evil will hunt the violent man to overthrow him.
<sup>12</sup> I know that Yahweh will maintain the cause of the afflicted,
 and justice for the needy.
<sup>13</sup> Surely the righteous will give thanks to your name.
 The upright will dwell in your
 presence.

141

A Psalm by David.

- <sup>1</sup> Yahweh, I have called on you.
 Come to me quickly!
 Listen to my voice when I call to
 you.
<sup>2</sup> Let my prayer be set before you like incense;
 the lifting up of my hands like the evening sacrifice.
<sup>3</sup> Set a watch, Yahweh, before my
 mouth.
 Keep the door of my lips.
<sup>4</sup> Don't incline my heart to any evil
 thing,

to practice deeds of wickedness
 with men who work iniquity.
 Don't let me eat of their delicacies.

<sup>5</sup> Let the righteous strike me, it is
 kindness;
 let him reprove me, it is like oil on
 the head;
 don't let my head refuse it;
 Yet my prayer is always against evil deeds.

<sup>6</sup> Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock.
 They will hear my words, for they are well spoken.

<sup>7</sup> "As when one plows and breaks up the
 earth,
 our bones are scattered at the mouth
 of Sheol."<sup>b</sup>

<sup>8</sup> For my eyes are on you, Yahweh, the Lord.
 In you, I take refuge.
 Don't leave my soul destitute.

<sup>9</sup> Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me,
 from the traps of the workers of
 iniquity.

<sup>10</sup> Let the wicked fall together into their own nets,
 while I pass by.

142

A contemplation by David, when he was in the cave. A Prayer.

<sup>1</sup> I cry with my voice to Yahweh.
 With my voice, I ask Yahweh for mercy.

<sup>2</sup> I pour out my complaint before him.

I tell him my troubles.

<sup>3</sup> When my spirit was overwhelmed
 within me,
 you knew my route.
 On the path in which I walk,
 they have hidden a snare for me.

<sup>4</sup> Look on my right, and see;
 for there is no one who is concerned for me.
 Refuge has fled from me.
 No one cares for my soul.

<sup>5</sup> I cried to you, Yahweh.
 I said, "You are my refuge,
 my portion in the land of the
 living."

<sup>6</sup> Listen to my cry,
 for I am in desperate need.
 deliver me from my persecutors,
 For they are stronger than me.

<sup>7</sup> Bring my soul out of prison,
 that I may give thanks to your
 name.

The righteous will surround me,
 for you will be good to me.

143

<sup>1</sup> Hear my prayer, Yahweh.
 Listen to my petitions.
 In your faithfulness and righteousness, relieve me.

<sup>2</sup> Don't enter into judgment with your
 servant,
 for in your sight no man living is
 righteous.

<sup>3</sup> For the enemy pursues my soul.
 He has struck my life down to the
 ground.

<sup>b</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

He has made me live in dark places,
as those who have been long
dead.

- <sup>4</sup> Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed
within me.
My heart within me is desolate.
- <sup>5</sup> I remember the days of old.
I meditate on all your doings.
I contemplate the work of your
hands.
- <sup>6</sup> I spread out my hands to you.
My soul thirsts for you, like a parched land.
Selah.
- <sup>7</sup> Hurry to answer me, Yahweh.
My spirit fails.
Don't hide your face from me,
so that I don't become like those who go down into the pit.
- <sup>8</sup> Cause me to hear your loving kindness
in the morning,
for I trust in you.
Cause me to know the way in which I should walk,
for I lift up my soul to you.
- <sup>9</sup> Deliver me, Yahweh, from my
enemies.
I flee to you to hide me.
- <sup>10</sup> Teach me to do your will,
for you are my God.
Your Spirit is good.
Lead me in the land of uprightness.
- <sup>11</sup> Revive me, Yahweh, for your name's
sake.
In your righteousness, bring my soul out of trouble.
- <sup>12</sup> In your loving kindness, cut off my
enemies,
and destroy all those who afflict my
soul,
For I am your servant.

144

By David.

- <sup>1</sup> Blessed be Yahweh, my rock,
who teaches my hands to war,
and my fingers to battle:
- <sup>2</sup> my loving kindness, my fortress,
my high tower, my deliverer,
my shield, and he in whom I take
refuge;
who subdues my people under me.
- <sup>3</sup> Yahweh, what is man, that you care for
him?
Or the son of man, that you think of
him?
- <sup>4</sup> Man is like a breath.
His days are like a shadow that passes away.
- <sup>5</sup> Part your heavens, Yahweh, and come
down.
Touch the mountains, and they will
smoke.
- <sup>6</sup> Throw out lightning, and scatter them.
Send out your arrows, and rout
them.
- <sup>7</sup> Stretch out your hand from above,
rescue me, and deliver me out of
great waters,
out of the hands of foreigners;
- <sup>8</sup> whose mouths speak deceit, Whose right hand is a right hand of
falsehood.
- <sup>9</sup> I will sing a new song to you, God.
On a ten-stringed lyre, I will sing
praises to you.
- <sup>10</sup> You are he who gives salvation to
kings,
who rescues David, his servant,
from the deadly sword.

- <sup>11</sup> Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hands of foreigners,
whose mouths speak deceit,
whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
- <sup>12</sup> Then our sons will be like well-nurtured plants,
our daughters like pillars carved to adorn a palace.
- <sup>13</sup> Our barns are full, filled with all kinds of provision.
Our sheep produce thousands and ten thousands in our fields.
- <sup>14</sup> Our oxen will pull heavy loads.
There is no breaking in, and no going away,
and no outcry in our streets.
- <sup>15</sup> Happy are the people who are in such a situation.
Happy are the people whose God is Yahweh.

145

A praise psalm by David.<sup>c</sup>

- <sup>1</sup> I will exalt you, my God, the King.
I will praise your name forever and ever.
- <sup>2</sup> Every day I will praise you.
I will extol your name forever and ever.
- <sup>3</sup> Great is Yahweh, and greatly to be praised!
His greatness is unsearchable.
- <sup>4</sup> One generation will commend your works to another,
and will declare your mighty acts.
- <sup>5</sup> Of the glorious majesty of your honor,

- of your wondrous works, I will meditate.
- <sup>6</sup> Men will speak of the might of your awesome acts.
I will declare your greatness.
- <sup>7</sup> They will utter the memory of your great goodness,
and will sing of your righteousness.
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh is gracious, merciful,
slow to anger, and of great loving kindness.
- <sup>9</sup> Yahweh is good to all.
His tender mercies are over all his works.
- <sup>10</sup> All your works will give thanks to you, Yahweh.
Your saints will extol you.
- <sup>11</sup> They will speak of the glory of your kingdom,
and talk about your power;
- <sup>12</sup> to make known to the sons of men his mighty acts,
the glory of the majesty of his kingdom.
- <sup>13</sup> Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom.
Your dominion endures throughout all generations.
Yahweh is faithful in all his words,
and loving in all his deeds.<sup>d</sup>
- <sup>14</sup> Yahweh upholds all who fall,
and raises up all those who are bowed down.
- <sup>15</sup> The eyes of all wait for you.
You give them their food in due season.
- <sup>16</sup> You open your hand,
and satisfy the desire of every living thing.

- <sup>17</sup> Yahweh is righteous in all his ways,
and gracious in all his works.
- <sup>18</sup> Yahweh is near to all those who call on him,
to all who call on him in truth.
- <sup>19</sup> He will fulfill the desire of those who
fear him.
He also will hear their cry, and will save them.
- <sup>20</sup> Yahweh preserves all those who love
him,
but all the wicked he will destroy.
- <sup>21</sup> My mouth will speak the praise of
Yahweh.
Let all flesh bless his holy name
forever and ever.

146

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!
Praise Yahweh, my soul.
- <sup>2</sup> While I live, I will praise Yahweh.
I will sing praises to my God as long as I exist.
- <sup>3</sup> Don't put your trust in princes,
each a son of man in whom there is no help.
- <sup>4</sup> His spirit departs, and he returns to the
earth.
In that very day, his thoughts
perish.
- <sup>5</sup> Happy is he who has the God of Jacob
for his help,
whose hope is in Yahweh, his God:
- <sup>6</sup> who made heaven and earth,
the sea, and all that is in them;
who keeps truth forever;
- <sup>7</sup> who executes justice for the oppressed;
who gives food to the hungry.
Yahweh frees the prisoners.

- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh opens the eyes of the blind.
Yahweh raises up those who are
bowed down.
Yahweh loves the righteous.
- <sup>9</sup> Yahweh preserves the foreigners.
He upholds the fatherless and
widow,
but the way of the wicked he turns
upside down.
- <sup>10</sup> Yahweh will reign forever;
your God, O Zion, to all
generations.

Praise Yah!

147

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yah,
for it is good to sing praises to our
God;
for it is pleasant and fitting to praise
him.
- <sup>2</sup> Yahweh builds up Jerusalem.
He gathers together the outcasts of Israel.
- <sup>3</sup> He heals the broken in heart,
and binds up their wounds.
- <sup>4</sup> He counts the number of the stars.
He calls them all by their names.
- <sup>5</sup> Great is our Lord, and mighty in
power.
His understanding is infinite.
- <sup>6</sup> Yahweh upholds the humble.
He brings the wicked down to the
ground.
- <sup>7</sup> Sing to Yahweh with thanksgiving.
Sing praises on the harp to our God,
- <sup>8</sup> who covers the sky with clouds,
who prepares rain for the earth,
who makes grass grow on the
mountains.

<sup>9</sup> He provides food for the livestock,
 and for the young ravens when they
 call.
<sup>10</sup> He doesn't delight in the strength of the horse.
 He takes no pleasure in the legs of a
 man.
<sup>11</sup> Yahweh takes pleasure in those who
 fear him,
 in those who hope in his loving
 kindness.
<sup>12</sup> Praise Yahweh, Jerusalem!
 Praise your God, Zion!
<sup>13</sup> For he has strengthened the bars of your gates.
 He has blessed your children within
 you.
<sup>14</sup> He makes peace in your borders.
 He fills you with the finest of the wheat.
<sup>15</sup> He sends out his commandment to the
 earth.
 His word runs very swiftly.
<sup>16</sup> He gives snow like wool,
 and scatters frost like ashes.
<sup>17</sup> He hurls down his hail like pebbles.
 Who can stand before his cold?
<sup>18</sup> He sends out his word, and melts
 them.
 He causes his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
<sup>19</sup> He shows his word to Jacob;
 his statutes and his ordinances to
 Israel.
<sup>20</sup> He has not done this for just any
 nation.
 They don't know his ordinances.
 Praise Yah!

<sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!
 Praise Yahweh from the heavens!
 Praise him in the heights!
<sup>2</sup> Praise him, all his angels!
 Praise him, all his army!
<sup>3</sup> Praise him, sun and moon!
 Praise him, all you shining stars!
<sup>4</sup> Praise him, you heavens of heavens,
 You waters that are above the
 heavens.
<sup>5</sup> Let them praise Yahweh's name,
 For he commanded, and they were
 created.
<sup>6</sup> He has also established them forever
 and ever.
 He has made a decree which will not pass away.
<sup>7</sup> Praise Yahweh from the earth,
 you great sea creatures, and all depths!
<sup>8</sup> Lightning and hail, snow and clouds;
 stormy wind, fulfilling his word;

 old men and children:
<sup>13</sup> let them praise Yahweh's name,
 for his name alone is exalted.
 His glory is above the earth and the
 heavens.
<sup>14</sup> He has lifted up the horn of his
 people,
 the praise of all his saints;

even of the children of Israel, a people near to him.

Praise Yah!

149

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yahweh!
Sing to Yahweh a new song,
his praise in the assembly of the saints.
- <sup>2</sup> Let Israel rejoice in him who made
them.
Let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
- <sup>3</sup> Let them praise his name in the dance!
Let them sing praises to him with tambourine and harp!
- <sup>4</sup> For Yahweh takes pleasure in his
people.
He crowns the humble with
salvation.
- <sup>5</sup> Let the saints rejoice in honor.
Let them sing for joy on their beds.
- <sup>6</sup> May the high praises of God be in their
mouths,
and a two-edged sword in their
hand;
- <sup>7</sup> To execute vengeance on the nations,
and punishments on the peoples;

- <sup>8</sup> To bind their kings with chains,
and their nobles with fetters of iron;
<sup>9</sup> to execute on them the written
judgment.

All his saints have this honor.

Praise Yah!

150

- <sup>1</sup> Praise Yah!
Praise God in his sanctuary!
Praise him in his heavens for his acts of power!
- <sup>2</sup> Praise him for his mighty acts!
Praise him according to his excellent greatness!
- <sup>3</sup> Praise him with the sounding of the
trumpet!
Praise him with harp and lyre!
- <sup>4</sup> Praise him with tambourine and dancing!
Praise him with stringed instruments and flute!
- <sup>5</sup> Praise him with loud cymbals!
Praise him with resounding cymbals!
- <sup>6</sup> Let everything that has breath praise
Yah!
Praise Yah!

PSALM 151

151

This Psalm is a genuine one of David, though extra,<sup>a</sup> composed when he fought in single combat with Goliath.

- <sup>1</sup> I was small among my brothers,
and youngest in my father's house.
I tended my father's sheep.
- <sup>2</sup> My hands formed a musical instrument,
and my fingers tuned a lute.
- <sup>3</sup> Who shall tell my Lord?

- The Lord himself, he himself hears.
- <sup>4</sup> He sent forth his angel and took me
from my father's sheep,
and he anointed me with his anointing oil.
- <sup>5</sup> My brothers were handsome and tall;
but the Lord did not take pleasure
in them.
- <sup>6</sup> I went out to meet the Philistine,
and he cursed me by his idols.
- <sup>7</sup> But I drew his own sword and beheaded him,
and removed reproach from the children of Israel.

The Book of

Job

1

<sup>1</sup> There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job. That man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God,<sup>a</sup> and turned away from evil. <sup>2</sup> There were born to him seven sons and three daughters. <sup>3</sup> His possessions also were seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred female donkeys, and a very great household; so that this man was the greatest of all the children of the east. <sup>4</sup> His sons went and held a feast in the house of each one on his birthday; and they sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them. <sup>5</sup> It was so, when the days of their feasting had run their course, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, “It may be that my sons have sinned, and renounced God in their hearts.” Job did so continually.

<sup>6</sup> Now on the day when God’s sons came to present themselves before Yahweh,<sup>b</sup> Satan also came among them. <sup>7</sup> Yahweh said to Satan, “Where have you come from?”

Then Satan answered Yahweh, and said, “From going back and forth in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.”

<sup>8</sup> Yahweh said to Satan, “Have you considered my servant, Job? For there is no one like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil.”

So Satan went out from the presence of Yahweh. <sup>13</sup> It fell on a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house, <sup>14</sup> that there came a messenger to Job, and said, “The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys feeding beside them, <sup>15</sup> and the Sabeans attacked, and took them away. Yes, they have killed the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you.”

<sup>16</sup> While he was still speaking, there also came another, and said, “The fire of God has fallen from the sky, and has burned up the sheep and the servants, and consumed them, and I alone have escaped to tell you.”

<sup>17</sup> While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, “The Chaldeans made three bands, and swept down on the camels, and have taken them away, yes, and killed the servants with the edge of the sword; and I alone have escaped to tell you.”

<sup>18</sup> While he was still speaking, there came also another, and said, “Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house, <sup>19</sup> and behold, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell on the young men, and they are dead. I alone have escaped to tell you.”

<sup>20</sup> Then Job arose, and tore his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down on the ground, and worshiped. <sup>21</sup> He said, “Naked I came out of my mother’s womb, and naked shall I return there. Yahweh gave, and Yahweh has taken away. Blessed be Yahweh’s name.” <sup>22</sup> In all this, Job did not sin, nor charge God with wrongdoing.

2

Satan answered Yahweh, and said, “From going back and forth in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.”

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh said to Satan, “Have you considered my servant Job? For there is no one like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God, and turns away from evil. He still maintains his integrity, although you incited me against him, to ruin him without cause.”

<sup>4</sup> Satan answered Yahweh, and said, “Skin for skin. Yes, all that a man has he will give for his life. <sup>5</sup> But stretch out your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will renounce you to your face.”

<sup>7</sup> So Satan went out from the presence of Yahweh, and struck Job with painful sores from the sole of his foot to his head. <sup>8</sup> He took for himself a potsherd to scrape himself with, and he sat among the ashes. <sup>9</sup> Then his wife said to him, “Do you still maintain your integrity? Renounce God, and die.”

In all this Job didn’t sin with his lips. <sup>11</sup> Now when Job’s three friends heard of all this evil that had come on him, they each came from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, and they made an appointment together to come to sympathize with him and to comfort him. <sup>12</sup> When they lifted up their eyes from a distance, and didn’t recognize him, they raised their voices, and wept; and they each tore his robe, and sprinkled dust on their heads toward the sky. <sup>13</sup> So they sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights, and no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great.

<sup>3</sup> “Let the day perish in which I was born,
the night which said, ‘There is a boy conceived.’”

- <sup>4</sup> Let that day be darkness.
 Don't let God from above seek for
 it,
 neither let the light shine on it.
- <sup>5</sup> Let darkness and the shadow of death
 claim it for their own.
 Let a cloud dwell on it.
 Let all that makes black the day
 terrify it.
- <sup>6</sup> As for that night, let thick darkness
 seize on it.
 Let it not rejoice among the days of the year.
 Let it not come into the number of the months.
- <sup>7</sup> Behold, let that night be barren.
 Let no joyful voice come therein.
- <sup>8</sup> Let them curse it who curse the day,
 who are ready to rouse up
 leviathan.
- <sup>9</sup> Let the stars of its twilight be dark.
 Let it look for light, but have none, neither let it see the eyelids of the
 morning,
- <sup>10</sup> because it didn't shut up the doors of
 my mother's womb,
 nor did it hide trouble from my
 eyes.
- <sup>11</sup> "Why didn't I die from the womb?
 Why didn't I give up the spirit
 when my mother bore me?
- <sup>12</sup> Why did the knees receive me?
 Or why the breast, that I should nurse?
- <sup>13</sup> For now should I have lain down and
 been quiet.
 I should have slept, then I would have been at rest,
- <sup>14</sup> with kings and counselors of the
 earth,
 who built up waste places for
 themselves;
- <sup>15</sup> or with princes who had gold,
 who filled their houses with silver:
- <sup>16</sup> or as a hidden untimely birth I had not been,
 as infants who never saw light.
- <sup>17</sup> There the wicked cease from troubling.
 There the weary are at rest.
- <sup>18</sup> There the prisoners are at ease
 together.
 They don't hear the voice of the taskmaster.
- <sup>19</sup> The small and the great are there.
 The servant is free from his master.
- <sup>20</sup> "Why is light given to him who is in misery,
 life to the bitter in soul,
- <sup>21</sup> Who long for death, but it doesn't
 come;
 and dig for it more than for hidden
 treasures,
- <sup>22</sup> who rejoice exceedingly,
 and are glad, when they can find the grave?
- <sup>23</sup> Why is light given to a man whose
 way is hidden,
 whom God has hedged in?
- <sup>24</sup> For my sighing comes before I eat.
 My groanings are poured out like
 water.
- <sup>25</sup> For the thing which I fear comes on
 me,
 That which I am afraid of comes to
 me.
- <sup>26</sup> I am not at ease, neither am I quiet,
 neither have I rest;
 but trouble comes."

4

- <sup>1</sup> Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, <sup>2</sup> “If someone ventures to talk with you,
 will you be grieved?
 But who can withhold himself from speaking?
<sup>3</sup> Behold, you have instructed many,
 you have strengthened the weak
 hands.
<sup>4</sup> Your words have supported him who was falling,
 You have made firm the feeble
 knees.
<sup>5</sup> But now it has come to you, and you
 faint.
 It touches you, and you are
 troubled.
<sup>6</sup> Isn’t your piety your confidence?
 Isn’t the integrity of your ways your
 hope?
<sup>7</sup> “Remember, now, whoever perished,
 being innocent?
 Or where were the upright cut off?
<sup>8</sup> According to what I have seen, those who plow iniquity,
 and sow trouble,
 reap the same.
<sup>9</sup> By the breath of God they perish.
 By the blast of his anger are they
 consumed.
<sup>10</sup> The roaring of the lion,
 and the voice of the fierce lion,
 the teeth of the young lions, are
 broken.
<sup>11</sup> The old lion perishes for lack of prey.
 The cubs of the lioness are scattered abroad.
<sup>12</sup> “Now a thing was secretly brought to
 me.
 My ear received a whisper of it.

- <sup>13</sup> In thoughts from the visions of the
 night,
 when deep sleep falls on men,
<sup>14</sup> fear came on me, and trembling,
 which made all my bones shake.
<sup>15</sup> Then a spirit passed before my face.
 The hair of my flesh stood up.
<sup>16</sup> It stood still, but I couldn’t discern its appearance.
 A form was before my eyes.
 Silence, then I heard a voice,
 saying,
<sup>17</sup> ‘Shall mortal man be more just than
 God?
 Shall a man be more pure than his Maker?
<sup>18</sup> Behold, he puts no trust in his
 servants.
 He charges his angels with error.
<sup>19</sup> How much more, those who dwell in houses of clay,
 whose foundation is in the dust,
 who are crushed before the moth!
<sup>20</sup> Between morning and evening they are destroyed.
 They perish forever without any regarding it.
<sup>21</sup> Isn’t their tent cord plucked up within
 them?
 They die, and that without wisdom.’

5

- <sup>1</sup> “Call now; is there any who will answer you?
 To which of the holy ones will you turn?
<sup>2</sup> For resentment kills the foolish man,
 and jealousy kills the simple.
<sup>3</sup> I have seen the foolish taking root,
 but suddenly I cursed his habitation.

- 4 His children are far from safety.
 They are crushed in the gate.
 Neither is there any to deliver them,
 5 whose harvest the hungry eats up,
 and take it even out of the thorns.
 The snare gapes for their substance.
 6 For affliction doesn't come out of the
 dust,
 neither does trouble spring out of
 the ground;
 7 but man is born to trouble,
 as the sparks fly upward.
 8 "But as for me, I would seek God.
 I would commit my cause to God, 9 who does great things that can't be fathomed,
 marvelous things without number;
 10 who gives rain on the earth,
 and sends waters on the fields;
 11 so that he sets up on high those who are low,
 those who mourn are exalted to safety.
 12 He frustrates the devices of the crafty,
 So that their hands can't perform their enterprise.
 13 He takes the wise in their own
 craftiness;
 the counsel of the cunning is carried
 headlong.
 14 They meet with darkness in the day
 time,
 and grope at noonday as in the
 night.
 15 But he saves from the sword of their
 mouth,
 even the needy from the hand of the
 mighty.
 16 So the poor has hope,
 and injustice shuts her mouth.
- 17 "Behold, happy is the man whom God
 corrects.
 Therefore do not despise the chastening of the Almighty.
 18 For he wounds, and binds up.
 He injures, and his hands make whole.
 19 He will deliver you in six troubles;
 yes, in seven no evil shall touch
 you.
 20 In famine he will redeem you from
 death;
 in war, from the power of the
 sword.
 21 You shall be hidden from the scourge
 of the tongue,
 neither shall you be afraid of destruction when it comes.
 22 At destruction and famine you shall laugh,
 neither shall you be afraid of the
 animals of the earth.
 23 For you shall be allied with the stones
 of the field.
 The animals of the field shall be at peace with you.
 24 You shall know that your tent is in
 peace.
 You shall visit your fold, and shall
 miss nothing.
 25 You shall know also that your offspring<sup>d</sup> shall be great,
 Your offspring as the grass of the
 earth.
 26 You shall come to your grave in a full
 age,
 like a shock of grain comes in its
 season.
 27 Look this, we have searched it, so it is.

<sup>d</sup> or, seed

Hear it, and know it for your good.”

6

<sup>2</sup> “Oh that my anguish were weighed,
and all my calamity laid in the balances!

<sup>3</sup> For now it would be heavier than the sand of the seas,
therefore have my words been rash.

<sup>4</sup> For the arrows of the Almighty are
within me.

My spirit drinks up their poison.
The terrors of God set themselves in array against me.

<sup>5</sup> Does the wild donkey bray when he has grass?

Or does the ox low over his fodder?

<sup>6</sup> Can that which has no flavor be eaten without salt?

Or is there any taste in the white of an egg?

<sup>7</sup> My soul refuses to touch them.
They are as loathsome food to me.

<sup>8</sup> “Oh that I might have my request, that God would grant the thing that I long for,

<sup>9</sup> even that it would please God to crush
me;
that he would let loose his hand,
and cut me off!

<sup>10</sup> Be it still my consolation,
yes, let me exult in pain that doesn’t
spare,
that I have not denied the words of
the Holy One.

<sup>11</sup> What is my strength, that I should wait?

What is my end, that I should be patient?

<sup>12</sup> Is my strength the strength of stones?
Or is my flesh of brass?

<sup>13</sup> Isn’t it that I have no help in me,
That wisdom is driven quite from
me?

<sup>14</sup> “To him who is ready to faint, kindness should be shown
from his friend;
even to him who forsakes the fear of the Almighty.

<sup>15</sup> My brothers have dealt deceitfully as a brook,
as the channel of brooks that pass
away;

<sup>16</sup> Which are black by reason of the ice,
in which the snow hides itself.

<sup>17</sup> In the dry season, they vanish.
When it is hot, they are consumed
out of their place.

<sup>18</sup> The caravans that travel beside them
turn aside.
They go up into the waste, and
perish.

<sup>19</sup> The caravans of Tema looked.
The companies of Sheba waited for
them.

<sup>20</sup> They were distressed because they were confident.
They came there, and were
confounded.

<sup>21</sup> For now you are nothing.
You see a terror, and are afraid.

<sup>22</sup> Did I say, ‘Give to me?’
or, ‘Offer a present for me from your substance?’

<sup>23</sup> or, ‘Deliver me from the adversary’s
hand?’

or, ‘Redeem me from the hand of the oppressors?’

<sup>24</sup> “Teach me, and I will hold my peace.

- Cause me to understand wherein I have erred.
- 25 How forcible are words of
uprightness!
But your reproof, what does it
reprove?
- 26 Do you intend to reprove words,
since the speeches of one who is desperate are as wind?
- 27 Yes, you would even cast lots for the
fatherless,
and make merchandise of your
friend.
- 28 Now therefore be pleased to look at
me,
for surely I shall not lie to your
face.
- 29 Please return.
Let there be no injustice.
Yes, return again.
My cause is righteous.
- 30 Is there injustice on my tongue?
Can't my taste discern mischievous
things?

7

- 1 "Isn't a man forced to labor on earth?
Aren't his days like the days of a hired hand?"
- 2 As a servant who earnestly desires the
shadow,
as a hireling who looks for his wages,
- 3 so am I made to possess months of
misery,
wearisome nights are appointed to
me.
- 4 When I lie down, I say,
'When shall I arise, and the night be
gone?'

- I toss and turn until the dawning of the day.
- 5 My flesh is clothed with worms and
clods of dust.
My skin closes up, and breaks out afresh.
- 6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle,
and are spent without hope.
- 7 Oh remember that my life is a breath.
My eye shall no more see good.
- 8 The eye of him who sees me shall see me no more.
Your eyes shall be on me, but I shall not be.
- 9 As the cloud is consumed and vanishes
away,
so he who goes down to Sheol<sup>e</sup>
shall come up no more.
- 10 He shall return no more to his house,
neither shall his place know him
any more.
- 11 "Therefore I will not keep silent.
I will speak in the anguish of my
spirit.
I will complain in the bitterness of
my soul.
- 12 Am I a sea, or a sea monster,
that you put a guard over me?"
- 13 When I say, 'My bed shall comfort
me.
My couch shall ease my
complaint;'
- 14 then you scare me with dreams,
and terrify me through visions:
15 so that my soul chooses strangling,
death rather than my bones.
- 16 I loathe my life.
I don't want to live forever.

<sup>e</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

Leave me alone, for my days are
 but a breath.
<sup>17</sup> What is man, that you should magnify
 him,
 that you should set your mind on
 him, <sup>18</sup> that you should visit him every
 morning,
 and test him every moment?
<sup>19</sup> How long will you not look away
 from me,
 nor leave me alone until I swallow
 down my spittle?
<sup>20</sup> If I have sinned, what do I do to you,
 you watcher of men?
 Why have you set me as a mark for
 you,
 so that I am a burden to myself?
<sup>21</sup> Why do you not pardon my disobedience, and take away
 my iniquity?
 For now shall I lie down in the dust.
 You will seek me diligently, but I shall not be."

8

<sup>1</sup> Then Bildad the Shuhite answered, <sup>2</sup> "How long will you speak these
 things?
 Shall the words of your mouth be a mighty wind?
<sup>3</sup> Does God pervert justice?
 Or does the Almighty pervert
 righteousness?
<sup>4</sup> If your children have sinned against
 him,
 He has delivered them into the hand
 of their disobedience.
<sup>5</sup> If you want to seek God diligently,
 make your supplication to the Almighty.

<sup>6</sup> If you were pure and upright, surely now he would awaken for
 you,
 and make the habitation of your righteousness prosperous.
<sup>7</sup> Though your beginning was small,
 yet your latter end would greatly
 increase.
<sup>8</sup> "Please inquire of past generations.
 Find out about the learning of their
 fathers.
<sup>9</sup> (For we are but of yesterday, and know
 nothing,
 because our days on earth are a
 shadow.)
<sup>10</sup> Shall they not teach you, tell you,
 and utter words out of their heart?
<sup>11</sup> "Can the papyrus grow up without mire?
 Can the rushes grow without water?
<sup>12</sup> While it is yet in its greenness, not cut
 down,
 it withers before any other reed.
<sup>13</sup> So are the paths of all who forget
 God.
 The hope of the godless man shall
 perish,
<sup>14</sup> Whose confidence shall break apart,
 Whose trust is a spider's web.
<sup>15</sup> He shall lean on his house, but it shall not stand.
 He shall cling to it, but it shall not
 endure.
<sup>16</sup> He is green before the sun.
 His shoots go out along his garden.
<sup>17</sup> His roots are wrapped around the rock pile.
 He sees the place of stones.
<sup>18</sup> If he is destroyed from his place,

then it shall deny him, saying, 'I have not seen you.'

- <sup>19</sup> Behold, this is the joy of his way:
out of the earth, others shall spring.
<sup>20</sup> "Behold, God will not cast away a blameless man,
neither will he uphold the evildoers.
<sup>21</sup> He will still fill your mouth with
laughter,
your lips with shouting.
<sup>22</sup> Those who hate you shall be clothed
with shame.
The tent of the wicked shall be no
more."

- <sup>1</sup> Then Job answered, <sup>2</sup> "Truly I know that it is so,
but how can man be just with God?
<sup>3</sup> If he is pleased to contend with him,
he can't answer him one time in a thousand.
<sup>4</sup> God who is wise in heart, and mighty
in strength:
who has hardened himself against
him, and prospered?
<sup>5</sup> He removes the mountains, and they don't know it,
when he overturns them in his
anger.
<sup>6</sup> He shakes the earth out of its place.
Its pillars tremble.
<sup>7</sup> He commands the sun, and it doesn't rise,
and seals up the stars.
<sup>8</sup> He alone stretches out the heavens,
and treads on the waves of the sea.
<sup>9</sup> He makes the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades,
and the rooms of the south.
<sup>10</sup> He does great things past finding out;
yes, marvelous things without
number.
<sup>11</sup> Behold, he goes by me, and I don't see him.
He passes on also, but I don't perceive him.
<sup>12</sup> Behold, he snatches away.
Who can hinder him?
Who will ask him, 'What are you doing?'
<sup>13</sup> "God will not withdraw his anger.
The helpers of Rahab stoop under
him.
<sup>14</sup> How much less shall I answer him,
And choose my words to argue with
him?
<sup>15</sup> Though I were righteous, yet I wouldn't answer him.
I would make supplication to my
judge.
<sup>16</sup> If I had called, and he had answered
me,
yet I wouldn't believe that he listened to my voice.
<sup>17</sup> For he breaks me with a storm,
and multiplies my wounds without
cause.
<sup>18</sup> He will not allow me to catch my
breath,
but fills me with bitterness.
<sup>19</sup> If it is a matter of strength, behold, he is mighty!
If of justice, 'Who,' says he, 'will summon me?'
<sup>20</sup> Though I am righteous, my own mouth shall condemn me.
Though I am blameless, it shall prove me perverse.
<sup>21</sup> I am blameless.

I don't respect myself.
 I despise my life.
 22 "It is all the same.
 Therefore I say he destroys the blameless and the wicked.
 23 If the scourge kills suddenly,
 he will mock at the trial of the
 innocent.
 24 The earth is given into the hand of the
 wicked.
 He covers the faces of its judges.
 If not he, then who is it?
 25 "Now my days are swifter than a runner.
 They flee away, they see no good, 26 They have passed away as the swift
 ships,
 as the eagle that swoops on the
 prey.
 27 If I say, 'I will forget my complaint,
 I will put off my sad face, and cheer
 up;'
 28 I am afraid of all my sorrows,
 I know that you will not hold me
 innocent.
 29 I shall be condemned.
 Why then do I labor in vain?
 30 If I wash myself with snow,
 and cleanse my hands with lye,
 31 yet you will plunge me in the ditch.
 My own clothes shall abhor me.
 32 For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him,
 that we should come together in
 judgment.
 33 There is no umpire between us,
 that might lay his hand on us both.
 34 Let him take his rod away from me.
 Let his terror not make me afraid;

35 then I would speak, and not fear him,
 for I am not so in myself.

10

1 "My soul is weary of my life.
 I will give free course to my
 complaint.
 I will speak in the bitterness of my
 soul.
 2 I will tell God, 'Do not condemn me.
 Show me why you contend with
 me.
 3 Is it good to you that you should oppress,
 that you should despise the work of
 your hands,
 and smile on the counsel of the
 wicked?
 4 Do you have eyes of flesh?
 Or do you see as man sees?
 5 Are your days as the days of mortals,
 or your years as man's years,
 6 that you inquire after my iniquity,
 and search after my sin?
 7 Although you know that I am not
 wicked,
 there is no one who can deliver out
 of your hand.
 8 "Your hands have framed me and fashioned me altogether,
 yet you destroy me.
 9 Remember, I beg you, that you have fashioned me as clay.
 Will you bring me into dust again?
 10 Haven't you poured me out like milk,
 and curdled me like cheese?
 11 You have clothed me with skin and
 flesh,
 and knit me together with bones
 and sinews.

<sup>12</sup> You have granted me life and loving
 kindness.
 Your visitation has preserved my
 spirit.
<sup>13</sup> Yet you hid these things in your heart.
 I know that this is with you:
<sup>14</sup> if I sin, then you mark me.
 You will not acquit me from my
 iniquity.
<sup>15</sup> If I am wicked, woe to me.
 If I am righteous, I still shall not lift
 up my head,
 being filled with disgrace,
 and conscious of my affliction.
<sup>16</sup> If my head is held high, you hunt me
 like a lion.
 Again you show yourself powerful
 to me.
<sup>17</sup> You renew your witnesses against
 me,
 and increase your indignation on
 me.
 Changes and warfare are with me.
<sup>18</sup> “Why, then, have you brought me out of the womb?
 I wish I had given up the spirit, and
 no eye had seen me.
<sup>19</sup> I should have been as though I had not been.
 I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.
<sup>20</sup> Aren’t my days few?
 Cease then.
 Leave me alone, that I may find a little comfort, <sup>21</sup> before I go where I shall not return
 from,
 to the land of darkness and of the
 shadow of death;

<sup>22</sup> the land dark as midnight,
 of the shadow of death,
 without any order,
 where the light is as midnight.”

11

<sup>1</sup> Then Zophar, the Naamathite,
 answered,
<sup>2</sup> “Shouldn’t the multitude of words be
 answered?
 Should a man full of talk be justified?
<sup>3</sup> Should your boastings make men hold their peace?
 When you mock, shall no man
 make you ashamed?
<sup>4</sup> For you say, ‘My doctrine is pure.
 I am clean in your eyes.’
<sup>5</sup> But oh that God would speak,
 and open his lips against you, <sup>6</sup> that he would show you the secrets of
 wisdom!
 For true wisdom has two sides.
 Know therefore that God exacts of you less than your iniquity deserves.
<sup>7</sup> “Can you fathom the mystery of God?
 Or can you probe the limits of the Almighty?
<sup>8</sup> They are high as heaven. What can you do?
 They are deeper than Sheol.<sup>f</sup> What can you know?
<sup>9</sup> Its measure is longer than the earth,
 and broader than the sea.
<sup>10</sup> If he passes by, or confines,
 or convenes a court, then who can
 oppose him?
<sup>11</sup> For he knows false men.

<sup>f</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

He sees iniquity also, even though he doesn't consider it.

<sup>12</sup> An empty-headed man becomes wise
when a man is born as a wild donkey's colt.

<sup>13</sup> "If you set your heart aright,
stretch out your hands toward him.

<sup>14</sup> If iniquity is in your hand, put it far
away.
Don't let unrighteousness dwell in your tents.

<sup>15</sup> Surely then you shall lift up your face
without spot;
Yes, you shall be steadfast, and
shall not fear:

<sup>16</sup> for you shall forget your misery.
You shall remember it like waters
that have passed away.

<sup>17</sup> Life shall be clearer than the noonday.
Though there is darkness, it shall be
as the morning.

<sup>18</sup> You shall be secure, because there is
hope.
Yes, you shall search, and shall take your rest in safety.

<sup>19</sup> Also you shall lie down, and no one shall make you afraid.
Yes, many shall court your favor.

<sup>20</sup> But the eyes of the wicked shall fail.
They shall have no way to flee.
Their hope shall be the giving up of the spirit."

12

<sup>1</sup> Then Job answered,
<sup>2</sup> "No doubt, but you are the people,
and wisdom shall die with you.
<sup>3</sup> But I have understanding as well as
you;

I am not inferior to you.
Yes, who doesn't know such things
as these?

<sup>4</sup> I am like one who is a joke to his neighbor,
I, who called on God, and he
answered.
The just, the blameless man is a joke.

<sup>5</sup> In the thought of him who is at ease
there is contempt for misfortune.
It is ready for them whose foot
slips.

<sup>6</sup> The tents of robbers prosper.
Those who provoke God are secure,
who carry their God in their hands.

<sup>7</sup> "But ask the animals, now, and they shall teach you;
the birds of the sky, and they shall tell you.

<sup>8</sup> Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach
you.
The fish of the sea shall declare to
you.

<sup>9</sup> Who doesn't know that in all these,
Yahweh's hand has done this,
<sup>10</sup> in whose hand is the life of every living thing,
and the breath of all mankind?

<sup>11</sup> Doesn't the ear try words,
even as the palate tastes its food?

<sup>12</sup> With aged men is wisdom,
in length of days understanding.

<sup>13</sup> "With God is wisdom and might.
He has counsel and understanding.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, he breaks down, and it can't be built again.
He imprisons a man, and there can be no release.

- <sup>15</sup> Behold, he withholds the waters, and they dry up.
 Again, he sends them out, and they overturn the earth.
- <sup>16</sup> With him is strength and wisdom.
 The deceived and the deceiver are his.
- <sup>17</sup> He leads counselors away stripped.
 He makes judges fools.
- <sup>18</sup> He loosens the bond of kings.
 He binds their waist with a belt.
- <sup>19</sup> He leads priests away stripped,
 and overthrows the mighty.
- <sup>20</sup> He removes the speech of those who are trusted,
 and takes away the understanding of the elders.
- <sup>21</sup> He pours contempt on princes,
 and loosens the belt of the strong.
- <sup>22</sup> He uncovers deep things out of darkness,
 and brings out to light the shadow of death.
- <sup>23</sup> He increases the nations, and he destroys them.
 He enlarges the nations, and he leads them captive.
- <sup>24</sup> He takes away understanding from the chiefs of the people of the earth, and causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.
- <sup>25</sup> They grope in the dark without light.
 He makes them stagger like a drunken man.

13

- <sup>1</sup> “Behold, my eye has seen all this.
 My ear has heard and understood it.

- <sup>2</sup> What you know, I know also.
 I am not inferior to you.
- <sup>3</sup> “Surely I would speak to the Almighty.
 I desire to reason with God.
- <sup>4</sup> But you are forgers of lies.
 You are all physicians of no value.
- <sup>5</sup> Oh that you would be completely silent!
 Then you would be wise.
- <sup>6</sup> Hear now my reasoning.
 Listen to the pleadings of my lips.
- <sup>7</sup> Will you speak unrighteously for God,
 and talk deceitfully for him?
- <sup>8</sup> Will you show partiality to him?
 Will you contend for God?
- <sup>9</sup> Is it good that he should search you out?
 Or as one deceives a man, will you deceive him?
- <sup>10</sup> He will surely reprove you if you secretly show partiality.
- <sup>11</sup> Shall not his majesty make you afraid,
 And his dread fall on you?
- <sup>12</sup> Your memorable sayings are proverbs of ashes,
 Your defenses are defenses of clay.
- <sup>13</sup> “Be silent, leave me alone, that I may speak.
 Let come on me what will.
- <sup>14</sup> Why should I take my flesh in my teeth,
 and put my life in my hand?
- <sup>15</sup> Behold, he will kill me.
 I have no hope.
 Nevertheless, I will maintain my ways before him.
- <sup>16</sup> This also shall be my salvation,
 that a godless man shall not come before him.
- <sup>17</sup> Hear diligently my speech.

Let my declaration be in your ears.
<sup>18</sup> See now, I have set my cause in order.
 I know that I am righteous.
<sup>19</sup> Who is he who will contend with me?
 For then would I hold my peace and give up the spirit.
<sup>20</sup> “Only don’t do two things to me;
 then I will not hide myself from
 your face:
<sup>21</sup> withdraw your hand far from me;
 and don’t let your terror make me
 afraid.
<sup>22</sup> Then call, and I will answer;
 or let me speak, and you answer
 me.
<sup>23</sup> How many are my iniquities and sins?
 Make me know my disobedience
 and my sin.
<sup>24</sup> Why hide you your face,
 and hold me for your enemy?
<sup>25</sup> Will you harass a driven leaf?
 Will you pursue the dry stubble?
<sup>26</sup> For you write bitter things against me,
 and make me inherit the iniquities
 of my youth:
<sup>27</sup> You also put my feet in the stocks,
 and mark all my paths.
 You set a bound to the soles of my
 feet,
<sup>28</sup> though I am decaying like a rotten
 thing,
 like a garment that is moth-eaten.

14

<sup>1</sup> “Man, who is born of a woman,
 is of few days, and full of trouble.
<sup>2</sup> He grows up like a flower, and is cut
 down.

He also flees like a shadow, and doesn’t continue.
<sup>3</sup> Do you open your eyes on such a one,
 and bring me into judgment with
 you?
<sup>4</sup> Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?
 Not one.
<sup>5</sup> Seeing his days are determined,
 the number of his months is with
 you,
 and you have appointed his bounds
 that he can’t pass;
<sup>6</sup> Look away from him, that he may rest,
 until he shall accomplish, as a hireling, his day.
<sup>7</sup> “For there is hope for a tree,
 If it is cut down, that it will sprout
 again,
 that the tender branch of it will not
 cease.
<sup>8</sup> Though its root grows old in the earth,
 and its stock dies in the ground, <sup>9</sup> yet through the scent of water it will bud,
 and sprout boughs like a plant.
<sup>10</sup> But man dies, and is laid low.
 Yes, man gives up the spirit, and
 where is he?
<sup>11</sup> As the waters fail from the sea,
 and the river wastes and dries up,
<sup>12</sup> so man lies down and doesn’t rise.
 Until the heavens are no more, they shall not awake,
 nor be roused out of their sleep.
<sup>13</sup> “Oh that you would hide me in Sheol,<sup>g</sup>
 that you would keep me secret,
 until your wrath is past,

<sup>g</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

that you would appoint me a set
time, and remember me!

<sup>14</sup> If a man dies, shall he live again?
All the days of my warfare would I
wait,
until my release should come.

<sup>15</sup> You would call, and I would answer
you.
You would have a desire to the work of your hands.

<sup>16</sup> But now you number my steps.
Don't you watch over my sin?

<sup>17</sup> My disobedience is sealed up in a bag.
You fasten up my iniquity.

<sup>18</sup> "But the mountain falling comes to
nothing.
The rock is removed out of its
place;

<sup>19</sup> The waters wear the stones.
The torrents of it wash away the dust of the earth.
So you destroy the hope of man.

<sup>20</sup> You forever prevail against him, and
he departs.
You change his face, and send him
away.

<sup>21</sup> His sons come to honor, and he doesn't know it.
They are brought low, but he doesn't perceive it of them.

<sup>22</sup> But his flesh on him has pain,
and his soul within him mourns."

15

<sup>2</sup> "Should a wise man answer with vain
knowledge,
and fill himself with the east wind?

<sup>3</sup> Should he reason with unprofitable talk,
or with speeches with which he can do no good?

<sup>4</sup> Yes, you do away with fear,
and hinder devotion before God.

<sup>5</sup> For your iniquity teaches your mouth,
and you choose the language of the crafty.

<sup>6</sup> Your own mouth condemns you, and not I.
Yes, your own lips testify against
you.

<sup>7</sup> "Are you the first man who was born?
Or were you brought out before the
hills?

<sup>8</sup> Have you heard the secret counsel of
God?
Do you limit wisdom to yourself?

<sup>9</sup> What do you know, that we don't know?
What do you understand, which is not in us?

<sup>10</sup> With us are both the gray-headed and
the very aged men,
much elder than your father.

<sup>11</sup> Are the consolations of God too small for you,
even the word that is gentle toward
you?

<sup>12</sup> Why does your heart carry you away?
Why do your eyes flash,

<sup>13</sup> That you turn your spirit against God,
and let such words go out of your
mouth?

<sup>14</sup> What is man, that he should be clean?
What is he who is born of a woman,
that he should be righteous?

<sup>15</sup> Behold, he puts no trust in his holy
ones.

- Yes, the heavens are not clean in his sight;
- <sup>16</sup> how much less one who is
abominable and corrupt,
a man who drinks iniquity like
water!
- <sup>17</sup> “I will show you, listen to me;
that which I have seen I will declare:
- <sup>18</sup> (Which wise men have told by their
fathers,
and have not hidden it;
- <sup>19</sup> to whom alone the land was given,
and no stranger passed among
them):
- <sup>20</sup> the wicked man writhes in pain all his
days,
even the number of years that are laid up for the oppressor.
- <sup>21</sup> A sound of terrors is in his ears.
In prosperity the destroyer shall come on him.
- <sup>22</sup> He doesn't believe that he shall return
out of darkness.
He is waited for by the sword.
- <sup>23</sup> He wanders abroad for bread, saying,
‘Where is it?’
He knows that the day of darkness
is ready at his hand.
- <sup>24</sup> Distress and anguish make him afraid.
They prevail against him, as a king
ready to the battle.
- <sup>25</sup> Because he has stretched out his hand
against God,
and behaves himself proudly
against the Almighty;
- <sup>26</sup> he runs at him with a stiff neck,
with the thick shields of his bucklers;
- <sup>27</sup> because he has covered his face with
his fatness,
and gathered fat on his thighs.
- <sup>28</sup> He has lived in desolate cities,
in houses which no one inhabited,
which were ready to become heaps.
- <sup>29</sup> He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue,
neither shall their possessions be extended on the earth.
- <sup>30</sup> He shall not depart out of darkness.
The flame shall dry up his branches.
By the breath of God's mouth shall
he go away.
- <sup>31</sup> Let him not trust in emptiness,
deceiving himself;
for emptiness shall be his reward.
- <sup>32</sup> It shall be accomplished before his
time.
His branch shall not be green.
- <sup>33</sup> He shall shake off his unripe grape as
the vine,
and shall cast off his flower as the olive tree.
- <sup>34</sup> For the company of the godless shall
be barren,
and fire shall consume the tents of bribery.
- <sup>35</sup> They conceive mischief, and produce
iniquity.
Their heart prepares deceit.”

16

- <sup>1</sup> Then Job answered,
- <sup>2</sup> “I have heard many such things.
You are all miserable comforters!
- <sup>3</sup> Shall vain words have an end?
Or what provokes you that you
answer?

<sup>4</sup> I also could speak as you do.
 If your soul were in my soul's
     place,
 I could join words together against
     you,
 and shake my head at you,
<sup>5</sup> but I would strengthen you with my
     mouth.
 The solace of my lips would relieve
     you.
<sup>6</sup> "Though I speak, my grief is not subsided.
 Though I forbear, what am I eased?
<sup>7</sup> But now, God, you have surely worn me out.
 You have made desolate all my
     company.
<sup>8</sup> You have shriveled me up. This is a witness against me.
 My leanness rises up against me.
 It testifies to my face.
<sup>9</sup> He has torn me in his wrath, and persecuted me.
 He has gnashed on me with his
     teeth.
 My adversary sharpens his eyes on
     me.
<sup>10</sup> They have gaped on me with their
     mouth.
 They have struck me on the cheek
     reproachfully.
 They gather themselves together
     against me.
<sup>11</sup> God delivers me to the ungodly, and casts me into the hands of the
     wicked.
<sup>12</sup> I was at ease, and he broke me apart.
     Yes, he has taken me by the neck,
     and dashed me to pieces.
     He has also set me up for his target.
<sup>13</sup> His archers surround me.

He splits my kidneys apart, and does not spare.
 He pours out my gall on the ground.
<sup>14</sup> He breaks me with breach on breach.
     He runs on me like a giant.
<sup>15</sup> I have sewed sackcloth on my skin,
     and have thrust my horn in the dust.
<sup>16</sup> My face is red with weeping.
     Deep darkness is on my eyelids.
<sup>17</sup> Although there is no violence in my
     hands,
     and my prayer is pure.
<sup>18</sup> "Earth, don't cover my blood.
     Let my cry have no place to rest.
<sup>19</sup> Even now, behold, my witness is in
     heaven.
     He who vouches for me is on high.
<sup>20</sup> My friends scoff at me.
     My eyes pour out tears to God, <sup>21</sup> that he would maintain the right of a man with God,
     of a son of man with his neighbor!
<sup>22</sup> For when a few years have come,
     I shall go the way of no return.

17

<sup>1</sup> "My spirit is consumed.
     My days are extinct,
     And the grave is ready for me.
<sup>2</sup> Surely there are mockers with me.
     My eye dwells on their provocation.
<sup>3</sup> "Now give a pledge, be collateral for me with yourself.
     Who is there who will strike hands
     with me?
<sup>4</sup> For you have hidden their heart from
     understanding,
     Therefore you shall not exalt them.
<sup>5</sup> He who denounces his friends for
     plunder,

Even the eyes of his children shall fail.

<sup>6</sup> “But he has made me a byword of the people.
They spit in my face.

<sup>7</sup> My eye also is dim by reason of sorrow.
All my members are as a shadow.

<sup>8</sup> Upright men shall be astonished at this.
The innocent shall stir up himself against the godless.

<sup>9</sup> Yet shall the righteous hold on his way.
He who has clean hands shall grow stronger and stronger.

<sup>10</sup> But as for you all, come on now again;
I shall not find a wise man among you.

<sup>11</sup> My days are past, my plans are broken off,
as are the thoughts of my heart.

<sup>12</sup> They change the night into day,
saying ‘The light is near’ in the presence of darkness.

<sup>13</sup> If I look for Sheol<sup>h</sup> as my house,
if I have spread my couch in the darkness,

<sup>14</sup> If I have said to corruption, ‘You are my father;’
to the worm, ‘My mother,’ and ‘my sister;’

<sup>15</sup> where then is my hope?
as for my hope, who shall see it?

<sup>16</sup> Shall it go down with me to the gates of Sheol,<sup>i</sup> or descend together into the dust?”

18

<sup>2</sup> “How long will you hunt for words?
Consider, and afterwards we will speak.

<sup>3</sup> Why are we counted as animals,
which have become unclean in your sight?

<sup>4</sup> You who tear yourself in your anger,
shall the earth be forsaken for you?
Or shall the rock be removed out of its place?

<sup>5</sup> “Yes, the light of the wicked shall be put out,
The spark of his fire shall not shine.

<sup>6</sup> The light shall be dark in his tent.
His lamp above him shall be put out.

<sup>7</sup> The steps of his strength shall be shortened.
His own counsel shall cast him down.

<sup>8</sup> For he is cast into a net by his own feet,
and he wanders into its mesh.

<sup>9</sup> A snare will take him by the heel.
A trap will catch him.

<sup>10</sup> A noose is hidden for him in the ground,
a trap for him on the path.

<sup>11</sup> Terrors shall make him afraid on every side,
and shall chase him at his heels.

<sup>12</sup> His strength shall be famished.
Calamity shall be ready at his side.

<sup>13</sup> The members of his body shall be devoured.
The firstborn of death shall devour his members.

<sup>h</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead. <sup>i</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- <sup>14</sup> He shall be rooted out of his tent
where he trusts.
He shall be brought to the king of terrors.
- <sup>15</sup> There shall dwell in his tent that which is none of his.
Sulfur shall be scattered on his
habitation.
- <sup>16</sup> His roots shall be dried up beneath.
Above shall his branch be cut off.
- <sup>17</sup> His memory shall perish from the
earth.
He shall have no name in the street.
- <sup>18</sup> He shall be driven from light into
darkness,
and chased out of the world.
- <sup>19</sup> He shall have neither son nor grandson among his people,
nor any remaining where he lived.
- <sup>20</sup> Those who come after shall be astonished at his day,
as those who went before were frightened.
- <sup>21</sup> Surely such are the dwellings of the
unrighteous.
This is the place of him who doesn't know God."

19

- <sup>1</sup> Then Job answered, <sup>2</sup> "How long will you torment me,
and crush me with words?
<sup>3</sup> You have reproached me ten times.
You aren't ashamed that you attack
me.
<sup>4</sup> If it is true that I have erred,
my error remains with myself.
<sup>5</sup> If indeed you will magnify yourselves
against me,
and plead against me my reproach;

- <sup>6</sup> know now that God has subverted me,
and has surrounded me with his net.
<sup>7</sup> "Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard.
I cry for help, but there is no
justice.
<sup>8</sup> He has walled up my way so that I can't pass,
and has set darkness in my paths.
<sup>9</sup> He has stripped me of my glory,
and taken the crown from my head.
<sup>10</sup> He has broken me down on every side, and I am gone.
My hope he has plucked up like a
tree.
<sup>11</sup> He has also kindled his wrath against
me.
He counts me among his
adversaries.
<sup>12</sup> His troops come on together,
build a siege ramp against me,
and encamp around my tent.
<sup>13</sup> "He has put my brothers far from me.
My acquaintances are wholly estranged from me.
<sup>14</sup> My relatives have gone away.
My familiar friends have forgotten
me.
<sup>15</sup> Those who dwell in my house, and my maids, count me for a stranger.
I am an alien in their sight.
<sup>16</sup> I call to my servant, and he gives me
no answer.
I beg him with my mouth.
<sup>17</sup> My breath is offensive to my wife.
I am loathsome to the children of my own mother.
<sup>18</sup> Even young children despise me.
If I arise, they speak against me.

<sup>19</sup> All my familiar friends abhor me.
 They whom I loved have turned
 against me.
<sup>20</sup> My bones stick to my skin and to my
 flesh.
 I have escaped by the skin of my
 teeth.
<sup>21</sup> “Have pity on me, have pity on me,
 you my friends;
 for the hand of God has touched
 me.
<sup>22</sup> Why do you persecute me as God,
 and are not satisfied with my flesh?
<sup>23</sup> “Oh that my words were now written!
 Oh that they were inscribed in a
 book!
<sup>24</sup> That with an iron pen and lead
 they were engraved in the rock
 forever!
<sup>25</sup> But as for me, I know that my Redeemer lives.
 In the end, he will stand upon the
 earth.
<sup>26</sup> After my skin is destroyed,
 then in my flesh shall I see God,
<sup>27</sup> Whom I, even I, shall see on my side.
 My eyes shall see, and not as a
 stranger.
 “My heart is consumed within me.
<sup>28</sup> If you say, ‘How we will persecute
 him!’
 because the root of the matter is found in me, <sup>29</sup> be afraid of the sword,
 for wrath brings the punishments of
 the sword,
 that you may know there is a

20

<sup>2</sup> “Therefore do my thoughts give answer to me,
 even by reason of my haste that is in me.
<sup>3</sup> I have heard the reproof which puts me
 to shame.
 The spirit of my understanding
 answers me.
<sup>4</sup> Don’t you know this from old time, since man was placed on earth, <sup>5</sup> that the triumphing of the wicked is short,
 the joy of the godless but for a moment?
<sup>6</sup> Though his height mount up to the
 heavens,
 and his head reach to the clouds,
<sup>7</sup> yet he shall perish forever like his own dung.
 Those who have seen him shall say,
 ‘Where is he?’
<sup>8</sup> He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found.
 Yes, he shall be chased away like a vision of the night.
<sup>9</sup> The eye which saw him shall see him
 no more,
 neither shall his place any more see
 him.
<sup>10</sup> His children shall seek the favor of
 the poor.
 His hands shall give back his wealth.
<sup>11</sup> His bones are full of his youth,
 but youth shall lie down with him
 in the dust.
<sup>12</sup> “Though wickedness is sweet in his
 mouth,

though he hide it under his tongue, <sup>13</sup> though he spare it, and will not let it
 go,
 but keep it still within his mouth;
<sup>14</sup> yet his food in his bowels is turned.
 It is cobra venom within him.
<sup>15</sup> He has swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again.
 God will cast them out of his belly.
<sup>16</sup> He shall suck cobra venom.
 The viper's tongue shall kill him.
<sup>17</sup> He shall not look at the rivers,
 the flowing streams of honey and butter.
<sup>18</sup> That for which he labored he shall restore, and shall not swallow it down.
 According to the substance that he has gotten, he shall not
 rejoice.
<sup>19</sup> For he has oppressed and forsaken the
 poor.
 He has violently taken away a house, and he shall not build
 it up.
<sup>20</sup> "Because he knew no quietness
 within him,
 he shall not save anything of that in which he delights.
<sup>21</sup> There was nothing left that he didn't devour, therefore his prosperity shall not
 endure.
<sup>22</sup> In the fullness of his sufficiency,
 distress shall overtake him.
 The hand of everyone who is in misery shall come on him.
<sup>23</sup> When he is about to fill his belly, God will cast the fierceness of his wrath on him.

It will rain on him while he is eating.
<sup>24</sup> He shall flee from the iron weapon.
 The bronze arrow shall strike him
 through.
<sup>25</sup> He draws it out, and it comes out of his body.
 Yes, the glittering point comes out of his liver.
 Terrors are on him.
<sup>26</sup> All darkness is laid up for his
 treasures.
 An unfanned fire shall devour him.
 It shall consume that which is left
 in his tent.
<sup>27</sup> The heavens shall reveal his iniquity.
 The earth shall rise up against him.
<sup>28</sup> The increase of his house shall depart.
 They shall rush away in the day of
 his wrath.
<sup>29</sup> This is the portion of a wicked man
 from God,
 the heritage appointed to him by

21

<sup>2</sup> "Listen diligently to my speech.
 Let this be your consolation.
<sup>3</sup> Allow me, and I also will speak;
 After I have spoken, mock on.
<sup>4</sup> As for me, is my complaint to man?
 Why shouldn't I be impatient?
<sup>5</sup> Look at me, and be astonished.
 Lay your hand on your mouth.
<sup>6</sup> When I remember, I am troubled.
 Horror takes hold of my flesh.
<sup>7</sup> "Why do the wicked live, become old, yes, and grow mighty
 in power?

- 8 Their child is established with them in their sight,
their offspring before their eyes.
- 9 Their houses are safe from fear,
neither is the rod of God upon
them.
- 10 Their bulls breed without fail.
Their cows calve, and don't miscarry.
- 11 They send out their little ones like a
flock.
Their children dance.
- 12 They sing to the tambourine and harp,
and rejoice at the sound of the pipe.
- 13 They spend their days in prosperity.
In an instant they go down to Sheol.<sup>j</sup>
- 14 They tell God, 'Depart from us,
for we don't want to know about
your ways.
- 15 What is the Almighty, that we should serve him?
What profit should we have, if we pray to him?'
- 16 Behold, their prosperity is not in their
hand.
The counsel of the wicked is far
from me.
- 17 'How often is it that the lamp of the wicked is put out,
that their calamity comes on them,
that God distributes sorrows in his
anger?
- 18 How often is it that they are as stubble before the wind,
as chaff that the storm carries
away?
- 19 You say, 'God lays up his iniquity for his children.'
- Let him recompense it to himself,
that he may know it.
- 20 Let his own eyes see his destruction.
Let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
- 21 For what does he care for his house
after him,
when the number of his months is cut off?
- 22 'Shall any teach God knowledge,
since he judges those who are high?
- 23 One dies in his full strength,
being wholly at ease and quiet.
- 24 His pails are full of milk.
The marrow of his bones is moistened.
- 25 Another dies in bitterness of soul,
and never tastes of good.
- 26 They lie down alike in the dust.
The worm covers them.
- 27 'Behold, I know your thoughts,
the devices with which you would wrong me.
- 28 For you say, 'Where is the house of the prince?
Where is the tent in which the wicked lived?'
- 29 Haven't you asked wayfaring men?
Don't you know their evidences, 30 that the evil man is reserved to the day of calamity,
That they are led out to the day of
wrath?
- 31 Who shall declare his way to his face?
Who shall repay him what he has
done?
- 32 Yet he will be borne to the grave.

<sup>j</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

Men shall keep watch over the tomb.

<sup>33</sup> The clods of the valley shall be sweet
to him.

All men shall draw after him,
as there were innumerable before
him.

<sup>34</sup> So how can you comfort me with nonsense,
because in your answers there remains only falsehood?"

22

<sup>2</sup> "Can a man be profitable to God?
Surely he who is wise is profitable
to himself.

<sup>3</sup> Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that you are righteous?

Or does it benefit him, that you make your ways perfect?

<sup>4</sup> Is it for your piety that he reproves
you,
that he enters with you into
judgment?

<sup>5</sup> Isn't your wickedness great?
Neither is there any end to your
iniquities.

<sup>6</sup> For you have taken pledges from your brother for nothing,
and stripped the naked of their
clothing.

<sup>7</sup> You haven't given water to the weary
to drink,
and you have withheld bread from
the hungry.

<sup>8</sup> But as for the mighty man, he had the
earth.

The honorable man, he lived in it.

<sup>9</sup> You have sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore snares are around you.
Sudden fear troubles you,

<sup>11</sup> or darkness, so that you can not see,
and floods of waters cover you.

<sup>12</sup> "Isn't God in the heights of heaven?
See the height of the stars, how high they are!

<sup>13</sup> You say, 'What does God know?
Can he judge through the thick
darkness?

<sup>14</sup> Thick clouds are a covering to him, so that he doesn't see.

He walks on the vault of the sky.'

<sup>15</sup> Will you keep the old way,
which wicked men have trodden,

<sup>16</sup> who were snatched away before their
time,
whose foundation was poured out
as a stream,

<sup>17</sup> who said to God, 'Depart from us;'
and, 'What can the Almighty do for
us?'

<sup>18</sup> Yet he filled their houses with good
things,
but the counsel of the wicked is far
from me.

<sup>19</sup> The righteous see it, and are glad.
The innocent ridicule them,

<sup>20</sup> saying, 'Surely those who rose up against us are cut off.
The fire has consumed their remnant.'

<sup>21</sup> "Acquaint yourself with him, now,
and be at peace.

Thereby good shall come to you.

<sup>22</sup> Please receive instruction from his
mouth,
and lay up his words in your heart.

<sup>23</sup> If you return to the Almighty, you shall be built up,
 if you put away unrighteousness far
 from your tents.
<sup>24</sup> Lay your treasure in the dust,
 the gold of Ophir among the stones
 of the brooks.
<sup>25</sup> The Almighty will be your treasure,
 and precious silver to you.
<sup>26</sup> For then you will delight yourself in
 the Almighty,
 and shall lift up your face to God.
<sup>27</sup> You shall make your prayer to him,
 and he will hear you.
 You shall pay your vows.
<sup>28</sup> You shall also decree a thing, and it shall be established to you.
 Light shall shine on your ways.
<sup>29</sup> When they cast down, you shall say,
 ‘be lifted up.’
 He will save the humble person.
<sup>30</sup> He will even deliver him who is not
 innocent.
 Yes, he shall be delivered through the cleanness of your hands.”

23

<sup>2</sup> “Even today my complaint is rebellious.
 His hand is heavy in spite of my
 groaning.
<sup>3</sup> Oh that I knew where I might find
 him!
 That I might come even to his seat!
<sup>4</sup> I would set my cause in order before
 him,
 and fill my mouth with arguments.
<sup>5</sup> I would know the words which he would answer me,

and understand what he would tell
 me.
<sup>6</sup> Would he contend with me in the greatness of his power?
 No, but he would listen to me.
<sup>7</sup> There the upright might reason with
 him,
 so I should be delivered forever
 from my judge.
<sup>8</sup> “If I go east, he is not there;
 if west, I can’t find him;
<sup>9</sup> He works to the north, but I can’t see
 him.
 He turns south, but I can’t catch a glimpse of him.
<sup>10</sup> But he knows the way that I take.
 When he has tried me, I shall come out like gold.
<sup>11</sup> My foot has held fast to his steps.
 I have kept his way, and not turned aside.
<sup>12</sup> I haven’t gone back from the commandment of his lips.
 I have treasured up the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.
<sup>13</sup> But he stands alone, and who can
 oppose him?
 What his soul desires, even that he does.
<sup>14</sup> For he performs that which is appointed for me.
 Many such things are with him.
<sup>15</sup> Therefore I am terrified at his
 presence.
 When I consider, I am afraid of
 him.
<sup>16</sup> For God has made my heart faint.
 The Almighty has terrified me.

<sup>17</sup> Because I was not cut off before the
darkness,
neither did he cover the thick darkness from my face.

24

<sup>1</sup> “Why aren’t times laid up by the Almighty?
Why don’t those who know him see
his days?
<sup>2</sup> There are people who remove the landmarks.
They violently take away flocks,
and feed them.
<sup>3</sup> They drive away the donkey of the
fatherless,
and they take the widow’s ox for a pledge.
<sup>4</sup> They turn the needy out of the way.
The poor of the earth all hide
themselves.
<sup>5</sup> Behold, as wild donkeys in the desert,
they go out to their work, seeking diligently for food.
The wilderness yields them bread for their children.
<sup>6</sup> They cut their food in the field.
They glean the vineyard of the wicked.
<sup>7</sup> They lie all night naked without
clothing,
and have no covering in the cold.
<sup>8</sup> They are wet with the showers of the mountains,
and embrace the rock for lack of a shelter.
<sup>9</sup> There are those who pluck the fatherless from the breast,
and take a pledge of the poor, <sup>10</sup> So that they go around naked
without clothing.

Being hungry, they carry the sheaves.
<sup>11</sup> They make oil within the walls of these men.
They tread wine presses, and suffer
thirst.
<sup>12</sup> From out of the populous city, men
groan.
The soul of the wounded cries out,
yet God doesn’t regard the folly.
<sup>13</sup> “These are of those who rebel against the light.
They don’t know its ways,
nor stay in its paths.
<sup>14</sup> The murderer rises with the light.
He kills the poor and needy.
In the night he is like a thief.
<sup>15</sup> The eye also of the adulterer waits for
the twilight,
saying, ‘No eye shall see me.’
He disguises his face.
<sup>16</sup> In the dark they dig through houses.
They shut themselves up in the daytime.
They don’t know the light.
<sup>17</sup> For the morning is to all of them like
thick darkness,
for they know the terrors of the
thick darkness.
<sup>18</sup> “They are foam on the surface of the
waters.
Their portion is cursed in the earth.
They don’t turn into the way of the vineyards.
<sup>19</sup> Drought and heat consume the snow
waters,
so does Sheol<sup>k</sup> those who have
sinned.
<sup>20</sup> The womb shall forget him.

<sup>k</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

The worm shall feed sweetly on
him.
He shall be no more remembered.
Unrighteousness shall be broken as a tree.

- <sup>21</sup> He devours the barren who don't bear.
He shows no kindness to the widow.
- <sup>22</sup> Yet God preserves the mighty by his
power.
He rises up who has no assurance of life.
- <sup>23</sup> God gives them security, and they rest
in it.
His eyes are on their ways.
- <sup>24</sup> They are exalted; yet a little while,
and they are gone.
Yes, they are brought low, they are taken out of the way as all
others,
and are cut off as the tops of the ears of grain.
- <sup>25</sup> If it isn't so now, who will prove me a liar,
and make my speech worth
nothing?"

25

- <sup>1</sup> Then Bildad the Shuhite answered, <sup>2</sup> "Dominion and fear are with him.
He makes peace in his high places.
<sup>3</sup> Can his armies be counted?
On whom does his light not arise?
<sup>4</sup> How then can man be just with God?
Or how can he who is born of a woman be clean?
<sup>5</sup> Behold, even the moon has no
brightness,

and the stars are not pure in his
sight;

- <sup>6</sup> How much less man, who is a worm,
the son of man, who is a worm!"

26

- <sup>1</sup> Then Job answered, <sup>2</sup> "How have you helped him who is without power!
How have you saved the arm that has no strength!
<sup>3</sup> How have you counseled him who has no wisdom,
and plentifully declared sound
knowledge!
<sup>4</sup> To whom have you uttered words?
Whose spirit came out of you?
<sup>5</sup> "The departed spirits tremble, those beneath the waters and all that live in them.
<sup>6</sup> Sheol<sup>l</sup> is naked before God,
and Abaddon<sup>m</sup> has no covering.
<sup>7</sup> He stretches out the north over empty space,
and hangs the earth on nothing.
<sup>8</sup> He binds up the waters in his thick
clouds,
and the cloud is not burst under
them.
<sup>9</sup> He encloses the face of his throne,
and spreads his cloud on it.
<sup>10</sup> He has described a boundary on the surface of the waters,
and to the confines of light and
darkness.
<sup>11</sup> The pillars of heaven tremble
and are astonished at his rebuke.

and by his understanding he strikes through Rahab.

<sup>13</sup> By his Spirit the heavens are garnished.

His hand has pierced the swift
serpent.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, these are but the outskirts of his ways.

How small a whisper do we hear of
him!

But the thunder of his power who can understand?"

27

<sup>1</sup> Job again took up his parable, and said,

<sup>2</sup> "As God lives, who has taken away
my right,
the Almighty, who has made my soul bitter.

<sup>3</sup> (For the length of my life is still in me,
and the spirit of God is in my
nostrils);

<sup>4</sup> surely my lips shall not speak
unrighteousness,
neither shall my tongue utter deceit.

<sup>5</sup> Far be it from me that I should justify
you.

Until I die I will not put away my integrity from me.

<sup>6</sup> I hold fast to my righteousness, and will not let it go.

My heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.

<sup>7</sup> "Let my enemy be as the wicked.

Let him who rises up against me be
as the unrighteous.

<sup>8</sup> For what is the hope of the godless,
when he is cut off, when God
takes away his life?

<sup>9</sup> Will God hear his cry when trouble comes on him?

<sup>10</sup> Will he delight himself in the Almighty,
and call on God at all times?

<sup>11</sup> I will teach you about the hand of God.

That which is with the Almighty
will I not conceal.

<sup>12</sup> Behold, all of you have seen it
yourselves;
why then have you become altogether vain?

<sup>13</sup> "This is the portion of a wicked man
with God,
the heritage of oppressors, which they receive from the Almighty.

<sup>14</sup> If his children are multiplied, it is for
the sword.
His offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.

<sup>15</sup> Those who remain of him shall be buried in death.
His widows shall make no
lamentation.

<sup>16</sup> Though he heap up silver as the dust,
and prepare clothing as the clay;

<sup>17</sup> he may prepare it, but the just shall put it on,
and the innocent shall divide the
silver.

<sup>18</sup> He builds his house as the moth,
as a booth which the watchman makes.

<sup>19</sup> He lies down rich, but he shall not do so again.
He opens his eyes, and he is not.

<sup>20</sup> Terrors overtake him like waters.
A storm steals him away in the
night.

- 21 The east wind carries him away, and
he departs.
It sweeps him out of his place.
- 22 For it hurls at him, and does not
spare,
as he flees away from his hand.
- 23 Men shall clap their hands at him,
and shall hiss him out of his place.

- 1 “Surely there is a mine for silver,
and a place for gold which they refine.
- 2 Iron is taken out of the earth,
and copper is smelted out of the ore.
- 3 Man sets an end to darkness,
and searches out, to the furthest
bound,
the stones of obscurity and of thick
darkness.
- 4 He breaks open a shaft away from where people live.
They are forgotten by the foot.
They hang far from men, they swing back and forth.
- 5 As for the earth, out of it comes bread;
Underneath it is turned up as it were by fire.
- 6 Sapphires come from its rocks.
It has dust of gold.
- 7 That path no bird of prey knows,
neither has the falcon’s eye seen it.
- 8 The proud animals have not trodden it,
nor has the fierce lion passed by
there.
- 9 He puts his hand on the flinty rock,
and he overturns the mountains by the roots.
- 10 He cuts out channels among the
rocks.
His eye sees every precious thing.
- 11 He binds the streams that they don’t trickle.
The thing that is hidden he brings
out to light.
- 12 “But where shall wisdom be found?
Where is the place of
understanding?
- 13 Man doesn’t know its price;
Neither is it found in the land of the living.
- 14 The deep says, ‘It isn’t in me.’
The sea says, ‘It isn’t with me.’
- 15 It can’t be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for its price.
- 16 It can’t be valued with the gold of Ophir,
with the precious onyx, or the sapphire.<sup>n</sup>
- 17 Gold and glass can’t equal it, neither shall it be exchanged for jewels of fine gold.
- 18 No mention shall be made of coral or
of crystal.
Yes, the price of wisdom is above
rubies.
- 19 The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal
it,
Neither shall it be valued with pure
gold.
- 20 Where then does wisdom come from?
Where is the place of
understanding?
- 21 Seeing it is hidden from the eyes of all living,
and kept close from the birds of the sky.

<sup>22</sup> Destruction and Death say,
 ‘We have heard a rumor of it with our ears.’
<sup>23</sup> “God understands its way,
 and he knows its place.
<sup>24</sup> For he looks to the ends of the earth,
 and sees under the whole sky.
<sup>25</sup> He establishes the force of the wind.
 Yes, he measures out the waters by
 measure.
<sup>26</sup> When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder;
<sup>27</sup> then he saw it, and declared it.
 He established it, yes, and searched
 it out.
<sup>28</sup> To man he said, ‘Behold, the fear of the Lord,<sup>o</sup> that is wisdom.
 To depart from evil is
 understanding.’”

29

<sup>1</sup> Job again took up his parable, and said, <sup>2</sup> “Oh that I were as in the months of old,
 as in the days when God watched
 over me;
<sup>3</sup> when his lamp shone on my head,
 and by his light I walked through
 darkness,
<sup>4</sup> as I was in the ripeness of my days, when the friendship of God was in my tent,
<sup>5</sup> when the Almighty was yet with me,
 and my children were around me, <sup>6</sup> when my steps were washed with
 butter,

and the rock poured out streams of oil for me,
<sup>7</sup> when I went out to the city gate,
 when I prepared my seat in the street.
<sup>8</sup> The young men saw me and hid
 themselves.
 The aged rose up and stood.
<sup>9</sup> The princes refrained from talking,
 and laid their hand on their mouth.
<sup>10</sup> The voice of the nobles was hushed,
 and their tongue stuck to the roof of their mouth.
<sup>11</sup> For when the ear heard me, then it blessed me;
 and when the eye saw me, it
 commended me:
<sup>12</sup> Because I delivered the poor who cried,
 and the fatherless also, who had no
 one to help him, <sup>13</sup> the blessing of him who was ready to perish came on me,
 and I caused the widow’s heart to sing for joy.
<sup>14</sup> I put on righteousness, and it clothed
 me.
 My justice was as a robe and a diadem.
<sup>15</sup> I was eyes to the blind,
 and feet to the lame.
<sup>16</sup> I was a father to the needy.
 The cause of him who I didn’t know, I searched out.
<sup>17</sup> I broke the jaws of the unrighteous,
 and plucked the prey out of his
 teeth.
<sup>18</sup> Then I said, ‘I shall die in my own
 house,
 I shall number my days as the sand.

- <sup>19</sup> My root is spread out to the waters.
The dew lies all night on my branch.
- <sup>20</sup> My glory is fresh in me.
My bow is renewed in my hand.’
- <sup>21</sup> “Men listened to me, waited,
and kept silence for my counsel.
- <sup>22</sup> After my words they didn’t speak
again.
My speech fell on them.
- <sup>23</sup> They waited for me as for the rain.
Their mouths drank as with the spring rain.
- <sup>24</sup> I smiled on them when they had no
confidence.
They didn’t reject the light of my
face.
- <sup>25</sup> I chose out their way, and sat as chief.
I lived as a king in the army,
as one who comforts the mourners.

30

- <sup>1</sup> “But now those who are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have disdained to put with my sheep dogs.
- <sup>2</sup> Of what use is the strength of their hands to me,
men in whom ripe age has
perished?
- <sup>3</sup> They are gaunt from lack and famine.
They gnaw the dry ground, in the gloom of waste and desolation.
- <sup>4</sup> They pluck salt herbs by the bushes.
The roots of the broom are their
food.
- <sup>5</sup> They are driven out from among men.
They cry after them as after a thief;
- <sup>6</sup> So that they dwell in frightful valleys,
and in holes of the earth and of the
rocks.
- <sup>7</sup> Among the bushes they bray;
and under the nettles they are gathered together.
- <sup>8</sup> They are children of fools, yes,
children of base men.
They were flogged out of the land.
- <sup>9</sup> “Now I have become their song.
Yes, I am a byword to them.
- <sup>10</sup> They abhor me, they stand aloof from
me,
and don’t hesitate to spit in my
face.
- <sup>11</sup> For he has untied his cord, and
afflicted me;
and they have thrown off restraint
before me.
- <sup>12</sup> On my right hand rise the rabble.
They thrust aside my feet,
They cast up against me their ways
of destruction.
- <sup>13</sup> They mar my path,
They set forward my calamity,
without anyone’s help.
- <sup>14</sup> As through a wide breach they come,
in the middle of the ruin they roll themselves in.
- <sup>15</sup> Terrors have turned on me.
They chase my honor as the wind.
My welfare has passed away as a
cloud.
- <sup>16</sup> “Now my soul is poured out within
me.
Days of affliction have taken hold
on me.
- <sup>17</sup> In the night season my bones are pierced in me,

and the pains that gnaw me take no rest.

<sup>18</sup> By great force is my garment disfigured.
It binds me about as the collar of my coat.

<sup>19</sup> He has cast me into the mire.
I have become like dust and ashes.

<sup>20</sup> I cry to you, and you do not answer me.
I stand up, and you gaze at me.

<sup>21</sup> You have turned to be cruel to me.
With the might of your hand you persecute me.

<sup>22</sup> You lift me up to the wind, and drive me with it.
You dissolve me in the storm.

<sup>23</sup> For I know that you will bring me to death,
To the house appointed for all living.

<sup>24</sup> “However doesn’t one stretch out a hand in his fall?
Or in his calamity therefore cry for help?

<sup>25</sup> Didn’t I weep for him who was in trouble?
Wasn’t my soul grieved for the needy?

<sup>26</sup> When I looked for good, then evil came;
When I waited for light, there came darkness.

<sup>27</sup> My heart is troubled, and doesn’t rest.
Days of affliction have come on me.

<sup>28</sup> I go mourning without the sun.
I stand up in the assembly, and cry for help.

<sup>29</sup> I am a brother to jackals,

and a companion to ostriches.

<sup>30</sup> My skin grows black and peels from me.
My bones are burned with heat.

<sup>31</sup> Therefore my harp has turned to mourning,
and my pipe into the voice of those who weep.

31

<sup>1</sup> “I made a covenant with my eyes,
how then should I look lustfully at a young woman?

<sup>2</sup> For what is the portion from God above,
and the heritage from the Almighty on high?

<sup>3</sup> Is it not calamity to the unrighteous,
and disaster to the workers of iniquity?

<sup>4</sup> Doesn’t he see my ways,
and number all my steps?

<sup>5</sup> “If I have walked with falsehood,
and my foot has hurried to deceit

<sup>6</sup> (let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know my integrity);

<sup>7</sup> if my step has turned out of the way,
if my heart walked after my eyes,
if any defilement has stuck to my hands,

<sup>8</sup> then let me sow, and let another eat.
Yes, let the produce of my field be rooted out.

<sup>9</sup> “If my heart has been enticed to a woman,
and I have laid wait at my neighbor’s door,

<sup>10</sup> then let my wife grind for another,
and let others sleep with her.

<sup>11</sup> For that would be a heinous crime.

- Yes, it would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges:
- <sup>12</sup> For it is a fire that consumes to
destruction,
and would root out all my increase.
- <sup>13</sup> “If I have despised the cause of my male servant
or of my female servant,
when they contended with me;
- <sup>14</sup> What then shall I do when God rises
up?
When he visits, what shall I answer
him?
- <sup>15</sup> Didn’t he who made me in the womb
make him?
Didn’t one fashion us in the womb?
- <sup>16</sup> “If I have withheld the poor from their desire,
or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail,
- <sup>17</sup> or have eaten my morsel alone,
and the fatherless has not eaten of it
- <sup>18</sup> (no, from my youth he grew up with me as with a father,
her have I guided from my mother’s womb);
- <sup>19</sup> if I have seen any perish for want of
clothing,
or that the needy had no covering;
- <sup>20</sup> if his heart hasn’t blessed me,
if he hasn’t been warmed with my sheep’s fleece;
- <sup>21</sup> if I have lifted up my hand against the
fatherless,
because I saw my help in the gate,
- <sup>22</sup> then let my shoulder fall from the shoulder blade,
and my arm be broken from the bone.
- <sup>23</sup> For calamity from God is a terror to
me.
Because his majesty, I can do
nothing.
- <sup>24</sup> “If I have made gold my hope,
and have said to the fine gold, ‘You are my confidence;’
- <sup>25</sup> If I have rejoiced because my wealth
was great,
and because my hand had gotten
much;
- <sup>26</sup> if I have seen the sun when it shined,
or the moon moving in splendor,
- <sup>27</sup> and my heart has been secretly
enticed,
and my hand threw a kiss from my
mouth,
- <sup>28</sup> this also would be an iniquity to be
punished by the judges;
for I should have denied the God
who is above.
- <sup>29</sup> “If I have rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me,
or lifted up myself when evil found
him;
- <sup>30</sup> (yes, I have not allowed my mouth to
sin
by asking his life with a curse);
- <sup>31</sup> if the men of my tent have not said, ‘Who can find one who has not been filled with his meat?’
- <sup>32</sup> (the foreigner has not camped in the
street,
but I have opened my doors to the traveler);
- <sup>33</sup> if like Adam I have covered my
transgressions,
by hiding my iniquity in my heart,
- <sup>34</sup> because I feared the great multitude,

and the contempt of families
terrified me,
so that I kept silence, and didn't go out of the door—
35 oh that I had one to hear me!
(behold, here is my signature, let the Almighty answer me);
let the accuser write my indictment!
36 Surely I would carry it on my shoulder;
and I would bind it to me as a
crown.
37 I would declare to him the number of my steps.
as a prince would I go near to him.
38 If my land cries out against me,
and its furrows weep together;
39 if I have eaten its fruits without
money,
or have caused its owners to lose
their life,
40 let briars grow instead of wheat,
and stinkweed instead of barley.”
The words of Job are ended.

32

<sup>1</sup> So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. <sup>2</sup> Then the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel, the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled against Job. His wrath was kindled because he justified himself rather than God. <sup>3</sup> Also his wrath was kindled against his three friends, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. <sup>4</sup> Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job, because they were elder than he. <sup>5</sup> When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled.

<sup>6</sup> Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered,
“I am young, and you are very old;
Therefore I held back, and didn't dare show you my opinion.
<sup>7</sup> I said, ‘Days should speak,
and multitude of years should teach
wisdom.’
<sup>8</sup> But there is a spirit in man,
and the breath of the Almighty
gives them understanding.
<sup>9</sup> It is not the great who are wise,
nor the aged who understand
justice.
<sup>10</sup> Therefore I said, ‘Listen to me;
I also will show my opinion.’
<sup>11</sup> “Behold, I waited for your words,
and I listened for your reasoning,
while you searched out what to say.
<sup>12</sup> Yes, I gave you my full attention,
but there was no one who convinced Job,
or who answered his words, among
you.
<sup>13</sup> Beware lest you say, ‘We have found
wisdom,
God may refute him, not man;’
<sup>14</sup> for he has not directed his words
against me;
neither will I answer him with your
speeches.
<sup>15</sup> “They are amazed. They answer no
more.
They don't have a word to say.
<sup>16</sup> Shall I wait, because they don't
speak,
because they stand still, and answer
no more?
<sup>17</sup> I also will answer my part,
and I also will show my opinion.

- 18 For I am full of words.
The spirit within me constrains me.
- 19 Behold, my breast is as wine which has no vent;
like new wineskins it is ready to burst.
- 20 I will speak, that I may be refreshed.
I will open my lips and answer.
- 21 Please don't let me respect any man's
person,
neither will I give flattering titles to any man.
- 22 For I don't know how to give flattering titles;
or else my Maker would soon take me away.

33

- 1 "However, Job, please hear my speech,
and listen to all my words.
- 2 See now, I have opened my mouth.
My tongue has spoken in my
mouth.
- 3 My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart.
That which my lips know they shall speak sincerely.
- 4 The Spirit of God has made me,
and the breath of the Almighty
gives me life.
- 5 If you can, answer me.
Set your words in order before me,
and stand up.
- 6 Behold, I am toward God even as you
are.
I am also formed out of the clay.
- 7 Behold, my terror shall not make you
afraid,
neither shall my pressure be heavy
on you.
- 8 "Surely you have spoken in my hearing,
I have heard the voice of your words, saying,
- 9 'I am clean, without disobedience.
I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me.
- 10 Behold, he finds occasions against
me.
He counts me for his enemy.
- 11 He puts my feet in the stocks.
He marks all my paths.'
- 12 "Behold, I will answer you. In this you are not just,
for God is greater than man.
- 13 Why do you strive against him, because he doesn't give account of any of his matters?
- 14 For God speaks once,
yes twice, though man pays no attention.
- 15 In a dream, in a vision of the night,
when deep sleep falls on men,
in slumbering on the bed;
- 16 Then he opens the ears of men,
and seals their instruction,
- 17 That he may withdraw man from his purpose,
and hide pride from man.
- 18 He keeps back his soul from the pit,
and his life from perishing by the
sword.
- 19 He is chastened also with pain on his
bed,
with continual strife in his bones;
- 20 So that his life abhors bread,
and his soul dainty food.
- 21 His flesh is so consumed away, that it can't be seen.

His bones that were not seen stick
out.

<sup>22</sup> Yes, his soul draws near to the pit,
and his life to the destroyers.

<sup>23</sup> “If there is beside him an angel,
an interpreter, one among a
thousand,
to show to man what is right for
him;

<sup>24</sup> then God is gracious to him, and says, ‘Deliver him from going down to the pit,
I have found a ransom.’

<sup>25</sup> His flesh shall be fresher than a child’s.
He returns to the days of his youth.

<sup>26</sup> He prays to God, and he is favorable
to him,
so that he sees his face with joy.
He restores to man his
righteousness.

<sup>27</sup> He sings before men, and says,
‘I have sinned, and perverted that which was right,
and it didn’t profit me.

<sup>28</sup> He has redeemed my soul from going into the pit.
My life shall see the light.’

<sup>29</sup> “Behold, God does all these things,
twice, yes three times, with a man, <sup>30</sup> to bring back his soul from the pit,
that he may be enlightened with the light of the living.

<sup>31</sup> Mark well, Job, and listen to me.
Hold your peace, and I will speak.

<sup>32</sup> If you have anything to say, answer
me.
Speak, for I desire to justify you.

<sup>33</sup> If not, listen to me.

Hold your peace, and I will teach you wisdom.”

34

<sup>2</sup> “Hear my words, you wise men.
Give ear to me, you who have
knowledge.

<sup>3</sup> For the ear tries words,
as the palate tastes food.

<sup>4</sup> Let us choose for us that which is right.
Let us know among ourselves what is good.

<sup>5</sup> For Job has said, ‘I am righteous,
God has taken away my right:

<sup>6</sup> Notwithstanding my right I am
considered a liar.
My wound is incurable, though I am without disobedience.’

<sup>7</sup> What man is like Job,
who drinks scorn like water,

<sup>8</sup> Who goes in company with the workers of iniquity,
and walks with wicked men?

<sup>9</sup> For he has said, ‘It profits a man
nothing
that he should delight himself with
God.’

<sup>10</sup> “Therefore listen to me, you men of
understanding:
far be it from God, that he should
do wickedness,
from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.

<sup>11</sup> For the work of a man he will render
to him,
and cause every man to find
according to his ways.

<sup>12</sup> Yes surely, God will not do wickedly,

- neither will the Almighty pervert
justice.
- <sup>13</sup> Who put him in charge of the earth?
or who has appointed him over the whole world?
- <sup>14</sup> If he set his heart on himself,
If he gathered to himself his spirit
and his breath,
- <sup>15</sup> all flesh would perish together,
and man would turn again to dust.
- <sup>16</sup> “If now you have understanding, hear
this.
Listen to the voice of my words.
- <sup>17</sup> Shall even one who hates justice
govern?
Will you condemn him who is righteous and mighty?—
- <sup>18</sup> Who says to a king, ‘Vile!’
or to nobles, ‘Wicked!’?
- <sup>19</sup> Who doesn’t respect the persons of princes,
nor respects the rich more than the
poor;
for they all are the work of his
hands.
- <sup>20</sup> In a moment they die, even at midnight.
The people are shaken and pass
away.
The mighty are taken away without
a hand.
- <sup>21</sup> “For his eyes are on the ways of a
man.
He sees all his goings.
- <sup>22</sup> There is no darkness, nor thick
gloom,
where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
- <sup>23</sup> For he doesn’t need to consider a man
further,
- that he should go before God in
judgment.
- <sup>24</sup> He breaks in pieces mighty men in ways past finding out,
and sets others in their place.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore he takes knowledge of their
works.
He overturns them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
- <sup>26</sup> He strikes them as wicked men
in the open sight of others;
- <sup>27</sup> because they turned aside from following him,
and wouldn’t pay attention to any
of his ways,
- <sup>28</sup> so that they caused the cry of the poor
to come to him.
He heard the cry of the afflicted.
- <sup>29</sup> When he gives quietness, who then can condemn?
When he hides his face, who then
can see him?
Alike whether to a nation, or to a
man,
- <sup>30</sup> that the godless man may not reign,
that there be no one to ensnare the
people.
- <sup>31</sup> “For has any said to God,
‘I am guilty, but I will not offend
any more.
- <sup>32</sup> Teach me that which I don’t see.
If I have done iniquity, I will do it
no more’?
- <sup>33</sup> Shall his recompense be as you desire, that you refuse it?
For you must choose, and not I.
Therefore speak what you know.
- <sup>34</sup> Men of understanding will tell me,
yes, every wise man who hears me:
- <sup>35</sup> ‘Job speaks without knowledge.

His words are without wisdom.’
<sup>36</sup> I wish that Job were tried to the end, because of his answering like
 wicked men.
<sup>37</sup> For he adds rebellion to his sin.
 He claps his hands among us,
 and multiplies his words against
 God.”

35

<sup>2</sup> “Do you think this to be your right, or do you say, ‘My righteousness is more than God’s,’
<sup>3</sup> That you ask, ‘What advantage will it be to you?
 What profit shall I have, more than
 if I had sinned?’
<sup>4</sup> I will answer you,
 and your companions with you.
<sup>5</sup> Look to the heavens, and see.
 See the skies, which are higher than
 you.
<sup>6</sup> If you have sinned, what effect do you have against him?
 If your transgressions are multiplied, what do you do
 to him?
<sup>7</sup> If you are righteous, what do you give
 him?
 Or what does he receive from your
 hand?
<sup>8</sup> Your wickedness may hurt a man as you are,
 and your righteousness may profit a son of man.
<sup>9</sup> “By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out.
 They cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty.

<sup>10</sup> But no one says, ‘Where is God my Maker,
 who gives songs in the night,
<sup>11</sup> who teaches us more than the animals
 of the earth,
 and makes us wiser than the birds
 of the sky?’
<sup>12</sup> There they cry, but no one gives
 answer,
 because of the pride of evil men.
<sup>13</sup> Surely God will not hear an empty
 cry,
 neither will the Almighty regard it.
<sup>14</sup> How much less when you say you don’t see him.
 The cause is before him, and you
 wait for him!
<sup>15</sup> But now, because he has not visited in
 his anger,
 neither does he greatly regard arrogance.
<sup>16</sup> Therefore Job opens his mouth with empty talk,
 and he multiplies words without
 knowledge.”

36

<sup>2</sup> “Bear with me a little, and I will show
 you;
 for I still have something to say on God’s behalf.
<sup>3</sup> I will get my knowledge from afar,
 and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.
<sup>4</sup> For truly my words are not false.
 One who is perfect in knowledge is
 with you.
<sup>5</sup> “Behold, God is mighty, and doesn’t despise anyone.

- He is mighty in strength of understanding.
- <sup>6</sup> He doesn't preserve the life of the wicked,
but gives to the afflicted their right.
- <sup>7</sup> He doesn't withdraw his eyes from the righteous,
but with kings on the throne,
he sets them forever, and they are exalted.
- <sup>8</sup> If they are bound in fetters,
and are taken in the cords of afflictions, <sup>9</sup> then he shows them their work,
and their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly.
- <sup>10</sup> He also opens their ears to instruction,
and commands that they return
from iniquity.
- <sup>11</sup> If they listen and serve him,
they shall spend their days in prosperity,
and their years in pleasures.
- <sup>12</sup> But if they don't listen, they shall perish by the sword;
they shall die without knowledge.
- <sup>13</sup> "But those who are godless in heart
lay up anger.
They don't cry for help when he binds them.
- <sup>14</sup> They die in youth.
Their life perishes among the unclean.
- <sup>15</sup> He delivers the afflicted by their affliction,
and opens their ear in oppression.
- <sup>16</sup> Yes, he would have allured you out of
distress,
into a wide place, where there is no
restriction.
That which is set on your table
would be full of fatness.
- <sup>17</sup> "But you are full of the judgment of
the wicked.
Judgment and justice take hold of
you.
- <sup>18</sup> Don't let riches entice you to wrath,
neither let the great size of a bribe turn you aside.
- <sup>19</sup> Would your wealth sustain you in
distress,
or all the might of your strength?
- <sup>20</sup> Don't desire the night,
when people are cut off in their
place.
- <sup>21</sup> Take heed, don't regard iniquity;
for you have chosen this rather than
affliction.
- <sup>22</sup> Behold, God is exalted in his power.
Who is a teacher like him?
- <sup>23</sup> Who has prescribed his way for him?
Or who can say, 'You have committed
unrighteousness?'
- <sup>24</sup> "Remember that you magnify his
work,
whereof men have sung.
- <sup>25</sup> All men have looked on it.
Man sees it afar off.
- <sup>26</sup> Behold, God is great, and we don't know him.
The number of his years is
unsearchable.
- <sup>27</sup> For he draws up the drops of water,
which distill in rain from his vapor, <sup>28</sup> Which the skies pour down
and which drop on man abundantly.

<sup>29</sup> Yes, can any understand the spreading of the clouds,
 and the thunderings of his pavilion?
<sup>30</sup> Behold, he spreads his light around
 him.
 He covers the bottom of the sea.
<sup>31</sup> For by these he judges the people.
 He gives food in abundance.
<sup>32</sup> He covers his hands with the
 lightning,
 and commands it to strike the mark.
<sup>33</sup> Its noise tells about him,
 and the livestock also concerning
 the storm that comes up.

37

<sup>1</sup> “Yes, at this my heart trembles,
 and is moved out of its place.
<sup>2</sup> Hear, oh, hear the noise of his voice,
 the sound that goes out of his
 mouth.
<sup>3</sup> He sends it out under the whole sky,
 and his lightning to the ends of the
 earth.
<sup>4</sup> After it a voice roars.
 He thunders with the voice of his majesty.
 He doesn’t hold back anything
 when his voice is heard.
<sup>5</sup> God thunders marvelously with his
 voice.
 He does great things, which we can’t comprehend.
<sup>6</sup> For he says to the snow, ‘Fall on the
 earth;’
 likewise to the shower of rain,
 and to the showers of his mighty
 rain.
<sup>7</sup> He seals up the hand of every man,

that all men whom he has made
 may know it.
<sup>8</sup> Then the animals take cover,
 and remain in their dens.
<sup>9</sup> Out of its room comes the storm,
 and cold out of the north.
<sup>10</sup> By the breath of God, ice is given,
 and the width of the waters is frozen.
<sup>11</sup> Yes, he loads the thick cloud with moisture.
 He spreads abroad the cloud of his
 lightning.
<sup>12</sup> It is turned around by his guidance,
 that they may do whatever he commands them
 on the surface of the habitable
 world,
<sup>13</sup> Whether it is for correction, or for his
 land,
 or for loving kindness, that he
 causes it to come.
<sup>14</sup> “Listen to this, Job.
 Stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.
<sup>15</sup> Do you know how God controls them,
 and causes the lightning of his cloud to shine?
<sup>16</sup> Do you know the workings of the
 clouds,
 the wondrous works of him who is perfect in knowledge?
<sup>17</sup> You whose clothing is warm,
 when the earth is still by reason of the south wind?
<sup>18</sup> Can you, with him, spread out the
 sky,
 which is strong as a cast metal mirror?
<sup>19</sup> Teach us what we shall tell him,

for we can't make our case by reason of darkness.

20 Will it be told him that I would
speak?
Or should a man wish that he were swallowed up?

21 Now men don't see the light which is bright in the skies,
but the wind passes, and clears
them.

22 Out of the north comes golden splendor.
With God is awesome majesty.

23 We can't reach the Almighty.
He is exalted in power.
In justice and great righteousness,
he will not oppress.

24 Therefore men revere him.
He doesn't regard any who are wise
of heart."

38

1 Then Yahweh answered Job out of the
whirlwind,

2 "Who is this who darkens counsel
by words without knowledge?

3 Brace yourself like a man,
for I will question you, then you
answer me!

4 "Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth?
Declare, if you have understanding.

5 Who determined its measures, if you
know?
Or who stretched the line on it?

6 Whereupon were its foundations
fastened?
Or who laid its cornerstone,
7 when the morning stars sang together,

and all the sons of God shouted for
joy?

8 "Or who shut up the sea with doors,
when it broke out of the womb,
9 when I made clouds its garment,
and wrapped it in thick darkness,
10 marked out for it my bound,
set bars and doors,
11 and said, 'Here you may come, but no
further.
Here your proud waves shall be stayed?'

12 "Have you commanded the morning
in your days,
and caused the dawn to know its
place;
13 that it might take hold of the ends of
the earth,
and shake the wicked out of it?
14 It is changed as clay under the seal,
and presented as a garment.

15 From the wicked, their light is withheld.
The high arm is broken.

16 "Have you entered into the springs of
the sea?
Or have you walked in the recesses
of the deep?

17 Have the gates of death been revealed
to you?
Or have you seen the gates of the
shadow of death?

18 Have you comprehended the earth in its width?
Declare, if you know it all.

19 "What is the way to the dwelling of
light?
As for darkness, where is its place,
20 that you should take it to its bound,

- that you should discern the paths to its house?
- 21 Surely you know, for you were born
then,
and the number of your days is
great!
- 22 Have you entered the treasuries of the
snow,
or have you seen the treasures of
the hail,
- 23 which I have reserved against the
time of trouble,
against the day of battle and war?
- 24 By what way is the lightning distributed,
or the east wind scattered on the
earth?
- 25 Who has cut a channel for the flood
water,
or the path for the thunderstorm;
- 26 To cause it to rain on a land where no man is;
on the wilderness, in which there is no man;
- 27 to satisfy the waste and desolate
ground,
to cause the tender grass to grow?
- 28 Does the rain have a father?
Or who fathers the drops of dew?
- 29 Out of whose womb came the ice?
The gray frost of the sky, who has given birth to it?
- 30 The waters become hard like stone,
when the surface of the deep is
frozen.
- 31 “Can you bind the cluster of the Pleiades,
or loosen the cords of Orion?
- 32 Can you lead the constellations out in
their season?
- Or can you guide the Bear with her cubs?
- 33 Do you know the laws of the
heavens?
Can you establish its dominion over
the earth?
- 34 “Can you lift up your voice to the
clouds,
That abundance of waters may cover you?
- 35 Can you send out lightnings, that they may go?
Do they report to you, ‘Here we
are?’
- 36 Who has put wisdom in the inward
parts?
Or who has given understanding to
the mind?
- 37 Who can number the clouds by
wisdom?
Or who can pour out the bottles of
the sky,
- 38 when the dust runs into a mass,
and the clods of earth stick
together?
- 39 “Can you hunt the prey for the
lioness,
or satisfy the appetite of the young
lions,
- 40 when they crouch in their dens,
and lie in wait in the thicket?
- 41 Who provides for the raven his prey,
when his young ones cry to God,
and wander for lack of food?

39

- 1 “Do you know the time when the mountain goats give birth?
Do you watch when the doe bears
fawns?

- <sup>2</sup> Can you number the months that they fulfill?
 Or do you know the time when they give birth?
- <sup>3</sup> They bow themselves, they bear their young.
 They end their labor pains.
- <sup>4</sup> Their young ones become strong.
 They grow up in the open field.
 They go out, and don't return again.
- <sup>5</sup> "Who has set the wild donkey free?
 Or who has loosened the bonds of the swift donkey,
- <sup>6</sup> Whose home I have made the wilderness,
 and the salt land his dwelling place?
- <sup>7</sup> He scorns the tumult of the city,
 neither does he hear the shouting of the driver.
- <sup>8</sup> The range of the mountains is his pasture,
 He searches after every green thing.
- <sup>9</sup> "Will the wild ox be content to serve you?
 Or will he stay by your feeding trough?
- <sup>10</sup> Can you hold the wild ox in the furrow with his harness?
 Or will he till the valleys after you?
- <sup>11</sup> Will you trust him, because his strength is great?
 Or will you leave to him your labor?
- <sup>12</sup> Will you confide in him, that he will bring home your seed,
 and gather the grain of your threshing floor?
- <sup>13</sup> "The wings of the ostrich wave proudly;
- but are they the feathers and plumage of love?
- <sup>14</sup> For she leaves her eggs on the earth,
 warms them in the dust,
- <sup>15</sup> and forgets that the foot may crush them,
 or that the wild animal may trample them.
- <sup>16</sup> She deals harshly with her young ones, as if they were not hers.
 Though her labor is in vain, she is without fear,
- <sup>17</sup> because God has deprived her of wisdom,
 neither has he imparted to her understanding.
- <sup>18</sup> When she lifts up herself on high,
 she scorns the horse and his rider.
- <sup>19</sup> "Have you given the horse might?
 Have you clothed his neck with a quivering mane?
- <sup>20</sup> Have you made him to leap as a locust?
 The glory of his snorting is awesome.
- <sup>21</sup> He paws in the valley, and rejoices in his strength.
 He goes out to meet the armed men.
- <sup>22</sup> He mocks at fear, and is not dismayed,
 neither does he turn back from the sword.
- <sup>23</sup> The quiver rattles against him,
 the flashing spear and the javelin.
- <sup>24</sup> He eats up the ground with fierceness and rage, neither does he stand still at the sound of the trumpet.
- <sup>25</sup> As often as the trumpet sounds he snorts, 'Aha!'

He smells the battle afar off,
 the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
 26 "Is it by your wisdom that the hawk soars,
 and stretches her wings toward the south?
 27 Is it at your command that the eagle
 mounts up,
 and makes his nest on high?
 28 On the cliff he dwells, and makes his
 home,
 on the point of the cliff, and the stronghold.
 29 From there he spies out the prey.
 His eyes see it afar off.
 30 His young ones also suck up blood.
 Where the slain are, there he is."

1 Moreover Yahweh answered Job,
 2 "Shall he who argues contend with the Almighty?
 He who argues with God, let him
 answer it."
 3 Then Job answered Yahweh, 4 "Behold, I am of small account. What shall I answer you?
 I lay my hand on my mouth.
 5 I have spoken once, and I will not
 answer;
 Yes, twice, but I will proceed no
 further."
 6 Then Yahweh answered Job out of the
 whirlwind,
 7 "Now brace yourself like a man.
 I will question you, and you will
 answer me.
 8 Will you even annul my judgment?"

Will you condemn me, that you
 may be justified?
 9 Or do you have an arm like God?
 Can you thunder with a voice like
 him?
 10 "Now deck yourself with excellency
 and dignity.
 Array yourself with honor and
 majesty.
 11 Pour out the fury of your anger.
 Look at everyone who is proud, and
 bring him low.
 12 Look at everyone who is proud, and
 humble him.
 Crush the wicked in their place.
 13 Hide them in the dust together.
 Bind their faces in the hidden place.
 14 Then I will also admit to you that your own right hand can save
 you.
 15 "See now, behemoth, which I made as well as you.
 He eats grass as an ox.
 16 Look now, his strength is in his thighs.
 His force is in the muscles of his belly.
 17 He moves his tail like a cedar.
 The sinews of his thighs are knit
 together.
 18 His bones are like tubes of brass.
 His limbs are like bars of iron.
 19 He is the chief of the ways of God.
 He who made him gives him his
 sword.
 20 Surely the mountains produce food
 for him,
 where all the animals of the field
 play.
 21 He lies under the lotus trees,

in the covert of the reed, and the marsh.

- 22 The lotuses cover him with their shade.
The willows of the brook surround
him.
- 23 Behold, if a river overflows, he doesn't tremble.
He is confident, though the Jordan
swells even to his mouth.
- 24 Shall any take him when he is on the watch,
or pierce through his nose with a snare?

41

- 1 "Can you draw out Leviathan<sup>p</sup> with a fish hook,
or press down his tongue with a cord?
- 2 Can you put a rope into his nose,
or pierce his jaw through with a hook?
- 3 Will he make many petitions to you,
or will he speak soft words to you?
- 4 Will he make a covenant with you,
that you should take him for a servant forever?
- 5 Will you play with him as with a bird?
Or will you bind him for your girls?
- 6 Will traders barter for him?
Will they part him among the merchants?
- 7 Can you fill his skin with barbed irons,
or his head with fish spears?
- 8 Lay your hand on him.
Remember the battle, and do so no
more.
- 9 Behold, the hope of him is in vain.

Won't one be cast down even at the sight of him?

- 10 None is so fierce that he dare stir him
up.
Who then is he who can stand
before me?
- 11 Who has first given to me, that I should repay him?
Everything under the heavens is
mine.
- 12 "I will not keep silence concerning his limbs,
nor his mighty strength, nor his goodly frame.
- 13 Who can strip off his outer garment?
Who shall come within his jaws?
- 14 Who can open the doors of his face?
Around his teeth is terror.
- 15 Strong scales are his pride,
shut up together with a close seal.
- 16 One is so near to another,
that no air can come between them.
- 17 They are joined to one another.
They stick together, so that they can't be pulled apart.
- 18 His sneezing flashes out light.
His eyes are like the eyelids of the
morning.
- 19 Out of his mouth go burning torches.
Sparks of fire leap out.
- 20 Out of his nostrils a smoke goes,
as of a boiling pot over a fire of reeds.
- 21 His breath kindles coals.
A flame goes out of his mouth.
- 22 There is strength in his neck.
Terror dances before him.
- 23 The flakes of his flesh are joined
together.

<sup>p</sup> Leviathan is a name for a crocodile or similar creature.

They are firm on him.
They can't be moved.

<sup>24</sup> His heart is as firm as a stone,
yes, firm as the lower millstone.

<sup>25</sup> When he raises himself up, the mighty are afraid.
They retreat before his thrashing.

<sup>26</sup> If one attacks him with the sword, it can't prevail;
nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft.

<sup>27</sup> He counts iron as straw;
and brass as rotten wood.

<sup>28</sup> The arrow can't make him flee.
Sling stones are like chaff to him.

<sup>29</sup> Clubs are counted as stubble.
He laughs at the rushing of the javelin.

<sup>30</sup> His undersides are like sharp
potsherds,
leaving a trail in the mud like a threshing sledge.

<sup>31</sup> He makes the deep to boil like a pot.
He makes the sea like a pot of ointment.

<sup>32</sup> He makes a path shine after him.
One would think the deep had white hair.

<sup>33</sup> On earth there is not his equal,
that is made without fear.

<sup>34</sup> He sees everything that is high.
He is king over all the sons of pride."

42

<sup>1</sup> Then Job answered Yahweh, <sup>2</sup> "I know that you can do all things,
and that no purpose of yours can be
restrained.

<sup>3</sup> You asked, 'Who is this who hides
counsel without knowledge?'
therefore I have uttered that which I did not understand,
things too wonderful for me, which I didn't know.

<sup>4</sup> You said, 'Listen, now, and I will
speak;
I will question you, and you will
answer me.'

<sup>5</sup> I had heard of you by the hearing of the ear,
but now my eye sees you.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore I abhor myself,
and repent in dust and ashes."

<sup>7</sup> It was so, that after Yahweh had spoken
these words to Job, Yahweh said to Eliphaz
the Temanite, "My wrath is kindled against you, and against your two friends; for you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job has. <sup>8</sup> Now therefore, take to yourselves seven bulls
and seven rams, and go to my servant Job,
and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept him, that I not deal with you according to your folly. For you have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job has."

<sup>9</sup> So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went,
and did what Yahweh commanded them,
and Yahweh accepted Job.

<sup>10</sup> Yahweh turned the captivity of Job,
when he prayed for his friends. Yahweh gave Job twice as much as he had before. <sup>11</sup>
Then came there to him all his brothers,
and all his sisters, and all those who had been of his acquaintance before, and ate bread with him in his house. They comforted him, and consoled him concerning all the evil that Yahweh had brought on him. Everyone also gave him a piece of money,<sup>9</sup> and everyone a ring of gold.

<sup>12</sup> So Yahweh blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning. He had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys. <sup>13</sup> He had also seven sons and three daughters. <sup>14</sup> He called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren Happuch. <sup>15</sup> In all the land were no women found so beautiful as the daughters of Job. Their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers. <sup>16</sup> After this Job lived one hundred forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, to four generations. <sup>17</sup> So Job died, being old and full of days.

<sup>9</sup> literally, kesitah, a unit of money, probably silver

The Proverbs

1

<sup>2</sup> to know wisdom and instruction;
to discern the words of
understanding;

<sup>3</sup> to receive instruction in wise dealing,
in righteousness, justice, and
equity;

<sup>4</sup> to give prudence to the simple,
knowledge and discretion to the young man:

<sup>5</sup> that the wise man may hear, and increase in learning;
that the man of understanding may attain to sound counsel:

<sup>6</sup> to understand a proverb, and parables,
the words and riddles of the wise.

<sup>7</sup> The fear of Yahweh<sup>a</sup> is the beginning of knowledge;
but the foolish despise wisdom and
instruction.

<sup>8</sup> My son, listen to your father's
instruction,
and don't forsake your mother's teaching:

<sup>9</sup> for they will be a garland to grace your
head,
and chains around your neck.

<sup>10</sup> My son, if sinners entice you, don't consent.

<sup>11</sup> If they say, "Come with us,
Let's lay in wait for blood;
let's lurk secretly for the innocent
without cause;

<sup>12</sup> let's swallow them up alive like Sheol,<sup>b</sup>
and whole, like those who go down
into the pit.

<sup>13</sup> We'll find all valuable wealth.
We'll fill our houses with plunder.

<sup>14</sup> You shall cast your lot among us.
We'll all have one purse."

<sup>15</sup> My son, don't walk on the path with
them.

Keep your foot from their path,
<sup>16</sup> for their feet run to evil.
They hurry to shed blood.

<sup>17</sup> For in vain is the net spread in the sight of any bird:

<sup>18</sup> but these lay wait for their own blood.
They lurk secretly for their own lives.

<sup>19</sup> So are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain.
It takes away the life of its owners.

<sup>20</sup> Wisdom calls aloud in the street.
She utters her voice in the public squares.

<sup>21</sup> She calls at the head of noisy places.
At the entrance of the city gates,
she utters her words:

<sup>22</sup> "How long, you simple ones, will you love simplicity?
How long will mockers delight
themselves in mockery,
and fools hate knowledge?"

<sup>23</sup> Turn at my reproof.
Behold,<sup>c</sup> I will pour out my spirit
on you.

<sup>c</sup> "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

I will make known my words to
you.
<sup>24</sup> Because I have called, and you have refused;
I have stretched out my hand, and
no one has paid attention;
<sup>25</sup> but you have ignored all my counsel,
and wanted none of my reproof;
<sup>26</sup> I also will laugh at your disaster.
I will mock when calamity
overtakes you;
<sup>27</sup> when calamity overtakes you like a storm,
when your disaster comes on like a
whirlwind;
when distress and anguish come on
you.
<sup>28</sup> Then will they call on me, but I will not answer.
They will seek me diligently, but
they will not find me;
<sup>29</sup> because they hated knowledge,
and didn't choose the fear of
Yahweh.
<sup>30</sup> They wanted none of my counsel.
They despised all my reproof.
<sup>31</sup> Therefore they will eat of the fruit of their own way,
and be filled with their own
schemes.
<sup>32</sup> For the backsliding of the simple will kill them.
The careless ease of fools will destroy them.
<sup>33</sup> But whoever listens to me will dwell securely,
and will be at ease, without fear of harm."

2

<sup>1</sup> My son, if you will receive my words,
and store up my commandments
within you;
<sup>2</sup> So as to turn your ear to wisdom,
and apply your heart to
understanding;
<sup>3</sup> Yes, if you call out for discernment,
and lift up your voice for
understanding;
<sup>4</sup> If you seek her as silver,
and search for her as for hidden
treasures:
<sup>5</sup> then you will understand the fear of Yahweh,
and find the knowledge of God.<sup>d</sup>
<sup>6</sup> For Yahweh gives wisdom.
Out of his mouth comes knowledge
and understanding.
<sup>7</sup> He lays up sound wisdom for the
upright.
He is a shield to those who walk in
integrity;
<sup>8</sup> that he may guard the paths of justice,
and preserve the way of his saints.
<sup>9</sup> Then you will understand righteousness and justice,
equity and every good path.
<sup>10</sup> For wisdom will enter into your heart.
Knowledge will be pleasant to your
soul.
<sup>11</sup> Discretion will watch over you.
Understanding will keep you,
<sup>12</sup> to deliver you from the way of evil,
from the men who speak perverse
things;
<sup>13</sup> who forsake the paths of uprightness,
to walk in the ways of darkness;
<sup>14</sup> who rejoice to do evil,

and delight in the perverseness of
 evil;
 15 who are crooked in their ways,
 and wayward in their paths:
 16 To deliver you from the strange
 woman,
 even from the foreigner who flatters
 with her words;
 17 who forsakes the friend of her youth,
 and forgets the covenant of her
 God:
 18 for her house leads down to death,
 her paths to the departed spirits.
 19 None who go to her return again, neither do they attain to the paths of
 life:
 20 that you may walk in the way of good
 men,
 and keep the paths of the righteous.
 21 For the upright will dwell in the land.
 The perfect will remain in it.
 22 But the wicked will be cut off from
 the land.
 The treacherous will be rooted out
 of it.

3

1 My son, don't forget my teaching;
 but let your heart keep my
 commandments:
 2 for length of days, and years of life,
 and peace, will they add to you.
 3 Don't let kindness and truth forsake
 you.
 Bind them around your neck.
 Write them on the tablet of your
 heart.
 4 So you will find favor,
 and good understanding in the sight
 of God and man.

5 Trust in Yahweh with all your heart,
 and don't lean on your own
 understanding.
 6 In all your ways acknowledge him,
 and he will make your paths
 straight.
 7 Don't be wise in your own eyes.
 Fear Yahweh, and depart from evil.
 8 It will be health to your body,
 and nourishment to your bones.
 9 Honor Yahweh with your substance, with the first fruits of all your
 increase:
 10 so your barns will be filled with plenty,
 and your vats will overflow with
 new wine.
 11 My son, don't despise Yahweh's
 discipline,
 neither be weary of his reproof:
 12 for whom Yahweh loves, he reproves;
 even as a father reproves the son in whom he delights.
 13 Happy is the man who finds wisdom,
 the man who gets understanding.
 14 For her good profit is better than getting silver,
 and her return is better than fine
 gold.
 15 She is more precious than rubies.
 None of the things you can desire
 are to be compared to her.
 16 Length of days is in her right hand.
 In her left hand are riches and
 honor.
 17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness.
 All her paths are peace.
 18 She is a tree of life to those who lay hold of her.
 Happy is everyone who retains her.

- <sup>19</sup> By wisdom Yahweh founded the earth.
By understanding, he established the heavens.
- <sup>20</sup> By his knowledge, the depths were broken up,
and the skies drop down the dew.
- <sup>21</sup> My son, let them not depart from your eyes.
Keep sound wisdom and discretion:
<sup>22</sup> so they will be life to your soul,
and grace for your neck.
- <sup>23</sup> Then you shall walk in your way securely.
Your foot won't stumble.
- <sup>24</sup> When you lie down, you will not be afraid.
Yes, you will lie down, and your sleep will be sweet.
- <sup>25</sup> Don't be afraid of sudden fear,
neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it comes:
- <sup>26</sup> for Yahweh will be your confidence,
and will keep your foot from being taken.
- <sup>27</sup> Don't withhold good from those to whom it is due,
when it is in the power of your hand to do it.
- <sup>28</sup> Don't say to your neighbor, "Go, and come again;
tomorrow I will give it to you,"
when you have it by you.
- <sup>29</sup> Don't devise evil against your neighbor,
since he dwells securely by you.
- <sup>30</sup> Don't strive with a man without cause,
if he has done you no harm.
- <sup>31</sup> Don't envy the man of violence.

Choose none of his ways.

- <sup>32</sup> For the perverse is an abomination to Yahweh,
but his friendship is with the upright.
- <sup>33</sup> Yahweh's curse is in the house of the wicked,
but he blesses the habitation of the righteous.
- <sup>34</sup> Surely he mocks the mockers,
but he gives grace to the humble.
- <sup>35</sup> The wise will inherit glory,
but shame will be the promotion of fools.

4

- <sup>1</sup> Listen, sons, to a father's instruction.
Pay attention and know understanding;
- <sup>2</sup> for I give you sound learning.
Don't forsake my law.
- <sup>3</sup> For I was a son to my father,
tender and an only child in the sight of my mother.
- <sup>4</sup> He taught me, and said to me:
"Let your heart retain my words.
Keep my commandments, and live.
- <sup>5</sup> Get wisdom.
Get understanding.
Don't forget, neither swerve from the words of my mouth.
- <sup>6</sup> Don't forsake her, and she will preserve you.
Love her, and she will keep you.
- <sup>7</sup> Wisdom is supreme.
Get wisdom.
Yes, though it costs all your possessions, get understanding.
- <sup>8</sup> Esteem her, and she will exalt you.

- She will bring you to honor, when you embrace her.
- <sup>9</sup> She will give to your head a garland of
grace.
She will deliver a crown of splendor to you.”
- <sup>10</sup> Listen, my son, and receive my
sayings.
The years of your life will be many.
- <sup>11</sup> I have taught you in the way of
wisdom.
I have led you in straight paths.
- <sup>12</sup> When you go, your steps will not be hampered.
When you run, you will not stumble.
- <sup>13</sup> Take firm hold of instruction.
Don't let her go.
Keep her, for she is your life.
- <sup>14</sup> Don't enter into the path of the
wicked.
Don't walk in the way of evil men.
- <sup>15</sup> Avoid it, and don't pass by it.
Turn from it, and pass on.
- <sup>16</sup> For they don't sleep, unless they do
evil.
Their sleep is taken away, unless they make someone fall.
- <sup>17</sup> For they eat the bread of wickedness,
and drink the wine of violence.
- <sup>18</sup> But the path of the righteous is like
the dawning light,
that shines more and more until the perfect day.
- <sup>19</sup> The way of the wicked is like
darkness.
They don't know what they stumble
over.
- <sup>20</sup> My son, attend to my words.
Turn your ear to my sayings.

- <sup>21</sup> Let them not depart from your eyes.
Keep them in the center of your
heart.
- <sup>22</sup> For they are life to those who find
them,
and health to their whole body.
- <sup>23</sup> Keep your heart with all diligence,
for out of it is the wellspring of life.
- <sup>24</sup> Put away from yourself a perverse
mouth.
Put corrupt lips far from you.
- <sup>25</sup> Let your eyes look straight ahead.
Fix your gaze directly before you.
- <sup>26</sup> Make the path of your feet level.
Let all of your ways be established.
- <sup>27</sup> Don't turn to the right hand nor to the left.
Remove your foot from evil.

5

- <sup>1</sup> My son, pay attention to my wisdom.
Turn your ear to my understanding:
<sup>2</sup> that you may maintain discretion,
that your lips may preserve
knowledge.
- <sup>3</sup> For the lips of an adulteress drip
honey.
Her mouth is smoother than oil,
- <sup>4</sup> But in the end she is as bitter as
wormwood,
and as sharp as a two-edged sword.
- <sup>5</sup> Her feet go down to death.
Her steps lead straight to Sheol.<sup>e</sup>
- <sup>6</sup> She gives no thought to the way of life.
Her ways are crooked, and she doesn't know it.
- <sup>7</sup> Now therefore, my sons, listen to me.
Don't depart from the words of my
mouth.

<sup>e</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

8 Remove your way far from her.
 Don't come near the door of her
 house,
 9 lest you give your honor to others,
 and your years to the cruel one;
 10 lest strangers feast on your wealth,
 and your labors enrich another
 man's house.
 11 You will groan at your latter end,
 when your flesh and your body are
 consumed,
 12 and say, "How I have hated
 instruction,
 and my heart despised reproof;
 13 neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers,
 nor turned my ear to those who instructed me!
 14 I have come to the brink of utter ruin,
 among the gathered assembly."
 15 Drink water out of your own cistern,
 running water out of your own well.
 16 Should your springs overflow in the streets,
 streams of water in the public
 squares?
 17 Let them be for yourself alone,
 not for strangers with you.
 18 Let your spring be blessed.
 Rejoice in the wife of your youth.
 19 A loving doe and a graceful deer—
 let her breasts satisfy you at all times.
 Be captivated always with her love.
 20 For why should you, my son, be captivated with an adulteress?
 Why embrace the bosom of
 another?

21 For the ways of man are before Yahweh's eyes.
 He examines all his paths.
 22 The evil deeds of the wicked ensnare
 him.
 The cords of his sin hold him
 firmly.
 23 He will die for lack of instruction.
 In the greatness of his folly, he will go astray.

6

1 My son, if you have become collateral
 for your neighbor,
 if you have struck your hands in pledge for a stranger;
 2 You are trapped by the words of your
 mouth.
 You are ensnared with the words of
 your mouth.
 3 Do this now, my son, and deliver
 yourself,
 since you have come into the hand
 of your neighbor.
 Go, humble yourself.
 Press your plea with your neighbor.
 4 Give no sleep to your eyes,
 nor slumber to your eyelids.
 5 Free yourself, like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter,
 like a bird from the snare of the fowler.
 6 Go to the ant, you sluggard.
 Consider her ways, and be wise;
 7 which having no chief, overseer, or
 ruler,
 8 provides her bread in the summer,
 and gathers her food in the harvest.
 9 How long will you sleep, sluggard?

- When will you arise out of your sleep?
- <sup>10</sup> A little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep:
- <sup>11</sup> so your poverty will come as a robber,
and your scarcity as an armed man.
- <sup>12</sup> A worthless person, a man of iniquity,
is he who walks with a perverse mouth;
- <sup>13</sup> who winks with his eyes, who signals with his feet,
who motions with his fingers;
- <sup>14</sup> in whose heart is perverseness,
who devises evil continually,
who always sows discord.
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore his calamity will come suddenly.
He will be broken suddenly, and that without remedy.
- <sup>16</sup> There are six things which Yahweh hates;
yes, seven which are an abomination to him:
- <sup>17</sup> haughty eyes, a lying tongue,
hands that shed innocent blood;
- <sup>18</sup> a heart that devises wicked schemes,
feet that are swift in running to mischief,
- <sup>19</sup> a false witness who utters lies,
and he who sows discord among brothers.
- <sup>20</sup> My son, keep your father's commandment,
and don't forsake your mother's teaching.
- <sup>21</sup> Bind them continually on your heart.
Tie them around your neck.
- <sup>22</sup> When you walk, it will lead you.
- When you sleep, it will watch over you.
- When you awake, it will talk with you.
- <sup>23</sup> For the commandment is a lamp,
and the law is light.
Reproofs of instruction are the way of life,
- <sup>24</sup> to keep you from the immoral woman,
from the flattery of the wayward wife's tongue.
- <sup>25</sup> Don't lust after her beauty in your heart,
neither let her captivate you with her eyelids.
- <sup>26</sup> For a prostitute reduces you to a piece of bread.
The adulteress hunts for your precious life.
- <sup>27</sup> Can a man scoop fire into his lap,
and his clothes not be burned?
- <sup>28</sup> Or can one walk on hot coals,
and his feet not be scorched?
- <sup>29</sup> So is he who goes in to his neighbor's wife.
Whoever touches her will not be unpunished.
- <sup>30</sup> Men don't despise a thief,
if he steals to satisfy himself when he is hungry:
- <sup>31</sup> but if he is found, he shall restore seven times.
He shall give all the wealth of his house.
- <sup>32</sup> He who commits adultery with a woman is void of understanding.
He who does it destroys his own soul.

- <sup>33</sup> He will get wounds and dishonor.
His reproach will not be wiped
away.
- <sup>34</sup> For jealousy arouses the fury of the husband.
He won't spare in the day of vengeance.
- <sup>35</sup> He won't regard any ransom,
neither will he rest content, though
you give many gifts.

7

- <sup>1</sup> My son, keep my words.
Lay up my commandments within
you.
- <sup>2</sup> Keep my commandments and live!
Guard my teaching as the apple of your eye.
- <sup>3</sup> Bind them on your fingers.
Write them on the tablet of your
heart.
- <sup>4</sup> Tell wisdom, "You are my sister."
Call understanding your relative, <sup>5</sup> that they may keep you from the strange woman,
from the foreigner who flatters with her words.
- <sup>6</sup> For at the window of my house,
I looked out through my lattice.
- <sup>7</sup> I saw among the simple ones.
I discerned among the youths a young man void of
understanding,
<sup>8</sup> passing through the street near her
corner,
he went the way to her house, <sup>9</sup> in the twilight, in the evening of the
day,
in the middle of the night and in the
darkness.
- <sup>10</sup> Behold, there a woman met him with the attire of a prostitute,
and with crafty intent.
- <sup>11</sup> She is loud and defiant.
Her feet don't stay in her house.
- <sup>12</sup> Now she is in the streets, now in the
squares,
and lurking at every corner.
- <sup>13</sup> So she caught him, and kissed him.
With an impudent face she said to
him:
- <sup>14</sup> "Sacrifices of peace offerings are with
me.
Today I have paid my vows.
- <sup>15</sup> Therefore I came out to meet you,
to diligently seek your face,
and I have found you.
- <sup>16</sup> I have spread my couch with carpets
of tapestry,
with striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt.
- <sup>17</sup> I have perfumed my bed with myrrh,
aloes, and cinnamon.
- <sup>18</sup> Come, let's take our fill of loving until the morning.
Let's solace ourselves with loving.
- <sup>19</sup> For my husband isn't at home.
He has gone on a long journey.
- <sup>20</sup> He has taken a bag of money with
him.
He will come home at the full
moon."
- <sup>21</sup> With persuasive words, she led him
astray.
With the flattering of her lips, she seduced him.
- <sup>22</sup> He followed her immediately,
as an ox goes to the slaughter,
as a fool stepping into a noose.

- 23 Until an arrow strikes through his liver,
as a bird hurries to the snare,
and doesn't know that it will cost
his life.
- 24 Now therefore, sons, listen to me.
Pay attention to the words of my
mouth.
- 25 Don't let your heart turn to her ways.
Don't go astray in her paths, 26 for she has thrown down many wounded.
Yes, all her slain are a mighty
army.
- 27 Her house is the way to Sheol,<sup>f</sup>
going down to the rooms of death.

8

- 1 Doesn't wisdom cry out?
Doesn't understanding raise her
voice?
- 2 On the top of high places by the way,
where the paths meet, she stands.
- 3 Beside the gates, at the entry of the
city,
at the entry doors, she cries aloud:
- 4 "To you men, I call!
I send my voice to the sons of mankind.
- 5 You simple, understand prudence.
You fools, be of an understanding
heart.
- 6 Hear, for I will speak excellent things.
The opening of my lips is for right
things.
- 7 For my mouth speaks truth.
Wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
- 8 All the words of my mouth are in
righteousness.
- 9 They are all plain to him who understands,
right to those who find knowledge.
- 10 Receive my instruction rather than
silver;
knowledge rather than choice gold.
- 11 For wisdom is better than rubies.
All the things that may be desired
can't be compared to it.
- 12 "I, wisdom, have made prudence my dwelling.
Find out knowledge and discretion.
- 13 The fear of Yahweh is to hate evil.
I hate pride, arrogance, the evil way, and the perverse
mouth.
- 14 Counsel and sound knowledge are
mine.
I have understanding and power.
- 15 By me kings reign,
and princes decree justice.
- 16 By me princes rule;
nobles, and all the righteous rulers
of the earth.
- 17 I love those who love me.
Those who seek me diligently will find me.
- 18 With me are riches, honor,
enduring wealth, and prosperity.
- 19 My fruit is better than gold, yes, than fine gold;
my yield than choice silver.
- 20 I walk in the way of righteousness,
in the middle of the paths of justice;
- 21 That I may give wealth to those who love me.
I fill their treasuries.

<sup>f</sup>Sheol is the place of the dead.

22 “Yahweh possessed me in the beginning of his work,
     before his deeds of old.
 23 I was set up from everlasting, from
     the beginning,
     before the earth existed.
 24 When there were no depths, I was born,
     when there were no springs
     abounding with water.
 25 Before the mountains were settled in
     place,
     before the hills, I was born;
 26 while as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields,
     nor the beginning of the dust of the
     world.
 27 When he established the heavens, I
     was there;
     when he set a circle on the surface
     of the deep,
 28 when he established the clouds above,
     when the springs of the deep
     became strong,
 29 when he gave to the sea its boundary,
     that the waters should not violate
     his commandment,
     when he marked out the
     foundations of the earth;
 30 then I was the craftsman by his side.
     I was a delight day by day,
     always rejoicing before him,
 31 Rejoicing in his whole world.
     My delight was with the sons of
     men.
 32 “Now therefore, my sons, listen to
     me,
     for blessed are those who keep my
     ways.
 33 Hear instruction, and be wise.

Don't refuse it.

34 Blessed is the man who hears me,
     watching daily at my gates,
     waiting at my door posts.
 35 For whoever finds me, finds life,
     and will obtain favor from Yahweh.
 36 But he who sins against me wrongs
     his own soul.
     All those who hate me love death.”

9

1 Wisdom has built her house.
     She has carved out her seven pillars.
 2 She has prepared her meat.
     She has mixed her wine.
     She has also set her table.
 3 She has sent out her maidens.
     She cries from the highest places of the city:
 4 “Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!”
     As for him who is void of understanding, she says to
     him,
 5 “Come, eat some of my bread,
     Drink some of the wine which I have mixed!
 6 Leave your simple ways, and live.
     Walk in the way of understanding.”
 7 He who corrects a mocker invites insult.
     He who reproves a wicked man
     invites abuse.
 8 Don't reprove a scoffer, lest he hate
     you.
     Reprove a wise man, and he will love you.
 9 Instruct a wise man, and he will be still wiser.

- Teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.
- <sup>10</sup> The fear of Yahweh is the beginning of wisdom.
The knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.
- <sup>11</sup> For by me your days will be multiplied.
The years of your life will be increased.
- <sup>12</sup> If you are wise, you are wise for yourself.
If you mock, you alone will bear it.
- <sup>13</sup> The foolish woman is loud,
Undisciplined, and knows nothing.
- <sup>14</sup> She sits at the door of her house,
on a seat in the high places of the city,
- <sup>15</sup> To call to those who pass by,
who go straight on their ways,
- <sup>16</sup> “Whoever is simple, let him turn in here.”
as for him who is void of understanding, she says to him,
- <sup>17</sup> “Stolen water is sweet.
Food eaten in secret is pleasant.”
- <sup>18</sup> But he doesn't know that the departed spirits are there, that her guests are in the depths of Sheol.<sup>g</sup>

- <sup>1</sup> The proverbs of Solomon.
A wise son makes a glad father;
but a foolish son brings grief to his mother.
- <sup>2</sup> Treasures of wickedness profit nothing,
- but righteousness delivers from death.
- <sup>3</sup> Yahweh will not allow the soul of the righteous to go hungry,
but he thrusts away the desire of the wicked.
- <sup>4</sup> He becomes poor who works with a lazy hand,
but the hand of the diligent brings wealth.
- <sup>5</sup> He who gathers in summer is a wise son,
but he who sleeps during the harvest is a son who causes shame.
- <sup>6</sup> Blessings are on the head of the righteous,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- <sup>7</sup> The memory of the righteous is blessed,
but the name of the wicked will rot.
- <sup>8</sup> The wise in heart accept commandments,
but a chattering fool will fall.
- <sup>9</sup> He who walks blamelessly walks surely,
but he who perverts his ways will be found out.
- <sup>10</sup> One winking with the eye causes sorrow,
but a chattering fool will fall.
- <sup>11</sup> The mouth of the righteous is a spring of life,
but violence covers the mouth of the wicked.
- <sup>12</sup> Hatred stirs up strife,
but love covers all wrongs.
- <sup>13</sup> Wisdom is found on the lips of him who has discernment,

<sup>g</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- but a rod is for the back of him who is void of understanding.
- <sup>14</sup> Wise men lay up knowledge,
but the mouth of the foolish is near
ruin.
- <sup>15</sup> The rich man's wealth is his strong
city.
The destruction of the poor is their
poverty.
- <sup>16</sup> The labor of the righteous leads to
life.
The increase of the wicked leads to
sin.
- <sup>17</sup> He is in the way of life who heeds
correction,
but he who forsakes reproof leads others astray.
- <sup>18</sup> He who hides hatred has lying lips.
He who utters a slander is a fool.
- <sup>19</sup> In the multitude of words there is no
lack of disobedience,
but he who restrains his lips does wisely.
- <sup>20</sup> The tongue of the righteous is like choice silver.
The heart of the wicked is of little worth.
- <sup>21</sup> The lips of the righteous feed many,
but the foolish die for lack of
understanding.
- <sup>22</sup> Yahweh's blessing brings wealth,
and he adds no trouble to it.
- <sup>23</sup> It is a fool's pleasure to do
wickedness,
but wisdom is a man of understanding's pleasure.
- <sup>24</sup> What the wicked fear, will overtake
them,
but the desire of the righteous will be granted.
- <sup>25</sup> When the whirlwind passes, the wicked is no more;
but the righteous stand firm forever.
- <sup>26</sup> As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke
to the eyes,
so is the sluggard to those who send
him.
- <sup>27</sup> The fear of Yahweh prolongs days,
but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.
- <sup>28</sup> The prospect of the righteous is joy,
but the hope of the wicked will
perish.
- <sup>29</sup> The way of Yahweh is a stronghold to
the upright,
but it is a destruction to the workers
of iniquity.
- <sup>30</sup> The righteous will never be removed,
but the wicked will not dwell in the
land.
- <sup>31</sup> The mouth of the righteous produces
wisdom,
but the perverse tongue will be cut
off.
- <sup>32</sup> The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable,
but the mouth of the wicked is perverse.

11

- <sup>1</sup> A false balance is an abomination to Yahweh,
but accurate weights are his delight.
- <sup>2</sup> When pride comes, then comes shame,
but with humility comes wisdom.
- <sup>3</sup> The integrity of the upright shall guide
them,
but the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy
them.

- 4 Riches don't profit in the day of wrath,
but righteousness delivers from
death.
- 5 The righteousness of the blameless
will direct his way,
but the wicked shall fall by his own
wickedness.
- 6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them,
but the unfaithful will be trapped by evil desires.
- 7 When a wicked man dies, hope
perishes,
and expectation of power comes to
nothing.
- 8 A righteous person is delivered out of
trouble,
and the wicked takes his place.
- 9 With his mouth the godless man
destroys his neighbor,
but the righteous will be delivered through knowledge.
- 10 When it goes well with the righteous,
the city rejoices.
When the wicked perish, there is
shouting.
- 11 By the blessing of the upright, the city
is exalted,
but it is overthrown by the mouth of
the wicked.
- 12 One who despises his neighbor is void of wisdom,
but a man of understanding holds
his peace.
- 13 One who brings gossip betrays a
confidence,
but one who is of a trustworthy
spirit is one who keeps a secret.
- 14 Where there is no wise guidance, the nation falls,
but in the multitude of counselors
there is victory.
- 15 He who is collateral for a stranger
will suffer for it,
but he who refuses pledges of collateral is secure.
- 16 A gracious woman obtains honor,
but violent men obtain riches.
- 17 The merciful man does good to his own soul,
but he who is cruel troubles his own
flesh.
- 18 Wicked people earn deceitful wages,
but one who sows righteousness
reaps a sure reward.
- 19 He who is truly righteous gets life.
He who pursues evil gets death.
- 20 Those who are perverse in heart are an abomination to Yahweh,
but those whose ways are blameless
are his delight.
- 21 Most certainly, the evil man will not
be unpunished,
but the offspring<sup>h</sup> of the righteous
will be delivered.
- 22 Like a gold ring in a pig's snout,
is a beautiful woman who lacks discretion.
- 23 The desire of the righteous is only
good.
The expectation of the wicked is
wrath.
- 24 There is one who scatters, and increases yet more.
There is one who withholds more than is appropriate, but gains
poverty.
- 25 The liberal soul shall be made fat.

<sup>h</sup> or, seed

- He who waters shall be watered
also himself.
- <sup>26</sup> People curse someone who withholds
grain,
but blessing will be on the head of
him who sells it.
- <sup>27</sup> He who diligently seeks good seeks
favor,
but he who searches after evil, it shall come to him.
- <sup>28</sup> He who trusts in his riches will fall,
but the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.
- <sup>29</sup> He who troubles his own house shall inherit the wind.
The foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.
- <sup>30</sup> The fruit of the righteous is a tree of
life.
He who is wise wins souls.
- <sup>31</sup> Behold, the righteous shall be repaid
in the earth;
how much more the wicked and the sinner!
- ## 12
- <sup>1</sup> Whoever loves correction loves
knowledge,
but he who hates reproof is stupid.
- <sup>2</sup> A good man shall obtain favor from Yahweh,
but he will condemn a man of wicked devices.
- <sup>3</sup> A man shall not be established by
wickedness,
but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.
- <sup>4</sup> A worthy woman is the crown of her
husband,
but a disgraceful wife is as rottenness in his bones.
- <sup>5</sup> The thoughts of the righteous are just,
but the advice of the wicked is deceitful.
- <sup>6</sup> The words of the wicked are about lying in wait for blood,
but the speech of the upright
rescues them.
- <sup>7</sup> The wicked are overthrown, and are no
more,
but the house of the righteous shall stand.
- <sup>8</sup> A man shall be commended according to his wisdom,
but he who has a warped mind shall
be despised.
- <sup>9</sup> Better is he who is lightly esteemed,
and has a servant,
than he who honors himself, and
lacks bread.
- <sup>10</sup> A righteous man respects the life of his animal,
but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.
- <sup>11</sup> He who tills his land shall have plenty
of bread,
but he who chases fantasies is void
of understanding.
- <sup>12</sup> The wicked desires the plunder of evil
men,
but the root of the righteous
flourishes.
- <sup>13</sup> An evil man is trapped by sinfulness
of lips,
but the righteous shall come out of
trouble.
- <sup>14</sup> A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth.
The work of a man's hands shall be rewarded to him.

- <sup>15</sup> The way of a fool is right in his own eyes,
but he who is wise listens to counsel.
- <sup>16</sup> A fool shows his annoyance the same day,
but one who overlooks an insult is prudent.
- <sup>17</sup> He who is truthful testifies honestly,
but a false witness lies.
- <sup>18</sup> There is one who speaks rashly like the piercing of a sword,
but the tongue of the wise heals.
- <sup>19</sup> Truth's lips will be established forever,
but a lying tongue is only momentary.
- <sup>20</sup> Deceit is in the heart of those who plot evil,
but joy comes to the promoters of peace.
- <sup>21</sup> No mischief shall happen to the righteous,
but the wicked shall be filled with evil.
- <sup>22</sup> Lying lips are an abomination to Yahweh,
but those who do the truth are his delight.
- <sup>23</sup> A prudent man keeps his knowledge,
but the hearts of fools proclaim foolishness.
- <sup>24</sup> The hands of the diligent ones shall rule,
but laziness ends in slave labor.
- <sup>25</sup> Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down,
but a kind word makes it glad.
- <sup>26</sup> A righteous person is cautious in friendship,

but the way of the wicked leads them astray.

- <sup>27</sup> The slothful man doesn't roast his game,
but the possessions of diligent men are prized.
- <sup>28</sup> In the way of righteousness is life;
in its path there is no death.

13

- <sup>1</sup> A wise son listens to his father's instruction,
but a scoffer doesn't listen to rebuke.
- <sup>2</sup> By the fruit of his lips, a man enjoys good things;
but the unfaithful crave violence.
- <sup>3</sup> He who guards his mouth guards his soul.
One who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.
- <sup>4</sup> The soul of the sluggard desires, and has nothing,
but the desire of the diligent shall be fully satisfied.
- <sup>5</sup> A righteous man hates lies,
but a wicked man brings shame and disgrace.
- <sup>6</sup> Righteousness guards the way of integrity,
but wickedness overthrows the sinner.
- <sup>7</sup> There are some who pretend to be rich,
yet have nothing.
There are some who pretend to be poor,
yet have great wealth.
- <sup>8</sup> The ransom of a man's life is his riches,
but the poor hear no threats.
- <sup>9</sup> The light of the righteous shines brightly,

- but the lamp of the wicked is snuffed out.
- <sup>10</sup> Pride only breeds quarrels,
but with ones who take advice is
wisdom.
- <sup>11</sup> Wealth gained dishonestly dwindles
away,
but he who gathers by hand makes
it grow.
- <sup>12</sup> Hope deferred makes the heart sick,
but when longing is fulfilled, it is a tree of life.
- <sup>13</sup> Whoever despises instruction will pay
for it,
but he who respects a command
will be rewarded.
- <sup>14</sup> The teaching of the wise is a spring of
life,
to turn from the snares of death.
- <sup>15</sup> Good understanding wins favor;
but the way of the unfaithful is hard.
- <sup>16</sup> Every prudent man acts from
knowledge,
but a fool exposes folly.
- <sup>17</sup> A wicked messenger falls into
trouble,
but a trustworthy envoy gains
healing.
- <sup>18</sup> Poverty and shame come to him who refuses discipline,
but he who heeds correction shall
be honored.
- <sup>19</sup> Longing fulfilled is sweet to the soul,
but fools detest turning from evil.
- <sup>20</sup> One who walks with wise men grows
wise,
but a companion of fools suffers
harm.
- <sup>21</sup> Misfortune pursues sinners,

- but prosperity rewards the
righteous.
- <sup>22</sup> A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children, but the wealth of the sinner is stored for the righteous.
- <sup>23</sup> An abundance of food is in poor people's fields,
but injustice sweeps it away.
- <sup>24</sup> One who spares the rod hates his son,
but one who loves him is careful to discipline him.
- <sup>25</sup> The righteous one eats to the satisfying of his soul,
but the belly of the wicked goes hungry.

14

- <sup>1</sup> Every wise woman builds her house,
but the foolish one tears it down
with her own hands.
- <sup>2</sup> He who walks in his uprightness fears
Yahweh,
but he who is perverse in his ways
despises him.
- <sup>3</sup> The fool's talk brings a rod to his back,
but the lips of the wise protect
them.
- <sup>4</sup> Where no oxen are, the crib is clean,
but much increase is by the strength of the ox.
- <sup>5</sup> A truthful witness will not lie,
but a false witness pours out lies.
- <sup>6</sup> A scoffer seeks wisdom, and doesn't find it,
but knowledge comes easily to a discerning person.
- <sup>7</sup> Stay away from a foolish man,
for you won't find knowledge on his lips.

- <sup>8</sup> The wisdom of the prudent is to think about his way,
but the folly of fools is deceit.
- <sup>9</sup> Fools mock at making atonement for
sins,
but among the upright there is good
will.
- <sup>10</sup> The heart knows its own bitterness
and joy;
he will not share these with a
stranger.
- <sup>11</sup> The house of the wicked will be overthrown,
but the tent of the upright will
flourish.
- <sup>12</sup> There is a way which seems right to a
man,
but in the end it leads to death.
- <sup>13</sup> Even in laughter the heart may be sorrowful,
and mirth may end in heaviness.
- <sup>14</sup> The unfaithful will be repaid for his own ways;
likewise a good man will be rewarded for his ways.
- <sup>15</sup> A simple man believes everything,
but the prudent man carefully considers his ways.
- <sup>16</sup> A wise man fears, and shuns evil,
but the fool is hot headed and reckless.
- <sup>17</sup> He who is quick to become angry will commit folly,
and a crafty man is hated.
- <sup>18</sup> The simple inherit folly,
but the prudent are crowned with
knowledge.
- <sup>19</sup> The evil bow down before the good,
and the wicked at the gates of the
righteous.
- <sup>20</sup> The poor person is shunned even by his own neighbor,
but the rich person has many
friends.
- <sup>21</sup> He who despises his neighbor sins,
but blessed is he who has pity on
the poor.
- <sup>22</sup> Don't they go astray who plot evil?
But love and faithfulness belong to those who plan good.
- <sup>23</sup> In all hard work there is profit,
but the talk of the lips leads only to
poverty.
- <sup>24</sup> The crown of the wise is their riches,
but the folly of fools crowns them
with folly.
- <sup>25</sup> A truthful witness saves souls,
but a false witness is deceitful.
- <sup>26</sup> In the fear of Yahweh is a secure
fortress,
and he will be a refuge for his
children.
- <sup>27</sup> The fear of Yahweh is a fountain of
life,
turning people from the snares of
death.
- <sup>28</sup> In the multitude of people is the king's glory,
but in the lack of people is the destruction of the prince.
- <sup>29</sup> He who is slow to anger has great
understanding,
but he who has a quick temper displays folly.
- <sup>30</sup> The life of the body is a heart at
peace,
but envy rots the bones.
- <sup>31</sup> He who oppresses the poor shows
contempt for his Maker,

but he who is kind to the needy
honors him.

- <sup>32</sup> The wicked is brought down in his
calamity,
but in death, the righteous has a
refuge.
- <sup>33</sup> Wisdom rests in the heart of one who
has understanding,
and is even made known in the inward part of fools.
- <sup>34</sup> Righteousness exalts a nation,
but sin is a disgrace to any people.
- <sup>35</sup> The king's favor is toward a servant
who deals wisely,
but his wrath is toward one who causes shame.

15

- <sup>1</sup> A gentle answer turns away wrath,
but a harsh word stirs up anger.
- <sup>2</sup> The tongue of the wise commends
knowledge,
but the mouth of fools gush out
folly.
- <sup>3</sup> Yahweh's eyes are everywhere, keeping watch on the evil and the
good.
- <sup>4</sup> A gentle tongue is a tree of life,
but deceit in it crushes the spirit.
- <sup>5</sup> A fool despises his father's correction,
but he who heeds reproof shows prudence.
- <sup>6</sup> In the house of the righteous is much
treasure,
but the income of the wicked brings
trouble.
- <sup>7</sup> The lips of the wise spread knowledge;
not so with the heart of fools.
- <sup>8</sup> The sacrifice made by the wicked is an
abomination to Yahweh,

but the prayer of the upright is his
delight.

- <sup>9</sup> The way of the wicked is an
abomination to Yahweh,
but he loves him who follows after
righteousness.
- <sup>10</sup> There is stern discipline for one who
forsakes the way:
whoever hates reproof shall die.
- <sup>11</sup> Sheol<sup>i</sup> and Abaddon are before
Yahweh—
how much more then the hearts of the children of men!
- <sup>12</sup> A scoffer doesn't love to be reproved;
he will not go to the wise.
- <sup>13</sup> A glad heart makes a cheerful face;
but an aching heart breaks the
spirit.
- <sup>14</sup> The heart of one who has understanding seeks
knowledge,
but the mouths of fools feed on
folly.
- <sup>15</sup> All the days of the afflicted are wretched,
but one who has a cheerful heart
enjoys a continual feast.
- <sup>16</sup> Better is little, with the fear of Yahweh,
than great treasure with trouble.
- <sup>17</sup> Better is a dinner of herbs, where love
is,
than a fattened calf with hatred.
- <sup>18</sup> A wrathful man stirs up contention,
but one who is slow to anger
appeases strife.
- <sup>19</sup> The way of the sluggard is like a thorn patch,
but the path of the upright is a
highway.

<sup>i</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 20 A wise son makes a father glad,
but a foolish man despises his
mother.
- 21 Folly is joy to one who is void of
wisdom,
but a man of understanding keeps
his way straight.
- 22 Where there is no counsel, plans fail;
but in a multitude of counselors
they are established.
- 23 Joy comes to a man with the reply of
his mouth.
How good is a word at the right
time!
- 24 The path of life leads upward for the
wise,
to keep him from going downward
to Sheol.<sup>j</sup>
- 25 Yahweh will uproot the house of the
proud,
but he will keep the widow's
borders intact.
- 26 Yahweh detests the thoughts of the
wicked,
but the thoughts of the pure are
pleasing.
- 27 He who is greedy for gain troubles his
own house,
but he who hates bribes will live.
- 28 The heart of the righteous weighs answers,
but the mouth of the wicked gushes
out evil.
- 29 Yahweh is far from the wicked,
but he hears the prayer of the
righteous.
- 30 The light of the eyes rejoices the
heart.

- Good news gives health to the bones.
- 31 The ear that listens to reproof lives,
and will be at home among the
wise.
- 32 He who refuses correction despises
his own soul,
but he who listens to reproof gets
understanding.
- 33 The fear of Yahweh teaches wisdom.
Before honor is humility.

16

- 1 The plans of the heart belong to man,
but the answer of the tongue is from
Yahweh.
- 2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes;
but Yahweh weighs the motives.
- 3 Commit your deeds to Yahweh,
and your plans shall succeed.
- 4 Yahweh has made everything for its own end—
yes, even the wicked for the day of
evil.
- 5 Everyone who is proud in heart is an
abomination to Yahweh:
they shall certainly not be
unpunished.
- 6 By mercy and truth iniquity is atoned
for.
By the fear of Yahweh men depart
from evil.
- 7 When a man's ways please Yahweh,
he makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.
- 8 Better is a little with righteousness,
than great revenues with injustice.
- 9 A man's heart plans his course,
but Yahweh directs his steps.

<sup>j</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 10 Inspired judgments are on the lips of
the king.
He shall not betray his mouth.
- 11 Honest balances and scales are Yahweh's;
all the weights in the bag are his
work.
- 12 It is an abomination for kings to do
wrong,
for the throne is established by
righteousness.
- 13 Righteous lips are the delight of
kings.
They value one who speaks the
truth.
- 14 The king's wrath is a messenger of
death,
but a wise man will pacify it.
- 15 In the light of the king's face is life.
His favor is like a cloud of the
spring rain.
- 16 How much better it is to get wisdom
than gold!
Yes, to get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.
- 17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil.
He who keeps his way preserves his
soul.
- 18 Pride goes before destruction,
and a haughty spirit before a fall.
- 19 It is better to be of a lowly spirit with
the poor,
than to divide the plunder with the
proud.
- 20 He who heeds the Word finds prosperity.
Whoever trusts in Yahweh is
blessed.
- 21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent.
Pleasantness of the lips promotes
instruction.
- 22 Understanding is a fountain of life to one who has it,
but the punishment of fools is their
folly.
- 23 The heart of the wise instructs his
mouth,
and adds learning to his lips.
- 24 Pleasant words are a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the
bones.
- 25 There is a way which seems right to a
man,
but in the end it leads to death.
- 26 The appetite of the laboring man
labors for him;
for his mouth urges him on.
- 27 A worthless man devises mischief.
His speech is like a scorching fire.
- 28 A perverse man stirs up strife.
A whisperer separates close friends.
- 29 A man of violence entices his
neighbor,
and leads him in a way that is not
good.
- 30 One who winks his eyes to plot
perversities,
one who compresses his lips, is bent on evil.
- 31 Gray hair is a crown of glory.
It is attained by a life of
righteousness.
- 32 One who is slow to anger is better than the mighty;
one who rules his spirit, than he
who takes a city.
- 33 The lot is cast into the lap,

but its every decision is from Yahweh.

17

- <sup>1</sup> Better is a dry morsel with quietness,
than a house full of feasting with strife.
- <sup>2</sup> A servant who deals wisely will rule
over a son who causes
shame,
and shall have a part in the inheritance among the brothers.
- <sup>3</sup> The refining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold,
but Yahweh tests the hearts.
- <sup>4</sup> An evildoer heeds wicked lips.
A liar gives ear to a mischievous
tongue.
- <sup>5</sup> Whoever mocks the poor reproaches
his Maker.
He who is glad at calamity shall not
be unpunished.
- <sup>6</sup> Children's children are the crown of old men;
the glory of children are their parents.
- <sup>7</sup> Arrogant speech isn't fitting for a fool,
much less do lying lips fit a prince.
- <sup>8</sup> A bribe is a precious stone in the eyes
of him who gives it;
wherever he turns, he prospers.
- <sup>9</sup> He who covers an offense promotes
love;
but he who repeats a matter
separates best friends.
- <sup>10</sup> A rebuke enters deeper into one who
has understanding
than a hundred lashes into a fool.
- <sup>11</sup> An evil man seeks only rebellion;
therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.
- <sup>12</sup> Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a
man,
rather than a fool in his folly.
- <sup>13</sup> Whoever rewards evil for good,
evil shall not depart from his house.
- <sup>14</sup> The beginning of strife is like breaching a dam,
therefore stop contention before quarreling breaks out.
- <sup>15</sup> He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous,
both of them alike are an
abomination to Yahweh.
- <sup>16</sup> Why is there money in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom,
since he has no understanding?
- <sup>17</sup> A friend loves at all times;
and a brother is born for adversity.
- <sup>18</sup> A man void of understanding strikes
hands,
and becomes collateral in the presence of his neighbor.
- <sup>19</sup> He who loves disobedience loves
strife.
One who builds a high gate seeks
destruction.
- <sup>20</sup> One who has a perverse heart doesn't find prosperity,
and one who has a deceitful tongue
falls into trouble.
- <sup>21</sup> He who becomes the father of a fool
grieves.
The father of a fool has no joy.
- <sup>22</sup> A cheerful heart makes good medicine,
but a crushed spirit dries up the
bones.

- <sup>23</sup> A wicked man receives a bribe in secret,
to pervert the ways of justice.
- <sup>24</sup> Wisdom is before the face of one who has understanding, but the eyes of a fool wander to the ends of the earth.
- <sup>25</sup> A foolish son brings grief to his father,
and bitterness to her who bore him.
- <sup>26</sup> Also to punish the righteous is not good,
nor to flog officials for their integrity.
- <sup>27</sup> He who spares his words has knowledge.
He who is even tempered is a man of understanding.
- <sup>28</sup> Even a fool, when he keeps silent, is counted wise.
When he shuts his lips, he is thought to be discerning.

18

- <sup>1</sup> An unfriendly man pursues selfishness,
and defies all sound judgment.
- <sup>2</sup> A fool has no delight in understanding,
but only in revealing his own opinion.
- <sup>3</sup> When wickedness comes, contempt also comes,
and with shame comes disgrace.
- <sup>4</sup> The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters.
The fountain of wisdom is like a flowing brook.
- <sup>5</sup> To be partial to the faces of the wicked is not good,
nor to deprive the innocent of justice.

- <sup>6</sup> A fool's lips come into strife,
and his mouth invites beatings.
- <sup>7</sup> A fool's mouth is his destruction,
and his lips are a snare to his soul.
- <sup>8</sup> The words of a gossip are like dainty morsels:
they go down into a person's innermost parts.
- <sup>9</sup> One who is slack in his work is brother to him who is a master of destruction.
- <sup>10</sup> Yahweh's name is a strong tower:
the righteous run to him, and are safe.
- <sup>11</sup> The rich man's wealth is his strong city,
like an unscalable wall in his own imagination.
- <sup>12</sup> Before destruction the heart of man is proud,
but before honor is humility.
- <sup>13</sup> He who gives answer before he hears,
that is folly and shame to him.
- <sup>14</sup> A man's spirit will sustain him in sickness,
but a crushed spirit, who can bear?
- <sup>15</sup> The heart of the discerning gets knowledge.
The ear of the wise seeks knowledge.
- <sup>16</sup> A man's gift makes room for him,
and brings him before great men.
- <sup>17</sup> He who pleads his cause first seems right;
until another comes and questions him.
- <sup>18</sup> The lot settles disputes,
and keeps strong ones apart.
- <sup>19</sup> A brother offended is more difficult than a fortified city;

- and disputes are like the bars of a fortress.
- <sup>20</sup> A man's stomach is filled with the fruit of his mouth.
With the harvest of his lips he is satisfied.
- <sup>21</sup> Death and life are in the power of the tongue;
those who love it will eat its fruit.
- <sup>22</sup> Whoever finds a wife finds a good thing,
and obtains favor of Yahweh.
- <sup>23</sup> The poor plead for mercy,
but the rich answer harshly.
- <sup>24</sup> A man of many companions may be ruined,
but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.
- ## 19
- <sup>1</sup> Better is the poor who walks in his integrity
than he who is perverse in his lips
and is a fool.
- <sup>2</sup> It isn't good to have zeal without knowledge;
nor being hasty with one's feet and missing the way.
- <sup>3</sup> The foolishness of man subverts his way;
his heart rages against Yahweh.
- <sup>4</sup> Wealth adds many friends,
but the poor is separated from his friend.
- <sup>5</sup> A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who pours out lies shall not go free.
- <sup>6</sup> Many will entreat the favor of a ruler,
and everyone is a friend to a man who gives gifts.
- <sup>7</sup> All the relatives of the poor shun him:
how much more do his friends avoid him!
He pursues them with pleas, but they are gone.
- <sup>8</sup> He who gets wisdom loves his own soul.
He who keeps understanding shall find good.
- <sup>9</sup> A false witness shall not be unpunished.
He who utters lies shall perish.
- <sup>10</sup> Delicate living is not appropriate for a fool,
much less for a servant to have rule over princes.
- <sup>11</sup> The discretion of a man makes him slow to anger.
It is his glory to overlook an offense.
- <sup>12</sup> The king's wrath is like the roaring of a lion,
but his favor is like dew on the grass.
- <sup>13</sup> A foolish son is the calamity of his father.
A wife's quarrels are a continual dripping.
- <sup>14</sup> House and riches are an inheritance from fathers,
but a prudent wife is from Yahweh.
- <sup>15</sup> Slothfulness casts into a deep sleep.
The idle soul shall suffer hunger.
- <sup>16</sup> He who keeps the commandment keeps his soul,
but he who is contemptuous in his ways shall die.
- <sup>17</sup> He who has pity on the poor lends to Yahweh;
he will reward him.

- <sup>18</sup> Discipline your son, for there is hope;
don't be a willing party to his death.
- <sup>19</sup> A hot-tempered man must pay the penalty,
for if you rescue him, you must do it again.
- <sup>20</sup> Listen to counsel and receive
instruction,
that you may be wise in your latter
end.
- <sup>21</sup> There are many plans in a man's
heart,
but Yahweh's counsel will prevail.
- <sup>22</sup> That which makes a man to be desired
is his kindness.
A poor man is better than a liar.
- <sup>23</sup> The fear of Yahweh leads to life, then contentment;
he rests and will not be touched by
trouble.
- <sup>24</sup> The sluggard buries his hand in the dish;
he will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.
- <sup>25</sup> Flog a scoffer, and the simple will learn prudence;
rebuke one who has understanding,
and he will gain knowledge.
- <sup>26</sup> He who robs his father and drives
away his mother,
is a son who causes shame and brings reproach.
- <sup>27</sup> If you stop listening to instruction, my
son,
you will stray from the words of
knowledge.
- <sup>28</sup> A corrupt witness mocks justice,
and the mouth of the wicked gulps
down iniquity.

- <sup>29</sup> Penalties are prepared for scoffers,
and beatings for the backs of fools.

20

- <sup>1</sup> Wine is a mocker, and beer is a brawler.
Whoever is led astray by them is not wise.
- <sup>2</sup> The terror of a king is like the roaring
of a lion.
He who provokes him to anger
forfeits his own life.
- <sup>3</sup> It is an honor for a man to keep aloof
from strife;
but every fool will be quarreling.
- <sup>4</sup> The sluggard will not plow by reason of the winter;
therefore he shall beg in harvest,
and have nothing.
- <sup>5</sup> Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water;
but a man of understanding will draw it out.
- <sup>6</sup> Many men claim to be men of unfailing love,
but who can find a faithful man?
- <sup>7</sup> A righteous man walks in integrity.
Blessed are his children after him.
- <sup>8</sup> A king who sits on the throne of
judgment
scatters away all evil with his eyes.
- <sup>9</sup> Who can say, "I have made my heart
pure.
I am clean and without sin?"
- <sup>10</sup> Differing weights and differing measures,
both of them alike are an
abomination to Yahweh.
- <sup>11</sup> Even a child makes himself known by his doings,

- whether his work is pure, and whether it is right.
- <sup>12</sup> The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, Yahweh has made even both of
them.
- <sup>13</sup> Don't love sleep, lest you come to
poverty.
Open your eyes, and you shall be satisfied with bread.
- <sup>14</sup> "It's no good, it's no good," says the buyer;
but when he is gone his way, then he boasts.
- <sup>15</sup> There is gold and abundance of
rubies;
but the lips of knowledge are a rare
jewel.
- <sup>16</sup> Take the garment of one who puts up
collateral for a stranger;
and hold him in pledge for a wayward woman.
- <sup>17</sup> Fraudulent food is sweet to a man,
but afterwards his mouth is filled with gravel.
- <sup>18</sup> Plans are established by advice;
by wise guidance you wage war!
- <sup>19</sup> He who goes about as a tale-bearer reveals secrets;
therefore don't keep company with him who opens wide his lips.
- <sup>20</sup> Whoever curses his father or his
mother,
his lamp shall be put out in blackness of darkness.
- <sup>21</sup> An inheritance quickly gained at the
beginning,
won't be blessed in the end.
- <sup>22</sup> Don't say, "I will pay back evil."
Wait for Yahweh, and he will save
you.
- <sup>23</sup> Yahweh detests differing weights,
and dishonest scales are not
pleasing.
- <sup>24</sup> A man's steps are from Yahweh;
how then can man understand his
way?
- <sup>25</sup> It is a snare to a man to make a rash dedication,
then later to consider his vows.
- <sup>26</sup> A wise king winnows out the wicked,
and drives the threshing wheel over
them.
- <sup>27</sup> The spirit of man is Yahweh's lamp,
searching all his innermost parts.
- <sup>28</sup> Love and faithfulness keep the king
safe.
His throne is sustained by love.
- <sup>29</sup> The glory of young men is their
strength.
The splendor of old men is their gray hair.
- <sup>30</sup> Wounding blows cleanse away evil,
and beatings purge the innermost
parts.

21

- <sup>1</sup> The king's heart is in Yahweh's hand
like the watercourses.
He turns it wherever he desires.
- <sup>2</sup> Every way of a man is right in his own
eyes,
but Yahweh weighs the hearts.
- <sup>3</sup> To do righteousness and justice is more acceptable to Yahweh than sacrifice.
- <sup>4</sup> A high look, and a proud heart,
the lamp of the wicked, is sin.
- <sup>5</sup> The plans of the diligent surely lead to profit;

- and everyone who is hasty surely rushes to poverty.
- <sup>6</sup> Getting treasures by a lying tongue
is a fleeting vapor for those who seek death.
- <sup>7</sup> The violence of the wicked will drive
them away,
because they refuse to do what is
right.
- <sup>8</sup> The way of the guilty is devious,
but the conduct of the innocent is
upright.
- <sup>9</sup> It is better to dwell in the corner of the
housetop,
than to share a house with a contentious woman.
- <sup>10</sup> The soul of the wicked desires evil;
his neighbor finds no mercy in his
eyes.
- <sup>11</sup> When the mocker is punished, the simple gains wisdom.
When the wise is instructed, he receives knowledge.
- <sup>12</sup> The Righteous One considers the house of the wicked,
and brings the wicked to ruin.
- <sup>13</sup> Whoever stops his ears at the cry of
the poor,
he will also cry out, but shall not be heard.
- <sup>14</sup> A gift in secret pacifies anger;
and a bribe in the cloak, strong
wrath.
- <sup>15</sup> It is joy to the righteous to do justice;
but it is a destruction to the workers
of iniquity.
- <sup>16</sup> The man who wanders out of the way
of understanding
shall rest in the assembly of the departed spirits.
- <sup>17</sup> He who loves pleasure shall be a poor
man.
He who loves wine and oil shall not be rich.
- <sup>18</sup> The wicked is a ransom for the
righteous;
the treacherous for the upright.
- <sup>19</sup> It is better to dwell in a desert land,
than with a contentious and fretful
woman.
- <sup>20</sup> There is precious treasure and oil in
the dwelling of the wise;
but a foolish man swallows it up.
- <sup>21</sup> He who follows after righteousness
and kindness
finds life, righteousness, and honor.
- <sup>22</sup> A wise man scales the city of the
mighty,
and brings down the strength of its
confidence.
- <sup>23</sup> Whoever guards his mouth and his
tongue
keeps his soul from troubles.
- <sup>24</sup> The proud and haughty man, “scoffer” is his name;
he works in the arrogance of pride.
- <sup>25</sup> The desire of the sluggard kills him,
for his hands refuse to labor.
- <sup>26</sup> There are those who covet greedily all
day long;
but the righteous give and don't withhold.
- <sup>27</sup> The sacrifice of the wicked is an
abomination:
how much more, when he brings it
with a wicked mind!
- <sup>28</sup> A false witness will perish,
and a man who listens speaks to eternity.
- <sup>29</sup> A wicked man hardens his face;

but as for the upright, he establishes
his ways.

<sup>30</sup> There is no wisdom nor
understanding
nor counsel against Yahweh.

<sup>31</sup> The horse is prepared for the day of battle;
but victory is with Yahweh.

22

<sup>1</sup> A good name is more desirable than great riches,
and loving favor is better than silver
and gold.

<sup>2</sup> The rich and the poor have this in common:
Yahweh is the maker of them all.

<sup>3</sup> A prudent man sees danger, and hides
himself;
but the simple pass on, and suffer
for it.

<sup>4</sup> The result of humility and the fear of Yahweh
is wealth, honor, and life.

<sup>5</sup> Thorns and snares are in the path of
the wicked:
whoever guards his soul stays from
them.

<sup>6</sup> Train up a child in the way he should
go,
and when he is old he will not depart from it.

<sup>7</sup> The rich rule over the poor.
The borrower is servant to the lender.

<sup>8</sup> He who sows wickedness reaps
trouble,
and the rod of his fury will be destroyed.

<sup>9</sup> He who has a generous eye will be
blessed;

for he shares his food with the poor.

<sup>10</sup> Drive out the mocker, and strife will go out;
yes, quarrels and insults will stop.

<sup>11</sup> He who loves purity of heart and speaks gracefully
is the king's friend.

<sup>12</sup> Yahweh's eyes watch over
knowledge;
but he frustrates the words of the unfaithful.

<sup>13</sup> The sluggard says, "There is a lion
outside!
I will be killed in the streets!"

<sup>14</sup> The mouth of an adulteress is a deep
pit:
he who is under Yahweh's wrath
will fall into it.

<sup>15</sup> Folly is bound up in the heart of a child:
the rod of discipline drives it far
from him.

<sup>16</sup> Whoever oppresses the poor for his own increase and whoever gives to the rich,
both come to poverty.

<sup>17</sup> Turn your ear, and listen to the words of the wise.
Apply your heart to my teaching.

<sup>18</sup> For it is a pleasant thing if you keep them within you,
if all of them are ready on your lips.

<sup>19</sup> That your trust may be in Yahweh,
I teach you today, even you.

<sup>20</sup> Haven't I written to you thirty excellent things
of counsel and knowledge,

<sup>21</sup> To teach you truth, reliable words,
to give sound answers to the ones who sent you?

- 22 Don't exploit the poor, because he is poor;
and don't crush the needy in court;
23 for Yahweh will plead their case,
and plunder the life of those who plunder them.
24 Don't befriend a hot-tempered man,
and don't associate with one who harbors anger:
25 lest you learn his ways,
and ensnare your soul.
26 Don't you be one of those who strike hands,
of those who are collateral for debts.
27 If you don't have means to pay,
why should he take away your bed from under you?
28 Don't move the ancient boundary stone,
which your fathers have set up.
29 Do you see a man skilled in his work?
He will serve kings.
He won't serve obscure men.

23

- 1 When you sit to eat with a ruler,
consider diligently what is before you;
2 put a knife to your throat,
if you are a man given to appetite.
3 Don't be desirous of his dainties,
since they are deceitful food.
4 Don't weary yourself to be rich.
In your wisdom, show restraint.
5 Why do you set your eyes on that which is not?
For it certainly sprouts wings like an eagle and flies in the sky.

- 6 Don't eat the food of him who has a stingy eye,
and don't crave his delicacies:
7 for as he thinks about the cost, so he is.
"Eat and drink!" he says to you,
but his heart is not with you.
8 The morsel which you have eaten you shall vomit up,
and lose your good words.
9 Don't speak in the ears of a fool,
for he will despise the wisdom of your words.
10 Don't move the ancient boundary stone.
Don't encroach on the fields of the fatherless:
11 for their Defender is strong.
He will plead their case against you.
12 Apply your heart to instruction,
and your ears to the words of knowledge.
13 Don't withhold correction from a child.
If you punish him with the rod, he will not die.
14 Punish him with the rod, and save his soul from Sheol.<sup>k</sup> 15 My son, if your heart is wise,
then my heart will be glad, even mine:
16 yes, my heart will rejoice,
when your lips speak what is right.
17 Don't let your heart envy sinners;
but rather fear Yahweh all the day long.
18 Indeed surely there is a future hope,
and your hope will not be cut off.

<sup>k</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- 19 Listen, my son, and be wise,
and keep your heart on the right
path!
- 20 Don't be among ones drinking too
much wine,
or those who gorge themselves on
meat:
- 21 for the drunkard and the glutton shall become poor;
and drowsiness clothes them in rags.
- 22 Listen to your father who gave you
life,
and don't despise your mother
when she is old.
- 23 Buy the truth, and don't sell it.
Get wisdom, discipline, and
understanding.
- 24 The father of the righteous has great
joy.
Whoever fathers a wise child
delights in him.
- 25 Let your father and your mother be
glad!
Let her who bore you rejoice!
- 26 My son, give me your heart;
and let your eyes keep in my ways.
- 27 For a prostitute is a deep pit;
and a wayward wife is a narrow
well.
- 28 Yes, she lies in wait like a robber,
and increases the unfaithful among
men.
- 29 Who has woe?
Who has sorrow?
Who has strife?
Who has complaints?
Who has needless bruises?
Who has bloodshot eyes?
- 30 Those who stay long at the wine;

those who go to seek out mixed
wine.

- 31 Don't look at the wine when it is red,
when it sparkles in the cup,
when it goes down smoothly.
- 32 In the end, it bites like a snake,
and poisons like a viper.
- 33 Your eyes will see strange things,
and your mind will imagine confusing things.
- 34 Yes, you will be as he who lies down
in the middle of the sea,
or as he who lies on top of the rigging:
- 35 "They hit me, and I was not hurt!
They beat me, and I don't feel it!
When will I wake up? I can do it
again.
I can find another."

24

- 1 Don't be envious of evil men;
neither desire to be with them:
- 2 for their hearts plot violence,
and their lips talk about mischief.
- 3 Through wisdom a house is built;
by understanding it is established;
- 4 by knowledge the rooms are filled with all rare and beautiful treasure.
- 5 A wise man has great power;
and a knowledgeable man increases
strength;
- 6 for by wise guidance you wage your
war;
and victory is in many advisors.
- 7 Wisdom is too high for a fool:
he doesn't open his mouth in the gate.
- 8 One who plots to do evil
will be called a schemer.

- <sup>9</sup> The schemes of folly are sin.
The mocker is detested by men.
- <sup>10</sup> If you falter in the time of trouble,
your strength is small.
- <sup>11</sup> Rescue those who are being led away
to death!
Indeed, hold back those who are staggering to the slaughter!
- <sup>12</sup> If you say, "Behold, we didn't know
this";
doesn't he who weighs the hearts
consider it?
He who keeps your soul, doesn't he know it?
Shall he not render to every man
according to his work?
- <sup>13</sup> My son, eat honey, for it is good;
the droppings of the honeycomb,
which are sweet to your
taste:
- <sup>14</sup> so you shall know wisdom to be to
your soul;
if you have found it, then there will be a reward,
your hope will not be cut off.
- <sup>15</sup> Don't lay in wait, wicked man, against the habitation of the
righteous.
Don't destroy his resting place:
- <sup>16</sup> for a righteous man falls seven times,
and rises up again;
but the wicked are overthrown by
calamity.
- <sup>17</sup> Don't rejoice when your enemy falls.
Don't let your heart be glad when he is overthrown;
- <sup>18</sup> lest Yahweh see it, and it displease
him,
and he turn away his wrath from
him.
- <sup>19</sup> Don't fret yourself because of
evildoers;
neither be envious of the wicked:
- <sup>20</sup> for there will be no reward to the evil
man;
and the lamp of the wicked shall be
snuffed out.
- <sup>21</sup> My son, fear Yahweh and the king.
Don't join those who are rebellious:
- <sup>22</sup> for their calamity will rise suddenly;
the destruction from them both—
who knows?
- <sup>23</sup> These also are sayings of the wise.
To show partiality in judgment is not
good.
- <sup>24</sup> He who says to the wicked, "You are
righteous";
peoples shall curse him, and nations
shall abhor him—
- <sup>25</sup> but it will go well with those who convict the guilty,
and a rich blessing will come on
them.
- <sup>26</sup> An honest answer
is like a kiss on the lips.
- <sup>27</sup> Prepare your work outside,
and get your fields ready.
Afterwards, build your house.
- <sup>28</sup> Don't be a witness against your neighbor without cause.
Don't deceive with your lips.
- <sup>29</sup> Don't say, "I will do to him as he has done to me;
I will render to the man according to his work."
- <sup>30</sup> I went by the field of the sluggard,
by the vineyard of the man void of
understanding;
- <sup>31</sup> Behold, it was all grown over with
thorns.

Its surface was covered with nettles,
and its stone wall was broken
down.

- <sup>32</sup> Then I saw, and considered well.
I saw, and received instruction:
<sup>33</sup> a little sleep, a little slumber,
a little folding of the hands to sleep;
<sup>34</sup> so your poverty will come as a robber,
and your want as an armed man.

25

<sup>1</sup> These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.

- <sup>2</sup> It is the glory of God to conceal a
thing,
but the glory of kings is to search
out a matter.
<sup>3</sup> As the heavens for height, and the earth for depth,
so the hearts of kings are
unsearchable.
<sup>4</sup> Take away the dross from the silver,
and material comes out for the refiner;
<sup>5</sup> Take away the wicked from the king's
presence,
and his throne will be established in
righteousness.
<sup>6</sup> Don't exalt yourself in the presence of
the king,
or claim a place among great men;
<sup>7</sup> for it is better that it be said to you,
"Come up here,"
than that you should be put lower in the presence of the prince, whom your eyes have seen.
<sup>8</sup> Don't be hasty in bringing charges to court.

What will you do in the end when your neighbor shames you?

- <sup>9</sup> Debate your case with your
neighbor,
and don't betray the confidence of
another;
<sup>10</sup> lest one who hears it put you to
shame,
and your bad reputation never
depart.
<sup>11</sup> A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in settings of
silver.
<sup>12</sup> As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold,
so is a wise reprover to an obedient ear.
<sup>13</sup> As the cold of snow in the time of harvest,
so is a faithful messenger to those who send him;
for he refreshes the soul of his masters.
<sup>14</sup> As clouds and wind without rain,
so is he who boasts of gifts deceptively.
<sup>15</sup> By patience a ruler is persuaded.
A soft tongue breaks the bone.
<sup>16</sup> Have you found honey?
Eat as much as is sufficient for you,
lest you eat too much, and vomit it.
<sup>17</sup> Let your foot be seldom in your neighbor's house,
lest he be weary of you, and hate
you.
<sup>18</sup> A man who gives false testimony against his neighbor
is like a club, a sword, or a sharp
arrow.

- <sup>19</sup> Confidence in someone unfaithful in
time of trouble
is like a bad tooth, or a lame foot.
- <sup>20</sup> As one who takes away a garment in cold weather,
or vinegar on soda,
so is one who sings songs to a heavy heart.
- <sup>21</sup> If your enemy is hungry, give him
food to eat.
If he is thirsty, give him water to drink:
- <sup>22</sup> for you will heap coals of fire on his
head,
and Yahweh will reward you.
- <sup>23</sup> The north wind produces rain:
so a backbiting tongue brings an angry face.
- <sup>24</sup> It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop,
than to share a house with a
contentious woman.
- <sup>25</sup> Like cold water to a thirsty soul,
so is good news from a far country.
- <sup>26</sup> Like a muddied spring, and a polluted
well,
so is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.
- <sup>27</sup> It is not good to eat much honey;
nor is it honorable to seek one's own honor.
- <sup>28</sup> Like a city that is broken down and without walls
is a man whose spirit is without restraint.
- 26
- <sup>1</sup> Like snow in summer, and as rain in
harvest,
so honor is not fitting for a fool.
- <sup>2</sup> Like a fluttering sparrow,
like a darting swallow,
so the undeserved curse doesn't come to rest.
- <sup>3</sup> A whip is for the horse,
a bridle for the donkey,
and a rod for the back of fools!
- <sup>4</sup> Don't answer a fool according to his
folly,
lest you also be like him.
- <sup>5</sup> Answer a fool according to his folly,
lest he be wise in his own eyes.
- <sup>6</sup> One who sends a message by the hand
of a fool
is cutting off feet and drinking
violence.
- <sup>7</sup> Like the legs of the lame that hang loose:
so is a parable in the mouth of
fools.
- <sup>8</sup> As one who binds a stone in a sling,
so is he who gives honor to a fool.
- <sup>9</sup> Like a thorn bush that goes into the hand of a drunkard,
so is a parable in the mouth of
fools.
- <sup>10</sup> As an archer who wounds all,
so is he who hires a fool
or he who hires those who pass by.
- <sup>11</sup> As a dog that returns to his vomit,
so is a fool who repeats his folly.
- <sup>12</sup> Do you see a man wise in his own
eyes?
There is more hope for a fool than
for him.
- <sup>13</sup> The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road!
A fierce lion roams the streets!"
- <sup>14</sup> As the door turns on its hinges,
so does the sluggard on his bed.

- 15 The sluggard buries his hand in the dish.
He is too lazy to bring it back to his mouth.
- 16 The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who answer with discretion.
- 17 Like one who grabs a dog's ears is one who passes by and meddles in a quarrel not his own.
- 18 Like a madman who shoots torches, arrows, and death, 19 is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, "Am I not joking?"
- 20 For lack of wood a fire goes out.
Without gossip, a quarrel dies down.
- 21 As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire, so is a contentious man to kindling strife.
- 22 The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, they go down into the innermost parts.
- 23 Like silver dross on an earthen vessel are the lips of a fervent one with an evil heart.
- 24 A malicious man disguises himself with his lips, but he harbors evil in his heart.
- 25 When his speech is charming, don't believe him; for there are seven abominations in his heart.
- 26 His malice may be concealed by deception, but his wickedness will be exposed in the assembly.

- 27 Whoever digs a pit shall fall into it.
Whoever rolls a stone, it will come back on him.
- 28 A lying tongue hates those it hurts; and a flattering mouth works ruin.

27

- 1 Don't boast about tomorrow; for you don't know what a day may bring.
- 2 Let another man praise you, and not your own mouth; a stranger, and not your own lips.
- 3 A stone is heavy, and sand is a burden; but a fool's provocation is heavier than both.
- 4 Wrath is cruel, and anger is overwhelming; but who is able to stand before jealousy?
- 5 Better is open rebuke than hidden love.
- 6 Faithful are the wounds of a friend; although the kisses of an enemy are profuse.
- 7 A full soul loathes a honeycomb; but to a hungry soul, every bitter thing is sweet.
- 8 As a bird that wanders from her nest, so is a man who wanders from his home.
- 9 Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart; so does earnest counsel from a man's friend.
- 10 Don't forsake your friend and your father's friend.
Don't go to your brother's house in the day of your disaster:

- better is a neighbor who is near
than a distant brother.
- <sup>11</sup> Be wise, my son,
and bring joy to my heart,
then I can answer my tormentor.
- <sup>12</sup> A prudent man sees danger and takes
refuge;
but the simple pass on, and suffer
for it.
- <sup>13</sup> Take his garment when he puts up
collateral for a stranger.
Hold it for a wayward woman!
- <sup>14</sup> He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the
morning,
it will be taken as a curse by him.
- <sup>15</sup> A continual dropping on a rainy day
and a contentious wife are alike:
- <sup>16</sup> restraining her is like restraining the
wind,
or like grasping oil in his right
hand.
- <sup>17</sup> Iron sharpens iron;
so a man sharpens his friend's
countenance.
- <sup>18</sup> Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat its fruit.
He who looks after his master shall
be honored.
- <sup>19</sup> Like water reflects a face,
so a man's heart reflects the man.
- <sup>20</sup> Sheol<sup>1</sup> and Abaddon are never
satisfied;
and a man's eyes are never
satisfied.
- <sup>21</sup> The crucible is for silver,
and the furnace for gold;
but man is refined by his praise.
- <sup>22</sup> Though you grind a fool in a mortar
with a pestle along with
grain,
yet his foolishness will not be removed from him.
- <sup>23</sup> Know well the state of your flocks,
and pay attention to your herds:
- <sup>24</sup> for riches are not forever,
nor does even the crown endure to
all generations.
- <sup>25</sup> The hay is removed, and the new growth appears,
the grasses of the hills are gathered
in.
- <sup>26</sup> The lambs are for your clothing,
and the goats are the price of a field.
- <sup>27</sup> There will be plenty of goats' milk for your food,
for your family's food,
and for the nourishment of your servant girls.

28

- <sup>1</sup> The wicked flee when no one pursues;
but the righteous are as bold as a lion.
- <sup>2</sup> In rebellion, a land has many rulers,
but order is maintained by a man of understanding and
knowledge.
- <sup>3</sup> A needy man who oppresses the poor
is like a driving rain which leaves
no crops.
- <sup>4</sup> Those who forsake the law praise the
wicked;
but those who keep the law contend
with them.
- <sup>5</sup> Evil men don't understand justice;

<sup>1</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- but those who seek Yahweh understand it fully.
- <sup>6</sup> Better is the poor who walks in his
integrity,
than he who is perverse in his ways,
and he is rich.
- <sup>7</sup> Whoever keeps the law is a wise son;
but he who is a companion of gluttons shames his father.
- <sup>8</sup> He who increases his wealth by excessive interest gathers it for one who has pity on
the poor.
- <sup>9</sup> He who turns away his ear from hearing the law,
even his prayer is an abomination.
- <sup>10</sup> Whoever causes the upright to go astray in an evil way,
he will fall into his own trap;
but the blameless will inherit good.
- <sup>11</sup> The rich man is wise in his own eyes;
but the poor who has understanding sees through him.
- <sup>12</sup> When the righteous triumph, there is great glory;
but when the wicked rise, men hide
themselves.
- <sup>13</sup> He who conceals his sins doesn't prosper,
but whoever confesses and
renounces them finds mercy.
- <sup>14</sup> Blessed is the man who always fears;
but one who hardens his heart falls
into trouble.
- <sup>15</sup> As a roaring lion or a charging bear,
so is a wicked ruler over helpless
people.
- <sup>16</sup> A tyrannical ruler lacks judgment.
One who hates ill-gotten gain will have long days.
- <sup>17</sup> A man who is tormented by life blood
will be a fugitive until death;
no one will support him.
- <sup>18</sup> Whoever walks blamelessly is kept
safe;
but one with perverse ways will fall
suddenly.
- <sup>19</sup> One who works his land will have an abundance of food;
but one who chases fantasies will have his fill of poverty.
- <sup>20</sup> A faithful man is rich with blessings;
but one who is eager to be rich will not go unpunished.
- <sup>21</sup> To show partiality is not good;
yet a man will do wrong for a piece
of bread.
- <sup>22</sup> A stingy man hurries after riches,
and doesn't know that poverty
waits for him.
- <sup>23</sup> One who rebukes a man will afterward find more favor
than one who flatters with the
tongue.
- <sup>24</sup> Whoever robs his father or his mother, and says, "It's not wrong."
He is a partner with a destroyer.
- <sup>25</sup> One who is greedy stirs up strife;
but one who trusts in Yahweh will
prosper.
- <sup>26</sup> One who trusts in himself is a fool;
but one who walks in wisdom is kept safe.
- <sup>27</sup> One who gives to the poor has no
lack;
but one who closes his eyes will have many curses.
- <sup>28</sup> When the wicked rise, men hide
themselves;

but when they perish, the righteous
thrive.

29

- <sup>1</sup> He who is often rebuked and stiffens
his neck
will be destroyed suddenly, with no remedy.
- <sup>2</sup> When the righteous thrive, the people
rejoice;
but when the wicked rule, the people groan.
- <sup>3</sup> Whoever loves wisdom brings joy to
his father;
but a companion of prostitutes
squanders his wealth.
- <sup>4</sup> The king by justice makes the land
stable,
but he who takes bribes tears it
down.
- <sup>5</sup> A man who flatters his neighbor
spreads a net for his feet.
- <sup>6</sup> An evil man is snared by his sin,
but the righteous can sing and be
glad.
- <sup>7</sup> The righteous care about justice for the poor.
The wicked aren't concerned about
knowledge.
- <sup>8</sup> Mockers stir up a city,
but wise men turn away anger.
- <sup>9</sup> If a wise man goes to court with a foolish man,
the fool rages or scoffs, and there is no peace.
- <sup>10</sup> The bloodthirsty hate a man of
integrity;
and they seek the life of the upright.
- <sup>11</sup> A fool vents all of his anger,
but a wise man brings himself
under control.

- <sup>12</sup> If a ruler listens to lies,
all of his officials are wicked.
- <sup>13</sup> The poor man and the oppressor have
this in common:
Yahweh gives sight to the eyes of
both.
- <sup>14</sup> The king who fairly judges the poor,
his throne shall be established
forever.
- <sup>15</sup> The rod of correction gives wisdom,
but a child left to himself causes
shame to his mother.
- <sup>16</sup> When the wicked increase, sin
increases;
but the righteous will see their
downfall.
- <sup>17</sup> Correct your son, and he will give you peace;
yes, he will bring delight to your
soul.
- <sup>18</sup> Where there is no revelation, the people cast off restraint;
but one who keeps the law is
blessed.
- <sup>19</sup> A servant can't be corrected by
words.
Though he understands, yet he will not respond.
- <sup>20</sup> Do you see a man who is hasty in his
words?
There is more hope for a fool than
for him.
- <sup>21</sup> He who pampers his servant from
youth
will have him become a son in the
end.
- <sup>22</sup> An angry man stirs up strife,
and a wrathful man abounds in sin.
- <sup>23</sup> A man's pride brings him low,
but one of lowly spirit gains honor.

- <sup>24</sup> Whoever is an accomplice of a thief is an enemy of his own soul.
He takes an oath, but dares not testify.
- <sup>25</sup> The fear of man proves to be a snare,
but whoever puts his trust in Yahweh is kept safe.
- <sup>26</sup> Many seek the ruler's favor,
but a man's justice comes from
Yahweh.
- <sup>27</sup> A dishonest man detests the
righteous,
and the upright in their ways detest
the wicked.

30

<sup>1</sup> The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, the revelation:

the man says to Ithiel,
to Ithiel and Ucal:

- <sup>2</sup> "Surely I am the most ignorant man,
and don't have a man's
understanding.
- <sup>3</sup> I have not learned wisdom,
neither do I have the knowledge of
the Holy One.
- <sup>4</sup> Who has ascended up into heaven, and descended?
Who has gathered the wind in his fists?
Who has bound the waters in his
garment?
Who has established all the ends of
the earth?
What is his name, and what is his son's name, if you know?
- <sup>5</sup> "Every word of God is flawless.
He is a shield to those who take
refuge in him.
- <sup>6</sup> Don't you add to his words,

lest he reprove you, and you be found a liar.

- <sup>7</sup> "Two things I have asked of you;
don't deny me before I die:
- <sup>8</sup> Remove far from me falsehood and
lies.
Give me neither poverty nor riches.
Feed me with the food that is needful for me;
- <sup>9</sup> lest I be full, deny you, and say, 'Who is Yahweh?'
or lest I be poor, and steal,
and so dishonor the name of my
God.
- <sup>10</sup> "Don't slander a servant to his master,
lest he curse you, and you be held
guilty.
- <sup>11</sup> There is a generation that curses their
father,
and doesn't bless their mother.
- <sup>12</sup> There is a generation that is pure in their own eyes,
yet are not washed from their filthiness.
- <sup>13</sup> There is a generation, oh how lofty
are their eyes!
Their eyelids are lifted up.
- <sup>14</sup> There is a generation whose teeth are like swords,
and their jaws like knives,
to devour the poor from the earth,
and the needy from among
men.
- <sup>15</sup> "The leach has two daughters:
'Give, give.'
- "There are three things that are never
satisfied;
four that don't say, 'Enough:'
- <sup>16</sup> Sheol,<sup>m</sup>
the barren womb;

<sup>m</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- the earth that is not satisfied with
water;
and the fire that doesn't say,
'Enough.'
- 17 "The eye that mocks at his father,
and scorns obedience to his mother:
the ravens of the valley shall pick it
out,
the young eagles shall eat it.
- 18 "There are three things which are too amazing for me,
four which I don't understand:
19 The way of an eagle in the air;
the way of a serpent on a rock;
the way of a ship in the middle of
the sea;
and the way of a man with a maiden.
- 20 "So is the way of an adulterous
woman:
she eats and wipes her mouth,
and says, 'I have done nothing
wrong.'
- 21 "For three things the earth tremble,
and under four, it can't bear up:
22 For a servant when he is king;
a fool when he is filled with food;
23 for an unloved woman when she is married;
and a servant who is heir to her mistress.
- 24 "There are four things which are little
on the earth,
but they are exceedingly wise:
25 the ants are not a strong people,
yet they provide their food in the summer.
26 The conies are but a feeble folk,
yet make they their houses in the
rocks.
- 27 The locusts have no king,
yet they advance in ranks.
28 You can catch a lizard with your
hands,
yet it is in kings' palaces.
- 29 "There are three things which are stately in their march,
four which are stately in going:
30 The lion, which is mightiest
among animals,
and doesn't turn away for any;
31 the greyhound,
the male goat also;
and the king against whom there is no rising up.
- 32 "If you have done foolishly in lifting
up yourself,
or if you have thought evil,
put your hand over your mouth.
33 For as the churning of milk
produces butter,
and the wringing of the nose
produces blood;
so the forcing of wrath produces
strife."
- ## 31
- 1 The words of king Lemuel; the revelation which his mother taught him.
- 2 "Oh, my son!
Oh, son of my womb!
Oh, son of my vows!
- 3 Don't give your strength to women,
nor your ways to that which destroys kings.
- 4 It is not for kings, Lemuel;
it is not for kings to drink wine;
nor for princes to say, 'Where is strong drink?'
- 5 lest they drink, and forget the law,

- and pervert the justice due to anyone who is afflicted.
- <sup>6</sup> Give strong drink to him who is ready to perish;
and wine to the bitter in soul:
- <sup>7</sup> Let him drink, and forget his poverty,
and remember his misery no more.
- <sup>8</sup> Open your mouth for the mute,
in the cause of all who are left
desolate.
- <sup>9</sup> Open your mouth, judge righteously, and serve justice to the poor and
needy.”
- <sup>10</sup> <sup>n</sup>Who can find a worthy woman?
For her price is far above rubies.
- <sup>11</sup> The heart of her husband trusts in her.
He shall have no lack of gain.
- <sup>12</sup> She does him good, and not harm,
all the days of her life.
- <sup>13</sup> She seeks wool and flax,
and works eagerly with her hands.
- <sup>14</sup> She is like the merchant ships.
She brings her bread from afar.
- <sup>15</sup> She rises also while it is yet night,
gives food to her household,
and portions for her servant girls.
- <sup>16</sup> She considers a field, and buys it.
With the fruit of her hands, she plants a vineyard.
- <sup>17</sup> She arms her waist with strength,
and makes her arms strong.
- <sup>18</sup> She perceives that her merchandise is profitable.
Her lamp doesn't go out by night.
- <sup>19</sup> She lays her hands to the distaff,
and her hands hold the spindle.
- <sup>20</sup> She opens her arms to the poor;
- yes, she extends her hands to the needy.
- <sup>21</sup> She is not afraid of the snow for her
household;
for all her household are clothed
with scarlet.
- <sup>22</sup> She makes for herself carpets of tapestry.
Her clothing is fine linen and
purple.
- <sup>23</sup> Her husband is respected in the gates,
when he sits among the elders of
the land.
- <sup>24</sup> She makes linen garments and sells
them,
and delivers sashes to the merchant.
- <sup>25</sup> Strength and dignity are her clothing.
She laughs at the time to come.
- <sup>26</sup> She opens her mouth with wisdom.
Faithful instruction is on her
tongue.
- <sup>27</sup> She looks well to the ways of her
household,
and doesn't eat the bread of
idleness.
- <sup>28</sup> Her children rise up and call her
blessed.
Her husband also praises her:
- <sup>29</sup> “Many women do noble things,
but you excel them all.”
- <sup>30</sup> Charm is deceitful, and beauty is
vain;
but a woman who fears Yahweh,
she shall be praised.
- <sup>31</sup> Give her of the fruit of her hands!
Let her works praise her in the gates!

or, The Preacher

<sup>2</sup> “Vanity of vanities,” says the Preacher; “Vanity of vanities, all is vanity.” <sup>3</sup> What does man gain from all his labor in which he labors under the sun? <sup>4</sup> One generation goes, and another generation comes; but the earth remains forever. <sup>5</sup> The sun also rises, and the sun goes down, and hurries to its place where it rises. <sup>6</sup> The wind goes toward the south, and turns around to the north. It turns around continually as it goes, and the wind returns again to its courses. <sup>7</sup> All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full. To the place where the rivers flow, there they flow again. <sup>8</sup> All things are full of weariness beyond uttering. The eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing. <sup>9</sup> That which has been is that which shall be; and that which has been done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun. <sup>10</sup> Is there a thing of which it may be said, “Behold,<sup>a</sup> this is new?” It has been long ago, in the ages which were before us. <sup>11</sup> There is no memory of the former; neither shall there be any memory of the latter that are to come, among those that shall come after.

<sup>12</sup> I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the sky. It is a heavy burden that God<sup>b</sup> has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. <sup>14</sup> I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and a chasing after wind. <sup>15</sup> That which is crooked can’t be made straight; and that which is lacking can’t be counted. <sup>16</sup> I said to myself, “Behold, I have obtained for myself great wisdom above all who were before me in Jerusalem. Yes, my heart has had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.” <sup>17</sup> I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly. I perceived that this also was a chasing after wind. <sup>18</sup> For in much wisdom is much grief; and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.

2

<sup>1</sup> I said in my heart, “Come now, I will test you with mirth: therefore enjoy pleasure”; and behold, this also was vanity.

<sup>3</sup> I searched in my heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, my heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold of folly, until I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under heaven all the days of their lives. <sup>4</sup> I made myself great works. I built myself houses. I planted myself vineyards. <sup>5</sup> I made myself gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit. <sup>6</sup> I made myself pools of water, to water from it the forest where trees were reared. <sup>7</sup> I bought male servants and female servants, and had servants born in my house. I also had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all who were before me in Jerusalem; <sup>8</sup> I also gathered silver and gold for myself, and the treasure of kings and of the provinces. I got myself male and female singers, and the delights of the sons of men—musical instruments, and that of all sorts. <sup>9</sup> So I was great, and increased more than all who were before me in Jerusalem. My wisdom also remained with me. <sup>10</sup> Whatever my eyes desired, I didn't keep from them. I didn't withhold my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labor, and this was my portion from all my labor. <sup>11</sup> Then I looked at all the works that my hands had worked, and at the labor that I had labored to do; and behold, all was vanity and a chasing after wind, and there was no profit under the sun.

<sup>12</sup> I turned myself to consider wisdom, madness, and folly: for what can the king's successor do? Just that which has been done long ago. <sup>13</sup> Then I saw that wisdom excels folly, as far as light excels darkness. <sup>14</sup> The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walks in darkness—and yet I perceived that one event happens to them all. <sup>15</sup> Then I said in my heart, "As it happens to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise?" Then I said in my heart that this also is vanity. <sup>16</sup> For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no memory for ever, since in the days to come all will have been long forgotten. Indeed, the wise man must die just like the fool!

for all is vanity and a chasing after wind. <sup>18</sup> I hated all my labor in which I labored under the sun, because I must leave it to the man who comes after me. <sup>19</sup> Who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have rule over all of my labor in which I have labored, and in which I have shown myself wise under the sun. This also is vanity.

<sup>20</sup> Therefore I began to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labor in which I had labored under the sun. <sup>21</sup> For there is a man whose labor is with wisdom, with knowledge, and with skillfulness; yet he shall leave it for his portion to a man who has not labored for it. This also is vanity and a great evil. <sup>22</sup> For what has a man of all his labor, and of the striving of his heart, in which he labors under the sun? <sup>23</sup> For all his days are sorrows, and his travail is grief; yes, even in the night his heart takes no rest. This also is vanity. <sup>24</sup> There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. <sup>25</sup> For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? <sup>26</sup> For to the man who pleases him, God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he gives travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him who pleases God. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

3

<sup>2</sup> a time to be born,
and a time to die;
a time to plant,

and a time to pluck up that which is
planted;
<sup>3</sup> a time to kill,
and a time to heal;
a time to break down,
and a time to build up;
<sup>4</sup> a time to weep,
and a time to laugh;
a time to mourn,
and a time to dance;
<sup>5</sup> a time to cast away stones,
and a time to gather stones together;
a time to embrace,
and a time to refrain from embracing;
<sup>6</sup> a time to seek,
and a time to lose;
a time to keep,
and a time to cast away;
<sup>7</sup> a time to tear,
and a time to sew;
a time to keep silence,
and a time to speak;
<sup>8</sup> a time to love,
and a time to hate;
a time for war,
and a time for peace.
<sup>9</sup> What profit has he who works in that in which he labors? <sup>10</sup> I have seen the burden which God has given to the sons of men to be afflicted with. <sup>11</sup> He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in their hearts, yet so that man can't find out the work that God has done from the beginning even to the end. <sup>12</sup> I know that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice, and to do good as long as they live. <sup>13</sup> Also that every man should eat
and drink, and enjoy good in all his labor, is the gift of God. <sup>14</sup> I know that whatever

God does, it shall be forever. Nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it;
and God has done it, that men should fear
before him. <sup>15</sup> That which is has been long ago, and that which is to be has been long ago: and God seeks again that which is passed away.

<sup>16</sup> Moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of justice, that wickedness was there;
and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. <sup>17</sup> I said in my heart,
"God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work." <sup>18</sup> I said in my heart, "As for the sons of men, God tests them, so that they may see that they themselves are like animals. <sup>19</sup> For that which happens to the sons of men happens to animals. Even one thing happens to them. As the one dies, so the other dies.
Yes, they have all one breath; and man has no advantage over the animals: for all is vanity. <sup>20</sup> All go to one place. All are from the dust, and all turn to dust again. <sup>21</sup> Who knows the spirit of man, whether it goes upward, and the spirit of the animal,
whether it goes downward to the earth?"

<sup>22</sup> Therefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who can bring him to see what will be after him?

4

<sup>1</sup> Then I returned and saw all the oppressions that are done under the sun:
and behold, the tears of those who were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter. <sup>2</sup> Therefore I praised the dead who have been long dead more than the living who are yet alive. <sup>3</sup> Yes, better than them both is him who has not yet been, who has not seen the evil work that is done under the sun. <sup>4</sup> Then I saw all the labor and achievement that is the envy of a man's neighbor. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

<sup>7</sup> Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. <sup>8</sup> There is one who is alone, and he has neither son nor brother. There is no end to all of his labor, neither are his eyes satisfied with wealth. "For whom then, do I labor, and deprive my soul of enjoyment?" This also is vanity. Yes, it is a miserable business.

<sup>9</sup> Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labor. <sup>10</sup> For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him who is alone when he falls, and doesn't have another to lift him up. <sup>11</sup> Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one keep warm alone? <sup>12</sup> If a man prevails against one who is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

<sup>13</sup> Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king who doesn't know how to receive admonition any more. <sup>14</sup> For out of prison he came out to be king; yes, even in his kingdom he was born poor. <sup>15</sup> I saw all the living who walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the other, who succeeded him. <sup>16</sup> There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was—yet those who come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a chasing after wind.

5

<sup>1</sup> Guard your steps when you go to God's house; for to draw near to listen is better than to give the sacrifice of fools, for they don't know that they do evil. <sup>2</sup> Don't be rash with your mouth, and don't let your heart be hasty to utter anything before God; for God is in heaven, and you on earth. Therefore let your words be few. <sup>3</sup> For as a dream comes with a multitude of cares, so a fool's speech with a multitude of words. <sup>4</sup> When you vow a vow to God, don't defer to pay it; for he has no pleasure in fools. Pay that which you vow. <sup>5</sup> It is better that you should not vow, than that you should vow and not pay. <sup>6</sup> Don't allow your mouth to lead you into sin. Don't protest before the messenger that this was a mistake. Why should God be angry at your voice, and destroy the work of your hands? <sup>7</sup> For in the multitude of dreams there are vanities, as well as in many words: but you must fear God.

<sup>8</sup> If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of justice and righteousness in a district, don't marvel at the matter: for one official is eyed by a higher one; and there are officials over them. <sup>9</sup> Moreover the profit of the earth is for all. The king profits from the field.

<sup>10</sup> He who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he who loves abundance, with increase: this also is vanity. <sup>11</sup> When goods increase, those who eat them are increased; and what advantage is there to its owner, except to feast on them with his eyes?

<sup>12</sup> The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not allow him to sleep.

<sup>13</sup> There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: wealth kept by its owner to his harm. <sup>14</sup> Those riches perish by misfortune, and if he has fathered a son, there is nothing in his hand. <sup>15</sup> As he came out of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labor, which he may carry away in his hand. <sup>16</sup> This also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go. And what profit does he have who labors for the wind? <sup>17</sup> All his days he also eats in darkness, he is frustrated, and has sickness and wrath.

<sup>18</sup> Behold, that which I have seen to be good and proper is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labor, in which he labors under the sun, all the days of his life which God has given him; for this is his portion. <sup>19</sup> Every man also to whom God has given riches and wealth, and has given him power to eat of it, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God. <sup>20</sup> For he shall not often reflect on the days of his life; because God occupies him with the joy of his heart.

6

<sup>1</sup> There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy on men: <sup>2</sup> a man to whom God gives riches, wealth, and honor, so that he lacks nothing for his soul of all that he desires, yet God gives him no power to eat of it, but an alien eats it. This is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

<sup>3</sup> If a man fathers a hundred children, and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his soul is not filled with good, and moreover he has no burial; I say, that a stillborn child is better than he: <sup>4</sup> for it comes in vanity, and departs in darkness, and its name is covered with darkness. <sup>5</sup> Moreover it has not seen the sun nor known it. This has rest rather than the other. <sup>6</sup> Yes, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet fails to enjoy good, don't all go to one place? <sup>7</sup> All the labor of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled. <sup>8</sup> For what advantage has the wise more than the fool? What has the poor man, that knows how to walk before the living? <sup>9</sup> Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire. This also is vanity and a chasing after wind. <sup>10</sup> Whatever has been, its name was given long ago; and it is known what man is; neither can he contend with him who is mightier than he. <sup>11</sup> For there are many words that create vanity. What does that profit man? <sup>12</sup> For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spends like a shadow? For who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?

7

<sup>1</sup> A good name is better than fine perfume; and the day of death better than the day of one's birth. <sup>2</sup> It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men, and the living should take this to heart. <sup>3</sup> Sorrow is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the face the heart is made good. <sup>4</sup> The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. <sup>5</sup> It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools. <sup>6</sup> For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity. <sup>7</sup> Surely extortion makes the wise man foolish; and a bribe destroys the understanding. <sup>8</sup> Better is the end of a thing than its beginning.

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. <sup>9</sup> Don't be hasty in your spirit to be angry, for anger rests in the bosom of fools. <sup>10</sup> Don't say, "Why were the former days better than these?" For you do not ask wisely about this.

<sup>11</sup> Wisdom is as good as an inheritance. Yes, it is more excellent for those who see the sun. <sup>12</sup> For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom preserves the life of him who has it.

<sup>13</sup> Consider the work of God, for who can make that straight, which he has made crooked? <sup>14</sup> In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider; yes, God has made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out anything after him.

does good and doesn't sin. <sup>21</sup> Also don't take heed to all words that are spoken, lest you hear your servant curse you; <sup>22</sup> for often your own heart knows that you yourself have likewise cursed others. <sup>23</sup> All this have I proved in wisdom. I said, "I will be wise"; but it was far from me. <sup>24</sup> That which is, is far off and exceedingly deep. Who can find it out? <sup>25</sup> I turned around, and my heart sought to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the scheme of things, and to know that wickedness is stupidity, and that foolishness is madness.

<sup>26</sup> I find more bitter than death the woman whose heart is snares and traps, whose hands are chains. Whoever pleases God shall escape from her; but the sinner will be ensnared by her.

<sup>27</sup> "Behold, I have found this," says the Preacher, "to one another, to find out the scheme; <sup>28</sup> which my soul still seeks; but I have not found. One man among a thousand have I found; but I have not found a woman among all those. <sup>29</sup> Behold, this only have I found: that God made man upright; but they search for many schemes."

8

the time and procedure. <sup>6</sup> For there is a time and procedure for every purpose, although the misery of man is heavy on him. <sup>7</sup> For he doesn't know that which will be; for who can tell him how it will be? <sup>8</sup> There is no man who has power over the spirit to contain the spirit; neither does he have power over the day of death. There is no discharge in war; neither shall wickedness deliver those who practice it.

<sup>9</sup> All this have I seen, and applied my mind to every work that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man has power over another to his hurt. <sup>10</sup> So I saw the wicked buried. Indeed they came also from holiness. They went and were forgotten in the city where they did this. This also is vanity. <sup>11</sup> Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. <sup>12</sup> Though a sinner commits crimes a hundred times, and lives long, yet surely I know that it will be better with those who fear God, who are reverent before him. <sup>13</sup> But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he lengthen days like a shadow; because he doesn't fear God.

<sup>14</sup> There is a vanity which is done on the earth, that there are righteous men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked. Again, there are wicked men to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity. <sup>15</sup> Then I commended mirth, because a man has no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be joyful: for that will accompany him in his labor all the days of his life which God has given him under the sun.

<sup>16</sup> When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done on the earth (for also there is that neither day nor night sees sleep with his eyes), <sup>17</sup> then I saw all the work of God, that man can't find out the work that is done under the sun, because however much a man labors to seek it out, yet he won't find it. Yes even though a wise man thinks he can comprehend it, he won't be able to find it.

9

<sup>1</sup> For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this: that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God; whether it is love or hatred, man doesn't know it; all is before them. <sup>2</sup> All things come alike to all. There is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good, to the clean, to the unclean, to him who sacrifices, and to him who doesn't sacrifice. As is the good, so is the sinner; he who takes an oath, as he who fears an oath. <sup>3</sup> This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event to all: yes also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. <sup>4</sup> For to him who is joined with all the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. <sup>5</sup> For the living know that they will die, but the dead don't know anything, neither do they have any more a reward; for their memory is forgotten. <sup>6</sup> Also their love, their hatred, and their envy has perished long ago; neither have they any more a portion forever in anything that is done under the sun.

<sup>7</sup> Go your way—eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for God has already accepted your works. <sup>8</sup> Let your garments be always white, and don't let your head lack oil. <sup>9</sup> Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your life of vanity, which he has given you under the sun, all your days of vanity: for that is your portion in life, and in your labor in which you labor under the sun. <sup>10</sup> Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with your might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in Sheol,<sup>c</sup> where you are going.

<sup>11</sup> I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happen to them all. <sup>12</sup> For man also doesn't know his time. As the fish that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falls suddenly on them.

than weapons of war; but one sinner destroys much good.

so does a little folly outweigh wisdom and honor.

end of his talk is mischievous madness. <sup>14</sup>
A fool also multiplies words.

Man doesn't know what will be; and that which will be after him, who can tell him?

<sup>15</sup> The labor of fools wearies every one of them; for he doesn't know how to go to the
city.

<sup>16</sup> Woe to you, land, when your king is a
child,
and your princes eat in the morning! <sup>17</sup> Happy are you, land, when your king is the son of nobles,
and your princes eat in due season,
for strength, and not for drunkenness!

<sup>18</sup> By slothfulness the roof sinks in;
and through idleness of the hands
the house leaks.

<sup>19</sup> A feast is made for laughter,
and wine makes the life glad;
and money is the answer for all
things.

<sup>20</sup> Don't curse the king, no, not in your thoughts;
and don't curse the rich in your bedroom:
for a bird of the sky may carry your
voice,
and that which has wings may tell
the matter.

11

<sup>1</sup> Cast your bread on the waters;
for you shall find it after many
days.

<sup>2</sup> Give a portion to seven, yes, even to eight;
for you don't know what evil will be on the earth.

<sup>3</sup> If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves on the
earth;
and if a tree falls toward the south,
or toward the north,
in the place where the tree falls,
there shall it be.

<sup>4</sup> He who observes the wind won't sow;
and he who regards the clouds
won't reap.

<sup>5</sup> As you don't know what is the way of the wind,
nor how the bones grow in the womb of her who is with
child;
even so you don't know the work of God who does all.

<sup>6</sup> In the morning sow your seed,
and in the evening don't withhold
your hand;
for you don't know which will prosper, whether this or that,
or whether they both will be equally
good.

<sup>7</sup> Truly the light is sweet,
and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to see the sun.

<sup>8</sup> Yes, if a man lives many years, let him
rejoice in them all;
but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many.

All that comes is vanity.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice, young man, in your youth,
and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth,
and walk in the ways of your heart,
and in the sight of your eyes;
but know that for all these things
God will bring you into
judgment.

<sup>10</sup> Therefore remove sorrow from your heart,
and put away evil from your flesh;
for youth and the dawn of life are vanity.

12

before the evil days come, and the years draw near,
when you will say, "I have no pleasure in them";
<sup>2</sup> Before the sun, the light, the moon, and the stars are darkened,
and the clouds return after the rain;
<sup>3</sup> in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble,
and the strong men shall bow themselves,
and the grinders cease because they are few,
and those who look out of the windows are darkened, <sup>4</sup> and the doors shall be shut in the street;
when the sound of the grinding is low,
and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird,
and all the daughters of music shall be brought low;
<sup>5</sup> yes, they shall be afraid of heights,
and terrors will be on the way;
and the almond tree shall blossom,
and the grasshopper shall be a burden,

and desire shall fail;
because man goes to his everlasting home,
and the mourners go about the streets:

<sup>6</sup> before the silver cord is severed,
or the golden bowl is broken,
or the pitcher is broken at the spring,
or the wheel broken at the cistern, <sup>7</sup> and the dust returns to the earth as it was,
and the spirit returns to God who gave it.
"All is vanity!"

<sup>9</sup> Further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge. Yes, he pondered, sought out, and set in order many proverbs. <sup>10</sup> The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written blamelessly, words of truth. <sup>11</sup> The words of the wise are like goads; and like nails well fastened are words from the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd. <sup>12</sup> Furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

<sup>13</sup> This is the end of the matter. All has been heard. Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. <sup>14</sup> For God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it is good, or whether it is evil.

The Song of Solomon

Beloved

<sup>2</sup> Let him kiss me with the kisses of his
mouth;

for your love is better than wine.

<sup>3</sup> Your oils have a pleasing fragrance.

Your name is oil poured out,
therefore the virgins love you.

<sup>4</sup> Take me away with you.

Let us hurry.

The king has brought me into his rooms.

Friends

We will be glad and rejoice in you.

We will praise your love more than
wine!

Beloved

They are right to love you.

<sup>5</sup> I am dark, but lovely,
you daughters of Jerusalem,
like Kedar's tents,
like Solomon's curtains.

<sup>6</sup> Don't stare at me because I am dark,
because the sun has scorched me.

My mother's sons were angry with me.

They made me keeper of the
vineyards.

I haven't kept my own vineyard.

<sup>7</sup> Tell me, you whom my soul loves,

where you graze your flock,
where you rest them at noon;
For why should I be as one who is veiled beside the flocks of your companions?

Lover

<sup>8</sup> If you don't know, most beautiful
among women,
follow the tracks of the sheep.
Graze your young goats beside the shepherds' tents.

<sup>9</sup> I have compared you, my love,
to a steed in Pharaoh's chariots.

<sup>10</sup> Your cheeks are beautiful with earrings,
your neck with strings of jewels.

<sup>11</sup> We will make you earrings of gold,
with studs of silver.

<sup>12</sup> While the king sat at his table,
my perfume spread its fragrance.

<sup>13</sup> My beloved is to me a sachet of myrrh,
that lies between my breasts.

<sup>14</sup> My beloved is to me a cluster of henna blossoms
from the vineyards of En Gedi.

<sup>15</sup> Behold,<sup>a</sup> you are beautiful, my love.
Behold, you are beautiful.

<sup>a</sup> "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

Your eyes are doves.

Beloved

<sup>16</sup> Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, yes, pleasant;
and our couch is verdant.

Lover

<sup>17</sup> The beams of our house are cedars.
Our rafters are firs.

2

<sup>1</sup> I am a rose of Sharon,
a lily of the valleys.

<sup>2</sup> As a lily among thorns,
so is my love among the daughters.

Beloved

<sup>3</sup> As the apple tree among the trees of the wood,
so is my beloved among the sons.
I sat down under his shadow with great
delight,
his fruit was sweet to my taste.
<sup>4</sup> He brought me to the banquet hall.
His banner over me is love.
<sup>5</sup> Strengthen me with raisins,
refresh me with apples;
For I am faint with love.
<sup>6</sup> His left hand is under my head.
His right hand embraces me.

<sup>7</sup> I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the
field,
that you not stir up, nor awaken
love,
until it so desires.

<sup>8</sup> The voice of my beloved!
Behold, he comes,
leaping on the mountains,
skipping on the hills.

<sup>9</sup> My beloved is like a roe or a young
deer.
Behold, he stands behind our wall!
He looks in at the windows.
He glances through the lattice.

<sup>10</sup> My beloved spoke, and said to me,
“Rise up, my love, my beautiful
one, and come away.

<sup>11</sup> For, behold, the winter is past.
The rain is over and gone.

<sup>12</sup> The flowers appear on the earth.
The time of the singing has come,
and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

<sup>13</sup> The fig tree ripens her green figs.
The vines are in blossom.
They give out their fragrance.
Arise, my love, my beautiful one,
and come away.”

Lover

<sup>14</sup> My dove in the clefts of the rock,
In the hiding places of the mountainside,
Let me see your face.
Let me hear your voice;
for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely.

<sup>15</sup> Catch for us the foxes,

the little foxes that plunder the
vineyards;
for our vineyards are in blossom.

Beloved

- <sup>16</sup> My beloved is mine, and I am his.
He browses among the lilies.
<sup>17</sup> Until the day is cool, and the shadows
flee away,
turn, my beloved,
and be like a roe or a young deer on the mountains of Bether.

- <sup>1</sup> By night on my bed,
I sought him whom my soul loves.
I sought him, but I didn't find him.
<sup>2</sup> I will get up now, and go about the
city;
in the streets and in the squares I will seek him whom my soul
loves.
I sought him, but I didn't find him.
<sup>3</sup> The watchmen who go about the city
found me;
"Have you seen him whom my soul
loves?"
<sup>4</sup> I had scarcely passed from them,
when I found him whom my soul
loves.
I held him, and would not let him go,
until I had brought him into my mother's house,
into the room of her who conceived
me.
<sup>5</sup> I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
by the roes, or by the hinds of the
field,
that you not stir up, nor awaken
love,

until it so desires.

- <sup>6</sup> Who is this who comes up from the wilderness like pillars of
smoke,
perfumed with myrrh and
frankincense,
with all spices of the merchant?
<sup>7</sup> Behold, it is Solomon's carriage!
Sixty mighty men are around it,
of the mighty men of Israel.
<sup>8</sup> They all handle the sword, and are expert in war.
Every man has his sword on his thigh,
because of fear in the night.
<sup>9</sup> King Solomon made himself a carriage
of the wood of Lebanon.
<sup>10</sup> He made its pillars of silver,
its bottom of gold, its seat of
purple,
the middle of it being paved with
love,
from the daughters of Jerusalem.
<sup>11</sup> Go out, you daughters of Zion, and see king Solomon,
with the crown with which his mother has crowned him,
in the day of his weddings,
in the day of the gladness of his
heart.

4

Lover

- <sup>1</sup> Behold, you are beautiful, my love.
Behold, you are beautiful.
Your eyes are doves behind your veil.
Your hair is as a flock of goats,
that descend from Mount Gilead.

- <sup>2</sup> Your teeth are like a newly shorn flock,
which have come up from the washing,
where every one of them has twins.
None is bereaved among them.
- <sup>3</sup> Your lips are like scarlet thread.
Your mouth is lovely.
Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.
- <sup>4</sup> Your neck is like David's tower built for an armory, whereon a thousand shields hang,
all the shields of the mighty men.
- <sup>5</sup> Your two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a roe,
which feed among the lilies.
- <sup>6</sup> Until the day is cool, and the shadows flee away,
I will go to the mountain of myrrh,
to the hill of frankincense.
- <sup>7</sup> You are all beautiful, my love.
There is no spot in you.
- <sup>8</sup> Come with me from Lebanon, my bride,
with me from Lebanon.
Look from the top of Amana,
from the top of Senir and Hermon,
from the lions' dens,
from the mountains of the leopards.
- <sup>9</sup> You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride.
You have ravished my heart with one of your eyes,
with one chain of your neck.
- <sup>10</sup> How beautiful is your love, my sister, my bride!
How much better is your love than wine!
The fragrance of your perfumes
than all kinds of spices!
- <sup>11</sup> Your lips, my bride, drip like the honeycomb.
Honey and milk are under your tongue.
The smell of your garments is like the smell of Lebanon.
- <sup>12</sup> A locked up garden is my sister, my bride;
a locked up spring,
a sealed fountain.
- <sup>13</sup> Your shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits:
henna with spikenard plants, <sup>14</sup> spikenard and saffron,
calamus and cinnamon, with every kind of incense tree;
myrrh and aloes, with all the best spices, <sup>15</sup> a fountain of gardens,
a well of living waters,
flowing streams from Lebanon.
- Beloved*
- <sup>16</sup> Awake, north wind; and come, you south!
Blow on my garden, that its spices may flow out.
Let my beloved come into his garden,
and taste his precious fruits.

5

<sup>1</sup> I have come into my garden, my sister,
 my bride.
 I have gathered my myrrh with my spice;
 I have eaten my honeycomb with
 my honey;
 I have drunk my wine with my milk.

Friends

Eat, friends!
 Drink, yes, drink abundantly,
 beloved.

Beloved

<sup>2</sup> I was asleep, but my heart was awake.
 It is the voice of my beloved who knocks:
 “Open to me, my sister, my love,
 my dove, my undefiled;
 for my head is filled with dew,
 and my hair with the dampness of the night.”
<sup>3</sup> I have taken off my robe. Indeed, must I put it on?
 I have washed my feet. Indeed,
 must I soil them?
<sup>4</sup> My beloved thrust his hand in through the latch opening.
 My heart pounded for him.
<sup>5</sup> I rose up to open for my beloved.
 My hands dripped with myrrh,
 my fingers with liquid myrrh,

on the handles of the lock.

<sup>6</sup> I opened to my beloved;
 but my beloved left; and had gone
 away.

My heart went out when he spoke.
 I looked for him, but I didn't find
 him.

I called him, but he didn't answer.

<sup>7</sup> The watchmen who go about the city
 found me.

They beat me.

They bruised me.

The keepers of the walls took my cloak away from me.

<sup>8</sup> I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
 If you find my beloved,
 that you tell him that I am faint with
 love.

Friends

<sup>9</sup> How is your beloved better than another beloved,
 you fairest among women?
 How is your beloved better than another
 beloved,
 that you do so adjure us?

Beloved

<sup>10</sup> My beloved is white and ruddy.
 The best among ten thousand.
<sup>11</sup> His head is like the purest gold.
 His hair is bushy, black as a raven.
<sup>12</sup> His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks,
 washed with milk, mounted like
 jewels.
<sup>13</sup> His cheeks are like a bed of spices
 with towers of perfumes.

His lips are like lilies, dropping liquid myrrh.
<sup>14</sup> His hands are like rings of gold set with beryl.
 His body is like ivory work overlaid with sapphires.
<sup>15</sup> His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold.
 His appearance is like Lebanon,
excellent as the cedars.
<sup>16</sup> His mouth is sweetness;
yes, he is altogether lovely.
 This is my beloved, and this is my
friend,
 daughters of Jerusalem.

6

Friends

<sup>1</sup> Where has your beloved gone, you fairest among women?
 Where has your beloved turned,
that we may seek him with
you?

Beloved

<sup>2</sup> My beloved has gone down to his garden,
 to the beds of spices,
to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
<sup>3</sup> I am my beloved's, and my beloved is
mine.
 He browses among the lilies,
<sup>4</sup> You are beautiful, my love, as Tirzah,
lovely as Jerusalem,
 awesome as an army with banners.
<sup>5</sup> Turn away your eyes from me,

for they have overcome me.
 Your hair is like a flock of goats,
that lie along the side of Gilead.
<sup>6</sup> Your teeth are like a flock of ewes,
which have come up from the washing;
 of which every one has twins;
no one is bereaved among them.
<sup>7</sup> Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind your veil.
<sup>8</sup> There are sixty queens, eighty concubines,
 and virgins without number.
<sup>9</sup> My dove, my perfect one, is unique.
 She is her mother's only daughter.
 She is the favorite one of her who bore her.
 The daughters saw her, and called her
blessed;
 the queens and the concubines, and
they praised her.
<sup>10</sup> Who is she who looks out as the
morning,
 beautiful as the moon,
clear as the sun,
 and awesome as an army with banners?
<sup>11</sup> I went down into the nut tree grove,
to see the green plants of the valley,
to see whether the vine budded,
and the pomegranates were in flower.
<sup>12</sup> Without realizing it,
my desire set me with my royal people's chariots.

Friends

<sup>13</sup> Return, return, Shulammit!

Return, return, that we may gaze at
you.

Lover

Why do you desire to gaze at the Shulammite,
as at the dance of Mahanaim?

7

<sup>1</sup> How beautiful are your feet in sandals,
prince's daughter!

Your rounded thighs are like
jewels,
the work of the hands of a skillful workman.

<sup>2</sup> Your body is like a round goblet,
no mixed wine is wanting.

Your waist is like a heap of wheat,
set about with lilies.

<sup>3</sup> Your two breasts are like two fawns,
that are twins of a roe.

<sup>4</sup> Your neck is like an ivory tower.
Your eyes are like the pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bathrabbim.
Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.

<sup>5</sup> Your head on you is like Carmel.
The hair of your head like purple.
The king is held captive in its tresses.

<sup>6</sup> How beautiful and how pleasant you
are,
love, for delights!

<sup>7</sup> This, your stature, is like a palm tree,
your breasts like its fruit.

<sup>8</sup> I said, "I will climb up into the palm
tree.
I will take hold of its fruit."

Let your breasts be like clusters of the vine,
the smell of your breath like apples,

Beloved

<sup>9</sup> Your mouth like the best wine, that goes down smoothly for my
beloved,
gliding through the lips of those who are asleep.

<sup>10</sup> I am my beloved's.
His desire is toward me.

<sup>11</sup> Come, my beloved, let us go out into
the field.
Let us lodge in the villages.

<sup>12</sup> Let's go early up to the vineyards.
Let's see whether the vine has budded,
its blossom is open,
and the pomegranates are in flower.
There I will give you my love.

<sup>13</sup> The mandrakes produce fragrance.
At our doors are all kinds of precious fruits, new and old,
which I have stored up for you, my
beloved.

8

<sup>1</sup> Oh that you were like my brother, who nursed from the breasts of my
mother!
If I found you outside, I would kiss you;
yes, and no one would despise me.
<sup>2</sup> I would lead you, bringing you into my mother's house,
who would instruct me.
I would have you drink spiced wine,
of the juice of my pomegranate.
<sup>3</sup> His left hand would be under my head.

His right hand would embrace me.
<sup>4</sup> I adjure you, daughters of Jerusalem,
 that you not stir up, nor awaken
 love,
 until it so desires.

<sup>5</sup> Who is this who comes up from the
 wilderness,
 leaning on her beloved?
 Under the apple tree I aroused you.
 There your mother conceived you.
 There she was in labor and bore
 you.
<sup>6</sup> Set me as a seal on your heart,
 as a seal on your arm;
 for love is strong as death.
 Jealousy is as cruel as Sheol.<sup>b</sup>
 Its flashes are flashes of fire,
 a very flame of Yahweh.<sup>c</sup> <sup>7</sup> Many waters can't quench love,
 neither can floods drown it.
 If a man would give all the wealth of his house for love,
 he would be utterly scorned.

Friends

<sup>8</sup> We have a little sister.
 She has no breasts.
 What shall we do for our sister
 in the day when she is to be spoken
 for?
<sup>9</sup> If she is a wall,

we will build on her a turret of
 silver.
 if she is a door,
 we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

Beloved

<sup>10</sup> I am a wall, and my breasts like towers,
 then I was in his eyes like one who found peace.
<sup>11</sup> Solomon had a vineyard at Baal
 Hamon.
 He leased out the vineyard to keepers.
 Each was to bring a thousand shekels<sup>d</sup> of silver for its
 fruit.
<sup>12</sup> My own vineyard is before me.
 The thousand are for you, Solomon;
 two hundred for those who tend its
 fruit.

Lover

<sup>13</sup> You who dwell in the gardens, with friends in attendance,
 let me hear your voice!

Beloved

<sup>14</sup> Come away, my beloved!
 Be like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices!

<sup>b</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead. <sup>c</sup> "Yahweh" is God's proper Name, sometimes rendered "LORD" (all caps) in other translations.

<sup>d</sup> a shekel is about 10 grams or about 0.35 ounces, so 1000 shekels is about 10 kilograms or about 22 pounds.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON

1

<sup>1</sup> Love righteousness, you<sup>g</sup> that be judges of the earth,
Think you<sup>g</sup> of the Lord <sup>a</sup> with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek you<sup>g</sup>
him;
<sup>2</sup> Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.
<sup>3</sup> For crooked thoughts separate from
God;
And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, <sup>b</sup> puts
to confusion the foolish:
<sup>4</sup> Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil, Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
<sup>5</sup> For a holy spirit of discipline will flee
deceit.
And will start away from thoughts that
are without understanding,
And will be <sup>c</sup> put to confusion when unrighteousness has come
in.
<sup>6</sup> For <sup>d</sup> wisdom is a spirit that loves
man,
And she will not hold a <sup>e</sup> blasphemer
guiltless for his lips;
Because God bears witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And a hearer of his tongue:
<sup>7</sup> Because the spirit of the Lord has filled <sup>f</sup> the world,

And that which holds all things together has knowledge of every
voice.

<sup>8</sup> Therefore no man that utters unrighteous things shall be unseen;

<sup>g</sup> Neither shall Justice, when it convicts, pass him by.

<sup>9</sup> For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched
out;

And the sound of his words shall come to the Lord

To bring to conviction his lawless
deeds:

<sup>10</sup> Because there is an ear of jealousy
that listens to all things,
And the noise of murmurings is not hid.

<sup>11</sup> Beware then of unprofitable
murmuring,
And refrain your tongue from
backbiting;

Because no secret utterance shall go on its way void,
And a mouth that belies destroys a soul.

<sup>12</sup> Court not death in the error of your
life;

Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of
your hands:

<sup>13</sup> Because God made not death;
Neither delights he when the living
perish:

<sup>14</sup> For he created all things that they might have being:

And<sup>h</sup> the generative powers of the world are healthsome,

<sup>e</sup> Or, reviler <sup>f</sup> Gr. the inhabited earth. <sup>g</sup> Some authorities read Nor indeed. <sup>h</sup> Or, all the races of creatures in the world

And there is no poison of destruction in them:

Nor has Hades <sup>i</sup> royal dominion upon earth,

<sup>16</sup> But ungodly men by their hands and their words called <sup>j</sup> death to them:

Deeming him a friend they <sup>k</sup> consumed away,

And they made a covenant with him, Because they are worthy to be of his portion.

2

Short and sorrowful is our life; And there is no healing when a man comes to his end,

And none was ever known that <sup>m</sup> gave release from Hades.

<sup>2</sup> Because by mere chance were we born,

And hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:

Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,

And <sup>n</sup> while our heart beats reason is a spark,

<sup>3</sup> Which being extinguished, the body shall be turned into ashes, And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;

<sup>4</sup> And our name shall be forgotten in time,

And no man shall remember our works;

And our life shall pass away as the traces of a cloud,

And shall be scattered as is a mist, When it is chased by the beams of the sun,

And <sup>o</sup> overcome by the heat thereof.

And <sup>p</sup> our end retreats not;

Because it is fast sealed, and none <sup>q</sup> turns it back.

And let us use the creation <sup>s</sup> with all our soul <sup>t</sup> as youth's possession.

And let no flower of <sup>u</sup> spring pass us by:

<sup>8</sup> Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:

<sup>9</sup> Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:

Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:

Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.

<sup>10</sup> Let us oppress the righteous poor; Let us not spare the widow,

Nor reverence the hairs of the old man gray for length of years.

<sup>11</sup> But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;

For that which is weak is <sup>v</sup> found to be of no service.

Because he is of disservice to us,
 And is contrary to our works,
 And upbraids us with sins against <sup>w</sup> the
 law,
 And lays to our charge sins against our
 discipline.

<sup>13</sup> He professes to have knowledge of God,
 And names himself <sup>x</sup> servant of the Lord.

<sup>14</sup> He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

<sup>15</sup> He is grievous to us even to behold,
 Because his life is unlike other men's,
 And his paths are of strange fashion.

<sup>16</sup> We were accounted of him as base metal,
 And he abstains from our ways as from uncleannesses.

The latter end of the righteous he calls
 happy;
 And he vaunts that God is his father.

<sup>17</sup> Let us see if his words be true,
 And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

<sup>18</sup> For if the righteous man is God's son,
 he will uphold him,
 And he will deliver him out of the hand
 of his adversaries.

<sup>19</sup> With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,
 That we may learn his gentleness,
 And may prove his patience under
 wrong.

<sup>20</sup> Let us condemn him to a shameful
 death;
 For <sup>y</sup> he shall be visited according to his
 words.

<sup>21</sup> Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;
 For their <sup>z</sup> wickedness blinded them, <sup>22</sup> And they knew not the mysteries of
 God,
 Neither hoped they for wages of
 holiness,
 Nor did they judge that there is a prize
 for blameless souls.
<sup>23</sup> Because God created man for incorruption,
 And made him an image of his own <sup>a</sup>
 proper being;
<sup>24</sup> But by the envy of the devil death
 entered into the world,
 And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

3

<sup>1</sup> But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,
 And no torment shall touch them.
<sup>2</sup> In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;
 And their departure was accounted to
be their hurt, <sup>3</sup> And their journeying away from us to be their ruin:
 But they are in peace.
<sup>4</sup> For even if in the sight of men they be punished,
 Their hope is full of immortality;
<sup>5</sup> And having borne a little chastening,
 they shall receive great
 good;
 Because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of
 himself.

<sup>w</sup> Or, law    <sup>x</sup> Or, child    <sup>y</sup> Gr. there shall be a visitation of him out of his words.    <sup>z</sup> Or, malice    <sup>a</sup> Some authorities read everlastingness.

<sup>6</sup> As gold in the furnace he proved
 them,
 And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.
<sup>7</sup> And in the time of their visitation they shall shine forth,
 And as sparks among stubble they shall
 run to and fro.
<sup>8</sup> They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples;
 And the Lord shall reign over them for evermore.
<sup>9</sup> They that trust on him shall understand truth,
 And <sup>b</sup> the faithful shall abide with him
 in love;
 Because grace and mercy are to his
 chosen.
<sup>10</sup> But the ungodly shall be requited
 even as they reasoned,
 They which lightly regarded <sup>c</sup> the righteous man, and revolted
 from the Lord;
<sup>11</sup> (For he that sets at nothing wisdom and discipline is miserable;)
 And void is their hope and their toils
 unprofitable,
 And useless are their works:
<sup>12</sup> Their wives are foolish, and wicked
 are their children;
<sup>13</sup> Accursed is their begetting.
 Because happy is the barren that is undefiled,
 She who has not conceived in
 transgression;
 She shall have fruit when God visiteth
 souls.

<sup>14</sup> And happy is the eunuch which has wrought no lawless deed
 with his hands,
 Nor imagined wicked things against the
 Lord;
 For there shall be given him for his faithfulness <sup>d</sup> a peculiar
 favor,
 And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord
 more delightsome than wife or children.
<sup>15</sup> For good labors have fruit of great renown;
 And the root of understanding can't fail.
<sup>16</sup> But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,
 And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.
<sup>17</sup> For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,
 And at the last their old age shall be without honor.
<sup>18</sup> And if they die quickly, they <sup>e</sup> shall have no hope,
 Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.
<sup>19</sup> For <sup>f</sup> the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

4

<sup>1</sup> Better than this is childishness with virtue;
 For in the memory <sup>g</sup> of virtue is
 immortality:
 Because it is recognized both before
 God and before men.

<sup>b</sup> Or, they that are faithful through love shall abide with him    <sup>c</sup> Or, that which is righteous    <sup>d</sup> Or, the grace of God's chosen Gr. a chosen grace.    <sup>e</sup> Some authorities read have    <sup>f</sup> Gr. the ends...are grievous.    <sup>g</sup> Gr. of it.

And they long after it when it is departed:
 And <sup>h</sup> throughout all time it marcheth crowned in triumph, Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.
<sup>3</sup> But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,
 And <sup>i</sup> with bastard <sup>j</sup> slips they shall not strike deep root,
 Nor shall they establish a sure hold.
<sup>4</sup> For even if these <sup>k</sup> put forth boughs and flourish for a season, <sup>q1</sup> Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,
 And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.
<sup>5</sup> Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity, and their fruit shall be useless, Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.
<sup>6</sup> For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness Against parents when God searcheth them out.
<sup>8</sup> (For honorable old age is not that which stands in length of time,
 Nor is its measure given by number of years:
<sup>9</sup> But understanding is gray hairs to men,
 And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)
<sup>10</sup> Being found well-pleasing to God he was beloved of him,

And while living among sinners he was translated:

<sup>11</sup> He was caught away, lest <sup>l</sup> wickedness should change his understanding,
 Or guile deceive his soul.
<sup>12</sup> (For the bewitching of naughtiness bedimmeth the things which are good,
 And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)
<sup>13</sup> Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long <sup>m</sup> years;
<sup>14</sup> For his soul was pleasing to the Lord:
 Therefore <sup>n</sup> hastened he out of the midst of wickedness.
<sup>15</sup> But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not,
 Neither laying <sup>o</sup> this to heart,
 That grace and mercy are with his chosen,
 And that <sup>p</sup> he visiteth his holy ones:-
<sup>16</sup> But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living,
 And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;
<sup>17</sup> For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end,
 And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him,
 And for what he safely kept him:-
<sup>18</sup> They shall see, and they shall despise;
 But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn.
 And after this they shall become a dishonored carcase,

And <sup>q</sup> a reproach among the dead for
ever:

<sup>19</sup> Because he shall dash them
speechless to the ground,
And shall shake them from the foundations,

And they shall <sup>r</sup> lie utterly waste, and
they shall be in anguish,
And their memory shall perish.

<sup>20</sup> They shall come, <sup>s</sup> when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear;
And their lawless deeds shall convict
them to their face.

5

<sup>1</sup> Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness
Before the face of them that afflicted
him,
And them that make his labors of no
account.

<sup>2</sup> When they see <sup>t</sup> it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear,
And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.

<sup>3</sup> They shall say <sup>u</sup> within themselves
repenting,
And for distress of spirit shall they
groan,
This was he whom aforetime we had in
derision,

And made a parable of <sup>v</sup> reproach:

<sup>4</sup> We fools accounted his life madness,
And his end without honor:

<sup>5</sup> How was he numbered among sons of God?
And how is his lot among saints?

<sup>6</sup> Verily we went astray from the way of
truth,

And the light of righteousness shined
not for us,
And the sun rose not for us.

<sup>7</sup> We <sup>w</sup> took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction,
And we journeyed through trackless
deserts,

But the way of the Lord we knew not.

<sup>8</sup> What did our arrogance profit us?
And what good have riches <sup>x</sup> and vaunting brought us?

<sup>9</sup> Those things all passed away as a
shadow,

And as a message that runs by:

<sup>10</sup> As a ship passing through the billowy
water,

Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no
trace to be found,
Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:

<sup>11</sup> Or as when a bird flieth through the air,

No token of her passage is found,
But the light wind, lashed with the stroke of her pinions,

And tore asunder <sup>y</sup> with the violent rush of the moving wings, is passed through,

And afterwards no sign of her coming
is found therein:

<sup>12</sup> Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,

The air disparted closeth up again
immediately,

So that men know not where it passed
through:

<sup>v</sup> Or, reproach, we fools: we accounted    <sup>w</sup> See Prov. xiv. 14.    <sup>x</sup> Gr. with    <sup>y</sup> Or, with the violent rush, is passed through by the motion of her wings

<sup>13</sup> So we also, as soon as we were born, <sup>z</sup> ceased to be;
 And of virtue we had no sign to show,
 But in our wickedness we were utterly
 consumed.
<sup>14</sup> Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind,
 And <sup>a</sup> as <sup>b</sup> foam vanishing before a
 tempest;
 And is scattered as smoke is scattered
 by the wind,
 And passes by as the remembrance of a guest that waits but a day.
<sup>15</sup> But the righteous live for ever,
 And in the Lord is their reward,
 And the care for them with the Most
 High.
<sup>16</sup> Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity
 And the diadem of beauty from the Lord's hand;
 Because with his right hand shall he
 cover them,
 And with his arm shall he shield them.
<sup>17</sup> He shall take his jealousy as complete armor,
 And shall make the whole creation his weapons <sup>c</sup> for vengeance on
his enemies:
<sup>18</sup> He shall put on righteousness as a
 breastplate,
 And shall array himself with judgement
 unfeigned as with a helmet;
<sup>19</sup> He shall take holiness as an invincible shield,
<sup>20</sup> And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:

And the world shall go forth with him
 to fight against his insensate
foes.
<sup>21</sup> Shafts of lightning shall fly with true
 aim,
 And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap
 to the mark.
<sup>22</sup> And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of
 wrath;
 The water of the sea shall be angered
 against them,
 And rivers shall sternly overwhelm
 them;
<sup>23</sup> A mighty blast shall encounter them,
 And as a tempest shall it winnow them
 away:
 And so shall lawlessness make all the land desolate,
 And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6

<sup>1</sup> Hear therefore, you<sup>63</sup> kings, and
 understand;
 Learn, you<sup>63</sup> judges of the ends of the
 earth:
<sup>2</sup> Give ear, you<sup>63</sup> that have dominion over much people,
 And make your boast <sup>d</sup> in multitudes of
 nations.
<sup>3</sup> Because your dominion was given
 you from the Lord,
 And your sovereignty from the Most
 High;
 Who shall search out your works,
 And shall make inquisition of your
 counsels:

<sup>z</sup> Gr. failed. <sup>a</sup> Gr. as foam chased to thinness: or, as thin foam chased. <sup>b</sup> Most Greek authorities read hoar frost: some authorities, perhaps rightly, a spider's web. <sup>c</sup> Or, to repel his enemies <sup>d</sup> Or, in the multitudes of your nations

<sup>4</sup> Because being officers of his kingdom
you<sup>23</sup> did not judge aright, Neither kept you<sup>23</sup> <sup>e</sup> law, nor walked
after the counsel of God.

<sup>5</sup> Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you;
Because a stern judgement befalleth
them that be in high place:

<sup>6</sup> For the man of low estate may be pardoned in mercy,
But mighty men shall be <sup>f</sup> searched out
mightily.

<sup>7</sup> For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's
person,

Neither will he reverence greatness;
Because it is he that made both small and great,

And alike he takes thought for all;

<sup>8</sup> But <sup>g</sup> strict is the scrutiny that comes upon the powerful.

<sup>9</sup> To you therefore, O princes, are my
words,

That you<sup>23</sup> may learn wisdom and <sup>h</sup> fall not from the right way.

<sup>10</sup> For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall
themselves be <sup>i</sup> hallowed;

And they that have been taught them
shall find what to answer;

<sup>11</sup> Set your desire therefore on my
words;

Long for them, and you<sup>23</sup> shall be <sup>j</sup> trained by their discipline.

<sup>12</sup> Wisdom is radiant and fades not
away;

And easily is she [*]saw of them that love her,

And found of them that seek her.

<sup>13</sup> She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself
first known. <sup>14</sup> He that rises up early to seek her shall have no toil,

For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

<sup>15</sup> For to think upon her is perfectness
of understanding,

And he that watches for her sake shall quickly be free from care.

<sup>16</sup> Because she goes about, herself seeking them that are worthy
of her,

And in their paths she appears to them
graciously,

And in every purpose she meets them.

<sup>17</sup> For <sup>k</sup> her <sup>l</sup> true beginning is desire of
discipline;

And the care for discipline is love of
her;

<sup>18</sup> And love of her is observance of her
laws;

And to give heed to her laws
confirmeth incorruption;

<sup>19</sup> And incorruption <sup>m</sup> brings near to
God;

<sup>20</sup> So then desire of wisdom promoteth
to a kingdom.

<sup>21</sup> If therefore you<sup>23</sup> delight in thrones
and sceptres, you<sup>23</sup> princes
of peoples,

Honor wisdom, that you<sup>23</sup> may reign for
ever.

<sup>22</sup> But what wisdom is, and how she came into being, I will declare,

And I will not hide mysteries from you;
But I will trace her out <sup>n</sup> from the beginning of creation,

beginning is the true desire <sup>l</sup> Gr. truest. <sup>m</sup> Gr. makes to be near. <sup>n</sup> Or, from her first beginning

And bring the knowledge of her into clear light,
 And I will not pass by the truth;
 23 Neither indeed will I take <sup>o</sup> pining envy for my companion in
 the way,
 Because <sup>p</sup> envy shall have no
 fellowship with wisdom.
 24 But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,
 And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.
 25 Wherefore be disciplined by my words, and thereby shall you<sup>23</sup> profit.

7

1 I myself also am <sup>q</sup> mortal, like to all,
 And am sprung from one born of the earth, the man first formed, 2 And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,
 Being compacted in blood of the seed
 of man and pleasure that came with sleep.
 3 And I also, when I was born, drew in
 the common air,
 And fell upon the <sup>r</sup> kindred earth,
 Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the
 selfsame wail:
 4 In swaddling clothes was I nursed,
 and <sup>s</sup> with watchful cares.
 5 For no king had any other first
 beginning;
 6 But all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.

7 For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given
 me:
 I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.
 8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones,
 And riches I esteemed nothing in comparison of her.
 9 Neither did I liken to her any priceless
 gem,
 Because all the gold of the earth in her presence is a little sand,
 And silver shall be accounted as clay
 before her.
 10 Above health and comeliness I loved
 her,
 And I chose to have her rather than
 light,
 Because her bright shining is never laid
 to sleep.
 11 But with her there came to me all good things together,
 And in her hands innumerable riches:
 12 And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leads them;
 Though I knew not that she was the <sup>t</sup>
 mother of them.
 13 As I learned without guile, I impart
 without grudging;
 I do not hide her riches.
 14 For she is to men a treasure that fails
 not,
 And they that use it <sup>u</sup> obtain friendship
 with God,
 Commended to him <sup>v</sup> by the gifts
 which they through discipline present to him.

15 But to me may God give to speak <sup>w</sup>
     with judgement,
 And to conceive thoughts worthy of what <sup>x</sup> has been given me;
 Because himself is one that guideth
     even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.
 16 For in his hand are both we and our
     words;
 All understanding, and all acquaintance with various crafts.
 17 For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that
     are,
 To know the constitution of the world,
     and the operation of the elements;
 18 The beginning and end and middle of
     times,
 The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,
 19 The circuits of years and the <sup>y</sup>
     positions of stars; 20 The natures of living creatures and
     the ragings of wild beasts,
 The violences of <sup>z</sup> winds and the thoughts of men,
 The diversities of plants and the virtues
     of roots:
 21 All things that are either secret or manifest I learned, 22 For she that is the artificer of all things taught me, even
     wisdom.
 For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,
<sup>a</sup> Alone in kind, manifold,
 Subtil, freely moving,

Clear in utterance, unpolluted,
 Distinct, unharmed,
 Loving what is good, keen, unhindered,
 23 Beneficent, loving toward man,
 Stedfast, sure, free from care,
 All-powerful, all-surveying,
 And penetrating through all spirits
 That are quick of understanding, pure,
     most subtil:
 24 For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;
 Yes, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.
 25 For she is a <sup>b</sup> breath of the power of God,
 And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;
 Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.
 26 For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,
 And an unspotted mirror of the working
     of God,
 And an image of his goodness.
 27 And she, being one, has power to do
     all things;
 And remaining in herself, reneweth all
     things:
 And from generation to generation
     passing into holy souls
 She makes men friends of God and
     prophets.
 28 For nothing does God love save him
     that dwells with wisdom.
 29 For she is fairer than the sun,
 And above <sup>c</sup> all the constellations of the stars:
 Being compared with light, she is found
     to be before it;

<sup>w</sup> Or, according to his mind Or, according to my mind    <sup>x</sup> Some authorities read is said.    <sup>y</sup> Or, constellations    <sup>z</sup> Or, spirits
<sup>a</sup> Gr. Sole-born.    <sup>b</sup> Gr. vapor.    <sup>c</sup> Gr. every arrangement of stars.

<sup>30</sup> For <sup>d</sup> to the light of day succeedeth
night,
But against wisdom evil does not prevail;

8

<sup>1</sup> But she <sup>e</sup> reaches from one end of the world to the other with full
strength,
And ordereth all things <sup>f</sup> graciously.
<sup>2</sup> Her I loved and sought out from my
youth,
And I sought to take her for my bride,
And I became enamoured of her beauty.
<sup>3</sup> She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with
God,
And the Sovereign Lord of all loved
her.
<sup>4</sup> For she is initiated into the knowledge
of God,
And she <sup>g</sup> chooseth out for him his
works.
<sup>5</sup> But if riches are a desired possession
in life,
What is richer than wisdom, which works all things?
<sup>6</sup> <sup>h</sup> And if understanding works,
Who more than <sup>i</sup> wisdom is an artificer
of the things that are?
<sup>7</sup> And if a man loves righteousness, <sup>j</sup> The fruits of wisdom's labor are virtues,
For she teaches soberness and understanding, righteousness
and courage;
And there is nothing in life for men
more profitable than these.

<sup>8</sup> And if a man longeth even for much experience,
She knows <sup>k</sup> the things of old, and <sup>l</sup>
divineth the things to come:
She understands subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark
sayings:
She foresees signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times. .
<sup>9</sup> I determined therefore to take her to me to live with me,
Knowing that she is one who would <sup>m</sup>
give me good thoughts for
counsel,
And <sup>n</sup> encourage me in cares and grief.
<sup>10</sup> Because of her I shall have glory
among multitudes,
And honor in the sight of elders, though
I be young.
<sup>11</sup> I shall be found of a quick conceit
when I give judgement,
And in the presence of <sup>o</sup> princes I shall
be admired.
<sup>12</sup> When I am silent, they shall wait for
me;
And when I open my lips, they shall give heed to me;
And if I continue speaking, they shall lay their hand upon their
mouth.
<sup>13</sup> Because of her I shall have
immortality,
And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.
<sup>14</sup> I shall govern peoples,
And nations shall be subjected to me.
<sup>15</sup> Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:

of old and the things to come. <sup>l</sup> Gr. conjectures. <sup>m</sup> Or, hold counsel with me for good things, and...against cares and grief
<sup>n</sup> Or, exhort Or, advise <sup>o</sup> Or, mighty men

Among my<sup>p</sup> people I shall show myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.

<sup>16</sup> When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;
For converse with her has no bitterness,
And to live with her has no pain, but gladness and joy.

<sup>17</sup> When I considered these things in myself,
And took thought in my heart how that in kinship to wisdom is
immortality,

<sup>18</sup> And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labors of her hands is wealth
that fails not,

And in <sup>q</sup> assiduous communing with her
is understanding,
And great renown in having fellowship
with her words,

I went about seeking how to take her to
myself.

<sup>19</sup> Now I was <sup>r</sup> a child of parts, and a good soul fell to my lot;

<sup>20</sup> Nay rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.

<sup>21</sup> But perceiving that I could not otherwise <sup>s</sup> possess wisdom
except God gave her me

(Yes and to know <sup>t</sup> by whom the grace is given, this too came of
understanding),

I pleaded with the Lord and implored
him, and with my whole heart I said,

9

<sup>1</sup> O God of the fathers, and <sup>u</sup> Lord who
keep your mercy,

Who made all things <sup>v</sup> by your word;

<sup>2</sup> And by your wisdom you formedst
man,

That he should have dominion over the creatures that were made by
you,

<sup>3</sup> And rule the world in holiness and
righteousness,
And execute judgement in uprightness
of soul;

<sup>4</sup> Give me wisdom, her that sits by you
on your <sup>w</sup> throne;

And reject me not from among your <sup>x</sup>
servants:

<sup>5</sup> Because I am your bondman and the son of your handmaid,
A man weak and short-lived,
And of small power to understand judgement and laws.

<sup>6</sup> For even if a man be perfect among
the sons of men,
Yet if the wisdom that comes from you
be not with him, he shall be held in no account.

<sup>7</sup> You did choose me before my brethren to be king of your
people,
And to do judgement for your sons and daughters.

<sup>8</sup> You gave command to build a sanctuary in your holy
mountain,

And <sup>y</sup> an altar in the city of your <sup>z</sup>
habitation,

A copy of the holy tabernacle which you prepared beforehand
from the beginning.

<sup>9</sup> And with you is wisdom, which knows your works,
 And was present when you were
 making the world,
 And which understands what is pleasing
 in your eyes,
 And what is right <sup>a</sup> according to your
 commandments.

<sup>10</sup> Send her forth out of the holy
 heavens,
 And from the throne of your glory bid
 her come,
 That being present with me she may toil
with me,
 And that I may learn what is well-
 pleasing before you.

<sup>11</sup> For she knows all things and has understanding thereof,
 And in my doings she shall guide me in
ways of soberness,
 And she shall guard me in her glory.

<sup>12</sup> And so shall my works be
 acceptable,
 And I shall judge your people
 righteously,
 And I shall be worthy of my father's <sup>b</sup>
 throne.

<sup>13</sup> For what man shall know the counsel
 of God?
 Or who shall conceive what the Lord
 willeth?

<sup>14</sup> For the thoughts of mortals are <sup>c</sup>
 timorous,
 And our devices are prone to fail.

<sup>15</sup> For a corruptible body weighs down
 the soul,

And the earthy frame lies heavy on a mind that <sup>d</sup> is full of cares.

<sup>16</sup> And hardly do we <sup>e</sup> divine the things that are on earth,
 And the things that are close at hand we find with labor;

But the things that are in the heavens
 who ever yet traced out?

<sup>17</sup> And who ever gained knowledge of your counsel, except you <sup>f</sup>
 gave wisdom,
 And sent your holy spirit <sup>g</sup> from on
 high?

<sup>18</sup> And it was thus that the ways of them
 which are on earth were corrected,
 And men were taught the things that are pleasing to you;
 And through wisdom were they saved.

10

<sup>1 h</sup> Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world,
 that was created alone,
 And delivered him out of his own
 transgression,

<sup>2</sup> And gave him strength to get dominion over all things.

<sup>3</sup> But when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
 He perished himself in the rage
 wherewith he killed his brother.

<sup>4</sup> And when for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood,
 Wisdom again saved it,
 Guiding the righteous man's course by a poor piece of wood.

<sup>5</sup> Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded, <sup>i</sup> Wisdom knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless to
 God,
 And kept him strong when his heart
 yearned toward his child.
<sup>6</sup> While the ungodly were perishing, <sup>j</sup> wisdom delivered a righteous man,
 When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven on <sup>k</sup> Pentapolis.
<sup>7</sup> To whose wickedness a smoking
 waste still witnesseth,
 And plants bearing fair fruit that comes
 not to ripeness;
 Yes and <sup>l</sup> a disbelieving soul has a memorial there, a pillar of salt still standing.
<sup>8</sup> For having passed wisdom by,
 Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,
 But they also left behind them <sup>m</sup> for human life a monument of their folly;
 To the end that <sup>n</sup> where they <sup>o</sup> went astray they might fail even
 to be unseen:
<sup>9</sup> But wisdom delivered out of troubles
 those that waited on her.
<sup>10</sup> When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, <sup>p</sup> wisdom guided him in straight paths;

She showed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy
 things;
 She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his
 labor;
<sup>11</sup> When in their covetousness men
 dealt hardly with him,
 She stood by him and made him rich;
<sup>12</sup> She guarded him from enemies,
 And from those that lay in wait she kept
 him safe,
 And over his sore conflict she watched
 as judge,
 That he might know that godliness is more powerful than <sup>q</sup> all.
<sup>13</sup> When a righteous man was sold, <sup>r</sup> wisdom forsook him not,
 But <sup>s</sup> from sin she delivered him;
 She went down with him into a dungeon,
<sup>14</sup> And in bonds she left him not,
 Till she brought him the sceptre of a
 kingdom,
 And authority over those that dealt
 tyrannously with him;
 She showed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him,
 And gave him eternal glory.
<sup>15</sup> <sup>t</sup> Wisdom delivered a holy people and a blameless seed from a nation of oppressors.
<sup>16</sup> She entered into the soul of a servant
 of the Lord,
 And withstood terrible kings in wonders
 and signs.
<sup>17</sup> She rendered to holy men a reward of their toils;

She guided them along a marvelous
     way,
 And became to them a covering in the
     day-time,
 And a flame of stars through the night.
 18 She brought them over the Red sea,
 And led them through much water;
 19 But their enemies she drowned,
 And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.
 20 Therefore the righteous spoiled the
     ungodly;
 And they sang praise to your holy name, O Lord,
 And extolled with one accord your hand
     that fought for them:
 21 Because wisdom opened the mouth
     of the dumb,
 And made the tongues of babes to speak
     clearly.

11

1 She prospered their works in the hand
     of a holy prophet.
 2 They journeyed through a desert
     without inhabitant,
 And in trackless regions they pitched
     their tents.
 3 They withstood enemies, and <sup>u</sup>
     repelled foes.
 4 They thirsted, and they called upon
     you,
 And there was given them water out of <sup>v</sup>
     the <sup>w</sup> flinty rock,
 And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.
 5 For by what things their foes were
     punished,

By these they in their need were benefited.
 6 <sup>x</sup> When the enemy were troubled with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,
 7 To rebuke the decree for the slaying
     of babes,
 You gave them abundant water beyond
     all hope,
 8 Having shewn them by <sup>y</sup> the thirst which they had suffered how you did punish the
     adversaries.
 9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened,
 They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged
     with wrath:
 10 For these, as a father, admonishing
     them, you did prove;
 But those, as a stern king, condemning
     them, you did search out.
 11 Yes and whether they were far off
     from the righteous or near them, they were alike
     distressed;
 12 For a double grief took hold on them,
 And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.
 13 For when they heard that through their own punishments the others <sup>z</sup> had been benefited,
 They felt the presence of the Lord;
 14 For him who long before was <sup>a</sup> cast forth and exposed they left off mocking:

<sup>y</sup> Gr. the then thirst.    <sup>z</sup> Some authorities read were being.    <sup>a</sup> Some authorities read cast forth in hatred they.

In the last issue of what came to pass <sup>b</sup>
 they marveled,
 Having thirsted in another manner than
 the righteous.

<sup>15</sup> But in requital of the senseless imaginings of their
 unrighteousness,
 Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles
 and wretched vermin,
 You did send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for
 vengeance;

<sup>16</sup> That they might learn, that by what things a man sins, by these he is punished.

<sup>17</sup> For your all-powerful hand,
 That created the world out of formless
 matter,
 Lacked not means to send upon them a multitude of bears, or fierce
 lions,

<sup>18</sup> Or <sup>c</sup> new-created wild beasts, full of rage, of unknown kind,
 Either breathing out a blast of fiery
 breath,
 Or blowing forth from their nostrils
 noisome smoke,
 Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their
 eyes;

<sup>19</sup> Which had power not only to consume them by their <sup>d</sup>
 violence,
 But to destroy them even by the terror
 of their sight.

<sup>20</sup> Yes and without these might they have fallen by a single
 breath,

Being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of your
 power.

But by measure and number and weight
 you did order all things.

<sup>21</sup> For to be greatly strong is your at all
 times;
 And the might of your arm who shall withstand?

<sup>22</sup> Because the whole world before you is as <sup>e</sup> a grain <sup>f</sup> in a balance,
 And as a drop of dew that at morning
 comes down upon the earth.

<sup>23</sup> But you have mercy on all men,
 because you have power to do all things,

And you overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.

<sup>24</sup> For you love all things that are,
 And abhor none of the things which you did make;

For never would you have formed
 anything if you did hate it.

<sup>25</sup> And how would anything have endured, except you had willed it?

Or that which was not called by you,
how would it have been preserved?

<sup>26</sup> But you spare all things, because they are your,

O Sovereign Lord, you lover of men's <sup>g</sup>
 lives;

12

<sup>1</sup> For your incorruptible spirit is in all
 things.

<sup>e</sup> Gr. that which just turns.    <sup>f</sup> Gr. from.    <sup>g</sup> Or, souls

 little them that <sup>h</sup> fall from the right way,
 And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, do you admonish them,
 That escaping from their wickedness
 they may believe on you, O
 Lord.
<sup>3</sup> For verily the old inhabitants of your holy land,
<sup>4</sup> Hating them because they practised detestable works of enchantments and unholy
 rites
<sup>5</sup> (<sup>i</sup> Merciless slaughters of children,
 And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh
 and of blood),
<sup>6</sup> Confederates in an impious
 fellowship,
 And murderers of their own helpless
 babes,
 It was your counsel to destroy by the hands of our fathers;
<sup>7</sup> That the land which in your sight is most precious of all lands Might receive a worthy colony of God's <sup>j</sup> servants.
<sup>8</sup> Nevertheless even these you did spare
 as being men,
 And you sent <sup>k</sup> hornets as forerunners
 of your host,
 To cause them to perish by little and little;
<sup>9</sup> Not that you were unable to subdue
 the ungodly under the hand
 of the righteous in battle,

Or by terrible beasts or by one stern word to make away with them at once;
<sup>10</sup> But judging them by little and little you gave them a place of repentance,
 Not being ignorant that their nature by birth was evil, and their wickedness inborn,
 And that their manner of thought would
 in no wise ever be changed, <sup>11</sup> For they were a seed accursed from
 the beginning:
 Neither was it through fear of any that you did leave them then unpunished for their sins.
<sup>12</sup> For who shall say, What have you
 done?
 Or who shall withstand your
 judgement?
 And who shall accuse you for the perishing of nations which you did make?
 Or who shall come and stand before you as an avenger for unrighteous men?
<sup>13</sup> For neither is there any God beside
 you that careth for all,
 That you might show to him that you did not judge unrighteously:
<sup>14</sup> Neither shall king or prince be able to look you in the face to plead for those whom you have punished.
<sup>15</sup> But being righteous you rule all things righteously, Deeming it a thing alien from your
 power
 To condemn one that does not himself deserve to be punished.

<sup>16</sup> For your strength is the beginning of
righteousness,
And your sovereignty over all makes
you to forbear all.

<sup>17</sup> For when men believe not that you are perfect in power, you show your strength,

<sup>1</sup> And <sup>m</sup> in dealing with them that know
it you put their boldness to confusion.

<sup>18</sup> But you, being sovereign over your strength, judge in gentleness,
And with great forbearance do you
govern us;
For the power is your whenever you have the will.

<sup>19</sup> But you did teach your people by such works as these,
How that the righteous must be a lover
of men;
And you did make your sons to be of
good hope,
Because you give repentance when men
have sinned.

<sup>20</sup> For if on them that were enemies of your <sup>n</sup> servants and due to
death
You did take vengeance with so great
heedfulness and indulgence, Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their
wickedness;

<sup>21</sup> With how great carefulness did you
judge your sons,
To whose fathers you gave oaths and covenants of good promises!

<sup>22</sup> While therefore you do chasten us,
you scourge our enemies ten thousand times more,

To the intent that we may ponder your goodness when we judge,
And when we are judged may look for
mercy.

<sup>23</sup> Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life
You did torment through their own
abominations.

<sup>24</sup> For verily they went astray very far <sup>o</sup>
in the ways of error,

Taking as gods those <sup>p</sup> animals which even among their enemies
were held in dishonor, Deceived like foolish babes.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore, as to unreasoning children, you did send your judgement to mock them.

<sup>26</sup> But they that would not be admonished <sup>q</sup> by a mocking correction as of children Shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.

<sup>27</sup> For through the sufferings whereat
they were indignant, Being punished in these creatures which
they supposed to be gods,
They saw, and recognized as the true
God him whom before they <sup>r</sup>
refused to know:

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon
them.

13

<sup>1</sup> For verily all men by nature <sup>s</sup> were but vain who had no perception
of God,

<sup>l</sup> The Greek text here is perhaps corrupt. <sup>m</sup> Or, in them <sup>n</sup> Or, children <sup>o</sup> Or, even beyond <sup>p</sup> Gr. living creatures: and so elsewhere in this book. <sup>q</sup> Or, by a correction, which was as children's play Gr. by child-play of correction. <sup>r</sup> Or, denied that they knew <sup>s</sup> Or, are

And from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know him that is,
 Neither by giving heed to the works did
 they recognize the artificer;
<sup>2</sup> But either fire, or wind, or swift air,
 Or <sup>t</sup> circling stars, or raging water, or <sup>u</sup>
 luminaries of heaven,
 They thought to be gods that rule the
 world.
<sup>3</sup> And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods,
 Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign
 Lord;
 For the first author of beauty created
 them:
<sup>4</sup> But if it was through astonishment at their power and <sup>v</sup> influence, Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;
<sup>5</sup> For from the <sup>w</sup> greatness of the beauty
<sup>x</sup> even of created things <sup>y</sup> In like proportion <sup>z</sup> does man form the image of their first maker.
<sup>6</sup> But yet for these <sup>a</sup> men there is but small blame,
 For they too perhaps do but go astray
 While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.
<sup>7</sup> For <sup>b</sup> living among his works they make diligent search,
 And they <sup>c</sup> yield themselves up to sight,
 because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

<sup>8</sup> But again even they are not to be excused.
<sup>9</sup> For if they had power to know so
 much,
 That they should be able to explore <sup>d</sup>
 the course of things,
 How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these
his works?
<sup>10</sup> But miserable <sup>e</sup> were they, and <sup>f</sup> in dead things <sup>g</sup> were their hopes,
 Who called them gods which are works
 of men's hands,
 Gold and silver, wrought with careful are, and likenesses of animals,
 Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.
<sup>11</sup> Yes and if some <sup>h</sup> woodcutter, having sawn down a <sup>i</sup> tree that is easily moved,
 Skilfully strippeth away all its bark,
 And fashioning it in comely form makes a vessel useful for the service of life;
<sup>12</sup> And burning the refuse of his handywork to dress his food,
 eats his fill;
<sup>13</sup> And taking the very refuse thereof
 which served to no use,
 A crooked piece of wood and full of knots,
 Carveth it with the diligence of his
 idleness,
 And shapeth it by the skill of his <sup>j</sup>
 indolence;

<sup>e</sup> Or, are <sup>f</sup> Or, among <sup>g</sup> Or, are <sup>h</sup> Gr. carpenter who is a woodcutter. <sup>i</sup> Gr. plant. The Greek word, slightly changed, would mean trunk <sup>j</sup> Or, leisure

<sup>k</sup> Then he gives it the semblance of the image of a man,
<sup>14</sup> Or makes it like some paltry animal, Smearing it with vermilion, and with <sup>l</sup>
 paint colouring it red,
 And smearing over every stain that is
 therein;
<sup>15</sup> And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,
 He sets it in a wall, making it fast with
 iron.
<sup>16</sup> While then he takes thought for it
 that it may not fall down,
 Knowing that it is unable to help itself;
 (For verily it is an image, and has need of help;)
<sup>17</sup> When he makes his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,
 He is not ashamed to speak to that
 which has no life;
<sup>18</sup> Yes for health he calls upon that which is weak,
 And for life he implores that which is
 dead,
 And for aid he supplicateth that which has least experience.
 And for a good journey that which can't so much as move a step,
<sup>19</sup> And for gaining and <sup>m</sup> getting and good success of his hands
 He asks ability of that which with its hands is most unable.

14

<sup>l</sup> Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging
 waves,

Calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carries him;
<sup>2</sup> For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,
 And an artificer, even wisdom, built it;
<sup>3</sup> And your providence, O Father,
 guideth it along,
 Because even in the sea you gave a
 way,
 And in the waves a sure path, <sup>4</sup> Shewing that you can save out of every danger,
 That so even without are a man may
 put to sea;
<sup>5</sup> And it is your will that the works of your wisdom should be not idle;
 Therefore also do men intrust their lives
 to a little piece of wood,,
 And passing through the surge <sup>n</sup> on a raft are brought safe to land.
<sup>6</sup> For <sup>o</sup> in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,
 The hope of the world, taking refuge on
 a raft,
 Left to <sup>p</sup> the race of men a seed of generations to come,
 Your hand guiding the helm.
<sup>7</sup> For blessed <sup>q</sup> has been wood through which comes righteousness:
<sup>8</sup> But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that
 made it;
 Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god:

<sup>k</sup> Or, And <sup>l</sup> Gr. rouge. <sup>m</sup> Or, handywork <sup>n</sup> Gr. by. <sup>o</sup> The Greek text here is perhaps corrupt. <sup>p</sup> Or, future time Gr. age.
<sup>q</sup> Or, is

<sup>9</sup> For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful
to God;

<sup>10</sup> For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore also <sup>r</sup> among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,

And stumbling blocks to the souls of
men,

And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

<sup>12</sup> For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,
And the invention of them the corruption of life:

<sup>13</sup> For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever;

<sup>14</sup> For by the vaingloriousness of men
they entered into the world,
And therefore was a speedy end devised
for them.

<sup>15</sup> For a father worn with untimely grief,
Making an image of the child quickly
taken away,
Now honored him as a god which was then a dead man,
And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.

<sup>16</sup> Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,

And by the commandments of princes
the graven images received
worship.

<sup>17</sup> And when men could not honor them
in presence because they lived far off,

Imagining the likeness from afar,
They made a visible image of the king
whom they honored,
That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

<sup>18</sup> But to a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,

Urged forward by the ambition of the
artificer:

<sup>19</sup> For he, wishing perhaps to please one
in authority,

Used his art to force the likeness
toward a greater beauty;

<sup>20</sup> And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handywork,

Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honored as a man.

<sup>21</sup> And this became <sup>s</sup> a hidden danger to
life,

Because men, in bondage either to
calamity or to tyranny, Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.

<sup>22</sup> Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;

But also, while they live <sup>t</sup> in <sup>u</sup> sore conflict through ignorance of
him.

That multitude of evils they call peace.

<sup>23</sup> For either slaughtering children in solemn rites, or celebrating secret mysteries,
Or holding frantic revels of strange
ordinances,
<sup>24</sup> No longer do they <sup>v</sup> guard either life or purity of marriage,
But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate
offspring.
<sup>25</sup> And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft
and deceit,
Corruption, faithlessness, tumult,
perjury,
<sup>26</sup> <sup>w</sup> turmoil,
Ingratitude for benefits received,
Defiling of souls, confusion of <sup>x</sup> sex, Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.
<sup>27</sup> For the worship of <sup>y</sup> those <sup>z</sup> nameless
idols
Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.
<sup>28</sup> For their worshippers either make merry to madness, or prophecy lies,
Or live unrighteously, or lightly
forswear themselves.
<sup>29</sup> For putting their trust in lifeless
idols,
When they have sworn a wicked oath,
they expect not to suffer
harm.
<sup>30</sup> But for both sins shall the just doom
pursue them,
Because they had evil thoughts of God
by giving heed to idols,

And swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.
<sup>31</sup> For it is not the power of them by whom men swear,
But it is <sup>a</sup> that Justice which has regard
to them that sin,
That visiteth always the transgression of
the unrighteous.

15

<sup>1</sup> But you, our God, are gracious and
true,
Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering
all things.
<sup>2</sup> For even if we sin, we are your,
knowing your dominion;
But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted your:
<sup>3</sup> For to be acquainted with you is <sup>b</sup> perfect righteousness,
And to know your dominion is the root
of immortality.
<sup>4</sup> For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,
Nor yet by painters' fruitless labor,
A form stained with varied colors;
<sup>5</sup> The sight whereof leads fools into <sup>c</sup> lust:
Their desire is for the breathless form
of a dead image.
<sup>6</sup> Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that
worship.
<sup>7</sup> For a potter, kneading soft earth, Laboriously mouldeth each several
vessel for our service:

<sup>c</sup> Some authorities read reproach.

Nay, out of the same clay does he fashion
 Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary
 sort,
 All in like manner;
 But what shall be the use of each vessel
 of either sort,
 The <sup>d</sup> craftsman himself is the judge.
<sup>8</sup> And also, laboring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,
 He who, having but a little before been made of earth,
 After a short space goes his way to the earth out of which he was taken,
 When he is required to render back the <sup>e</sup>
 soul which was lent him.
<sup>9</sup> Howbeit he has anxious care,
 Not because his powers must fail,
 Nor because his span of life is short;
 But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and <sup>f</sup>
 silversmiths,
 And he imitateth moulders in <sup>g</sup> brass,
 And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth
 counterfeits.
<sup>10</sup> His heart is ashes,
 And his hope of less value than earth,
 And his life of less honor than clay:
<sup>11</sup> Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him,
 And of him that inspired into him <sup>h</sup> an active <sup>i</sup> soul,
 And breathed into him a vital spirit.
<sup>12</sup> But <sup>j</sup> he accounted our very life to be a <sup>k</sup> plaything,

And our <sup>l</sup> lifetime a gainful <sup>m</sup> fair;
 For, says he, one must get gain whence
 one can, though it be by evil.
<sup>13</sup> For this man beyond all others knows that he sins,
 Out of earthy matter making brittle
 vessels and graven images.
<sup>14</sup> But most foolish <sup>n</sup> were they all, and <sup>o</sup> of feebler soul than a babe,
 The enemies of your people, who oppressed them;
<sup>15</sup> Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be
 gods;
 Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,
 Nor nostrils for drawing breath,
 Nor ears to hear,
 Nor fingers for handling,
 And their feet are helpless for walking.
<sup>16</sup> For a man made them,
 And one whose own spirit is borrowed
 moulded them;
 For no one has power, being a man, to mould a god like to himself, <sup>17</sup> But, being mortal, he makes a dead
 thing by the work of lawless
 hands;
 For he is better than the objects of his
 worship,
<sup>p</sup> Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but they never.
<sup>18</sup> Yes, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship, <sup>q</sup> For, being compared as to lack of sense, these are worse than all others;

 than the soul of a babe. <sup>p</sup> Most authorities read Of which, he indeed. <sup>q</sup> The Greek text here is perhaps corrupt.

<sup>19</sup> Neither, as seen beside other
creatures, are they beautiful,
so that one should desire
them,
But they have escaped both the praise
of God and his blessing.

16

<sup>1</sup> For this cause were these men
worthily punished through creatures like those which
they worship,
And tormented through a multitude of vermin.
<sup>2</sup> Instead of which punishment, you, bestowing benefits on your
people,
Preparedst quails for food,
Food of <sup>r</sup> rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;
<sup>3</sup> To the end that <sup>s</sup> your enemies,
desiring food,
Might for the hideousness of the creatures sent among them
Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, your people, having for a short space suffered lack,
Might even partake of food of <sup>t</sup> rare
taste.
<sup>4</sup> For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable lack
in their tyrannous dealing,
But that to these it should only be showed how their enemies
were tormented..
<sup>5</sup> For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon <sup>u</sup> your
people,

And they were perishing by the bites of
crooked serpents,
Your wrath continued not to the
uttermost;

<sup>6</sup> But for admonition were they troubled
for a short space,
Having a token of salvation,
To put them in remembrance of the commandment of your law:

<sup>7</sup> For he that turned toward it was not saved because of that which was [*]saw,

But because of you, the Saviour of all.

<sup>8</sup> Yes, and in this did you persuade our
enemies,
That you are he that delivers out of
every evil.

<sup>9</sup> For them verily the bites of locusts
and flies did kill,
And there was not found a healing for
their life,

Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

<sup>10</sup> But your sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons
overcame,

For your mercy passed by where they were, and healed them.

<sup>11</sup> For they were <sup>v</sup> bitten, to put them in remembrance of your oracles;

And were quickly saved, lest, falling
into deep forgetfulness,
They should become <sup>w</sup> unable to be <sup>x</sup>
roused by your beneficence:

<sup>12</sup> For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaister that cured
them,

But your word, O Lord, which heals all
things;

<sup>r</sup> Gr. strange. <sup>s</sup> Gr. those. <sup>t</sup> Gr. strange. <sup>u</sup> Gr. them. <sup>v</sup> Gr. pricked <sup>w</sup> Some authorities read bereft of help from your beneficence. <sup>x</sup> Gr. distracted, or, drawn away. The meaning is somewhat obscure.

<sup>13</sup> For you have authority over life and death,
 And you lead down to the gates of Hades, and lead up again.
<sup>14</sup> But though a man may kill by his <sup>y</sup> wickedness,
 Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turns not again,
 Neither gives release to the soul that Hades has received.
<sup>15</sup> But your hand it is not possible to escape;
<sup>16</sup> For ungodly men, <sup>z</sup> refusing to know you, were scourged in the strength of your arm,
 Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
 And utterly consumed with fire;
<sup>17</sup> For, what was most marvelous of all,
 In the water which quenches all things the fire wrought yet more mightily;
 For the world fights for the righteous.
<sup>18</sup> For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,
 That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,
 But that these themselves as they looked might <sup>a</sup> see that they were chased through the judgement of God:
<sup>19</sup> And at another time even in the midst of water it burns above the power of fire,
 That it may destroy the <sup>b</sup> fruits of an unrighteous land.
<sup>20</sup> Instead whereof you gave your people angels' food to eat,

And bread ready for their use did you provide for them from heaven without their toil,
Bread having the virtue of every pleasant savor,
 And agreeing to every taste;
<sup>21</sup> For <sup>c</sup> your <sup>d</sup> nature manifested your sweetness toward your children;
 While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,
 Tempered itself according to every man's choice.
<sup>22</sup> But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,
 That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,
 Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;
<sup>23</sup> And <sup>e</sup> that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished,
 Hath even forgotten its own power.
<sup>24</sup> For the creation, ministering to you its maker,
 Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
 And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in you, for beneficence.
<sup>25</sup> Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms,
 It ministered to your all-nourishing bounty,
 According to the desire of them that <sup>f</sup> made supplication;

That it is not the <sup>g</sup> growth of the earth's fruits that nourishes a man,
But that your word preserves them that trust you.

<sup>27</sup> For that which was not marred by
fire,
When it was simply warmed by a faint
sunbeam melted away;

<sup>28</sup> That it might be known that we must rise before the sun to give you thanks,
And must plead with you at the dawning of the light:

<sup>29</sup> For the hope of the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar
frost,
And shall flow away as water that has no use.

17

<sup>1</sup> For great are your judgements, and
hard to <sup>h</sup> interpret;
Therefore souls undisciplined went
astray.

<sup>2</sup> For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation
in their power,
They, themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

<sup>3</sup> For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,
They were <sup>i</sup> Sundered one from another
by a dark curtain of
forgetfulness,
Stricken with terrible awe, and sore
troubled by spectral forms.

<sup>4</sup> For neither did <sup>j</sup> the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,

But sounds <sup>k</sup> rushing down rang around
them,
And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

<sup>5</sup> And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,
Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

<sup>6</sup> But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire selfkindled, full of fear;
And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>l</sup> And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic are,
And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts
of understanding:

<sup>8</sup> For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,
These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

<sup>9</sup> For even if no troublous thing
affrighted them,
Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents,

<sup>10</sup> they perished <sup>m</sup> for very trembling, Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>n</sup> For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward
thing,

And, being pressed hard by conscience,
 always <sup>o</sup> forecasts the worst
lot:

<sup>12</sup> For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the help which reason offers;

<sup>13</sup> And from within the heart the expectation of them being less

Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that brings the torment.

<sup>14</sup> But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,
 And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,

<sup>15</sup> Now were haunted by monstrous
 apparitions,
 And now were paralysed by their soul's
 surrendering;
 For fear sudden and unlooked for <sup>p</sup>
 came upon them.

<sup>16</sup> So then every man, whoever it might be, sinking down <sup>q</sup> in his
 place,
 Was kept in ward shut up in that prison
 which was barred not with
 iron:

<sup>17</sup> For whether he were a husbandman,
 or a shepherd,
 Or a labourer whose toils were in the
 wilderness,
 He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,
 For with one chain of darkness were
 they all bound.

<sup>18</sup> Whether there were a whistling wind, Or a melodious noise of birds among
 the spreading branches,

Or a measured fall of water running violently,

<sup>19</sup> Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled
 down,

Or the swift course of animals bounding
 along unseen,

Or the voice of wild beasts harshly
 roaring,

Or an echo rebounding from <sup>r</sup> the
 hollows of the mountains,

All these things paralysed them with terror.

<sup>20</sup> For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,
 And was occupied with unhindered
 works;

<sup>21</sup> While over them alone was spread a heavy night,
 An image of the darkness that should afterward receive them;
 But yet heavier than darkness were they
 to themselves.

18

<sup>1</sup> But for your holy ones there was great
 light;
 And the Egyptians, hearing their voice
 but seeing not their form, Counted it a happy thing that they too
 had suffered,

<sup>2</sup> Yet for that they do not hurt them
now, though wronged by them before, they are thankful;
 And because they had been at variance
with them, they made supplication to them.

<sup>3</sup> Whereas you did provide for your people a burning pillar of
 fire,

<sup>o</sup> Most authorities read has added. <sup>p</sup> Some authorities read was poured upon them. <sup>q</sup> Gr. there. <sup>r</sup> Or, a hollow

To be a guide for their unknown journey,
 And withal a <sup>s</sup> kindly sun for their <sup>t</sup> proud exile.
<sup>4</sup> For well did <sup>u</sup> the Egyptians deserve to be deprived of light and imprisoned by darkness,
 They who had kept in close ward your
 sons,
 Through whom the incorruptible light of the law was to be given to <sup>v</sup> the race of men.
<sup>5</sup> After they had taken counsel to kill
 the babes of the holy ones,
 And when a single child had been cast forth and saved <sup>w</sup> to convict
them of their sin,
 You took away from them their
 multitude of children,
 And destroyed all their host together in a mighty flood.
<sup>6</sup> Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,
 That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:
<sup>7</sup> So by your people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the
 enemies;
<sup>8</sup> For as you did take vengeance on the
 adversaries,
<sup>x</sup> By the same means, calling us to yourself, you did glorify us.
<sup>9</sup> For holy children <sup>y</sup> of good men
 offered sacrifice in secret,

And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of
 the <sup>z</sup> divine law,
 That <sup>a</sup> they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;
 The fathers already leading the sacred
 songs of praise.
<sup>10</sup> But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies, <sup>b</sup> And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.
<sup>11</sup> And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,
 And commoner suffering the same as
 king,
<sup>12</sup> Yes, all the people together, under one form of death,
 Had with them corpses without
 number;
 For the living were not sufficient even
 to bury them,
 Since at a single <sup>c</sup> stroke their <sup>d</sup> nobler offspring was consumed.
<sup>13</sup> For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the
 enchantments,
 Upon the destruction of the firstborn
 they confessed the people to be God's son.
<sup>14</sup> For while peaceful silence
 enwrapped all things,
 And night in her own swiftness was in mid course, <sup>15</sup> Your all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of <sup>e</sup> the royal <sup>f</sup>
 throne,

partake...perils; already leading the fathers' songs of praise. <sup>b</sup> Some authorities read And was piteously borne abroad in lamentation
for children. <sup>c</sup> Gr. turn of the scale. <sup>d</sup> Or, more cherished <sup>e</sup> Or, your <sup>f</sup> Gr. thrones.

A stern warrior, into the midst of the <sup>g</sup>
doomed land, <sup>16</sup> Bearing as a sharp sword your unfeigned commandment ;
 And standing it filled all things with
death;
 And while it touched the heaven it trode
upon the earth.
<sup>17</sup> Then forthwith apparitions in dreams
terribly troubled them,
 And fears came upon them unlooked
for.
<sup>18</sup> And each, one thrown here half dead, another there,
 Made manifest wherefore he was dying:
<sup>19</sup> For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshew this,
 That they might not perish without knowing why they were
afflicted.
<sup>20</sup> But it <sup>h</sup> befell the righteous also to make trial of death,
 And a multitude were stricken in the
wilderness:
 Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.
<sup>21</sup> For a blameless man hasted to be their champion:
 Bringing the weapon of his own ministry,
Even prayer and the propitiation of
incense,
 He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity,
 Shewing that he was your servant.
<sup>22</sup> And he overcame the <sup>i</sup> anger,
 Not by strength of body, not by efficacy
of weapons;
 But <sup>j</sup> by word did he subdue <sup>k</sup> the minister of punishment,

By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the
fathers.
<sup>23</sup> For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon
another,
 Standing between he stopped the
advancing wrath,
 And <sup>l</sup> cut off the way to the living.
<sup>24</sup> For upon his long high-priestly robe
was the whole world,
 And the glories of the fathers were
upon the graving of the four rows of <sup>m</sup> precious stones,
 And your majesty was upon the diadem
of his head.
<sup>25</sup> To these the destroyer gave place,
 and these <sup>n</sup> the people
feared;
 For it was enough only to make trial of the wrath.

19

<sup>1</sup> But upon the ungodly there came to the end indignation without
mercy;
 For their future also God foreknew,
 v 2 How that, having changed their minds to let your people go,
 And having speeded them eagerly on their way,
 They would repent themselves and
pursue them.
 v 3 For while they were yet in the midst
of their mourning,
 And making lamentation at the graves
of the dead,
 They drew upon themselves another
counsel of folly,

<sup>m</sup> Gr. stone.    <sup>n</sup> Some authorities read he feared.

And pursued as fugitives those whom with intreaties they had cast
out.

<sup>4</sup> For <sup>o</sup> the doom which they deserved
was drawing them <sup>p</sup> to this
end,

And it made them forget the things that
had befallen them,

That they might fill up the punishment
which was yet lacking to their torments,

<sup>5</sup> And that your people might <sup>q</sup> journey
on by a marvelous road,
But they themselves might find a strange death.

<sup>6</sup> For the whole creation, each part in its several kind, was fashioned again anew,

Ministering to your several
commandments,

That your <sup>r</sup> servants might be guarded
free from hurt.

<sup>7</sup> Then was [*]saw the cloud that shadowed the camp,
And dry land rising up out of what
before was water,

Out of the Red sea an unhindered
highway,
And a grassy plain out of the violent
surge;

<sup>8</sup> <sup>s</sup> By which they passed over with all their hosts,

These that were covered with your
hand,

Having [*]saw strange marvels.

<sup>9</sup> For like horses they roamed at large,
And they skipped about like lambs,

Praising you, O Lord, who was their deliverer.

<sup>10</sup> For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time
of their sojourning,

How that instead of <sup>t</sup> bearing <sup>u</sup> cattle the land brought forth <sup>v</sup> lice,

And instead of <sup>w</sup> fish the river cast up a multitude of frogs.

<sup>11</sup> But afterwards they saw also a new <sup>x</sup>
race of birds,

When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;

<sup>12</sup> For, to solace them, there came up for them quails from the sea.

<sup>13</sup> And upon the sinners came the punishments

Not without the tokens that were given <sup>y</sup> beforehand by the force of the thunders;

For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,

For <sup>z</sup> grievous indeed was the hatred
which they practised toward guests.

<sup>14</sup> <sup>a</sup> For whereas the men of Sodom
received not <sup>b</sup> the strangers
when they came among
them;

<sup>c</sup> The Egyptians made slaves of guests
who were their benefactors.

<sup>15</sup> And not only so, but God shall <sup>d</sup> visit <sup>e</sup> the men of Sodom
after another sort,

Since they received as enemies them
that were aliens;

generation. <sup>y</sup> Some authorities omit beforehand. <sup>z</sup> Or, yet more grievous was <sup>a</sup> The Greek text of this and the following verse is perhaps corrupt. <sup>b</sup> Gr. them who knew them not. <sup>c</sup> Gr. These. <sup>d</sup> Or, visit them...sort: since the men of Sodom received...aliens

16 Whereas these first welcomed with feastings,
 And then afflicted with dreadful toils,
 Them that had already shared with them
 in the same rights.

17 And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight (Even as were those others at the righteous man's doors),
 When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,
 They sought every one the passage
 through his own door.

18 For as the notes of a lute vary the character of the rhythm, Even so did the elements, changing their order one with another, Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;
 As may clearly be <sup>f</sup> divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

19 For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the
 waters,
 And creatures that swim trode now
 upon the earth:

20 Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water,
 And water forgot its quenching nature:

21 Contrariwise, flames wasted not the flesh of perishable creatures
 that walked among them;

Neither <sup>g</sup> melted they the <sup>h</sup> ice-like grains of ambrosial food,
 that were of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, you did magnify your people,
 And you did glorify them and not lightly regard them;
 Standing by their side in every time and
 place.

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

OR

ECCLESIASTICUS

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered to us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skillful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. You<sup>23</sup> are entreated therefore to read with favor and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirties year of Energetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found <sup>a</sup> a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners beforehand, so as to live according to the law.

And is with him forever.

<sup>2</sup> The sand of the seas, and the drops of
rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall
number?

<sup>3</sup> The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

<sup>4</sup> Wisdom has been created before all
things,

<sup>a</sup> Or, a like work The word is of very doubtful meaning.

And the understanding of prudence
 from everlasting. <sup>5 b</sup> <sup>6</sup> To whom has the root of wisdom been revealed?
 And who has known her shrewd
 counsels? <sup>7 c</sup> <sup>8</sup> There is one wise, greatly to be
 feared,
 The Lord sitting upon his throne:
<sup>9</sup> He created her,
 And saw, and numbered her,
 And poured her out upon all his works.
<sup>10</sup> She is with all flesh according to his
 gift;
 And he gave her freely to them that love him.
<sup>11</sup> The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
 And gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.
<sup>12</sup> The fear of the Lord shall delight the
 heart,
 And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.
<sup>13</sup> Whoso fears the Lord, it shall go well
 with him at the last,
 And in the day of his death he shall be
 blessed.
<sup>14</sup> To fear the Lord is the beginning of
 wisdom;
 And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.
<sup>15</sup> With men she <sup>d</sup> laid an eternal foundation;
 And with their seed shall she be had in trust.
<sup>16</sup> To fear the Lord is the fulness of
 wisdom;
 And she satiateth men with her fruits.

<sup>17</sup> She shall fill all her house with desirable things,
 And her garners with her produce.
<sup>18</sup> The fear of the Lord is the crown of
 wisdom,
 Making peace and <sup>e</sup> perfect health to flourish. <sup>f</sup> <sup>19</sup> He both saw and numbered her;
 He rained down skill and knowledge of
 understanding,
 And exalted the honor of them that hold
 her fast.
<sup>20</sup> To fear the Lord is the root of
 wisdom;
 And her branches are length of days. <sup>21</sup>
<sup>g</sup>
<sup>22</sup> Unjust wrath can never be justified;
 For the sway of his wrath is his
 downfall.
<sup>23</sup> A man that is longsuffering will <sup>h</sup>
 bear <sup>i</sup> for a season,
 And afterward gladness shall spring up
 to him;
<sup>24</sup> He will hide his words <sup>j</sup> for a season,
 And the lips of many shall tell forth his
 understanding.
<sup>25</sup> A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
 But godliness is an abomination to a
 sinner.
<sup>26</sup> If you desire wisdom, keep the
 commandments,
 And the Lord shall give her to you freely:
<sup>27</sup> For the fear of the Lord is wisdom
 and instruction;
 And in faith and meekness is his good
 pleasure.

28 Disobey not the fear of the Lord <sup>k</sup>;
 And come not to him with a double
 heart.
 29 Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of
 men;
 And take good heed to your lips.
 30 Exalt not yourself, lest you fall,
 And bring dishonor upon your soul;
 And so the Lord shall reveal your secrets,
 And shall cast you down in the midst of
 the congregation;
 Because you came not to the fear of the
 Lord,
 And your heart was full of deceit.

2

1 My son, if you come to serve the
 Lord,
 Prepare your soul for temptation.
 2 Set your heart aright, and constantly
 endure,
 And make not haste in time of calamity.
 3 Cleave to him, and depart not,
 That you may be increased at your latter
 end.
 4 Accept whatever is brought upon you,
 And be longsuffering <sup>1</sup> when you
 passest into humiliation.
 5 For gold is tried in the fire,
 And acceptable men in the furnace of humiliation.
 6 Put your trust in him, and he will help
 you:
 Order your ways aright, and set your
 hope on him.
 7 YouⓂ that fear the Lord, wait for his
 mercy;
 And turn not aside, lest youⓂ fall.

8 YouⓂ that fear the Lord, put your trust in him;
 And your reward shall not fail.
 9 YouⓂ that fear the Lord, hope for
 good things,
 And for eternal gladness and mercy.
 10 Look at the generations of old, and
 see:
 Who did ever put his trust in the Lord,
 and was ashamed?
 Or who did abide in his fear, and was forsaken?
 Or who did call upon him, and he despised him?
 11 For the Lord is full of compassion
 and mercy;
 And he forgives sins, and saves in time
 of affliction.
 12 Woe to fearful hearts, and to faint
 hands,
 And to the sinner that goes two ways!
 13 Woe to the faint heart! for it believes
 not;
 Therefore shall it not be defended.
 14 Woe to you that have lost your patience!
 And what will youⓂ do when the Lord
 shall visit you?
 15 They that fear the Lord will not
 disobey his words;
 And they that love him will keep his
 ways.
 16 They that fear the Lord will seek his good pleasure;
 And they that love him shall be filled with the law.
 17 They that fear the Lord will prepare
 their hearts,
 And will humble their souls in his sight,
 18 saying,

<sup>k</sup> The remainder of this line is omitted by the best authorities. <sup>1</sup> Gr. in the changes of your humiliation.

We will fall into the hands of the Lord,
 And not into the hands of men:
 For as his majesty is,
 So also is his mercy.

3

- <sup>1</sup> Hear me your father, O my children,
 And do thereafter, that you<sup>m</sup> may be saved.
- <sup>2</sup> For the Lord has given the father glory as touching the
 children,
 And has confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.
- <sup>3</sup> He that honors his father shall make atonement for sins:
- <sup>4</sup> And he that gives glory to his mother
 is as one that lays up
 treasure.
- <sup>5</sup> Whoso honors his father shall have
 joy of his children;
 And in the day of his prayer he shall be
 heard.
- <sup>6</sup> He that gives glory to his father shall have length of days;
 And he that hearkens to the Lord shall
 bring rest to his mother,
- <sup>7</sup> <sup>m</sup> And will do service under his parents, as to masters.
- <sup>8</sup> In deed and word honor your father,
 That a blessing may come upon you
 from him.
- <sup>9</sup> For the blessing of the father establishes the houses of
 children;
 But the curse of the mother roots out
 the foundations.
- <sup>10</sup> Glorify not yourself in the dishonor
 of your father;

For your father's dishonor is no glory to
 you..

- <sup>11</sup> For the glory of a man is from the honor of his father;
 And a mother in dishonor is a reproach
 to her children.
- <sup>12</sup> My son, help your father in his old
 age;
 And grieve him not as long as he lives.
- <sup>13</sup> And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;
 And dishonor him not while you are in your full strength.
- <sup>14</sup> For the relieving of your father shall not be forgotten:
 And instead of sins it shall be added to build you up.
- <sup>15</sup> In the day of your affliction it shall remember you;
 As fair weather upon ice,
 So shall your sins also melt away.
- <sup>16</sup> He that forsakes his father is as a blasphemer;
 And he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.
- <sup>17</sup> My son, go on with your business in
 meekness;
 So shall you be beloved of an acceptable man.
- <sup>18</sup> The greater you are, humble yourself
 the more,
 And you shall find favor before the Lord. <sup>19</sup> <sup>n</sup>
- <sup>20</sup> For great is the potency of the Lord,
 And he is glorified of them that are lowly.
- <sup>21</sup> Seek not things that are too hard for
 you,
 And search not out things that are above
 your strength.

22 The things that have been commanded you, think thereupon;
 For you have no need of the things that are secret.
 23 Be not over busy in your superfluous
     works:
 For more things are showed to you than men can understand.
 24 For the conceit of many has led them
     astray;
 And evil surmising has caused their judgement to slip. <sup>25</sup> <sup>o</sup> 26 A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last;
 And he that loves danger shall perish
     therein.
 27 A stubborn heart shall be laden with
     troubles;
 And the sinner shall heap sin upon <sup>p</sup> sin.
 28 The calamity of the proud is no
     healing;
 For a plant of wickedness has taken root
     in him.
 29 The heart of the prudent will understand a parable;
 And the ear of a listener is the desire of a wise man.
 30 Water will quench a flaming fire;
 And almsgiving will make atonement
     for sins.
 31 He that requites good turns is mindful of that which comes afterward;
 And in the time of his falling he shall find a support.

4

<sup>1</sup> My son, deprive not the poor of his
     living,

And make not the needy eyes to wait
     long.
<sup>2</sup> Make not a hungry soul sorrowful;
 Neither provoke a man in his distress.
<sup>3</sup> To a heart that is provoked add not more trouble;
 And defer not to give to him that is in need.
<sup>4</sup> Reject not a suppliant in his affliction;
 And turn not away your face from a poor man.
<sup>5</sup> Turn not away your eye from one that asks of you,
 And give none occasion to a man to curse you:
<sup>6</sup> For if he curse you in the bitterness of
     his soul,
 He that made him will hear his
     supplication.
<sup>7</sup> Get yourself the love of the congregation;
 And to a great man bow your head.
<sup>8</sup> Incline your ear to a poor man,
 And answer him with peaceful words in
     meekness.
<sup>9</sup> Deliver him that is wronged from the hand of him that wrongeth
     him;
 And be not faint-hearted in giving
     judgement.
<sup>10</sup> Be as a father to the fatherless,
 And instead of a husband to their
     mother:
 So shall you be as a son of the Most
     High,
 And he shall love you more than your mother does.
<sup>11</sup> Wisdom exalts her sons,
 And takes hold of them that seek her.
<sup>12</sup> He that loves her loves life;

<sup>o</sup> Most authorities omit verse 25, and transpose the lines in verse 26. <sup>p</sup> Gr. sins.

And they that seek to her early shall be filled with gladness.

<sup>13</sup> He that holds her fast shall inherit
glory;

And where <sup>q</sup> he enters, the Lord will bless.

<sup>14</sup> They that do her service shall minister to the Holy One;
And them that love her the Lord does
love.

<sup>15</sup> He that gives ear to her shall judge
the nations;
And he that gives heed to her shall dwell securely.

<sup>16</sup> If he trust her, he shall inherit her;
And his generations shall have her in possession.

<sup>17</sup> For at the first she will walk with him
in crooked ways,
And will bring fear and dread upon
him,
And torment him with her discipline,
Until she may trust his soul, and try him
by her judgements:

<sup>18</sup> Then will she return again the straight way to him,
And will gladden him, and reveal to him her secrets.

<sup>19</sup> If he go astray, she will forsake him,
And give him over <sup>r</sup> to his fall.

<sup>20</sup> Observe the opportunity, and beware
of <sup>s</sup> evil;
And be not ashamed concerning your
soul.

<sup>21</sup> For there is a shame that brings sin;
And there is a shame that is glory and
grace.

<sup>22</sup> Accept not the person of any against
your soul;

And <sup>t</sup> reverence no man to your falling.

<sup>23</sup> Refrain not speech, <sup>u</sup> when it tendeth to safety;

<sup>v</sup> And hide not your wisdom for the sake of fair-seeming.

<sup>24</sup> For by speech wisdom shall be known;
And instruction by the word of the
tongue.

<sup>25</sup> Speak not against the truth;
And be abashed for your ignorance.

<sup>26</sup> Be not ashamed to make confession
of your sins;
And force not the current of the river.

<sup>27</sup> Lay not yourself down for a fool to tread upon;
And accept not the person of one that is
mighty.

<sup>28</sup> Strive for the truth to death, and the Lord God shall fight for you.

<sup>29</sup> Be not <sup>w</sup> hasty in your tongue,
And in your deeds slack and remiss.

<sup>30</sup> Be not as a lion in your house,
Nor fanciful among your servants.

<sup>31</sup> Let not your hand be stretched out to receive, and <sup>x</sup> closed when you should repay.

5

<sup>1</sup> Set not your heart upon your goods;
And say not, They are sufficient for me.

<sup>2</sup> Follow not your own mind and your
strength,
To walk in the desires of your heart;

<sup>3</sup> And say not, Who shall have dominion over me?
For the Lord will surely take vengeance
on you.

<sup>4</sup> Say not, I sinned, and what happened
to me?
For the Lord is longsuffering. <sup>y</sup> <sup>5</sup> Concerning atonement, be not without fear,
To add sin upon sins:
<sup>6</sup> And say not, His compassion is great;
He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins:
For mercy and wrath are with him,
And his indignation will rest upon sinners.
<sup>7</sup> Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord;
And put not off from day to day:
For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord
come forth; <sup>z</sup>
And you shall perish in the time of
vengeance.
<sup>8</sup> Set not your heart upon unrighteous
gains:
For you shall profit nothing in the day
of calamity.
<sup>9</sup> Winnow not with every wind,
And walk not in every path:
Thus does the sinner that has a double
tongue.
<sup>10</sup> Be steadfast in your understanding;
And let your word be one.
<sup>11</sup> Be swift to hear; <sup>a</sup>
And with patience make your answer.
<sup>12</sup> If you have understanding, answer
your neighbor;
And if not, let your hand be upon your
mouth.
<sup>13</sup> Glory and dishonor is in talk:
And the tongue of a man is his fall.
<sup>14</sup> Be not called a whisperer;
And lie not in wait with your tongue:

For upon the thief there is shame,
And an evil condemnation upon him
that has a double tongue.
<sup>15</sup> In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant;

6

<sup>1</sup> And instead of a friend become not an
enemy;
For an evil name shall inherit shame
and reproach:
Even so shall the sinner that has a double tongue.
<sup>2</sup> Exalt not yourself in the counsel of
your soul;
That your soul be not torn in pieces as a bull:
<sup>3</sup> You shall eat up your leaves, and destroy your fruits,
And leave yourself as a dry tree.
<sup>4</sup> A wicked soul shall destroy him that has gotten it,
And shall make him <sup>b</sup> a laughing stock
to his enemies.
<sup>5</sup> <sup>c</sup> Sweet words will multiply <sup>d</sup> a man's
friends;
And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.
<sup>6</sup> Let those that are at peace with you be
many;
But your counselors one of a thousand.
<sup>7</sup> If you would get you a friend, get him
<sup>e</sup> by proving,
And be not in haste to trust him.

own occasion;

 For as he is, so is his neighbor also.
<sup>18</sup> My son, gather instruction from your youth up:
 And even to hoar hairs you shall find
 wisdom.
<sup>19</sup> Come to her as one that plows and sows,
 And wait for her good fruits;
 For your toil shall be little in the tillage
 of her,
 And you shall eat of her fruits right
 soon.

<sup>20</sup> How exceeding harsh is she to the unlearned!
 And he that is without understanding
 will not abide in her.
<sup>21</sup> As a mighty stone of trial shall she rest upon him;
 And he will not delay to cast her from
 him.
<sup>22</sup> For wisdom is according to her name; and she is not manifest to many.
<sup>23</sup> Give ear, my son, and accept my
 judgement,
 And refuse not my counsel,
<sup>24</sup> And bring your feet into her fetters,
 And your neck into her chain.
<sup>25</sup> Put your shoulder under her, and bear
 her,
 And be not grieved with her bonds.
<sup>26</sup> Come to her with all your soul,
 And keep her ways with your whole
 power.
<sup>27</sup> Search, and seek, and she shall be made known to you;
 And when you have got hold of her, let her not go.
<sup>28</sup> For at the last you shall find her rest;
 And <sup>h</sup> she shall be turned for you into
 gladness..
<sup>29</sup> And her fetters shall be to you for a covering of strength,
 And her chains for a robe of glory.
<sup>30</sup> For there is a golden ornament upon
 her,
 And her bands are <sup>i</sup> a riband of blue.
<sup>31</sup> You shall put her on as a robe of
 glory,
 And shall array you with her as a crown of rejoicing.

<sup>32</sup> My son, if you will, you shall be instructed;
And if you will yield your soul, you
shall be <sup>j</sup> prudent.
<sup>33</sup> If you love to hear, you shall receive;
And if you incline your ear, you shall be wise.
<sup>34</sup> Stand you in the multitude of the elders;
And whoso is wise, cleave you to him.
<sup>35</sup> Be willing to listen to every godly discourse;
And let not the proverbs of understanding escape you.
<sup>36</sup> If you see a man of understanding,
get you betimes to him,
And let your foot wear out the steps of his doors.
<sup>37</sup> Let your mind dwell upon the ordinances of the Lord,
And meditate continually in his
commandments:
He shall establish your heart,
And your desire of wisdom shall be given to you.

<sup>1</sup> Do no evil, so shall no evil overtake
you.
<sup>2</sup> Depart from wrong, and it shall turn
aside from you.
<sup>3</sup> My son, sow not upon the furrows of
unrighteousness,
And you shall not reap them sevenfold.
<sup>4</sup> Seek not of the Lord preeminence,
Neither of the king the seat of honor.
<sup>5</sup> Justify not yourself in the presence of
the Lord;
And display not your wisdom before
the king.

<sup>6</sup> Seek not to be a judge,
Lest you be not able to take away
iniquities;
Lest haply you fear the person of a
mighty man,
And lay a stumbling block in the way of your uprightness.
<sup>7</sup> Sin not against the multitude of the
city,
And cast not yourself down in the crowd.
<sup>8</sup> Bind not up sin twice;
For in one sin you shall not be
unpunished.
<sup>9</sup> Say not, He will look upon the multitude of my gifts,
And when I offer to the Most High
God, he will accept <sup>k</sup> it.
<sup>10</sup> Be not faint-hearted in your prayer;
And neglect not to give alms.
<sup>11</sup> Laugh not a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul;
For there is one who humbles and exalts.
<sup>12</sup> <sup>l</sup> Devise not a lie against your
brother;
Neither do the like to a friend.
<sup>13</sup> Love not to make any manner of lie;
For the custom thereof is not for good.
<sup>14</sup> Prate not in the multitude of elders;
And repeat not your words in your
prayer
<sup>15</sup> Hate not laborious work;
Neither husbandry, which the Most High has <sup>m</sup> ordained.
<sup>16</sup> Number not yourself among the multitude of sinners:
Remember that wrath will not wait.

For the punishment of the ungodly man is fire and the worm.

<sup>18</sup> Change not a friend for a thing
indifferent;
Neither a true brother for the gold of Ophir.

<sup>19</sup> Forgo not a wise and good wife;
For her grace is above gold.

<sup>20</sup> Entreat not evil a servant that works
truly,

Nor a hireling that gives you his <sup>n</sup>

<sup>21</sup> Let your soul love a wise servant;
Defraud him not of liberty.

<sup>22</sup> Hast you cattle? have an eye to them;
And if they are profitable to you, let them stay by you.

<sup>23</sup> Hast you children? correct them,
And bow down their neck from their
youth.

<sup>24</sup> Hast you daughters? give heed to their body,
And make not your face cheerful
toward them.

<sup>25</sup> Give your daughter in marriage, and you shall have accomplished
a great matter:
And give her to a man of
understanding.

<sup>26</sup> Hast you a wife after your mind? cast
her not out:

<sup>o</sup> But trust not yourself to one that is <sup>p</sup> hateful.

<sup>27</sup> Give glory to your father with your
whole heart;
And forget not the pangs of your
mother.

<sup>28</sup> Remember that of them you were
born:

And what will you recompense them
for the things that they have done for you?

<sup>29</sup> Fear the Lord with all your soul;
And reverence his priests. <sup>30</sup> With all your strength love him that made you;

And forsake not his ministers.

<sup>31</sup> Fear the Lord, and glorify the priest;
And give him his portion, even as it is commanded you;

The first fruits, and the trespass offering, and the gift of the shoulders,

And the sacrifice of sanctification, and
the first fruits of holy things.

<sup>32</sup> Also to the poor man stretch out your
hand,

That your blessing may be perfected.

<sup>33</sup> A gift has grace in the sight of every man living;

And for a dead man keep not back
grace.

<sup>34</sup> Be not lacking to them that weep;
And mourn with them that mourn.

<sup>35</sup> Be not slow to visit a sick man;
For by such things you shall gain love.

<sup>36</sup> In all your <sup>q</sup> matters remember your last end,

And you shall never do amiss.

8

<sup>1</sup> Contend not with a mighty man,
Lest haply you fall into his hands.

<sup>2</sup> Strive not with a rich man, lest haply
he overweigh you:

For gold has destroyed many,
And turned aside the hearts of kings.

<sup>3</sup> Contend not with a man that is full of
tongue,

<sup>n</sup> Or, soul. <sup>o</sup> Many authorities omit this line <sup>p</sup> Or, hated <sup>q</sup> Or, words

And heap not wood upon his fire.
<sup>4</sup> Jest not with a rude man,
 Lest your ancestors be dishonored.
<sup>5</sup> Reproach not a man when he turns
     from sin:
 Remember that we are all worthy of punishment.
<sup>6</sup> Dishonour not a man in his old age;
 For some of us also are waxing old.
<sup>7</sup> Rejoice not over one that is dead:
 Remember that we die all.
<sup>8</sup> Neglect not the discourse of the wise,
 And be conversant with their proverbs;
 For of them you shall learn instruction,
 And how to minister to great men.
<sup>9</sup> Miss not the discourse of the aged;
 For they also learned of their fathers:
 Because from them you shall learn
     understanding,
 And to give answer in time of need.
<sup>10</sup> Kindle not the coals of a sinner, Lest you be burned with the <sup>r</sup> flame of his fire.
<sup>11</sup> Rise not up from the presence of an insolent man,
 Lest he lie in wait as an ambush for
     your mouth.
<sup>12</sup> Lend not to a man that is mightier
     than yourself;
 And if you lend, be as one that has lost.
<sup>13</sup> Be not surety above your power:
 And if you be surety, take thought as one that will have to pay.
<sup>14</sup> Go not to law with a judge;
 For according to his honor will they give judgement for him.
<sup>15</sup> Go not in the way with a rash man,
 Lest he be aggrieved with you;
 For he will do according to his own
     will,

<sup>r</sup> Gr. fire of his flame.   <sup>s</sup> Or, it

And you shall perish with his folly.
<sup>16</sup> Fight not with a wrathful man,
 And travel not with him through the desert:
 For blood is as nothing in his sight;
 And where there is no help, he will overthrow you.
<sup>17</sup> Take not counsel with a fool;
 For he will not be able to conceal the
     matter.
<sup>18</sup> Do no secret thing before a stranger;
 For you know not what <sup>s</sup> he will bring forth.
<sup>19</sup> Open not your heart to every man;
 And let him not return you a favor.

9

<sup>1</sup> Be not jealous over the wife of your
     bosom,
 And teach her not an evil lesson against
     yourself.
<sup>2</sup> Give not your soul to a woman,
 That she should set her foot upon your
     strength.
<sup>3</sup> Go not to meet a woman that playeth
     the harlot,
 Lest haply you fall into her snares.
<sup>4</sup> Use not the company of a woman that is a singer,
 Lest haply you be caught by her attempts.
<sup>5</sup> Gaze not on a maid, lest haply you be trapped in her penalties.
<sup>6</sup> Give not your soul to harlots,
 That you lose not your inheritance.
<sup>7</sup> Look not round about you in the streets of the city, Neither wander you in the solitary
     places thereof.

<sup>8</sup> Turn away your eye from a comely woman,
 And gaze not on another's beauty:
 By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray;
 And herewith love is kindled as a fire.

<sup>9</sup> Sit not at all with a woman that has a husband; <sup>t</sup>
 And revel not with her at the wine;
 Lest haply your soul turn aside to her,
 And with your spirit you slide into
 destruction.

<sup>10</sup> Forsake not an old friend;
 For the new is not comparable to him:
As new wine, so is a new friend;
 If it become old, you shall drink it with
 gladness.

<sup>11</sup> Envy not the glory of a sinner;
 For you know not what shall be his overthrow.

<sup>12</sup> Delight not in the delights of the
 ungodly:
 Remember they shall not go unpunished
 to <sup>u</sup> the grave.

<sup>13</sup> Keep you far from the man that has <sup>v</sup> power to kill,
 And you shall have no suspicion of the fear of death:
 And if you come to him, commit no
 fault,
 Lest he take away your life:
 Know surely that you go about in the midst of snares,
 And walk upon the battlements of a
 city.

<sup>14</sup> As well as you can, guess at your
 neighbors;
 And take counsel with the wise.

<sup>15</sup> Let your converse be with men of
 understanding;

And let all your discourse be in the law of the Most High.

<sup>16</sup> Let just men be the companions of your board;
 And let your glorying be in the fear of
 the Lord.

<sup>17</sup> For the hand of the artificers a work
 shall be commended:
 And he that rules the people shall be counted wise for his speech.

<sup>18</sup> A man full of tongue is dangerous in his city;
 And he that is headlong in his speech
 shall be hated.

10

<sup>1</sup> A wise judge will instruct his people;
 And the government of a man of understanding shall be well ordered.

<sup>2</sup> As is the judge of his people, so are his ministers;
 And as is the ruler of the city, such are
 all they that dwell therein.

<sup>3</sup> An uninstructed king will destroy his
 people;
 And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.

<sup>4</sup> In the hand of the Lord is the authority
 of the earth;
 And in due time he will raise up over it
 one that is profitable.

<sup>5</sup> In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;
 And upon the person of the scribe shall
 he lay his honor.

<sup>6</sup> Be not angry with your neighbor for every wrong;
 And do nothing by works of violence.

<sup>7</sup> Pride is hateful before the Lord and
before men;
 And in the judgement of both will unrighteousness err.
<sup>8</sup> Sovereignty is transferred from nation
 to nation,
 Because of iniquities, and deeds of violence, and greed of
 money.
<sup>9</sup> <sup>w</sup> Why is earth and ashes proud? <sup>x</sup> Because in his life he has cast away his bowels.
<sup>10</sup> It is a long disease; the physician
 mocketh:
 And he is a king today, and tomorrow
 he shall die.
<sup>11</sup> For when a man is dead,
 He shall inherit creeping things, and beasts, and worms.
<sup>12</sup> It is the beginning of pride when a man departs from the Lord;
 And his heart is departed from him that made him.
<sup>13</sup> For the beginning of pride is sin;
 And he that keeps it will pour forth
 abomination.
 For this cause the Lord brought upon them strange calamities,
 And overthrew them utterly.
<sup>14</sup> The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers,
 And set the meek in their stead.
<sup>15</sup> The Lord plucked up the roots of
 nations,
 And planted the lowly in their stead.
<sup>16</sup> The Lord overthrew the lands of
 nations,
 And destroyed them to the foundations
 of the earth.

<sup>17</sup> He took some of them away, and destroyed them,
 And made their memorial to cease from
 the earth.
<sup>18</sup> Pride has not been created for men, Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.
<sup>19</sup> <sup>y</sup> What manner of seed has honor?
 the seed of man.
 What manner of seed has honor? they
 that fear the Lord.
 What manner of seed has no honor? the seed of man.
 What manner of seed has no honor?
 they that transgress the
 commandments.
<sup>20</sup> In the midst of brethren he that rules
 them has honor;
 And in the eyes of the Lord they that fear him. <sup>21</sup> <sup>z</sup> <sup>22</sup> The rich man, and the honorable, and
 the poor,
 Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.
<sup>23</sup> It is not right to dishonor a poor man
 that has understanding;
 And it is not fitting to glorify a man that is a sinner.
<sup>24</sup> The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified;
 And there is not one of them greater than he that fears the Lord.
<sup>25</sup> Free men shall minister to a wise
 servant;
 And a man that has knowledge will not murmur thereat.
<sup>26</sup> Be not over wise in doing your work;

And glorify not yourself in the time of your distress.

<sup>27</sup> <sup>a</sup> Better is he that labores, and abounds in all things,
Than he that glorifieth himself, and
lacketh bread.

<sup>28</sup> My son, glorify your soul in
meekness,
And give it honor according to the worthiness thereof.

<sup>29</sup> Who will justify him that sins against
his own soul?
And who will glorify him that
dishonors his own life?

<sup>30</sup> A poor man is glorified for his
knowledge;
And a rich man is glorified for his
riches.

<sup>31</sup> But he that is glorified in poverty,
how much more in riches?
And he that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

11

<sup>1</sup> The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up
his head,
And make him to sit in the midst of
great men.

<sup>2</sup> Commend not a man for his beauty;
And abhor not a man for his outward
appearance.

<sup>3</sup> The bee is little among such as fly;
And her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.

<sup>4</sup> Glory not in the putting on of raiment,
And exalt not yourself in the day of
honor;

For the works of the Lord are wonderful,
And his works are hidden among men.

<sup>5</sup> Many <sup>b</sup> kings have sat down upon the
ground;

And one that was never thought of has worn a diadem.

<sup>6</sup> Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced;
And men of renown have been delivered into other men's
hands.

<sup>7</sup> Blame not before you have examined:
Understand first, and then rebuke.

<sup>8</sup> Answer not before you have heard;
And interrupt not in the midst of speech.

<sup>9</sup> Strive not in a matter that concerns
you not;
And where sinners judge, sit not you
with them.

<sup>10</sup> My son, be not busy about many
matters:
For if you meddle much, you shall not
be unpunished;
And if you pursue, you shall not overtake;

And you shall not escape by fleeing.

<sup>11</sup> There is one that toileth, and labores,
and makes haste,
And is so much the more behind.

<sup>12</sup> There is one that is sluggish, and has
need of help,
Lacking in strength, and that abounds in
poverty;

And the eyes of the Lord looked upon
him for good,

And he set him up from his low estate,

<sup>13</sup> And lifted up his head;
And many marveled at him.

<sup>14</sup> Good things and evil, life and death,
Poverty and riches, are from the Lord.

<sup>17</sup> The gift of the Lord remains with the godly,
And his good pleasure shall prosper for
ever.

<sup>18</sup> There is that waxes rich by his
wariness and pinching,
And this is the portion of his reward:

<sup>19</sup> When he says, I have found rest,
And now will I eat of my goods;
Yet he knows not what time shall pass,
And he shall leave them to others, and die.

<sup>20</sup> Be stedfast in your covenant, and be conversant therein,
And wax old in your work.

<sup>21</sup> Marvel not at the works of a sinner;
But trust the Lord, and abide in your
labor:

For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord swiftly on the sudden
to make a poor man rich.

<sup>22</sup> The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly;
And in an hour that comes swiftly he makes his blessing to
flourish.

<sup>23</sup> Say not, What use is there of me?
And what from henceforth shall my good things be?

<sup>24</sup> Say not, I have sufficient,
And from henceforth what harm shall happen to me?

<sup>25</sup> In the day of good things there is a forgetfulness of evil things;
And in the day of evil things a man will not remember things that are
good.

<sup>26</sup> For it is an easy thing in the sight of
the Lord
To reward a man in the day of death
according to his ways.

<sup>27</sup> The affliction of an hour causes
forgetfulness of delight;
And in the last end of a man is the revelation of his deeds.

<sup>28</sup> Call no man blessed before his death;
And a man shall be known in his
children.

<sup>29</sup> Bring not every man into your house;
For many are the plots of the deceitful
man.

<sup>30</sup> As a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man;
And as one that is a spy, he looks upon
your falling.

<sup>31</sup> For he lies in wait to turn things that are good into evil;
And in things that are praiseworthy he will lay blame.

<sup>32</sup> From a spark of fire a heap of many coals is kindled;
And a sinful man lies in wait for blood.

<sup>33</sup> Take heed of an evil-doer, for he contriveth wicked things;
Lest haply he bring upon you blame for
ever.

<sup>1</sup> If you do good, know to whom you do
it;
And your good deeds shall have thanks.

<sup>2</sup> Do good to a godly man, and you shall find a recompense;
And if not from him, yet from the Most
High.

<sup>3</sup> There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil,
Nor to him that gives no alms.

<sup>4</sup> Give to the godly man,
 And help not the sinner.
<sup>5</sup> Do good to one that is lowly,
 And give not to an ungodly man:
 Keep back his bread, and give it not to
     him,
 Lest he overmaster you thereby:
 For you shall receive twice as much evil
 For all the good you shall have done to
     him.
<sup>6</sup> For the Most High also hates sinners,
 And will repay vengeance to the ungodly. <sup>d</sup> <sup>7</sup> Give to the good man,
 And help not the sinner.
<sup>8</sup> A man's friend will not be <sup>e</sup> fully tried in prosperity;
 And his enemy will not be hidden in adversity.
<sup>9</sup> In a man's prosperity his enemies are
     grieved;
 And in his adversity even his friend will be separated from him.
<sup>10</sup> Never trust your enemy:
 For like as the brass rusts, so is his
     wickedness.
<sup>11</sup> Though he humble himself, and go crouching,
 Yet take good heed, and beware of him,
 And you shall be to him as one that has wiped a mirror,
 And you shall know that <sup>f</sup> he has not utterly rusted it.
<sup>12</sup> Set him not by you, Lest he overthrow you and stand in your place;
 Let him not sit on your right hand,
 Lest he seek to take your seat,
 And at the last you acknowledge my
     words,

And be pricked with my sayings.
<sup>13</sup> Who will pity a charmer that is bitten
     with a serpent,
 Or any that come near wild beasts?
<sup>14</sup> Even so who will pity him that goes to a sinner,
 And is mingled with him in his sins?
<sup>15</sup> For a while he will abide with you,
 And if you give way, he will not hold
     out.
<sup>16</sup> And the enemy will speak sweetly
     with his lips,
 And in his heart take counsel how to overthrow you into a pit:
 The enemy will weep with his eyes,
 And if he find opportunity, he will not be satiated with blood.
<sup>17</sup> If adversity meet you, you shall find him there before you;
 And as though he would help you, he will trip up your heel.
<sup>18</sup> He will shake his head, and clap his
     hands,
 And whisper much, and change his
     countenance.

<sup>1</sup> He that touches pitch shall be defiled;
 And he that has fellowship with a proud man shall become like to
     him.
<sup>2</sup> Take not up a burden above your
     strength;
 And have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than
     yourself.
 What fellowship shall the earthen pot
     have with the kettle?
 This shall strike, and that shall be dashed in pieces.

 And from the making of them he disposed the parts thereof.

27 He garnished his works for ever,

 They neither hunger, nor are weary,
 And they cease not from their works.
 28 No one thrusteth aside his neighbor;

1 The Lord created man of the earth,

 3 He endued them with strength proper
 to them;
 And made them according to his own

 8 He set his eye upon their hearts,
 To show them the majesty of his works.

abhorred;

And he that takes to himself authority
therein shall be hated.

<sup>9</sup> There is a prosperity that a man finds in misfortunes;

And there is a gain that turns to loss.

<sup>10</sup> There is a gift that shall not profit
you;

And there is a gift whose recompense is double.

<sup>11</sup> There is an abasement because of
glory;

And there is that has lifted up his head
from a low estate.

<sup>12</sup> There is that buys much for a little,
And pays for it again sevenfold.

<sup>13</sup> He that is wise in words shall make himself beloved;
But the pleasantries of fools shall be wasted.

<sup>14</sup> The gift of a fool shall not profit you <sup>s</sup> ;

For his eyes are many instead of one.

<sup>15</sup> He will give little, and upbraid much;
And he will open his mouth like a crier:
Today he will lend, and tomorrow he will ask it again:

Such an one is a hateful man.

<sup>16</sup> The fool will say, I have no friend,
And I have no thanks for my good
deeds;

They that eat my bread are of evil
tongue.

<sup>17</sup> How often, and of how many, shall he be laughed to scorn! <sup>t</sup>

<sup>18</sup> A slip on a pavement is better than a
slip with the tongue;
So the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

<sup>19</sup> A man without grace is as a tale out of season:
It will be continually in the mouth of
the ignorant.

<sup>20</sup> A <sup>u</sup> wise sentence from a fool's mouth will be rejected;
For he will not speak it in its season.

<sup>21</sup> There is that is hindered from sinning
through lack;
And when he takes rest, he shall not be
troubled.

<sup>22</sup> There is that destroys his soul
through bashfulness;
And by a foolish countenance he will destroy it.

<sup>23</sup> There is that for bashfulness
promises to his friend;
And he makes him his enemy for
nothing.

<sup>24</sup> A lie is a foul blot in a man:
It will be continually in the mouth of
the ignorant.

<sup>25</sup> A thief is better than a man that is continually lying:
But they both shall inherit destruction.

<sup>26</sup> The disposition of a liar is dishonor;
And his shame is with him continually.

<sup>27</sup> He that is wise in words shall advance himself;
And one that is prudent will please
great men.

<sup>28</sup> He that tills his land shall raise his heap high;
And he that pleases great men shall get pardon for iniquity.

<sup>29</sup> Presents and gifts blind the eyes of
the wise,
And as a muzzle on the mouth, turn away reproofs.
<sup>30</sup> Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is out of sight,
What profit is in them both?
<sup>31</sup> Better is a man that hides his folly Than a man that hides his wisdom. <sup>v</sup>

<sup>1</sup> My son, have you sinned? add no
more thereto;
And make supplication for your former
sins.
<sup>2</sup> Flee from sin as from the face of a
serpent;
For if you draw near it will bite you:
The teeth thereof are the teeth of a lion,
Slaying the souls of men.
<sup>3</sup> All iniquity is as a two-edged sword;
Its stroke has no healing.
<sup>4</sup> Terror and violence will lay waste
riches;
So the house of a haughty man shall be laid waste.
<sup>5</sup> Supplication from a poor man's mouth
reaches to the ears of <sup>w</sup> God,
And his judgement comes speedily.
<sup>6</sup> One that hates reproof is in the path of the sinner;
And he that fears the Lord will turn
again in his heart.
<sup>7</sup> He that is mighty in tongue is known afar off:
But the man of understanding knows
when he slips.
<sup>8</sup> He that builds his house with other men's money

Is like one that gathers himself stones against winter.
<sup>9</sup> The congregation of wicked men is as
tow wrapped together;
And the end of them is a flame of fire.
<sup>10</sup> The way of sinners is made smooth
with stones;
And at the last end thereof is the pit of Hades.
<sup>11</sup> He that keeps the law becomes master of the intent thereof;
And the end of the fear of the Lord is
wisdom.
<sup>12</sup> He that is not clever will not be
instructed;
And there is a cleverness which makes bitterness to abound.
<sup>13</sup> The knowledge of a wise man shall be made to abound as a flood;
And his counsel as a fountain of life.
<sup>14</sup> The inward parts of a fool are like a broken vessel;
And he will hold no knowledge.
<sup>15</sup> If a man of knowledge hear a wise
word,
He will commend it, and add to it:
The dissolute man hears it, and it displeases him,
And he puts it away behind his back.
<sup>16</sup> The discourse of a fool is like a burden in the way:
But grace shall be found on the lips of
the wise.
<sup>17</sup> The mouth of the prudent man shall be sought for in the
congregation;
And they will ponder his words in their
heart.

an unwise man,
And as manacles on the right hand.
<sup>20</sup> A fool lifts up his voice with
laughter;
But a clever man will scarce smile
quietly.
<sup>21</sup> Instruction is to a prudent man as an ornament of gold,
And as a bracelet upon his right arm.
<sup>22</sup> The foot of a fool is soon in another
man's house;
But a man of experience will be ashamed of entering.
<sup>23</sup> A foolish man peepeth in from the door of another man's
house;
But a man that is instructed will stand without.
<sup>24</sup> It is a lack of instruction in a man to listen at the door;
But the prudent man will be grieved
with the disgrace.
<sup>25</sup> <sup>y</sup> The lips of strangers will be grieved at these things;
But the words of prudent men will be weighed in the balance.

<sup>12</sup> Seven days are the days of mourning
for the dead;
But for a fool and an ungodly man, all the days of his life.

<sup>13</sup> Talk not much with a foolish man,
And go not to one that has no
understanding:
Beware of him, lest you have trouble;
And so you shall not be <sup>a</sup> defiled in his onslaught:
Turn aside from him, and you shall find
rest;
And so you shall not be wearied in his

And where he suspected not he shall be taken.

<sup>22</sup> So also a wife that leaves her
husband,
And brings in an heir by a stranger.

<sup>23</sup> For first, she was disobedient in the law of the Most High;

And secondly, she trespassed against
her own husband;
And thirdly, she played the adulteress in
whoredom,
And brought in children by a stranger.

<sup>24</sup> She shall be brought out into the
congregation;
And upon her children shall there be
visitation.

<sup>25</sup> Her children shall not spread into roots,

<sup>1</sup> In three things I was beautified,
 And stood up beautiful before the Lord
and men:
 The concord of brethren, and friendship
of neighbors,
 And a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.
<sup>2</sup> But three sorts of men my soul hates,
 And I am greatly offended at their life:
 A poor man that is haughty, and a rich
man that is a liar,
And an old man that is an adulterer
lacking understanding.
<sup>3</sup> In your youth you have not gathered,

And how should you find in your old
age?
<sup>4</sup> How beautiful a thing is judgement
for gray hairs,
 And for elders to know counsel!
<sup>5</sup> How beautiful is the wisdom of old
men,
 And thought and counsel to men that are in honor!
<sup>6</sup> Much experience is the crown of old
men;
 And their glorying is the fear of the Lord.
<sup>7</sup> There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart
counted happy;
 And the tenth I will utter with my
tongue:
 A man that has joy of his children;
 A man that lives and looks upon the fall
of his enemies:
<sup>8</sup> Happy is he that dwells with a wife of
understanding;
 And he that has not slipped with his
tongue;
 And he that has not served a man that is unworthy of him:
<sup>9</sup> Happy is he that has found prudence;
 And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.
<sup>10</sup> How great is he that has found
wisdom!
 Yet is there none above him that fears
the Lord.
<sup>11</sup> The fear of the Lord passes all
things:
 He that holds it, to whom shall he be likened? <sup>12</sup> <sup>q</sup> <sup>13</sup> Give me any plague but the plague
of the heart;

And any wickedness but the wickedness
of a woman;

<sup>14</sup> Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me;
And any vengeance, but the vengeance
of enemies.

<sup>15</sup> There is no head above the head of a
serpent;
And there is no wrath above the wrath
of an enemy.

<sup>16</sup> I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon,
Than keep house with a wicked woman.

<sup>17</sup> The wickedness of a woman changes
her look,
And darkens her countenance as a bear
does.

<sup>18</sup> Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbors,
And when he hears it he sighs bitterly.

<sup>19</sup> All malice is but little to the malice
of a woman:
Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.

<sup>20</sup> As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,
So is a wife full of words to a quiet
man.

<sup>21</sup> Throw not yourself upon the beauty
of a woman;
And desire not a woman for her beauty.

<sup>22</sup> There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,
If a woman maintain her husband.

<sup>23</sup> A wicked woman is abasement of
heart,
And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:
A woman that will not make her husband happy

Is as hands that hang down, and palsied
knees.

<sup>24</sup> From a woman was the beginning of
sin;
And because of her we all die.

<sup>25</sup> Give not water an outlet;
Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.

<sup>26</sup> If she go not <sup>r</sup> as you would have her,
Cut her off from your flesh. <sup>s</sup>

26

<sup>1</sup> Happy is the husband of a good wife;
And the number of his days shall be twofold.

<sup>2</sup> A brave woman rejoices her husband;
And he shall fulfil his years in peace.

<sup>3</sup> A good wife is a good portion:
She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.

<sup>4</sup> Whether a man be rich or poor,
A good heart makes at all times a cheerful countenance.

<sup>5</sup> Of three things my heart was afraid;
And concerning the fourth <sup>t</sup> kind I made
supplication:

The slander of a city, and the assembly
of a multitude, and a false
accusation:

All these are more grievous than death.

<sup>6</sup> A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of
another woman,
And the scourge of a tongue
communicating to all.

<sup>7</sup> A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:
He that takes hold of her is as one that

 wrath;
 And she will not cover her own shame.
<sup>9</sup> The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
 And it shall be known by her eyelids.
<sup>10</sup> Keep strict watch on a headstrong
 daughter,
 Lest she find liberty for herself, and use
 it.
<sup>11</sup> Look well after an impudent eye;
 And marvel not if it trespass against
 you.
<sup>12</sup> She will open her mouth, as a thirsty
 traveller,
 And drink of every water that is near:
 At every post will she sit down,
 And open her quiver against any arrow.
<sup>13</sup> The grace of a wife will delight her

 And her knowledge will fatten his
 bones.
<sup>14</sup> A silent woman is a gift of the Lord;
 And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.
<sup>15</sup> A shamefast woman is grace upon
 grace;
 And there is no <sup>u</sup> price worthy of a continent soul.
<sup>16</sup> As the sun when it arises in the highest places of the Lord,
 So is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of <sup>v</sup> a man's house.
<sup>17</sup> As the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick,
 So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.
<sup>18</sup> As the golden pillars are upon a base
 of silver,

So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is steadfast. <sup>19-27</sup> <sup>w</sup> <sup>28</sup> For two things my heart is grieved;
 And for the third anger comes upon me:
 A man of war that suffers for poverty;
 And men of understanding that are counted as refuse:
 One that turns back from righteousness
 to sin;
 The Lord shall prepare him for the
 sword.
<sup>29</sup> A merchant shall hardly keep himself
 from wrong doing;
 And a huckster shall not be acquitted of
 sin.

27

<sup>1</sup> Many have sinned for a thing
 indifferent;
 And he that seeks to multiply gain will turn his eye away.
<sup>2</sup> A nail will stick fast between the
 joinings of stones;
 And sin will <sup>x</sup> thrust itself in between buying and selling.
<sup>3</sup> Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
 His house shall soon be overthrown.
<sup>4</sup> In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remains;
 So the filth of man in his reasoning.
<sup>5</sup> The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
 And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.
<sup>6</sup> The fruit of a tree declares the husbandry thereof;
 So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.

<sup>7</sup> Praise no man before you hear him
reason;

For this is the trial of men.

<sup>8</sup> If you follow righteousness, you shall obtain her,

And put her on, as a long robe of glory.

<sup>9</sup> Birds will resort to their like;
And truth will return to them that practise her.

<sup>10</sup> The lion lies in wait for prey;
So does sin for them that work iniquity.

<sup>11</sup> The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:
But the foolish man changes as the
moon.

<sup>12</sup> Among men void of understanding observe the opportunity;
But stay continually among the thoughtful.

<sup>13</sup> The discourse of fools is an offence;
And their laughter is in the wantonness
of sin.

<sup>14</sup> The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;
And their strife makes one stop his ears.

<sup>15</sup> The strife of the proud is a shedding
of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

<sup>16</sup> He that reveals secrets destroys credit,
And shall not find a friend to his mind.

<sup>17</sup> Love a friend, and keep faith with
him:

But if you reveal his secrets,
You shall not pursue after him;

<sup>18</sup> For as a man has destroyed his
enemy,
So have you destroyed the friendship of
your neighbor.

<sup>19</sup> And as a bird which you have loosed
out of your hand,
So have you let your neighbor go, and you will not catch him
again:

<sup>20</sup> Pursue him not, for he is gone far
away,
And has escaped as a gazelle out of the
snare.

<sup>21</sup> For a wound may be bound up, and after reviling there may be a reconcilement;
But he that reveals secrets has lost
hope.

<sup>22</sup> One that winks with the eye
contriveth evil things;
And no man will remove him from it.

<sup>23</sup> When you are present, he will speak
sweetly,
And will admire your words;
But afterward he will writhe his mouth,
And set a trap for you in your words.

<sup>24</sup> I have hated many things, but nothing like him;
And the Lord will hate him.

<sup>25</sup> One that casts a stone on high casts it
on his own head;
And a deceitful stroke will open
wounds.

<sup>26</sup> He that digs a pit shall fall into it;
And he that sets a snare shall be taken
therein.

<sup>27</sup> He that does evil things, they shall roll upon him,
And he shall not know whence they have come to him.

<sup>28</sup> Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;
And vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in
wait for him.

<sup>29</sup> They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a
snare;
And anguish shall consume them before they die.
<sup>30</sup> Wrath and anger, these also are
abominations;
And a sinful man shall possess them.

28

<sup>1</sup> He that takes vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;
And he will surely make firm his sins.
<sup>2</sup> Forgive your neighbor the hurt that he has done you;
And then your sins shall be pardoned
when you pray.
<sup>3</sup> Man cherisheth anger against man;
And does he seek healing from the Lord?
<sup>4</sup> Upon a man like himself he has no
mercy;
And does he make supplication for his own sins?
<sup>5</sup> He being himself flesh nourishes
wrath:
Who shall make atonement for his sins?
<sup>6</sup> Remember your last end, and cease
from enmity:
Remember corruption and death, and
abide in the commandments.
<sup>7</sup> Remember the commandments, and be not angry with your
neighbor;
And remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.
<sup>8</sup> Abstain from strife, and you shall diminish your sins:

For a passionate man will kindle strife;
<sup>9</sup> And a man that is a sinner will trouble
friends,
And will make debate among them that
be at peace.
<sup>10</sup> <sup>y</sup> As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn;
And as the stoutness of the strife is, so
will it burn:
As is the strength of the man, so will be
his wrath;
And as is his wealth, so will he exalt
his anger.
<sup>11</sup> A contention begun in haste kindles a
fire;
And a hasty fighting sheds blood.
<sup>12</sup> If you blow a spark, it shall burn;
And if you spit upon it, it shall be quenched:
And both these shall come out of your
mouth.
<sup>13</sup> Curse the whisperer and double-tongued:
For he has destroyed many that were at
peace.
<sup>14</sup> A third person's tongue has shaken
many,
And dispersed them from nation to
nation;
And it has pulled down strong cities,
And overthrown the houses of great
men.
<sup>15</sup> A third person's tongue has cast out
brave women,
And deprived them of their labors.
<sup>16</sup> He that hearkens to it shall not find
rest,
Nor shall he dwell quietly.
<sup>17</sup> The stroke of a whip makes a mark in the flesh;

But the stroke of a tongue will break
bones.

<sup>18</sup> Many have fallen by the edge of the
sword:
Yet not so many as they that have fallen
because of the tongue.

<sup>19</sup> Happy is he that is sheltered from it,
That has not passed through the wrath
thereof;
That has not drawn its yoke,
And has not been bound with its bands.

<sup>20</sup> For the yoke thereof is a yoke of
iron,
And the bands thereof are bands of brass.

<sup>21</sup> The death thereof is an evil death;
And Hades were better than it.

<sup>22</sup> It shall not have rule over godly men;
And they shall not be burned in its flame.

<sup>23</sup> They that forsake the Lord shall fall
into it;
And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:
It shall be sent forth upon them as a
lion;
And as a leopard it shall destroy them.

<sup>24</sup> Look that you hedge your possession
about with thorns;
Bind up your silver and your gold;

<sup>25</sup> And make a balance and a weight for
your words;
And make a door and a bar for your
mouth.

<sup>26</sup> Take heed lest you slip therein;
Lest you fall before one that lies in wait.

29

<sup>1</sup> He that shows mercy will lend to his
neighbor;
And he that strengthens him with his hand keeps the
commandments.

<sup>2</sup> Lend to your neighbor in time of his
need;
And pay you your neighbor again in due season.

<sup>3</sup> Confirm your word, and keep faith
with him;
And at all seasons you shall find what you need.

<sup>4</sup> Many have reckoned a loan as a windfall,
And have given trouble to those that helped them.

<sup>5</sup> Till he has received, he will kiss a man's hands;
And for his neighbor's money he will speak submissly:
And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,
And return words of heaviness, and complain of <sup>z</sup> the times.

<sup>6</sup> If he prevail, he shall hardly receive
the half;
And he will count it as a windfall:
If not, he has deprived him of his
money,
And he has gotten him for an enemy
without cause:
He will pay him with cursings and
railings;
And for honor he will pay him disgrace.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>a</sup> Many on account of men's ill-
dealing have turned away;

They have feared to be defrauded for nothing.

And let him not wait for your alms.

<sup>9</sup> Help a poor man for the commandment's sake;
And according to his need send him not empty away.

<sup>10</sup> Lose your money for a brother and a friend;
And let it not rust under the stone to be lost.

<sup>11</sup> Bestow your treasure according to the commandments of the Most High;
And it shall profit you more than gold.

<sup>12</sup> Shut up alms in your store-chambers;
And it shall deliver you out of all affliction:

<sup>13</sup> It shall fight for you against your enemy
Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

<sup>14</sup> A good man will be surety for his neighbor;
And he that has lost shame will fail him.

<sup>15</sup> Forget not the good offices of your surety;
For he has given his life for you.

<sup>17</sup> And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.

<sup>18</sup> Suretiship has undone many that were prospering,

And shaken them as a wave of the sea:
Mighty men has it driven from their homes;
And they wandered among strange nations.

<sup>19</sup> A sinner that falls into suretiship,
And undertakes contracts for work,
shall fall into lawsuits.

<sup>20</sup> Help your neighbor according to your power,
And take heed to yourself that you fall not to the same.

<sup>21</sup> The chief thing for life is water, and bread,
And a garment, and a house to cover shame.

<sup>22</sup> Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,
Than sumptuous fare in another man's house.

<sup>23</sup> With little or with much, be well satisfied. <sup>b</sup>

And where you are a sojourner, you shall not dare to open your mouth.

<sup>25</sup> You shall entertain, and give to drink, and have no thanks:
And besides this you shall hear bitter words.

<sup>26</sup> Come hither, you sojourner, furnish a table,
And if you have anything in your hand, feed me with it.

My brother is come to be my guest; I have need of my house.

The upbraiding of house-room, and the reproaching of the money-lender.

30

<sup>1</sup> He that loves his son will continue to lay stripes upon him,
That he may have joy of him in the end.

<sup>2</sup> He that chastises his son shall have profit of him,
And shall glory of him among his acquaintance.

<sup>3</sup> He that teaches his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;
And before friends he shall rejoice of him.

<sup>4</sup> His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;
For he has left one behind him like himself.

<sup>5</sup> In his life, he saw and rejoiced in him;
And when he died, he sorrowed not:

<sup>6</sup> He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,
And one to requite kindness to his friends.

<sup>7</sup> He that makes too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;
And his heart will be troubled at every cry.

And a son left at large becomes headstrong.

<sup>9</sup> Cocker your child, and he shall make you afraid:
Play with him, and he will grieve you.

<sup>10</sup> Laugh not with him, lest you have sorrow with him;
And you shall gnash your teeth in the end.

And beat him on the sides while he is a child,

Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient to you;

<sup>e</sup> And there shall be sorrow to your soul.

<sup>13</sup> Chastise your son, and take pains with him,
Lest his shameless behavior be an offence to you.

<sup>14</sup> Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,
Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.

<sup>15</sup> Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;
And a strong body than wealth without measure.

<sup>16</sup> There is no riches better than health of body;
And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.

<sup>17</sup> Death is better than a bitter life,

Are as messes of meat laid upon a grave.

<sup>19</sup> What does an offering profit an idol?
For neither shall it eat nor smell:
So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,

 As an eunuch embracing a virgin and
 groaning.
<sup>21</sup> Give not over your soul to sorrow;
 And afflict not yourself in your own
 counsel.
<sup>22</sup> Gladness of heart is the life of a man;
 And the joyfulness of a man is length of
 days.
<sup>23</sup> Love your own soul, and comfort
 your heart:
 And remove sorrow far from you;
 For sorrow has destroyed many,
 And there is no profit therein.
<sup>24</sup> Envy and wrath shorten a man's
 days;
 And care brings old age before the time.
<sup>25</sup> A cheerful and good heart
 Will have a care of his meat and diet.

31

<sup>1</sup> Wakefulness that comes of riches
 consumes the flesh,
 And the anxiety thereof puts away
 sleep.
<sup>2</sup> Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;
 And <sup>h</sup> in a sore disease sleep will be broken.
<sup>3</sup> A rich man toileth in gathering money
 together;
 And when he rests, he is filled with his
 good things.
<sup>4</sup> A poor man toileth in lack of substance;
 And when he rests, he becomes needy.
<sup>5</sup> He that loves gold shall not be
 justified;
 And he that follows destruction shall himself have his fill of it.

<sup>6</sup> Many have been given over to ruin for the sake of gold;
 And their perdition <sup>i</sup> meets them face to
 face.
<sup>7</sup> It is a stumbling block to them that sacrifice to it;
 And every fool shall be taken therewith.
<sup>8</sup> Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish,
 And that goes not after gold.
<sup>9</sup> Who is he? and we will call him
 blessed:
 For wonderful things has he done
 among his people.
<sup>10</sup> Who has been tried thereby, and found perfect?
 Then let him glory.
 Who has had the power to transgress,
 and has not transgressed?
 And to do evil, and has not done it?
<sup>11</sup> His goods shall be made sure,
 And the congregation shall declare his alms.
<sup>12</sup> Sittest you at a great table? <sup>j</sup> be not greedy upon it,
 And say not, Many are the things upon
 it.
<sup>13</sup> Remember that an evil eye is a wicked thing:
 What has been created more evil than an eye?
 Therefore it sheds tears from every
 face.
<sup>14</sup> Stretch not your hand wherever it looks,
 And thrust not yourself with it into the
 dish.
<sup>15</sup> Consider your neighbor's liking by your own;

And be discreet in every point.
<sup>16</sup> Eat, as becomes a man, those things
 which are set before you;
 And eat not greedily, lest you be hated.
<sup>17</sup> Be first to leave off for manners'
 sake;
 And be not insatiable, lest you offend.
<sup>18</sup> And if you sit among many,
 Reach not out your hand before them.
<sup>19</sup> How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,
 And he does not breathe hard upon his
 bed.
<sup>20</sup> Healthy sleep comes of moderate
 eating;
 He rises early, and his wits are with
 him:
 The pain of wakefulness, and colic,
 And griping, are with an insatiable man.
<sup>21</sup> And if you have been forced to eat, Rise up in the midst thereof, and you shall have rest.
<sup>22</sup> Hear me, my son, and despise me
 not,
 And at the last you shall find my words
true:
 In all your works be quick,
 And no disease shall come to you.
<sup>23</sup> Him that is liberal of his meat the lips
 shall bless;
 And the testimony of his excellence
 shall be believed.
<sup>24</sup> Him that is a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
 And the testimony of his niggardness
 shall be sure.
<sup>25</sup> Show not yourself valiant in wine;
 For wine has destroyed many.
<sup>26</sup> The furnace proves the temper of
steel by dipping;

So does wine prove hearts in the quarreling of the proud.
<sup>27</sup> Wine is as good as life to men,
 If you drink it in its measure:
 What life is there to a man that is without wine?
 And it has been created to make men
 glad.
<sup>28</sup> Wine drunk in season and to satisfy
 Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:
<sup>29</sup> Wine drunk largely is bitterness of
 soul,
 With provocation and conflict.
<sup>30</sup> Drunkenness increases the rage of a fool to his hurt;
 It diminishes strength, and adds
 wounds.
<sup>31</sup> Rebuke not your neighbor at a banquet of wine,
 Neither set him at nothing in his mirth:
 Speak not to him a word of reproach,
 And press not upon him by asking back
a debt.

32

<sup>1</sup> Have they made you ruler of a feast?
 Be not lifted up,
 Be you among them as one of them;
 Take thought for them, and so sit down.
<sup>2</sup> And when you have done all your office, take your place,
 That you may be gladdened on their
 account,
 And receive a crown for your well
 ordering.
<sup>3</sup> Speak, you that are the elder, for it becomes you, but with sound knowledge;
 And hinder not music.
<sup>4</sup> Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,

And display not your wisdom out of
season.

<sup>5</sup> As a signet of carbuncle in a setting
of gold,
So is a concert of music in a banquet of
wine.

<sup>6</sup> As a signet of emerald in a work of
gold,
So is a strain of music with pleasant
wine.

<sup>7</sup> Speak, young man, if there be need of
you;
Yet scarcely if you be twice asked.

<sup>8</sup> Sum up your speech, many things in few words;
Be as one that knows and yet holds his
tongue.

<sup>9</sup> If you be among great men, behave
not as their equal;
And when another is speaking, make
not much babbling.

<sup>10</sup> Before thunder speedeth lightning;
And before a shamefast man favor shall go forth.

<sup>11</sup> Rise up betimes, and be not the last;
Get you home quickly and loiter not:

<sup>12</sup> There take your pastime, and do what is in your heart;
And sin not by proud speech:

<sup>13</sup> And for these things bless him that
made you,
And gives you to drink freely of his
good things.

<sup>14</sup> He that fears the Lord will receive
his discipline;
And they that seek him early shall find
favor.

<sup>15</sup> He that seeks the law shall be filled therewith:
But the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.

<sup>k</sup> Gr. without stumbling blocks.

<sup>16</sup> They that fear the Lord shall find
judgement,
And shall kindle righteous acts as a
light.

<sup>17</sup> A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And will find a judgement according to his will.

<sup>18</sup> A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;
A strange and proud man will not
crouch in fear,
Even after he has done a thing by himself without counsel.

<sup>19</sup> Do nothing without counsel;
And when you have once done, repent
not.

<sup>20</sup> Go not in a way of conflict;
And stumble not in stony places.

<sup>23</sup> In every work trust your own soul;
For this is the keeping of the
commandments.

<sup>24</sup> He that believes the law gives heed
to the commandment;
And he that trusts in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

33

<sup>1</sup> There shall no evil happen to him that fears the Lord;
But in temptation once and again will
he deliver him.

<sup>2</sup> A wise man will not hate the law;
But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

<sup>3</sup> A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;
And the law is faithful to him, as when
one asks at the oracle.

<sup>4</sup> Prepare your speech, and so shall you
 be heard;
 Bind up instruction, and make your
 answer.
<sup>5</sup> The heart of a fool is as a cartwheel;
 And his thoughts like a rolling axle tree.
<sup>6</sup> A stallion horse is as a mocking
 friend;
 He neighs under every one that sits
 upon him.
<sup>7</sup> Why does one day excel another,
 When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?
<sup>8</sup> By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;
 And he varied seasons and feasts:
<sup>9</sup> Some of them he exalted and hallowed,
 And some of them has he made ordinary days.
<sup>10</sup> And all men are from the ground,
 And Adam was created of earth.
<sup>11</sup> In the abundance of his knowledge
 the Lord distinguished them,
 And made their ways various:
<sup>12</sup> Some of them he blessed and exalted,
 And some of them he hallowed and
 brought near to himself:
 Some of them he cursed and brought low,
 And overthrew them from their place.
<sup>13</sup> As the clay of the potter in his hand,
 All his ways are according to his good
 pleasure;
 So men are in the hand of him that
 made them,
 To render to them according to his
 judgement.
<sup>14</sup> Good is set over against evil,

And life over against death:
 So is <sup>1</sup> the sinner over against the godly.
<sup>15</sup> And thus look upon all the works of
 the Most High;
 Two and two, one against another.
<sup>16</sup> And I waked up last,
 As one that gleans after the grape
 gatherers:
 By the blessing of the Lord I got before
 them,
 And filled my winepress as one that gathers grapes.
<sup>17</sup> Consider that I laboured not for myself alone,
 But for all them that seek instruction.
<sup>18</sup> Hear me, you <sup>33</sup> great men of the
 people,
 And hearken with your ears, you <sup>33</sup>
 rulers of the congregation.
<sup>19</sup> To son and wife, to brother and
 friend,
 Give not power over you while you
 live;
 And give not your goods to another,
 Lest you repent and make supplication
 for them again.
<sup>20</sup> Whilst you yet live, and breath is in
 you,
 Give not yourself over to anybody.
<sup>21</sup> For better it is that your children should supplicate you,
 Than that you should look to the hand
 of your sons.
<sup>22</sup> In all your works keep the upper
 hand;
 Bring not a stain on your honor.
<sup>23</sup> In the day that you endest the days of
 your life,
 And in the time of death, distribute your
 inheritance.

<sup>1</sup> A line of this verse is here omitted by the best authorities.

<sup>24</sup> Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;
 Bread, and discipline, and work, for a
 servant.
<sup>25</sup> Set your servant to work, and you shall find rest:
 Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.
<sup>26</sup> Yoke and thong will bow the neck:
 And for an evil servant there are racks
 and tortures.
<sup>27</sup> Send him to labor, that he be not idle;
 For idleness teaches much mischief.
<sup>28</sup> Set him to work, as is fit for him;
 And if he obey not, make his fetters
 heavy.
<sup>29</sup> And be not excessive toward any;
 And without judgement do nothing.
<sup>30</sup> If you have a servant, let him be as
 yourself,
 Because you have bought him with
 blood.
<sup>31</sup> If you have a servant, treat him as
 yourself;
<sup>m</sup> For as your own soul will you have need of him:
 If you treat him ill, and he depart and
 run away,
 Which way will you go to seek him?

<sup>1</sup> Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
 And dreams give wings to fools.
<sup>2</sup> As one that catches at a shadow, and follows after the wind,
 So is he that sets his mind on dreams.
<sup>3</sup> The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,

The likeness of a face over against a
 face.
<sup>4</sup> Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
 And of that which is false what shall be
 true?
<sup>5</sup> Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
 And the heart fancies, as a woman's in
 travail.
<sup>6</sup> If they be not sent from the Most High
 in your visitation, Give not your heart to them. <sup>7</sup> For dreams have led many
 astray:
 And they have failed by putting their
 hope in them.
<sup>8</sup> Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
 And wisdom is perfection to a faithful
 mouth.
<sup>9</sup> A well-instructed man knows many
 things;
 And he that has much experience will declare understanding.
<sup>10</sup> He that has no experience knows few
 things:
 But he that has wandered shall increase
his skill.
<sup>11</sup> In my wandering I have seen many
 things;
 And more than my words is my
 understanding.
<sup>12</sup> Ofttimes was I in danger even to
 death;
 And I was preserved because of these
 things.
<sup>13</sup> The spirit of those that fear the Lord
 shall live;

For their hope is upon him that saves them.

<sup>14</sup> Whoso fears the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
For he is his hope.

<sup>15</sup> Blessed is the soul of him that fears the Lord:
To whom does he give heed? and who is his stay?

<sup>16</sup> The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,
A mighty protection and strong stay,
A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,
A guard from stumbling, and a succour from falling.

<sup>17</sup> He raises up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes:
He gives healing, life, and blessing.

<sup>18</sup> He that sacrifices of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;
And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

<sup>19</sup> The Most High has no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;
Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.

<sup>20</sup> As one that kills the son before his father's eyes
Is he that brings a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.

He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

<sup>22</sup> As one that slays his neighbor is he that takes away his living;

And as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.

<sup>23</sup> One building, and another pulling down,
What profit have they had but toil?

<sup>24</sup> One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?

<sup>25</sup> He that washes himself after touching a dead body, and touches it again,
What profit has he in his washing?

<sup>26</sup> Even so a man fasting for his sins,
And going again, and doing the same;
Who will listen to his prayer?
And what profit has he in his humiliation?

35

<sup>1</sup> He that keeps the law multiplies offerings;
He that takes heed to the commandments sacrifices a peace offering.

<sup>2</sup> He that requites a good turn offers fine flour;
And he that gives alms sacrifices a thank offering.

<sup>3</sup> To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;
And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.

<sup>5</sup> For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.

<sup>6</sup> The offering of the righteous makes the altar fat;
And the sweet savor thereof is before the Most High.

<sup>7</sup> The sacrifice of a righteous man is
 acceptable;
 And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.
<sup>8</sup> Glorify the Lord with a good eye,
 And stint not the first fruits of your
 hands.
<sup>9</sup> In every gift show a cheerful
 countenance,
 And dedicate your tithe with gladness.
<sup>10</sup> Give to the Most High according as he has given;
 And as your hand has found, give with a good eye.
<sup>11</sup> For the Lord recompenses,
 And he will recompense you sevenfold.
<sup>12</sup> Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
 And set not your mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
 For the Lord is judge,
 And with him is no respect of persons.
<sup>13</sup> He will not accept any person against a poor man;
 And he will listen to the prayer of him
 that is wronged.
<sup>14</sup> He will in no wise despise the supplication of the
 fatherless;
 Nor the widow, <sup>n</sup> when she pours out
 her tale.
<sup>15</sup> Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
 And is not her cry against him that has caused them to fall?
<sup>16</sup> He that serves God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted,
 And his supplication shall reach to the
 clouds.

<sup>17</sup> The prayer of the humble pierces the
 clouds;
 And till it come near, he will not be comforted;
 And he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;
 And he shall judge <sup>o</sup> righteously, and execute judgement.
<sup>18</sup> And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be
 longsuffering toward them,
 Till he have crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
 And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;
 Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
 And broken in pieces the sceptres of the
 unrighteous;
<sup>19</sup> Till he have rendered to every man
 according to his doings,
 And to the works of men according to their devices;
 Till he have judged the cause of his
 people;
 And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.
<sup>20</sup> Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,
 As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

<sup>1</sup> Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God
 of all, and behold;
<sup>2</sup> And send your fear upon all the nations: <sup>p</sup> <sup>3</sup> Lift up your hand against the strange
 nations;
 And let them see your mighty power.

<sup>4</sup> As you were sanctified in us before
 them,
 So be you magnified in them before us.

<sup>5</sup> And let them know you, as we also have known you,
 That there is no God but only you, O
 God.

<sup>6</sup> Show new signs, and work various wonders;
 Glorify your hand and your right arm. <sup>q</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Raise up indignation, and pour out
 wrath;
 Take away the adversary, and destroy
 the enemy.

<sup>8</sup> Hasten the time, and remember the oath;
 And let them declare your mighty
 works.

<sup>9</sup> Let him that escapes be devoured by the rage of fire;
 And may they that harm your people
 find destruction.

<sup>10</sup> Crush the heads of the rulers of the
 enemies,
 That say, There is none but we.

<sup>11</sup> Gather all the tribes of Jacob
 together,
 And <sup>r</sup> take them for your inheritance, as
 from the beginning.

<sup>12</sup> O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by your name,
 And upon Israel, whom you did liken to a firstborn.

<sup>13</sup> Have compassion upon the city of
 your sanctuary,
 Jerusalem, the place of your rest.

<sup>14</sup> Fill Sion; exalt your oracles,
 And fill your people with your glory.

<sup>15</sup> Give testimony to those that were your creatures in the
 beginning,
 And raise up the prophecies that have been in your name.

<sup>16</sup> Give reward to them that wait for
 you:
 And men shall put their trust in your
 prophets.

<sup>17</sup> Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of your suppliants,
 According to the blessing of Aaron concerning your people;
 And all they that are on the earth shall
 know
 That you are the Lord, the <sup>s</sup> eternal
 God.

<sup>18</sup> The belly will eat any meat;
 Yet is one meat better than another.

<sup>19</sup> The <sup>t</sup> mouth tastes meats taken in hunting:
 So does an understanding heart false
 speeches.

<sup>20</sup> A froward heart will cause heaviness:
 And a man of experience will recompense him.

<sup>21</sup> A woman will receive any man;
 But one daughter is better than another.

<sup>22</sup> The beauty of a woman cheers the
 countenance;
 And a man desires nothing so much.

<sup>23</sup> If there is on her tongue mercy and
 meekness,
 Her husband is not like the sons of men.

<sup>24</sup> He that gets a wife enters upon a
 possession:
 A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.

<sup>25</sup> Where no hedge is, the possession
 will be laid waste:

<sup>q</sup> The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities. <sup>r</sup> The ancient authorities read I took them for mine inheritance: but the Greek text is here very confused. <sup>s</sup> Gr. God of the ages. <sup>t</sup> Gr. throat.

And he that has no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.
<sup>26</sup> For who will trust a nimble robber,
 that skips from city to city?
 Even so who shall trust a man that has no nest, and lodges wherever he finds himself at nightfall?

37

<sup>1</sup> Every friend will say, I also am his
 friend:
 But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.
<sup>2</sup> Is there not a grief in it even to death,
 When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?
<sup>3</sup> O wicked imagination, whence came you rolling in
 To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?
<sup>4</sup> There is a companion, which rejoices
 in the gladness of a friend,
 But in time of affliction will be against
 him.
<sup>5</sup> There is a companion, which for the belly's sake labores with his
 friend,
 In the face of battle will take up the buckler.
<sup>6</sup> Forget not a friend in your soul;
 And be not unmindful of him in your
 riches.
<sup>7</sup> Every counsellor extols counsel;
 But there is that counsels for himself.
<sup>8</sup> Let your soul beware of a counsellor,
 And know you before what is his interest
 (For he will take counsel for himself);
 Lest he cast the lot upon you,
<sup>9</sup> And say to you, Your way is good:

And he will stand over against you, to see what shall befall you.
<sup>10</sup> Take not counsel with one that looks askance at you;
 And hide your counsel from such as are jealous of you.
<sup>11</sup> Take not counsel with a woman
 about her rival;
 Neither with a coward about war;
 Nor with a merchant about exchange;
 Nor with a buyer about selling;
 Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;
 Nor with an unmerciful man about
 kindness;
 Nor with a sluggard about any kind of
 work;
 Nor with a hireling in your house about
 finishing his work;
 Nor with an idle servant about much
 business:
 Give not heed to these in any matter of
 counsel.
<sup>12</sup> But rather be continually with a godly man, Whom you shall have known to be a keeper of the
 commandments,
 Who in his soul is as your own soul,
 And who will grieve with you, if you shall miscarry.
<sup>13</sup> And make the counsel of your heart
 to stand;
 For there is none more faithful to you
 than it.
<sup>14</sup> For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings,
 More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.
<sup>15</sup> And above all this entreat the Most
 High,

That he may direct your way in truth.
 16 Let reason be the beginning of every
     work,
 And let counsel go before every action.
 17 As a token of the changing of the
     heart,
 18 four manner of things do rise up,
 Good and evil, life and death;
 And that which rules over them continually is the tongue.
 19 There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
 And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.
 20 There is one that is subtil in words,
     and is hated;
 He shall be destitute of all food:
 21 For grace was not given him from the Lord;
 Because he is deprived of all wisdom.
 22 There is one that is wise to his own
     soul;
 And the fruits of his understanding are
     trustworthy in the mouth.
 23 A wise man will instruct his own
     people;
 And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
 24 A wise man shall be filled with
     blessing;
 And all they that see him shall call him
     happy.
 25 The life of man is numbered by days;
 And the days of Israel are innumerable.
 26 The wise man shall inherit confidence among his
     people,
 And his name shall live for ever.
 27 My son, prove your soul in your life,
 And see what is evil for it, and give not
     that to it.

28 For all things are not profitable for all men,
 Neither has every soul pleasure in every
     thing.
 29 Be not insatiable in any luxury,
 And be not greedy on the things that you eatest.
 30 For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
 And surfeiting shall come near to colic.
 31 Because of surfeiting have many
     perished;
 But he that takes heed shall prolong his
     life.

38

1 Honor a physician according to your need of him with the honors
     due to him:
 For verily the Lord has created him.
 2 For from the Most High comes
     healing;
 And from the king he shall receive a
     gift.
 3 The skill of the physician shall lift up
     his head;
 And in the sight of great men he shall
     be admired.
 4 The Lord created medicines out of the
     earth;
 And a prudent man will have no disgust
     at them.
 5 Was not water made sweet with wood,
 That the virtue thereof might be
     known?
 6 And he gave men skill,
 That <sup>u</sup> they might be glorified in his marvelous works.
 7 With them does he heal a man,
 And takes away his pain.

<sup>8</sup> With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of
the earth.

<sup>9</sup> My son, in your sickness be not negligent;
But pray to the Lord, and he shall heal
you.

<sup>10</sup> Put away wrong doing, and order
your hands aright,
And cleanse your heart from all manner
of sin.

<sup>11</sup> Give a sweet savor, and a memorial
of fine flour;
And make fat your offering, as one that is not.

<sup>12</sup> Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord has created
him;
And let him not go from you, for you
have need of him.

<sup>13</sup> There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.

<sup>14</sup> For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.

<sup>15</sup> He that sins before his Maker, Let him fall into the hands of the physician.

<sup>16</sup> My son, let your tears fall over the
dead,
And as one that suffers grievously
begin lamentation;
And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.

<sup>17</sup> Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,
And let your mourning be according to his desert,
For one day or two, lest you be evil
spoken of:

And so be comforted for your sorrow.

<sup>18</sup> For of sorrow comes death,
And sorrow of heart will bow down the
strength.

<sup>19</sup> In calamity sorrow also remains:
And the poor man's life is <sup>v</sup> grievous to
the heart.

<sup>20</sup> Give not your heart to sorrow:
Put it away, remembering the last end:

<sup>21</sup> Forget it not, for there is no returning
again:

Him you shall not profit, and you will hurt yourself.

<sup>22</sup> Remember the sentence upon him;
for so also shall your be;
Yesterday for me, and today for you.

<sup>23</sup> When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;
And be comforted for him, when his spirit departs from him.

<sup>24</sup> The wisdom of the scribe comes by opportunity of leisure;
And <sup>w</sup> he that has little business shall become wise.

<sup>25</sup> How shall he become wise that holds
the plow,
That glories in the shaft of the goad,
That drives oxen, and is occupied in their labors,
And whose discourse is of the stock of
bulls?

<sup>26</sup> He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;

And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.
<sup>27</sup> So is every artificer and workmaster,
 That passes his time by night as by day;
 They that cut gravings of signets,
 And his diligence is to make great variety;
 He will set his heart to preserve likeness
 in his portraiture,
 And will be wakeful to finish his work.
<sup>28</sup> So is the smith sitting by the anvil,
 And considering the unwrought iron:
 The vapor of the fire will waste his
 flesh;
 And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work:
 The noise of the hammer will <sup>x</sup> be ever
 in his ear,
 And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;
 He will set his heart upon perfecting his
 works,
 And And he will be wakeful to adorn
 them perfectly.
<sup>29</sup> So is the potter sitting at his work,
 And turning the wheel about with his
 feet,
 Who is always anxiously set at his
 work,
 And all his handywork is by number;
<sup>30</sup> He will fashion the clay with his arm,
 And will bend its strength in front of his
 feet;
 He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;
 And he will be wakeful to make clean
 the furnace.
<sup>31</sup> All these put their trust in their
 hands;

And each becomes wise in his own
 work.
<sup>32</sup> Without these shall not a city be inhabited,
 And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.
<sup>33</sup> <sup>y</sup> They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,
 And in the assembly they shall not
 mount on high;
 They shall not sit on the seat of the
 judge,
 And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:
 Neither shall they declare instruction
 and judgement;
 And where parables are they shall not be found.
<sup>34</sup> But they will maintain the fabric of the <sup>z</sup> world;
 And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

39

<sup>1</sup> <sup>a</sup> Not so he that has applied his soul,
 And meditateth in the law of the Most
 High;
 He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,
 And will be occupied in prophecies.
<sup>2</sup> He will keep the discourse of the men
 of renown,
 And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.
<sup>3</sup> He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,
 And be conversant in the dark sayings
 of parables.
<sup>4</sup> He will serve among great men,
 And appear before him that rules:

He will travel through the land of strange nations;
 For he has tried good things and evil
     among men.
<sup>5</sup> He will apply his heart to resort early
     to the Lord that made him,
 And will make supplication before the
     Most High,
 And will open his mouth in prayer,
 And will make supplication for his sins.
<sup>6</sup> If the great Lord will,
 He shall be filled with the spirit of
     understanding:
 He shall pour forth the words of his
     wisdom,
 And in prayer give thanks to the Lord.
<sup>7</sup> He shall direct his counsel and
     knowledge,
 And in his secrets shall he meditate.
<sup>8</sup> He shall show forth the instruction
     which he has been taught,
 And shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.
<sup>9</sup> Many shall commend his
     understanding;
 And so long as the world endures, it shall not be blotted out:
 His memorial shall not depart,
 And his name shall live from generation to generation.
<sup>10</sup> Nations shall declare his wisdom,
 And the congregation shall tell out his
     praise.
<sup>11</sup> If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:
 And if he <sup>b</sup> die, he adds thereto.
<sup>12</sup> Yet more will I utter, which I have thought upon;

And I am filled as the moon at the full.
<sup>13</sup> Hearken to me, you<sup>23</sup> holy children,
 And bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water:
<sup>14</sup> And give you<sup>23</sup> a sweet savor as frankencense,
 And put forth flowers as a lily,
 Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise;
 Bless you<sup>23</sup> the Lord for all his works.
<sup>15</sup> Magnify his name,
 And give utterance to his praise
 With the songs of your lips, and with
     harps;
 And thus shall you<sup>23</sup> say when you<sup>23</sup>
     utter his praise:
<sup>16</sup> All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,
 And every command shall be accomplished in his season.
<sup>17</sup> None can say, What is this?
     wherefore is that?
 For in his season they shall all be sought out.
 At his word the waters stood as a heap,
 And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.
<sup>18</sup> At his command is all his good pleasure done;
 And there is none that shall hinder his
     salvation.
<sup>19</sup> The works of all flesh are before
     him;
 And it is not possible to be hid from his
     eyes.
<sup>20</sup> He sees from everlasting to
     everlasting;
 And there is nothing wonderful before
     him.

<sup>b</sup> Gr. cease.

21 None can say, What is this?
     wherefore is that?
 For all things are created for their uses.
 22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river,
 And saturated it as a flood.
 23 As he has turned the waters into saltness;
 So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.
 24 His ways are plain to the holy;
 So are they stumbling blocks to the
     wicked.
 25 Good things are created from the beginning for the good;
 So are evil things for sinners.
 26 The chief of all things necessary for the life of man
 Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt,
 And flour of wheat, and honey, and
     milk,
 The blood of the grape, and oil, and
     clothing.
 27 All these things are for good to the
     godly;
 So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.
 28 There be winds that are created for
     vengeance,
 And in their fury lay on their scourges
     heavily;
 In the time of consummation they pour
     out their strength,
 And shall appease the wrath of him that
     made them.
 29 Fire, and hail, and famine, and death,
 All these are created for vengeance;
 30 Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions
     and adders,
 And a sword punishing the ungodly to
     destruction.

31 They shall rejoice in his commandment,
 And shall be made ready upon earth,
     when need is;
 And in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.
 32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved,
 And I thought this, and left it in writing;
 33 All the works of the Lord are good:
 And he will supply every need in its
     season.
 34 And none can say, This is worse than that:
 For they shall all be well approved in
     their season.
 35 And now with all your heart and mouth sing you<sup>c</sup> praises,
 And bless the name of the Lord.

1 Great travail is created for every man,
 And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
 From the day of their coming forth from
     their mother's womb,
 Until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.
 2 The expectation of things to come,
     and the day of death,
<sup>c</sup> Trouble their thoughts, and cause
     fear of heart;
 3 From him that sits on a throne of
     glory,
 Even to him that is humbled in earth
     and ashes;
 4 From him that wears purple and a
     crown,

Even to him that is clothed with a hempen frock.
<sup>5</sup> There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble, and disquiet,
 And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
 And in the time of rest upon his bed
 His night sleep does change his
 knowledge.
<sup>6</sup> A little or nothing is his resting,
 And afterward in his sleep, as in a day
 of keeping watch,
 He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
 As one that has escaped from the front
 of battle.
<sup>7</sup> In the very time of his deliverance he awakens,
 And marvels that the fear is nothing.
<sup>8</sup> It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
 And upon sinners sevenfold more.
<sup>9</sup> Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and
 sword,
 Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;
<sup>10</sup> All these things were created for the
 wicked,
 And because of them came the flood.
<sup>11</sup> All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
 And all things that are of the waters
 return into the sea.
<sup>12</sup> All bribery and injustice shall be
 blotted out;
 And good faith shall stand for ever.
<sup>13</sup> The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river,
 And like a great thunder in rain shall go off in noise.
<sup>14</sup> In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:

So shall transgressors utterly fail.
<sup>15</sup> The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
 And are as unclean roots upon a sheer
 rock.
<sup>16</sup> The sedge that grows upon every water and bank of a river
 Shall be plucked up before all grass.
<sup>17</sup> Bounty is as a garden <sup>d</sup> of blessings,
 And almsgiving endures for ever.
<sup>18</sup> The life of one that labores, and is contented, shall be made sweet;
 And he that finds a treasure is above
 both.
<sup>19</sup> Children and the building of a city
 establish a man's name;
 And a blameless wife is counted above
 both.
<sup>20</sup> Wine and music rejoice the heart;
 And the love of wisdom is above both.
<sup>21</sup> The pipe and the lute make pleasant
 melody;
 And a pleasant tongue is above both.
<sup>22</sup> Your eye shall desire grace and
 beauty;
 And above both the green blade of corn.
<sup>23</sup> A friend and a companion never meet amiss;
 And a wife with her husband is above
 both.
<sup>24</sup> Brethren and succour are for a time
 of affliction;
 And almsgiving is a deliverer above
 both.
<sup>25</sup> Gold and silver will make the foot
 stand sure;
 And counsel is esteemed above them
 both.

<sup>26</sup> Riches and strength will lift up the
     heart;
 And the fear of the Lord is above both:
 There is nothing lacking in the fear of
     the Lord,
 And there is no need to seek help
     therein.
<sup>27</sup> The fear of the Lord is as a garden of
     blessing,
 And covers <sup>e</sup> a man above all glory.
<sup>28</sup> My son, lead not a beggar's life;
 Better it is to die than to beg.
<sup>29</sup> A man that looks to the table of
     another,
 His life is not to be counted for a life;
 He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
 But a man wise and well-instructed will
     beware thereof.
<sup>30</sup> In the mouth of the shameless
     begging will be sweet;
 And in his belly a fire shall be kindled.

41

<sup>1</sup> O death, how bitter is the remembrance of you to a man that is at peace in his possessions,
 To the man that has nothing to distract
     him, and has prosperity in all
     things,
 And that still has strength to receive
     meat!
<sup>2</sup> O death, acceptable is your sentence
     to a man that is needy, and that fails in strength,
 That is in extreme old age, and is distracted about all things,
 And is perverse, and has lost patience!
<sup>3</sup> Fear not the sentence of death;

Remember them that have been before
     you, and that come after:
 This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.
<sup>4</sup> And why do you refuse, when it is the good pleasure of the Most
     High?
 Whether it be ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years,
 There is no inquisition of life in <sup>f</sup> the
     grave.
<sup>5</sup> The children of sinners are abominable children,
 And they frequent the dwellings of the
     ungodly.
<sup>6</sup> The inheritance of sinners' children
     shall perish,
 And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.
<sup>7</sup> Children will complain of an ungodly
     father,
 Because they shall be reproached for his sake.
<sup>8</sup> Woe to you, ungodly men,
 Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God! <sup>g</sup> <sup>9</sup> If you <sup>23</sup> be born, you <sup>23</sup> shall be born to a curse;
 If you <sup>23</sup> die, a curse shall be your portion.
<sup>10</sup> All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
 So the ungodly shall go from a curse to perdition.
<sup>11</sup> The mourning of men is about their bodies:
 But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.
<sup>12</sup> Have regard to your name;

<sup>e</sup> Gr. him.   <sup>f</sup> Gr. hades   <sup>g</sup> The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

For it continueth with you longer than a thousand great treasures of
gold.

<sup>13</sup> A good life has its number of days;
And a good name continueth for ever.

<sup>14</sup> My children, keep instruction in
peace:

But wisdom that is hid, and a treasure
that is not seen,

What profit is in them both?

<sup>15</sup> Better is a man that hides his foolishness

Than a man that hides his wisdom.

<sup>16</sup> Wherefore show reverence to my
word:

For it is not good to retain every kind of
shame;

And not all things are approved by all
in good faith.

<sup>17</sup> Be ashamed of whoredom before
father and mother:

And of a lie before a prince and a
mighty man;

<sup>18</sup> Of an offence before a judge and
ruler;

Of iniquity before the congregation and
the people;

Of unjust dealing before a partner and
friend;

<sup>19</sup> And of theft in regard of the place
where you sojourn,

And in regard of the truth of God and his covenant;

And of leaning with your elbow at
meat;

And of scurrility in the matter of giving
and taking;

<sup>20</sup> And of silence before them that salute you;

And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;

<sup>21</sup> And of turning away <sup>h</sup> your face from a kinsman;

Of taking away a portion or a gift;
And of gazing upon a woman that has a
husband;

<sup>22</sup> Of being over busy with his maid;
and come not near her bed;

Of upbraiding speeches before friends;
And after you have given, upbraid not;

<sup>23</sup> Of repeating and speaking what you have heard;

And of revealing of secrets.

<sup>24</sup> So shall you be truly shamefast,
And find favor in the sight of every
man.

42

<sup>1</sup> Of these things be not ashamed,
And accept no man's person to sin
thereby:

<sup>2</sup> Of the law of the Most High, and his
covenant;
And of judgement to do justice to the
ungodly;

<sup>3</sup> Of reckoning with a partner and with travellers;
And of a gift from the heritage of
friends;

<sup>4</sup> Of exactness of balance and weights;
And of getting much or little;

<sup>5</sup> Of indifferent selling of merchants;
And of much correction of children;
And of making the side of an evil
servant to bleed.

<sup>6</sup> <sup>i</sup> Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is;
And where many hands are, shut you close.

<sup>7</sup> Whatsoever you handest over, let it be
by number and weight;
And in giving and receiving let all be in writing.

<sup>8</sup> Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise
and foolish,
And one of extreme old age that contends with those that are
young;
And so shall you be well instructed
indeed,
And approved in the sight of every man
living.

<sup>9</sup> A daughter is a secret cause of
wakefulness to a father;
And the care for her puts away sleep;
In her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age;
And when she is married, lest she
should be hated:

<sup>10</sup> In her virginity, lest she should be defiled
And be with child in her father's house;
And when she has a husband, lest she should transgress;
And when she is married, lest she
should be barren.

<sup>11</sup> Keep a strict watch over a headstrong
daughter,
Lest she make you <sup>j</sup> a laughing stock to
your enemies,
A byword in the city and <sup>k</sup> notorious
among the people,
And shame you before the multitude.

<sup>12</sup> Look not upon every body in regard
of beauty,

And sit not in the midst of women;

<sup>13</sup> For from garments comes a moth,
And from a woman a woman's
wickedness.

<sup>14</sup> Better is the wickedness of a man than a pleasant-dealing
woman,

And a woman which puts you to shameful reproach.

<sup>15</sup> I will make mention now of the works of the Lord,
And will declare the things that I have seen:

In the words of the Lord are his works.

<sup>16</sup> The sun that gives light looks upon
all things;
And the work of the Lord is full of his
glory.

<sup>17</sup> The Lord has not given power to the saints to declare all his
marvelous works;
Which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,
That whatever is might be established
in his glory.

<sup>18</sup> He searcheth out the deep, and the
heart,
And he has understanding of their cunning devices:
For the Most High knows all
knowledge,

And he looks into the <sup>l</sup> signs of the
world,

<sup>19</sup> Declaring the things that are past,
and the things that shall be,
And revealing the traces of hidden
things.

<sup>20</sup> No thought escapes him;
There is not a word hid from him.

<sup>21</sup> The mighty works of his wisdom he has ordered,
Who is from everlasting to everlasting:

<sup>j</sup> Or, a rejoicing    <sup>k</sup> Gr. called forth.    <sup>l</sup> Gr. sign.

Nothing has been added to them, nor diminished from them;
And he had no need of any counsellor.
22 How desirable are all his works!
One may behold this even to a spark.
23 All these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses,
And they are all obedient.
24 All things are double one against
another:
And he has made nothing imperfect.
25 One thing establishes the good things
of another:
And who shall be filled with beholding
his glory?

43

1 The pride of the height is the firmament <sup>m</sup> in its clearness,
The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.
2 The sun when he appears, bringing tidings as he goes forth,
Is a marvelous instrument, the work of
the Most High:
3 At his noon he dries up the country,
And who shall stand against his burning
heat?
4 A man blowing a furnace is in works
of heat,
But the sun three times more, burning
up the mountains:
Breathing out fiery vapours,
And sending forth bright beams, he dims the eyes.
5 Great is the Lord that made him;
And at his word he hastens his course.
6 The moon also is in all things for her
season,

For a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

7 From the moon is the sign of the feast
day;
A light that waneth when she is come to the full.
8 The month is called after her name,
Increasing wonderfully in her changing;
An instrument of the hosts on high, Shining forth in the firmament of
heaven;
9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars,
An ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
10 At the word of the Holy One they will stand in <sup>n</sup> due order,
And they will not faint in their watches.
11 Look upon the rainbow, and praise
him that made it;
Exceeding beautiful in the brightness
thereof.
12 It encircles the heaven round about
with a circle of glory;
The hands of the Most High have stretched it.
13 By his commandment he makes the snow to fall apace,
And sends swiftly the lightnings of his
judgement.
14 By reason thereof the treasure-houses
are opened;
And clouds fly forth as fowls.
15 By his mighty power he makes strong the clouds,
And the hailstones are broken small:
16 And at his appearing the mountains
will be shaken,
And at his will the south wind will blow.

<sup>m</sup> Gr. of clearness. <sup>n</sup> Gr. judgement.

17 The voice of his thunder makes the earth to travail;
 So does the northern storm and the
     whirlwind:
 As birds flying down he sprinkleth the
     snow;
 And as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof:
 18 The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness,
 And the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.
 19 The hoar frost also he pours on the earth as salt;
 And when it is congealed, it is as
     points of thorns.
 20 The cold north wind shall blow,
 And the ice shall be congealed on the
     water:
 It shall lodge upon every gathering
     together of water,
 And the water shall put on as it were a
     breastplate.
 21 It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness,
 And consume the green herb as fire.
 22 A mist coming speedily is the healing
     of all things;
 A dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.
 23 By his counsel he has stilled the
     deep,
 And <sup>o</sup> planted islands therein.
 24 They that sail on the sea tell of the danger thereof;
 And when we hear it with our ears, we marvel.
 25 Therein be also those strange and
     wondrous works,

Variety of all that has life, the <sup>p</sup> race of sea-monsters.
 26 By reason of him his end has success,
 And by his word all things consist.
 27 We may say many things, yet shall
     we not attain;
 And the sum of our words is, He is all.
 28 How shall we have strength to glorify
     him?
 For he is himself the great one above all
     his works.
 29 The Lord is terrible and exceeding
     great;
 And marvelous is his power.
 30 When you<sup>q</sup> glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as you<sup>q</sup> can;
 For even yet will he exceed:
 And when you<sup>q</sup> exalt him, put forth
     your full strength:
 Be not weary; for you<sup>q</sup> will never attain.
 31 Who has seen him, that he may declare him?
 And who shall magnify him as he is?
 32 Many things are hidden greater than these;
 For we have seen but a few of his
     works.
 33 For the Lord made all things;
 And to the godly gave he wisdom.

44

1 Let us now praise famous men,
 And our fathers that became the father
     of us.
 2 The Lord <sup>q</sup> manifested in them great
     glory,
Even his mighty power from the
     beginning.

<sup>o</sup> The most ancient authorities read Jesus planted it. <sup>p</sup> Gr. creation. Several ancient authorities read possession of cattle.

<sup>3</sup> Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms,
And were men renowned for their
power,
<sup>r</sup> Giving counsel by their understanding,
Such as have brought tidings in prophecies:
<sup>4</sup> Leaders of the people by their
counsels,
And by their understanding <sup>s</sup> men of
learning for the people;
Wise were their words in their
instruction:
<sup>5</sup> Such as sought out musical tunes,
And set forth verses in writing:
<sup>6</sup> Rich men furnished with ability,
Living peaceably in their habitations:
<sup>7</sup> All these were honored in their
generations,
And were a glory in their days.
<sup>8</sup> There be of them, that have left a name behind them,
To declare their praises.
<sup>9</sup> And some there be, which have no
memorial;
Who are perished as though they had
not been,
And are become as though they had not been born;
And their children after them.
<sup>10</sup> But these were men of mercy, Whose righteous deeds have not been
forgotten.
<sup>11</sup> With their seed shall remain continually a good
inheritance;
Their children are <sup>t</sup> within the covenants.
<sup>12</sup> Their seed stands fast,

And their children for their sakes.
<sup>13</sup> Their seed shall remain for ever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.
<sup>14</sup> Their bodies were buried in peace,
And their name lives to all generations.
<sup>15</sup> Peoples will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation tells out their
praise.
<sup>16</sup> Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all
generations.
<sup>17</sup> Noah was found perfect and
righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
Therefore was there left a remnant to
the earth,
When the flood came.
<sup>18</sup> Everlasting covenants were made
with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted
out by a flood.
<sup>19</sup> Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in
glory;
<sup>20</sup> Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
In his flesh he established the covenant;
And when he was proved, he was found
faithful.
<sup>21</sup> Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in
his seed;
That he would multiply him as the dust
of the earth,
And exalt his seed as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to
sea,

<sup>r</sup> Most authorities read They shall take counsel. <sup>s</sup> The Greek text is here corrupt. <sup>t</sup> Or, In their testaments

And from the River to the utmost part
of the earth.

<sup>22</sup> In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the
covenant:

<sup>23</sup> And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45

<sup>1</sup> And he brought out of him a man of
mercy,
Which found favor in the sight of all
flesh;
A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,
Whose memorial is blessed.

<sup>2</sup> He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his
enemies.

<sup>3</sup> By his words he caused the wonders
to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
He gave him commandment for his
people,
And showed him part of his glory.

<sup>4</sup> He sanctified him in his faithfulness
and meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.

<sup>5</sup> He made him to hear his voice,
And led him into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments face to
face,

Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgments.

<sup>6</sup> He exalted Aaron, a holy man like to
him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

<sup>7</sup> He established for him an everlasting
covenant,
And gave him the priesthood of the
people;

He <sup>u</sup> beautified him with comely
ornaments,
And girded him about with a robe of
glory.

<sup>8</sup> He clothed him with the perfection of
exultation;
And strengthened him with apparel of <sup>v</sup>
honor,
The linen breeches, the long robe, and
the ephod.

<sup>9</sup> And he compassed him with pomegranates of gold,
And with many bells round about,
To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
For a memorial to the children of his
people;

<sup>10</sup> With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,
With an oracle of judgement, even with the Urim and Thummim;

<sup>11</sup> With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;
With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold,
the work of the jeweller,

<sup>u</sup> Gr. blessed. <sup>v</sup> Gr. strength.

For a memorial engraved in writing,
after the number of the tribes
of Israel;

<sup>12</sup> With a crown of gold upon the mitre, <sup>w</sup> having graven on it, as on a signet, HOLINESS,
An ornament of honor, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

<sup>13</sup> Before him there never have been any such;
No stranger put them on, but his sons
only, and his offspring perpetually.

<sup>14</sup> His sacrifices shall be wholly
consumed
Every day twice continually.
<sup>15</sup> Moses <sup>x</sup> consecrated him,
And anointed him with holy oil:
It was to him for an everlasting
covenant,
And to his seed, all the days of heaven,
To minister to him, and to execute also
the priest's office,
And bless his people in his name.

<sup>16</sup> He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord, Incense, and a sweet savor, for a
memorial,
To make reconciliation for your people.

<sup>17</sup> He gave to him in his
commandments,
Yes, authority in the covenants of judgements,
To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.

<sup>18</sup> Strangers gathered themselves
together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness,

Even Dathan and Abiram with their
company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

<sup>19</sup> The Lord saw it, and it displeased
him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were
destroyed:

He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

<sup>20</sup> And he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
He divided to him the first fruits of the
increase;

And first did he prepare bread in
abundance:

<sup>21</sup> For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave to him and to his seed.

<sup>22</sup> Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he has no portion among the
people:

For he himself is your portion and
inheritance.

<sup>23</sup> And Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,

And stood fast in the good forwardness
of his soul when the people
turned away,

And he made reconciliation for Israel.

<sup>24</sup> Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,
That he should be leader of the <sup>y</sup> saints
and of his people;
That he and his seed Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

<sup>w</sup> Gr. an engraving of a signet of holiness.    <sup>x</sup> Gr. filled his hands.    <sup>y</sup> Or, sanctuary

<sup>25</sup> Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe
 of Judah;
 The inheritance of the king is his alone
 from son to son;
 So the inheritance of Aaron is also to
 his seed.

<sup>26</sup> God give you wisdom in your heart
 To judge his people in righteousness,
 That their good things be not abolished,
 And that their glory endure for all their generations.

<sup>1</sup> Joshua the son of <sup>z</sup> Nun was valiant in
 war,
 And was the successor of Moses in
 prophecies:
 Who according to his name was made
 great

For the saving of <sup>a</sup> God's elect,
 To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,
 That he might give Israel their
 inheritance.

<sup>2</sup> How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands,
 And in stretching out his sword against
 the cities!

<sup>3</sup> Who before him so stood fast?
 For the Lord himself brought his enemies to him.

<sup>4</sup> Did not the sun go back by his hand?
 And did not one day become as two?

<sup>5</sup> He called upon the Most High and
 Mighty One,
 When his foes pressed him round about;
 And the great Lord heard him.

<sup>6</sup> With hailstones of mighty power

He caused war to break violently upon
 the nation,

And <sup>b</sup> in the going down he destroyed
 them that resisted;

That the nations might know his <sup>c</sup>
 armor,

How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;

For he followed after the Mighty One.

<sup>7</sup> Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,

He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
 In that they withstood the adversary,

Hindered the people from sin,

And stilled the murmuring of
 wickedness.

<sup>8</sup> And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were
 preserved

To bring them into the heritage, Even into a land flowing with milk and
 honey.

<sup>9</sup> Also the Lord gave strength to Caleb,
 And it remained with him to his old
 age;

So that he entered upon the height of
 the land,

And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

<sup>10</sup> That all the children of Israel might
 see

That it is good to walk after the Lord.

<sup>11</sup> Also the judges, every one by his
 name,

All whose hearts went not a whoring,
 And who turned not away from the

Lord,

May their memorial be blessed.

<sup>12</sup> May their bones flourish again out of their place,

And may the name of them that have been honored be renewed upon their children.

<sup>13</sup> Samuel, the prophet of the Lord,
 beloved of his Lord, Established a kingdom, and anointed
 princes over his people.

<sup>14</sup> By the law of the Lord he judged the
 congregation,
 And the Lord visited Jacob.

<sup>15</sup> By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,
 And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

<sup>16</sup> Also when his enemies pressed him round about
 He called upon the Lord, the Mighty
 One,
 With the offering of the sucking lamb.

<sup>17</sup> And the Lord thundered from
 heaven,
 And with a mighty sound made his voice to be heard.

<sup>18</sup> And he utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians,
 And all the princes of the Philistines.

<sup>19</sup> Also before the time of his <sup>d</sup> long
 sleep
 He made protestations in the sight of the lord and his anointed,
 I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:
 And no man did accuse him.

<sup>20</sup> And after he fell asleep he
 prophesied,
 And showed the king his end,
 And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
 To blot out the wickedness of the
 people.

<sup>d</sup> Gr. age-long sleep.

47

<sup>1</sup> And after him rose up Nathan
 To prophesy in the days of David.

<sup>2</sup> As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
 So was David separated from the
 children of Israel.

<sup>3</sup> He played with lions as with kids,
 And with bears as with lambs of the flock.

<sup>4</sup> In his youth did he not kill a giant,
 And take away reproach from the
 people,
 When he lifted up his hand with a sling
 stone,
 And beat down the boasting of Goliath?

<sup>5</sup> For he called upon the Most High
 Lord;
 And he gave him strength in his right
 hand,
 To kill a man mighty in war,
 To exalt the horn of his people.

<sup>6</sup> So they glorified him for his ten
 thousands,
 And praised him for the blessings of the
 Lord,
 In that there was given him a diadem of
 glory.

<sup>7</sup> For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
 And brought to nothing the Philistines
 his adversaries,
 Brake their horn in pieces to this day.

<sup>8</sup> In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High
 with words of glory;
 With his whole heart he sang praise,
 And loved him that made him.

<sup>9</sup> Also he set singers before the altar,

And to make sweet melody by their music. <sup>e</sup>

<sup>10</sup> He gave comeliness to the feasts,
And set in order the seasons to perfection,
While they praised his holy name,
And the sanctuary sounded from early
morning.

<sup>11</sup> The Lord took away his sins,
And exalted his horn for ever;
And gave him a covenant of kings,
And a throne of glory in Israel.

<sup>12</sup> After him rose up a son, a man of
understanding;
And for his sake he lived at large.

<sup>13</sup> Solomon reigned in days of peace;
And to him God gave rest round about,
That he might set up a house for his
name,

And prepare a sanctuary for ever.

<sup>14</sup> How wise was you made in your
youth,
And filled as a river with
understanding!

<sup>15</sup> Your soul covered the earth,
And you filled it with <sup>f</sup> dark parables.

<sup>16</sup> Your name reached to the aisles afar
off;

And for your peace you were beloved.

<sup>17</sup> For your songs and proverbs and
parables,
And for your interpretations, the countries marveled at you.

<sup>18</sup> By the name of the Lord God,
Which is called the God of Israel,
You did gather gold as tin,
And did multiply silver as lead.

<sup>19</sup> You did bow your loins to women,
And in your body you were brought into subjection.

<sup>20</sup> You did blemish your honor,
And profane your seed,
To bring wrath upon your children;
And I was grieved for your folly:

<sup>21</sup> So that the sovereignty was divided,
And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient
kingdom.

<sup>22</sup> But the Lord will never forsake his
mercy;
And he will not destroy any of his
works,

Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;

And he gave a remnant to Jacob,
And to David a root out of him.

<sup>23</sup> And so rested Solomon with his
fathers;

And of his seed he left behind him
Rehoboam,

Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked
understanding,

Who made the people to revolt by his
counsel.

Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
Who made Israel to sin,
And gave to Ephraim a way of sin.

<sup>24</sup> And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,

To remove them from their land.

<sup>25</sup> For they sought out all manner of
wickedness,

Till vengeance should come upon them.

48

<sup>1</sup> Also there arose Elijah the prophet as
fire,

And his word burned like a torch:

And by his zeal made them few in
number.
<sup>3</sup> By the word of the Lord he shut up
the heaven:
 Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
<sup>4</sup> How was you glorified, O Elijah, in your wondrous deeds!
 And who shall glory like to you?
<sup>5</sup> Who did raise up a dead man from
death,
 And from <sup>g</sup> the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High: <sup>6</sup> Who brought down kings to
destruction,
 And honorable men from their bed:
<sup>7</sup> Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
 And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:
<sup>8</sup> Who anointed kings for retribution,
 And prophets to succeed after him:
<sup>9</sup> Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
 In a chariot of fiery horses:
<sup>10</sup> Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
 To pacify anger, before it brake forth
into wrath;
 To turn the heart of the father to the
son,
 And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
<sup>11</sup> Blessed are they that saw you,
 And they that have been beautified with
love;
 For we also shall surely live.
<sup>12</sup> Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a
tempest:
 And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
 And in all his days he was not moved
by the fear of any ruler,
 And no one brought him into subjection.

<sup>13</sup> <sup>h</sup> Nothing was too high for him;
 And when he was laid on sleep his body
prophesied.
<sup>14</sup> As in his life he did wonders,
 So in death were his works marvelous.
<sup>15</sup> For all this the people repented not,
 And they departed not from their sins,
 Till they were carried away as a spoil
from their land,
 And were scattered through all the
earth;
 And the people was left very few in
number,
 And a ruler was left in the house of David.
<sup>16</sup> Some of them did that which was pleasing to God,
 And some multiplied sins.
<sup>17</sup> Hezekiah fortified his city,
 And brought in <sup>i</sup> water into the midst of
them:
 He digged the sheer rock with iron,
 And builded up wells for waters.
<sup>18</sup> In his days Sennacherib came up,
 And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
 And he lifted up his hand against Sion,
 And boasted great things in his arrogancy.
<sup>19</sup> Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,
 And they were in pain, as women in
travail;
<sup>20</sup> And they called upon the Lord which is merciful,
 Spreading forth their hands to him:
 And the Holy One heard them speedily
out of Heaven,
 And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

And his angel utterly destroyed them.

<sup>22</sup> For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,
And was strong in the ways of David
his father,
Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.

<sup>23</sup> In his days the sun went backward;
And he added life to the king.

<sup>24</sup> He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the
last;
And he comforted them that mourned in Sion.

<sup>25</sup> He showed the things that should be to the end of time,
And the hidden things or ever they came.

49

<sup>1</sup> The memorial of Josiah is like the composition of incense
Prepared by the work of the apothecary:
It shall be sweet as honey in every
mouth,

And as music at a banquet of wine.

<sup>2</sup> He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,
And took away the abominations of
iniquity.

<sup>3</sup> He set his heart right toward the Lord;
In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

<sup>4</sup> Except David and Hezekiah and Josiah,
All committed trespass:
For they forsook the law of the Most
High;

The kings of Judah failed.

<sup>5</sup> For they gave their <sup>j</sup> power to others,
And their glory to a strange nation.

<sup>6</sup> They set on fire the chosen city of the
sanctuary,
And made her streets desolate, as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.

<sup>7</sup> For they entreated him evil;
And yet he was sanctified in the womb
to be a prophet,
To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;
And in like manner to build and to plant.

<sup>8</sup> It was Ezekiel who saw the vision of
glory,
Which God showed him upon the chariot of the cherubim.

<sup>9</sup> For verily he remembered the enemies
in <sup>k</sup> storm,
And to do good to them that directed
their ways aright.

<sup>10</sup> Also of the twelve prophets <sup>l</sup>
May the bones flourish again out of their place.

And he comforted Jacob,
And delivered them by confidence of
hope.

<sup>11</sup> How shall we magnify Zerubbabel?
And he was as a signet on the right
hand:

<sup>12</sup> So was Jesus the son of Josedek:
Who in their days builded the house,
And exalted a <sup>m</sup> people holy to the Lord,
Prepared for everlasting glory.

<sup>13</sup> Also of Nehemiah the memorial is
great;

Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen,
 And set up the gates and bars,
 And raised up our homes again.
<sup>14</sup> No man was created upon the earth
 such as was Enoch;
 For he was taken up from the earth.
<sup>15</sup> Neither was there a man born like to Joseph,
 A governor of his brethren, a stay of the
 people:
 Yes, his bones were visited.
<sup>16</sup> Shem and Seth were glorified among
 men;
 And above every living thing in the creation is Adam.

50

<sup>1</sup> It was Simon, the son of Onias, the <sup>n</sup>
 great priest,
 Who in his life repaired the house,
 And in his days strengthened the
 temple:
<sup>2</sup> And by him was built from the foundation the height of the double wall,
 The lofty underworks of the inclosure
 of the temple:
<sup>3</sup> In his days the cistern of waters was <sup>o</sup> diminished,
 The brazen vessel in compass as the
 sea.
<sup>4</sup> It was he that took thought for his people that they should not
 fall,
 And fortified the city <sup>p</sup> against besieging:
<sup>5</sup> How glorious was he when the people gathered round him

At his coming forth out of the <sup>q</sup>
 sanctuary!
<sup>6</sup> As the morning star in the midst of a
 cloud,
 As the moon at the full:
<sup>7</sup> As the sun shining forth upon the temple of the Most High,
 And as the rainbow giving light in clouds of glory:
<sup>8</sup> As the flower of roses in the days of new fruits,
 As lilies at the waterspring,
 As the shoot of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:
<sup>9</sup> As fire and incense in the censer,
 As a vessel all of beaten gold Adorned with all manner of precious
 stones:
<sup>10</sup> As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
 And as a cypress growing high among
 the clouds.
<sup>11</sup> When he took up the robe of glory,
 And put on the perfection of exultation,
 In the ascent of the holy altar,
 He made glorious the precinct of the
 sanctuary.
<sup>12</sup> And when he received the portions
 out of the priests' hands, Himself also standing by the hearth of
 the altar,
 His brethren as a garland round about
 him,
 He was as a young cedar in Libanus;
 And as stems of palm trees compassed
 they him round about, <sup>13</sup> And all the sons of Aaron in their
 glory,
 And the Lord's offering in their hands,
 before all the congregation
 of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,
15 He stretched out his hand to the <sup>r</sup> cup,
And poured out the cup of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar
A sweet smelling savor to the Most High, the King of all.
16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten
work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most
High.
17 Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty,
God Most High.
18 The singers also praised him with
their voices;
In the whole house was there made
sweet melody.
19 And the people implored the Lord
Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful.
Till the <sup>s</sup> worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.
20 Then he went down, and lifted up his
hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing to the Lord with his
lips,
And to glory in his name.

21 And he bowed himself down in worship the second time,
To declare the blessing from the Most
High.
22 And now bless you <sup>q</sup> the God of all,
Which everywhere does great things,
Which exalts our days from the womb,
And deals with us according to his
mercy.
23 May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of
eternity:
24 To intrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!
25 With two nations is my soul vexed,
And the third is no nation:
26 They that sit upon the mountain of <sup>t</sup>
Samaria, and the Philistines,
And that foolish people that dwells in Sichem.
27 I have <sup>u</sup> written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,
I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of
Jerusalem,
Who out of his heart poured forth
wisdom.
28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised
in these things;
And he that lays them up in his heart
shall become wise.
29 For if he do them, he shall be strong
to all things:
For the light of the Lord is his <sup>v</sup> guide.
<sup>w</sup>

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

<sup>w</sup> The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

<sup>1</sup> I will give thanks to you, O Lord, O
King,

And will praise you, O God my Saviour:
 I do give thanks to your name:
<sup>2</sup> For you were my protector and helper,
 And did deliver my body out of
     destruction,
 And out of the snare of a slanderous
     tongue,
 From lips that forge lies,
 And was my helper before them that stood by;
<sup>3</sup> And did deliver me, according to the abundance of your mercy,
     and greatness of your name,
 From the gnashings of teeth ready to
     devour,
 Out of the hand of such as sought my
     life,
 Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;
<sup>4</sup> From the choking of a fire on every
     side,
 And out of the midst of fire which I kindled not;
<sup>5</sup> Out of the depth of the belly of <sup>x</sup> the
     grave,
 And from an unclean tongue,
 And from lying words,
<sup>6</sup> The slander of an unrighteous tongue
     to the king.
 My soul drew near even to death,
 And my life was near to <sup>y</sup> the grave
     beneath.
<sup>7</sup> They compassed me on every side,
 And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succour of men,
 And it was not.
<sup>8</sup> And I remembered your mercy, O
     Lord,

And your working which has been from
     everlasting,
 How you deliver them that wait for you,
 And save them out of the hand of the
     enemies.
<sup>9</sup> And I lifted up my supplication from
     the earth,
 And prayed for deliverance from death.
<sup>10</sup> I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord,
 That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
 In the time when there was no help
     against the proud.
<sup>11</sup> I will praise your name continually,
 And will sing praise with thanksgiving;
 And my supplication was heard:
<sup>12</sup> For you saved me from destruction,
 And delivered me from the evil time:
 Therefore will I give thanks and praise
     to you,
 And bless the name of the Lord.
<sup>13</sup> When I was yet young,
 Or ever I went abroad,
 I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.
<sup>14</sup> Before the temple I asked for her,
 And I will seek her out even to the end.
<sup>15</sup> From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart
     delighted in her:
 My foot trod in uprightness,
 From my youth I tracked her out.
<sup>16</sup> I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
 And found for myself much instruction.
<sup>17</sup> I profited in her:
 To him that gives me wisdom I will give glory.
<sup>18</sup> For I purposed to practice her,

<sup>x</sup> Gr. Hades.   <sup>y</sup> Gr. Hades

And I was zealous for that which is
     good;
 And I shall never be put to shame.
 19 My soul has wrestled in her,
 And in my doing I was exact:
 I spread forth my hands to the heaven
     above,
 And bewailed my ignorances of her.
 20 I set my soul aright to her,
 And in pureness I found her.
 I got me a heart joined with her from
     the beginning:
 Therefore shall I not be forsaken.
 21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:
 Therefore have I gotten a good
     possession.
 22 The Lord gave me a tongue for my
     reward;
 And I will praise him therewith.
 23 Draw near to me, you<sup>23</sup> unlearned,
 And lodge in the house of instruction.

24 Say, wherefore are you<sup>24</sup> lacking in
     these things,
 And your souls are very thirsty?
 25 I opened my mouth, and spoke,
 Get her for yourselves without money.
 26 Put your neck under the yoke,
 And let your soul receive instruction:
 She is hard at hand to find.
 27 Behold with your eyes,
 How that I laboured but a little,
 And found for myself much rest.
 28 Get you instruction with a great sum
     of silver,
 And gain much gold by her.
 29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
 And may you<sup>29</sup> not be put to shame in praising him.
 30 Work your work before the time comes,
 And in his time he will give you your reward.

Hosea

1

<sup>3</sup> So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bore him a son.

<sup>4</sup> Yahweh said to him, "Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. <sup>5</sup> It will happen in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel."

Then he said to him, "Call her name Lo-Ruhamah<sup>b</sup>; for I will no longer have mercy on the house of Israel, that I should in any way pardon them. <sup>7</sup> But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and will save them by Yahweh their God,<sup>c</sup> and will not save them by bow, sword, battle, horses, or horsemen."

<sup>9</sup> He said, "Call his name Lo-Ammi<sup>d</sup>; for you are not my people, and I will not be yours. <sup>10</sup> Yet the number of the children of Israel will be as the sand of the sea, which can't be measured nor numbered; and it will come to pass that, in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,' they will be called 'sons of the living God.'

<sup>11</sup> The children of Judah and the children of Israel will be gathered together, and they will appoint themselves one head, and will go up from the land; for great will be the day of Jezreel.

2

<sup>1</sup> "Say to your brothers, 'My people!'<sup>e</sup>
and to your sisters, 'My loved one!'<sup>f</sup>

<sup>2</sup> Contend with your mother!
Contend, for she is not my wife,
neither am I her husband;
and let her put away her prostitution
from her face,
and her adulteries from between her
breasts;

<sup>3</sup> Lest I strip her naked,
and make her bare as in the day that
she was born,
and make her like a wilderness,
and set her like a dry land,
and kill her with thirst.

<sup>4</sup> Indeed, on her children I will have no
mercy;
for they are children of unfaithfulness;

- <sup>5</sup> For their mother has played the prostitute.
 She who conceived them has done shamefully;
 for she said, 'I will go after my lovers,
 who give me my bread and my water,
 my wool and my flax,
 my oil and my drink.'
<sup>6</sup> Therefore behold,<sup>g</sup> I will hedge up your way with thorns,
 and I will build a wall against her,
 that she can't find her way.
<sup>7</sup> She will follow after her lovers,
 but she won't overtake them;
 and she will seek them,
 but won't find them.
 Then she will say, 'I will go and return
 to my first husband;
 for then was it better with me than
 now.'
<sup>8</sup> For she did not know that I gave her the grain, the new wine, and
 the oil,
 and multiplied to her silver and gold, which they used for Baal.
<sup>9</sup> Therefore I will take back my grain in
 its time,
 and my new wine in its season,
 and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness.
<sup>10</sup> Now I will uncover her lewdness in
 the sight of her lovers,
 and no one will deliver her out of my hand.
- <sup>11</sup> I will also cause all her celebrations to
 cease:
 her feasts, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies.
<sup>12</sup> I will lay waste her vines and her fig
 trees,
 about which she has said, 'These are my wages that my lovers
 have given me;
 and I will make them a forest,'
 and the animals of the field shall eat
 them.
<sup>13</sup> I will visit on her the days of the Baals,
 to which she burned incense,
 when she decked herself with her
 earrings and her jewels,
 and went after her lovers,
 and forgot me," says Yahweh.
<sup>14</sup> "Therefore behold, I will allure her,
 and bring her into the wilderness,
 and speak tenderly to her.
<sup>15</sup> I will give her vineyards from there,
 and the valley of Achor for a door
 of hope;
 and she will respond there,
 as in the days of her youth,
 and as in the day when she came up
 out of the land of Egypt.
<sup>16</sup> It will be in that day," says Yahweh,
 "that you will call me 'my
 husband,'
 and no longer call me 'my master.'
<sup>17</sup> For I will take away the names of the Baals out of her mouth,
 and they will no longer be mentioned by name.

<sup>g</sup> "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

<sup>18</sup> In that day I will make a covenant for them with the animals of the field,
and with the birds of the sky,
and with the creeping things of the ground.

I will break the bow, the sword, and the battle out of the land,
and will make them lie down safely.

<sup>19</sup> I will betroth you to me forever.
Yes, I will betroth you to me in righteousness, in justice, in loving kindness, and in compassion.

<sup>20</sup> I will even betroth you to me in faithfulness;
and you shall know Yahweh.

<sup>21</sup> It will happen in that day, I will respond," says Yahweh,
"I will respond to the heavens,
and they will respond to the earth;
<sup>22</sup> and the earth will respond to the grain, and the new wine, and the oil;
and they will respond to Jezreel.

<sup>23</sup> I will sow her to me in the earth;
and I will have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy;
and I will tell those who were not my people, 'You are my people;'
and they will say, 'My God!'"

3

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh said to me, "Go again, love a woman loved by another, and an adulteress, even as Yahweh loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods, and love cakes of raisins."

<sup>2</sup> So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer <sup>h</sup> and a half of barley. <sup>3</sup> I said to her, "You shall stay with me many days. You shall not play the prostitute, and you shall not be with any other man. I will also be so toward you."

<sup>4</sup> For the children of Israel shall live many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without sacred stone, and without ephod or idols. <sup>5</sup> Afterward the children of Israel shall return, and seek Yahweh their God, and David their king, and shall come with trembling to Yahweh and to his blessings in the last days.

for Yahweh has a charge against the inhabitants of the land:

"Indeed there is no truth,
nor goodness,
nor knowledge of God in the land.

<sup>2</sup> There is cursing, lying, murder,
stealing, and committing adultery;
they break boundaries, and bloodshed causes bloodshed.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore the land will mourn,
and everyone who dwells therein
will waste away.

all living things in her,
even the animals of the field and
the birds of the sky;
yes, the fish of the sea also die.

<sup>4</sup> "Yet let no man bring a charge, neither let any man accuse; For your people are like those who

- bring charges against a priest.
- <sup>5</sup> You will stumble in the day,
and the prophet will also stumble
with you in the night;
and I will destroy your mother.
- <sup>6</sup> My people are destroyed for lack of
knowledge.
Because you have rejected knowledge, I will also reject
you,
that you may be no priest to me.
Because you have forgotten your God's
law,
I will also forget your children.
- <sup>7</sup> As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me.
I will change their glory into
shame.
- <sup>8</sup> They feed on the sin of my people,
and set their heart on their iniquity.
- <sup>9</sup> It will be, like people, like priest;
and I will punish them for their
ways,
and will repay them for their deeds.
- <sup>10</sup> They will eat, and not have enough.
They will play the prostitute, and will not increase;
because they have abandoned
giving to Yahweh.
- <sup>11</sup> Prostitution, wine, and new wine take away understanding.
- <sup>12</sup> My people consult with their wooden idol,
and answer to a stick of wood.
Indeed the spirit of prostitution has led them astray,
and they have been unfaithful to
their God.
- <sup>13</sup> They sacrifice on the tops of the
mountains,
and burn incense on the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths,
because its shade is good.
Therefore your daughters play the
prostitute,
and your brides commit adultery.
- <sup>14</sup> I will not punish your daughters when
they play the prostitute,
nor your brides when they commit adultery;
because the men consort with
prostitutes,
and they sacrifice with the shrine
prostitutes;
so the people without understanding
will come to ruin.
- <sup>15</sup> "Though you, Israel, play the
prostitute,
yet don't let Judah offend;
and don't come to Gilgal,
neither go up to Beth Aven,
nor swear, 'As Yahweh lives.'
- <sup>16</sup> For Israel has behaved extremely stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer.
Then how will Yahweh feed them
like a lamb in a meadow.
- <sup>17</sup> Ephraim is joined to idols.
Leave him alone!
- <sup>18</sup> Their drink has become sour.
They play the prostitute
continually.
Her rulers dearly love their shameful way.
- <sup>19</sup> The wind has wrapped her up in its
wings;
and they shall be disappointed
because of their sacrifices.

5

- <sup>1</sup> “Listen to this, you priests!
 Listen, house of Israel,
 and give ear, house of the king!
 For the judgment is against you;
 for you have been a snare at Mizpah,
 and a net spread on Tabor.
<sup>2</sup> The rebels are deep in slaughter;
 but I discipline all of them.
<sup>3</sup> I know Ephraim,
 and Israel is not hidden from me;
 for now, Ephraim, you have played the
 prostitute.
 Israel is defiled.
<sup>4</sup> Their deeds won’t allow them to turn to their God;
 for the spirit of prostitution is within them,
 and they don’t know Yahweh.
<sup>5</sup> The pride of Israel testifies to his face.
 Therefore Israel and Ephraim will stumble in their iniquity.
 Judah also will stumble with them.
<sup>6</sup> They will go with their flocks and with their herds to seek Yahweh;
 but they won’t find him.
 He has withdrawn himself from
 them.
<sup>7</sup> They are unfaithful to Yahweh;
 for they have borne illegitimate
 children.
 Now the new moon will devour
 them with their fields.
<sup>8</sup> “Blow the cornet in Gibeah,
 and the trumpet in Ramah!
 Sound a battle cry at Beth Aven,
 behind you, Benjamin!
<sup>9</sup> Ephraim will become a desolation in the day of rebuke.

- Among the tribes of Israel, I have made known that which will surely be.
<sup>10</sup> The princes of Judah are like those who remove a landmark.
 I will pour out my wrath on them
 like water.
<sup>11</sup> Ephraim is oppressed,
 he is crushed in judgment;
 Because he is intent in his pursuit
 of idols.
<sup>12</sup> Therefore I am to Ephraim like a
 moth,
 and to the house of Judah like
 rotteness.
<sup>13</sup> “When Ephraim saw his sickness,
 and Judah his wound,
 Then Ephraim went to Assyria,
 and sent to king Jareb:
 but he is not able to heal you,
 neither will he cure you of your wound.
<sup>14</sup> For I will be to Ephraim like a lion,
 and like a young lion to the house
 of Judah.
 I myself will tear in pieces and go away.
 I will carry off, and there will be no
 one to deliver.
<sup>15</sup> I will go and return to my place,
 until they acknowledge their offense,
 and seek my face.
 In their affliction they will seek me

6

- <sup>1</sup> “Come, and let us return to Yahweh;
 for he has torn us to pieces,
 and he will heal us;
 he has injured us,
 and he will bind up our wounds.

<sup>2</sup> After two days he will revive us.
 On the third day he will raise us up,
 and we will live before him.
<sup>3</sup> Let us acknowledge Yahweh.
 Let us press on to know Yahweh.
 As surely as the sun rises,
 Yahweh will appear.
 He will come to us like the rain,
 like the spring rain that waters the
 earth.”
<sup>4</sup> “Ephraim, what shall I do to you?
 Judah, what shall I do to you?
 For your love is like a morning
 cloud,
 and like the dew that disappears
 early.
<sup>5</sup> Therefore I have cut them to pieces
 with the prophets;
 I killed them with the words of my
 mouth.
 Your judgments are like a flash of
 lightning.
<sup>6</sup> For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice;
 and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
<sup>7</sup> But they, like Adam, have broken the
 covenant.
 They were unfaithful to me, there.
<sup>8</sup> Gilead is a city of those who work
 iniquity;
 it is stained with blood.
<sup>9</sup> As gangs of robbers wait to ambush a
 man,
 so the company of priests murder
 on the path toward Shechem, committing shameful crimes.
<sup>10</sup> In the house of Israel I have seen a horrible thing.
 There is prostitution in Ephraim.
 Israel is defiled.

<sup>11</sup> “Also, Judah, there is a harvest appointed for you,
 when I restore the fortunes of my
 people.

7

<sup>1</sup> When I would heal Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim is uncovered,
 also the wickedness of Samaria;
 for they commit falsehood,
 and the thief enters in,
 and the gang of robbers ravages
 outside.
<sup>2</sup> They don’t consider in their hearts that I remember all their
 wickedness.
 Now their own deeds have engulfed
 them.
 They are before my face.
<sup>3</sup> They make the king glad with their
 wickedness,
 and the princes with their lies.
<sup>4</sup> They are all adulterers.
 They are burning like an oven that
 the baker stops stirring,
 from the kneading of the dough,
 until it is leavened.
<sup>5</sup> On the day of our king, the princes made themselves sick with
 the heat of wine.
 He joined his hand with mockers.
<sup>6</sup> For they have prepared their heart like an oven,
 while they lie in wait.
 Their baker sleeps all the night.
 In the morning it burns as a flaming
 fire.
<sup>7</sup> They are all hot as an oven,
 and devour their judges.
 All their kings have fallen.

There is no one among them who calls to me.

<sup>8</sup> Ephraim, he mixes himself among the
nations.
Ephraim is a pancake not turned
over.

<sup>9</sup> Strangers have devoured his strength,
and he doesn't realize it.
Indeed, gray hairs are here and there on
him,
and he doesn't realize it.

<sup>10</sup> The pride of Israel testifies to his
face;
yet they haven't returned to Yahweh their God,
nor sought him, for all this.

<sup>11</sup> "Ephraim is like an easily deceived dove, without understanding.
They call to Egypt.
They go to Assyria.

<sup>12</sup> When they go, I will spread my net on
them.
I will bring them down like the birds of the sky.
I will chastise them, as their congregation has heard.

<sup>13</sup> Woe to them!
For they have wandered from me.
Destruction to them!
For they have trespassed against
me.
Though I would redeem them,
yet they have spoken lies against
me.

<sup>14</sup> They haven't cried to me with their
heart,
but they howl on their beds.
They assemble themselves for grain and
new wine.
They turn away from me.

<sup>15</sup> Though I have taught and strengthened their arms,
yet they plot evil against me.

<sup>16</sup> They return, but not to the Most High.
They are like a faulty bow.
Their princes will fall by the sword
for the rage of their tongue.
This will be their derision in the land of Egypt.

8

<sup>1</sup> "Put the trumpet to your lips!
Something like an eagle is over Yahweh's house,
because they have broken my
covenant,
and rebelled against my law.

<sup>2</sup> They cry to me, 'My God, we Israel acknowledge you!'

<sup>3</sup> Israel has cast off that which is
good.
The enemy will pursue him.

<sup>4</sup> They have set up kings, but not by me.
They have made princes, and I didn't approve.
Of their silver and their gold they have made themselves idols,
that they may be cut off.

<sup>5</sup> Let Samaria throw out his calf idol!
My anger burns against them!
How long will it be until they are capable of purity?

<sup>6</sup> For this is even from Israel!
The workman made it, and it is no
God;
indeed, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

<sup>7</sup> For they sow the wind,
and they will reap the whirlwind.
He has no standing grain.
The stalk will yield no head.

- If it does yield, strangers will swallow it up.
- <sup>8</sup> Israel is swallowed up.
Now they are among the nations
like a worthless thing.
- <sup>9</sup> For they have gone up to Assyria,
like a wild donkey wandering
alone.
Ephraim has hired lovers for
himself.
- <sup>10</sup> But although they sold themselves
among the nations,
I will now gather them;
and they begin to waste away
because of the oppression of the king of mighty ones.
- <sup>11</sup> Because Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning,
they became for him altars for sinning.
- <sup>12</sup> I wrote for him the many things of my
law;
but they were regarded as a strange
thing.
- <sup>13</sup> As for the sacrifices of my offerings,
they sacrifice flesh and eat it;
But Yahweh doesn't accept them.
Now he will remember their iniquity,
and punish their sins.
They will return to Egypt.
- <sup>14</sup> For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces;
and Judah has multiplied fortified
cities;
but I will send a fire on his cities,
and it will devour its fortresses."
- 9
- <sup>1</sup> Don't rejoice, Israel, to jubilation like
the nations;
- for you were unfaithful to your
God.
You love the wages of a prostitute
at every grain threshing
floor.
- <sup>2</sup> The threshing floor and the wine press
won't feed them,
and the new wine will fail her.
- <sup>3</sup> They won't dwell in Yahweh's land;
but Ephraim will return to Egypt,
and they will eat unclean food in Assyria.
- <sup>4</sup> They won't pour out wine offerings to Yahweh,
neither will they be pleasing to him.
Their sacrifices will be to them like
the bread of mourners;
all who eat of it will be polluted;
for their bread will be for their appetite.
It will not come into Yahweh's
house.
- <sup>5</sup> What will you do in the day of solemn
assembly,
and in the day of the feast of
Yahweh?
- <sup>6</sup> For, behold, they have gone away from
destruction.
Egypt will gather them up.
Memphis will bury them.
Nettles will possess their pleasant things of silver.
Thorns will be in their tents.
- <sup>7</sup> The days of visitation have come.
The days of reckoning have come.
Israel will consider the prophet to be a fool,
and the man who is inspired to be insane,
because of the abundance of your
sins,

- and because your hostility is great.
<sup>8</sup> A prophet watches over Ephraim with my God.
 A fowler's snare is on all of his paths,
 and hostility in the house of his
 God.
<sup>9</sup> They have deeply corrupted
 themselves,
 as in the days of Gibeah.
 He will remember their iniquity.
 He will punish them for their sins.
<sup>10</sup> I found Israel like grapes in the
 wilderness.
 I saw your fathers as the first ripe in
 the fig tree at its first season;
 but they came to Baal Peor, and consecrated themselves to the shameful thing,
 and became abominable like that
 which they loved.
<sup>11</sup> As for Ephraim, their glory will fly away like a bird.
 There will be no birth, no one with child, and no conception.
<sup>12</sup> Though they bring up their children,
 yet I will bereave them, so that not a man shall be left.
 Indeed, woe also to them when I depart from them!
<sup>13</sup> I have seen Ephraim, like Tyre,
 planted in a pleasant place;
 but Ephraim will bring out his children to the murderer.
<sup>14</sup> Give them—Yahweh what will you give?
 Give them a miscarrying womb and
 dry breasts.
<sup>15</sup> "All their wickedness is in Gilgal;

- for there I hated them.
 Because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of my house!
 I will love them no more.
 All their princes are rebels.
<sup>16</sup> Ephraim is struck.
 Their root has dried up.
 They will bear no fruit.
 Even though they give birth, yet I will kill the beloved ones of their womb."
<sup>17</sup> My God will cast them away, because they did not listen to him;
 and they will be wanderers among
 the nations.

10

- <sup>1</sup> Israel is a luxuriant vine that produces
 his fruit.
 According to the abundance of his fruit he has multiplied his
 altars.
 As their land has prospered, they have adorned their sacred
 stones.
<sup>2</sup> Their heart is divided.
 Now they will be found guilty.
 He will demolish their altars.
 He will destroy their sacred stones.
<sup>3</sup> Surely now they will say, "We have no king; for we don't fear
 Yahweh;
 and the king, what can he do for
 us?"
<sup>4</sup> They make promises, swearing falsely
 in making covenants.
 Therefore judgment springs up like poisonous weeds in the furrows of the field.

<sup>5</sup> The inhabitants of Samaria will be in terror for the calves of Beth Aven;
for its people will mourn over it,
Along with its priests who rejoiced
over it,
for its glory, because it has departed
from it.

<sup>6</sup> It also will be carried to Assyria for a present to a great king.
Ephraim will receive shame,
and Israel will be ashamed of his own counsel.

<sup>7</sup> Samaria and her king float away,
like a twig on the water.

<sup>8</sup> The high places also of Aven, the sin
of Israel, will be destroyed.
The thorn and the thistle will come up on their altars.
They will tell the mountains,
“Cover us!” and the hills,
“Fall on us!”

<sup>9</sup> “Israel, you have sinned from the days of Gibeah.
There they remained.
The battle against the children of iniquity doesn’t overtake them in Gibeah.

<sup>10</sup> When it is my desire, I will chastise
them;
and the nations will be gathered
against them,
when they are bound to their two
transgressions.

<sup>11</sup> Ephraim is a trained heifer that loves
to thresh;
so I will put a yoke on her beautiful neck.
I will set a rider on Ephraim.
Judah will plow.
Jacob will break his clods.

<sup>12</sup> Sow to yourselves in righteousness,
reap according to kindness.
Break up your fallow ground;
for it is time to seek Yahweh,
until he comes and rains
righteousness on you.

<sup>13</sup> You have plowed wickedness.
You have reaped iniquity.
You have eaten the fruit of lies,
for you trusted in your way, in the multitude of your mighty
men.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore a battle roar will arise
among your people,
and all your fortresses will be
destroyed,
as Shalman destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of battle.
The mother was dashed in pieces
with her children.

<sup>15</sup> So Bethel will do to you because of your great wickedness.
At daybreak the king of Israel will be destroyed.

11

<sup>1</sup> “When Israel was a child, then I loved
him,

and called my son out of Egypt.

<sup>2</sup> They called to them, so they went from
them.

They sacrificed to the Baals,
and burned incense to engraved images.

<sup>3</sup> Yet I taught Ephraim to walk.
I took them by his arms;
but they didn’t know that I healed
them.

<sup>4</sup> I drew them with cords of a man, with ties of love;

and I was to them like those who lift up the yoke on their necks;
 and I bent down to him and I fed
 him.

<sup>5</sup> “They won’t return into the land of Egypt;
 but the Assyrian will be their king,
 because they refused to repent.

<sup>6</sup> The sword will fall on their cities,
 and will destroy the bars of their
 gates,
 and will put an end to their plans.

<sup>7</sup> My people are determined to turn from
 me.
 Though they call to the Most High,
 he certainly won’t exalt them.

<sup>8</sup> “How can I give you up, Ephraim?
 How can I hand you over, Israel?
 How can I make you like Admah?
 How can I make you like Zeboiim?
 My heart is turned within me,
 my compassion is aroused.

<sup>9</sup> I will not execute the fierceness of my
 anger.
 I will not return to destroy Ephraim:
 for I am God, and not man; the Holy One among you;
 and I will not come in wrath.

<sup>10</sup> They will walk after Yahweh,
 who will roar like a lion;
 for he will roar, and the children will come trembling from the west.

<sup>11</sup> They will come trembling like a bird
 out of Egypt,
 and like a dove out of the land of Assyria;
 and I will settle them in their houses,”
 says Yahweh.

<sup>12</sup> Ephraim surrounds me with
 falsehood,
 and the house of Israel with deceit.
 Judah still strays from God,
 and is unfaithful to the Holy One.

12

<sup>1</sup> Ephraim feeds on wind,
 and chases the east wind.
 He continually multiplies lies and
 desolation.
 They make a covenant with Assyria,
 and oil is carried into Egypt.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh also has a controversy with Judah,
 and will punish Jacob according to
 his ways;
 according to his deeds he will repay
 him.

<sup>3</sup> In the womb he took his brother by the heel;
 and in his manhood he contended
 with God.

<sup>4</sup> Indeed, he struggled with the angel,
 and prevailed;
 he wept, and made supplication to
 him.
 He found him at Bethel, and there
 he spoke with us,
<sup>5</sup> even Yahweh, the God of Armies;
 Yahweh is his name of renown!

<sup>6</sup> Therefore turn to your God.
 Keep kindness and justice,
 and wait continually for your God.

<sup>7</sup> A merchant has dishonest scales in his
 hand.
 He loves to defraud.

<sup>8</sup> Ephraim said, “Surely I have become
 rich,
 I have found myself wealth.

In all my wealth they won't find in me any iniquity that is sin.” <sup>9</sup> “But I am Yahweh your God from the land of Egypt.
I will yet again make you dwell in tents,
as in the days of the solemn feast.
<sup>10</sup> I have also spoken to the prophets,
and I have multiplied visions;
and by the ministry of the prophets
I have used parables.
<sup>11</sup> If Gilead is wicked,
surely they are worthless.
In Gilgal they sacrifice bulls.
Indeed, their altars are like heaps in the furrows of the field.
<sup>12</sup> Jacob fled into the country of Aram,
and Israel served to get a wife,
and for a wife he tended flocks and herds.
<sup>13</sup> By a prophet Yahweh brought Israel
up out of Egypt,
and by a prophet he was preserved.
<sup>14</sup> Ephraim has bitterly provoked anger.
Therefore his blood will be left on
him,
and his Lord<sup>i</sup> will repay his contempt.

13

<sup>1</sup> When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling.
He exalted himself in Israel,
but when he became guilty in Baal,
he died.
<sup>2</sup> Now they sin more and more,
and have made themselves molten
images of their silver,
even idols according to their own
understanding,

all of them the work of the craftsmen.
They say of them, ‘They offer human sacrifice and kiss the calves.’
<sup>3</sup> Therefore they will be like the morning mist,
and like the dew that passes away
early,
like the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing floor,
and like the smoke out of the chimney.
<sup>4</sup> “Yet I am Yahweh your God from the land of Egypt;
and you shall acknowledge no god
but me,
and besides me there is no savior.
<sup>5</sup> I knew you in the wilderness,
in the land of great drought.
<sup>6</sup> According to their pasture, so were they filled;
they were filled, and their heart was
exalted.
Therefore they have forgotten me.
<sup>7</sup> Therefore I am like a lion to them.
Like a leopard, I will lurk by the
path.
<sup>8</sup> I will meet them like a bear that is bereaved of her cubs,
and will tear the covering of their
heart.
There I will devour them like a
lioness.
The wild animal will tear them.
<sup>9</sup> You are destroyed, Israel, because you are against me,
against your help.

<sup>i</sup> The word translated “Lord” is “Adonai.”

- <sup>10</sup> Where is your king now, that he may save you in all your cities?
And your judges, of whom you said, ‘Give me a king and princes?’
- <sup>11</sup> I have given you a king in my anger,
and have taken him away in my
wrath.
- <sup>12</sup> The guilt of Ephraim is stored up.
His sin is stored up.
- <sup>13</sup> The sorrows of a travailing woman
will come on him.
He is an unwise son;
for when it is time, he doesn’t come
to the opening of the womb.
- <sup>14</sup> I will ransom them from the power of Sheol.<sup>j</sup>
I will redeem them from death!
Death, where are your plagues?
Sheol, where is your destruction?
“Compassion will be hidden from my
eyes.
<sup>15</sup> Though he is fruitful among his brothers, an east wind will
come,
the breath of Yahweh coming up
from the wilderness;
and his spring will become dry,
and his fountain will be dried up.
He will plunder the storehouse of
treasure.
- <sup>16</sup> Samaria will bear her guilt;
for she has rebelled against her
God.
They will fall by the sword.
Their infants will be dashed in
pieces,
and their pregnant women will be ripped open.”

14

- <sup>1</sup> Israel, return to Yahweh your God;
for you have fallen because of your
sin.
- <sup>2</sup> Take words with you, and return to Yahweh.
Tell him, “Forgive all our sins,
and accept that which is good:
so we offer our lips like bulls.
- <sup>3</sup> Assyria can’t save us.
We won’t ride on horses;
neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, ‘Our
gods!’
for in you the fatherless finds
mercy.”
- <sup>4</sup> “I will heal their waywardness.
I will love them freely;
for my anger is turned away from
him.
- <sup>5</sup> I will be like the dew to Israel.
He will blossom like the lily,
and send down his roots like Lebanon.
- <sup>6</sup> His branches will spread,
and his beauty will be like the olive
tree,
and his fragrance like Lebanon.
- <sup>7</sup> Men will dwell in his shade.
They will revive like the grain,
and blossom like the vine.
Their fragrance will be like the wine of Lebanon.
- <sup>8</sup> Ephraim, what have I to do any more
with idols?
I answer, and will take care of him.
I am like a green cypress tree;
from me your fruit is found.”

<sup>j</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

<sup>9</sup> Who is wise, that he may understand
these things?
Who is prudent, that he may know
them?

For the ways of Yahweh are right,
and the righteous walk in them;
But the rebellious stumble in them.

The Book of

Amos

1

<sup>1</sup> The words of Amos, who was among the herdsmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake. <sup>2</sup> He said:

“Yahweh<sup>a</sup> will roar from Zion,
and utter his voice from Jerusalem;
and the pastures of the shepherds will
mourn,
and the top of Carmel will wither.”

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh says:

“For three transgressions of Damascus,
yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have threshed Gilead
with threshing instruments
of iron;

<sup>4</sup> but I will send a fire into the house of Hazeal,
and it will devour the palaces of Ben Hadad.

<sup>5</sup> I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven,
and him who holds the scepter from
the house of Eden;
and the people of Syria shall go into captivity to Kir,”

says Yahweh.

<sup>6</sup> Yahweh says:

“For three transgressions of Gaza, yes,
for four,

I will not turn away its punishment;
because they carried away captive
the whole community,
to deliver them up to Edom;

<sup>7</sup> but I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza,
and it will devour its palaces.

<sup>8</sup> I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod,
and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon;
and I will turn my hand against Ekron;
and the remnant of the Philistines
will perish,”

says the Lord<sup>b</sup> Yahweh.

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh says:

“For three transgressions of Tyre, yes,
for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they delivered up the whole community to Edom,
and didn't remember the brotherly
covenant;

<sup>10</sup> but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre,
and it will devour its palaces.”

<sup>11</sup> Yahweh says:

“For three transgressions of Edom, yes,
for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because he pursued his brother with
the sword,
and cast off all pity,
and his anger raged continually,
and he kept his wrath forever;

<sup>12</sup> but I will send a fire on Teman,
and it will devour the palaces of Bozrah.”

<sup>13</sup> Yahweh says:
“For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yes, for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have ripped open the pregnant women of Gilead,
that they may enlarge their border.

<sup>14</sup> But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah,
and it will devour its palaces,
with shouting in the day of battle,
with a storm in the day of the
whirlwind;

<sup>15</sup> and their king will go into captivity,
he and his princes together,”
says Yahweh.

“For three transgressions of Moab, yes,
for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime;

<sup>2</sup> but I will send a fire on Moab,
and it will devour the palaces of Kerioth;
and Moab will die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet;

<sup>3</sup> and I will cut off the judge from
among them,
and will kill all its princes with
him,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>4</sup> Yahweh says:
“For three transgressions of Judah, yes,
for four,

I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have rejected
Yahweh’s law,
and have not kept his statutes,
and their lies have led them astray,
after which their fathers walked;

<sup>5</sup> But I will send a fire on Judah,
and it will devour the palaces of

<sup>6</sup> Yahweh says:
“For three transgressions of Israel, yes,
for four,
I will not turn away its punishment;
because they have sold the righteous for silver,
and the needy for a pair of shoes;

<sup>7</sup> They trample on the dust of the earth on the head of the
poor,
and deny justice to the oppressed;
and a man and his father use the same maiden, to profane my
holy name;

<sup>8</sup> and they lay themselves down beside every altar on clothes
taken in pledge;
and in the house of their God<sup>c</sup> they drink the wine of those who have been fined.

<sup>9</sup> Yet I destroyed the Amorite before
them,
whose height was like the height of
the cedars,
and he was strong as the oaks;
yet I destroyed his fruit from above,
and his roots from beneath.

<sup>10</sup> Also I brought you up out of the land
of Egypt,
and led you forty years in the
wilderness,
to possess the land of the Amorite.
<sup>11</sup> I raised up some of your sons for
prophets,
and some of your young men for Nazirites.
Isn't this true,
you children of Israel?" says
Yahweh.
<sup>12</sup> "But you gave the Nazirites wine to
drink,
and commanded the prophets,
saying, 'Don't prophesy!'
<sup>13</sup> Behold,<sup>d</sup> I will crush you in your
place,
as a cart crushes that is full of grain.
<sup>14</sup> Flight will perish from the swift;
and the strong won't strengthen his force;
neither shall the mighty deliver
himself;
<sup>15</sup> neither shall he stand who handles the bow;
and he who is swift of foot won't
escape;
neither shall he who rides the horse
deliver himself;
<sup>16</sup> and he who is courageous among the mighty will flee away naked on that day,"
says Yahweh.

3

<sup>1</sup> Hear this word that Yahweh has spoken against you, children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying:

<sup>2</sup> "You only have I chosen of all the families of the earth.
Therefore I will punish you for all
of your sins."
<sup>3</sup> Do two walk together,
unless they have agreed?
<sup>4</sup> Will a lion roar in the thicket,
when he has no prey?
Does a young lion cry out of his den,
if he has caught nothing?
<sup>5</sup> Can a bird fall in a trap on the earth,
where no snare is set for him?
Does a snare spring up from the ground,
when there is nothing to catch?
<sup>6</sup> Does the trumpet alarm sound in a
city,
without the people being afraid?
Does evil happen to a city,
and Yahweh hasn't done it?
<sup>7</sup> Surely the Lord Yahweh will do
nothing,
unless he reveals his secret to his servants the prophets.
<sup>8</sup> The lion has roared.
Who will not fear?
The Lord Yahweh has spoken.
Who can but prophesy?
<sup>9</sup> Proclaim in the palaces at Ashdod,
and in the palaces in the land of Egypt,
and say, "Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria,
and see what unrest is in her,
and what oppression is among
them."
<sup>10</sup> "Indeed they don't know to do right,"
says Yahweh,
"Who hoard plunder and loot in their palaces."

<sup>d</sup> "Behold", from "הִנֵּה", means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

“An adversary will overrun the land;
and he will pull down your
strongholds,
and your fortresses will be plundered.”

<sup>12</sup> Yahweh says:

“As the shepherd rescues out of the mouth of the lion two legs,
or a piece of an ear,
so shall the children of Israel be rescued who sit in Samaria
on the corner of a couch,
and on the silken cushions of a
bed.”

<sup>13</sup> “Listen, and testify against the house of Jacob,” says the Lord Yahweh, the God of Armies.

<sup>14</sup> “For in the day that I visit the transgressions of Israel on
him,
I will also visit the altars of Bethel;
and the horns of the altar will be cut
off,
and fall to the ground.

<sup>15</sup> I will strike the winter house with the summer house;
and the houses of ivory will perish,
and the great houses will have an
end,”

says Yahweh.

4

<sup>1</sup> Listen to this word, you cows of Bashan, who are on the mountain of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush
the needy, who tell their husbands, “Bring us drinks!”

<sup>2</sup> The Lord Yahweh has sworn by his holiness that behold,

“The days shall come on you that they will take you away with hooks,
and the last of you with fish hooks.

<sup>3</sup> You will go out at the breaks in the wall,

everyone straight before her;
and you will cast yourselves into Harmon,” says Yahweh.

<sup>4</sup> “Go to Bethel, and sin;
to Gilgal, and sin more.

Bring your sacrifices every morning,
your tithes every three days,

<sup>5</sup> offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened,
and proclaim free will offerings and brag about them:

for this pleases you, you children of Israel,” says the Lord
Yahweh.

<sup>6</sup> “I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities,
and lack of bread in every town;
yet you haven’t returned to me,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>7</sup> “I also have withheld the rain from
you,
when there were yet three months
to the harvest;
and I caused it to rain on one city,
and caused it not to rain on another
city.

One place was rained on,
and the piece where it didn’t rain
withered.

<sup>8</sup> So two or three cities staggered to one city to drink water,
and were not satisfied:
yet you haven’t returned to me,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>9</sup> “I struck you with blight and mildew
many times in your gardens
and your vineyards;
and your fig trees and your olive trees have the swarming
locust devoured:
yet you haven’t returned to me,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>10</sup> “I sent plagues among you like I did
Egypt.
I have slain your young men with
the sword,
and have carried away your horses;
and I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camp,
yet you haven’t returned to me,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>11</sup> “I have overthrown some of you,
as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah,
and you were like a burning stick
plucked out of the fire;
yet you haven’t returned to me,”
says Yahweh.

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore thus will I do to you,
Israel;
because I will do this to you,
prepare to meet your God, Israel.

<sup>13</sup> For, behold, he who forms the
mountains,
and creates the wind,
and declares to man what is his
thought;
who makes the morning darkness,
and treads on the high places of the
earth:
Yahweh, the God of Armies, is his
name.”

5

<sup>1</sup> Listen to this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> “The virgin of Israel has fallen;
She shall rise no more.
She is cast down on her land;
there is no one to raise her up.”

<sup>3</sup> For thus says the Lord Yahweh:
“The city that went out a thousand shall have a hundred left,
and that which went out one hundred shall have ten left to the house of Israel.”

<sup>4</sup> For Yahweh says to the house of Israel:
“Seek me, and you will live;
<sup>5</sup> but don’t seek Bethel,
nor enter into Gilgal,
and don’t pass to Beersheba:
for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity,
and Bethel shall come to nothing.

<sup>6</sup> Seek Yahweh, and you will live;
lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph,
and it devour, and there be no one
to quench it in Bethel.

<sup>7</sup> You who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the
earth:

<sup>8</sup> seek him who made the Pleiades and Orion,
and turns the shadow of death into
the morning,
and makes the day dark with night;
who calls for the waters of the sea,
and pours them out on the surface of the earth, Yahweh is his
name,

<sup>9</sup> who brings sudden destruction on the
strong,

- so that destruction comes on the
fortress.
- <sup>10</sup> They hate him who reproves in the
gate,
and they abhor him who speaks
blamelessly.
- <sup>11</sup> Therefore, because you trample on
the poor,
and take taxes from him of wheat:
You have built houses of cut stone,
but you will not dwell in them.
You have planted pleasant vineyards,
but you shall not drink their wine.
- <sup>12</sup> For I know how many your offenses,
and how great are your sins—
you who afflict the just,
who take a bribe,
and who turn aside the needy in the courts.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore a prudent person keeps silent in such a time,
for it is an evil time.
- <sup>14</sup> Seek good, and not evil,
that you may live;
and so Yahweh, the God of Armies,
will be with you,
as you say.
- <sup>15</sup> Hate evil, love good,
and establish justice in the courts.
It may be that Yahweh, the God of Armies, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.”
- <sup>16</sup> Therefore Yahweh, the God of Armies,
the Lord, says:
“Wailing will be in all the wide ways;
and they will say in all the streets, ‘Alas! Alas!’
and they will call the farmer to
mourning,
and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing.
- <sup>17</sup> In all vineyards there will be wailing;
for I will pass through the middle of you,” says Yahweh.
- <sup>18</sup> “Woe to you who desire the day of
Yahweh!
Why do you long for the day of
Yahweh?
It is darkness,
and not light.
- <sup>19</sup> As if a man fled from a lion,
and a bear met him;
Or he went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall,
and a snake bit him.
- <sup>20</sup> Won’t the day of Yahweh be darkness, and not light?
Even very dark, and no brightness
in it?
- <sup>21</sup> I hate, I despise your feasts,
and I can’t stand your solemn
assemblies.
- <sup>22</sup> Yes, though you offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings,
I will not accept them;
neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat
animals.
- <sup>23</sup> Take away from me the noise of your songs!
I will not listen to the music of your
harps.
- <sup>24</sup> But let justice roll on like rivers,
and righteousness like a mighty stream.
- <sup>25</sup> “Did you bring to me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, house of Israel? <sup>26</sup> You also carried the tent
of your king and the shrine of your images,
the star of your god, which you made for yourselves. <sup>27</sup> Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus,” says Yahweh, whose name is the God of Armies.

6

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to those who are at ease in Zion,
and to those who are secure on the mountain of Samaria,
the notable men of the chief of the
nations,
to whom the house of Israel come!
- <sup>2</sup> Go to Calneh, and see;
and from there go to Hamath the
great;
then go down to Gath of the Philistines.
are they better than these kingdoms?
or is their border greater than your border?
- <sup>3</sup> Those who put far away the evil day,
and cause the seat of violence to come near;
- <sup>4</sup> Who lie on beds of ivory,
and stretch themselves on their couches,
and eat the lambs out of the flock,
and the calves out of the middle of the stall;
- <sup>5</sup> who strum on the strings of a
harp;
who invent for themselves
instruments of music, like
David;
- <sup>6</sup> who drink wine in bowls,
and anoint themselves with the best oils;
but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.
- <sup>7</sup> Therefore they will now go captive
with the first who go captive;
and the feasting and lounging will
end.

<sup>8</sup> “The Lord Yahweh has sworn by himself,” says Yahweh, the God of Armies:

“I abhor the pride of Jacob,
and detest his fortresses.
Therefore I will deliver up the city
with all that is in it.

<sup>9</sup> It will happen, if there remain ten men
in one house,
that they shall die.

<sup>10</sup> “When a man’s relative carries him,
even he who burns him, to bring bodies out of the house, and asks him who is in the innermost parts of the house, ‘Is there yet any with you?’ And he says, ‘No;’ then he will say, ‘Hush! Indeed we must not mention Yahweh’s name.’

<sup>11</sup> “For, behold, Yahweh commands,
and the great house will be smashed to pieces,
and the little house into bits.

<sup>12</sup> Do horses run on the rocky crags?
Does one plow there with oxen?
But you have turned justice into poison,
and the fruit of righteousness into bitterness;

<sup>13</sup> you who rejoice in a thing of nothing,
who say,
‘Haven’t we taken for ourselves
horns by our own strength?’

<sup>14</sup> For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, house of Israel,”
says Yahweh, the God of Armies; “and they will afflict you from the entrance of Hamath to the brook of the Arabah.”

<sup>1</sup> Thus the Lord Yahweh showed me: and behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and behold, it was the latter growth after the king's harvest. <sup>2</sup> When they finished eating the grass of the land, then I said, "Lord Yahweh, forgive, I beg you! How could Jacob stand? For he is small."

<sup>4</sup> Thus the Lord Yahweh showed me and behold, the Lord Yahweh called for judgment by fire; and it dried up the great deep, and would have devoured the land. <sup>5</sup> Then I said, "Lord Yahweh, stop, I beg you! How could Jacob stand? For he is small."

<sup>7</sup> Thus he showed me and behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumb line, with a plumb line in his hand. <sup>8</sup> Yahweh said to me, "Amos, what do you see?"

I said, "A plumb line."

Then the Lord said, "Behold, I will set a plumb line in the middle of my people Israel. I will not again pass by them any more. <sup>9</sup> The high places of Isaac will be desolate, the sanctuaries of Israel will be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword."

<sup>10</sup> Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, "Amos has conspired against you in the middle of the house of Israel. The land is not able to bear all his words. <sup>11</sup> For Amos says, 'Jeroboam will die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.'"

<sup>12</sup> Amaziah also said to Amos, "You seer, go, flee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: <sup>13</sup> but don't prophesy again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house!"

<sup>14</sup> Then Amos answered Amaziah, "I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdsman, and a farmer of sycamore figs; <sup>15</sup> and Yahweh took me from following the flock, and Yahweh said to me, 'Go, prophesy to my people Israel.' <sup>16</sup> Now therefore listen to Yahweh's word: 'You say, Don't prophesy against Israel, and don't preach against the house of Isaac.' <sup>17</sup> Therefore Yahweh says: 'Your wife shall be a prostitute in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided by line; and you yourself shall die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.'"

8

I said, "A basket of summer fruit."

Then Yahweh said to me,

"The end has come on my people Israel. I will not again pass by them any more.

<sup>3</sup> The songs of the temple will be wailings in that day," says the Lord Yahweh.

"The dead bodies will be many. In every place they will throw them out with silence.

<sup>4</sup> Hear this, you who desire to swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail,

<sup>5</sup> Saying, ‘When will the new moon
 be gone, that we may sell
 grain?
 And the Sabbath, that we may market wheat,
 making the ephah<sup>e</sup> small, and the
 shekel<sup>f</sup> large,
 and dealing falsely with balances of
 deceit;
<sup>6</sup> that we may buy the poor for silver,
 and the needy for a pair of shoes,
 and sell the sweepings with the
 wheat?’”
<sup>7</sup> Yahweh has sworn by the pride of Jacob, “Surely I will never forget any of their works.
<sup>8</sup> Won’t the land tremble for this,
 and everyone mourn who dwells in
 it?
 Yes, it will rise up wholly like the River;
 and it will be stirred up and sink
 again, like the River of Egypt.
<sup>9</sup> It will happen in that day,” says the Lord Yahweh,
 “that I will cause the sun to go down at noon,
 and I will darken the earth in the clear day.
<sup>10</sup> I will turn your feasts into mourning,
 and all your songs into lamentation;
 and I will make you wear sackcloth on
 all your bodies,
 and baldness on every head.
 I will make it like the mourning for an only son,
 and its end like a bitter day.

<sup>11</sup> Behold, the days come,” says the Lord Yahweh,
 “that I will send a famine in the
 land,
 not a famine of bread,
 nor a thirst for water,
 but of hearing Yahweh’s words.
<sup>12</sup> They will wander from sea to sea,
 and from the north even to the east;
 they will run back and forth to seek Yahweh’s word,
 and will not find it.
<sup>13</sup> In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint for
 thirst.
<sup>14</sup> Those who swear by the sin of Samaria,
 and say, ‘As your god, Dan, lives;’
 and, ‘As the way of Beersheba
 lives;’
 they will fall, and never rise up
 again.”

9

<sup>1</sup> I saw the Lord standing beside the altar,
 and he said, “Strike the tops of the pillars,
 that the thresholds may shake; and break
 them in pieces on the head of all of them;
 and I will kill the last of them with the sword: there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. <sup>2</sup> Though they dig into Sheol,<sup>g</sup>
 there my hand will take them; and though they climb up to heaven, there I will bring them down. <sup>3</sup> Though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out there; and though they be hidden from my sight in the bottom of the sea,
 there I will command the serpent, and it will bite them. <sup>4</sup> Though they go into

captivity before their enemies, there I will command the sword, and it will kill them. I will set my eyes on them for evil, and not for good. <sup>5</sup> For the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, is he who touches the land and it melts, and all who dwell in it will mourn; and it will rise up wholly like the River, and will sink again, like the River of Egypt. <sup>6</sup> It is he who builds his rooms in the heavens, and has founded his vault on the earth; he who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the surface of the earth; Yahweh is his name. <sup>7</sup> Are you not like the children of the Ethiopians to me, children of Israel?" says Yahweh. "Haven't I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? <sup>8</sup> Behold, the eyes of the Lord Yahweh are on the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the surface of the earth; except that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob," says Yahweh. <sup>9</sup> "For, behold, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet not the least kernel will fall on the earth. <sup>10</sup> All the sinners of my people will die by the sword, who say, 'Evil won't overtake nor meet us.' <sup>11</sup> In that day I will raise up the tent of David who is fallen, and close up its breaches, and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; <sup>12</sup> that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations who are called by my name," says Yahweh who does this.

"that the plowman shall overtake the reaper,
and the one treading grapes him who sows seed;
and sweet wine will drip from the mountains,
and flow from the hills.

<sup>14</sup> I will bring my people Israel back from captivity,
and they will rebuild the ruined cities, and inhabit them;
and they will plant vineyards, and drink wine from them.

They shall also make gardens,
and eat their fruit.

<sup>15</sup> I will plant them on their land, and they will no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them," says Yahweh your God.

The Book of

Micah

1

<sup>2</sup> Hear, you peoples, all of you.

Listen, O earth, and all that is therein:

and let the Lord<sup>b</sup> Yahweh be witness against you,
the Lord from his holy temple.

<sup>3</sup> For, behold,<sup>c</sup> Yahweh comes out of his place,
and will come down and tread on the high places of the earth.

<sup>4</sup> The mountains melt under him,
and the valleys split apart,
like wax before the fire,
like waters that are poured down a steep place.

<sup>5</sup> "All this is for the disobedience of Jacob,
and for the sins of the house of Israel.

What is the disobedience of Jacob?
Isn't it Samaria?
And what are the high places of Judah?
Aren't they Jerusalem?

<sup>6</sup> Therefore I will make Samaria like a rubble heap of the field,
like places for planting vineyards;
and I will pour down its stones into the valley,
and I will uncover its foundations.

<sup>7</sup> All her idols will be beaten to pieces,
and all her temple gifts will be burned with fire,
and all her images I will destroy;
for of the hire of a prostitute has she gathered them,
and to the hire of a prostitute shall they return."

<sup>8</sup> For this I will lament and wail;
I will go stripped and naked;
I will howl like the jackals,
and moan like the daughters of owls.

<sup>9</sup> For her wounds are incurable;
for it has come even to Judah.
It reaches to the gate of my people,
even to Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> Don't tell it in Gath.
Don't weep at all.
At Beth Ophrah<sup>d</sup> I have rolled myself in the dust.

<sup>11</sup> Pass on, inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame.
The inhabitant of Zaanán won't come out.
The wailing of Beth Ezel will take from you his protection.

<sup>12</sup> For the inhabitant of Maroth waits anxiously for good,
because evil has come down from Yahweh to the gate of Jerusalem.

<sup>13</sup> Harness the chariot to the swift steed,
inhabitant of Lachish.

She was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion;
For the transgressions of Israel
were found in you.
14 Therefore you will give a parting gift
to Moresheth Gath.
The houses of Achzib will be a deceitful thing to the kings
of Israel.
15 I will yet bring to you, inhabitant of Mareshah.
He who is the glory of Israel will come to Adullam.
16 Shave your heads,
and cut off your hair for the children of your delight.
Enlarge your baldness like the vulture;
for they have gone into captivity
from you!

2

1 Woe to those who devise iniquity
and work evil on their beds!
When the morning is light, they practice
it,
because it is in the power of their
hand.
2 They covet fields, and seize them;
and houses, and take them away:
and they oppress a man and his
house,
even a man and his heritage.
3 Therefore Yahweh says: “Behold, I am planning against these people a disaster,
from which you will not remove
your necks,
neither will you walk haughtily;
for it is an evil time.
4 In that day they will take up a parable
against you,

and lament with a doleful
lamentation, saying,
‘We are utterly ruined!
My people’s possession is divided
up.
Indeed he takes it from me and assigns our fields to
traitors!’”
5 Therefore you will have no one who divides the land by lot in Yahweh’s assembly.
6 “Don’t prophesy!”
They prophesy.
“Don’t prophesy about these things.
Disgrace won’t overtake us.”
7 Shall it be said, O house of Jacob:
“Is Yahweh’s Spirit angry?
Are these his doings?
Don’t my words do good to him
who walks blamelessly?”
8 But lately my people have risen up as an enemy.
You strip the robe and clothing from those who pass by without a care, returning from battle.
9 You drive the women of my people out
from their pleasant houses;
from their young children you take away my blessing forever.
10 Arise, and depart!
For this is not your resting place,
because of uncleanness that destroys,
even with a grievous destruction.
11 If a man walking in a spirit of falsehood lies:
“I will prophesy to you of wine and
of strong drink”;
he would be the prophet of this
people.

<sup>12</sup> I will surely assemble, Jacob, all of
 you;
 I will surely gather the remnant of
 Israel;
 I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah,
 as a flock in the middle of their
 pasture;
 they will swarm with people.

<sup>13</sup> He who breaks open the way goes up
 before them.
 They break through the gate, and go
 out.
 And their king passes on before
 them,
 with Yahweh at their head.

3

 “Please listen, you heads of Jacob,
 and rulers of the house of Israel:
 Isn’t it for you to know justice?”

<sup>2</sup> You who hate the good,
 and love the evil;
 who tear off their skin,
 and their flesh from off their bones;
<sup>3</sup> who also eat the flesh of my
 people,
 and flay their skin from off them,
 and break their bones,
 and chop them in pieces, as for the pot,
 and as flesh within the cauldron.

<sup>4</sup> Then they will cry to Yahweh,
 but he will not answer them.
 Yes, he will hide his face from them at that time,
 because they made their deeds
 evil.”

<sup>5</sup> Yahweh says concerning the prophets who lead my people astray; for those who feed their teeth, they proclaim, “Peace!”
 and whoever doesn’t provide for their mouths, they prepare war against him:

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore night is over you, with no
 vision,
 and it is dark to you, that you may
 not divine;
 and the sun will go down on the
 prophets,
 and the day will be black over
 them.

<sup>7</sup> The seers shall be disappointed,
 and the diviners confounded.
 Yes, they shall all cover their lips;
 for there is no answer from God.”<sup>e</sup>

<sup>8</sup> But as for me, I am full of power by Yahweh’s Spirit,
 and of judgment, and of might,
 to declare to Jacob his
 disobedience,
 and to Israel his sin.

<sup>9</sup> Please listen to this, you heads of the house of Jacob,
 and rulers of the house of Israel,
 who abhor justice,
 and pervert all equity.

<sup>10</sup> They build up Zion with blood,
 and Jerusalem with iniquity.

<sup>11</sup> Her leaders judge for bribes,
 and her priests teach for a price,
 and her prophets of it tell fortunes
 for money:

yet they lean on Yahweh, and say, “Isn’t Yahweh among us?
 No disaster will come on us.”

<sup>12</sup> Therefore Zion for your sake will be plowed like a field,

and Jerusalem will become heaps of rubble,
and the mountain of the temple like the high places of a forest.

4

- <sup>1</sup> But in the latter days,
it will happen that the mountain of Yahweh's temple will be established on the top of the mountains,
and it will be exalted above the hills;
and peoples will stream to it.
- <sup>2</sup> Many nations will go and say,
"Come, and let us go up to the mountain of Yahweh,
and to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths."
For the law will go out of Zion,
and Yahweh's word from Jerusalem;
- <sup>3</sup> and he will judge between many peoples,
and will decide concerning strong nations afar off.
They will beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation will not lift up sword against nation,
neither will they learn war any more.
- <sup>4</sup> But they will sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree;
and no one will make them afraid:
For the mouth of Yahweh of Armies has spoken. <sup>5</sup> Indeed

all the nations may walk in the name of their gods;
but we will walk in the name of Yahweh our God forever and ever.

- <sup>6</sup> "In that day," says Yahweh,
"I will assemble that which is lame,
and I will gather that which is driven away,
and that which I have afflicted;
<sup>7</sup> and I will make that which was lame a remnant,
and that which was cast far off a strong nation:
and Yahweh will reign over them on Mount Zion from then on, even forever."
- <sup>8</sup> You, tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion,
to you it will come,
yes, the former dominion will come,
the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.
- <sup>9</sup> Now why do you cry out aloud?
Is there no king in you?
Has your counselor perished,
that pains have taken hold of you as of a woman in travail?
- <sup>10</sup> Be in pain, and labor to give birth,
daughter of Zion,
like a woman in travail;
for now you will go out of the city,
and will dwell in the field,
and will come even to Babylon.
There you will be rescued.
There Yahweh will redeem you from the hand of your enemies.
- <sup>11</sup> Now many nations have assembled against you, that say, “Let her be defiled,

and let our eye gloat over Zion.”
<sup>12</sup> But they don't know the thoughts of Yahweh,
neither do they understand his
counsel;
for he has gathered them like the sheaves to the threshing
floor.
<sup>13</sup> Arise and thresh, daughter of Zion;
for I will make your horn iron,
and I will make your hoofs brass;
and you will beat in pieces many
peoples:
and I will devote their gain to Yahweh,
and their substance to the Lord of the whole earth.

5

<sup>1</sup> Now you shall gather yourself in troops,
daughter of troops.
He has laid siege against us.
They will strike the judge of Israel
with a rod on the cheek.
<sup>2</sup> But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, being small among the clans of Judah,
out of you one will come out to me
that is to be ruler in Israel;
whose goings out are from of old,
from ancient times.
<sup>3</sup> Therefore he will abandon them until the time that she who is in labor gives birth.
Then the rest of his brothers will return to the children of Israel.
<sup>4</sup> He shall stand, and shall shepherd in the strength of Yahweh,

in the majesty of the name of Yahweh his God:
and they will live, for then he will be great to the ends of the
earth.
<sup>5</sup> He will be our peace when Assyria
invades our land,
and when he marches through our fortresses,
then we will raise against him seven
shepherds,
and eight leaders of men.
<sup>6</sup> They will rule the land of Assyria with
the sword,
and the land of Nimrod in its gates.
He will deliver us from the Assyrian,
when he invades our land,
and when he marches within our
border.
<sup>7</sup> The remnant of Jacob will be among many peoples,
like dew from Yahweh,
like showers on the grass,
that don't wait for man,
nor wait for the sons of men.
<sup>8</sup> The remnant of Jacob will be among
the nations,
among many peoples,
like a lion among the animals of the forest,
like a young lion among the flocks
of sheep;
who, if he goes through, treads
down and tears in pieces,
and there is no one to deliver.
<sup>9</sup> Let your hand be lifted up above your
adversaries,
and let all of your enemies be cut
off.
<sup>10</sup> “It will happen in that day”, says
Yahweh,

- “that I will cut off your horses out
from among you,
and will destroy your chariots.
11 I will cut off the cities of your land,
and will tear down all your
strongholds.
12 I will destroy witchcraft from your
hand;
and you shall have no soothsayers.
13 I will cut off your engraved images and your pillars out from
among you;
and you shall no more worship the
work of your hands.
14 I will uproot your Asherah poles out
from among you;
and I will destroy your cities.
15 I will execute vengeance in anger,
and wrath on the nations that didn't listen.”

6

- 1 Listen now to what Yahweh says: “Arise, plead your case before the
mountains,
and let the hills hear what you have to say.
2 Hear, you mountains, Yahweh's
controversy,
and you enduring foundations of
the earth;
for Yahweh has a controversy with
his people,
and he will contend with Israel.
3 My people, what have I done to you?
How have I burdened you?
Answer me!
4 For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt,

- and redeemed you out of the house
of bondage.
I sent before you Moses, Aaron,
and Miriam.
5 My people, remember now what Balak
king of Moab devised,
and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim
to Gilgal,
that you may know the righteous
acts of Yahweh.”
6 How shall I come before Yahweh, and bow myself before the exalted
God?
Shall I come before him with burnt offerings,
with calves a year old?
7 Will Yahweh be pleased with thousands of rams?
With tens of thousands of rivers of
oil?
Shall I give my firstborn for my
disobedience?
The fruit of my body for the sin of
my soul?
8 He has shown you, O man, what is
good.
What does Yahweh require of you,
but to act justly,
to love mercy, and to walk humbly
with your God?
9 Yahweh's voice calls to the city,
and wisdom sees your name:
“Listen to the rod,
and he who appointed it.
10 Are there yet treasures of wickedness
in the house of the wicked,
and a short ephah<sup>f</sup> that is accursed?
11 Shall I be pure with dishonest scales,
and with a bag of deceitful weights?

<sup>f</sup> An ephah is a measure of volume (about 22 liters or about 2/3 of a bushel), and a short ephah is made smaller than a full ephah for the purpose of cheating customers.

- <sup>12</sup> Her rich men are full of violence,
her inhabitants speak lies,
and their tongue is deceitful in their
speech.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore I also have struck you with a grievous wound.
I have made you desolate because
of your sins.
- <sup>14</sup> You shall eat, but not be satisfied.
Your humiliation will be within
you.
You will store up, but not save;
and that which you save I will give up to the sword.
- <sup>15</sup> You will sow, but won't reap.
You will tread the olives, but won't anoint yourself with oil;
and crush grapes, but won't drink
the wine.
- <sup>16</sup> For the statutes of Omri are kept,
and all the works of Ahab's house.
You walk in their counsels,
that I may make you a ruin,
and her inhabitants a hissing;
And you will bear the reproach of
my people."

7

- <sup>1</sup> Misery is mine!
Indeed, I am like one who gathers
the summer fruits, as
gleanings of the vineyard:
There is no cluster of grapes to eat.
My soul desires to eat the early fig.
- <sup>2</sup> The godly man has perished out of the
earth,
and there is no one upright among
men.
They all lie in wait for blood;
every man hunts his brother with a net.

- <sup>3</sup> Their hands are on that which is evil to do it diligently.
The ruler and judge ask for a bribe;
and the powerful man dictates the evil desire of his soul.
Thus they conspire together.
- <sup>4</sup> The best of them is like a brier.
The most upright is worse than a thorn hedge.
The day of your watchmen,
even your visitation, has come;
now is the time of their confusion.
- <sup>5</sup> Don't trust in a neighbor.
Don't put confidence in a friend.
With the woman lying in your embrace,
be careful of the words of your
mouth!
- <sup>6</sup> For the son dishonors the father,
the daughter rises up against her
mother,
the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law;
a man's enemies are the men of his
own house.
- <sup>7</sup> But as for me, I will look to Yahweh.
I will wait for the God of my
salvation.
My God will hear me.
- <sup>8</sup> Don't rejoice against me, my enemy.
When I fall, I will arise.
When I sit in darkness, Yahweh
will be a light to me.
- <sup>9</sup> I will bear the indignation of Yahweh,
because I have sinned against him,
until he pleads my case, and executes judgment for me.
He will bring me out to the light.
I will see his righteousness.
- <sup>10</sup> Then my enemy will see it,

- and shame will cover her who said
to me,
where is Yahweh your God?
Then my enemy will see me and will cover her shame.
Now she will be trodden down like
the mire of the streets.
- <sup>11</sup> A day to build your walls—
In that day, he will extend your boundary.
- <sup>12</sup> In that day they will come to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt,
and from Egypt even to the River,
and from sea to sea,
and mountain to mountain.
- <sup>13</sup> Yet the land will be desolate because
of those who dwell therein,
for the fruit of their doings.
- <sup>14</sup> Shepherd your people with your staff,
the flock of your heritage,
who dwell by themselves in a
forest,
in the middle of fertile pasture land,
let them feed;
in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days
of old.
- <sup>15</sup> “As in the days of your coming out of the land of Egypt,
- I will show them marvelous
things.”
- <sup>16</sup> The nations will see and be ashamed of all their might.
They will lay their hand on their
mouth.
Their ears will be deaf.
- <sup>17</sup> They will lick the dust like a serpent.
Like crawling things of the earth
they shall come trembling
out of their dens.
They will come with fear to Yahweh our God,
and will be afraid because of you.
- <sup>18</sup> Who is a God like you, who pardons
iniquity,
and passes over the disobedience of
the remnant of his heritage?
He doesn't retain his anger forever,
because he delights in loving
kindness.
- <sup>19</sup> He will again have compassion on us.
He will tread our iniquities under foot;
and you will cast all their sins into
the depths of the sea.
- <sup>20</sup> You will give truth to Jacob,
and mercy to Abraham,
as you have sworn to our fathers
from the days of old.

Joel

1

<sup>2</sup> Hear this, you elders,
And listen, all you inhabitants of
the land.

Has this ever happened in your days,
or in the days of your fathers?

<sup>3</sup> Tell your children about it, and have your children tell their
children,
and their children, another
generation.

<sup>4</sup> What the swarming locust has left, the great locust has eaten.
What the great locust has left, the grasshopper has eaten.
What the grasshopper has left, the caterpillar has eaten.

<sup>5</sup> Wake up, you drunkards, and weep!
Wail, all you drinkers of wine,
because of the sweet wine;
for it is cut off from your mouth.

<sup>6</sup> For a nation has come up on my land,
strong, and without number.
His teeth are the teeth of a lion,
and he has the fangs of a lioness.

<sup>7</sup> He has laid my vine waste,
and stripped my fig tree.
He has stripped its bark, and thrown
it away.
Its branches are made white.

<sup>8</sup> Mourn like a virgin dressed in sackcloth for the husband of her youth! <sup>9</sup> The meal offering and the drink offering are cut off from Yahweh's house.

The priests, Yahweh's ministers,
mourn.

<sup>10</sup> The field is laid waste.
The land mourns, for the grain is
destroyed,
The new wine has dried up,
and the oil languishes.

<sup>11</sup> Be confounded, you farmers!
Wail, you vineyard keepers;
for the wheat and for the barley;
for the harvest of the field has
perished.

<sup>12</sup> The vine has dried up, and the fig tree
withered;
the pomegranate tree, the palm tree
also, and the apple tree, even all of the trees of the field are
withered;
for joy has withered away from the sons of men.

<sup>13</sup> Put on sackcloth and mourn, you
priests!
Wail, you ministers of the altar.
Come, lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my God,<sup>b</sup>
for the meal offering and the drink offering are withheld from your God's house.

<sup>14</sup> Sanctify a fast.
Call a solemn assembly.
Gather the elders,

and all the inhabitants of the land,
to the house of Yahweh,
your God,
and cry to Yahweh.

<sup>15</sup> Alas for the day!
For the day of Yahweh is at hand,
and it will come as destruction from
the Almighty.

<sup>16</sup> Isn't the food cut off before our eyes;
joy and gladness from the house of
our God?

<sup>17</sup> The seeds rot under their clods.
The granaries are laid desolate.
The barns are broken down, for the grain has withered.

<sup>18</sup> How the animals groan!
The herds of livestock are perplexed, because they have no pasture.
Yes, the flocks of sheep are made
desolate.

<sup>19</sup> Yahweh, I cry to you,
For the fire has devoured the
pastures of the wilderness,
and the flame has burned all the trees of the field.

<sup>20</sup> Yes, the animals of the field pant to
you,
for the water brooks have dried up,
And the fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

2

<sup>1</sup> Blow the trumpet in Zion,
and sound an alarm in my holy
mountain!
Let all the inhabitants of the land
tremble,
for the day of Yahweh comes,
for it is close at hand:

<sup>2</sup> A day of darkness and gloominess,

a day of clouds and thick darkness.
As the dawn spreading on the
mountains,
a great and strong people;
there has never been the like,
neither will there be any more after
them,
even to the years of many
generations.

<sup>3</sup> A fire devours before them,
and behind them, a flame burns.
The land is as the garden of Eden before
them,
and behind them, a desolate
wilderness.
Yes, and no one has escaped them.

<sup>4</sup> Their appearance is as the appearance of horses,
and as horsemen, so do they run.

<sup>5</sup> Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap,
like the noise of a flame of fire that
devours the stubble,
as a strong people set in battle
array.

<sup>6</sup> At their presence the peoples are in anguish.
All faces have grown pale.

<sup>7</sup> They run like mighty men.
They climb the wall like warriors.
They each march in his line, and they don't swerve off
course.

<sup>8</sup> Neither does one jostle another;
they march everyone in his path,
and they burst through the defenses,
and don't break ranks.

<sup>9</sup> They rush on the city.
They run on the wall.
They climb up into the houses.

- They enter in at the windows like thieves.
- <sup>10</sup> The earth quakes before them.
The heavens tremble.
The sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars withdraw their shining.
- <sup>11</sup> Yahweh thunders his voice before his army;
for his forces are very great;
for he is strong who obeys his command;
for the day of Yahweh is great and very awesome,
and who can endure it?
- <sup>12</sup> “Yet even now,” says Yahweh, “turn to me with all your heart,
and with fasting, and with weeping,
and with mourning.”
- <sup>13</sup> Tear your heart, and not your garments,
and turn to Yahweh, your God;
for he is gracious and merciful,
slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness,
and relents from sending calamity.
- <sup>14</sup> Who knows? He may turn and relent,
and leave a blessing behind him,
even a meal offering and a drink offering to Yahweh, your God.
- <sup>15</sup> Blow the trumpet in Zion!
Sanctify a fast.
Call a solemn assembly.
- <sup>16</sup> Gather the people.
Sanctify the assembly.
Assemble the elders.
Gather the children, and those who nurse from breasts.
- Let the bridegroom go out of his room,
and the bride out of her room.
- <sup>17</sup> Let the priests, the ministers of Yahweh, weep between the porch and the altar,
and let them say, “Spare your people, Yahweh,
and don’t give your heritage to reproach,
that the nations should rule over them.
Why should they say among the peoples,
‘Where is their God?’”
- <sup>18</sup> Then Yahweh was jealous for his land,
And had pity on his people.
- <sup>19</sup> Yahweh answered his people, “Behold,<sup>c</sup> I will send you grain,
new wine, and oil,
and you will be satisfied with them;
and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations.
- <sup>20</sup> But I will remove the northern army far away from you,
and will drive it into a barren and desolate land,
its front into the eastern sea,
and its back into the western sea;
and its stench will come up,
and its bad smell will rise.”
Surely he has done great things.
- <sup>21</sup> Land, don’t be afraid.
Be glad and rejoice, for Yahweh has done great things.
- <sup>22</sup> Don’t be afraid, you animals of the field;
for the pastures of the wilderness spring up,

<sup>c</sup> “Behold”, from “הִנֵּה”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

- for the tree bears its fruit.
 The fig tree and the vine yield their strength.
- <sup>23</sup> “Be glad then, you children of Zion,
 and rejoice in Yahweh, your God;
 for he gives you the former rain in
 just measure,
 and he causes the rain to come down for you,
 the former rain and the latter rain,
 as before.
- <sup>24</sup> The threshing floors will be full of
 wheat,
 and the vats will overflow with new wine and oil.
- <sup>25</sup> I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten,
 the great locust, the grasshopper,
 and the caterpillar,
 my great army, which I sent among
 you.
- <sup>26</sup> You will have plenty to eat, and be
 satisfied,
 and will praise the name of Yahweh, your God, who has dealt wondrously with
 you;
 and my people will never again be
 disappointed.
- <sup>27</sup> You will know that I am among Israel,
 and that I am Yahweh, your God,
 and there is no one else;
 and my people will never again be
 disappointed.
- <sup>28</sup> “It will happen afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit on all
 flesh;
 and your sons and your daughters
 will prophesy.
 Your old men will dream dreams.

- Your young men will see visions.
- <sup>29</sup> And also on the servants and on the
 handmaids in those days,
 I will pour out my Spirit.
- <sup>30</sup> I will show wonders in the heavens
 and in the earth:
 blood, fire, and pillars of smoke.
- <sup>31</sup> The sun will be turned into darkness,
 and the moon into blood,
 before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes.
- <sup>32</sup> It will happen that whoever will call on Yahweh’s name shall be saved;
 for in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem
 there will be those who
 escape,
 as Yahweh has said,
 and among the remnant, those whom Yahweh calls.

3

- <sup>1</sup> “For, behold, in those days,
 and in that time,
 when I restore the fortunes of Judah
 and Jerusalem,
- <sup>2</sup> I will gather all nations,
 and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat;
 and I will execute judgment on
 them there for my people,
 and for my heritage, Israel, whom they have scattered among
 the nations.
 They have divided my land,
<sup>3</sup> and have cast lots for my people,
 and have given a boy for a
 prostitute,
 and sold a girl for wine, that they may drink.

<sup>4</sup> “Yes, and what are you to me, Tyre,
 and Sidon,
 and all the regions of Philistia?
 Will you repay me?
 And if you repay me,
 I will swiftly and speedily return
 your repayment on your own
 head.
<sup>5</sup> Because you have taken my silver and
 my gold,
 and have carried my finest treasures
 into your temples, <sup>6</sup> and have sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem to the sons of the Greeks,
 that you may remove them far from their border.
<sup>7</sup> Behold, I will stir them up out of the place where you have sold
 them,
 and will return your repayment on your own head;
<sup>8</sup> and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hands of the children of Judah,
 and they will sell them to the men
 of Sheba,
 to a faraway nation,
 for Yahweh has spoken it.”
<sup>9</sup> Proclaim this among the nations:
 “Prepare for war!
 Stir up the mighty men.
 Let all the warriors draw near.
 Let them come up. <sup>10</sup> Beat your plowshares into swords,
 and your pruning hooks into spears.
 Let the weak say, ‘I am strong.’
<sup>11</sup> Hurry and come, all you surrounding
 nations,
 and gather yourselves together.”

Cause your mighty ones to come down
 there, Yahweh.
<sup>12</sup> “Let the nations arouse themselves,
 and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat;
 for there will I sit to judge all the surrounding nations.
<sup>13</sup> Put in the sickle;
 for the harvest is ripe.
 Come, tread, for the wine press is full,
 the vats overflow, for their wickedness is great.”
<sup>14</sup> Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision!
 For the day of Yahweh is near, in the valley of decision.
<sup>15</sup> The sun and the moon are darkened,
 and the stars withdraw their shining.
<sup>16</sup> Yahweh will roar from Zion,
 and thunder from Jerusalem;
 and the heavens and the earth will shake;
 but Yahweh will be a refuge to his
 people,
 and a stronghold to the children of Israel.
<sup>17</sup> “So you will know that I am Yahweh,
 your God,
 dwelling in Zion, my holy
 mountain.
 Then Jerusalem will be holy,
 and no strangers will pass through her any more.
<sup>18</sup> It will happen in that day,
 that the mountains will drop down
 sweet wine,
 the hills will flow with milk,
 all the brooks of Judah will flow
 with waters,

and a fountain will flow out from Yahweh's house,
and will water the valley of Shittim.
<sup>19</sup> Egypt will be a desolation,
and Edom will be a desolate
wilderness,
for the violence done to the children
of Judah,

because they have shed innocent
blood in their land.
<sup>20</sup> But Judah will be inhabited forever, and Jerusalem from generation to
generation.
<sup>21</sup> I will cleanse their blood,
that I have not cleansed:
for Yahweh dwells in Zion.”

The Book of # Obadiah

<sup>8</sup> “Won’t I in that day”, says Yahweh, “destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mountain of Esau? <sup>9</sup> Your mighty men, Teman, will be dismayed, to the end that everyone may be cut off from the mountain of Esau by slaughter. <sup>10</sup> For the violence done to your brother Jacob, shame will cover you, and you will be cut off forever. <sup>11</sup> In the day that you stood on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away his substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots for Jerusalem, even you were like one of them. <sup>12</sup> But don’t look down on your brother in the day of his disaster, and don’t rejoice over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction. Don’t speak proudly in the day of distress. <sup>13</sup> Don’t enter into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity. Don’t look down on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither seize their wealth on the day of their calamity. <sup>14</sup> Don’t stand in the crossroads to cut off those of his who escape. Don’t deliver up those of his who remain in the day of distress. <sup>15</sup> For the day of Yahweh is near all the nations! As you have done, it will be done to you. Your deeds will return upon your own head. <sup>16</sup> For as you have drunk on my holy mountain, so will all the nations drink continually. Yes, they will drink, swallow down, and will be as though they had not been. <sup>17</sup> But in Mount Zion, there will be those who escape, and it will be holy. The house of Jacob will possess their possessions. <sup>18</sup> The house of Jacob will be a fire, the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble. They will burn among them, and devour them. There will not be any remaining to the house of Esau.”

Indeed, Yahweh has spoken.

<sup>19</sup> Those of the South will possess the mountain of Esau, and those of the lowland, the Philistines. They will possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria. Benjamin will possess Gilead. <sup>20</sup> The captives of this army of the children of Israel, who are among the Canaanites, will possess even to Zarephath; and the captives of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, will possess the cities of the Negev. <sup>21</sup> Saviors will go up on Mount Zion to judge the mountains of Esau, and the kingdom will be Yahweh's.

Jonah

1

<sup>3</sup> But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish from the presence of Yahweh. He went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish; so he paid its fare, and went down into it, to go with them to Tarshish from the presence of Yahweh. <sup>4</sup> But Yahweh sent out a great wind on the sea, and there was a mighty storm on the sea, so that the ship was likely to break up. <sup>5</sup> Then the mariners were afraid, and every man cried to his god. They threw the cargo that was in the ship into the sea to lighten the ship. But Jonah had gone down into the innermost parts of the ship, and he was laying down, and was fast asleep. <sup>6</sup> So the ship master came to him, and said to him, "What do you mean, sleeper? Arise, call on your God!<sup>b</sup> Maybe your God<sup>c</sup> will notice us, so that we won't perish."

<sup>7</sup> They all said to each other, "Come, let us cast lots, that we may know who is responsible for this evil that is on us." So they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. <sup>8</sup> Then they asked him, "Tell us, please, for whose cause this evil is on us. What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What is your country? Of what people are you?"

<sup>10</sup> Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said to him, "What is this that you have done?" For the men knew that he was fleeing from the presence of Yahweh, because he had told them. <sup>11</sup> Then they said to him, "What shall we do to you, that the sea may be calm to us?" For the sea grew more and more stormy. <sup>12</sup> He said to them, "Take me up, and throw me into the sea. Then the sea will be calm for you; for I know that because of me this great storm is on you."

<sup>13</sup> Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not, for the sea grew more and more stormy against them. <sup>14</sup> Therefore they cried to Yahweh, and said, "We beg you, Yahweh, we beg you, don't let us die for this man's life, and don't lay on us innocent blood; for you, Yahweh, have done as it pleased you."

<sup>15</sup> So they took up Jonah, and threw him into the sea; and the sea ceased its raging. <sup>16</sup> Then the men feared Yahweh exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice to Yahweh, and made vows.

2

“I called because of my affliction to Yahweh.

He answered me.

Out of the belly of Sheol<sup>e</sup> I cried.

You heard my voice.

<sup>3</sup> For you threw me into the depths,
in the heart of the seas.

The flood was all around me.

All your waves and your billows passed over me.

<sup>4</sup> I said, ‘I have been banished from your
sight;

yet I will look again toward your holy temple.’

<sup>5</sup> The waters surrounded me,
even to the soul.

The deep was around me.

The weeds were wrapped around
my head.

<sup>6</sup> I went down to the bottoms of the
mountains.

The earth barred me in forever:
yet have you brought up my life
from the pit, Yahweh my
God.

<sup>7</sup> “When my soul fainted within me, I remembered Yahweh.

My prayer came in to you, into your
holy temple.

<sup>8</sup> Those who regard lying vanities
forsake their own mercy.

<sup>9</sup> But I will sacrifice to you with the voice of thanksgiving.

I will pay that which I have vowed.

Salvation belongs to Yahweh.”

<sup>10</sup> Yahweh spoke to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah on the dry land.

3

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh’s word came to Jonah the second time, saying, <sup>2</sup> “Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and preach to it the message that I give you.”

<sup>3</sup> So Jonah arose, and went to Nineveh, according to Yahweh’s word. Now Nineveh was an exceedingly great city,
three days’ journey across. <sup>4</sup> Jonah began to enter into the city a day’s journey, and he cried out, and said, “In forty days, Nineveh will be overthrown!”

<sup>5</sup> The people of Nineveh believed God;
and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from their greatest even to their least. <sup>6</sup> The news reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and took off his royal robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. <sup>7</sup> He made a proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, “Let neither man nor animal, herd nor flock, taste anything; let them not feed, nor drink water; <sup>8</sup> but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and animal, and let them cry mightily to God. Yes, let them turn everyone from his evil way, and from the violence that is in his hands. <sup>9</sup> Who knows whether God will not turn and relent, and turn away from his fierce anger, so that we might not perish?”

<sup>10</sup> God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way. God relented of the disaster which he said he would do to them,
and he didn’t do it.

and he was angry. <sup>2</sup> He prayed to Yahweh,

and said, "Please, Yahweh, wasn't this what I said when I was still in my own country? Therefore I hurried to flee to Tarshish, for I knew that you are a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness, and you relent of doing harm. <sup>3</sup> Therefore now, Yahweh, take, I beg you, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live."

<sup>5</sup> Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made himself a booth, and sat under it in the shade, until he might see what would become of the city. <sup>6</sup> Yahweh God prepared a vine, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his discomfort. So Jonah was exceedingly glad because of the vine. <sup>7</sup> But God prepared a worm at dawn the next day, and it chewed on the vine, so that it withered. <sup>8</sup> When the sun arose, God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat on Jonah's head, so that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, "It is better for me to die than to live."

<sup>9</sup> God said to Jonah, "Is it right for you to be angry about the vine?"

He said, "I am right to be angry, even to death."

<sup>10</sup> Yahweh said, "You have been concerned for the vine, for which you have not labored, neither made it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night.

Nahum

1

counsels wickedness. <sup>12</sup> Yahweh says: "Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so they will be cut down, and he shall pass away. Though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more. <sup>13</sup> Now will I break his yoke from off you, and will burst your bonds apart." <sup>14</sup> Yahweh has commanded concerning you: "No more descendants will bear your name. Out of the house of your gods, will I cut off the engraved image and the molten image. I will make your grave, for you are vile."

2

<sup>1</sup> He who dashes in pieces has come up against you. Keep the fortress! Watch the way! Strengthen your waist! Fortify your power mightily! <sup>2</sup> For Yahweh restores the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel; for the destroyers have destroyed them, and ruined their vine branches. <sup>3</sup> The shield of his mighty men is made red. The valiant men are in scarlet. The chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the pine spears are brandished. <sup>4</sup> The chariots rage in the streets. They rush back and forth in the wide ways. Their appearance is like torches. They run like the lightnings. <sup>5</sup> He summons his picked troops. They stumble on their way. They dash to its wall, and the protective shield is put in place. <sup>6</sup> The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. <sup>7</sup> It is decreed: she is uncovered, she is carried away; and her servants moan as with the voice of doves, beating on their breasts. <sup>8</sup> But Nineveh has been from of old like a pool of water, yet they flee away. "Stop! Stop!" they cry, but no one looks back. <sup>9</sup> Take the plunder of silver. Take the plunder of gold, for there is no end of the store, the glory of all goodly furniture. <sup>10</sup> She is empty, void, and waste. The heart melts, the knees knock together, their bodies and faces have grown pale. <sup>11</sup> Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, the lion's cubs, and no one made them afraid? <sup>12</sup> The lion tore in pieces enough for his cubs, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with the kill, and his dens with prey. <sup>13</sup> "Behold, I am against you," says Yahweh of Armies, "and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword will devour your young lions; and I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers will no longer be heard."

3

bodies, <sup>4</sup> because of the multitude of the prostitution of the alluring prostitute, the mistress of witchcraft, who sells nations through her prostitution, and families through her witchcraft. <sup>5</sup> "Behold, I am against you," says Yahweh of Armies, "and I will lift your skirts over your face. I will show the nations your nakedness, and the kingdoms your shame. <sup>6</sup> I will throw abominable filth on you, and make you vile, and will set you a spectacle. <sup>7</sup> It will happen that all those who look at you will flee from you, and say, 'Nineveh is laid waste! Who will mourn for her?' Where will I seek comforters for you?"

<sup>8</sup> Are you better than No-Amon,<sup>d</sup> who was situated among the rivers, who had the waters around her; whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was of the sea? <sup>9</sup> Cush and Egypt were her boundless strength. Put and Libya were her helpers. <sup>10</sup> Yet was she carried away. She went into captivity. Her young children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets, and they cast lots for her honorable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. <sup>11</sup> You also will be drunken. You will be hidden. You also will seek a stronghold because of the enemy. <sup>12</sup> All your fortresses will be like fig trees with the first-ripe figs: if they are shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. <sup>13</sup> Behold, your troops among you are women. The gates of your land are set wide open to your enemies. The fire has devoured your bars. <sup>14</sup> Draw water for the siege. Strengthen your fortresses. Go into the clay, and tread the mortar. Make the brick kiln strong. <sup>15</sup> There the fire will devour you. The sword will cut you off. It will devour you like the grasshopper.

Multiply like grasshoppers. Multiply like the locust. <sup>16</sup> You have increased your merchants more than the stars of the skies. The grasshopper strips, and flees away. <sup>17</sup> Your guards are like the locusts, and your officials like the swarms of locusts, which settle on the walls on a cold day, but when the sun appears, they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. <sup>18</sup> Your shepherds slumber, king of Assyria. Your nobles lie down. Your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is no one to gather them. <sup>19</sup> There is no healing your wound, for your injury is fatal. All who hear the report of you clap their hands over you; for who hasn't felt your endless cruelty?

The Book of

Habakkuk

1

<sup>1</sup> The revelation which Habakkuk the prophet saw. <sup>2</sup> Yahweh,<sup>a</sup> how long will I cry, and you will not hear? I cry out to you “Violence!” and will you not save? <sup>3</sup> Why do you show me iniquity, and look at perversity? For destruction and violence are before me. There is strife, and contention rises up. <sup>4</sup> Therefore the law is paralyzed, and justice never prevails; for the wicked surround the righteous; therefore justice comes out perverted.

<sup>5</sup> “Look among the nations, watch, and wonder marvelously; for I am working a work in your days, which you will not believe though it is told you. <sup>6</sup> For, behold,<sup>b</sup> I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, that march through the width of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. <sup>7</sup> They are feared and dreaded. Their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. <sup>8</sup> Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves. Their horsemen press proudly on. Yes, their horsemen come from afar. They fly as an eagle that hurries to devour. <sup>9</sup> All of them come for violence. Their hordes face the desert. He gathers prisoners like sand. <sup>10</sup> Yes, he scoffs at kings, and princes are a derision to him. He laughs at every stronghold, for he builds up an earthen ramp, and takes it. <sup>11</sup> Then he sweeps by like the wind, and goes on. He is indeed guilty, whose strength is his god.”

<sup>12</sup> Aren’t you from everlasting, Yahweh my God,<sup>c</sup> my Holy One? We will not die. Yahweh, you have appointed him for judgment. You, Rock, have established him to punish. <sup>13</sup> You who have purer eyes than to see evil, and who cannot look on perversity, why do you tolerate those who deal treacherously, and keep silent when the wicked swallows up the man who is more righteous than he, <sup>14</sup> and make men like the fish of the sea, like the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? <sup>15</sup> He takes up all of them with the hook. He catches them in his net, and gathers them in his dragnet. Therefore he rejoices and is glad. <sup>16</sup> Therefore he sacrifices to his net, and burns incense to his dragnet, because by them his life is luxurious, and his food is good. <sup>17</sup> Will he therefore continually empty his net, and kill the nations without mercy?

2

<sup>1</sup> I will stand at my watch, and set myself on the ramparts, and will look out to see what he will say to me, and what I will answer concerning my complaint.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh answered me, “Write the vision, and make it plain on tablets, that he who runs may read it. <sup>3</sup> For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it hurries toward the end, and won’t prove false. Though it takes time, wait for it; because it will surely come. It won't delay. <sup>4</sup> Behold, his soul is puffed up. It is not upright in him, but the righteous will live by his faith. <sup>5</sup> Yes, moreover, wine is treacherous. A haughty man who doesn't stay at home, who enlarges his desire as Sheol,<sup>d</sup> and he is like death, and can't be satisfied, but gathers to himself all nations, and heaps to himself all peoples. <sup>6</sup> Won't all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, 'Woe to him who increases that which is not his, and who enriches himself by extortion! How long?' <sup>7</sup> Won't your debtors rise up suddenly, and wake up those who make you tremble, and you will be their victim? <sup>8</sup> Because you have plundered many nations, all the remnant of the peoples will plunder you, because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all who dwell in it. <sup>9</sup> Woe to him who gets an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! <sup>10</sup> You have devised shame to your house, by cutting off many peoples, and have sinned against your soul. <sup>11</sup> For the stone will cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it. <sup>12</sup> Woe to him who builds a town with blood, and establishes a city by iniquity! <sup>13</sup> Behold, isn't it of Yahweh of Armies that the peoples labor for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? <sup>14</sup> For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of Yahweh's glory, as the waters cover the sea.

<sup>15</sup> "Woe to him who gives his neighbor drink, pouring your inflaming wine until they are drunk, so that you may gaze at their naked bodies! <sup>16</sup> You are filled with shame, and not glory. You will also drink, and be exposed! The cup of Yahweh's right hand will come around to you, and disgrace will cover your glory. <sup>17</sup> For the violence done to Lebanon will overwhelm you, and the destruction of the animals, which made them afraid; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to every city and to those who dwell in them.

<sup>18</sup> "What value does the engraved image have, that its maker has engraved it; the molten image, even the teacher of lies, that he who fashions its form trusts in it, to make mute idols? <sup>19</sup> Woe to him who says to the wood, 'Awake!' or to the mute stone, 'Arise!' Shall this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all within it. <sup>20</sup> But Yahweh is in his holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before him!"

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh, I have heard of your fame.
I stand in awe of your deeds,
Yahweh.

Renew your work in the middle of the
years.

In the middle of the years make it
known.

In wrath, you remember mercy.

<sup>3</sup> God came from Teman,
the Holy One from Mount Paran.
Selah.

His glory covered the heavens,
and his praise filled the earth.

<sup>4</sup> His splendor is like the sunrise.

<sup>d</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- Rays shine from his hand, where his power is hidden.
- <sup>5</sup> Plague went before him,
and pestilence followed his feet.
- <sup>6</sup> He stood, and shook the earth.
He looked, and made the nations
tremble.
The ancient mountains were crumbled.
The age-old hills collapsed.
His ways are eternal.
- <sup>7</sup> I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction.
The dwellings of the land of Midian trembled.
- <sup>8</sup> Was Yahweh displeased with the
rivers?
Was your anger against the rivers,
or your wrath against the sea,
that you rode on your horses,
on your chariots of salvation?
- <sup>9</sup> You uncovered your bow.
You called for your sworn arrows.
Selah.
You split the earth with rivers.
- <sup>10</sup> The mountains saw you, and were afraid.
The storm of waters passed by.
The deep roared and lifted up its hands on high.
- <sup>11</sup> The sun and moon stood still in the
sky,
at the light of your arrows as they went,
at the shining of your glittering
spear.
- <sup>12</sup> You marched through the land in
wrath.
You threshed the nations in anger.
- <sup>13</sup> You went out for the salvation of your
people,
for the salvation of your anointed.
You crushed the head of the land of
wickedness.
You stripped them head to foot.
Selah.
- <sup>14</sup> You pierced the heads of his warriors
with their own spears.
They came as a whirlwind to scatter
me,
gloating as if to devour the wretched in secret.
- <sup>15</sup> You trampled the sea with your
horses,
churning mighty waters.
- <sup>16</sup> I heard, and my body trembled.
My lips quivered at the voice.
Rottenness enters into my bones, and I tremble in my place,
because I must wait quietly for the day of trouble,
for the coming up of the people
who invade us.
- <sup>17</sup> For though the fig tree doesn't
flourish,
nor fruit be in the vines;
the labor of the olive fails,
the fields yield no food;
the flocks are cut off from the fold,
and there is no herd in the stalls:
- <sup>18</sup> yet I will rejoice in Yahweh.
I will be joyful in the God of my
salvation!
- <sup>19</sup> Yahweh, the Lord,<sup>e</sup> is my strength.
He makes my feet like deer's feet,
and enables me to go in high places.
For the music director, on my stringed instruments.

Zephaniah

1

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh's<sup>a</sup> word which came to Zephaniah, the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah, the son of Amon, king of Judah. <sup>2</sup> I will utterly sweep away everything off of the surface of the earth, says Yahweh. <sup>3</sup> I will sweep away man and animal. I will sweep away the birds of the sky, the fish of the sea, and the heaps of rubble with the wicked. I will cut off man from the surface of the earth, says Yahweh. <sup>4</sup> I will stretch out my hand against Judah, and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place: the name of the idolatrous and pagan priests, <sup>5</sup> those who worship the army of the sky on the housetops, those who worship and swear by Yahweh and also swear by Malcam, <sup>6</sup> those who have turned back from following Yahweh, and those who haven't sought Yahweh nor inquired after him. <sup>7</sup> Be silent at the presence of the Lord<sup>b</sup> Yahweh, for the day of Yahweh is at hand. For Yahweh has prepared a sacrifice. He has consecrated his guests. <sup>8</sup> It will happen in the day of Yahweh's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, the king's sons, and all those who are clothed with foreign clothing. <sup>9</sup> In that day, I will punish all those who leap over the threshold, who fill their master's house with violence and deceit. <sup>10</sup> In that day, says Yahweh, there will be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, a wailing from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. <sup>11</sup> Wail, you inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone! All those who were loaded with silver are cut off. <sup>12</sup> It will happen at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are settled on their dregs, who say in their heart, "Yahweh will not do good, neither will he do evil." <sup>13</sup> Their wealth will become a plunder, and their houses a desolation. Yes, they will build houses, but won't inhabit them. They will plant vineyards, but won't drink their wine. <sup>14</sup> The great day of Yahweh is near. It is near, and hurries greatly, the voice of the day of Yahweh. The mighty man cries there bitterly. <sup>15</sup> That day is a day of wrath, a day of distress and anguish, a day of trouble and ruin, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness, <sup>16</sup> a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fortified cities, and against the high battlements. <sup>17</sup> I will bring distress on men, that they will walk like blind men, because they have sinned against Yahweh, and their blood will be poured out like dust, and their flesh like dung. <sup>18</sup> Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them in the day of Yahweh's wrath, but the whole land will be devoured by the fire of his jealousy; for he will make an end, yes, a terrible end, of all those who dwell in the land.

2

<sup>1</sup> Gather yourselves together, yes, gather together, you nation that has no shame, <sup>2</sup> before the appointed time when the day passes as the chaff, before the fierce anger of Yahweh comes on you, before the day of Yahweh's anger comes on you. <sup>3</sup> Seek Yahweh, all you humble of the land, who have kept his ordinances. Seek righteousness. Seek humility. It may be that you will be hidden in the day of Yahweh's anger. <sup>4</sup> For Gaza will be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation. They will drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron will be rooted up. <sup>5</sup> Woe to the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! Yahweh's word is against you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines. I will destroy you, that there will be no inhabitant. <sup>6</sup> The sea coast will be pastures, with cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. <sup>7</sup> The coast will be for the remnant of the house of Judah. They will find pasture. In the houses of Ashkelon, they will lie down in the evening, for Yahweh, their God,<sup>c</sup> will visit them, and restore them. <sup>8</sup> I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the insults of the children of Ammon, with which they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. <sup>9</sup> Therefore as I live, says Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel, surely Moab will be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of my people will plunder them, and the survivors of my nation will inherit them. <sup>10</sup> This they will have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of Yahweh of Armies. <sup>11</sup> Yahweh will be awesome to them, for he will famish all the gods of the land. Men will worship him, everyone from his place, even all the shores of the nations. <sup>12</sup> You Cushites also, you will be killed by my sword. <sup>13</sup> He will stretch out his hand against the north, destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, as dry as the wilderness. <sup>14</sup> Herds will lie down in the middle of her, all the animals of the nations. Both the pelican and the porcupine will lodge in its capitals. Their calls will echo through the windows. Desolation will be in the thresholds, for he has laid bare the cedar beams. <sup>15</sup> This is the joyous city that lived carelessly, that said in her heart, "I am, and there is no one besides me." How she has become a desolation, a place for animals to lie down in! Everyone who passes by her will hiss, and shake their fists.

are destroyed, so that there is no man, so that there is no inhabitant. <sup>7</sup> I said, “Just fear me. Receive correction, so that her dwelling won’t be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her.” But they rose early and corrupted all their doings. <sup>8</sup> “Therefore wait for me”, says Yahweh, “until the day that I rise up to the prey, for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour on them my indignation, even all my fierce anger, for all the earth will be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. <sup>9</sup> For then I will purify the lips of the peoples, that they may all call on Yahweh’s name, to serve him shoulder to shoulder. <sup>10</sup> From beyond the rivers of Cush, my worshipers, even the daughter of my dispersed people, will bring my offering. <sup>11</sup> In that day you will not be disappointed for all your doings, in which you have transgressed against me; for then I will take away out from among you your proudly exulting ones, and you will no more be haughty in my holy mountain. <sup>12</sup> But I will leave among you an afflicted and poor people, and they will take refuge in Yahweh’s name. <sup>13</sup> The remnant of Israel will not do iniquity, nor speak lies, neither will a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they will feed and lie down, and no one will make them afraid.”

<sup>14</sup> Sing, daughter of Zion! Shout, Israel! Be glad and rejoice with all your heart, daughter of Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup> Yahweh has taken away your judgments. He has thrown out your enemy. The King of Israel, Yahweh, is among you. You will not be afraid of evil any more. <sup>16</sup> In that day, it will be said to Jerusalem, “Don’t be afraid, Zion. Don’t let your hands be weak.” <sup>17</sup> Yahweh, your God, is among you, a mighty one who will save. He will rejoice over you with joy. He will calm you in his love. He will rejoice over you with singing. <sup>18</sup> I will remove those who grieve about the appointed feasts from you. They are a burden and a reproach to you. <sup>19</sup> Behold,<sup>d</sup> at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you, and I will save those who are lame, and gather those who were driven away. I will give them praise and honor, whose shame has been in all the earth. <sup>20</sup> At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you; for I will give you honor and praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I restore your fortunes before your eyes, says Yahweh.

Haggai

1

<sup>3</sup> Then Yahweh's word came by Haggai, the prophet, saying, <sup>4</sup> "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies waste? <sup>5</sup> Now therefore this is what Yahweh of Armies says: Consider your ways. <sup>6</sup> You have sown much, and bring in little. You eat, but you don't have enough. You drink, but you aren't filled with drink. You clothe yourselves, but no one is warm, and he who earns wages earns wages to put them into a bag with holes in it."

<sup>7</sup> This is what Yahweh of Armies says: "Consider your ways. <sup>8</sup> Go up to the mountain, bring wood, and build the house. I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified," says Yahweh. <sup>9</sup> "You looked for much, and, behold,<sup>b</sup> it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why?" says Yahweh of Armies, "Because of my house that lies waste, while each of you is busy with his own house. <sup>10</sup> Therefore for your sake the heavens withhold the dew, and the earth withholds its fruit. <sup>11</sup> I called for a drought on the land, on the mountains, on the grain, on the new wine, on the oil, on that which the ground produces, on men, on livestock, and on all the labor of the hands."

<sup>12</sup> Then Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed Yahweh, their God's<sup>c</sup> voice, and the words of Haggai, the prophet, as Yahweh, their God, had sent him; and the people feared Yahweh.

<sup>13</sup> Then Haggai, Yahweh's messenger, spoke Yahweh's message to the people, saying, "I am with you," says Yahweh.

<sup>14</sup> Yahweh stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and worked on the house of Yahweh of Armies, their God, <sup>15</sup> in the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

former glory? How do you see it now? Isn't it in your eyes as nothing? <sup>4</sup> Yet now be strong, Zerubbabel,' says Yahweh. 'Be strong, Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest. Be strong, all you people of the land,' says Yahweh, 'and work, for I am with you,' says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>5</sup> This is the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, and my Spirit lived among you. 'Don't be afraid.' <sup>6</sup> For this is what Yahweh of Armies says: 'Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, the earth, the sea, and the dry land; <sup>7</sup> and I will shake all nations. The precious things of all nations will come, and I will fill this house with glory, says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>8</sup> The silver is mine, and the gold is mine,' says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>9</sup> 'The latter glory of this house will be greater than the former,' says Yahweh of Armies; 'and in this place will I give peace,' says Yahweh of Armies."

The priests answered, "No."

<sup>13</sup> Then Haggai said, "If one who is unclean by reason of a dead body touch any of these, will it be unclean?"

The priests answered, "It will be unclean."

<sup>14</sup> Then Haggai answered, "'So is this people, and so is this nation before me,' says Yahweh; 'and so is every work of their hands. That which they offer there is unclean. <sup>15</sup> Now, please consider from this day and backward, before a stone was laid on a stone in Yahweh's temple. <sup>16</sup> Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were only ten. When one came to the wine vat to draw out fifty, there were only twenty. <sup>17</sup> I struck you with blight, mildew, and hail in all the work of your hands; yet you didn't turn to me,' says Yahweh. <sup>18</sup> 'Consider, please, from this day and backward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of Yahweh's temple was laid, consider it. <sup>19</sup> Is the seed yet in the barn? Yes, the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree haven't produced. From today I will bless you.'"

<sup>20</sup> Yahweh's word came the second time to Haggai in the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, <sup>21</sup> "Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, 'I will shake the heavens and the earth. <sup>22</sup> I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms. I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots, and those who ride in them. The horses and their riders will come down, everyone by the sword of his brother. <sup>23</sup> In that day, says Yahweh of Armies, will I take you, Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel,' says Yahweh, 'and will make you as a signet, for I have chosen you,' says Yahweh of Armies."

Zechariah

1

"Then they repented and said, 'Just as Yahweh of Armies determined to do to us, according to our ways, and according to our practices, so he has dealt with us.'" <sup>7</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, Yahweh's word came to Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, <sup>8</sup> "I had a vision in the night, and behold,<sup>b</sup> a man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in a ravine; and behind him there were red, brown, and white horses. <sup>9</sup> Then I asked, 'My lord, what are these?'"

The angel who talked with me said to me, "I will show you what these are."

<sup>10</sup> The man who stood among the myrtle trees answered, "They are the ones Yahweh has sent to go back and forth through the earth."

<sup>11</sup> They reported to Yahweh's angel who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, "We have walked back and forth through the earth, and behold, all the earth is at rest and in peace."

<sup>12</sup> Then Yahweh's angel replied, "O Yahweh of Armies, how long will you not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which you have had indignation these seventy years?"

<sup>13</sup> Yahweh answered the angel who talked with me with kind and comforting words. <sup>14</sup> So the angel who talked with me said to me, "Proclaim, saying, 'Yahweh of Armies says: "I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. <sup>15</sup> I am very angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little displeased, but they added to the calamity." <sup>16</sup> Therefore Yahweh says: "I have returned to Jerusalem with mercy. My house shall be built in it," says Yahweh of Armies, "and a line shall be stretched out over Jerusalem."'"

<sup>17</sup> "Proclaim further, saying, 'Yahweh of Armies says: "My cities will again overflow with prosperity, and Yahweh will again comfort Zion, and will again choose Jerusalem.”””

<sup>18</sup> I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, four horns. <sup>19</sup> I asked the angel who talked with me, “What are these?”

He answered me, “These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.”

<sup>20</sup> Yahweh showed me four craftsmen. <sup>21</sup> Then I asked, “What are these coming to do?”

He said, “These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; but these have come to terrify them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.”

2

He said to me, “To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its width and what is its length.”

<sup>3</sup> Behold, the angel who talked with me went out, and another angel went out to meet him, <sup>4</sup> and said to him, “Run, speak to this young man, saying, ‘Jerusalem will be inhabited as villages without walls, because of the multitude of men and livestock in it. <sup>5</sup> For I,’ says Yahweh, ‘will be to her a wall of fire around it, and I will be the glory in the middle of her. <sup>6</sup> Come! Come! Flee from the land of the north,’ says Yahweh; ‘for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the sky,’ says Yahweh. <sup>7</sup> ‘Come, Zion! Escape, you who dwell with the daughter of Babylon.’ <sup>8</sup> For Yahweh of Armies says: ‘For honor he has sent me to the nations which plundered you; for he who touches you touches the apple of his eye. <sup>9</sup> For, behold, I will shake my hand over them, and they will be a plunder to those who served them; and you will know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me. <sup>10</sup> Sing and rejoice, daughter of Zion; for, behold, I come, and I will dwell within you,’ says Yahweh. <sup>11</sup> Many nations shall join themselves to Yahweh in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell among you, and you shall know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me to you. <sup>12</sup> Yahweh will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and will again choose Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> Be silent, all flesh, before Yahweh; for he has roused himself from his holy habitation!”

3

<sup>3</sup> Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the angel. <sup>4</sup> He answered and spoke to those who stood before him, saying, “Take the filthy garments off of him.” To him he said, “Behold, I have caused your iniquity to pass from you, and I will clothe you with rich clothing.”

So they set a clean turban on his head, and clothed him; and Yahweh’s angel was standing by. <sup>6</sup> Yahweh’s angel protested to

Joshua, saying, <sup>7</sup> “Yahweh of Armies says: ‘If you will walk in my ways, and if you will follow my instructions, then you also shall judge my house, and shall also keep my courts, and I will give you a place of access among these who stand by. <sup>8</sup> Hear now, Joshua the high priest, you and your fellows who sit before you; for they are men who are a sign: for, behold, I will bring out my servant, the Branch. <sup>9</sup> For, behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua; on one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave its engraving,’ says Yahweh of Armies, ‘and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. <sup>10</sup> In that day,’ says Yahweh of Armies, ‘you will invite every man his neighbor under the vine and under the fig tree.’”

4

<sup>1</sup> The angel who talked with me came again, and wakened me, as a man who is wakened out of his sleep. <sup>2</sup> He said to me, “What do you see?”

I said, “I have seen, and behold, a lamp stand all of gold, with its bowl on the top of it, and its seven lamps on it; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are on the top of it; <sup>3</sup> and two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it.”

<sup>4</sup> I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, “What are these, my lord?”

<sup>5</sup> Then the angel who talked with me answered me, “Don’t you know what these are?”

I said, “No, my lord.”

<sup>6</sup> Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, “This is Yahweh’s word to Zerubbabel, saying, ‘Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit,’ says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>7</sup> Who are you, great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you are a plain; and he will bring out the capstone with shouts of ‘Grace, grace, to it!’”

<sup>8</sup> Moreover Yahweh’s word came to me, saying, <sup>9</sup> “The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house. His hands shall also finish it; and you will know that Yahweh of Armies has sent me to you. <sup>10</sup> Indeed, who despises the day of small things? For these seven shall rejoice, and shall see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel. These are Yahweh’s eyes, which run back and forth through the whole earth.”

<sup>12</sup> I asked him the second time, “What are these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that pour the golden oil out of themselves?”

I said, “No, my lord.”

<sup>14</sup> Then he said, “These are the two anointed ones who stand by the Lord <sup>c</sup> of the whole earth.”

5

<sup>1</sup> Then again I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying scroll. <sup>2</sup> He said to me, “What do you see?”

I answered, "I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits,<sup>d</sup> and its width ten cubits."

<sup>3</sup> Then he said to me, "This is the curse that goes out over the surface of the whole land; for everyone who steals shall be cut off according to it on the one side; and everyone who swears falsely shall be cut off according to it on the other side. <sup>4</sup> I will cause it to go out," says Yahweh of Armies, "and it will enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by my name; and it will remain in the middle of his house, and will destroy it with its timber and its stones."

<sup>5</sup> Then the angel who talked with me came forward, and said to me, "Lift up now your eyes, and see what is this that is appearing."

He said, "This is the ephah<sup>e</sup> basket that is appearing." He said moreover, "This is their appearance in all the land <sup>7</sup> (and behold, a talent<sup>f</sup> of lead was lifted up); and this is a woman sitting in the middle of the ephah<sup>g</sup> basket." <sup>8</sup> He said, "This is Wickedness"; and he threw her down into the middle of the ephah basket; and he threw the weight of lead on its mouth.

<sup>9</sup> Then I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, there were two women, and the wind was in their wings. Now they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they lifted up the ephah basket between earth and the sky. <sup>10</sup> Then I said to the angel who talked with me, "Where are these carrying the ephah basket?"

<sup>11</sup> He said to me, "To build her a house in the land of Shinar. When it is prepared, she will be set there in her own place."

6

<sup>5</sup> The angel answered me, "These are the four winds of the sky, which go out from standing before the Lord of all the earth. <sup>6</sup> The one with the black horses goes out toward the north country; and the white went out after them; and the dappled went out toward the south country." <sup>7</sup> The strong went out, and sought to go that they might walk back and forth through the earth: and he said, "Go around and through the earth!" So they walked back and forth through the earth.

<sup>8</sup> Then he called to me, and spoke to me, saying, "Behold, those who go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country."

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh's word came to me, saying, <sup>10</sup> "Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. <sup>11</sup> Yes, take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them on the head of Joshua the son of

This will happen, if you will diligently obey Yahweh your God’s voice.”’<sup>h</sup>

7

<sup>4</sup> Then the word of Yahweh of Armies came to me, saying, <sup>5</sup> “Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, ‘When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month for these seventy years, did you at all fast to me, really to me? <sup>6</sup> When you eat, and when you drink, don’t you eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? <sup>7</sup> Aren’t these the words which Yahweh proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and its cities around her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited?’”

<sup>8</sup> Yahweh’s word came to Zechariah, saying, <sup>9</sup> “Thus has Yahweh of Armies spoken, saying, ‘Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. <sup>10</sup> Don’t oppress the widow, nor the fatherless, the foreigner, nor the poor; and let none of you devise evil against his brother in your heart.’ <sup>11</sup> But they refused to listen, and turned their backs, and stopped their ears, that they might not hear. <sup>12</sup> Yes, they made their hearts as hard as flint, lest they might hear the law, and the words which Yahweh of Armies had sent by his Spirit by the former prophets. Therefore great wrath came from Yahweh of Armies. <sup>13</sup> It has come to pass that, as he called, and they refused to listen, so they will call, and I will not listen,” said Yahweh of Armies; <sup>14</sup> “but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations which they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, so that no man passed through nor returned: for they made the pleasant land desolate.”

8

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh says: “I have returned to Zion, and will dwell in the middle of Jerusalem. Jerusalem shall be called ‘The City of Truth;’ and the mountain of Yahweh of Armies, ‘The Holy Mountain.’”

<sup>6</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “If it is marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in my eyes?” says Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>7</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country; <sup>8</sup> and I will bring them, and they will dwell within Jerusalem; and they will be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.”

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “Let your hands be strong, you who hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets who were in the day that the foundation of the house of Yahweh of Armies was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. <sup>10</sup> For before those days there was no wages for man, nor any wages for an animal; neither was there any peace to him who went out or came in, because of the adversary. For I set all men everyone against his neighbor. <sup>11</sup> But now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days,” says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>12</sup> “For the seed of peace and the vine will yield its fruit, and the ground will give its increase, and the heavens will give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. <sup>13</sup> It shall come to pass that, as you were a curse among the nations, house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing. Don’t be afraid. Let your hands be strong.”

<sup>14</sup> For Yahweh of Armies says: “As I thought to do evil to you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath,” says Yahweh of Armies, “and I didn’t repent; <sup>15</sup> so again have I thought in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Don’t be afraid. <sup>16</sup> These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor. Execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates, <sup>17</sup> and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbor, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate,” says Yahweh.

<sup>18</sup> The word of Yahweh of Armies came to me. <sup>19</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “The fasts of the fourth fifth, seventh, and tenth months shall be for the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.”

<sup>20</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “Many peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities will yet come; <sup>21</sup> and the inhabitants of one shall go to another, saying, ‘Let us go speedily to entreat the favor of Yahweh, and to seek Yahweh of Armies. I will go also.’ <sup>22</sup> Yes, many peoples and strong nations will come to seek Yahweh of Armies in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favor of Yahweh.” <sup>23</sup> Yahweh of Armies says: “In those days, ten men will take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, they will take hold of the skirt of him who is a Jew, saying, ‘We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.’”

Yahweh’s word is against the land of Hadrach,
and will rest upon Damascus;

for the eye of man
 and of all the tribes of Israel is toward Yahweh;
<sup>2</sup> and Hamath, also, which borders on it;
 Tyre and Sidon, because they are very wise.
<sup>3</sup> Tyre built herself a stronghold,
 and heaped up silver like the dust,
 and fine gold like the mire of the
 streets.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, the Lord will dispossess her,
 and he will strike her power in the
 sea;
 and she will be devoured with fire.
<sup>5</sup> Ashkelon will see it, and fear;
 Gaza also, and will writhe in agony;
 as will Ekron, for her expectation
 will be disappointed;
 and the king will perish from Gaza,
 and Ashkelon will not be inhabited.
<sup>6</sup> Foreigners will dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.
<sup>7</sup> I will take away his blood out of his
 mouth,
 and his abominations from between
 his teeth;
 and he also will be a remnant for our
 God;
 and he will be as a chieftain in Judah,
 and Ekron as a Jebusite.
<sup>8</sup> I will encamp around my house against
 the army,
 that no one pass through or return;
 and no oppressor will pass through them any more:
 for now I have seen with my eyes.
<sup>9</sup> Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion!
 Shout, daughter of Jerusalem!

Behold, your King comes to you!
 He is righteous, and having
 salvation;
 lowly, and riding on a donkey,
 even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.
<sup>10</sup> I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim,
 and the horse from Jerusalem;
 and the battle bow will be cut off;
 and he will speak peace to the
 nations:
 and his dominion will be from sea
 to sea,
 and from the River to the ends of
 the earth.
<sup>11</sup> As for you also,
 because of the blood of your
 covenant,
 I have set free your prisoners from
 the pit in which is no water.
<sup>12</sup> Turn to the stronghold, you prisoners
 of hope!
 Even today I declare that I will restore double to you.
<sup>13</sup> For indeed I bend Judah as a bow for
 me.
 I have filled the bow with Ephraim;
 and I will stir up your sons, Zion,
 against your sons, Greece,
 and will make you like the sword of a mighty man.
<sup>14</sup> Yahweh will be seen over them;
 and his arrow will go flash like
 lightning;
 and the Lord Yahweh will blow the
 trumpet,
 and will go with whirlwinds of the south.
<sup>15</sup> Yahweh of Armies will defend them;
 and they will destroy and overcome
 with sling stones;

and they will drink, and roar as
 through wine;
 and they will be filled like bowls,
 like the corners of the altar.
<sup>16</sup> Yahweh their God will save them in that day as the flock of his
 people;
 for they are like the jewels of a
 crown,
 lifted on high over his land.
<sup>17</sup> For how great is his goodness,
 and how great is his beauty!
 Grain will make the young men flourish,
 and new wine the virgins.

<sup>1</sup> Ask of Yahweh rain in the spring time,
 Yahweh who makes storm clouds,
 and he gives rain showers to everyone for the plants in
 the field.
<sup>2</sup> For the teraphim<sup>i</sup> have spoken vanity,
 and the diviners have seen a lie;
 and they have told false dreams.
 They comfort in vain.
 Therefore they go their way like
 sheep.
 They are oppressed, because there is no shepherd.
<sup>3</sup> My anger is kindled against the
 shepherds,
 and I will punish the male goats;
 For Yahweh of Armies has visited his flock, the house of Judah,
 and will make them as his majestic
 horse in the battle.
<sup>4</sup> From him will come the cornerstone,
 from him the nail,
 from him the battle bow,
 from him every ruler together.

<sup>5</sup> They shall be as mighty men, treading down muddy streets in the
 battle;
 and they shall fight, because Yahweh is with them;
 and the riders on horses will be
 confounded.
<sup>6</sup> "I will strengthen the house of Judah,
 and I will save the house of Joseph,
 and I will bring them back;
 for I have mercy on them;
 and they will be as though I had not cast them off:
 for I am Yahweh their God, and I
 will hear them.
<sup>7</sup> Ephraim will be like a mighty man,
 and their heart will rejoice as
 through wine;
 yes, their children will see it, and
 rejoice.
 Their heart will be glad in Yahweh.
<sup>8</sup> I will signal for them, and gather them;
 for I have redeemed them;
 and they will increase as they have
 increased.
<sup>9</sup> I will sow them among the peoples;
 and they will remember me in far countries;
 and they will live with their children, and will return.
<sup>10</sup> I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt,
 and gather them out of Assyria;
 and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon;
 and there won't be room enough for
 them.
<sup>11</sup> He will pass through the sea of
 affliction,
 and will strike the waves in the sea,

<sup>i</sup> teraphim were household idols that may have been associated with inheritance rights to the household property.

and all the depths of the Nile will dry up;
and the pride of Assyria will be brought down,
and the scepter of Egypt will
depart.

<sup>12</sup> I will strengthen them in Yahweh;
and they will walk up and down in his name," says Yahweh.

11

<sup>1</sup> Open your doors, Lebanon,
that the fire may devour your cedars.

<sup>2</sup> Wail, cypress tree, for the cedar has
fallen,
because the stately ones are
destroyed.

Wail, you oaks of Bashan,
for the strong forest has come
down.

<sup>3</sup> A voice of the wailing of the
shepherds!
For their glory is destroyed: a voice of the roaring of young
lions!
For the pride of the Jordan is ruined.

<sup>4</sup> Yahweh my God says: "Feed the flock of slaughter. <sup>5</sup> Their buyers slaughter them,
and go unpunished. Those who sell them say, 'Blessed be Yahweh, for I am rich;'
and their own shepherds don't pity them. <sup>6</sup>
For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land," says Yahweh; "but, behold, I will deliver the men everyone into his neighbor's hand, and into the hand of his king. They will strike the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them."

<sup>7</sup> So I fed the flock of slaughter, especially the oppressed of the flock. I took for myself two staffs. The one I called

"Favor", and the other I called "Union", and I fed the flock. <sup>8</sup> I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. <sup>9</sup> Then I said, "I will not feed you. That which dies, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let those who are left eat each other's flesh." <sup>10</sup> I took my staff Favor, and cut it apart, that I might break my covenant that I had made with all the peoples. <sup>11</sup> It was broken in that day; and thus the poor of the flock that listened to me knew that it was Yahweh's word. <sup>12</sup> I said to them, "If you think it best, give me my wages; and if not, keep them." So they weighed for my wages thirty pieces of silver. <sup>13</sup> Yahweh said to me, "Throw it to the potter, the handsome price that I was valued at by them!" I took the thirty pieces of silver, and threw them to the potter, in Yahweh's house. <sup>14</sup> Then I cut apart my other staff, even Union, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

<sup>15</sup> Yahweh said to me, "Take for yourself
yet again the equipment of a foolish shepherd. <sup>16</sup> For, behold, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not visit those who are cut off, neither will seek those who are scattered, nor heal that which is broken, nor feed that which is sound; but he will eat the flesh of the fat sheep, and will tear their hoofs in pieces. <sup>17</sup> Woe to the worthless shepherd who leaves the flock!
The sword will be on his arm, and on his right eye. His arm will be completely withered, and his right eye will be totally blinded!"

12

<sup>1</sup> A revelation, Yahweh's word concerning Israel. Yahweh, who stretches out the heavens, and lays the foundation of the earth, and forms the spirit of man within him says: <sup>2</sup> "Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of reeling to all the surrounding peoples, and it will also be on Judah in the siege against Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup> It will happen in that day, that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the peoples. All who burden themselves with it will be severely wounded, and all the nations of the earth will be gathered together against it. <sup>4</sup> In that day," says Yahweh, "I will strike every horse with terror, and his rider with madness; and I will open my eyes on the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the peoples with blindness. <sup>5</sup> The chieftains of Judah will say in their heart, 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in Yahweh of Armies their God.' <sup>6</sup> In that day I will make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a flaming torch among sheaves; and they will devour all the surrounding peoples, on the right hand and on the left; and Jerusalem will yet again dwell in their own place, even in Jerusalem. <sup>7</sup> Yahweh also will save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of David's house and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem not be magnified above Judah. <sup>8</sup> In that day Yahweh will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem. He who is feeble among them at that day will be like David, and David's house will be like God, like Yahweh's angel before them. <sup>9</sup> It will happen in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup> I will pour on David's house, and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they will look to me<sup>j</sup> whom they have pierced; and they shall mourn for him, as one mourns for his only son, and will grieve bitterly for him, as one grieves for his firstborn. <sup>11</sup> In that day there will be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. <sup>12</sup> The land will mourn, every family apart; the family of David's house apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; <sup>13</sup> the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; <sup>14</sup> all the families who remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

<sup>1</sup> "In that day there will be a spring opened to David's house and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. <sup>2</sup> It will come to pass in that day, says Yahweh of Armies, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they will be remembered no more. I will also cause the prophets and the spirit of impurity to pass out of the land. <sup>3</sup> It will happen that, when anyone still prophesies, then his father and his mother who bore him will tell him, 'You must die, because you speak lies in Yahweh's name;' and his father and his mother who bore him will stab him when he prophesies. <sup>4</sup> It will happen in that day, that the prophets will each be ashamed of his vision, when he prophesies; neither will they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: <sup>5</sup> but he will say, 'I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondservant from my youth.' <sup>6</sup> One will say to him, 'What are these wounds between your arms?' Then he will answer, 'Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.'

<sup>7</sup> "Awake, sword, against my shepherd, and against the man who is close to me," says Yahweh of Armies.

"Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered; and I will turn my hand against the little ones.

<sup>8</sup> It shall happen that in all the land," says Yahweh, "two parts in it will be cut off and die; but the third will be left in it.

<sup>9</sup> I will bring the third part into the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will test them like gold is tested.

They will call on my name, and I will hear them.

I will say, 'It is my people;' and they will say, 'Yahweh is my God.'"

14

<sup>1</sup> Behold, a day of Yahweh comes, when your plunder will be divided within you. <sup>2</sup> For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city will be taken, the houses rifled, and the women ravished. Half of the city will go out into captivity, and the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. <sup>3</sup> Then Yahweh will go out and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. <sup>4</sup> His feet will stand in that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives will be split in two, from east to west, making a very great valley. Half of the mountain will move toward the north, and half of it toward the south. <sup>5</sup> You shall flee by the valley of my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azel; yes, you shall flee, just like you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Yahweh my God will come, and all the holy ones with you.<sup>k</sup> <sup>6</sup> It will happen in that day, that there will not be light, cold, or frost. <sup>7</sup> It will be a unique day which is known to Yahweh; not day, and not night; but it will come to pass, that at evening time there will be light.

<sup>8</sup> It will happen in that day, that living waters will go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea; in summer and in winter will it be.

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh will be King over all the earth. In that day Yahweh will be one, and his name one. <sup>10</sup> All the land will be made like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she will be lifted up, and will dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate to the place of the first gate, to the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel to the king's wine presses. <sup>11</sup> Men will dwell therein, and there will be no more curse; but Jerusalem will dwell safely. <sup>12</sup> This will be the plague with which Yahweh will strike all the peoples who have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh will consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes will consume away in their sockets, and their tongue will consume away in their mouth. <sup>13</sup> It will happen in that day, that a great panic from Yahweh will be among them; and they will lay hold everyone on the hand of his neighbor, and his hand will rise up against the hand of his neighbor. <sup>14</sup> Judah also will fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the surrounding nations will be gathered together: gold, and silver, and clothing, in great abundance.

<sup>15</sup> So will be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the donkey, and of all the animals that will be in those camps, as that plague. <sup>16</sup> It will happen that everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to worship the King, Yahweh of Armies, and to keep the feast of tents. <sup>17</sup>

It will be, that whoever of all the families of the earth doesn't go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, Yahweh of Armies, on them there will be no rain. <sup>18</sup> If the family of Egypt doesn't go up, and doesn't come, neither will it rain on them. This will be the plague with which Yahweh will strike the nations that don't go up to keep the feast of tents. <sup>19</sup> This will be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that don't go up to keep the feast of tents. <sup>20</sup> In that day there will be on the bells of the horses, "HOLY TO YAHWEH"; and the pots in Yahweh's house will be like the bowls before the altar. <sup>21</sup> Yes, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah will be holy to Yahweh of Armies; and all those who sacrifice will come and take of them, and cook in them. In that day there will no longer be a Canaanite in the house of Yahweh of Armies.

Malachi

Yet you say, "How have you loved us?"

"Wasn't Esau Jacob's brother?" says Yahweh, "Yet I loved Jacob; <sup>3</sup> but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness." <sup>4</sup> Whereas Edom says, "We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places"; Yahweh of Armies says, "They shall build, but I will throw down; and men will call them 'The Wicked Land,' even the people against whom Yahweh shows wrath forever."

<sup>5</sup> Your eyes will see, and you will say, "Yahweh is great—even beyond the border of Israel!"

<sup>6</sup> "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If I am a father, then where is my honor? And if I am a master, where is the respect due me? Says Yahweh of Armies to you, priests, who despise my name. You say, 'How have we despised your name?' <sup>7</sup> You offer polluted bread on my altar. You say, 'How have we polluted you?' In that you say, 'Yahweh's table is contemptible.' <sup>8</sup> When you offer the blind for sacrifice, isn't that evil? And when you offer the lame and sick, isn't that evil?

Present it now to your governor! Will he be pleased with you? Or will he accept your person?" says Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>9</sup> "Now, please entreat the favor of God,<sup>b</sup> that he may be gracious to us. With this, will he accept any of you?" says Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>10</sup> "Oh that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire on my altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you," says Yahweh of Armies, "neither will I accept an offering at your hand. <sup>11</sup> For from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, my name is great among the nations, and in every place incense will be offered to my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the nations," says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>12</sup> "But you profane it, in that you say, 'Yahweh's table is polluted, and its fruit, even its food, is contemptible.' <sup>13</sup> You say also, 'Behold,<sup>c</sup> what a weariness it is!' and you have sniffed at it", says Yahweh of Armies; "and you have brought that which was taken by violence, the lame, and the sick; thus you bring the offering. Should I accept this at your hand?" says Yahweh.

<sup>1</sup> “Now, you priests, this commandment is for you. <sup>2</sup> If you will not listen, and if you will not lay it to heart, to give glory to my name,” says Yahweh of Armies, “then will I send the curse on you, and I will curse your blessings. Indeed, I have cursed them already, because you do not lay it to heart. <sup>3</sup> Behold, I will rebuke your offspring,<sup>e</sup> and will spread dung on your faces, even the dung of your feasts; and you will be taken away with it. <sup>4</sup> You will know that I have sent this commandment to you, that my covenant may be with Levi,” says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>5</sup> “My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might be reverent toward me; and he was reverent toward me, and stood in awe of my name. <sup>6</sup> The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and turned many away from iniquity. <sup>7</sup> For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of Yahweh of Armies. <sup>8</sup> But you have turned aside out of the way. You have caused many to stumble in the law. You have corrupted the covenant of Levi,” says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>9</sup> “Therefore I have also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according to the way you have not kept my ways, but have had respect for persons in the law. <sup>10</sup> Don’t we all have one father? Hasn’t one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? <sup>11</sup> Judah has dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the holiness of Yahweh which he loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god. <sup>12</sup> Yahweh will cut off, to the man who does this, him who wakes and him who answers, out of the tents of Jacob, and him who offers an offering to Yahweh of Armies. <sup>13</sup> This again you do: you cover Yahweh’s altar with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, because he doesn’t regard the offering any more, neither receives it with good will at your hand. <sup>14</sup> Yet you say, ‘Why?’ Because Yahweh has been witness between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously, though she is your companion, and the wife of your covenant. <sup>15</sup> Did he not make you one, although he had the residue of the Spirit? Why one? He sought godly offspring.<sup>f</sup> Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let no one deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. <sup>16</sup> For I hate divorce”, says Yahweh, the God of Israel, “and him who covers his garment with violence!” says Yahweh of Armies. “Therefore take heed to your spirit, that you don’t deal treacherously. <sup>17</sup> You have wearied Yahweh with your words. Yet you say, ‘How have we wearied him?’ In that you say, ‘Everyone who does evil is good in Yahweh’s sight, and he delights in them;’ or ‘Where is the God of justice?’

3

<sup>1</sup> “Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, behold, he comes!" says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>2</sup> "But who can endure the day of his coming? And who will stand when he appears? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like launderer's soap; <sup>3</sup> and he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver; and they shall offer to Yahweh offerings in righteousness. <sup>4</sup> Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasant to Yahweh, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. <sup>5</sup> I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against the perjurers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and who deprive the foreigner of justice, and don't fear me," says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>6</sup> "For I, Yahweh, don't change; therefore you, sons of Jacob, are not consumed. <sup>7</sup> From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from my ordinances, and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you," says Yahweh of Armies. "But you say, 'How shall we return?' <sup>8</sup> Will a man rob God? Yet you rob me! But you say, 'How have we robbed you?' In tithes and offerings. <sup>9</sup> You are cursed with the curse; for you rob me, even this whole nation. <sup>10</sup> Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and test me now in this," says Yahweh of Armies, "if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there will not be room enough for. <sup>11</sup> I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast its fruit before its time in the field," says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>12</sup> "All nations shall call you blessed, for you will be a delightful land," says Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>13</sup> "Your words have been stout against me," says Yahweh. "Yet you say, 'What have we spoken against you?' <sup>14</sup> You have said, 'It is vain to serve God;' and 'What profit is it that we have followed his instructions, and that we have walked mournfully before Yahweh of Armies? <sup>15</sup> Now we call the proud happy; yes, those who work wickedness are built up; yes, they tempt God, and escape.' <sup>16</sup> Then those who feared Yahweh spoke one with another; and Yahweh listened, and heard, and a book of memory was written before him, for those who feared Yahweh, and who honored his name. <sup>17</sup> They shall be mine," says Yahweh of Armies, "my own possession in the day that I make, and I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him. <sup>18</sup> Then you shall return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who doesn't serve him.

4

<sup>1</sup> "For, behold, the day comes, it burns as a furnace; and all the proud, and all who work wickedness, will be stubble; and the day that comes will burn them up," says Yahweh of Armies, "that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. <sup>2</sup> But to you who fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in its wings. You will go out, and leap like calves of the stall. <sup>3</sup> You shall tread down the wicked; for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I make," says Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>4</sup> “Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded to him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and ordinances. <sup>5</sup> Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes. <sup>6</sup> He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse.”

The Book of the Prophet

1

<sup>2</sup> Hear, heavens,
and listen, earth; for Yahweh<sup>a</sup> has spoken:
“I have nourished and brought up children,
and they have rebelled against me.

<sup>3</sup> The ox knows his owner,
and the donkey his master’s crib;
but Israel doesn’t know,
my people don’t consider.”

<sup>4</sup> Ah sinful nation,
a people loaded with iniquity,
offspring<sup>b</sup> of evildoers,
children who deal corruptly!
They have forsaken Yahweh.
They have despised the Holy One
of Israel.
They are estranged and backward.

<sup>5</sup> Why should you be beaten more,
that you revolt more and more?
The whole head is sick,
and the whole heart faint.

<sup>6</sup> From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness in it:
wounds, welts, and open sores.
They haven’t been closed, neither bandaged, neither soothed
with oil.

<sup>7</sup> Your country is desolate.
Your cities are burned with fire.
Strangers devour your land in your presence,
and it is desolate,
as overthrown by strangers.

<sup>8</sup> The daughter of Zion is left like a shelter in a vineyard,
like a hut in a field of melons,
like a besieged city.

<sup>9</sup> Unless Yahweh of Armies had left to us a very small remnant,
we would have been as Sodom;
we would have been like Gomorrah.

<sup>10</sup> Hear Yahweh’s word, you rulers of Sodom!
Listen to the law of our God,<sup>c</sup> you people of Gomorrah!

<sup>11</sup> “What are the multitude of your sacrifices to me?”, says Yahweh.
“I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams,
and the fat of fed animals.
I don’t delight in the blood of bulls,
or of lambs,
or of male goats.

<sup>12</sup> When you come to appear before me,
who has required this at your hand,
to trample my courts?

<sup>13</sup> Bring no more vain offerings.
Incense is an abomination to me;
new moons, Sabbaths, and convocations:

- I can't bear with evil assemblies.
- <sup>14</sup> My soul hates your New Moons and your appointed feasts.
They are a burden to me.
I am weary of bearing them.
- <sup>15</sup> When you spread out your hands, I will hide my eyes from you.
Yes, when you make many prayers,
I will not hear.
Your hands are full of blood.
- <sup>16</sup> Wash yourselves, make yourself
clean.
Put away the evil of your doings
from before my eyes.
Cease to do evil.
- <sup>17</sup> Learn to do well.
Seek justice.
Relieve the oppressed.
Judge the fatherless.
Plead for the widow.”
- <sup>18</sup> “Come now, and let us reason
together,” says Yahweh: “Though your sins be as scarlet,
they shall be as white as
snow.
Though they be red like crimson,
they shall be as wool.
- <sup>19</sup> If you are willing and obedient,
you shall eat the good of the land;
<sup>20</sup> but if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured with the
sword;
for the mouth of Yahweh has spoken it.”
- <sup>21</sup> How the faithful city has become a
prostitute!
She was full of justice;
righteousness lodged in her,
but now murderers.
- <sup>22</sup> Your silver has become dross,
- your wine mixed with water.
- <sup>23</sup> Your princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves.
Everyone loves bribes, and follows
after rewards.
They don't judge the fatherless,
neither does the cause of the widow
come to them.
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore the Lord,<sup>d</sup> Yahweh of Armies,
the Mighty One of Israel, says: “Ah, I will get relief from my
adversaries,
and avenge myself on my enemies;
<sup>25</sup> and I will turn my hand on you,
thoroughly purge away your dross,
and will take away all your tin.<sup>e</sup>
- <sup>26</sup> I will restore your judges as at the first,
and your counselors as at the
beginning.
Afterward you shall be called ‘The city
of righteousness,
a faithful town.’
- <sup>27</sup> Zion shall be redeemed with justice,
and her converts with
righteousness.
- <sup>28</sup> But the destruction of transgressors
and sinners shall be together,
and those who forsake Yahweh
shall be consumed.
- <sup>29</sup> For they shall be ashamed of the oaks
which you have desired,
and you shall be confounded for the gardens that you have
chosen.
- <sup>30</sup> For you shall be as an oak whose leaf
fades,
and as a garden that has no water.
- <sup>31</sup> The strong will be like tinder,

and his work like a spark.
They will both burn together,
and no one will quench them.”

2

<sup>1</sup> This is what Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> It shall happen in the latter days, that the mountain of Yahweh's house shall be established on the top of the mountains,
and shall be raised above the hills;
and all nations shall flow to it.

<sup>3</sup> Many peoples shall go and say,
“Come, let's go up to the mountain
of Yahweh,
to the house of the God of Jacob;
and he will teach us of his ways,
and we will walk in his paths.”

For out of Zion the law shall go out, and Yahweh's word from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> He will judge between the nations,
and will decide concerning many
peoples;
and they shall beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks.

Nation shall not lift up sword against
nation,
neither shall they learn war any
more.

<sup>5</sup> House of Jacob, come, and let us walk in the light of Yahweh.

<sup>6</sup> For you have forsaken your people, the
house of Jacob,
because they are filled from the east,
with those who practice divination
like the Philistines,

and they clasp hands with the children of foreigners.

<sup>7</sup> Their land is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their
treasures.

Their land also is full of horses,
neither is there any end of their
chariots.

<sup>8</sup> Their land also is full of idols.
They worship the work of their own
hands,
that which their own fingers have
made.

<sup>9</sup> Man is brought low,
and mankind is humbled;
therefore don't forgive them.

<sup>10</sup> Enter into the rock,
and hide in the dust,
from before the terror of Yahweh,
and from the glory of his majesty.

<sup>11</sup> The lofty looks of man will be brought low,
the haughtiness of men will be
bowed down,
and Yahweh alone will be exalted
in that day.

<sup>12</sup> For there will be a day of Yahweh of Armies for all that is proud and haughty,
and for all that is lifted up;
and it shall be brought low:

<sup>13</sup> For all the cedars of Lebanon,
that are high and lifted up,
for all the oaks of Bashan,

<sup>14</sup> For all the high mountains,
for all the hills that are lifted up,

<sup>15</sup> For every lofty tower,
for every fortified wall,

<sup>16</sup> For all the ships of Tarshish,
and for all pleasant imagery.

<sup>17</sup> The loftiness of man shall be bowed
down,
and the haughtiness of men shall be
brought low;
and Yahweh alone shall be exalted
in that day.

<sup>19</sup> Men shall go into the caves of the
rocks,
and into the holes of the earth,
from before the terror of Yahweh,
and from the glory of his majesty,
when he arises to shake the earth
mightily.

<sup>20</sup> In that day, men shall cast away their idols of silver,
and their idols of gold,
which have been made for themselves to worship,
to the moles and to the bats;

<sup>21</sup> To go into the caverns of the
rocks,
and into the clefts of the ragged
rocks,
from before the terror of Yahweh,
and from the glory of his majesty,
when he arises to shake the earth
mightily.

<sup>22</sup> Stop trusting in man, whose breath is in his nostrils;
for of what account is he?

3

<sup>1</sup> For, behold,<sup>f</sup> the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, takes away from Jerusalem and from Judah
supply and support,
the whole supply of bread,
and the whole supply of water;
<sup>2</sup> the mighty man,

the man of war,
the judge,
the prophet,
the diviner,
the elder,
<sup>3</sup> the captain of fifty,
the honorable man,
the counselor,
the skilled craftsman,
and the clever enchanter.

<sup>4</sup> I will give boys to be their princes,
and children shall rule over them.

<sup>5</sup> The people will be oppressed,
everyone by another,
and everyone by his neighbor.
The child will behave himself proudly
against the old man,
and the base against the honorable.

<sup>6</sup> Indeed a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying,
“You have clothing, you be our
ruler,
and let this ruin be under your
hand.”

<sup>7</sup> In that day he will cry out, saying, “I will not be a healer;
for in my house is neither bread nor
clothing.
You shall not make me ruler of the
people.”

<sup>8</sup> For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is
fallen;
because their tongue and their doings are against Yahweh,
to provoke the eyes of his glory.

<sup>9</sup> The look of their faces testify against
them.
They parade their sin like Sodom.
They don't hide it.

<sup>f</sup>“Behold”, from “הִנֵּה”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

Woe to their soul!
 For they have brought disaster upon
 themselves.

<sup>10</sup> Tell the righteous "Good!"
 For they shall eat the fruit of their
 deeds.

<sup>11</sup> Woe to the wicked!
 Disaster is upon them;
 for the deeds of his hands will be paid back to him.

<sup>12</sup> As for my people, children are their oppressors,
 and women rule over them.
 My people, those who lead you cause you to err,
 and destroy the way of your paths.

<sup>13</sup> Yahweh stands up to contend,
 and stands to judge the peoples.

<sup>14</sup> Yahweh will enter into judgment with
 the elders of his people,
 and their leaders:
 "It is you who have eaten up the
 vineyard.
 The plunder of the poor is in your houses.

<sup>15</sup> What do you mean that you
 crush my people,
 and grind the face of the poor?"
 says the Lord, Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>16</sup> Moreover Yahweh said, "Because the daughters of Zion are
 haughty,
 and walk with outstretched necks
 and flirting eyes,
 walking to trip as they go,
 jingling ornaments on their feet;
<sup>17</sup> therefore the Lord brings sores on the crown of the head of the women of Zion,

and Yahweh will make their scalps
 bald."

<sup>18</sup> In that day the Lord will take away the beauty of their anklets, the headbands, the crescent necklaces, <sup>19</sup> the earrings, the bracelets, the veils, <sup>20</sup> the headdresses, the ankle chains, the sashes, the perfume bottles, the charms, <sup>21</sup> the signet rings, the nose rings, <sup>22</sup> the fine robes, the capes, the cloaks, the purses, <sup>23</sup> the hand mirrors, the fine linen garments, the tiaras, and the shawls.

<sup>24</sup> It shall happen that instead of sweet spices, there shall be rottenness;
 instead of a belt, a rope;
 instead of well set hair, baldness;
 instead of a robe, a wearing of sackcloth;
 and branding instead of beauty.

<sup>25</sup> Your men shall fall by the sword,
 and your mighty in the war.

<sup>26</sup> Her gates shall lament and mourn;
 and she shall be desolate and sit on the ground.

4

<sup>1</sup> Seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, "We will eat our own bread, and wear our own clothing:
 only let us be called by your name. Take away our reproach."

<sup>2</sup> In that day, Yahweh's branch will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the beauty and glory of the survivors of Israel. <sup>3</sup> It will happen, that he who is left in Zion, and he who remains in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even everyone who is written among the living in Jerusalem; <sup>4</sup> when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from within it, by the spirit of justice, and by the spirit of burning. <sup>5</sup> Yahweh will create over the whole habitation of Mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory will be a canopy. <sup>6</sup> There will be a pavilion for a shade in the daytime from the heat, and for a refuge and for a shelter from storm and from rain.

My beloved had a vineyard on a very fruitful hill.

<sup>2</sup> He dug it up,
gathered out its stones,
planted it with the choicest vine,
built a tower in the middle of it,
and also cut out a wine press
therein.

He looked for it to yield grapes,
but it yielded wild grapes.

<sup>3</sup> “Now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah,
please judge between me and my vineyard.

<sup>4</sup> What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it?

Why, when I looked for it to yield grapes, did it yield wild grapes?

<sup>5</sup> Now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard.

I will take away its hedge, and it will be eaten up.

I will break down its wall, and it will be trampled down.

<sup>6</sup> I will lay it a wasteland.

It won't be pruned nor hoed,
but it will grow briars and thorns.

I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain on it.”

<sup>7</sup> For the vineyard of Yahweh of Armies is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant:

and he looked for justice, but,
behold, oppression;
for righteousness, but, behold, a cry
of distress.

<sup>8</sup> Woe to those who join house to house,
who lay field to field, until there is no room,
and you are made to dwell alone in the middle of the land!

<sup>9</sup> In my ears, Yahweh of Armies says:
“Surely many houses will be
desolate,
even great and beautiful,
unoccupied.

<sup>10</sup> For ten acres<sup>g</sup> of vineyard shall yield one bath,<sup>h</sup> and a homer<sup>i</sup> of seed shall yield an ephah.”<sup>j</sup>

<sup>11</sup> Woe to those who rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink;
who stay late into the night, until wine inflames them!

<sup>12</sup> The harp, lyre, tambourine, and flute,
with wine, are at their feasts;

<sup>g</sup> literally, ten yokes, or the amount of land that ten yokes of oxen can plow in one day, which is about 10 acres or 4 hectares.

- but they don't respect the work of
Yahweh,
neither have they considered the operation of his hands.
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore my people go into captivity
for lack of knowledge.
Their honorable men are famished,
and their multitudes are parched with thirst.
- <sup>14</sup> Therefore Sheol<sup>k</sup> has enlarged its
desire,
and opened its mouth without
measure;
and their glory, their multitude,
their pomp, and he who rejoices among them,
descend into it.
- <sup>15</sup> So man is brought low,
mankind is humbled,
and the eyes of the arrogant ones
are humbled;
- <sup>16</sup> but Yahweh of Armies is exalted in
justice,
and God the Holy One is sanctified
in righteousness.
- <sup>17</sup> Then the lambs will graze as in their
pasture,
and strangers will eat the ruins of the rich.
- <sup>18</sup> Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of falsehood,
and wickedness as with cart rope;
- <sup>19</sup> Who say, "Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it;
and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw near and
come,
that we may know it!"
- <sup>20</sup> Woe to those who call evil good, and
good evil;
who put darkness for light,
and light for darkness;
who put bitter for sweet,
and sweet for bitter!
- <sup>21</sup> Woe to those who are wise in their
own eyes,
and prudent in their own sight!
- <sup>22</sup> Woe to those who are mighty to drink
wine,
and champions at mixing strong
drink;
- <sup>23</sup> who acquit the guilty for a bribe,
but deny justice for the innocent!
- <sup>24</sup> Therefore as the tongue of fire
devours the stubble,
and as the dry grass sinks down in
the flame,
so their root shall be as rottenness,
and their blossom shall go up as
dust;
because they have rejected the law of Yahweh of Armies,
and despised the word of the Holy
One of Israel.
- <sup>25</sup> Therefore Yahweh's anger burns
against his people,
and he has stretched out his hand
against them, and has struck
them.
The mountains tremble,
and their dead bodies are as refuse
in the middle of the streets.
For all this, his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is still stretched out.
- <sup>26</sup> He will lift up a banner to the nations
from far,
and he will whistle for them from the end of the earth.

<sup>k</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

Behold, they will come speedily and swiftly.

<sup>27</sup> No one shall be weary nor stumble
among them;
no one shall slumber nor sleep;
neither shall the belt of their waist
be untied,
nor the strap of their sandals be
broken:

<sup>28</sup> whose arrows are sharp,
and all their bows bent.
Their horses' hoofs will be like flint,
and their wheels like a whirlwind.

<sup>29</sup> Their roaring will be like a lioness.
They will roar like young lions.
Yes, they shall roar,
and seize their prey and carry it off,
and there will be no one to deliver.

<sup>30</sup> They will roar against them in that day like the roaring of the
sea.
If one looks to the land behold,
darkness and distress.
The light is darkened in its clouds.

<sup>1</sup> In the year that king Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lifted up; and his train filled the temple. <sup>2</sup> Above him stood the seraphim. Each one had six wings. With two he covered his face. With two he covered his feet. With two he flew. <sup>3</sup>
One called to another, and said,
"Holy, holy, holy, is Yahweh of Armies!
The whole earth is full of his
glory!"

<sup>4</sup> The foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke. <sup>5</sup> Then I said,
"Woe is me! For I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell

among a people of unclean lips: for my eyes have seen the King, Yahweh of Armies!"

<sup>6</sup> Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar. <sup>7</sup> He touched my mouth with it, and said,
"Behold, this has touched your lips; and your iniquity is taken away, and your sin
forgiven."

<sup>8</sup> I heard the Lord's voice, saying,
"Whom shall I send, and who will go for
us?"

Then I said, "Here I am. Send me!"

<sup>9</sup> He said, "Go, and tell this people,
'You hear indeed,
but don't understand;
and you see indeed,
but don't perceive.'

<sup>10</sup> Make the heart of this people fat.
Make their ears heavy, and shut
their eyes;
lest they see with their eyes,
and hear with their ears,
and understand with their heart,
and turn again, and be healed."

<sup>11</sup> Then I said, "Lord, how long?"

He answered,

"Until cities are waste without
inhabitant,
and houses without man,
and the land becomes utterly waste, <sup>12</sup> And Yahweh has removed men
far away,
and the forsaken places are many
within the land.

<sup>13</sup> If there is a tenth left in it,
that also will in turn be consumed:
as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remains when they are felled;

so the holy seed is its stock.”

7

<sup>1</sup> In the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it. <sup>2</sup> David’s house was told, “Syria is allied with Ephraim.” His heart trembled, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest tremble with the wind. <sup>3</sup> Then Yahweh said to Isaiah, “Go out now to meet Ahaz, you, and Shearjashub your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, on the highway of the fuller’s field. <sup>4</sup> Tell him, ‘Be careful, and keep calm. Don’t be afraid, neither let your heart be faint because of these two tails of smoking torches, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. <sup>5</sup> Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have plotted evil against you, saying, <sup>6</sup> “Let’s go up against Judah, and tear it apart, and let’s divide it among ourselves, and set up a king within it, even the son of Tabeel.” <sup>7</sup> This is what the Lord Yahweh says: “It shall not stand, neither shall it happen.” <sup>8</sup> For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be broken in pieces, so that it shall not be a people; <sup>9</sup> and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah’s son. If you will not believe, surely you shall not be established.”

<sup>13</sup> He said, “Listen now, house of David. Is it not enough for you to try the patience of men, that you will try the patience of my God also? <sup>14</sup> Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin will conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.<sup>1</sup> <sup>15</sup> He shall eat butter and honey when he knows to refuse the evil, and choose the good. <sup>16</sup> For before the child knows to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings you abhor shall be forsaken. <sup>17</sup> Yahweh will bring on you, on your people, and on your father’s house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria. <sup>18</sup> It will happen in that day that Yahweh will whistle for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. <sup>19</sup> They shall come, and shall all rest in the desolate valleys, in the clefts of the rocks, on all thorn hedges, and on all pastures. <sup>20</sup> In that day the Lord will shave with a razor that is hired in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet; and it shall also consume the beard. <sup>21</sup> It shall happen in that day that a man shall keep alive a young cow, and two sheep; <sup>22</sup> and it shall happen, that because of the abundance of milk which they shall give he shall eat butter: for everyone will eat butter and honey that is left within the land. <sup>23</sup> It will happen in that day that every place where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silver shekels,<sup>m</sup> shall be for briers and thorns. <sup>24</sup>

People will go there with arrows and with bow, because all the land will be briers and thorns. <sup>25</sup> All the hills that were cultivated with the hoe, you shall not come there for fear of briers and thorns; but it shall be for the sending out of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.”

8

<sup>3</sup> I went to the prophetess, and she conceived, and bore a son. Then Yahweh said to me, “Call his name ‘Maher Shalal Hash Baz.’ <sup>4</sup> For before the child knows how to say, ‘My father,’ and, ‘My mother,’ the riches of Damascus and the plunder of Samaria will be carried away by the king of Assyria.”

battle, and be shattered! <sup>10</sup> Take counsel together, and it will be brought to nothing; speak the word, and it will not stand: for God is with us.” <sup>11</sup> For Yahweh spoke thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me not to walk in the way of this people, saying, <sup>12</sup> “Don’t say, ‘A conspiracy!’ concerning all about which this people say, ‘A conspiracy!’ neither fear their threats, nor be terrorized. <sup>13</sup> Yahweh of Armies is who you must respect as holy. He is the one you must fear. He is the one you must dread. <sup>14</sup> He will be a sanctuary, but for both houses of Israel, he will be a trap and a snare for the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>15</sup> Many will stumble over it, fall, be broken, be snared, and be captured.” <sup>16</sup> Wrap up the testimony. Seal the law among my disciples. <sup>17</sup> I will wait for Yahweh, who hides his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him. <sup>18</sup> Behold, I and the children whom Yahweh has given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from Yahweh of Armies, who dwells in Mount Zion.

<sup>19</sup> When they tell you, “Consult with those who have familiar spirits and with the wizards, who chirp and who mutter:” shouldn’t a people consult with their God? Should they consult the dead on behalf of the living? <sup>20</sup> Turn to the law and to the testimony! If they don’t speak according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. <sup>21</sup> They will pass through it, very distressed and hungry; and it will happen that when they are hungry, they will worry, and curse by their king and by their God. They will turn their faces upward, <sup>22</sup> and look to the earth, and see distress, darkness, and the gloom of anguish. They will be driven into thick darkness.

9

<sup>1</sup> But there shall be no more gloom for her who was in anguish. In the former time, he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali; but in the latter time he has made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

Those who lived in the land of the shadow of death, on them the light has shined.

You have increased their joy.

They rejoice before you according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the plunder. <sup>4</sup> For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, you have broken as in the day of Midian. <sup>5</sup> For all the armor of the armed man in the noisy battle, and the garments rolled in blood, will be for burning, fuel for the fire. <sup>6</sup> For to us a child is born. To us a son is given; and the government will be on his shoulders. His name will be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. <sup>7</sup> Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, on David's throne, and on his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from that time on, even forever. The zeal of Yahweh of Armies will perform this.

<sup>9</sup> All the people will know,

including Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria, who say in pride and in arrogance of heart,

<sup>10</sup> "The bricks have fallen, but we will build with cut stone. The sycamore fig trees have been cut down, but we will put cedars in their place."

<sup>11</sup> Therefore Yahweh will set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin,

and will stir up his enemies,

<sup>12</sup> The Syrians in front, and the Philistines behind; and they will devour Israel with open mouth.

For all this, his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>13</sup> Yet the people have not turned to him who struck them, neither have they sought Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore Yahweh will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm branch and reed, in one day.

<sup>15</sup> The elder and the honorable man is the head, and the prophet who teaches lies is the tail.

<sup>16</sup> For those who lead this people lead them astray; and those who are led by them are destroyed.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore the Lord will not rejoice over their young men, neither will he have compassion on their fatherless and widows; for everyone is profane and an evildoer, and every mouth speaks folly.

For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>18</sup> For wickedness burns like a fire.
It devours the briars and thorns;
yes, it kindles in the thickets of the
forest,
and they roll upward in a column of
smoke.

<sup>19</sup> Through Yahweh of Armies' wrath,
the land is burned up;
and the people are the fuel for the
fire.

No one spares his brother.

<sup>20</sup> One will devour on the right hand,
and be hungry;
and he will eat on the left hand, and they will not be satisfied.

Everyone will eat the flesh of his own
arm:

<sup>21</sup> Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh; and they together shall be against
Judah.

For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>1</sup> Woe to those who decree unrighteous
decrees, and to the writers who write oppressive decrees; <sup>2</sup> to deprive the needy from justice, and to rob the poor among my people of their rights, that widows may be their plunder, and that they may make the fatherless their prey! <sup>3</sup> What will you do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which will come from afar? To whom will you flee for help? Where will you leave your wealth?

<sup>4</sup> They will only bow down under the prisoners,
and will fall under the slain.

For all this his anger is not turned away,
but his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>5</sup> Alas Assyrian, the rod of my anger, the staff in whose hand is my indignation! <sup>6</sup> I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people who anger me will I give him a command to take the plunder and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. <sup>7</sup> However he doesn't mean so, neither does his heart
think so; but it is in his heart to destroy,
and to cut off not a few nations. <sup>8</sup> For he says, "Aren't all of my princes kings? <sup>9</sup> Isn't Calno like Carchemish? Isn't Hamath like Arpad? Isn't Samaria like Damascus?"

<sup>10</sup> As my hand has found the kingdoms of the idols, whose engraved images exceeded those of Jerusalem and of Samaria; <sup>11</sup> shall I not, as I have done to Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols? <sup>12</sup> Therefore it will happen that, when the Lord has performed his whole work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the willful proud heart of the king of Assyria, and the insolence of his haughty looks. <sup>13</sup> For he has said, "By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I have understanding; and I have removed the boundaries of the peoples, and have robbed their treasures.
Like a valiant man I have brought down their rulers. <sup>14</sup> My hand has found the riches of the peoples like a nest, and like one gathers eggs that are abandoned, have I gathered all the earth. There was no one who moved their wing, or that opened their mouth, or chirped."

<sup>15</sup> Should an ax brag against him who chops with it? Should a saw exalt itself above him who saws with it? As if a rod should lift those who lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up someone who is not wood. <sup>16</sup> Therefore the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, will send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory a burning will be kindled like the burning of fire. <sup>17</sup> The light of Israel will be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame; and it will burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day.

<sup>18</sup> He will consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body. It will be as when a standard bearer faints.

<sup>20</sup> It will come to pass in that day that the remnant of Israel, and those who have escaped from the house of Jacob will no more again lean on him who struck them, but shall lean on Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. <sup>21</sup> A remnant will return, even the remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God. <sup>22</sup> For though your people, Israel, are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return. A destruction is determined, overflowing with righteousness. <sup>23</sup> For the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, will make a full end, and that determined, throughout all the earth. <sup>24</sup> Therefore the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, says "My people who dwell in Zion, don't be afraid of the Assyrian, though he strike you with the rod, and lift up his staff against you, as Egypt did. <sup>25</sup> For yet a very little while, and the indignation against you will be accomplished, and my anger will be directed to his destruction." <sup>26</sup> Yahweh of Armies will stir up a scourge against him, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb. His rod will be over the sea, and he will lift it up like he did against Egypt. <sup>27</sup> It will happen in that day, that his burden will depart from off your shoulder, and his yoke from off your neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing oil.

<sup>28</sup> He has come to Aiath. He has passed through Migron. At Michmash he stores his baggage. <sup>29</sup> They have gone over the pass. They have taken up their lodging at Geba. Ramah trembles. Gibeah of Saul has fled. <sup>30</sup> Cry aloud with your voice, daughter of Gallim! Listen, Laishah! You poor Anathoth! <sup>31</sup> Madmenah is a fugitive. The inhabitants of Gebim flee for safety. <sup>32</sup> This very day he will halt at Nob. He shakes his hand at the mountain of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem. <sup>33</sup> Behold, the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, will lop the boughs with terror. The tall will be cut down, and the lofty will be brought low. <sup>34</sup> He will cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon will fall by the Mighty One.

and a branch out of his roots will bear fruit.

<sup>2</sup> Yahweh's Spirit will rest on him:
the spirit of wisdom and understanding,
the spirit of counsel and might,
the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of Yahweh.

<sup>3</sup> His delight will be in the fear of Yahweh.
He will not judge by the sight of his eyes,
neither decide by the hearing of his ears;

<sup>4</sup> but with righteousness he will judge
the poor,
and decide with equity for the humble of the earth.
He will strike the earth with the rod of
his mouth;
and with the breath of his lips he
will kill the wicked.
<sup>5</sup> Righteousness will be the belt of his waist,
and faithfulness the belt of his
waist.
<sup>6</sup> The wolf will live with the lamb,
and the leopard will lie down with the young goat;
The calf, the young lion, and the
fatted calf together;
and a little child will lead them.
<sup>7</sup> The cow and the bear will graze.
Their young ones will lie down
together.
The lion will eat straw like the ox.
<sup>8</sup> The nursing child will play near a cobra's hole,
and the weaned child will put his hand on the viper's den.
<sup>9</sup> They will not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain;
for the earth will be full of the knowledge of Yahweh,
as the waters cover the sea.
<sup>10</sup> It will happen in that day that the nations will seek the root of Jesse, who stands as a banner of the peoples; and his resting place will be glorious. <sup>11</sup> It will happen in that day that the Lord will set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria, from Egypt, from Pathros, from Cush, from Elam, from Shinar, from

Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. <sup>12</sup>
He will set up a banner for the nations, and will assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. <sup>13</sup> The envy also of Ephraim will depart, and those who persecute Judah will be cut off. Ephraim won't envy Judah, and Judah won't persecute Ephraim. <sup>14</sup> They will fly down on the shoulders of the Philistines on the west. Together they will plunder the children of the east. They will extend their power over Edom and Moab, and the children of Ammon will obey them. <sup>15</sup> Yahweh will utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his scorching
wind he will wave his hand over the River, and will split it into seven streams, and cause men to march over in sandals. <sup>16</sup>
There will be a highway for the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria, like there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

12

<sup>1</sup> In that day you will say, "I will give thanks to you, Yahweh; for though you were angry with me, your anger has turned away and you comfort me. <sup>2</sup> Behold, God is my salvation. I will trust, and will not be afraid; for Yah, Yahweh, is my strength and song; and he has become my salvation." <sup>3</sup> Therefore with joy you will draw water out of the wells of salvation. <sup>4</sup>
In that day you will say, "Give thanks to Yahweh! Call on his name. Declare his doings among the peoples. Proclaim that his name is exalted! <sup>5</sup> Sing to Yahweh, for he has done excellent things! Let this be known in all the earth! <sup>6</sup> Cry aloud and shout, you inhabitant of Zion; for the Holy One of Israel is great among you!”

13

<sup>1</sup> The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw: <sup>2</sup> Set up a banner on the bare mountain! Lift up your voice to them! Wave your hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles. <sup>3</sup> I have commanded my consecrated ones; yes, I have called my mighty men for my anger, even my proudly exulting ones. <sup>4</sup> The noise of a multitude is in the mountains, as of a great people; the noise of an uproar of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together! Yahweh of Armies is mustering the army for the battle. <sup>5</sup> They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, even Yahweh, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land. <sup>6</sup> Wail; for the day of Yahweh is at hand! It will come as destruction from the Almighty. <sup>7</sup> Therefore all hands will be feeble, and everyone’s heart will melt. <sup>8</sup> They will be dismayed. Pangs and sorrows will seize them. They will be in pain like a woman in labor. They will look in amazement one at another. Their faces will be faces of flame. <sup>9</sup> Behold, the day of Yahweh comes, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy its sinners out of it. <sup>10</sup> For the stars of the sky and its constellations will not give their light. The sun will be darkened in its going out, and the moon will not cause its light to shine. <sup>11</sup> I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity. I will cause the arrogance of the proud to cease, and will humble the haughtiness of the terrible. <sup>12</sup> I will make people more rare than fine gold, even a person than the pure gold of Ophir.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore I will make the heavens tremble, and the earth will be shaken out of its place in Yahweh of Armies’ wrath, and in the day of his fierce anger. <sup>14</sup> It will happen that like a hunted gazelle, and like sheep that no one gathers, they will each turn to their own people, and will each flee to their own land. <sup>15</sup> Everyone who is found will be thrust through. Everyone who is captured will fall by the sword. <sup>16</sup> Their infants also will be dashed in pieces before their eyes. Their houses will be ransacked, and their wives raped. <sup>17</sup> Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who will not value silver, and as for gold, they will not delight in it. <sup>18</sup> Their bows will dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb. Their eyes will not spare children. <sup>19</sup> Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans’ pride, will be like when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. <sup>20</sup> It will never be inhabited, neither will it be lived in from generation to generation. The Arabian will not pitch a tent there, neither will shepherds make their flocks lie down there. <sup>21</sup> But wild animals of the desert will lie there, and their houses will be full of jackals. Ostriches will dwell there, and wild goats will frolic there. <sup>22</sup> Wolves will cry in their fortresses, and jackals in the pleasant palaces. Her time is near to come, and her days will not be prolonged.

14

<sup>1</sup> For Yahweh will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land. The foreigner will join himself with them, and they will unite with the house of Jacob. <sup>2</sup> The peoples will take them, and bring them to their place. The house of Israel will possess them in Yahweh's land for servants and for handmaids. They will take as captives those whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors. <sup>3</sup> It will happen in the day that Yahweh will give you rest from your sorrow, from your trouble, and from the hard service in which you were made to serve, <sup>4</sup> that you will take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say, "How the oppressor has ceased! The golden city has ceased!" <sup>5</sup> Yahweh has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of the rulers, <sup>6</sup> who struck the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, who ruled the nations in anger, with a persecution that no one restrained. <sup>7</sup> The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet. They break out song. <sup>8</sup> Yes, the cypress trees rejoice with you, with the cedars of Lebanon, saying, "Since you are humbled, no lumberjack has come up against us." <sup>9</sup> Sheol<sup>o</sup> from beneath has moved for you to meet you at your coming. It stirs up the departed spirits for you, even all the rulers of the earth. It has raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. <sup>10</sup> They all will answer and ask you, "Have you also become as weak as we are? Have you become like us?" <sup>11</sup> Your pomp is brought down to Sheol,<sup>p</sup> with the sound of your stringed instruments. Maggots are spread out under you, and worms cover you.

<sup>12</sup> How you have fallen from heaven, morning star, son of the dawn! How you are cut down to the ground, who laid the nations low! <sup>13</sup> You said in your heart, "I will ascend into heaven! I will exalt my throne above the stars of God! I will sit on the mountain of assembly, in the far north!

<sup>14</sup> I will ascend above the heights of the clouds! I will make myself like the Most High!" <sup>15</sup> Yet you shall be brought down to Sheol,<sup>q</sup> to the depths of the pit. <sup>16</sup> Those who see you will stare at you. They will ponder you, saying, "Is this the man who made the earth to tremble, who shook kingdoms; <sup>17</sup> who made the world like a wilderness, and overthrew its cities; who didn't release his prisoners to their home?"

<sup>18</sup> All the kings of the nations, sleep in glory, everyone in his own house. <sup>19</sup> But you are cast away from your tomb like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain, who are thrust through with the sword, who go down to the stones of the pit; like a dead body trodden under foot. <sup>20</sup> You will not join them in burial, because you have destroyed your land. You have killed your people. The offspring<sup>r</sup> of evildoers will not be named forever. <sup>21</sup> Prepare for slaughter of his children because of the iniquity of their fathers, that they not rise up and possess the earth, and fill the surface of the world with cities. <sup>22</sup> "I will rise up against them," says Yahweh of Armies, "and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and son's son," says Yahweh. <sup>23</sup> "I will also make it a possession for the porcupine, and pools of water. I will sweep it with the broom of destruction," says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>24</sup> Yahweh of Armies has sworn, saying, "Surely, as I have thought, so shall it happen; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: <sup>25</sup> that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and tread him under foot on my mountains. Then his yoke will leave them, and his burden leave their shoulders. <sup>26</sup> This is the plan that is determined for the whole earth. This is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations. <sup>27</sup> For Yahweh of Armies has planned, and who can stop it? His hand is stretched out, and who can turn it back?"

<sup>28</sup> This burden was in the year that king Ahaz died. <sup>29</sup> Don't rejoice, O Philistia, all of you, because the rod that struck you is broken; for out of the serpent's root an adder will emerge, and his fruit will be a fiery flying serpent. <sup>30</sup> The firstborn of the poor will eat, and the needy will lie down in safety; and I will kill your root with famine, and your remnant will be killed.

<sup>31</sup> Howl, gate! Cry, city! You are melted away, Philistia, all of you; for smoke comes out of the north, and there is no straggler in his ranks. <sup>32</sup> What will they answer the messengers of the nation? That Yahweh has founded Zion, and in her the afflicted of his people will take refuge.

15

<sup>1</sup> The burden of Moab: for in a night, Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing; for in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nothing. <sup>2</sup> They have gone up to Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep. Moab wails over Nebo and over Medeba. Baldness is on all of their heads. Every beard is cut off. <sup>3</sup> In their streets, they clothe themselves in sackcloth. In their streets and on their housetops, everyone wails, weeping abundantly. <sup>4</sup> Heshbon cries out with Elealeh. Their voice is heard even to Jahaz. Therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud. Their souls tremble within them. <sup>5</sup>

My heart cries out for Moab! Her nobles flee to Zoar, to Eglath Shelishiyah; for they go up by the ascent of Luhith with weeping; for on the way to Horonaim, they raise up a cry of destruction. <sup>6</sup> For the waters of Nimrim will be desolate; for the grass has withered away, the tender grass fails, there is no green thing. <sup>7</sup> Therefore they will carry away the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have stored up, over the brook of the willows. <sup>8</sup> For the cry has gone around the borders of Moab; its wailing to Eglaim, and its wailing to Beer Elim. <sup>9</sup> For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; for I will bring yet more on Dimon, a lion on those of Moab who escape, and on the remnant of the land.

16

<sup>6</sup> We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogance, his pride, and his wrath. His boastings are nothing. <sup>7</sup> Therefore Moab will wail for Moab. Everyone will wail. You will mourn for the raisin cakes of Kir Hareseth, utterly stricken. <sup>8</sup> For the fields of Heshbon languish with the vine of Sibmah. The lords of the nations have broken down its choice branches, which reached even to Jazer, which wandered into the wilderness. Its shoots were spread abroad. They passed over the sea. <sup>9</sup> Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah. I will water you with my tears, Heshbon, and Elealeh: for on your summer fruits and on your harvest the battle shout has fallen. <sup>10</sup> Gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there will be no singing, neither joyful noise. Nobody will tread out wine in the presses. I have made the shouting stop. <sup>11</sup> Therefore my heart sounds like a harp for Moab, and my inward parts for Kir Heres. <sup>12</sup> It will happen that when Moab presents himself, when he wearies himself on the high place, and comes to his sanctuary to pray, that he will not prevail. <sup>13</sup> This is the word that Yahweh spoke concerning Moab in time past. <sup>14</sup> But now Yahweh has spoken, saying, "Within three years, as a worker bound by contract would count them, the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant will be very small and feeble."

17

from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria. They will be as the glory of the children of Israel," says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>4</sup> "It will happen in that day that the glory of Jacob will be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh will become lean. <sup>5</sup> It will be like when the harvester gathers the wheat, and his arm reaps the grain. Yes, it will be like when one gleanes grain in the valley of Rephaim. <sup>6</sup> Yet gleanings will be left there, like the shaking of an olive tree, two or three olives in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outermost branches of a fruitful tree," says Yahweh, the God of Israel. <sup>7</sup> In that day, people will look to their Maker, and their eyes will have respect for the Holy One of Israel. <sup>8</sup> They will not look to the altars, the work of their hands; neither shall they respect that which their fingers have made, either the Asherah poles, or the incense altars. <sup>9</sup> In that day, their strong cities will be like the forsaken places in the woods and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel; and it will be a desolation. <sup>10</sup> For you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and have not remembered the rock of your strength. Therefore you plant pleasant plants, and set out foreign seedlings. <sup>11</sup> In the day of your planting, you hedge it in. In the morning, you make your seed blossom, but the harvest flees away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow. <sup>12</sup> Ah, the uproar of many peoples, who roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! <sup>13</sup> The nations will rush like the rushing of many waters: but he will rebuke them, and they will flee far off, and will be chased like the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. <sup>14</sup> At evening, behold, terror! Before the morning, they are no more. This is the portion of those who plunder us, and the lot of those who rob us.

18

<sup>1</sup> Ah, the land of the rustling of wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia; <sup>2</sup> that sends ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of papyrus on the waters, saying, "Go, you swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth, to a people awesome from their beginning onward, a nation that measures out and treads down, whose land the rivers divide!" <sup>3</sup> All you inhabitants of the world, and you dwellers on the earth, when a banner is lifted up on the mountains, look! When the trumpet is blown, listen! <sup>4</sup> For Yahweh said to me, "I will be still, and I will see in my dwelling place, like clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest." <sup>5</sup> For before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becomes a ripening grape, he will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and he will cut down and take away the spreading branches. <sup>6</sup> They will be left together for the ravenous birds of the mountains, and for the animals of the earth. The ravenous birds will summer on them, and all the animals of the earth will winter on them. <sup>7</sup> In that time, a present will be brought to Yahweh of Armies from a people tall and smooth, even from a people awesome from their beginning onward, a nation that measures out and treads down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of Yahweh of Armies, Mount Zion.

19

<sup>1</sup> The burden of Egypt: "Behold, Yahweh rides on a swift cloud, and comes to Egypt. The idols of Egypt will tremble at his presence; and the heart of Egypt will melt within it. <sup>2</sup> I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians, and they will fight everyone against his brother, and everyone against his neighbor; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>3</sup> The spirit of Egypt will fail within it. I will destroy its counsel. They will seek the idols, the charmers, those who have familiar spirits, and the wizards. <sup>4</sup> I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord. A fierce king will rule over them," says the Lord, Yahweh of Armies. <sup>5</sup> The waters will fail from the sea, and the river will be wasted and become dry. <sup>6</sup> The rivers will become foul. The streams of Egypt will be diminished and dried up. The reeds and flags will wither away. <sup>7</sup> The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all the sown fields of the Nile, will become dry, be driven away, and be no more. <sup>8</sup> The fishermen will lament, and all those who fish in the Nile will mourn, and those who spread nets on the waters will languish. <sup>9</sup> Moreover those who work in combed flax, and those who weave white cloth, will be confounded. <sup>10</sup> The pillars will be broken in pieces. All those who work for hire will be grieved in soul. <sup>11</sup> The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish. The counsel of the wisest counselors of Pharaoh has become stupid. How do you say to Pharaoh, "I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?" <sup>12</sup> Where then are your wise men? Let them tell you now; and let them know what Yahweh of Armies has purposed concerning Egypt. <sup>13</sup> The princes of Zoan have become fools. The princes of Memphis are deceived. They have caused Egypt to go astray, who are the cornerstone of her tribes. <sup>14</sup> Yahweh has mixed a spirit of perverseness in the middle of her; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in all of its works, like a drunken man staggers in his vomit. <sup>15</sup> Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which head or tail, palm branch or rush, may do. <sup>16</sup> In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will tremble and fear because of the shaking of Yahweh of Armies's hand, which he shakes over them. <sup>17</sup> The land of Judah will become a terror to Egypt. Everyone to whom mention is made of it will be afraid, because of the plans of Yahweh of Armies, which he determines against it. <sup>18</sup> In that day, there will be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to Yahweh of Armies. One will be called "The city of destruction." <sup>19</sup> In that day, there will be an altar to Yahweh in the middle of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to Yahweh at its border. <sup>20</sup> It will be for a sign and for a witness to Yahweh of Armies in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to Yahweh because of oppressors, and he will send them a savior and a defender, and he will deliver them. <sup>21</sup> Yahweh will be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know Yahweh in that day. Yes, they will worship with sacrifice and offering, and will vow a vow to Yahweh, and will perform it. <sup>22</sup> Yahweh will strike Egypt, striking and healing. They will return to Yahweh, and he will be entreated by them, and will heal them. <sup>23</sup> In that day there will be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians will worship with the Assyrians. <sup>24</sup> In that day, Israel will be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing within the earth; <sup>25</sup> because Yahweh of Armies has blessed them, saying, "Blessed be Egypt my people, Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my inheritance."

20

<sup>1</sup> In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; <sup>2</sup> at that time Yahweh spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, "Go, and loosen the sackcloth from off your waist, and take your shoes from off your feet." He did so, walking naked and barefoot. <sup>3</sup> Yahweh said, "As my servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder concerning Egypt and concerning Ethiopia, <sup>4</sup> so the king of Assyria will lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. <sup>5</sup> They will be dismayed and confounded, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. <sup>6</sup> The inhabitants of this coast land will say in that day, 'Behold, this is our expectation, where we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria. And we, how will we escape?'"

21

treacherously, and the destroyer destroys. Go up, Elam; attack! I have stopped all of Media's sighing.<sup>3</sup> Therefore my thighs are filled with anguish. Pains have taken hold on me, like the pains of a woman in labor. I am in so much pain that I can't hear. I so am dismayed that I can't see.<sup>4</sup> My heart flutters. Horror has frightened me. The twilight that I desired has been turned into trembling for me.<sup>5</sup> They prepare the table. They set the watch. They eat. They drink. Rise up, you princes, oil the shield!<sup>6</sup> For the Lord said to me, "Go, set a watchman. Let him declare what he sees."<sup>7</sup> When he sees a troop, horsemen in pairs, a troop of donkeys, a troop of camels, he shall listen diligently with great attentiveness."<sup>8</sup> He cried like a lion: "Lord, I stand continually on the watchtower in the daytime, and every night I stay at my post."<sup>9</sup> Behold, here comes a troop of men, horsemen in pairs." He answered, "Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the engraved images of her gods are broken to the ground."<sup>10</sup> You are my threshing, and the grain of my floor!" That which I have heard from Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel, I have declared to you.

<sup>11</sup> The burden of Dumah. One calls to me out of Seir, "Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?"<sup>12</sup> The watchman said, "The morning comes, and also the night. If you will inquire, inquire. Come back again."

<sup>13</sup> The burden on Arabia. In the forest in Arabia you will lodge, you caravans of Dedanites.<sup>14</sup> They brought water to him who was thirsty. The inhabitants of the land of Tema met the fugitives with their bread.

from the drawn sword, from the bent bow, and from the heat of battle.<sup>16</sup> For the Lord said to me, "Within a year, as a worker bound by contract would count it, all the glory of Kedar will fail,<sup>17</sup> and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, will be few; for Yahweh, the God of Israel, has spoken it."

22

<sup>1</sup> The burden of the valley of vision. What ails you now, that you have all gone up to the housetops?<sup>2</sup> You that are full of shouting, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; your slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle.<sup>3</sup> All your rulers fled away together. They were bound by the archers. All who were found by you were bound together. They fled far away.<sup>4</sup> Therefore I said, "Look away from me. I will weep bitterly. Don't labor to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people."<sup>5</sup> For it is a day of confusion, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains."<sup>6</sup> Elam carried his quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield.<sup>7</sup> Your choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate.<sup>8</sup> He took away the covering of Judah; and you looked in that day to the armor in the house of the forest.<sup>9</sup> You saw the breaches of David's city, that they were many; and you gathered together the waters of the lower pool.<sup>10</sup> You numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and you broke down the houses to fortify the wall.<sup>11</sup>

You also made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool. But you didn't look to him who had done this, neither did you have respect for him who purposed it long ago. <sup>12</sup> In that day, the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, called to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to dressing in sackcloth: <sup>13</sup> and behold, joy and gladness, killing cattle and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine: "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we will die." <sup>14</sup> Yahweh of Armies revealed himself in my ears, "Surely this iniquity will not be forgiven you until you die," says the Lord, Yahweh of Armies.

<sup>15</sup> Thus says the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, "Go, get yourself to this treasurer, even to Shebna, who is over the house, and say, <sup>16</sup> 'What are you doing here? Who has you here, that you have dug out a tomb here?' Cutting himself out a tomb on high, chiseling a habitation for himself in the rock!" <sup>17</sup> Behold, Yahweh will overcome you and hurl you away violently. Yes, he will grasp you firmly. <sup>18</sup> He will surely wind you around and around, and throw you like a ball into a large country. There you will die, and there the chariots of your glory will be, you shame of your lord's house. <sup>19</sup> I will thrust you from your office. You will be pulled down from your station.

<sup>20</sup> It will happen in that day that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, <sup>21</sup> and I will clothe him with your robe, and strengthen him with your belt. I will commit your government into his hand; and he will be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. <sup>22</sup> I will lay the key of David's house on his shoulder. He will open, and no one will shut. He will shut, and no one will open. <sup>23</sup> I will fasten him like a nail in a sure place. He will be for a throne of glory to his father's house. <sup>24</sup> They will hang on him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the cups even to all the pitchers. <sup>25</sup> "In that day," says Yahweh of Armies, "the nail that was fastened in a sure place will give way. It will be cut down, and fall. The burden that was on it will be cut off, for Yahweh has spoken it."

23

<sup>1</sup> The burden of Tyre. Howl, you ships of Tarshish! For it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in. From the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. <sup>2</sup> Be still, you inhabitants of the coast, you whom the merchants of Sidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. <sup>3</sup> On great waters, the seed of the Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue. She was the market of nations. <sup>4</sup> Be ashamed, Sidon; for the sea has spoken, the stronghold of the sea, saying, "I have not travailed, nor given birth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins." <sup>5</sup> When the report comes to Egypt, they will be in anguish at the report of Tyre. <sup>6</sup> Pass over to Tarshish! Wail, you inhabitants of the coast! <sup>7</sup> Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days, whose feet carried her far away to travel? <sup>8</sup> Who has planned this against Tyre, the giver of crowns, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honorable of the earth? <sup>9</sup> Yahweh of Armies has planned it, to stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honorable of the earth. <sup>10</sup> Pass through your land like the Nile, daughter of Tarshish. There is no restraint any more. <sup>11</sup> He has stretched out his hand over the sea. He has shaken the kingdoms. Yahweh has ordered the destruction of Canaan's strongholds. <sup>12</sup> He said, "You shall rejoice no more, you oppressed virgin daughter of Sidon. Arise, pass over to Kittim. Even there you will have no rest."

<sup>13</sup> Behold, the land of the Chaldeans. This people was not. The Assyrians founded it for those who dwell in the wilderness. They set up their towers. They overthrew its palaces. They made it a ruin. <sup>14</sup> Howl, you ships of Tarshish, for your stronghold is laid waste! <sup>15</sup> It will come to pass in that day that Tyre will be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. After the end of seventy years it will be to Tyre like in the song of the prostitute. <sup>16</sup> Take a harp; go about the city, you prostitute that has been forgotten. Make sweet melody. Sing many songs, that you may be remembered. <sup>17</sup> It will happen after the end of seventy years that Yahweh will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her wages, and will play the prostitute with all the kingdoms of the world on the surface of the earth. <sup>18</sup> Her merchandise and her wages will be holiness to Yahweh. It will not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise will be for those who dwell before Yahweh, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the creditor, so with the debtor; as with the taker of interest, so with the giver of interest. <sup>3</sup> The earth will be utterly emptied and utterly laid waste; for Yahweh has spoken this word. <sup>4</sup> The earth mourns and fades away. The world languishes and fades away. The lofty people of the earth languish. <sup>5</sup> The earth also is polluted under its inhabitants, because they have transgressed the laws, violated the statutes, and broken the everlasting covenant. <sup>6</sup> Therefore the curse has devoured the earth, and those who dwell therein are found guilty. Therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left. <sup>7</sup> The new wine mourns. The vine languishes. All the merry-hearted sigh. <sup>8</sup> The mirth of tambourines ceases. The sound of those who rejoice ends. The joy of the harp ceases. <sup>9</sup> They will not drink wine with a song. Strong drink will be bitter to those who drink it. <sup>10</sup> The confused city is broken down. Every house is shut up, that no man may come in. <sup>11</sup> There is a crying in the streets because of the wine. All joy is darkened. The mirth of the land is gone. <sup>12</sup> The city is left in desolation, and the gate is struck with destruction. <sup>13</sup> For it will be so within the earth among the peoples, as the shaking of an olive tree, as the gleanings when the vintage is done. <sup>14</sup> These shall lift up their voice. They will shout for the majesty of Yahweh. They cry aloud from the sea. <sup>15</sup> Therefore glorify Yahweh in the east, even the name of Yahweh, the God of Israel, in the islands of the sea! <sup>16</sup> From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs. Glory to the righteous! But I said, "I pine away! I pine away! woe is me!” The treacherous have dealt treacherously. Yes, the treacherous have dealt very treacherously. <sup>17</sup> Fear, the pit, and the snare, are on you who inhabitant the earth. <sup>18</sup> It will happen that he who flees from the noise of the fear will fall into the pit; and he who comes up out of the middle of the pit will be taken in the snare; for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth tremble. <sup>19</sup> The earth is utterly broken. The earth is torn apart. The earth is shaken violently. <sup>20</sup> The earth will stagger like a drunken man, and will sway back and forth like a hammock. Its disobedience will be heavy on it, and it will fall and not rise again. <sup>21</sup> It shall happen in that day that Yahweh will punish the army of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth on the earth. <sup>22</sup> They shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison; and after many days shall they be visited. <sup>23</sup> Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for Yahweh of Armies will reign on Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem; and before his elders will be glory.

25

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh, you are my God. I will exalt you! I will praise your name, for you have done wonderful things, things planned long ago, in complete faithfulness and truth. <sup>2</sup> For you have made a city into a heap, a fortified city into a ruin, a palace of strangers to be no city. It will never be built. <sup>3</sup> Therefore a strong people will glorify you. A city of awesome nations will fear you. <sup>4</sup> For you have been a stronghold to the poor, a stronghold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shade from the heat, when the blast of the dreaded ones is like a storm against the wall. <sup>5</sup> As the heat in a dry place will you bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shade of a cloud, the song of the dreaded ones will be brought low. <sup>6</sup> In this mountain, Yahweh of Armies will make all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of choice wines, of fat things full of marrow, of well refined choice wines. <sup>7</sup> He will destroy in this mountain the surface of the covering that covers all peoples, and the veil that is spread over all nations. <sup>8</sup> He has swallowed up death forever! The Lord Yahweh will wipe away tears from off all faces. He will take the reproach of his people away from off all the earth, for Yahweh has spoken it. <sup>9</sup> It shall be said in that day, “Behold, this is our God! We have waited for him, and he will save us! This is Yahweh! We have waited for him. We will be glad and rejoice in his salvation!” <sup>10</sup> For in this mountain Yahweh’s hand will rest.

Moab will be trodden down in his place, even like straw is trodden down in the water of the dunghill. <sup>11</sup> He will spread out his hands in the middle of it, like one who swims spreads out hands to swim, but his pride will be humbled together with the craft of his hands. <sup>12</sup> He has brought the high fortress of your walls down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

26

<sup>1</sup> In that day, this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

“We have a strong city.

God appoints salvation for walls
and bulwarks.

<sup>2</sup> Open the gates, that the righteous nation may enter:
 the one which keeps faith.
<sup>3</sup> You will keep whoever's mind is steadfast in perfect peace,
 because he trusts in you.
<sup>4</sup> Trust in Yahweh forever;
 for in Yah, Yahweh, is an everlasting Rock.
<sup>5</sup> For he has brought down those who dwell on high, the lofty city.
 He lays it low.
 He lays it low even to the ground.
 He brings it even to the dust.
<sup>6</sup> The foot shall tread it down;
 Even the feet of the poor,
 and the steps of the needy."
<sup>7</sup> The way of the just is uprightness.
 You who are upright make the path
 of the righteous level.
<sup>8</sup> Yes, in the way of your judgments, Yahweh, have we waited for
 you. Your name and your renown are the desire of our soul. <sup>9</sup> With my soul have I desired you in the night. Yes, with my spirit within me will I seek you earnestly; for when your judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness. <sup>10</sup> Let favor be shown to the wicked, yet he will not learn righteousness.
 In the land of uprightness he will deal wrongfully, and will not see Yahweh's majesty. <sup>11</sup> Yahweh, your hand is lifted up, yet they don't see; but they will see your zeal for the people, and be disappointed. Yes, fire will consume your adversaries. <sup>12</sup> Yahweh, you will ordain peace for us, for you have also done all our work for us. <sup>13</sup> Yahweh our God, other lords besides you have had dominion over us,

 but by you only will we
 make mention of your name.
<sup>14</sup> The dead shall not live.
 The departed spirits shall not rise. Therefore you have visited and destroyed them,
 and caused all memory of them to perish. <sup>15</sup> You have increased the nation, O Yahweh. You have increased the nation! You are glorified!
 You have enlarged all the borders of the land. <sup>16</sup> Yahweh, in trouble they have visited you. They poured out a prayer when your chastening was on them. <sup>17</sup>
 Like as a woman with child, who draws near the time of her delivery, is in pain and cries out in her pangs; so we have been before you, Yahweh. <sup>18</sup> We have been with child. We have been in pain. We gave birth, it seems, only to wind. We have not worked any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world
 fallen. <sup>19</sup> Your dead shall live. My dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, you who dwell in the dust; for your dew is like the dew of herbs, and the earth will cast

out the departed spirits.

<sup>20</sup> Come, my people, enter into your rooms, and shut your doors behind you. Hide yourself for a little moment, until the indignation is past. <sup>21</sup> For, behold, Yahweh comes out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity. The earth also will disclose her blood, and will no longer cover her slain.

27

<sup>6</sup> In days to come, Jacob will take root. Israel will blossom and bud. They will fill the surface of the world with fruit. <sup>7</sup> Has he struck them as he struck those who struck them? Or are they killed like those who killed them were killed? <sup>8</sup> In measure, when you send them away, you contend with them. He has removed them with his rough blast in the day of the east wind. <sup>9</sup> Therefore by this the iniquity of Jacob will be forgiven, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin: that he makes all the stones of the altar as chalk stones that are beaten in pieces, so that the Asherah poles and the incense altars shall rise no more. <sup>10</sup> For the fortified city is solitary, a habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness. The calf will feed there, and there he will lie down, and consume its branches. <sup>11</sup> When its boughs are withered, they will be broken off. The women will come and set them on fire, for they are a people of no understanding. Therefore he who made them will not have compassion on them, and he who formed them will show them no favor. <sup>12</sup> It will happen in that day, that Yahweh will thresh from the flowing stream of the Euphrates to the brook of Egypt; and you will be gathered one by one, children of Israel. <sup>13</sup> It will happen in that day that a great trumpet will be blown; and those who were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and those who were outcasts in the land of Egypt, shall come; and they will worship Yahweh in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

28

Yahweh of Armies will become a crown of glory, and a diadem of beauty, to the residue of his people; <sup>6</sup> and a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment, and strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate. <sup>7</sup> They also reel with wine, and stagger with strong drink. The priest and the prophet reel with strong drink. They are swallowed up by wine. They stagger with strong drink. They err in vision. They stumble in judgment. <sup>8</sup> For all tables are completely full of filthy vomit and filthiness. <sup>9</sup> Whom will he teach knowledge? To whom will he explain the message? Those who are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts? <sup>10</sup> For it is precept on precept, precept on precept; line on line, line on line; here a little, there a little. <sup>11</sup> But he will speak to this nation with stammering lips and in another language; <sup>12</sup> to whom he said, “This is the resting place. Give rest to weary”; and “This is the refreshing”; yet they would not hear. <sup>13</sup> Therefore Yahweh’s word will be to them precept on precept, precept on precept; line on line, line on line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, fall backward, be broken, be snared, and be taken. <sup>14</sup> Therefore hear Yahweh’s word, you scoffers, that rule this people in Jerusalem: <sup>15</sup> “Because you have said, ‘We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol <sup>s</sup> are we in agreement. When the overflowing scourge passes through, it won’t come to us; for we have made lies our refuge, and we have hidden ourselves under falsehood.’” <sup>16</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh, “Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone of a sure foundation.

He who believes shall not act hastily. <sup>17</sup> I will make justice the measuring line, and righteousness the plumb line. The hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters will overflow the hiding place. <sup>18</sup> Your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol <sup>t</sup> shall not stand. When the overflowing scourge passes through, then you will be trampled down by it. <sup>19</sup> As often as it passes through, it will seize you; for morning by morning it will pass through, by day and by night; and it will be nothing but terror to understand the message.” <sup>20</sup> For the bed is too short to stretch out on, and the blanket is too narrow to wrap oneself in. <sup>21</sup> For Yahweh will rise up as on Mount Perazim. He will be angry as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his unusual work, and bring to pass his act, his extraordinary act. <sup>22</sup> Now therefore don’t be scoffers, lest your bonds be made strong; for I have heard a decree of destruction from the Lord, Yahweh of Armies, on the whole earth.

<sup>23</sup> Give ear, and hear my voice! Listen, and hear my speech! <sup>24</sup> Does he who plows to sow plow continually? Does he keep turning the soil and breaking the clods? <sup>25</sup> When he has leveled its surface, doesn’t he plant the dill, and scatter the cumin seed, and put in the wheat in rows, the barley in the appointed place, and the spelt in its place? <sup>26</sup> For his God instructs him in right judgment, and teaches him. <sup>27</sup> For the dill are not threshed with a sharp instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned over the cumin; but the dill is beaten out with a stick, and the cumin with a rod. <sup>28</sup> Bread flour must be ground; so he will not always be threshing it. Although he drives the wheel of his threshing cart over it, his horses don't grind it. <sup>29</sup> This also comes out from Yahweh of Armies, who is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

29

<sup>1</sup> Woe to Ariel! Ariel, the city where David encamped! Add year to year; let the feasts come around; <sup>2</sup> then I will distress Ariel, and there will be mourning and lamentation. She shall be to me as an altar hearth.<sup>u</sup> <sup>3</sup> I will encamp against you all around you, and will lay siege against you with posted troops. I will raise siege works against you. <sup>4</sup> You will be brought down, and will speak out of the ground. Your speech will mumble out of the dust. Your voice will be as of one who has a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and your speech will whisper out of the dust. <sup>5</sup> But the multitude of your foes will be like fine dust, and the multitude of the ruthless ones like chaff that blows away. Yes, it will be in an instant, suddenly. <sup>6</sup> She will be visited by Yahweh of Armies with thunder, with earthquake, with great noise, with whirlwind and storm, and with the flame of a devouring fire. <sup>7</sup> The multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her, will be like a dream, a vision of the night. <sup>8</sup> It will be like when a hungry man dreams, and behold, he eats; but he awakes, and his hunger isn't satisfied; or like when a thirsty man dreams, and behold, he drinks; but he awakes, and behold, he is faint, and he is still thirsty. The multitude of all the nations that fight against Mount Zion will be like that. <sup>9</sup> Pause and wonder! Blind yourselves and be blind! They are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. <sup>10</sup> For Yahweh has poured out on you a spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes, the prophets; and he has covered your heads, the seers. <sup>11</sup> All vision has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one who is educated, saying, "Read this, please"; and he says, "I can't, for it is sealed." <sup>12</sup> and the book is delivered to one who is not educated, saying, "Read this, please"; and he says, "I can't read." <sup>13</sup> The Lord said, "Because this people draws near with their mouth and with their lips to honor me, but they have removed their heart far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment of men which has been taught; <sup>14</sup> therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder; and the wisdom of their wise men will perish, and the understanding of their prudent men will be hidden."

<sup>15</sup> Woe to those who deeply hide their counsel from Yahweh, and whose deeds are in the dark, and who say, "Who sees us?" and "Who knows us?" <sup>16</sup> You turn things upside down! Should the potter be thought to be like clay; that the thing made should say about him who made it, "He didn't make me"; or the thing formed say of him who formed it, "He has no understanding?"

<sup>17</sup> Isn't it yet a very little while, and Lebanon will be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field will be regarded as a forest? <sup>18</sup> In that day, the deaf will hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind will see out of obscurity and out of darkness. <sup>19</sup> The humble also will increase their joy in Yahweh, and the poor among men will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. <sup>20</sup> For the ruthless is brought to nothing, and the scoffer ceases, and all those who are alert to do evil are cut off— <sup>21</sup> who cause a person to be indicted by a word, and lay a snare for the arbiter in the gate, and who deprive the innocent of justice with false testimony. <sup>22</sup> Therefore Yahweh, who redeemed Abraham, says concerning the house of Jacob: “Jacob shall no longer be ashamed, neither shall his face grow pale. <sup>23</sup> But when he sees his children, the work of my hands, in the middle of him, they will sanctify my name. Yes, they will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and will stand in awe of the God of Israel. <sup>24</sup> They also who err in spirit will come to understanding, and those who grumble will receive instruction.”

30

<sup>1</sup> “Woe to the rebellious children”, says Yahweh, “who take counsel, but not from me; and who make an alliance, but not with my Spirit, that they may add sin to sin, <sup>2</sup> who set out to go down into Egypt, and have not asked my advice; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to take refuge in the shadow of Egypt! <sup>3</sup> Therefore the strength of Pharaoh will be your shame, and the refuge in the shadow of Egypt your confusion. <sup>4</sup> For their princes are at Zoan, and their ambassadors have come to Hanes. <sup>5</sup> They shall all be ashamed because of a people that can’t profit them, that are not a help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.”

<sup>6</sup> The burden of the animals of the South. Through the land of trouble and anguish, of the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches on the shoulders of young donkeys, and their treasures on the humps of camels, to an unprofitable people. <sup>7</sup> For Egypt helps in vain, and to no purpose; therefore have I called her Rahab who sits still. <sup>8</sup> Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come forever and ever. <sup>9</sup> For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children who will not hear Yahweh’s law; <sup>10</sup> who tell the seers, “Don’t see!” and to the prophets, “Don’t prophesy to us right things. Tell us pleasant things. Prophecy deceits. <sup>11</sup> Get out of the way. Turn aside from the path. Cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.” <sup>12</sup> Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel, “Because you despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and rely on it; <sup>13</sup> therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking comes suddenly in an instant. <sup>14</sup> He will break it as a potter’s vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing, so that there won’t be found among the broken piece a piece good enough to take fire from the hearth, or to dip up water out of the cistern.” <sup>15</sup> For thus said the Lord Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel, “You will be saved in returning and rest. Your strength will be in quietness and in confidence.” You refused, <sup>16</sup> but you said, “No, for we will flee on horses”; therefore you will flee; and, “We will ride on the swift”; therefore those who pursue you will be swift. <sup>17</sup> One thousand will flee at the threat of one. At the threat of five, you will flee until you are left like a beacon on the top of a mountain, and like a banner on a hill. <sup>18</sup> Therefore Yahweh will wait, that he may be gracious to you; and therefore he will be exalted, that he may have mercy on you, for Yahweh is a God of justice. Blessed are all those who wait for him. <sup>19</sup> For the people will dwell in Zion at Jerusalem. You will weep no more. He will surely be gracious to you at the voice of your cry. When he hears you, he will answer you. <sup>20</sup> Though the Lord may give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your teachers won't be hidden any more, but your eyes will see your teachers; <sup>21</sup> and when you turn to the right hand, and when you turn to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, "This is the way. Walk in it." <sup>22</sup> You shall defile the overlaying of your engraved images of silver, and the plating of your molten images of gold. You shall cast them away as an unclean thing. You shall tell it, "Go away!" <sup>23</sup> He will give the rain for your seed, with which you will sow the ground; and bread of the increase of the ground will be rich and plentiful. In that day, your livestock will feed in large pastures. <sup>24</sup> The oxen likewise and the young donkeys that till the ground will eat savory feed, which has been winnowed with the shovel and with the fork. <sup>25</sup> There shall be brooks and streams of water on every lofty mountain and on every high hill in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. <sup>26</sup> Moreover the light of the moon will be like the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven days, in the day that Yahweh binds up the fracture of his people, and heals the wound they were struck with.

<sup>27</sup> Behold, Yahweh's name comes from far away, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke. His lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire. <sup>28</sup> His breath is as an overflowing stream that reaches even to the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction; and a bridle that leads to ruin will be in the jaws of the peoples. <sup>29</sup> You will have a song, as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goes with a flute to come to Yahweh's mountain, to Israel's Rock. <sup>30</sup> Yahweh will cause his glorious voice to be heard, and will show the descent of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, with a blast, storm, and hailstones. <sup>31</sup> For through Yahweh's voice the Assyrian will be dismayed. He will strike him with his rod. <sup>32</sup> Every stroke of the rod of punishment, which Yahweh will lay on him, will be with the sound of tambourines and harps. He will fight with them in battles, brandishing weapons. <sup>33</sup> For his burning place has long been ready. Yes, for the king it is prepared. He has made its pyre deep and large with fire and much wood. Yahweh's breath, like a stream of sulfur, kindles it.

31

<sup>1</sup> Woe to those who go down to Egypt
for help,
and rely on horses,
and trust in chariots because they are many,
and in horsemen because they are
very strong,

but they don't look to the Holy One
of Israel,
and they don't seek Yahweh!

<sup>2</sup> Yet he also is wise, and will bring disaster,
and will not call back his words, but will arise against the house
of the evildoers,
and against the help of those who work iniquity.

<sup>3</sup> Now the Egyptians are men, and not
God;
and their horses flesh, and not
spirit.
When Yahweh stretches out his hand,
both he who helps shall
stumble,
and he who is helped shall fall,
and they all shall be consumed
together.

<sup>4</sup> For Yahweh says to me,
"As the lion and the young lion
growling over his prey,
if a multitude of shepherds is called
together against him,
will not be dismayed at their voice,
nor abase himself for their noise,
so Yahweh of Armies will come down to fight on Mount Zion and on its heights.

<sup>5</sup> As birds hovering, so Yahweh of Armies will protect
Jerusalem.
He will protect and deliver it.
He will pass over and preserve it."

<sup>6</sup> Return to him from whom you have deeply revolted, children of Israel. <sup>7</sup> For in that day everyone shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold—sin which your own hands have made for you.

<sup>8</sup> "The Assyrian will fall by the sword,
not of man;
and the sword, not of mankind,
shall devour him.
He will flee from the sword,
and his young men will become
subject to forced labor.

<sup>9</sup> His rock will pass away by reason of
terror,
and his princes will be afraid of the banner,"
says Yahweh, whose fire is in Zion,
and his furnace in Jerusalem.

32

<sup>1</sup> Behold, a king shall reign in
righteousness,
and princes shall rule in justice.

<sup>2</sup> A man shall be as a hiding place from
the wind,
and a covert from the storm,
as streams of water in a dry place,
as the shade of a large rock in a weary land.

<sup>3</sup> The eyes of those who see will not be dim,
and the ears of those who hear will
listen.

<sup>4</sup> The heart of the rash will understand
knowledge,
and the tongue of the stammerers
will be ready to speak plainly.

<sup>5</sup> The fool will no longer be called noble,
nor the scoundrel be highly respected.

<sup>6</sup> For the fool will speak folly,
and his heart will work iniquity,

- to practice profanity,
and to utter error against Yahweh,
To make empty the soul of the
    hungry,
and to cause the drink of the thirsty
    to fail.
- <sup>7</sup> The ways of the scoundrel are evil.
    He devises wicked devices to destroy the humble with lying words,
    even when the needy speaks right.
- <sup>8</sup> But the noble devises noble things;
    and he will continue in noble
        things.
- <sup>9</sup> Rise up, you women who are at ease!
    Hear my voice!
    You careless daughters, give ear to my speech!
- <sup>10</sup> For days beyond a year you will be troubled, you careless
        women;
    for the vintage shall fail.
    The harvest won't come.
- <sup>11</sup> Tremble, you women who are at ease!
    Be troubled, you careless ones!
    Strip yourselves, make yourselves
        naked,
    and put sackcloth on your waist.
- <sup>12</sup> Beat your breasts for the pleasant fields,
    for the fruitful vine.
- <sup>13</sup> Thorns and briers will come up on my people's land;
    yes, on all the houses of joy in the joyous city.
- <sup>14</sup> For the palace will be forsaken.
    The populous city will be deserted.
    The hill and the watchtower will be
        for dens forever,
    a delight for wild donkeys,
    a pasture of flocks;
- <sup>15</sup> Until the Spirit is poured on us from
    on high,
    and the wilderness becomes a
        fruitful field,
    and the fruitful field is considered a
        forest.
- <sup>16</sup> Then justice will dwell in the
    wilderness;
    and righteousness will remain in the
        fruitful field.
- <sup>17</sup> The work of righteousness will be
    peace;
    and the effect of righteousness,
        quietness and confidence
    forever.
- <sup>18</sup> My people will live in a peaceful
    habitation,
    in safe dwellings,
    and in quiet resting places.
- <sup>19</sup> Though hail flattens the forest,
    and the city is leveled completely.
- <sup>20</sup> Blessed are you who sow beside all
    waters,
    who send out the feet of the ox and
        the donkey.

33

- <sup>1</sup> Woe to you who destroy, but you weren't destroyed;
    and who betray, but nobody
        betrayed you!
When you have finished destroying, you will be destroyed;
    and when you have finished betrayal, you will be betrayed.
- <sup>2</sup> Yahweh, be gracious to us. We have waited for you.
    Be our strength every morning,
    our salvation also in the time of
        trouble.

- <sup>3</sup> At the noise of the thunder, the peoples
have fled.
When you lift yourself up, the nations are scattered.
- <sup>4</sup> Your plunder will be gathered as the caterpillar gathers.
Men will leap on it as locusts leap.
- <sup>5</sup> Yahweh is exalted, for he dwells on
high.
He has filled Zion with justice and
righteousness.
- <sup>6</sup> There will be stability in your times,
abundance of salvation,
wisdom, and knowledge.
The fear of Yahweh is your
treasure.
- <sup>7</sup> Behold, their valiant ones cry outside;
the ambassadors of peace weep
bitterly.
- <sup>8</sup> The highways are desolate.
The traveling man ceases.
The covenant is broken.
He has despised the cities.
He doesn't respect man.
- <sup>9</sup> The land mourns and languishes.
Lebanon is confounded and withers
away.
Sharon is like a desert, and Bashan and Carmel are stripped bare.
- <sup>10</sup> "Now I will arise," says Yahweh;
"Now I will lift myself up.
Now I will be exalted.
- <sup>11</sup> You will conceive chaff.
You will give birth to stubble.
Your breath is a fire that will devour you.
- <sup>12</sup> The peoples will be like the burning of lime,
like thorns that are cut down and burned in the fire.
- <sup>13</sup> Hear, you who are far off, what I have
done;
and, you who are near,
acknowledge my might."
- <sup>14</sup> The sinners in Zion are afraid.
Trembling has seized the godless
ones.
Who among us can live with the devouring fire?
Who among us can live with everlasting burning?
- <sup>15</sup> He who walks righteously,
and speaks blamelessly;
He who despises the gain of oppressions,
who gestures with his hands,
refusing to take a bribe,
who stops his ears from hearing of
blood,
and shuts his eyes from looking at
evil—
- <sup>16</sup> he will dwell on high.
His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks.
His bread will be supplied.
His waters will be sure.
- <sup>17</sup> Your eyes will see the king in his beauty.
They will see a distant land.
- <sup>18</sup> Your heart will meditate on the terror.
Where is he who counted?
Where is he who weighed?
Where is he who counted the
towers?
- <sup>19</sup> You will no longer see the fierce
people,
a people of a deep speech that you
can't comprehend,
with a strange language that you can't understand.

- <sup>20</sup> Look at Zion, the city of our appointed festivals.
Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet habitation,
a tent that won't be removed.
Its stakes will never be plucked up,
nor will any of its cords be broken.
- <sup>21</sup> But there Yahweh will be with us in
majesty,
a place of wide rivers and streams,
in which no galley with oars will
go,
neither will any gallant ship pass by
there.
- <sup>22</sup> For Yahweh is our judge.
Yahweh is our lawgiver.
Yahweh is our king.
He will save us.
- <sup>23</sup> Your rigging is untied.
They couldn't strengthen the foot of their mast.
They couldn't spread the sail.
Then the prey of a great plunder was divided.
The lame took the prey.
- <sup>24</sup> The inhabitant won't say, "I am sick."
The people who dwell therein will be forgiven their iniquity.

34

- <sup>1</sup> Come near, you nations, to hear!
Listen, you peoples.
Let the earth and all it contains
hear;
the world, and everything that comes from it.
- <sup>2</sup> For Yahweh is enraged against all the
nations,
and angry with all their armies.
He has utterly destroyed them.

- He has given them over for
slaughter.
- <sup>3</sup> Their slain will also be cast out,
and the stench of their dead bodies
will come up;
and the mountains will melt in their
blood.
- <sup>4</sup> All of the army of the sky will be dissolved.
The sky will be rolled up like a scroll,
and all its armies will fade away,
as a leaf fades from off a vine or a fig tree.
- <sup>5</sup> For my sword has drunk its fill in the sky.
Behold, it will come down on Edom,
and on the people of my curse, for
judgment.
- <sup>6</sup> Yahweh's sword is filled with blood.
It is covered with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats,
with the fat of the kidneys of rams;
for Yahweh has a sacrifice in Bozrah,
And a great slaughter in the land of Edom.
- <sup>7</sup> The wild oxen will come down with
them,
and the young bulls with the mighty
bulls;
and their land will be drunken with
blood,
and their dust made greasy with fat.
- <sup>8</sup> For Yahweh has a day of vengeance,
a year of recompense for the cause
of Zion.
- <sup>9</sup> Its streams will be turned into pitch,
its dust into sulfur,

And its land will become burning pitch.

<sup>10</sup> It won't be quenched night nor day.
Its smoke will go up forever.
From generation to generation, it will lie waste.
No one will pass through it forever
and ever.

<sup>11</sup> But the pelican and the porcupine will possess it.
The owl and the raven will dwell in
it.

He will stretch the line of confusion
over it,
and the plumb line of emptiness.

<sup>12</sup> They shall call its nobles to the kingdom, but none shall be
there;
and all its princes shall be nothing.

<sup>13</sup> Thorns will come up in its palaces,
nettles and thistles in its fortresses;
and it will be a habitation of jackals,
a court for ostriches.

<sup>14</sup> The wild animals of the desert will meet with the wolves,
and the wild goat will cry to his fellow.

Yes, the night creature<sup>v</sup> shall settle
there,
and shall find herself a place of rest.

<sup>15</sup> The arrow snake will make her nest
there,
and lay, hatch, and gather under her
shade.
Yes, the kites will be gathered
there, every one with her mate.

<sup>16</sup> Search in the book of Yahweh, and read:

not one of these will be missing.
none will lack her mate.
For my mouth has commanded,
and his Spirit has gathered them.

<sup>17</sup> He has cast the lot for them,
and his hand has divided it to them
with a measuring line.
They shall possess it forever.
From generation to generation they will dwell in it.

35

<sup>1</sup> The wilderness and the dry land will
be glad.
The desert will rejoice and blossom
like a rose.

<sup>2</sup> It will blossom abundantly,
and rejoice even with joy and
singing.
Lebanon's glory will be given to it,
the excellence of Carmel and Sharon.
They will see Yahweh's glory,
the excellence of our God.

<sup>3</sup> Strengthen the weak hands,
and make firm the feeble knees.

<sup>4</sup> Tell those who have a fearful heart,
"Be strong.
Don't be afraid.
Behold, your God will come with vengeance, God's retribution.
He will come and save you.

<sup>5</sup> Then the eyes of the blind will be opened,
and the ears of the deaf will be unstopped.

<sup>6</sup> Then the lame man will leap like a
deer,

<sup>v</sup> literally, lilith, which could also be a night demon or night monster

- and the tongue of the mute will sing;
for waters will break out in the
wilderness,
and streams in the desert.
- <sup>7</sup> The burning sand will become a pool,
and the thirsty ground springs of
water.
Grass with reeds and rushes will be in the habitation of jackals,
where they lay.
- <sup>8</sup> A highway will be there, a road,
and it will be called The Holy Way.
The unclean shall not pass over it,
but it will be for those who walk in
the Way.
Wicked fools will not go there.
- <sup>9</sup> No lion will be there,
nor will any ravenous animal go up
on it.
They will not be found there;
but the redeemed will walk there.
- <sup>10</sup> The Yahweh's ransomed ones will return,
and come with singing to Zion;
and everlasting joy will be on their heads.
They will obtain gladness and joy,
and sorrow and sighing will flee

36

the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder came out to him. <sup>4</sup> Rabshakeh said to them, "Now tell Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria, "What confidence is this in which you trust? <sup>5</sup> I say that your counsel and strength for the war are only vain words. Now in whom do you trust, that you have rebelled against me? <sup>6</sup> Behold, you trust in the staff of this bruised reed, even in Egypt, which if a man leans on it, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him. <sup>7</sup> But if you tell me, 'We trust in Yahweh our God,' isn't that he whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, and has said to Judah and to Jerusalem, 'You shall worship before this altar?'" <sup>8</sup> Now therefore, please make a pledge to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to set riders on them. <sup>9</sup> How then can you turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put your trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? <sup>10</sup> Have I come up now without Yahweh against this land to destroy it? Yahweh said to me, "Go up against this land, and destroy it."'"

<sup>11</sup> Then Eliakim, Shebna and Joah said to Rabshakeh, "Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it; and don't speak to us in the Jews' language in the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

<sup>12</sup> But Rabshakeh said, "Has my master sent me only to your master and to you, to speak these words, and not to the men who sit on the wall, who will eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?" <sup>13</sup> Then Rabshakeh stood, and called out with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, "Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria!"<sup>14</sup> Thus says the king, 'Don't let Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you.<sup>15</sup> Don't let Hezekiah make you trust in Yahweh, saying, "Yahweh will surely deliver us. This city won't be given into the hand of the king of Assyria."<sup>16</sup> Don't listen to Hezekiah, for thus says the king of Assyria, 'Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and each of you eat from his vine, and each one from his fig tree, and each one of you drink the waters of his own cistern;<sup>17</sup> until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards.<sup>18</sup> Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, "Yahweh will deliver us." Have any of the gods of the nations delivered their lands from the hand of the king of Assyria?<sup>19</sup> Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Have they delivered Samaria from my hand?<sup>20</sup> Who are they among all the gods of these countries that have delivered their country out of my hand, that Yahweh should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?"

<sup>22</sup> Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

37

<sup>1</sup> When king Hezekiah heard it, he tore his clothes, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into Yahweh's house.<sup>2</sup> He sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.<sup>3</sup> They said to him, "Thus says Hezekiah, 'Today is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of rejection; for the children have come to the birth, and there is no strength to give birth.'<sup>4</sup> It may be Yahweh your God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to defy the living God, and will rebuke the words which Yahweh your God has heard. Therefore lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left."<sup>5</sup> So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

<sup>6</sup> Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master, 'Yahweh says, "Don't be afraid of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.'<sup>7</sup> Behold, I will put a spirit in him and he will hear news, and will return to his own land. I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land."<sup>8</sup>

<sup>8</sup> So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.<sup>9</sup> He heard news concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, "He has come out to fight against you." When he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,<sup>10</sup> "Thus you shall speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, 'Don't let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, "Jerusalem won't be given into the hand of the king of Assyria."<sup>11</sup> Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly. Shall you be delivered? <sup>12</sup> Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden who were in Telassar? <sup>13</sup> Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah?"

<sup>14</sup> Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it. Then Hezekiah went up to Yahweh's house, and spread it before Yahweh. <sup>15</sup> Hezekiah prayed to Yahweh, saying, <sup>16</sup> "Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel, who is enthroned among the cherubim, you are the God, even you alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth. <sup>17</sup> Turn your ear, Yahweh, and hear. Open your eyes, Yahweh, and behold. Hear all of the words of Sennacherib, who has sent to defy the living God. <sup>18</sup> Truly, Yahweh, the kings of Assyria have destroyed all the countries and their land, <sup>19</sup> and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. <sup>20</sup> Now therefore, Yahweh our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you are Yahweh, even you only."

<sup>21</sup> Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, "Yahweh, the God of Israel says, 'Because you have prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, <sup>22</sup> this is the word which Yahweh has spoken concerning him. The virgin daughter of Zion has despised you and ridiculed you. The daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at you. <sup>23</sup> Whom have you defied and blasphemed? Against whom have you exalted your voice and lifted up your eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel. <sup>24</sup> By your servants, have you defied the Lord, and have said, "With the multitude of my chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon. I will cut down its tall cedars and its choice cypress trees. I will enter into its farthest height, the forest of its fruitful field. <sup>25</sup> I have dug and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet I will dry up all the rivers of Egypt." <sup>26</sup> Have you not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it in ancient times? Now I have brought it to pass, that it should be yours to destroy fortified cities, turning them into ruinous heaps. <sup>27</sup> Therefore their inhabitants had little power. They were dismayed and confounded. They were like the grass of the field, and like the green herb, like the grass on the housetops, and like a field before its crop has grown. <sup>28</sup> But I know your sitting down, your going out, your coming in, and your raging against me. <sup>29</sup> Because of your raging against me, and because your arrogance has come up into my ears, therefore will I put my hook in your nose and my bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way by which you came. <sup>30</sup> This shall be the sign to you. You will eat this year that which grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs from the same; and in the third year sow and reap and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit. <sup>31</sup> The remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah will again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. <sup>32</sup> For out of Jerusalem a remnant will go out, and survivors will escape from Mount Zion. The zeal of Yahweh of Armies will perform this.’<sup>33</sup> Therefore Yahweh says concerning the king of Assyria, ‘He will not come to this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither will he come before it with shield, nor cast up a mound against it.’<sup>34</sup> By the way that he came, by the same he shall return, and he shall not come to this city,’ says Yahweh.<sup>35</sup> ‘For I will defend this city to save it, for my own sake, and for my servant David’s sake.’”

<sup>36</sup> Yahweh’s angel went out and struck one hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the camp of the Assyrians. When men arose early in the morning, behold, these were all dead bodies.<sup>37</sup> So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, went away, returned to Nineveh, and stayed there.<sup>38</sup> As he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons struck him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat. Esar Haddon his son reigned in his place.

38

<sup>1</sup> In those days was Hezekiah sick and near death. Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him, and said to him, “Yahweh says, ‘Set your house in order, for you will die, and not live.’”

<sup>2</sup> Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to Yahweh,<sup>3</sup> and said, “Remember now, Yahweh, I beg you, how I have walked before you in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in your sight.” Hezekiah wept bitterly.

says, the God of David your father, “I have heard your prayer. I have seen your tears. Behold, I will add fifteen years to your life.<sup>6</sup> I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city.<sup>7</sup> This shall be the sign to you from Yahweh, that Yahweh will do this thing that he has spoken.<sup>8</sup> Behold, I will cause the shadow on the sundial, which has gone down on the sundial of Ahaz with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps on the sundial on which it had gone down.’”

<sup>9</sup> The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and had recovered of his sickness.

<sup>10</sup> I said, “In the middle of my life I go into the gates of Sheol.<sup>w</sup>

I am deprived of the residue of my years.”

<sup>11</sup> I said, “I won’t see Yah,
Yah in the land of the living.
I will see man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

<sup>12</sup> My dwelling is removed,
and is carried away from me like a shepherd’s tent.

I have rolled up, like a weaver, my life.
He will cut me off from the loom.
From day even to night you will
make an end of me.

<sup>13</sup> I waited patiently until morning.
He breaks all my bones like a lion.
From day even to night you will
make an end of me.

<sup>14</sup> I chattered like a swallow or a crane.
I moaned like a dove.
My eyes weaken looking upward.
Lord, I am oppressed.
Be my security.”

<sup>w</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

- <sup>15</sup> What will I say?
 He has both spoken to me, and himself has done it.
 I will walk carefully all my years
 because of the anguish of
 my soul.
- <sup>16</sup> Lord, men live by these things;
 and my spirit finds life in all of
 them:
 you restore me, and cause me to
 live.
- <sup>17</sup> Behold, for peace I had great anguish,
 but you have in love for my soul
 delivered it from the pit of corruption;
 for you have cast all my sins behind
 your back.
- <sup>18</sup> For Sheol<sup>x</sup> can't praise you.
 Death can't celebrate you.
 Those who go down into the pit can't hope for your truth.
- <sup>19</sup> The living, the living, he shall praise
 you, as I do today.
 The father shall make known your truth to the children.
- <sup>20</sup> Yahweh will save me.
 Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments all the days of our life in Yahweh's house.
- <sup>21</sup> Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a poultice on the boil, and he shall recover." <sup>22</sup> Hezekiah also had said, "What is the sign that I will go up to Yahweh's house?"

39

<sup>1</sup> At that time, Merodach Baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that

<sup>x</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

he had been sick, and had recovered. <sup>2</sup> Hezekiah was pleased with them, and showed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, the spices,
 and the precious oil, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures. There was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah didn't show them. <sup>3</sup> Then Isaiah the prophet came to king Hezekiah, and asked him, "What did these men say? Where did they come from to you?"

Hezekiah said, "They have come from a country far from me, even from Babylon."

<sup>4</sup> Then he asked, "What have they seen in your house?"

Hezekiah answered, "They have seen all that is in my house. There is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown
 them."

<sup>5</sup> Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of Yahweh of Armies: <sup>6</sup> 'Behold, the days are coming when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have stored up until today, will be carried to Babylon. Nothing will be left,' says Yahweh. <sup>7</sup> 'They will take away your sons who will issue from you, whom you shall father, and they will be eunuchs in the king of Babylon's palace.'"

<sup>8</sup> Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah,
 "Yahweh's word which you have spoken is good." He said moreover, "For there will be peace and truth in my days."

40

<sup>1</sup> "Comfort, comfort my people," says
 your God. <sup>2</sup> "Speak comfortably to Jerusalem; and call out to her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received of Yahweh's hand double for all her sins."

<sup>3</sup> The voice of one who calls out,

"Prepare the way of Yahweh in the wilderness!

Make a level highway in the desert for our God.

<sup>4</sup> Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low.

The uneven shall be made level, and the rough places a plain.

<sup>5</sup> Yahweh's glory shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Yahweh has spoken it." <sup>6</sup> The voice of one saying, "Cry!"

One said, "What shall I cry?"

"All flesh is like grass, and all its glory is like the flower of the field.

<sup>7</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades, because Yahweh's breath blows on it.

Surely the people are like grass.

<sup>8</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades; but the word of our God stands forever."

<sup>9</sup> You who tell good news to Zion, go up on a high mountain.

You who tell good news to Jerusalem, lift up your voice with strength.

Lift it up. Don't be afraid.

Say to the cities of Judah, "Behold, your God!"

<sup>10</sup> Behold, the Lord Yahweh will come as a mighty one,

and his arm will rule for him.

Behold, his reward is with him, and his recompense before him.

<sup>11</sup> He will feed his flock like a shepherd.

He will gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom.

He will gently lead those who have their young.

<sup>12</sup> Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and marked off the sky with his span,

and calculated the dust of the earth in a measuring basket, and weighed the mountains in scales,

and the hills in a balance?

<sup>13</sup> Who has directed Yahweh's Spirit, or has taught him as his counselor?

<sup>14</sup> Who did he take counsel with, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of justice, and taught him knowledge, and showed him the way of understanding?

<sup>15</sup> Behold, the nations are like a drop in a bucket, and are regarded as a speck of dust on a balance.

Behold, he lifts up the islands like a very little thing.

They are regarded by him as less than nothing, and vanity.

<sup>18</sup> To whom then will you liken God?

- Or what likeness will you compare
to him?
- <sup>19</sup> A workman has cast an image,
and the goldsmith overlays it with
gold,
and casts silver chains for it.
- <sup>20</sup> He who is too impoverished for such an offering chooses a tree
that will not rot.
He seeks a skillful workman to set up an engraved image for him that will not be moved.
- <sup>21</sup> Haven't you known?
Haven't you heard, yet?
Haven't you been told from the
beginning?
Haven't you understood from the
foundations of the earth?
- <sup>22</sup> It is he who sits above the circle of
the earth,
and its inhabitants are like
grasshoppers;
who stretches out the heavens like a
curtain,
and spreads them out like a tent to dwell in;
- <sup>23</sup> who brings princes to nothing;
who makes the judges of the earth
like meaningless.
- <sup>24</sup> They are planted scarcely.
They are sown scarcely.
Their stock has scarcely taken root
in the ground.
He merely blows on them, and they
wither,
and the whirlwind takes them away
as stubble.
- <sup>25</sup> "To whom then will you liken me?
Who is my equal?" says the Holy
One.
- <sup>26</sup> Lift up your eyes on high,

- and see who has created these,
who brings out their army by
number.
He calls them all by name.
by the greatness of his might,
and because he is strong in power,
Not one is lacking.
- <sup>27</sup> Why do you say, Jacob,
and speak, Israel,
"My way is hidden from Yahweh,
and the justice due me is disregarded by my God?"
- <sup>28</sup> Haven't you known?
Haven't you heard?
The everlasting God, Yahweh,
The Creator of the ends of the earth,
doesn't faint.
He isn't weary.
His understanding is unsearchable.
- <sup>29</sup> He gives power to the weak.
He increases the strength of him who has no might.
- <sup>30</sup> Even the youths faint and get weary,
and the young men utterly fall;
<sup>31</sup> But those who wait for Yahweh
will renew their strength.
They will mount up with wings like eagles.
They will run, and not be weary.
They will walk, and not faint.

41

- <sup>1</sup> "Keep silent before me, islands,
and let the peoples renew their
strength.
Let them come near,
then let them speak.
Let's meet together for judgment.
- <sup>2</sup> Who has raised up one from the east?
Who called him to his foot in
righteousness?

- He hands over nations to him,
and makes him rule over kings.
He gives them like the dust to his
sword,
like the driven stubble to his bow.
- <sup>3</sup> He pursues them,
and passes by safely,
Even by a way that he had not gone
with his feet.
- <sup>4</sup> Who has worked and done it, calling the generations from the
beginning?
I, Yahweh, the first, and with the last, I am he.”
- <sup>5</sup> The islands have seen, and fear.
The ends of the earth tremble.
They approach, and come.
- <sup>6</sup> Everyone helps his neighbor.
They say to their brothers, “Be
strong!”
- <sup>7</sup> So the carpenter encourages the goldsmith.
He who smoothes with the hammer encourages him who strikes
the anvil,
saying of the soldering, “It is
good”;
and he fastens it with nails, that it might not totter.
- <sup>8</sup> “But you, Israel, my servant,
Jacob whom I have chosen,
the offspring<sup>y</sup> of Abraham my
friend,
- <sup>9</sup> You whom I have taken hold of
from the ends of the earth,
and called from its corners,
and said to you, ‘You are my servant, I have chosen you and not cast you away;’
- <sup>10</sup> Don’t you be afraid, for I am with
you.
Don’t be dismayed, for I am your
God.
I will strengthen you.
Yes, I will help you.
Yes, I will uphold you with the right hand of my
righteousness.
- <sup>11</sup> Behold, all those who are incensed against you will be disappointed and
confounded.
Those who strive with you will be like nothing, and shall
perish.
- <sup>12</sup> You will seek them, and won’t find
them,
even those who contend with you.
Those who war against you will be
as nothing,
as a non-existent thing.
- <sup>13</sup> For I, Yahweh your God, will hold your right hand,
saying to you, ‘Don’t be afraid.
I will help you.’
- <sup>14</sup> Don’t be afraid, you worm Jacob,
and you men of Israel.
I will help you,” says Yahweh,
“and your Redeemer is the Holy
One of Israel.
- <sup>15</sup> Behold, I have made you into a new sharp threshing instrument
with teeth.
You will thresh the mountains,
and beat them small,
and will make the hills like chaff.
- <sup>16</sup> You will winnow them,
and the wind will carry them away,
and the whirlwind will scatter them.

<sup>y</sup> or, seed

You will rejoice in Yahweh.
 You will glory in the Holy One of Israel.
<sup>17</sup> The poor and needy seek water, and there is none.
 Their tongue fails for thirst.
 I, Yahweh, will answer them.
 I, the God of Israel, will not forsake
 them.
<sup>18</sup> I will open rivers on the bare heights, and springs in the middle of the valleys.
 I will make the wilderness a pool of
 water,
 and the dry land springs of water.
<sup>19</sup> I will put cedar, acacia, myrtle, and oil trees in the wilderness.
 I will set cypress trees, pine, and box trees together in the desert;
<sup>20</sup> that they may see, know,
 consider, and understand
 together,
 that Yahweh's hand has done this,
 and the Holy One of Israel has created it.
<sup>21</sup> Produce your cause," says Yahweh.
 "Bring out your strong reasons,"
 says the King of Jacob.
<sup>22</sup> "Let them announce, and declare to us
 what shall happen.
 Declare the former things, what they are,
 that we may consider them, and
 know the latter end of them;
 or show us things to come.
<sup>23</sup> Declare the things that are to come hereafter,
 that we may know that you are
 gods.
 Yes, do good, or do evil,

that we may be dismayed,
 and see it together.
<sup>24</sup> Behold, you are of nothing,
 and your work is of nothing.
 He who chooses you is an
 abomination.
<sup>25</sup> "I have raised up one from the north,
 and he has come;
 from the rising of the sun, one who calls on my name;
 and he shall come on rulers as on mortar,
 and as the potter treads clay.
<sup>26</sup> Who has declared it from the beginning, that we may
 know?
 And before, that we may say, 'He is
 right?'
 Surely, there is no one who declares.
 Surely, there is no one who shows.
 Surely, there is no one who hears
 your words.
<sup>27</sup> I am the first to say to Zion, 'Behold,
 look at them;'
 and I will give one who brings good news to Jerusalem.
<sup>28</sup> When I look, there is no man;
 even among them there is no
 counselor who, when I ask
 of them, can answer a word.
<sup>29</sup> Behold, all of them, their deeds are vanity and nothing.
 Their molten images are wind and
 confusion.

42

<sup>1</sup> "Behold, my servant, whom I uphold;
 my chosen, in whom my soul
 delights—
 I have put my Spirit on him.
 He will bring justice to the nations.

- <sup>2</sup> He will not shout,
 nor raise his voice,
 nor cause it to be heard in the street.
- <sup>3</sup> He won't break a bruised reed.
 He won't quench a dimly burning wick.
 He will faithfully bring justice.
- <sup>4</sup> He will not fail nor be discouraged,
 until he has set justice in the earth,
 and the islands will wait for his
 law."
- <sup>5</sup> Thus says God Yahweh,
 he who created the heavens and stretched them out,
 he who spread out the earth and that
 which comes out of it,
 he who gives breath to its people
 and spirit to those who walk
 in it.
- <sup>6</sup> "I, Yahweh, have called you in
 righteousness,
 and will hold your hand,
 and will keep you,
 and make you a covenant for the
 people,
 as a light for the nations;
<sup>7</sup> to open the blind eyes,
 to bring the prisoners out of the
 dungeon,
 and those who sit in darkness out of the prison.
- <sup>8</sup> "I am Yahweh.
 That is my name.
 I will not give my glory to another,
 nor my praise to engraved images.
- <sup>9</sup> Behold, the former things have happened,
 and I declare new things.
 I tell you about them before they come up."
- <sup>10</sup> Sing to Yahweh a new song,
 and his praise from the end of the
 earth,
 you who go down to the sea,
 and all that is therein,
 the islands and their inhabitants.
- <sup>11</sup> Let the wilderness and its cities raise
 their voices,
 with the villages that Kedar
 inhabits.
 Let the inhabitants of Sela sing.
 Let them shout from the top of the
 mountains!
- <sup>12</sup> Let them give glory to Yahweh,
 and declare his praise in the islands.
- <sup>13</sup> Yahweh will go out like a mighty
 man.
 He will stir up zeal like a man of
 war.
 He will raise a war cry.
 Yes, he will shout aloud.
 He will triumph over his enemies.
- <sup>14</sup> "I have been silent a long time.
 I have been quiet and restrained
 myself.
 Now I will cry out like a travailing woman. I will both gasp and pant.
- <sup>15</sup> I will destroy mountains and hills,
 and dry up all their herbs.
 I will make the rivers islands,
 and will dry up the pools.
- <sup>16</sup> I will bring the blind by a way that they don't know.
 I will lead them in paths that they don't know.
 I will make darkness light before
 them,
 and crooked places straight.
 I will do these things,
 and I will not forsake them.
- <sup>17</sup> "Those who trust in engraved images,

- who tell molten images,
 ‘You are our gods’
 will be turned back.
 They will be utterly disappointed.
- 18 “Hear, you deaf,
 and look, you blind,
 that you may see.
- 19 Who is blind, but my servant?
 Or who is as deaf as my messenger
 whom I send?
 Who is as blind as he who is at
 peace,
 and as blind as Yahweh’s servant?
- 20 You see many things, but don’t observe.
 His ears are open, but he doesn’t
 listen.
- 21 It pleased Yahweh, for his righteousness’ sake, to magnify the law,
 and make it honorable.
- 22 But this is a robbed and plundered
 people.
 All of them are snared in holes,
 and they are hidden in prisons.
 They have become captives, and no one delivers;
 and a plunder, and no one says, ‘Restore them!’
- 23 Who is there among you who will give ear to this?
 Who will listen and hear for the time to come?
- 24 Who gave Jacob as plunder,
 and Israel to the robbers?
 Didn’t Yahweh, he against whom we have sinned?
 For they would not walk in his
 ways,
 and they disobeyed his law.

- 25 Therefore he poured the fierceness of his anger on him,
 and the strength of battle;
 and it set him on fire all around, but
 he didn’t know;
 and it burned him, but he didn’t take it to heart.”

43

- 1 But now Yahweh who created you,
 Jacob,
 and he who formed you, Israel says:
 “Don’t be afraid, for I have redeemed
 you.
 I have called you by your name.
 You are mine.
- 2 When you pass through the waters, I
 will be with you;
 and through the rivers, they will not overflow you.
 When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned,
 and flame will not scorch you.
- 3 For I am Yahweh your God,
 the Holy One of Israel,
 your Savior.
 I have given Egypt as your ransom,
 Ethiopia and Seba in your place.
- 4 Since you have been precious and honored in my sight,
 and I have loved you;
 therefore I will give people in your
 place,
 and nations instead of your life.
- 5 Don’t be afraid; for I am with you.
 I will bring your offspring<sup>z</sup> from
 the east,
 and gather you from the west.
- 6 I will tell the north, ‘Give them up!’

<sup>z</sup> or, seed

and tell the south, ‘Don’t hold them
back!
Bring my sons from far,
and my daughters from the ends of
the earth—
7 everyone who is called by my name,
and whom I have created for my
glory,
whom I have formed,
yes, whom I have made.’”
8 Bring out the blind people who have
eyes,
and the deaf who have ears.
9 Let all the nations be gathered
together,
and let the peoples be assembled.
Who among them can declare this,
and show us former things?
Let them bring their witnesses, that they
may be justified;
or let them hear, and say, “That is
true.”
10 “You are my witnesses,” says
Yahweh,
“With my servant whom I have
chosen;
that you may know and believe me,
and understand that I am he.
Before me there was no God formed,
neither will there be after me.
11 I myself am Yahweh;
and besides me there is no savior.
12 I have declared, I have saved, and I have shown;
and there was no strange god
among you.
Therefore you are my witnesses”,
says Yahweh, “and I am God.
13 Yes, since the day was I am he;
and there is no one who can deliver
out of my hand.

I will work, and who can hinder it?”
14 Yahweh, your Redeemer, the Holy
One of Israel says: “For your sake, I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring all of them down as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing. 15 I am Yahweh, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.”
16 Yahweh, who makes a way in the sea,
and a path in the mighty waters
says:
17 who brings out the chariot and horse,
the army and the mighty man (they lie down together, they shall not rise;
they are extinct, they are quenched
like a wick):
18 “Don’t remember the former things,
and don’t consider the things of old.
19 Behold, I will do a new thing.
It springs out now.
Don’t you know it?
I will even make a way in the
wilderness,
and rivers in the desert.
20 The animals of the field shall honor
me,
the jackals and the ostriches;
because I give water in the wilderness
and rivers in the desert,
to give drink to my people, my
chosen,
21 the people which I formed for
myself,
that they might declare my praise.
22 Yet you have not called on me, Jacob;
but you have been weary of me,
Israel.
23 You have not brought me of your sheep for burnt offerings;

neither have you honored me with your sacrifices.
I have not burdened you with offerings,
nor wearied you with frankincense.
24 You have bought me no sweet cane
with money,
nor have you filled me with the fat
of your sacrifices;
but you have burdened me with your
sins.
You have wearied me with your
iniquities.
25 I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions for my own
sake;
and I will not remember your sins.
26 Put me in remembrance.
Let us plead together.
Declare your case,
that you may be justified.
27 Your first father sinned,
and your teachers have transgressed
against me.
28 Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary;
and I will make Jacob a curse,
and Israel an insult.”

44

1 Yet listen now, Jacob my servant,
and Israel, whom I have chosen.
2 This is what Yahweh who made you,
and formed you from the womb,
who will help you says:
“Don’t be afraid, Jacob my servant;
and you, Jeshurun, whom I have
chosen.
3 For I will pour water on him who is thirsty,

and streams on the dry ground.
I will pour my Spirit on your descendants,<sup>a</sup>
and my blessing on your offspring:
4 and they will spring up among the
grass,
as willows by the watercourses.
5 One will say, ‘I am Yahweh’s;’
and another will be called by the name of Jacob;
and another will write with his hand
‘to Yahweh,’
and honor the name of Israel.”
6 This is what Yahweh, the King of Israel,
and his Redeemer, Yahweh of Armies, says:
“I am the first, and I am the last;
and besides me there is no God.
7 Who is like me?
Who will call,
and will declare it,
and set it in order for me,
since I established the ancient
people?
Let them declare the things that are coming,
and that will happen.
8 Don’t fear,
neither be afraid.
Haven’t I declared it to you long ago,
and shown it?
You are my witnesses.
Is there a God besides me?
Indeed, there is not.
I don’t know any other Rock.”
9 Everyone who makes an engraved image is vain.
The things that they delight in will not profit.

<sup>a</sup> or, seed

- Their own witnesses don't see, nor know, that they may be
 disappointed.
- <sup>10</sup> Who has fashioned a god,
 or molds an image that is profitable
 for nothing?
- <sup>11</sup> Behold, all his fellows will be
 disappointed;
 and the workmen are mere men.
 Let them all be gathered together.
 Let them stand up.
 They will fear.
 They will be put to shame together.
- <sup>12</sup> The blacksmith takes an ax,
 works in the coals,
 fashions it with hammers,
 and works it with his strong arm.
 He is hungry,
 and his strength fails;
 he drinks no water,
 and is faint.
- <sup>13</sup> The carpenter stretches out a line.
 He marks it out with a pencil.
 He shapes it with planes.
 He marks it out with compasses,
 and shapes it like the figure of a
 man,
 with the beauty of a man,
 to reside in a house.
- <sup>14</sup> He cuts down cedars for himself,
 and takes the cypress and the oak,
 and strengthens for himself one
 among the trees of the forest.
 He plants a cypress tree,
 and the rain nourishes it.
- <sup>15</sup> Then it will be for a man to burn;
 and he takes some of it, and warms
 himself.
 Yes, he burns it, and bakes bread.
- Yes, he makes a god, and worships it;
 he makes it an engraved image, and falls down to it.
- <sup>16</sup> He burns part of it in the fire.
 With part of it, he eats meat.
 He roasts a roast, and is satisfied.
 Yes, he warms himself,
 and says, "Aha! I am warm. I have seen the fire."
- <sup>17</sup> The rest of it he makes into a god,
 even his engraved image.
 He bows down to it and worships,
 and prays to it, and says, "Deliver
 me; for you are my god!"
- <sup>18</sup> They don't know, neither do they consider:
 for he has shut their eyes, that they can't see;
 and their hearts, that they can't
 understand.
- <sup>19</sup> No one thinks, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say,
 "I have burned part of it in the fire.
 Yes, I have also baked bread on its
 coals.
 I have roasted meat and eaten it.
 Shall I make the rest of it into an
 abomination?
 Shall I bow down to a tree trunk?"
- <sup>20</sup> He feeds on ashes.
 A deceived heart has turned him
 aside;
 and he can't deliver his soul,
 nor say, "Isn't there a lie in my
 right hand?"
- <sup>21</sup> Remember these things, Jacob and Israel;
 for you are my servant.
 I have formed you.
 You are my servant.

Israel, you will not be forgotten by me.

<sup>22</sup> I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, your transgressions, and, as a cloud, your sins. Return to me, for I have redeemed you.

Shout, you lower parts of the earth! Break out into singing, you mountains, O forest, all of your trees, for Yahweh has redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel.

<sup>24</sup> Yahweh, your Redeemer, and he who formed you from the womb says:
“I am Yahweh, who makes all things; who alone stretches out the heavens; who spreads out the earth by myself;
<sup>25</sup> who frustrates the signs of the liars, and makes diviners mad; who turns wise men backward, and makes their knowledge foolish;
<sup>26</sup> who confirms the word of his servant, and performs the counsel of his messengers; who says of Jerusalem, ‘She will be inhabited;’ and of the cities of Judah, ‘They will be built,’ and ‘I will raise up its waste places;’
<sup>27</sup> who says to the deep, ‘Be dry,’ and ‘I will dry up your rivers;’

<sup>28</sup> Who says of Cyrus, ‘He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure,’ even saying of Jerusalem, ‘She will be built;’ and of the temple, ‘Your foundation will be laid.’”

45

<sup>2</sup> “I will go before you, and make the rough places smooth. I will break the doors of brass in pieces, and cut apart the bars of iron.

<sup>3</sup> I will give you the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that you may know that it is I, Yahweh, who call you by your name, even the God of Israel.

<sup>4</sup> For Jacob my servant’s sake, and Israel my chosen, I have called you by your name.

I have given you a title, though you have not known me.

<sup>5</sup> I am Yahweh, and there is no one else. Besides me, there is no God.

I will strengthen<sup>b</sup> you, though you have not known me;

<sup>6</sup> that they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is no one besides me.

I am Yahweh, and there is no one else.

and create darkness.
 I make peace,
 and create calamity.
 I am Yahweh,
 who does all these things.
<sup>8</sup> Rain, you heavens, from above,
 and let the skies pour down
 righteousness.
 Let the earth open, that it may produce
 salvation,
 and let it cause righteousness to spring up with it.
 I, Yahweh, have created it.
<sup>9</sup> Woe to him who strives with his Maker
 a clay pot among the clay pots of
 the earth!
 Shall the clay ask him who fashions it,
 ‘What are you making?’
 or your work, ‘He has no hands?’
<sup>10</sup> Woe to him who says to a father, ‘What have you become the father of?’
 or to a mother, ‘To what have you
 given birth?’”
<sup>11</sup> Yahweh, the Holy One of Israel,
 and his Maker says:
 “You ask me about the things that are to come, concerning my sons,
 and you command me concerning
 the work of my hands!
<sup>12</sup> I have made the earth, and created
 man on it.
 I, even my hands, have stretched
 out the heavens;
 and I have commanded all their
 army.
<sup>13</sup> I have raised him up in righteousness,
 and I will make straight all his
 ways.

He shall build my city,
 and he shall let my exiles go free,
 not for price nor reward,” says
 Yahweh of Armies.
<sup>14</sup> Yahweh says: “The labor of Egypt,
 and the merchandise of Ethiopia,
 and the Sabeans, men of stature,
 shall come over to you,
 and they shall be yours.
 They will go after you.
 They shall come over in chains;
 and they will bow down to you.
 They will make supplication to you:
 ‘Surely God is in you; and there is no one else.
 There is no other god.
<sup>15</sup> Most certainly you are a God who hidden yourself,
 God of Israel, the Savior.’” <sup>16</sup> They will be disappointed,
 yes, confounded, all of them.
 Those who are makers of idols will go into confusion together.
<sup>17</sup> Israel will be saved by Yahweh with an everlasting salvation.
 You will not be disappointed nor confounded to ages
 everlasting.
<sup>18</sup> For Yahweh who created the heavens, the God who formed the earth and
 made it,
 who established it and didn’t create
 it a waste,
 who formed it to be inhabited says:
 “I am Yahweh;
 and there is no other.
<sup>19</sup> I have not spoken in secret,
 in a place of the land of darkness.
 I didn’t say to the offspring<sup>c</sup> of Jacob, ‘Seek me in vain.’”

<sup>c</sup> or, seed

I, Yahweh, speak righteousness.
 I declare things that are right.
 20 “Assemble yourselves and come.
 Draw near together, you who have escaped from the nations.
 Those have no knowledge who carry the wood of their engraved image,
 and pray to a god that can’t save.
 21 Declare and present it.
 Yes, let them take counsel together.
 Who has shown this from ancient time?
 Who has declared it of old?
 Haven’t I, Yahweh?
 There is no other God besides me, a just God and a Savior;
 There is no one besides me.
 22 “Look to me, and be saved, all the
 ends of the earth;
 for I am God, and there is no other.
 23 I have sworn by myself.
 The word has gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and will not be revoked,
 that to me every knee shall bow,
 every tongue shall take an oath.
 24 They will say of me,
 ‘There is righteousness and strength
 only in Yahweh.’”
 Even to him shall men come;
 and all those who raged against him
 shall be disappointed.
 25 All the offspring<sup>d</sup> of Israel will be justified in Yahweh,
 and will rejoice!

<sup>1</sup> Bel bows down.
 Nebo stoops.
 Their idols are carried by animals,

and on the livestock.
 The things that you carried around are heavy loads,
 a burden for the weary.
 2 They stoop and they bow down
 together.
 They could not deliver the burden,
 but they have gone into captivity.
 3 “Listen to me, house of Jacob,
 and all the remnant of the house of
 Israel,
 that have been carried from their birth,
 that have been carried from the womb.
 4 Even to old age I am he,
 and even to gray hairs I will carry
 you.
 I have made, and I will bear.
 Yes, I will carry, and will deliver.
 5 “To whom will you liken me, and consider my equal,
 and compare me, that we may be equal?
 6 Some pour out gold from the bag,
 and weigh silver in the balance.
 They hire a goldsmith,
 and he makes it a god.
 They fall down—
 yes, they worship.
 7 They bear it on their shoulder.
 They carry it, and set it in its place,
 and it stands there.
 It cannot move from its place.
 Yes, one may cry to it, yet it can not
 answer.
 It cannot save him out of his
 trouble.
 8 “Remember this, and show yourselves
 men.

<sup>d</sup> or, seed

Bring it to mind again, you
transgressors.

<sup>9</sup> Remember the former things of old:
for I am God, and there is no other.
I am God, and there is none like
me.

<sup>10</sup> I declare the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done.

I say: My counsel will stand,
and I will do all that I please.

<sup>11</sup> I call a ravenous bird from the east,
the man of my counsel from a far
country.

Yes, I have spoken.
I will also bring it to pass.
I have planned.
I will also do it.

<sup>12</sup> Listen to me, you stubborn-hearted,
who are far from righteousness!

<sup>13</sup> I bring my righteousness near.
It is not far off,
and my salvation will not wait.

I will grant salvation to Zion,
my glory to Israel.

<sup>1</sup> “Come down, and sit in the dust, virgin daughter of Babylon.
Sit on the ground without a throne,
daughter of the Chaldeans.
For you will no longer be called tender and delicate.

<sup>2</sup> Take the millstones, and grind flour.
Remove your veil, lift up your skirt,
uncover your legs,
and wade through the rivers.

<sup>3</sup> Your nakedness will be uncovered.
Yes, your shame will be seen.
I will take vengeance,

and will spare no one.”

<sup>4</sup> Our Redeemer, Yahweh of Armies is
his name,
is the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> “Sit in silence, and go into darkness,
daughter of the Chaldeans.
For you shall no longer be called the mistress of kingdoms.

<sup>6</sup> I was angry with my people.
I profaned my inheritance,
and gave them into your hand.
You showed them no mercy.
You laid a very heavy yoke on the aged.

<sup>7</sup> You said, ‘I will be a princess forever;’
so that you did not lay these things
to your heart,
nor did you remember the results.

<sup>8</sup> “Now therefore hear this, you who are given to pleasures,
who sit securely,
who say in your heart,
‘I am, and there is no one else
besides me.
I shall not sit as a widow,
neither shall I know the loss of
children.’

<sup>9</sup> But these two things shall come to you in a moment in one day,
the loss of children and
widowhood.
They will come on you in their full
measure,
in the multitude of your sorceries,
and the great abundance of your
enchantments.

<sup>10</sup> For you have trusted in your
wickedness.
You have said, ‘No one sees me.’
Your wisdom and your knowledge has perverted you.

You have said in your heart, 'I am,
and there is no one else
besides me.'

<sup>11</sup> Therefore disaster will come on you.
You won't know when it dawns.
Mischievous will fall on you.
You won't be able to put it away.
Desolation will come on you suddenly,
which you don't understand.

<sup>12</sup> "Stand now with your enchantments,
and with the multitude of your sorceries,
in which you have labored from
your youth;
as if you might profit;
as if you might prevail.

<sup>13</sup> You are wearied in the multitude of your counsels.
Now let the astrologers, the stargazers, and the monthly prognosticators, stand up and save you from the things that will come on you.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, they shall be like stubble.
The fire will burn them.
They won't deliver themselves
from the power of the flame.
It won't be a coal to warm at or a fire to sit by.

<sup>15</sup> The things that you labored in will be like this:
those who have trafficked with you
from your youth will each wander in his own way.
There will be no one to save you.

48

<sup>1</sup> "Hear this, house of Jacob,
you who are called by the name of Israel,

and have come out of the waters of Judah.
You swear by Yahweh's name,
and make mention of the God of Israel,
but not in truth, nor in
righteousness

<sup>2</sup> (for they call themselves citizens of the holy city,
and rely on the God of Israel;
Yahweh of Armies is his name):

<sup>3</sup> I have declared the former things from
of old;
yes, they went out of my mouth,
and I revealed them.
I did them suddenly, and they
happened.

<sup>4</sup> Because I knew that you are obstinate,
and your neck is an iron sinew,
and your brow brass;

<sup>5</sup> therefore I have declared it to you from
of old;
before it came to pass I showed it to
you;
lest you should say, 'My idol has done them, and my engraved image, and my molten
image, has commanded
them.'

<sup>6</sup> You have heard it;
see all this.
And you, won't you declare it?
"I have shown you new things from this
time,
even hidden things, which you have not known.

<sup>7</sup> They are created now, and not from of
old;
and before today you didn't hear
them;

- lest you should say, ‘Behold, I knew them.’
- <sup>8</sup> Yes, you didn’t hear;
yes, you didn’t know;
yes, from of old your ear was not
opened:
for I knew that you dealt very
treacherously,
and were called a transgressor from
the womb.
- <sup>9</sup> For my name’s sake, I will defer my
anger,
and for my praise I hold it back for
you,
so that I don’t cut you off.
- <sup>10</sup> Behold, I have refined you,
but not as silver.
I have chosen you in the furnace of
affliction.
- <sup>11</sup> For my own sake,
for my own sake, I will do it;
for how would my name be profaned?
I will not give my glory to another.
- <sup>12</sup> “Listen to me, O Jacob,
and Israel my called:
I am he;
I am the first,
I am also the last.
- <sup>13</sup> Yes, my hand has laid the foundation
of the earth,
and my right hand has spread out
the heavens.
when I call to them, they stand up
together.
- <sup>14</sup> “Assemble yourselves, all of you, and
hear;
who among them has declared these
things?
He whom Yahweh loves will do what he likes to Babylon,
- and his arm will be against the Chaldeans.
- <sup>15</sup> I, even I, have spoken;
yes, I have called him.
I have brought him,
and he shall make his way
prosperous.
- <sup>16</sup> “Come near to me and hear this:
“From the beginning I have not spoken
in secret;
from the time that it happened, I
was there.”
- Now the Lord Yahweh has sent me,
with his Spirit.
- <sup>17</sup> Yahweh,
your Redeemer,
the Holy One of Israel says:
“I am Yahweh your God,
who teaches you to profit,
who leads you by the way that you should go.
- <sup>18</sup> Oh that you had listened to my
commandments!
Then your peace would have been
like a river,
and your righteousness like the waves of the sea.
- <sup>19</sup> Your offspring<sup>e</sup> also would have been
as the sand,
and the descendants of your body
like its grains.
His name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before me.”
- <sup>20</sup> Leave Babylon!
Flee from the Chaldeans!
With a voice of singing announce this,
tell it even to the end of the earth:
say, “Yahweh has redeemed his servant Jacob!”

- 21 They didn't thirst when he led them
through the deserts.
He caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them.
He split the rock also, and the
waters gushed out.
- 22 "There is no peace", says Yahweh,
"for the wicked."

- 1 Listen, islands, to me.
Listen, you peoples, from afar:
Yahweh has called me from the womb;
from the inside of my mother he has mentioned my name.
- 2 He has made my mouth like a sharp
sword.
He has hidden me in the shadow of his hand.
He has made me a polished shaft.
He has kept me close in his quiver.
- 3 He said to me, "You are my servant;
Israel, in whom I will be glorified."
- 4 But I said, "I have labored in vain.
I have spent my strength in vain for
nothing;
yet surely the justice due to me is with
Yahweh,
and my reward with my God."
- 5 Now Yahweh says, he who formed me
from the womb to be his
servant,
to bring Jacob again to him,
and to gather Israel to him,
for I am honorable in Yahweh's
eyes,
and my God has become my
strength.
- 6 Indeed, he says, "It is too light a thing that you should be my

- servant to raise up the tribes
of Jacob,
and to restore the preserved of
Israel?
I will also give you as a light to the
nations,
that you may be my salvation to the end of the earth."
- 7 Yahweh, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One,
says to him whom man despises, to him whom the nation
abhors, to a servant of rulers:
"Kings shall see and rise up;
princes, and they shall worship;
because of Yahweh who is faithful,
even the Holy One of Israel,
who has chosen you."
- 8 Yahweh says, "In an acceptable time I have answered you,
and in a day of salvation I have helped you.
I will preserve you, and give you for a covenant of the people,
to raise up the land, to make them
inherit the desolate heritage:
9 saying to those who are bound, 'Come
out!';
to those who are in darkness, 'Show
yourselves!'
"They shall feed along the paths,
and their pasture shall be on all treeless heights.
- 10 They shall not hunger nor thirst;
neither shall the heat nor sun strike
them:
for he who has mercy on them will lead them.
He will guide them by springs of
water.
- 11 I will make all my mountains a road,

- and my highways shall be exalted.
- <sup>12</sup> Behold, these shall come from afar;
and behold, these from the north
and from the west;
and these from the land of Sinim.”
- <sup>13</sup> Sing, heavens; and be joyful, earth;
and break out into singing,
mountains:
for Yahweh has comforted his people,
and will have compassion on his
afflicted.
- <sup>14</sup> But Zion said, “Yahweh has forsaken
me,
and the Lord has forgotten me.”
- <sup>15</sup> “Can a woman forget her nursing
child,
that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb?
Yes, these may forget,
yet I will not forget you!
- <sup>16</sup> Behold, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands.
your walls are continually before
me.
- <sup>17</sup> Your children hurry.
Your destroyers and those who devastated you will leave
you.
- <sup>18</sup> Lift up your eyes all around, and see:
all these gather themselves
together, and come to you.
As I live,” says Yahweh, “you shall surely clothe yourself with them all as with an ornament, and dress yourself with them, like a bride.
- <sup>19</sup> “For, as for your waste and your desolate places,
and your land that has been
destroyed,
surely now that land will be too small
for the inhabitants,
and those who swallowed you up
will be far away.
- <sup>20</sup> The children of your bereavement
will say in your ears,
‘This place is too small for me.
Give me a place to live in.’
- <sup>21</sup> Then you will say in your heart, ‘Who has conceived these for me,
since I have been bereaved of
my children,
and am solitary, an exile, and wandering back and forth?
Who has brought these up?
Behold, I was left alone. Where were these?’”
- <sup>22</sup> Thus says the Lord Yahweh, “Behold,
I will lift up my hand to the
nations,
and lift up my banner to the
peoples;
and they shall bring your sons in their
bosom,
and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders.
- <sup>23</sup> Kings shall be your foster fathers,
and their queens your nursing mothers.
They will bow down to you with their faces to the earth,
and lick the dust of your feet;
Then you will know that I am Yahweh;
and those who wait for me shall not be disappointed.”
- <sup>24</sup> Shall the plunder be taken from the
mighty,
or the lawful captives be delivered?
- <sup>25</sup> But Yahweh says, “Even the captives
of the mighty shall be taken
away,

and the plunder retrieved from the fierce;
for I will contend with him who contends with you,
and I will save your children.
<sup>26</sup> I will feed those who oppress you
with their own flesh;
and they will be drunk on their own
blood, as with sweet wine.
Then all flesh shall know that I, Yahweh, am your Savior,
and your Redeemer, the Mighty
One of Jacob.”

50

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh says, “Where is the bill of your mother’s divorce, with which I have put her away?
or to which of my creditors have I sold you?
Behold, you were sold for your
iniquities,
and your mother was put away for your transgressions.
<sup>2</sup> Why, when I came, was there no one?
when I called, why was there no
one to answer?
Is my hand shortened at all, that it can’t redeem?
or have I no power to deliver?
Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea.
I make the rivers a wilderness:
their fish stink, because there is no
water, and die for thirst.
<sup>3</sup> I clothe the heavens with blackness,
and I make sackcloth their covering.”
<sup>4</sup> The Lord Yahweh has given me the tongue of those who are taught,

that I may know how to sustain with words him who is weary.
He wakens morning by morning,
he wakens my ear to hear as those who are taught.
<sup>5</sup> The Lord Yahweh has opened my ear,
and I was not rebellious.
I have not turned back.
<sup>6</sup> I gave my back to those who beat me,
and my cheeks to those who plucked off the hair.
I didn’t hide my face from shame
and spitting.
<sup>7</sup> For the Lord Yahweh will help me.
Therefore I have not been
confounded.
Therefore I have set my face like a flint,
and I know that I shall not be
disappointed.
<sup>8</sup> He who justifies me is near.
Who will bring charges against me?
Let us stand up together.
Who is my adversary?
Let him come near to me.
<sup>9</sup> Behold, the Lord Yahweh will help
me!
Who is he who will condemn me?
Behold, they will all grow old like a
garment.
The moths will eat them up.
<sup>10</sup> Who among you fears Yahweh,
and obeys the voice of his servant?
He who walks in darkness,
and has no light,
let him trust in Yahweh’s name,
and rely on his God.
<sup>11</sup> Behold, all you who kindle a fire,
who adorn yourselves with torches
around yourselves;
walk in the flame of your fire,

and among the torches that you have kindled.
You will have this from my hand:
You will lie down in sorrow.

<sup>1</sup> “Listen to me, you who follow after
righteousness,
you who seek Yahweh:
look to the rock you were cut from,
and to the quarry you were dug
from.
<sup>2</sup> Look to Abraham your father,
and to Sarah who bore you;
for when he was but one I called him,
and I blessed him,
and made him many.
<sup>3</sup> For Yahweh has comforted Zion.
He has comforted all her waste
places,
and has made her wilderness like Eden,
and her desert like the garden of
Yahweh.
Joy and gladness will be found therein,
thanksgiving, and the voice of
melody.
<sup>4</sup> “Listen to me, my people;
and hear me, my nation:
for a law will go out from me,
and I will establish my justice for a light to the peoples.
<sup>5</sup> My righteousness is near.
My salvation has gone out,
and my arms will judge the peoples.
The islands will wait for me,
and they will trust my arm.
<sup>6</sup> Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
and look on the earth beneath;
for the heavens will vanish away like
smoke,

and the earth will wear out like a
garment;
and its inhabitants will die in the same way:
but my salvation will be forever,
and my righteousness will not be abolished.
<sup>7</sup> “Listen to me, you who know
righteousness,
the people in whose heart is my
law:
Don’t fear the reproach of men,
and don’t be dismayed at their insults.
<sup>8</sup> For the moth will eat them up like a
garment,
and the worm will eat them like
wool;
but my righteousness will be forever,
and my salvation to all
generations.”
<sup>9</sup> Awake, awake, put on strength, arm of Yahweh!
Awake, as in the days of old,
the generations of ancient times.
Isn’t it you who cut Rahab in pieces,
who pierced the monster?
<sup>10</sup> Isn’t it you who dried up the sea,
the waters of the great deep;
who made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?
<sup>11</sup> Those ransomed by Yahweh will
return,
and come with singing to Zion;
and everlasting joy shall be on their
heads.
They will obtain gladness and joy.
Sorrow and sighing shall flee away.
<sup>12</sup> “I, even I, am he who comforts you.

- Who are you, that you are afraid of man who shall die,
 and of the son of man who will be made as grass?
- <sup>13</sup> Have you forgotten Yahweh your Maker,
 who stretched out the heavens,
 and laid the foundations of the
 earth?
 Do you live in fear continually all day
 because of the fury of the oppressor,
 when he prepares to destroy?
 Where is the fury of the oppressor?
- <sup>14</sup> The captive exile will speedily be freed;
 and he will not die and go down
 into the pit,
 and his bread will not fail.
- <sup>15</sup> For I am Yahweh your God, who stirs
 up the sea,
 so that its waves roar:
 Yahweh of Armies is his name.
- <sup>16</sup> I have put my words in your mouth,
 and have covered you in the shadow of my hand,
 that I may plant the heavens,
 and lay the foundations of the earth,
 and tell Zion, ‘You are my
 people.’”
- <sup>17</sup> Awake, awake!
 Stand up, Jerusalem,
 you who have drunk from Yahweh’s hand the cup of
 his wrath.
 You have drunken the bowl of the cup
 of staggering,
 and drained it.
- <sup>18</sup> There is no one to guide her among all the sons to whom she has
 given birth;
- and there is no one who takes her
 by the hand among all the sons who she has brought
 up.
- <sup>19</sup> These two things have happened to
 you—
 who will grieve with you?—
 desolation and destruction,
 and famine and the sword.
 How can I comfort you?
- <sup>20</sup> Your sons have fainted.
 They lie at the head of all the
 streets,
 like an antelope in a net.
 They are full of the Yahweh’s wrath,
 the rebuke of your God.
- <sup>21</sup> Therefore now hear this, you
 afflicted,
 and drunken, but not with wine:
- <sup>22</sup> Thus says your Lord Yahweh,
 your God who pleads the cause of
 his people, “Behold, I have taken out of your hand
 the cup of staggering,
 even the bowl of the cup of my
 wrath.
 You will not drink it any more:
- <sup>23</sup> and I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you,
 who have said to your soul, ‘Bow down, that we may walk
 over you;’
 and you have laid your back as the
 ground,
 like a street to those who walk
 over.”

- <sup>1</sup> Awake, awake! Put on your strength,
 Zion.

- Put on your beautiful garments,
 Jerusalem, the holy city:
 for from now on the uncircumcised
 and the unclean will no more come into you.
- <sup>2</sup> Shake yourself from the dust!
 Arise, sit up, Jerusalem!
 Release yourself from the bonds of your neck, captive daughter
 of Zion!
- <sup>3</sup> For Yahweh says, "You were sold for
 nothing;
 and you will be redeemed without
 money."
- <sup>4</sup> For thus says the Lord Yahweh:
 "My people went down at the first into Egypt to live there:
 and the Assyrian has oppressed
 them without cause.
- <sup>5</sup> "Now therefore, what do I do here,"
 says Yahweh,
 "seeing that my people are taken
 away for nothing?
 Those who rule over them mock," says
 Yahweh,
 "and my name is blasphemed
 continually all the day.
- <sup>6</sup> Therefore my people shall know my
 name.
 Therefore they shall know in that day that I am he who speaks.
 Behold, it is I."
- <sup>7</sup> How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of him who brings
 good news,
 who publishes peace,
 who brings good news,
 who proclaims salvation,
 who says to Zion, "Your God reigns!"
- <sup>8</sup> Your watchmen lift up their voice,
 together they sing;
 for they shall see eye to eye, when Yahweh returns to Zion.
- <sup>9</sup> Break out into joy,
 sing together, you waste places of Jerusalem;
 for Yahweh has comforted his
 people.
 He has redeemed Jerusalem.
- <sup>10</sup> Yahweh has made bare his holy arm
 in the eyes of all the nations;
 and all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our
 God.
- <sup>11</sup> Depart, depart, go out from there;
 touch no unclean thing!
 Go out from among her!
 Cleanse yourselves, you who carry Yahweh's vessels.
- <sup>12</sup> For you shall not go out in haste,
 neither shall you go by flight:
 for Yahweh will go before you;
 and the God of Israel will be your
 rear guard.
- <sup>13</sup> Behold, my servant will deal wisely.
 He will be exalted and lifted up,
 and will be very high.
- <sup>14</sup> Just as many were astonished at you (his appearance was marred more than any man, and his form
 more than the sons of men),
- <sup>15</sup> so he will cleanse<sup>f</sup> many nations.
 Kings will shut their mouths at him:
 for they will see that which had not been told them;
 and they will understand that which they had not heard.

53

<sup>1</sup> Who has believed our message?
 To whom has the arm of Yahweh
 been revealed?

<sup>2</sup> For he grew up before him as a tender
 plant,
 and as a root out of dry ground.
 He has no good looks or majesty.
 When we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire
 him.

<sup>3</sup> He was despised,
 and rejected by men;
 a man of suffering,
 and acquainted with disease.
 He was despised as one from whom men
 hide their face;
 and we didn't respect him.

<sup>4</sup> Surely he has borne our sickness,
 and carried our suffering;
 yet we considered him plagued,
 struck by God, and afflicted.

<sup>5</sup> But he was pierced for our
 transgressions.
 He was crushed for our iniquities.
 The punishment that brought our peace
 was on him;
 and by his wounds we are healed.

<sup>6</sup> All we like sheep have gone astray.
 Everyone has turned to his own
 way;
 and Yahweh has laid on him the iniquity of us all.

<sup>7</sup> He was oppressed, yet when he was afflicted he didn't open his mouth.
 As a lamb that is led to the slaughter,
 and as a sheep that before its
 shearers is silent,

so he didn't open his mouth.

<sup>8</sup> He was taken away by oppression and
 judgment;
 and as for his generation,
 who considered that he was cut off
 out of the land of the living and stricken for the disobedience of
 my people?

<sup>9</sup> They made his grave with the wicked,
 and with a rich man in his death;
 although he had done no violence,
 nor was any deceit in his mouth.

<sup>10</sup> Yet it pleased Yahweh to bruise him.
 He has caused him to suffer.
 When you make his soul an offering for
 sin,
 he will see his offspring.<sup>g</sup>
 He will prolong his days,
 and Yahweh's pleasure will prosper
 in his hand.

<sup>11</sup> After the suffering of his soul,
 he will see the light<sup>h</sup> and be
 satisfied.
 My righteous servant will justify many
 by the knowledge of himself;
 and he will bear their iniquities.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore will I give him a portion with the great,
 and he will divide the plunder with
 the strong;
 because he poured out his soul to death,
 and was numbered with the
 transgressors;
 yet he bore the sin of many,
 and made intercession for the
 transgressors.

<sup>1</sup> "Sing, barren, you who didn't give birth;

<sup>g</sup> or, seed <sup>h</sup> So read the Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint. Masoretic Text omits "the light".

- break out into singing, and cry aloud, you who did not travail with child:
for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife," says
Yahweh.
- <sup>2</sup> "Enlarge the place of your tent,
and let them stretch out the curtains
of your habitations;
don't spare: lengthen your cords,
and strengthen your stakes.
- <sup>3</sup> For you will spread out on the right hand and on the left;
and your offspring<sup>i</sup> will possess the
nations,
and settle in desolate cities.
- <sup>4</sup> "Don't be afraid; for you will not be ashamed.
Don't be confounded; for you will not be disappointed.
For you will forget the shame of your
youth;
and the reproach of your widowhood you shall remember no more.
- <sup>5</sup> For your Maker is your husband; Yahweh of Armies is his
name.
The Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer.
He will be called the God of the
whole earth.
- <sup>6</sup> For Yahweh has called you as a wife forsaken and grieved in
spirit,
even a wife of youth, when she is cast off," says your God.
- <sup>7</sup> "For a small moment have I forsaken
you;
- but with great mercies will I gather
you.
- <sup>8</sup> In overflowing wrath I hid my face
from you for a moment;
but with everlasting loving kindness
I will have mercy on you,"
says Yahweh your Redeemer.
- <sup>9</sup> "For this is like the waters of Noah to
me;
for as I have sworn that the waters
of Noah will no more go over the earth,
so have I sworn that I will not be angry with you, nor rebuke
you.
- <sup>10</sup> For the mountains may depart,
and the hills be removed;
but my loving kindness will not depart
from you,
and my covenant of peace will not be removed,"
says Yahweh who has mercy on
you.
- <sup>11</sup> "You afflicted, tossed with storms,
and not comforted,
behold, I will set your stones in beautiful colors,
and lay your foundations with sapphires.
- <sup>12</sup> I will make your pinnacles of rubies,
your gates of sparkling jewels,
and all your walls of precious
stones.
- <sup>13</sup> All your children will be taught by
Yahweh;
and your children's peace will be
great.

<sup>i</sup> or, seed

<sup>14</sup> In righteousness you will be established.
 You will be far from oppression,
 for you will not be afraid;
 and far from terror,
 for it shall not come near you.

<sup>15</sup> Behold, they may gather together, but not by me.
 Whoever gathers together against you will fall because of you.

<sup>16</sup> “Behold, I have created the blacksmith who fans the coals into flame,
 and forges a weapon for his work;
 and I have created the destroyer to destroy.

<sup>17</sup> No weapon that is formed against you will prevail;
 and you will condemn every tongue that rises against you in judgment.

This is the heritage of Yahweh’s servants,
 and their righteousness is of me,”
 says Yahweh.

55

<sup>1</sup> “Hey! Come, everyone who thirsts, to the waters!
 Come, he who has no money, buy, and eat!
 Yes, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

<sup>2</sup> Why do you spend money for that which is not bread,
 and your labor for that which doesn’t satisfy?
 Listen diligently to me, and eat that which is good,

and let your soul delight itself in richness.

<sup>3</sup> Turn your ear, and come to me.
 Hear, and your soul will live:
 and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.

<sup>4</sup> Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples,
 a leader and commander to the peoples.

<sup>5</sup> Behold, you shall call a nation that you don’t know;
 and a nation that didn’t know you shall run to you,
 because of Yahweh your God,
 and for the Holy One of Israel;
 for he has glorified you.”

<sup>6</sup> Seek Yahweh while he may be found.
 Call on him while he is near.

<sup>7</sup> Let the wicked forsake his way,
 and the unrighteous man his thoughts.
 Let him return to Yahweh, and he will have mercy on him;
 and to our God, for he will freely pardon.

<sup>8</sup> “For my thoughts are not your thoughts,
 and your ways are not my ways,”
 says Yahweh.

<sup>9</sup> “For as the heavens are higher than the earth,
 so are my ways higher than your ways,
 and my thoughts than your thoughts.

<sup>10</sup> For as the rain comes down and the snow from the sky,
 and doesn’t return there, but waters the earth,

and makes it grow and bud,
and gives seed to the sower and
bread to the eater;
<sup>11</sup> so is my word that goes out of my
mouth:
it will not return to me void,
but it will accomplish that which I
please,
and it will prosper in the thing I sent it to do.
<sup>12</sup> For you shall go out with joy,
and be led out with peace.
The mountains and the hills will break
out before you into singing;
and all the trees of the fields will clap their hands.
<sup>13</sup> Instead of the thorn the cypress tree
will come up;
and instead of the brier the myrtle
tree will come up:
and it will make a name for Yahweh,
for an everlasting sign that will not be cut off.”

56

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh says,
“Maintain justice,
and do what is right;
for my salvation is near,
and my righteousness will soon be
revealed.
<sup>2</sup> Blessed is the man who does this,
and the son of man who holds it fast;
who keeps the Sabbath without
profaning it,
and keeps his hand from doing any
evil.”
<sup>3</sup> Let no foreigner, who has joined himself to Yahweh, speak,
saying,

“Yahweh will surely separate me
from his people.”
Do not let the eunuch say, “Behold,
I am a dry tree.”
<sup>4</sup> For Yahweh says, “To the eunuchs
who keep my Sabbaths,
and choose the things that please
me,
and hold fast to my covenant:
<sup>5</sup> I will give them in my house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters.
I will give them an everlasting
name, that will not be cut
off.
<sup>6</sup> Also the foreigners who join themselves to Yahweh,
to serve him,
and to love Yahweh’s name,
to be his servants,
everyone who keeps the Sabbath from
profaning it,
and holds fast my covenant;
<sup>7</sup> I will bring these to my holy mountain,
and make them joyful in my house
of prayer.
Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices
will be accepted on my altar;
for my house will be called a house
of prayer for all peoples.”
<sup>8</sup> The Lord Yahweh, who gathers the outcasts of Israel, says,
“I will yet gather others to him,
besides his own who are gathered.”
<sup>9</sup> All you animals of the field,
come to devour,
all you animals in the forest.
<sup>10</sup> His watchmen are blind.
They are all without knowledge.
They are all mute dogs.

They can't bark;
dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber.

<sup>11</sup> Yes, the dogs are greedy.
They can never have enough.
They are shepherds who can't
understand.
They have all turned to their own
way,
each one to his gain, from every quarter.

<sup>12</sup> "Come," say they, "I will get wine, and we will fill ourselves with
strong drink;
and tomorrow will be as today,
great beyond measure."

57

<sup>1</sup> The righteous perish,
and no one lays it to heart.
Merciful men are taken away,
and no one considers that the righteous is taken away from the evil.

<sup>2</sup> He enters into peace.
They rest in their beds,
each one who walks in his
uprightness.

<sup>3</sup> "But draw near here, you sons of a sorceress,
you offspring<sup>j</sup> of adulterers and
prostitutes.

<sup>4</sup> Whom do you mock?
Against whom do you make a wide
mouth,
and stick out your tongue?
Aren't you children of disobedience,
and offspring<sup>k</sup> of falsehood,

<sup>5</sup> you who inflame yourselves among the oaks,

under every green tree;
who kill the children in the valleys,
under the clefts of the rocks?

<sup>6</sup> Among the smooth stones of the valley
is your portion;
they, they are your lot.
You have even poured a drink offering
to them.
You have offered an offering.
Shall I be appeased for these
things?

<sup>7</sup> On a high and lofty mountain you have set your bed.
You also went up there to offer
sacrifice.

<sup>8</sup> You have set up your memorial behind
the doors and the posts;
for you have exposed yourself to someone besides me,
and have gone up;
you have enlarged your bed,
and made you a covenant with
them.
You loved what you saw on their
bed.

<sup>9</sup> You went to the king with oil,
and increased your perfumes,
and sent your ambassadors far off,
and degraded yourself even to

<sup>10</sup> You were wearied with the length of
your ways;
yet you didn't say, 'It is in vain.'
You found a reviving of your strength;
therefore you weren't faint.

<sup>11</sup> "Whom have you dreaded and feared,
so that you lie,
and have not remembered me, nor
laid it to your heart?
Haven't I held my peace for a long time,

<sup>j</sup> or, seed    <sup>k</sup> or, seed    <sup>l</sup> Sheol is the place of the dead.

and you don't fear me?
<sup>12</sup> I will declare your righteousness;
 and as for your works, they will not benefit you.
<sup>13</sup> When you cry,
 let those whom you have gathered
 deliver you;
 but the wind will take them.
 a breath will carry them all away:
 but he who takes refuge in me will possess the land,
 and will inherit my holy mountain."
<sup>14</sup> He will say, "Build up, build up, prepare the way!
 Remove the stumbling-block out of the way of my people."
<sup>15</sup> For thus says the high and lofty One who inhabits eternity,
 whose name is Holy:
 "I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also who is of a contrite
 and humble spirit,
 to revive the spirit of the humble,
 and to revive the heart of the contrite.
<sup>16</sup> For I will not contend forever, neither will I be always angry;
 for the spirit would faint before me,
 and the souls whom I have made.
<sup>17</sup> I was angry because of the iniquity of his covetousness, and struck
 him;
 I hid myself and was angry;
 and he went on backsliding in the way of his heart.
<sup>18</sup> I have seen his ways, and will heal
 him:
 I will lead him also,
 and restore comforts to him and to his mourners.
<sup>19</sup> I create the fruit of the lips:

Peace, peace, to him who is far off
 and to him who is near,"
 says Yahweh; "and I will heal
 them."

<sup>20</sup> But the wicked are like the troubled
 sea;
 for it can't rest, and its waters cast
 up mire and mud.
<sup>21</sup> "There is no peace", says my God,
 "for the wicked."

58

<sup>1</sup> "Cry aloud, don't spare.
 Lift up your voice like a trumpet.
 Declare to my people their disobedience,
 and to the house of Jacob their sins.
<sup>2</sup> Yet they seek me daily,
 and delight to know my ways.
 As a nation that did righteousness,
 and didn't forsake the ordinance of
 their God,
 they ask of me righteous judgments.
 They delight to draw near to God.
<sup>3</sup> 'Why have we fasted,' say they, 'and you don't see?
 Why have we afflicted our soul,
 and you don't notice?'
 "Behold, in the day of your fast you find
 pleasure,
 and oppress all your laborers.
<sup>4</sup> Behold, you fast for strife and contention,
 and to strike with the fist of
 wickedness.
 You don't fast today so as to make your voice to be heard on
 high.
<sup>5</sup> Is this the fast that I have chosen?
 A day for a man to humble his
 soul?
 Is it to bow down his head like a reed,

and to spread sackcloth and ashes
under himself?
Will you call this a fast,
and an acceptable day to Yahweh?
6 “Isn’t this the fast that I have chosen:
to release the bonds of wickedness,
to undo the straps of the yoke,
to let the oppressed go free,
and that you break every yoke?
7 Isn’t it to distribute your bread to the
hungry,
and that you bring the poor who are cast out to your house?
When you see the naked,
that you cover him;
and that you not hide yourself from
your own flesh?
8 Then your light will break out as the
morning,
and your healing will appear quickly;
then your righteousness shall go before
you;
and Yahweh’s glory will be your
rear guard.
9 Then you will call, and Yahweh will
answer;
you will cry for help, and he will say, ‘Here I am.’
“If you take away from among you the yoke,
finger pointing,
and speaking wickedly;
10 and if you pour out your soul to the
hungry,
and satisfy the afflicted soul:
then your light will rise in darkness,
and your obscurity will be as the
noonday;
11 and Yahweh will guide you
continually,

and satisfy your soul in dry places,
and make your bones strong;
and you shall be like a watered garden,
and like a spring of water,
whose waters don’t fail.
12 Those who shall be of you shall build
the old waste places;
you shall raise up the foundations
of many generations;
and you shall be called Repairer of the Breach,
Restorer of Paths with Dwellings.
13 “If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath,
from doing your pleasure on my
holy day;
and call the Sabbath a delight,
and the holy of Yahweh honorable;
and shall honor it,
not doing your own ways,
nor finding your own pleasure,
nor speaking your own words:
14 then you shall delight yourself in
Yahweh;
and I will make you to ride on the high places of the earth;
and I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob your
father:”
for Yahweh’s mouth has spoken it.

59

1 Behold, Yahweh’s hand is not shortened, that it can’t save;
nor his ear dull, that it can’t hear.
2 But your iniquities have separated you and your God,
and your sins have hidden his face
from you,
so that he will not hear.
3 For your hands are defiled with blood,

and your fingers with iniquity.
 Your lips have spoken lies.
 Your tongue mutters wickedness.
<sup>4</sup> No one sues in righteousness,
 and no one pleads in truth.
 They trust in vanity,
 and speak lies.
 They conceive mischief,
 and give birth to iniquity.
<sup>5</sup> They hatch adders' eggs,
 and weave the spider's web.
 He who eats of their eggs dies;
 and that which is crushed breaks
 out into a viper.
<sup>6</sup> Their webs won't become garments.
 They won't cover themselves with
 their works.
 Their works are works of iniquity,
 and acts of violence are in their
 hands.
<sup>7</sup> Their feet run to evil,
 and they hurry to shed innocent
 blood.
 Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity.
 desolation and destruction are in their paths.
<sup>8</sup> They don't know the way of peace;
 and there is no justice in their ways.
 They have made crooked paths for
 themselves;
 whoever goes in them doesn't know
 peace.
<sup>9</sup> Therefore is justice far from us,
 and righteousness doesn't overtake
 us.
 We look for light, but see darkness;
 for brightness, but we walk in obscurity.
<sup>10</sup> We grope for the wall like the blind.
 Yes, we grope as those who have no eyes.

We stumble at noon as if it were
 twilight.
 Among those who are strong, we are like dead men.
<sup>11</sup> We all roar like bears,
 and moan bitterly like doves.
 We look for justice, but there is none;
 for salvation, but it is far off from
 us.
<sup>12</sup> For our transgressions are multiplied
 before you,
 and our sins testify against us;
 for our transgressions are with us,
 and as for our iniquities, we know
 them:
<sup>13</sup> transgressing and denying Yahweh,
 and turning away from following
 our God,
 speaking oppression and revolt,
 conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.
<sup>14</sup> Justice is turned away backward,
 and righteousness stands far away;
 for truth has fallen in the street,
 and uprightness can't enter.
<sup>15</sup> Yes, truth is lacking;
 and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey.
 Yahweh saw it,
 and it displeased him that there was no justice.
<sup>16</sup> He saw that there was no man,
 and wondered that there was no
 intercessor.
 Therefore his own arm brought salvation
 to him;
 and his righteousness sustained
 him.
<sup>17</sup> He put on righteousness as a
 breastplate,

and a helmet of salvation on his
head.
He put on garments of vengeance for
clothing,
and was clad with zeal as a mantle.
18 According to their deeds,
he will repay as appropriate,
wrath to his adversaries,
recompense to his enemies;
he will repay the islands their due.
19 So shall they fear Yahweh's name
from the west,
and his glory from the rising of the
sun;
for he will come as a rushing stream,
which Yahweh's breath drives.
20 "A Redeemer will come to Zion, and to those who turn from disobedience in Jacob," says
Yahweh.
21 "As for me, this is my covenant with them," says Yahweh. "My Spirit who is on you, and my words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your offspring,<sup>m</sup> nor out of the mouth of your offspring's offspring," says Yahweh, "from henceforth and forever."

60

1 "Arise, shine; for your light has come,
and Yahweh's glory has risen on
you.
2 For, behold, darkness will cover the
earth,
and thick darkness the peoples;
but Yahweh will arise on you,
and his glory shall be seen on you.
3 Nations will come to your light,

and kings to the brightness of your rising.
4 "Lift up your eyes all around, and see:
they all gather themselves together.
They come to you.
Your sons will come from far away,
and your daughters will be carried
in arms.
5 Then you shall see and be radiant,
and your heart will thrill and be enlarged;
because the abundance of the sea will be turned to you.
The wealth of the nations will come
to you.
6 A multitude of camels will cover you,
the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah.
All from Sheba will come.
They will bring gold and
frankincense,
and will proclaim the praises of
Yahweh.
7 All the flocks of Kedar will be gathered together to you.
The rams of Nebaioth will serve
you.
They will be accepted as offerings on
my altar;
and I will beautify my glorious
house.
8 "Who are these who fly as a cloud,
and as the doves to their windows?
9 Surely the islands will wait for me,
and the ships of Tarshish first,
to bring your sons from far,
their silver and their gold with
them,
for the name of Yahweh your God,
and for the Holy One of Israel,

because he has glorified you.
<sup>10</sup> “Foreigners will build up your walls,
 and their kings will serve you:
 for in my wrath I struck you,
 but in my favor have I had mercy
 on you.
<sup>11</sup> Your gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men
 may bring to you the wealth of the nations, and their kings
 led captive.
<sup>12</sup> For that nation and kingdom that will not serve you shall perish;
 yes, those nations shall be utterly wasted.
<sup>13</sup> “The glory of Lebanon shall come to you, the cypress tree, the pine, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.
<sup>14</sup> The sons of those who afflicted you will come bowing to you;
 and all those who despised you will bow themselves down at the soles of your feet.
 They will call you Yahweh’s City,
 The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.
<sup>15</sup> “Whereas you have been forsaken and hated,
 so that no one passed through you,
 I will make you an eternal excellency,
 a joy of many generations.
<sup>16</sup> You will also drink the milk of the
 nations,
 and will nurse from royal breasts.
 Then you will know that I, Yahweh, am
 your Savior,

your Redeemer,
 the Mighty One of Jacob.
<sup>17</sup> For brass I will bring gold;
 for iron I will bring silver;
 for wood, brass,
 and for stones, iron.
 I will also make peace your governor,
 and righteousness your ruler.
<sup>18</sup> Violence shall no more be heard in
 your land,
 nor desolation or destruction within
 your borders;
 but you will call your walls Salvation,
 and your gates Praise.
<sup>19</sup> The sun will be no more your light by
 day;
 nor will the brightness of the moon
 give light to you,
 but Yahweh will be your everlasting
 light,
 and your God will be your glory.
<sup>20</sup> Your sun will not go down any more,
 nor will your moon withdraw itself;
 for Yahweh will be your everlasting
 light,
 and the days of your mourning will
 end.
<sup>21</sup> Then your people will all be
 righteous.
 They will inherit the land forever,
 the branch of my planting,
 the work of my hands,
 that I may be glorified.
<sup>22</sup> The little one will become a thousand,
 and the small one a strong nation.
 I, Yahweh, will do this quickly in
 its time.”

61

<sup>1</sup> The Lord Yahweh’s Spirit is on me;

because Yahweh has anointed me
to preach good news to the humble.
He has sent me to bind up the broken
hearted,
to proclaim liberty to the captives,
and release to those who are bound;
<sup>2</sup> to proclaim the year of Yahweh's
favor,
and the day of vengeance of our
God;
to comfort all who mourn;
<sup>3</sup> to provide for those who mourn in Zion,
to give to them a garland for ashes,
the oil of joy for mourning,
the garment of praise for the spirit
of heaviness;
that they may be called trees of
righteousness,
the planting of Yahweh,
that he may be glorified.
<sup>4</sup> They will rebuild the old ruins.
They will raise up the places long devastated.
They will repair the ruined cities,
that have been devastated for many
generations.
<sup>5</sup> Strangers will stand and feed your flocks,
and foreigners will work your fields
and your vineyards.
<sup>6</sup> But you will be called Yahweh's
priests.
Men will call you the servants of
our God.
You will eat the wealth of the nations,
and you will boast in their glory.
<sup>7</sup> Instead of your shame you will have
double.

Instead of dishonor, they will rejoice in their portion.
Therefore in their land, they will possess
double.
Everlasting joy will be to them.
<sup>8</sup> "For I, Yahweh, love justice.
I hate robbery and iniquity.
I will give them their reward in truth,
and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.
<sup>9</sup> Their offspring<sup>n</sup> will be known among
the nations,
and their offspring among the
peoples.
All who see them will acknowledge
them,
that they are the offspring<sup>o</sup> which Yahweh has blessed."
<sup>10</sup> I will greatly rejoice in Yahweh!
My soul will be joyful in my God;
for he has clothed me with the garments
of salvation.
He has covered me with the robe of
righteousness,
as a bridegroom decks himself with
a garland,
and as a bride adorns herself with
her jewels.
<sup>11</sup> For as the earth produces its bud,
and as the garden causes the things that are sown in it to spring
up;
so the Lord Yahweh will cause righteousness and praise to spring up before all the nations.

62

<sup>1</sup> For Zion's sake will I not hold my
peace,

<sup>n</sup> or, seed    <sup>o</sup> or, seed

and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest,
 until her righteousness shines out like the dawn,
 and her salvation like a burning lamp.

<sup>2</sup> The nations will see your righteousness,
 and all kings your glory,
 and you will be called by a new name,
 which Yahweh's mouth will name.

<sup>3</sup> You will also be a crown of beauty in Yahweh's hand,
 and a royal diadem in your God's hand.

<sup>4</sup> You will not be called Forsaken any more;
 nor will your land be called Desolate any more:
 but you will be called Hephzibah,<sup>P</sup>
 and your land Beulah;<sup>q</sup>
 for Yahweh delights in you,
 and your land will be married.

<sup>5</sup> For as a young man marries a virgin,
 so your sons will marry you.
 As a bridegroom rejoices over his bride,
 so your God will rejoice over you.

<sup>6</sup> I have set watchmen on your walls,
 Jerusalem.
 They will never be silent day nor night.
 You who call on Yahweh, take no rest, <sup>7</sup> and give him no rest, until he establishes,
 and until he makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

<sup>8</sup> Yahweh has sworn by his right hand,
 and by the arm of his strength,
 "Surely I will no more give your grain to be food for your enemies;

and foreigners will not drink your new wine, for which you have labored;
<sup>9</sup> but those who have harvested it will eat it, and praise Yahweh;
 and those who have gathered it will drink it in the courts of my sanctuary."

<sup>10</sup> Go through, go through the gates!
 Prepare the way of the people!
 Build up, build up the highway!
 Gather out the stones!
 Lift up a banner for the peoples.

<sup>11</sup> Behold, Yahweh has proclaimed to the end of the earth,
 "Say to the daughter of Zion,
 'Behold, your salvation comes.
 Behold, his reward is with him,
 and his recompense before him.'"

<sup>12</sup> They will call them The holy people, Yahweh's redeemed.
 You will be called Sought out,
 A city not forsaken.

63

<sup>1</sup> Who is this who comes from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah?
 Who this who is glorious in his clothing,
 marching in the greatness of his strength?
 "It is I who speak in righteousness, mighty to save."

<sup>2</sup> Why is your clothing red,
 and your garments like him who treads in the wine vat?

<sup>3</sup> "I have trodden the wine press alone;
 and of the peoples, no one was with me:
 Yes, I trod them in my anger,
 and trampled them in my wrath.

<sup>P</sup> Hephzibah means "I delight in her". <sup>q</sup> Beulah means "married"

Their lifeblood is sprinkled on my garments,
 and I have stained all my clothing.
<sup>4</sup> For the day of vengeance was in my
     heart,
 and the year of my redeemed has
     come.
<sup>5</sup> I looked, and there was no one to help;
 and I wondered that there was no one to uphold:
     therefore my own arm brought salvation to me;
     and my own wrath upheld me.
<sup>6</sup> I trod down the peoples in my anger,
 and made them drunk in my wrath,
 and I poured out their lifeblood on
     the earth.”
<sup>7</sup> I will tell of the loving kindnesses of Yahweh
     and the praises of Yahweh,
     according to all that Yahweh has given to us,
 and the great goodness toward the house
     of Israel,
     which he has given to them
         according to his mercies,
     and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.
<sup>8</sup> For he said, “Surely, they are my
     people,
     children who will not deal falsely;”
     so he became their Savior.
<sup>9</sup> In all their affliction he was afflicted,
 and the angel of his presence saved
     them.
 In his love and in his pity he redeemed
     them.
     He bore them,
     and carried them all the days of old.
<sup>10</sup> But they rebelled,
     and grieved his holy Spirit.

Therefore he turned and became their
     enemy,
     and he himself fought against them.
<sup>11</sup> Then he remembered the days of old,
     Moses and his people, saying,
 “Where is he who brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds
     of his flock?
     Where is he who put his Holy Spirit
         among them?”
<sup>12</sup> Who caused his glorious arm to be at Moses’ right hand?
     Who divided the waters before them, to make himself an everlasting name?
<sup>13</sup> Who led them through the depths,
     like a horse in the wilderness,
     so that they didn’t stumble?
<sup>14</sup> As the livestock that go down into the valley,
     Yahweh’s Spirit caused them to
     rest.
     So you led your people, to make yourself a glorious name.
<sup>15</sup> Look down from heaven,
     and see from the habitation of your holiness and of your glory.
 Where are your zeal and your mighty acts?
     The yearning of your heart and your compassion is restrained
     toward me.
<sup>16</sup> For you are our Father,
     though Abraham doesn’t know us,
     and Israel does not acknowledge us.
 You, Yahweh, are our Father.
     Our Redeemer from everlasting is
     your name.
<sup>17</sup> O Yahweh, why do you make us wander from your ways,

and harden our heart from your
fear?
Return for your servants' sake,
the tribes of your inheritance.
<sup>18</sup> Your holy people possessed it but a little while.
Our adversaries have trodden down
your sanctuary.
<sup>19</sup> We have become like those over whom you never ruled,
like those who were not called by
your name.

64

<sup>1</sup> Oh that you would tear the heavens,
that you would come down,
that the mountains might quake at
your presence.
<sup>2</sup> As when fire kindles the brushwood,
and the fire causes the water to boil;
Make your name known to your
adversaries,
that the nations may tremble at your
presence!
<sup>3</sup> When you did awesome things which we didn't look for,
you came down, and the mountains
quaked at your presence.
<sup>4</sup> For from of old men have not heard,
nor perceived by the ear,
nor has the eye seen a God besides
you,
who works for him who waits for
him.
<sup>5</sup> You meet him who rejoices and does
righteousness,
those who remember you in your
ways.
Behold, you were angry, and we sinned.

We have been in sin for a long
time.
Shall we be saved?
<sup>6</sup> For we have all become like one who is unclean,
and all our righteousness is like a polluted garment.
We all fade like a leaf;
and our iniquities, like the wind,
take us away.
<sup>7</sup> There is no one who calls on your
name,
who stirs himself up to take hold of
you;
for you have hidden your face from us,
and have consumed us by means of our iniquities.
<sup>8</sup> But now, Yahweh, you are our Father.
We are the clay, and you our potter.
We all are the work of your hand.
<sup>9</sup> Don't be furious, Yahweh,
and don't remember iniquity
forever.
Look and see, we beg you,
we are all your people.
<sup>10</sup> Your holy cities have become a
wilderness.
Zion has become a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.
<sup>11</sup> Our holy and our beautiful house,
where our fathers praised
you,
is burned with fire;
and all our pleasant places are laid
waste.
<sup>12</sup> Will you hold yourself back for these things, Yahweh?
Will you keep silent, and punish us
very severely?

65

- <sup>1</sup> “I am inquired of by those who didn’t ask.
I am found by those who didn’t seek me.
I said, ‘See me, see me,’ to a nation that was not called by my name.
- <sup>2</sup> I have spread out my hands all day to a rebellious people,
who walk in a way that is not good,
after their own thoughts;
- <sup>3</sup> a people who provoke me to my face continually,
sacrificing in gardens,
and burning incense on bricks;
- <sup>4</sup> who sit among the graves,
and spend nights in secret places;
who eat pig’s flesh,
and broth of abominable things is in their vessels;
- <sup>5</sup> who say, ‘Stay by yourself,
don’t come near to me,
for I am holier than you.’
These are smoke in my nose,
a fire that burns all day.
- <sup>6</sup> “Behold, it is written before me:
I will not keep silence,
but will repay,
yes, I will repay into their bosom,
- <sup>7</sup> your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together”,
says Yahweh,
“who have burned incense on the mountains,
and blasphemed me on the hills.
Therefore I will first measure their work into their bosom.”
- <sup>8</sup> Yahweh says,
- “As the new wine is found in the cluster,
and one says, ‘Don’t destroy it, for a blessing is in it:’
so will I do for my servants’ sake,
that I may not destroy them all.
- <sup>9</sup> I will bring offspring<sup>f</sup> out of Jacob,
and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains.
My chosen will inherit it,
and my servants will dwell there.
- <sup>10</sup> Sharon will be a fold of flocks,
and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in,
for my people who have sought me.
- <sup>11</sup> “But you who forsake Yahweh,
who forget my holy mountain,
who prepare a table for Fortune,
and who fill up mixed wine to Destiny;
- <sup>12</sup> I will destine you to the sword,
and you will all bow down to the slaughter;
because when I called, you didn’t answer.
When I spoke, you didn’t listen;
but you did that which was evil in my eyes,
and chose that in which I didn’t delight.”
- <sup>13</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh, “Behold, my servants will eat,
but you will be hungry;
behold, my servants will drink,
but you will be thirsty.
Behold, my servants will rejoice,
but you will be disappointed;
- <sup>14</sup> Behold, my servants will sing for joy of heart,
but you will cry for sorrow of heart,
and will wail for anguish of spirit.

<sup>f</sup> or, seed

<sup>15</sup> You will leave your name for a curse
to my chosen;
and the Lord Yahweh will kill you.
He will call his servants by another
name,

<sup>16</sup> so that he who blesses himself in the earth will bless himself
in the God of truth;
and he who swears in the earth will
swear by the God of truth;
because the former troubles are
forgotten,
and because they are hidden from
my eyes.

<sup>17</sup> “For, behold, I create new heavens
and a new earth;
and the former things will not be remembered,
nor come into mind.

<sup>18</sup> But be glad and rejoice forever in that which I create;
for, behold, I create Jerusalem to be a delight,
and her people a joy.

<sup>19</sup> I will rejoice in Jerusalem,
and delight in my people;
and the voice of weeping and the voice
of crying
will be heard in her no more.

<sup>20</sup> “No more will there be an infant who only lives a few days,
nor an old man who has not filled
his days;
for the child will die one hundred years
old,
and the sinner being one hundred years old will be accursed.

<sup>21</sup> They will build houses, and inhabit
them.

They will plant vineyards, and eat
their fruit.

<sup>22</sup> They will not build, and another inhabit.

They will not plant, and another
eat:
for the days of my people will be like
the days of a tree,
and my chosen will long enjoy the work of their hands.

<sup>23</sup> They will not labor in vain,
nor give birth for calamity;
for they are the offspring<sup>s</sup> of Yahweh’s
blessed,
and their descendants with them.

<sup>24</sup> It will happen that, before they call, I will answer;
and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

<sup>25</sup> The wolf and the lamb will feed
together,
and the lion will eat straw like the
ox.
Dust will be the serpent’s food.
They will not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain,”
says Yahweh.

66

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh says, “Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool.
What kind of house will you build
to me?
Where will I rest?

<sup>2</sup> For my hand has made all these things,
and so all these things came to be,”
says Yahweh:
“but to this man will I look,

<sup>s</sup> or, seed

- even to he who is poor and of a contrite spirit,
and who trembles at my word.
- <sup>3</sup> He who kills an ox is as he who kills a
man;
he who sacrifices a lamb, as he who
breaks a dog's neck;
he who offers an offering, as he
who offers pig's blood;
he who burns frankincense, as he
who blesses an idol.
- Yes, they have chosen their own ways,
and their soul delights in their
abominations:
- <sup>4</sup> I also will choose their delusions,
and will bring their fears on them;
because when I called, no one answered;
when I spoke, they didn't listen;
but they did that which was evil in my
eyes,
and chose that in which I didn't
delight."
- <sup>5</sup> Hear Yahweh's word,
you who tremble at his word:
"Your brothers who hate you,
who cast you out for my name's
sake, have said,
'Let Yahweh be glorified,
that we may see your joy;'
but it is those who shall be
disappointed.
- <sup>6</sup> A voice of tumult from the city,
a voice from the temple,
a voice of Yahweh that repays his enemies what they deserve.
- <sup>7</sup> "Before she travailed, she gave birth.
Before her pain came, she delivered a son.
- <sup>8</sup> Who has heard of such a thing?
Who has seen such things?
Shall a land be born in one day?
- Shall a nation be born at once?
For as soon as Zion travailed,
she gave birth to her children.
- <sup>9</sup> Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to be delivered?" says
Yahweh.
"Shall I who cause to give birth shut the womb?" says your
God.
- <sup>10</sup> "Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad
for her, all you who love her.
Rejoice for joy with her, all you who mourn over her;
- <sup>11</sup> that you may nurse and be satisfied at
the comforting breasts;
that you may drink deeply,
and be delighted with the abundance of her glory."
- <sup>12</sup> For Yahweh says, "Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river,
and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream;
and you will nurse.
You will be carried on her side,
and will be dandled on her knees.
- <sup>13</sup> As one whom his mother comforts,
so will I comfort you.
You will be comforted in Jerusalem."
- <sup>14</sup> You will see it, and your heart shall
rejoice,
and your bones will flourish like the tender grass.
Yahweh's hand will be known among
his servants;
and he will have indignation against
his enemies.
- <sup>15</sup> For, behold, Yahweh will come with
fire,

and his chariots will be like the
whirlwind;
to render his anger with fierceness,
and his rebuke with flames of fire.

<sup>16</sup> For Yahweh will execute judgment by fire and by his sword on all
flesh;
and those slain by Yahweh will be
many.

<sup>17</sup> “Those who sanctify themselves and purify themselves to go to the gardens,
behind one in the middle, eating pig’s
flesh, abominable things, and the mouse,
they shall come to an end together,” says
Yahweh.

<sup>18</sup> “For I know their works and their thoughts. The time comes that I will gather all nations and languages, and they will come, and will see my glory.

<sup>19</sup> “I will set a sign among them, and I will send those who escape of them to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, who draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to far-away islands, who have not heard my fame,

nor have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the nations. <sup>20</sup>
They shall bring all your brothers out of all the nations for an offering to Yahweh, on horses, in chariots, in litters, on mules, and on camels, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, says Yahweh, as the children of Israel bring their offering in a clean vessel into Yahweh’s house. <sup>21</sup> Of them I will also select priests and Levites,” says Yahweh.

<sup>22</sup> “For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me,” says Yahweh, “so your offspring<sup>t</sup> and your name shall remain. <sup>23</sup> It shall happen that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another,
all flesh will come to worship before me,” says Yahweh. <sup>24</sup> “They will go out, and look at the dead bodies of the men who have transgressed against me; for their worm will not die, nor will their fire be quenched, and they will be loathsome to all mankind.”

The Book of

1

<sup>1</sup> The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, one of the priests who were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin. <sup>2</sup> Yahweh's word<sup>a</sup> came to him in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. <sup>3</sup> It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, to the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, the son of Josiah, king of Judah, to the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. <sup>4</sup> Now Yahweh's word came to me, saying,

<sup>5</sup> "Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you.

Before you were born, I sanctified you.

I have appointed you a prophet to the nations."

<sup>6</sup> Then I said, "Ah, Lord<sup>b</sup> Yahweh! Behold,<sup>c</sup> I don't know how to speak; for I am a child."

<sup>7</sup> But Yahweh said to me, "Don't say, 'I am a child;' for you must go to whomever I send you, and you must say whatever I command you. <sup>8</sup> Don't be afraid because of them, for I am with you to rescue you," says Yahweh.

<sup>9</sup> Then Yahweh stretched out his hand, and touched my mouth. Then Yahweh said to me, "Behold, I have put my words in your mouth. <sup>10</sup> Behold, I have today set you over the nations and over the kingdoms, to uproot and to tear down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant."

<sup>11</sup> Moreover Yahweh's word came to me, saying, "Jeremiah, what do you see?"

I said, "I see a branch of an almond tree."

<sup>12</sup> Then Yahweh said to me, "You have seen well; for I watch over my word to perform it."

<sup>13</sup> Yahweh's word came to me the second time, saying, "What do you see?"

I said, "I see a boiling cauldron; and it is tipping away from the north."

<sup>14</sup> Then Yahweh said to me, "Out of the north, evil will break out on all the inhabitants of the land. <sup>15</sup> For, behold, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north," says Yahweh.

"They will come, and they will each set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its walls all around, and against all the cities of Judah.

<sup>16</sup> I will utter my judgments against them concerning all their wickedness, in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense to other gods, and worshiped the works of their own hands.

<sup>17</sup> "You therefore put your belt on your waist, arise, and say to them all that I command you. Don't be dismayed at them, lest I dismay you before them. <sup>18</sup> For, behold, I have made you today a fortified city, an iron pillar, and bronze walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against its princes, against its priests, and against the people of the land.

<sup>19</sup> They will fight against you, but they will not prevail against you; for I am with you", says Yahweh, "to rescue you."

2

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh's word came to me, saying, <sup>2</sup> "Go, and proclaim in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, 'Yahweh says,

"I remember for you the kindness of your youth,
 the love of your weddings;
 how you went after me in the wilderness,
 in a land that was not sown.

<sup>3</sup> Israel was holiness to Yahweh, the first fruits of his increase. All who devour him shall be held guilty. Evil shall come on them,"" says Yahweh."

<sup>4</sup> Hear Yahweh's word, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel! <sup>5</sup> Yahweh says,

"What unrighteousness have your fathers found in me,
 that they have gone far from me,
 and have walked after worthless vanity,
 and have become worthless?

<sup>6</sup> They didn't say, 'Where is Yahweh who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, who led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits,
 through a land of drought and of the shadow of death,

through a land that no one passed through,
 and where no man lived?'

<sup>7</sup> I brought you into a plentiful land, to eat its fruit and its goodness; but when you entered, you defiled my land,
 and made my heritage an abomination.

 and those who handle the law didn't know me.

The rulers also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal,
 and followed things that do not profit.

<sup>9</sup> "Therefore I will yet contend with you," says Yahweh, "and I will contend with your children's children.

<sup>10</sup> For pass over to the islands of Kittim, and see;
 and send to Kedar, and consider diligently;
 and see if there has been such a thing.

<sup>11</sup> Has a nation changed its gods, which really are no gods?
 But my people have changed their glory for that which does not profit.

<sup>12</sup> "Be astonished, you heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid.
 Be very desolate," says Yahweh.

<sup>13</sup> "For my people have committed two evils:
 they have forsaken me, the spring of living waters,

- and cut them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no
water.
- <sup>14</sup> Is Israel a slave?
Is he born into slavery?
Why has he become a captive?
- <sup>15</sup> The young lions have roared at him,
and yelled.
They have made his land waste.
His cities are burned up, without
inhabitant.
- <sup>16</sup> The children also of Memphis
and Tahpanhes have broken
the crown of your head.
- <sup>17</sup> “Haven’t you brought this on
yourself,
in that you have forsaken Yahweh
your God,<sup>d</sup> when he led you
by the way?
- <sup>18</sup> Now what do you gain by going to Egypt, to drink the waters of the Shihor?
Or why do you to go on the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of the River?<sup>e</sup>
- <sup>19</sup> “Your own wickedness will correct
you,
and your backsliding will rebuke
you.
Know therefore and see that it is an evil
and bitter thing,
that you have forsaken Yahweh
your God,
and that my fear is not in you,” says
the Lord, Yahweh of Armies.
- <sup>20</sup> “For long ago I broke off your yoke,
and burst your bonds.
You said, ‘I will not serve;’
- for on every high hill and under every green tree you bowed
yourself,
playing the prostitute.
- <sup>21</sup> Yet I had planted you a noble vine, a pure and faithful seed.
How then have you turned into the degenerate branches of a foreign vine to me?
- <sup>22</sup> For though you wash yourself with lye,
and use much soap,
yet your iniquity is marked before me,” says the Lord Yahweh.
- <sup>23</sup> “How can you say, ‘I am not defiled.
I have not gone after the Baals’?
See your way in the valley.
Know what you have done.
You are a swift dromedary traversing
her ways;<sup>24</sup> a wild donkey used to the wilderness, that sniffs the wind in her craving.
When she is in heat, who can turn
her away?
All those who seek her will not weary themselves. In her month, they will find her.
- <sup>25</sup> “Keep your feet from being bare,
and your throat from thirst.
But you said, ‘It is in vain.
No, for I have loved strangers,
and I will go after them.’
- <sup>26</sup> As the thief is ashamed when he is found,
so is the house of Israel ashamed;
they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their
prophets;
- <sup>27</sup> who tell wood, ‘You are my father;’

<sup>d</sup> The Hebrew word rendered “God” is “אֱלֹהִים” (Elohim). <sup>e</sup> i. e., the Euphrates River and a stone, 'You have given birth

to me:'
for they have turned their back to me,
and not their face;
but in the time of their trouble they will say, 'Arise, and save
us.'

28 "But where are your gods that you have made for yourselves?
Let them arise, if they can save you
in the time of your trouble:
for you have as many gods as you have towns, O Judah.

29 "Why will you contend with me?
You all have transgressed against
me," says Yahweh.

30 "I have struck your children in vain.
They received no correction.
Your own sword has devoured your
prophets,
like a destroying lion.

31 Generation, consider Yahweh's word.
Have I been a wilderness to Israel?
Or a land of thick darkness?
Why do my people say, 'We have broken loose.
We will come to you no more?'

32 "Can a virgin forget her ornaments,
or a bride her attire?
Yet my people have forgotten me
for days without number.

33 How well you prepare your way to seek love!
Therefore you have even taught the wicked women your ways.

34 Also the blood of the souls of the innocent poor is found in your skirts.
You did not find them breaking in;
but it is because of all these things.

35 "Yet you said, 'I am innocent.

Surely his anger has turned away
from me.'

"Behold, I will judge you,

because you say, 'I have not
sinned.'

36 Why do you go about so much to change your ways?

You will be ashamed of Egypt also,
as you were ashamed of Assyria.

37 You will also leave that place with your hands on your head;
for Yahweh has rejected those in whom you trust,
and you won't prosper with them.

3

<sup>1</sup> "They say, 'If a man puts away his wife,
and she goes from him, and becomes another man's, should he return to her again?' Wouldn't that land be greatly polluted? But you have played the prostitute with many lovers; yet return
again to me," says Yahweh.

<sup>2</sup> "Lift up your eyes to the bare heights, and see! Where have you not been lain with? You have sat waiting for them by the road, as an Arabian in the wilderness. You have polluted the land with your prostitution and with your wickedness. <sup>3</sup>
Therefore the showers have been withheld,
and there has been no latter rain; yet you have a prostitute's forehead. You refused to be ashamed. <sup>4</sup> Will you not from this time
cry to me, 'My Father, you are the guide of my youth?'

<sup>5</sup> "'Will he retain his anger forever? Will he keep it to the end?' Behold, you have spoken and have done evil things, and have had your way."

<sup>6</sup> Moreover, Yahweh said to me in the days of Josiah the king, "Have you seen that which backsliding Israel has done? She has gone up on every high mountain and under every green tree, and has played the prostitute there. <sup>7</sup> I said after she had done all these things, ‘She will return to me;’ but she didn’t return; and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. <sup>8</sup> I saw when, for this very cause, that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorce, yet treacherous Judah, her sister, had no fear; but she also went and played the prostitute. <sup>9</sup> Because she took her prostitution lightly, the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with wood. <sup>10</sup> Yet for all this her treacherous sister, Judah, has not returned to me with her whole heart, but only in pretense,” says Yahweh.

<sup>11</sup> Yahweh said to me, “Backsliding Israel has shown herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. <sup>12</sup> Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, ‘Return, you backsliding Israel,’ says Yahweh; ‘I will not look in anger on you; for I am merciful,’ says Yahweh. ‘I will not keep anger forever. <sup>13</sup> Only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against Yahweh your God, and have scattered your ways to the strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed my voice,’ says Yahweh.” <sup>14</sup> “Return, backsliding children,” says Yahweh; “for I am a husband to you. I will take one of you from a city, and two from a family, and I will bring you to Zion. <sup>15</sup> I will give you shepherds according to my heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding. <sup>16</sup> It will come to pass, when you are multiplied and increased in the land, in those days,” says Yahweh,

“they will no longer say, ‘the ark of Yahweh’s covenant!’ It will not come to mind. They won’t remember it. They won’t miss it, nor will another be made. <sup>17</sup> At that time they will call Jerusalem ‘Yahweh’s Throne;’ and all the nations will be gathered to it, to Yahweh’s name, to Jerusalem. They will no longer walk after the stubbornness of their evil heart. <sup>18</sup> In those days the house of Judah will walk with the house of Israel, and they will come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance to your fathers.

<sup>19</sup> “But I said, ‘How I desire to put you among the children, and give you a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the armies of the nations!’ and I said, ‘You shall call me “My Father”, and shall not turn away from following me.’

<sup>20</sup> “Surely as a wife treacherously departs from her husband, so you have dealt treacherously with me, house of Israel,” says Yahweh. <sup>21</sup> A voice is heard on the bare heights, the weeping and the petitions of the children of Israel; because they have perverted their way, they have forgotten Yahweh their God. <sup>22</sup> Return, you backsliding children, and I will heal your backsliding.

“Behold, we have come to you; for you are Yahweh our God. <sup>23</sup> Truly in vain is help from the hills, the tumult on the mountains. Truly the salvation of Israel is in Yahweh our God. <sup>24</sup> But the shameful thing has devoured the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. <sup>25</sup> Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us; for we have sinned against Yahweh our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day. We have not obeyed Yahweh our God's voice."

4

<sup>1</sup> "If you will return, Israel," says Yahweh, "if you will return to me, and if you will put away your abominations out of my sight; then you shall not be removed; <sup>2</sup> and you shall swear, 'As Yahweh lives,' in truth, in justice, and in righteousness. The nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory."

<sup>3</sup> For Yahweh says to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, "Break up your fallow ground, and don't sow among thorns. <sup>4</sup> Circumcise yourselves to Yahweh, and take away the foreskins of your heart, you men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem; lest my wrath go out like fire, and burn so that no one can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. <sup>5</sup> Declare in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, 'Blow the trumpet in the land!' Cry aloud and say, 'Assemble yourselves! Let us go into the fortified cities!' <sup>6</sup> Set up a standard toward Zion. Flee for safety! Don't wait; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction."

<sup>7</sup> A lion has gone up from his thicket, and a destroyer of nations; he is on his way, he has gone out from his place, to make your land desolate, that your cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. <sup>8</sup> For this clothe yourself with sackcloth, lament and wail; for the fierce anger of Yahweh hasn't turned back from us. <sup>9</sup> "It shall happen at that day," says Yahweh, "that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder."

<sup>10</sup> Then I said, "Ah, Lord Yahweh! Surely you have greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, 'You shall have peace;' whereas the sword reaches to the heart."

<sup>11</sup> At that time it will be said to this people and to Jerusalem, "A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to winnow, nor to cleanse; <sup>12</sup> a full wind from these shall come for me. Now I will also utter judgments against them."

<sup>13</sup> Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as the whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us! For we are ruined. <sup>14</sup> Jerusalem, wash your heart from wickedness, that you may be saved. How long shall your evil thoughts lodge within you? <sup>15</sup> For a voice declares from Dan, and publishes evil from the hills of Ephraim: <sup>16</sup> "Tell the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, 'Watchers come from a far country, and raise their voice against the cities of Judah. <sup>17</sup> As keepers of a field, they are against her all around, because she has been rebellious against me,'" says Yahweh. <sup>18</sup> "Your way and your doings have brought these things to you. This is your wickedness; for it is bitter, for it reaches to your heart."

<sup>19</sup> My anguish, my anguish! I am pained at my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I can't hold my peace; because you have heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. <sup>20</sup> Destruction on destruction is cried; for the whole land is laid waste: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtains in a moment. <sup>21</sup>

How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

<sup>22</sup> “For my people are foolish, they don’t know me. They are foolish children, and they have no understanding. They are skillful in doing evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.” <sup>23</sup> I saw the earth, and, behold, it was waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light. <sup>24</sup> I saw the mountains, and behold, they trembled, and all the hills moved back and forth. <sup>25</sup> I saw, and behold, there was no man, and all the birds of the sky had fled. <sup>26</sup> I saw, and behold, the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all its cities were broken down at the presence of Yahweh, before his fierce anger. <sup>27</sup> For Yahweh says, “The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. <sup>28</sup> For this the earth will mourn, and the heavens above be black; because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it.”

<sup>29</sup> Every city flees for the noise of the horsemen and archers; they go into the thickets, and climb up on the rocks: every city is forsaken, and not a man dwells therein. <sup>30</sup> You, when you are made desolate, what will you do? Though you clothe yourself with scarlet, though you deck yourself with ornaments of gold, though you enlarge your eyes with makeup, you make yourself beautiful in vain. Your lovers despise you. They seek your life. <sup>31</sup> For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her who gives birth to her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, who gasps for breath, who spreads her hands, saying, “Woe is me now! For my soul faints before the murderers.”

5

<sup>1</sup> “Run back and forth through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in its wide places, if you can find a man, if there are any who does justly, who seeks truth; and I will pardon her. <sup>2</sup> Though they say, ‘As Yahweh lives;’ surely they swear falsely.”

<sup>3</sup> O Yahweh, don’t your eyes look on truth? You have stricken them, but they were not grieved. You have consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction. They have made their faces harder than a rock. They have refused to return.

<sup>4</sup> Then I said, “Surely these are poor. They are foolish; for they don’t know the way of Yahweh, nor the law of their God. <sup>5</sup> I will go to the great men, and will speak to them; for they know the way of Yahweh, and the law of their God.” But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bonds. <sup>6</sup> Therefore a lion out of the forest shall kill them, a wolf of the evenings shall destroy them, a leopard shall watch against their cities; everyone who goes out there shall be torn in pieces; because their transgressions are many, and their backsliding is increased.

<sup>7</sup> “How can I pardon you? Your children have forsaken me, and sworn by what are no gods. When I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the prostitutes’ houses. <sup>8</sup> They were as fed horses roaming at large: everyone neighed after his neighbor’s wife. <sup>9</sup> Shouldn’t I punish them for these things?” says Yahweh; “and shouldn’t my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?”

<sup>10</sup> “Go up on her walls, and destroy; but don’t make a full end. Take away her branches; for they are not Yahweh’s. <sup>11</sup> For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me,” says Yahweh.

<sup>12</sup> They have denied Yahweh, and said, “It is not he; neither shall evil come on us; neither shall we see sword nor famine. <sup>13</sup> The prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them. Thus shall it be done to them.”

<sup>14</sup> Therefore Yahweh, the God of Armies says, “Because you speak this word, behold, I will make my words in your mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. <sup>15</sup> Behold, I will bring a nation on you from far, house of Israel,” says Yahweh. “It is a mighty nation. It is an ancient nation, a nation whose language you don’t know, neither understand what they say. <sup>16</sup> Their quiver is an open tomb, they are all mighty men. <sup>17</sup> They shall eat up your harvest, and your bread, which your sons and your daughters should eat. They shall eat up your flocks and your herds. They shall eat up your vines and your fig trees. They shall beat down your fortified cities, in which you trust, with the sword.

<sup>18</sup> “But even in those days,” says Yahweh, “I will not make a full end with you. <sup>19</sup> It will happen, when you say, ‘Why has Yahweh our God done all these things to us?’ Then you shall say to them, ‘Just like you have forsaken me, and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’

now this, foolish people, and without understanding; who have eyes, and don’t see; who have ears, and don’t hear: <sup>22</sup> Don’t you fear me?’ says Yahweh ‘Won’t you tremble at my presence, who have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree, that it can’t pass it? and though its waves toss themselves, yet they can’t prevail; though they roar, yet they can’t pass over it.’

<sup>23</sup> “But this people has a revolting and a rebellious heart; they have revolted and gone. <sup>24</sup> Neither do they say in their heart, ‘Let us now fear Yahweh our God, who gives rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; who preserves to us the appointed weeks of the harvest.’

<sup>25</sup> “Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good from you. <sup>26</sup> For among my people are found wicked men. They watch, as fowlers lie in wait. They set a trap. They catch men. <sup>27</sup> As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit. Therefore they have become great, and grew rich. <sup>28</sup> They have grown fat. They shine; yes, they excel in deeds of wickedness. They don’t plead the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they may prosper; and they don’t judge the right of the needy.

<sup>29</sup> “Shall I not punish for these things?” says Yahweh. “Shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?”

<sup>30</sup> “An astonishing and horrible thing has happened in the land. <sup>31</sup> The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule by their own authority; and my people love to have it so. What will you do in the end of it?”

6

<sup>4</sup> “Prepare war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe to us! For the day declines, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out. <sup>5</sup> Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces.” <sup>6</sup> For Yahweh of Armies said, “Cut down trees, and cast up a mound against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression within her. <sup>7</sup> As a well produces its waters, so she produces her wickedness: violence and destruction is heard in her; before me continually is sickness and wounds. <sup>8</sup> Be instructed, Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from you; lest I make you a desolation, a land not inhabited.”

<sup>10</sup> To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they can't listen. Behold, Yahweh's word has become a reproach to them. They have no delight in it. <sup>11</sup> Therefore I am full of Yahweh's wrath. I am weary with holding in.

“Pour it out on the children in the street,

and on the assembly of young men together;

for even the husband with the wife shall be taken,
the aged with him who is full of days.

<sup>12</sup> Their houses shall be turned to others, their fields and their wives together; for I will stretch out my hand on the inhabitants of the land, says Yahweh.”

<sup>13</sup> “For from their least even to their greatest, everyone is given to covetousness;
and from the prophet even to the priest, everyone deals falsely.

<sup>14</sup> They have healed also the hurt of my people superficially, saying, ‘Peace, peace!’ when there is no peace.

<sup>15</sup> Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush.
Therefore they shall fall among those who fall;
at the time that I visit them, they shall be cast down,” says Yahweh.

<sup>16</sup> Yahweh says, “Stand in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, ‘Where is the good way?’ and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls. But they said, ‘We will not walk in it.’ <sup>17</sup> I set watchmen over you, saying, ‘Listen to the sound of the trumpet!’ But they said, ‘We will not listen!’ <sup>18</sup> Therefore hear, you nations, and know, congregation, what is among them. <sup>19</sup> Hear, earth! Behold, I will bring evil on this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not listened to my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it.<sup>20</sup> To what purpose comes there to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing to me.”

<sup>24</sup> We have heard its report; our hands become feeble: anguish has taken hold of us, and pains as of a woman in labor. <sup>25</sup> Don’t go out into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and terror, are on every side. <sup>26</sup> Daughter of my people, clothe yourself with sackcloth, and wallow in ashes! Mourn, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the destroyer shall suddenly come on us.

<sup>27</sup> “I have made you a tester of metals and a fortress among my people; that you may know and try their way. <sup>28</sup> They are all grievous rebels, going about with slanders; they are brass and iron: they all of them deal corruptly. <sup>29</sup> The bellows blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. <sup>30</sup> Men will call them rejected silver, because Yahweh has rejected them.”

7

<sup>1</sup> The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh, saying, <sup>2</sup> “Stand in the gate of Yahweh’s house, and proclaim there this word, and say, ‘Hear Yahweh’s word, all you of Judah, who enter in at these gates to worship Yahweh.’”

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel says, “Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. <sup>4</sup> Don’t trust in lying words, saying, ‘Yahweh’s temple, Yahweh’s temple, Yahweh’s temple, are these.’ <sup>5</sup> For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if you thoroughly execute justice between a man and his neighbor; <sup>6</sup> if you don’t oppress the foreigner, the fatherless, and the widow, and don’t shed innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: <sup>7</sup> then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even forever more. <sup>8</sup> Behold, you trust in lying words, that can’t profit. <sup>9</sup> Will you steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods that you have not known, <sup>10</sup> and come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, ‘We are delivered;’ that you may do all these abominations? <sup>11</sup> Has this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it,” says Yahweh.

<sup>12</sup> “But go now to my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. <sup>13</sup> Now, because you have done all these works,” says Yahweh, “and I spoke to you, rising up early and speaking, but you didn’t hear; and I called you, but you didn’t answer: <sup>14</sup> therefore will I do to the house which is called by my name, in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I did to Shiloh. <sup>15</sup> I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brothers, even the whole offspring<sup>f</sup> of Ephraim.

<sup>16</sup> “Therefore don’t pray for this people, neither lift up a cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me; for I will not hear you. <sup>17</sup> Don’t you see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? <sup>18</sup> The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of the sky, and to pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. <sup>19</sup> Do they provoke me to anger? says Yahweh. “Don’t they provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces?”

<sup>20</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord Yahweh: “Behold, my anger and my wrath shall be poured out on this place, on man, and on animal, and on the trees of the field, and on the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.”

<sup>21</sup> Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel says: “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat meat. <sup>22</sup> For I didn’t speak to your fathers, nor command them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices: <sup>23</sup> but this thing I commanded them, saying, ‘Listen to my voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be my people; and walk in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you.’ <sup>24</sup> But they didn’t listen nor turn their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward. <sup>25</sup> Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have sent to you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them: <sup>26</sup> yet they didn’t listen to me, nor did they incline their ear, but made their neck stiff. They did worse than their fathers.

<sup>27</sup> “You shall speak all these words to them; but they will not listen to you: you shall also call to them; but they will not answer you. <sup>28</sup> You shall tell them, ‘This is the nation that has not listened to Yahweh their God’s voice, nor received instruction. Truth has perished, and is cut off from their mouth.’ <sup>29</sup> Cut off your hair, and throw it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for Yahweh has rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

<sup>30</sup> “For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight,” says Yahweh. “They have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. <sup>31</sup> They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I didn’t command, nor did it come into my mind. <sup>32</sup> Therefore behold, the days come”, says Yahweh, “that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter; for they shall bury in Topheth, until there is no place to bury. <sup>33</sup> The dead bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the sky, and for the animals of the earth; and no one shall frighten them away. <sup>34</sup> Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride; for the land shall become a waste.”

8

<sup>1</sup> “At that time,” says Yahweh, “they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves; <sup>2</sup> and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the army of the sky, which they have loved, and which they have served, and after which they have walked, and which they have sought, and which they have worshiped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, they shall be for dung on the surface of the earth. <sup>3</sup> Death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, that remain in all the places where I have driven them,” says Yahweh of Armies. <sup>4</sup> “Moreover you shall tell them, ‘Yahweh says:

“‘Shall men fall, and not rise up again?
Shall one turn away, and not
return?

<sup>5</sup> Why then have the people of Jerusalem fallen back by a perpetual backsliding?
They cling to deceit, they refuse to
return.

<sup>6</sup> I listened and heard, but they didn’t say what is right.

No one repents of his wickedness,
saying, “What have I done?”
Everyone turns to his course,
as a horse that rushes headlong in the battle.

<sup>7</sup> Yes, the stork in the sky knows her appointed times;
and the turtledove, the swallow, and
the crane observe the time of their coming;
but my people don’t know
Yahweh’s law.

<sup>8</sup> “How do you say, “We are wise, and Yahweh’s law is with us?”
But, behold, the false pen of the scribes has worked falsely.

<sup>9</sup> The wise men are disappointed.
They are dismayed and trapped.
Behold, they have rejected Yahweh’s
word.

What kind of wisdom is in them?
<sup>10</sup> Therefore will I give their wives to
others,
and their fields to those who shall possess them.
For everyone from the least even to the greatest is given to covetousness;
from the prophet even to the priest
everyone deals falsely.

<sup>11</sup> They have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people
slightly, saying,
“Peace, peace,” when there is no
peace.

<sup>12</sup> Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination?
No, they were not at all ashamed,
neither could they blush:
therefore they shall fall among those who fall;

- in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, says
Yahweh.
- 13 “I will utterly consume them, says
Yahweh:
no grapes shall be on the vine,
nor figs on the fig tree,
and the leaf shall fade;
and the things that I have given them
shall pass away from them.”
- 14 “Why do we sit still?
Assemble yourselves,
and let us enter into the fortified
cities,
and let us be silent there;
for Yahweh our God has put us to
silence,
and given us water of gall to drink,
because we have sinned against
Yahweh.
- 15 We looked for peace, but no good
came;
and for a time of healing, and
behold, dismay!
- 16 The snorting of his horses is heard
from Dan:
at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land
trembles;
for they have come, and have devoured
the land and all that is in it;
the city and those who dwell
therein.”
- 17 “For, behold, I will send serpents,
adders among you,
which will not be charmed;
and they shall bite you,” says
Yahweh.
- 18 Oh that I could comfort myself
against sorrow!
My heart is faint within me.

- 19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off: “Isn’t Yahweh in Zion?
Isn’t her King in her?”
“Why have they provoked me to anger
with their engraved images,
and with foreign vanities?”
- 20 “The harvest is past,
the summer is ended,
and we are not saved.”
- 21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt:
I mourn; dismay has taken hold on
me.
- 22 Is there no balm in Gilead?
is there no physician there?
Why then isn’t the health of the daughter of my people
recovered?

9

- 1 Oh that my head were waters,
and my eyes a spring of tears,
that I might weep day and night
for the slain of the daughter of my
people!
- 2 Oh that I had in the wilderness
a lodging place of wayfaring men;
that I might leave my people,
and go from them!
For they are all adulterers,
an assembly of treacherous men.
- 3 “They bend their tongue,
as their bow, for falsehood;
and they have grown strong in the land,
but not for truth:
for they proceed from evil to evil,
and they don’t know me,” says
Yahweh.
- 4 “Everyone beware of his neighbor,

and don't trust in any brother;
 for every brother will utterly supplant,
 and every neighbor will go about
 with slanders.

<sup>5</sup> Everyone will deceive their neighbors,
 and will not speak the truth.
 They have taught their tongue to speak
 lies.
 They weary themselves committing
 iniquity.

<sup>6</sup> Your habitation is in the middle of
 deceit;
 through deceit they refuse to know
 me," says Yahweh.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore Yahweh of Armies says,
 "Behold, I will melt them, and try them;
 for how should I deal with the
 daughter of my people?"

<sup>8</sup> Their tongue is a deadly arrow.
 It speaks deceit.
 One speaks peaceably to his neighbor
 with his mouth,
 but in his heart, he lays wait for
 him.

<sup>9</sup> Shall I not punish them for these things?" says Yahweh.
 "Shouldn't my soul be avenged on a nation such as this?"

<sup>10</sup> I will weep and wail for the
 mountains,
 and lament for the pastures of the
 wilderness,
 because they are burned up, so that no
 one passes through;
 neither can men hear the voice of the livestock.
 Both the birds of the sky and the animals
 have fled.
 They are gone.

<sup>11</sup> "I will make Jerusalem heaps,
 a dwelling place of jackals.

I will make the cities of Judah a
 desolation,
 without inhabitant."

<sup>12</sup> Who is wise enough to understand this? Who is he to whom the mouth of Yahweh has spoken, that he may declare it?
 Why is the land perished and burned up like a wilderness, so that no one passes
 through?

<sup>13</sup> Yahweh says, "Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them,
 and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein, <sup>14</sup> but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baals, which their fathers taught them."

<sup>15</sup> therefore Yahweh of Armies, the God of Israel, says, "Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink. <sup>16</sup> I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them."

<sup>17</sup> Yahweh of Armies says,
 "Consider, and call for the mourning
 women, that they may come;
 and send for the skillful women,
 that they may come.

<sup>18</sup> Let them make haste,
 and take up a wailing for us,
 that our eyes may run down with tears,
 and our eyelids gush out with
 waters.

<sup>19</sup> For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion,
 'How are we ruined!
 We are greatly confounded,
 because we have forsaken the land,
 because they have cast down our dwellings.'"

<sup>20</sup> Yet hear Yahweh's word, you
 women,
 and let your ear receive the word of
 his mouth.
 Teach your daughters wailing,
 and everyone her neighbor
 lamentation.
<sup>21</sup> For death has come up into our windows.
 It has entered into our palaces;
 to cut off the children from outside,
 and the young men from the streets.
<sup>22</sup> Speak, "Yahweh says,
 "The dead bodies of men will fall as dung on the open field,
 and as the handful after the harvester;
 and no one will gather them."
<sup>23</sup> Yahweh says,
 "Don't let the wise man glory in his
 wisdom,
 neither let the mighty man glory in his might.
 Don't let the rich man glory in his
 riches.
<sup>24</sup> But let him who glories glory in this,
 that he has understanding, and knows me,
 that I am Yahweh who exercises loving kindness, justice, and righteousness, in the earth:
 for in these things I delight," says
 Yahweh.
<sup>25</sup> "Behold, the days come," says Yahweh, "that I will punish all those who are circumcised only in their flesh: <sup>26</sup> Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair cut off, who dwell in the wilderness; for all the nations

are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart."

10

<sup>1</sup> Hear the word which Yahweh speaks to you, house of Israel! <sup>2</sup> Yahweh says,
 "Don't learn the way of the nations,
 and don't be dismayed at the signs
 of the sky;
 for the nations are dismayed at
 them.
<sup>3</sup> For the customs of the peoples are
 vanity;
 for one cuts a tree out of the forest,
 the work of the hands of the workman with the ax.
<sup>4</sup> They deck it with silver and with gold;
 they fasten it with nails and with
 hammers,
 that it not move.
<sup>5</sup> They are like a palm tree, of turned
 work,
 and don't speak:
 they must be carried,
 because they can't move.
 Don't be afraid of them;
 for they can't do evil,
 neither is it in them to do good."
<sup>6</sup> There is no one like you, Yahweh.
 you are great,
 and your name is great in might.
<sup>7</sup> Who should not fear you,
 King of the nations?
 For it belongs to you.
 Because among all the wise men of the
 nations,
 and in all their royal estate,
 there is no one like you.
<sup>8</sup> But they are together brutish and
 foolish,
 instructed by idols!

It is just wood.
<sup>9</sup> There is silver beaten into plates, which is brought from Tarshish,
 and gold from Uphaz,
 the work of the artificer and of the hands of the goldsmith;
 Blue and purple are their clothing;
 they are all the work of skillful
 men.
<sup>10</sup> But Yahweh is the true God;
 he is the living God,
 and an everlasting King. \q1At his wrath, the earth trembles,
 and the nations are not able to withstand his indignation.
<sup>11</sup> “You shall say this to them: ‘The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens.’” <sup>12</sup> He has made the earth by his power.
 he has established the world by his
 wisdom,
 and by his understanding has he stretched out the heavens.
<sup>13</sup> when he utters his voice,
 there is a tumult of waters in the
 heavens,
 and he causes the vapors to ascend
 from the ends of the earth.
 He makes lightnings for the rain,
 and brings the wind out of his
 treasuries.
<sup>14</sup> Every man has become brutish and without knowledge;
 every goldsmith is disappointed by
 his engraved image;
 for his molten image is falsehood,
 and there is no breath in them.
<sup>15</sup> They are vanity, a work of delusion.

In the time of their visitation they
 will perish.
<sup>16</sup> The portion of Jacob is not like these;
 for he is the former of all things;
 and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance:
 Yahweh of Armies is his name.
<sup>17</sup> Gather up your wares out of the land,
 you who live under siege.
<sup>18</sup> For Yahweh says, “Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this
 time,
 and will distress them, that they may feel it.”
<sup>19</sup> Woe is me because of my injury!
 My wound is serious:
 but I said, “Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it.”
<sup>20</sup> My tent is destroyed,
 and all my cords are broken.
 My children have gone away from me,
 and they are no more.
 There is no one to spread my tent
 any more,
 and to set up my curtains.
<sup>21</sup> For the shepherds have become brutish,
 and have not inquired of Yahweh.
 Therefore they have not prospered,
 and all their flocks are scattered.
<sup>22</sup> The voice of news, behold, it comes,
 and a great commotion out of the north country,
 to make the cities of Judah a desolation,
 a dwelling place of jackals.
<sup>23</sup> Yahweh, I know that the way of man
 is not in himself:
 it is not in man who walks to direct
 his steps.
<sup>24</sup> Yahweh, correct me, but in measure:

not in your anger,
lest you bring me to nothing.
<sup>25</sup> Pour out your wrath on the nations
that don't know you,
and on the families that don't call
on your name:
for they have devoured Jacob.
Yes, they have devoured him and consumed him,
and have laid waste his habitation.

11

<sup>1</sup> The word that came to Jeremiah from Yahweh, saying, <sup>2</sup> "Hear the words of this covenant, and speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; <sup>3</sup> and say to them, Yahweh, the God of Israel says: 'Cursed is the man who doesn't hear the words of this covenant, <sup>4</sup> which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace,' saying, 'Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so you shall be my people, and I will be your God; <sup>5</sup> that I may establish the oath which I swore to your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey,' as it is today."

Then answered I, and said, "Amen, Yahweh."

<sup>6</sup> Yahweh said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, 'Hear the words of this covenant, and do them. <sup>7</sup> For I earnestly protested to your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, rising early and protesting, saying, "Obey my voice."<sup>8</sup> Yet they didn't obey, nor turn their ear, but walked everyone in the stubbornness of their evil heart: therefore I brought on them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they didn't do them."

<sup>9</sup> Yahweh said to me, "A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup> They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. <sup>11</sup> Therefore Yahweh says, 'Behold, I will bring evil on them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry to me, but I will not listen to them. <sup>12</sup> Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry to the gods to which they offer incense: but they will not save them at all in the time of their trouble. <sup>13</sup> For according to the number of your cities are your gods, Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have you set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense to Baal.'

<sup>14</sup> "Therefore don't pray for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them; for I will not hear them in the time that they cry to me because of their trouble.

<sup>15</sup> What has my beloved to do in my house,
since she has worked lewdness with many,
and the holy flesh is passed from you?

When you do evil,
then you rejoice."

<sup>16</sup> Yahweh called your name, "A green olive tree, beautiful with goodly fruit."

With the noise of a great tumult he has kindled fire on it,
and its branches are broken.

<sup>17</sup> For Yahweh of Armies, who planted
you, has pronounced evil against you,
because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have worked for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense to Baal.

<sup>18</sup> Yahweh gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then you showed me their doings. <sup>19</sup> But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I didn't know that they had devised devices against me,
saying,

“Let us destroy the tree with its fruit,
and let us cut him off from the land
of the living,
that his name may be no more
remembered.”

<sup>20</sup> But, Yahweh of Armies, who judges
righteously,
who tests the heart and the mind,
I shall see your vengeance on them;
for to you have I revealed my
cause.

<sup>21</sup> “Therefore Yahweh says concerning the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, saying, ‘You shall not prophesy in Yahweh’s name, that you not die by our hand;’ <sup>22</sup> therefore Yahweh of Armies says, ‘Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; <sup>23</sup> and there shall be no remnant to them: for I will bring evil on the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.’”

12

<sup>1</sup> You are righteous, Yahweh,
when I contend with you;

yet I would reason the cause with you:
why does the way of the wicked
prosper?

why are all they at ease who deal
very treacherously?

<sup>2</sup> You have planted them, yes, they have taken root;
they grow, yes, they produce fruit.
You are near in their mouth,
and far from their heart.

<sup>3</sup> But you, Yahweh, know me;
you see me, and try my heart
toward you.

Pull them out like sheep for the
slaughter,
and prepare them for the day of
slaughter.

<sup>4</sup> How long shall the land mourn,
and the herbs of the whole country
wither?

For the wickedness of those who dwell
therein,
the animals are consumed, and the birds;

because they said,
“He shall not see our latter end.”

<sup>5</sup> “If you have run with the footmen,
and they have wearied you,
then how can you contend with
horses?

Though in a land of peace you are secure,
yet how will you do in the pride of the Jordan?

<sup>6</sup> For even your brothers, and the house
of your father,
even they have dealt treacherously
with you;
even they have cried aloud after
you!

Don't believe them,

though they speak beautiful words
to you.

<sup>7</sup> “I have forsaken my house.
I have cast off my heritage.
I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her
enemies.

<sup>8</sup> My heritage has become to me as a lion in the forest.
She has uttered her voice against
me;
therefore I have hated her.

<sup>9</sup> Is my heritage to me as a speckled bird of prey?
Are the birds of prey against her all around?

Go, assemble all the animals of the field,
bring them to devour.

<sup>10</sup> Many shepherds have destroyed my
vineyard.
They have trodden my portion
under foot.
They have made my pleasant portion a desolate
wilderness.

<sup>11</sup> They have made it a desolation.
It mourns to me, being desolate.
The whole land is made desolate,
because no man lays it to heart.

<sup>12</sup> Destroyers have come on all the bare heights in the wilderness;
for the sword of Yahweh devours
from the one end of the land even to the other end of the
land.

No flesh has peace.

<sup>13</sup> They have sown wheat,
and have reaped thorns.
They have put themselves to pain,
and profit nothing.
You shall be ashamed of your fruits,

because of the fierce anger of
Yahweh.”

<sup>14</sup> Yahweh says, “Concerning all my evil neighbors, who touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit:
behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. <sup>15</sup> It shall happen, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. <sup>16</sup> It shall happen, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, ‘As Yahweh lives;’ even as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the middle of my people. <sup>17</sup> But if they will not hear, then I will pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it,” says Yahweh.

13

<sup>1</sup> Yahweh says to me, “Go, and buy yourself a linen belt, and put it on your waist, and don’t put it in water.”

<sup>2</sup> So I bought a belt according to Yahweh’s word, and put it on my waist.

<sup>3</sup> Yahweh’s word came to me the second time, saying, <sup>4</sup> “Take the belt that you have bought, which is on your waist, and arise, go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a cleft of the rock.”

<sup>5</sup> So I went, and hid it by the Euphrates,
as Yahweh commanded me.

<sup>6</sup> After many days, Yahweh said to me, “Arise, go to the Euphrates, and take the belt from there, which I commanded you to hide there.”

<sup>7</sup> Then I went to the Euphrates, and dug,
and took the belt from the place where I had hidden it; and behold, the belt was ruined. It was profitable for nothing.

<sup>8</sup> Then Yahweh's word came to me, saying, <sup>9</sup> "Yahweh says, 'In this way I, will ruin the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem. <sup>10</sup> This evil people, who refuse to hear my words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this belt, which is profitable for nothing. <sup>11</sup> For as the belt clings to the waist of a man, so have I caused to cling to me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah,' says Yahweh; 'that they may be to me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.'

<sup>12</sup> "Therefore you shall speak to them this word: 'Yahweh, the God of Israel says, "Every bottle shall be filled with wine.'" They will tell you, 'Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?' <sup>13</sup> Then tell them, 'Yahweh says, "Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings who sit on David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness. <sup>14</sup> I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together," says Yahweh: "I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them.'"

Don't be proud;
for Yahweh has spoken.

<sup>16</sup> Give glory to Yahweh your God,
before he causes darkness,
and before your feet stumble on the dark mountains,
and, while you look for light,

he turns it into the shadow of death,
and makes it gross darkness.

<sup>17</sup> But if you will not hear it,
my soul shall weep in secret for
your pride;
and my eye shall weep bitterly,
and run down with tears,
because Yahweh's flock is taken
captive.

<sup>18</sup> Say to the king and to the queen
mother,
"Humble yourselves, sit down;
for your headdresses have come down,
even the crown of your glory.

<sup>19</sup> The cities of the South are shut up,
and there is no one to open them.
Judah is carried away captive, all of it;
it is wholly carried away captive.

<sup>20</sup> Lift up your eyes,
and see those who come from the north.
where is the flock that was given you,
your beautiful flock?

<sup>21</sup> What will you say, when he shall set over you as head those whom you have yourself taught to be friends to you?
Shall not sorrows take hold of you,
as of a woman in travail?

<sup>22</sup> If you say in your heart,
"Why are these things come on
me?"
For the greatness of your iniquity your skirts are uncovered,
and your heels suffer violence.

<sup>23</sup> Can the Ethiopian change his skin,
or the leopard his spots?
Then may you also do good,
who are accustomed to do evil.

<sup>24</sup> "Therefore I will scatter them,
as the stubble that passes away,

by the wind of the wilderness.
<sup>25</sup> This is your lot,
 the portion measured to you from
 me,” says Yahweh;
 “because you have forgotten me,
 and trusted in falsehood.”
<sup>26</sup> Therefore will I also uncover your skirts on your face,
 and your shame shall appear.
<sup>27</sup> I have seen your abominations, even your adulteries,
 and your neighing, the lewdness of
 your prostitution,
 on the hills in the field.
 Woe to you, Jerusalem!
 You will not be made clean; how long shall it yet be?”

14

<sup>1</sup> This is Yahweh’s word that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought.
<sup>2</sup> “Judah mourns,
 and its gates languish,
 they sit in black on the ground;
 and the cry of Jerusalem goes up.
<sup>3</sup> Their nobles send their little ones to
 the waters.
 They come to the cisterns,
 and find no water.
 They return with their vessels empty.
 They are disappointed and
 confounded,
 and cover their heads.
<sup>4</sup> Because of the ground which is cracked,
 because no rain has been in the
 land.
 The plowmen are disappointed.
 They cover their heads.
<sup>5</sup> Yes, the hind also in the field calves,
 and forsakes her young,

because there is no grass.
<sup>6</sup> The wild donkeys stand on the bare heights.
 They pant for air like jackals.
 Their eyes fail,
 because there is no vegetation.
<sup>7</sup> Though our iniquities testify against
 us,
 work for your name’s sake,
 Yahweh;
 for our rebellions are many.
 We have sinned against you.
<sup>8</sup> You hope of Israel,
 its Savior in the time of trouble,
 why should you be as a foreigner in the
 land,
 and as a wayfaring man who turns
 aside to stay for a night?
<sup>9</sup> Why should you be like a scared man,
 as a mighty man who can’t save?
 Yet you, Yahweh, are in the middle of
 us,
 and we are called by your name.
 Don’t leave us.
<sup>10</sup> Yahweh says to this people,
 “Even so they have loved to wander.
 They have not restrained their feet.
 Therefore Yahweh does not accept
 them.
 Now he will remember their
 iniquity,
 and punish them for their sins.” <sup>11</sup> Yahweh said to me, “Don’t pray for this people for their good. <sup>12</sup> When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and meal offering, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.”
<sup>13</sup> Then I said, “Ah, Lord Yahweh!
 Behold, the prophets tell them, ‘You will not see the sword, neither shall you have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.”

<sup>14</sup> Then Yahweh said to me, “The prophets prophesy lies in my name. I didn’t send them, neither have I commanded them, neither did I speak to them. They prophesy to you a lying vision, divination, and a thing of nothing, and the deceit of their own heart. <sup>15</sup> Therefore Yahweh says concerning the prophets who prophesy in my name, and I didn’t send them, yet they say, ‘Sword and famine will not be in this land.’ Those prophets will be consumed by sword and famine. <sup>16</sup> The people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword. They shall have no one to bury them—they, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness on them.

<sup>17</sup> “You shall say this word to them, “Let my eyes run down with tears night
 and day,
 and let them not cease;
 for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach,
 with a very grievous wound.
<sup>18</sup> If I go out into the field, then, behold, the slain with the
 sword!
 If I enter into the city,
 then, behold, those who are sick
 with famine!
 For both the prophet and the priest go about in the land,
 and have no knowledge.”
<sup>19</sup> Have you utterly rejected Judah?
 Has your soul loathed Zion?
 Why have you struck us, and there is no
 healing for us?

We looked for peace, but no good
 came;
 and for a time of healing, and
 behold, dismay!
